13 Rejoyce and be glad for the children of the just: for they shall be gathered together, and shall bless the Lord of the just.

14 O blessed are they which love thee, for they shall rejoyce in thy peace: blessed are they which have been sorrowfull for all thy scourges; for they shall rejoyce for thee, when they have seen all thy glory, and shall be glad for ever.

15 Let my soul bless God the great King.

16 For Jerusalem shall be built up with saphires, and emeralds, and precious stone: thy walls and towers, and battlements with pure gold.

17 And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beery, and carbuncle, and stones of Sphir.

18 And all her streets shall say, Hallelujah; and they shall praise him, saying, Blessed be God which hath exalted it for ever.

CHAP. XIII.

3 Tobit giveth instructions to his sonne, 8 specially to leave Nineve. 11 He and his wife die, and are buried.

12 Tobias removeth to Ecbatane, 14 and there died, after he had heard of the destruction of Nineve.

S D Tobit made an end of praising God.

2 And he was eight and fiftie yeeres old when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight yeeres: and he gave alms, and he increased in the fear of the Lord God, and praised him.

3 And when he was very aged, he called his sonne, and the six sonnes of his sonne, and said to him, My sonne, take thy children: for behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life.

4 Go into Media, my sonne, for I surely beleve those things which Jonas the prophet spake of Nineve: that it shall be overthrowen, and that for a time peace shall rather be in Media; and that our brethren shall lie scattered in the earth from that good land: and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time.

5 * And that again God will have mercy on them, and bring them again into the land, where they shall build a temple, but not like to the first, untill the time of that age be fulfilled, and afterward they shall return from all places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem adoniously, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever, with a glorious building, as the prophets have spoken thereof.

6 And all nations shall turn, and fear the Lord God truly, and shall bury their doles.

7 So shall all nations praise the Lord, and his people shall confesse God, and the Lord shall exalt his people: and all those which love the Lord God in truth and justice, shall rejoyce, shewing mercy to our brethren.

8 And now my sonne, depart out of Nineve, because that those things which the prophet Jonas spake shall surely come to passe.

9 But keep thou the law and the commandments, and shew thy self mercifull and just, that it may go well with thee.

10 And bury me decently, and thy mother with me, but carry no longer at Nineve. Remember my sonne, how Aman handled Achicharus that brought him up, how out of light he brought him into darknesse, and how he rewarded him again: yet Achicharus was saved, but the other had his reward: for he went down into darknesse. ¶ Hannas gave alms, and escaped the snares of death, which they had set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished.

11 Wherefore now, my son, consider what Almas doth, and how righteousness doth deliver. When he had said these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed, being an hundred and eigh and fiftie yeeres old, and he was buried honourably.

12 And when Anna his mother was dead, he buried her with his father: but Tobias departed with his wife and children to Ecbatane to Raguel his father in law.

14 And he died at Ecbatane in Media, being an hundred and seven and twenty years old.

CHAP. I.

1 Arphaxad doth fortifie Ecbatane. 5 Nabuchodonosor maketh warre against him, 7 and craveth aid. 12 He threateth those that would not aid him, 15 and killeth Arphaxad, 16 and returneth to Nineve.

In the twelfth year of the reign of Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineve the great city, (in the dayes of Arphaxad, which reigned over the Medes in Ecbatane,

2 And built in Ecbatane walls round about of stones hewen, three cubits broad, and six cubits long; and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits:

3 And set the towers thereof upon the gates offit, an hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation threescore cubits.

4 And he made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them was forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty armies, and for the setting in aray of his footmen.)

5 Even in those dayes king Nabuchodonosor made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain, which is the plain in the borders of Ragau.

6 And there came unto him all they that dwelt in the hill-country, and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tigres, and Hydaspes, and the plain of Arioch the king of the Elymeans, and very many nations of the sonnes of Chelod, assembled themselves to the battell.

7 Then Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians sent unto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt westward, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus, and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt upon the sea coast,

8 And to those amongst the nations that were of Carmel, and Galaad, and the higher Galile, and the great plain of Esdrelon,

9 And to all that were in Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betane, and Chellus, and Kades, and the river of Egypt, and Taphnes, and Ramesse, and all the land of Gessen, 10 Untill you come beyond Tantis, and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, untill you come to the borders of Ethiopia.

11 But all the inhabitants of the land made light of the commandment of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, neither went they with him to the battell: for they were not afraid of him: yea, he was before them as one man, and they sent away his ambassadors from them without effect, and with disgrace.

12 Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this country, and woe by his throne and kingdome, that he would surely be avenged upon all those coasts of Cilicia, and Damascus, and Syria, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judea, and all that were in Egypt, till you come to the borders of the two seas.

13 Then he marched in battell-aray with his power against king Arphaxad in seventeenth year, and he prevailed in his battell: for he overthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsemen, and all his chariots,

14 And became lord of his cities, and came unto Ecbatane, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame.

15 He took also Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly that day.

16 So he returned afterward to Nineveh, both he and all his company of sundry nations being a very great multitude of men of warre, and there he took his ease and banquetted, both he and his army, an hundred and twenty days.

CHAP. II.

4 Olofermes is appointed generall, 11 and charged to spare none that will not yeeld. 15 His army and provision: 23 the places which he wonne and wasted as he went.

AND in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first moneth, there was talk in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, that he should, as he said, avenge himself on all the earth.

2 So he called unto him all his officers, and all his nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsell, and concluded the afflicting of the whole earth out of his own mouth.

3 Then they decreed to destroy all flesh that did not obey the commandment of his mouth.

4 And when he had ended his counsell, Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, called Olofermes the chief captain of his army, which was next unto him, and laid unto him,

5 Thus saith the great king, the lord of the whole earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their own strength, of footmen an hundred and twenty thousand: and the number of horses with their riders, twelve thousand.

6 And thou shalt go against all the west country, because they disobeyed my commandment.

7 And thou shalt declare unto them, that they prepare for me // earth and water: for I will go forth in my wrath against them, and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of mine army, and I will give them for a spoil unto them.

8 So that their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks, and the river shall be filled with their dead till it overflow.

9 And I will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth.

10 Thou therefore shalt go forth, and take before-hand for me all their coast: and if they will yeeld themselves unto thee, thou shalt reserve them for me till the day of their punishment.

11 But

11 But concerning them that rebell, let not thine eye spare them, but put them to the slaughter, and spoil them wheresoever thou goest.

12 For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, whatsoever I have spoken, that will I do by mine hand.

13 And take thou heed that thou transgresse none of the commandments of the lord, but accomplish them fully, as I have commanded thee, and deferre not to do them.

14 Then Olofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governours and captains, and the officers of the army of Assur,

15 And he mustred the chosen men for the battell as his lord had commanded him, unto an hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback.

16 And he ranged them as a great army is ordered for the warre.

17 And he took camels, and asses for their carriages, a very great number; and sheep, and oxen, and goats without number, for their provision:

18 And plenty of victuall for every man of the army, and very much gold and silver out of the kings house.

19 Then he went forth and all his power to go before king Nabuchodonosor in the voyage, and to cover all the face of the earth westward with their chariots, and horsemen, and their chosen footmen.

20 A great multitude also of sundry countreys came with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth: for the multitude was without number.

21 And they went forth of Nineve, three dayes journey toward the plain of Becilleth, and pitched from Becilleth near the mountain which is at the left hand of the upper Cilicia.

22 Then he took all his army, his footmen, and horsemen, and chariots, and went from thence into the hill-country,

23 And destroyed Idud and Lud: and spoiled all the children of Rassies, and the children of Immael, which were toward the wilderness at the south of the land of the Chellians.

24 Then he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonat, till you come to the sea.

25 And he took the borders of Cilicia, and killed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Tapheth, which were toward the south, over against Arabia.

26 He compassed also all the children of Madian, and burnt up their tabernacles, and spoiled their sheep-coats.

27 Then he went down into the plain of Damascus, in the time of wheat-harvest, and burnt up all their fields, and destroyed their flocks and herds, also he spoiled their cities, and utterly wasted their countreys, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

28 Therefore the fear and dread of him fell upon all the inhabitants of the sea-coasts, which were in Sidon and Tyus, and them that dwell in Sur, and Ocina, and all that dwell in Iemnaan: and they that dwell in Azotus, and Ascalon, feared him greatly.

CHAP. III.

1 They of the sea-coasts intreat for peace. 7 Olofernes is received there. 8 Yet he destroyeth their gods, that they might worship onely Nabuchodonosor. 9 He cometh near to Judea.

So they sent ambassadours unto him, to treat of peace, saying,

2 Behold, we the servants of Nabuchodonosor the great king lie before thee: use us as shall be good in thy sight.

3 Behold, our houses, and all our places, and all our fields of wheat, and flocks, and herds, and all the lodges of our tents, lie before thee: use them as it pleaseth thee.

4 Behold, even our cities, and the inhabitants thereof are thy servants: come and deal with them as seemeth good unto thee.

5 So the men came to Olofernes, and declared unto him after this manner.

6 Then came he down toward the sea-coast, both he and his army, and set garlions in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for aid.

7 So they and all the country round about received them with garlands, with dances, and with timbrels.

8 Yet he did cast down their frontiers, and cut down their groves: for he had decreed to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor onely, and that all tongues and tribes should call upon him as god.

9 Also he came over against the great strait of Judea.

10 And he pitched between Seba and Scythopolis, and there he tarried a whole moneth, that he might gather together all the carriages of his army.

CHAP. II II.

4 The Jews are afraid of Olofernes, 5 and fortifie their hills. 6 They of Bethulia take charge of the passages. 9 All Israel fall to fasting and prayer.

Now the children of Israel that dwell in Judea, heard all that Olofernes the chief captain of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and brought them to nought.

2 Therefore they were exceedingly afraid of him, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God:

3 For they were newly returned from the captivity, and all the people of Judea were lately gathered together: and the vessels and the altar, and the house were sanctified after the profanation.

4 Therefore they sent into all the coasts of Samaria, and the villages, and to Bethozon, and Belmen, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Esora, and to the valley of Salem.

5 And possessed themselves before-hand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victuals for the provision of warre: for their fields were of late reaped.

6 Also Joachim the high priest which was in those dayes in Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwell in Bethulia, and Betomestham which is over against the great strait toward the open country, near to Dothain,

7 Charging them to keep the passages of the hill-country: for by them there was an entrance into Judea, and it was easie to stop them that would come up, because the passage was strait, for two men at the most.

8 And the children of Israel did as Joachim the high priest had commanded them, with the ancients of all the people of Israel, which dwell at Jerusalem.

9 Then every man of Israel cried to God with great fervency, and with great vehemency did they humble their souls:

10 Both they and their wives, and their children, and their cattell, and every stranger and hireling, and their servants bought with money put sackcloth upon their loins.

11 Thus every man and woman, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the face of the Lord: also they put sackcloth about the altar.

12 And cried to the God of Israel all with one consent earnestly, that he would not give their children for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, and for the nations to rejoice at.

13 So God heard their prayers, and looked upon their afflictions: for the people fasted many dayes in all Judea and Jerusalem, before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty.

14 And Joacim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they which ministered unto the Lord, had their loins girt with sackcloth, and offered the daily burnt offerings, with the vows and free gifts of the people.

15 And had ashes on their mitres, and cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel graciously.

CHAP. V.

5 Achior telleth Olofernes what the Jews are, 8 and what their God had done for them: 21 and adviſeth not to meddle with them. 22 All that heard him were offended at him.

Then was it declared to Olofernes the chief captain of the army of Aſſur, that the children of Israel had prepared for warre, and had shut up the passages of the hill-countrey, and had fortified all the tops of the high hills, and had laid impediments in the champion countreys.

22 Eſther which he was very angry, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governours of the sea-coast.

3 And he said unto them, Tell me now, ye ſonnes of Canaan, who this people is that dwelleth in the hill-countrey, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their army, and wherein is their power and strength, and what king is set over them, or captain of their army?

4 And why have they determined not to come and meet me, more then all the inhabitants of the west?

5 Then said Achior the captain of all the ſons of Ammon, Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy ſervant, and I will declare unto thee the truth, concerning this people which dwelleth neer thee, and inhabiteth the hill-countreys; and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy ſervant.

6 This people are deſcended of the Caldeans;

7 And they ſojourned heretofore in Deſopotamia, becauſe they would not follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Caldea.

8 For they left the way of their anceſtours, and worſhipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: ſo they caſt them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Deſopotamia, and ſojourned there many dayes.

9 Then their God commanded them to depart from the place where they ſojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan where they dwelt, and were increaſed with gold and ſilver, and with very much cattell.

10 But when a famine covered all the land of Canaan, they went down into Egypt, and ſojourned there, while they were nourished, and became there a great multitude, ſo that one could not number their nation.

11 Therefore the king of Egypt roſe up againſt them, and dealt ſubtilly with them, and brought them low, with labouring in byck, and made them ſlaves.

12 Then they cried unto their God, and he ſmote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: ſo the Egyptians caſt them out of their ſight.

13 And God dried the Red-ſea before them:

14 And brought them to mount Sina, and Cades Barne, and caſt forth all that dwelt in the wildeſſe.

15 So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they deſtroyed by their ſtrength all them of Elebon, and paſſing over Jordan they poſſeſſed all the hill-countrey.

16 And they caſt forth before them, the Canaanite, the Hiverite, the Jebuſite, and the Sychemite, and all the Gergaſites, and they dwelt in that countrey many dayes.

17 And whileſt they ſtayed not before their God, they proſpered, becauſe the God that hateth iniquity was with them.

18 But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were deſtroyed in many battels very ſore, and were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was caſt to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.

19 But now are they returned to their God, and are come up from the places where they were ſcattered, and have poſſeſſed Jerusalem, where their ſanctuary is, and are ſeated in the hill-countrey; for it was deſolate.

20 Now therefore, my lord and governour, if there be any error in this people, and they ſinne againſt their God, let us conſider that this ſhall be their ruine, and let us go up, and we ſhall overcome them.

21 But if there be no iniquity in their nation, let my lord now paſſe by, leſt their lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we become a reproach before all the world.

22 And when Achior had finiſhed theſe ſayings, all the people ſtanding round about the tent, murmured, and the chief men of Olofernes, and all that dwelt by the ſea ſide, and in Moab, ſpoke that he ſhould kill him.

23 For, ſay they, We will not be afraid of the face of the children of Israel: for lo, it is a people that have no ſtrength nor power for a ſtrong battell.

24 Now therefore, lord Olofernes, we will go up, and they ſhall be a prey, to be devoured of all thine army.

CHAP. VI.

1 Olofernes deſpiſeth God. 7 He threatneth Achior, and ſendeth him away. 14 The Berthulians receive and hear him. 18 They fall to prayer, and comfort Achior.

And when the tumult of men that were about the counſel was ceaſed, Olofernes the chief captain of the army of Aſſur, ſaid unto Achior and all the Moabites, before all the company of other nations,

2 And who art thou Achior, and the hirelings of Ephraim, that thou haſt prophesied amongſt us as to day, and haſt ſaid that we ſhould not make warre with the people of Israel, becauſe their God will defend them? and who is God but Ba, buchodonosor?

3 We will send his power, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them; but let his servants will destroy them as one man; for they are not able to sustain the power of our hostes.

4 For with them we will tread them under foot, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their fields shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not be able to stand before us, for they shall utterly perish, (saith king Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth; for he said, None of my words shall be in vain.

5 And thou Achior, an hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, untill I take vengeance of this nation that came out of Egypt.

6 And then shall the sword of mine armie, and the multitude of them that serve me, passe through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, when I return.

7 Now therefore my servants shall bring thee back into the hill-country, and shall see thee in one of the cities of the passages.

8 And thou shalt not perish till thou be destroyed with them.

9 And if thou persuade thy self in thy minde, that they shall not be taken, let not thy countenance fail: I have spoken it, and none of my words shall be in vain.

10 Then Olofernes commanded his servants that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel.

11 So his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they went from the midst of the plain, into the hill-country, and came unto the fountains that were under Bethulia.

12 And when the men of the city saw them, they took up their weapons, and went out of the cite to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling, kept them from coming up, by casting of stones against them.

13 Nevertheless, having gotten privily under the hill, they bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and returned to their lords.

14 But the Israelites descended from their city, and came unto him, and loosed him, and brought him into Bethulia, and presented him to the governors of the cite.

15 Which were in those dayes, Ozias the sonne of Michas of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gochoniel, and Charanis the son of Belchiel.

16 And they called together all the ancients of the city, and all their youth ran together, and their women to the assembly, and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.

17 And he answered and declared unto them the words of the counsel of Olofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of Asur, and whatsoever Olofernes had spoken privily against the house of Israel.

18 Then the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried unto God, saying,

19 O Lord God of heaven, behold their pride, and pittie the low estate of our nation, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this day.

20 Then they comforted Achior, and praised him greatly.

21 And Ozias took him out of the assembly unto his house, and made a feast to the elders, and they called on the God of Israel all that night for help.

CHAP. VII.

1 Olofernes besieged Bethulia, 7 and stoppeth the water from them: 22 They faint and murmure against the governors; 30 who promise to yeeld within five dayes.

The next day Olofernes commanded all his army, and all his people which were come to take his part, that they should remove their camp against Bethulia, to take aforehand the ascents of the hill-country, and to make warre against the children of Israel.

2 Then their strong men removed their camps in that day, and the army of the men of warre was an hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and other men that were asfoot amongst them, a very great multitude.

3 And they camped in the valley near unto Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothaim, even to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia unto Tyramon, which is over against Charlon.

4 Now the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour: Now will these men lick up the face of the earth; for neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills are able to bear their weight.

5 Then every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.

6 But in the second day Olofernes brought forth all his horsemen, in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia,

7 And viewed the passages up to the city, and came to the fountains of their waters, and took them, and set garrisons of men of warre over them, and he himself removed towards his people.

8 Then came unto him all the chief of the children of Man, and all the governors of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea-coast, and said,

9 Let our lord now hear a word; that there be not an overthrow in thine army.

10 For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, because it is not easie to come up to the tops of their mountains.

11 Now therefore my lord, fight not against them in the battell-aray, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish.

12 Remain in thy camp, and keep all the men of thine army; and let thy servants get into their hands the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain.

13 For all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence: so shall thirst kill them, and they shall give up their city; and we and our people shall go up to the tops of the mountains that are neer, and will camp upon them, to watch that none go out of the city.

14 So they and their wives and their children shall be consumed with famine, and before the sword come against them, they shall be overthrow in the streets where they dwell.

15 Thus shalt thou render them an evil reward: because they rebelled, and met not thy person peaceably.

16 And these words pleased Olofernes, and all his servants, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.

|| From Dothaim.

17 So the camp of the children of Ammon departed, and with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and took the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel.

18 Then the children of Eglau went up with the children of Ammon, and camped in the hill-country over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the South, and toward the East, over against Erebhel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Achinur, and the rest of the army of the Assyrians camped in the plain, and covered the face of the whole land, and their tents and carriages were pitched to a very great multitude.

19 Then the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, because their heart failed, for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.

20 Thus all the company of Assur remained about them, both their footmen, chariots, and horsemen, four and thirty dayes, so that all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.

21 And the wells also were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day: for they gave them drink by measure.

22 Therefore their young children were out of heart, and their women and young men fainted for thirst, and fell down in the streets of the cite, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them.

23 Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chief of the city, both young men and women, and children, and cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders, 24 God be * iudge between us and you: for you have done us great iniurie, in that you have not required peace of the children of Assur.

25 For now we have no helper: but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be chrown down before them with thirst, and great destruction.

26 Now therefore call them unto you, and deliver the whole city for a spoil to the people of Dofernes, and to all his army.

27 For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them, then to die for thirst: for we will be his servants, that our souls may live, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wives nor our children to die.

28 We take to witnesse against you, the heaven and the earth, and our God, and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins, and the sinnes of our fathers, if that he do not according as we have said this day.

29 Then there was great weeping with one consent in the midst of the assembly, and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice.

30 Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five dayes, in the which space the Lord our God may turn his mercy towards us: for he will not forsake us utterly.

31 And if these dayes passe, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your word.

32 And he dispersed the people every one to their own charge: and they went unto the walls, and towers of their cite, and sent the women and children into their houses, and they were very low brought in the cite.

excuse their promise. 32 She promiseth to do something for them.

Now at that time Judeth heard thereof, which was the daughter of Herai, the son of Dr, the sonne of Joleph, the sonne of Dziel, the son of Eleia, the sonne of Ananias, the sonne of Gedon, the sonne of Rephaim, the sonne of Achib, the son of Eliu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Samael, the son of Salafadai, the son of Israel.

2 And Manasses was her husband of her tribe and kindred, who died in the barley harvest.

4 For as he stood overleering them that bound sheaves in the field, the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in the city of Bethulia, and they buried him with his fathers in the field between Dothaim and Balamo.

4 So Judeth was a widow in her house three yeeres and four moneths.

5 And she made her a tent upon the top of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loynes, and wore her widows apparell.

6 And she fasted all the dayes of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts, and solemne dayes of the house of Israel.

7 She was also of a goodly countenance, and very beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold and silver, and men-servants, and maid-servants, and cattell, and lands, and she remained upon them.

8 And there was none that gave her an ill word: for she feared God greatly.

9 Now when she heard the evil words of the people against the governour, that they fainte for lack of water (for Judeth had heard all the words that Ozias had spoken unto them, and that he had sworn to deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five dayes)

10 Then she sent her waiting-woman that had the government of all things that he had, to call Ozias, and Chabris, and Charimis, the ancients of the cite.

11 And they came unto her, and she said unto them, Hear me now, O ye governours of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your words that you have spoken before the people this day are not right, touching this oath which ye made, and pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the cite to our enemies, unless within these dayes the Lord turn to help you.

12 And now, who are you that have tempted God this day, and stand in stead of God amongst the children of men?

13 And now rise the Lord Almighty, but you shall never know any thing.

14 For you cannot finde the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceive the things that he thinketh: then how can you search out God, that hath made all these things, and know his minde, or comprehend his purpose? May my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger.

15 For if he will not help us within these five dayes, he hath power to defend us when he will, even every day, or to destroy us before our enemies.

16 Do not bind the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he may be threatened, neither is he as the sonne of man that he should be wavering.

17 Therefore let us wait for salvation of him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice if it please him.

18 For there arose none in our age, neither is there any now in these dayes, neither tribe nor family, mily, nor // people nor city among us, which wor-time.

19 For the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and had a great fall before our enemies.

20 But we know none other god, therefore we trust that he will not despise us, nor any of our nation.

21 For if we be taken so, all Judea shall lie waste, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled, and he will require the profanation thereof at our mouth.

Or, fear.

22 And // the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the country, and the desolation of our inheritance, will be turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage, and we shall be an offence and a reproach to all them that possess us.

23 For our servitude shall not be directed to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to disho-nour.

24 Now therefore, O brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend upon us, and the sanctuary, and the house, and the altar rest upon us.

25 Moreover, let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth us even as he did our fathers.

* Gen. 22. 1.

26 Remember what things he did to * Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and what happened to
* Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept

* Gen. 28. 7.

27 For he hath not tried us in the fire as he did them for the examination of their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us: but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him to admonish them.

28 Then said Oras to her, All that thou hast spoken, hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that may gainsay thy words.

29 For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested: but from the beginning of thy days, all the people have known thy understanding, because the disposition of thine heart is good.

30 But the people were very thirsty; and con-pelled us to do unto them as we have spoken, and to bring an oath upon our selves, which we will not break.

31 Therefore now pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord will send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more.

32 Then said Judith unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing which shall go thoro' all generations, to the children of our nation.

33 You shall stand this night in the gate, and I will go forth with my waiting-woman: and within the days that you have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord will visit Israel by mine hand.

34 But enquire not you of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do.

35 Then said Oras and the princes unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.

36 So they returned from the tent, and went to their words.

CHAP. IX.

1 Judith humbled her self, 2 and prayeth God to prospere her purpose against the enemies of his sanctuary.

Then Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed, and about the time that the incense of that evening was offered in Jerusalem, in the house of the Lord, Judith cryed with a loud voice, and said,

2 O Lord God of my father * Simeon, to whom thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who looked the girle of a maid to defile her, and discovered the thigh to her shame, and polluted her virginity to her reproach, (for thou sayest, It shall not be so, and yet they did so)

3 Therefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, so that they died their bed in blood, being deceived, and smoteest the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones.

4 And hast given their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided amongst thy dear children: which were moved with the zeal, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid:
O God, O my God, hear me also a widow.

5 For thou hast wrought not only those things, but also the things which fell out before, and which ensued after, thou hast thought upon the things which are now, and which are to come.

6 Now, what things thou dost determine were ready at hand, and said, Lo, we are here: for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgements are in the fore-knowledge.

7 For behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power: they are exalted with horse and man:
they glory in the strength of their foot-men: they trust in shield and spear, and bow, and sling, and know not that thou art the Lord that breakest the battels: the Lord is thy Name.

8 Throw down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to defile thy Sanctuary, and to profane the Tabernacle, where thy glorious Name resteth, and to cast down with sword the horn of thy altar.

9 Behold their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into mine hand which am a widow, the power that I have conceived.

10 * Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with the servant: *
break down their stables by the hand of a woman:

nor thy might in strong men: for thou art a God of er of the weak, a protector of the forlorn; a saviour of them that are without hope.

12 I pray thee, I pray thee, O God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and earth, Creator of the waters, king of every creature, hear thou my prayer:

13 And make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed cruel things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and against the top of Zion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.

14 And make every nation and tribe to acknowledge that thou art the God of all power and might,
and that there is none other that protecteth the people of Israel but thou.

CHAP. X.

3 Judith doth set forth her self: 10 She and her maid go forth into the camp. 17 The watch take and and conduct her to Olofemes.

Now after that she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words,

2 She rose where she had fallen down, and called her maids, and went down into the house, in the which she abode in the Sabbath-days, and in her feast-days,

3 And pulled off the sackcloth which she had on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed her self with precious ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put on a tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, where-with she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.

[Granier.

4 And she took sandals upon her feet, and put about her her bracelets and her chains, and her rings, and her ear-rings, and all her ornaments, and decked her self bravely, to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.

[swrapped,
or, packed.

5 Then she gave her maid a bottle of wine, and a cruse of oyl, and filled a bag with parched corn, and lumps of figs, and with fine bread, so she folded all these things together, and laid them upon her.

6 Thus they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing there Oslas, and the ancients of the city, Chabais, and Charanis.

7 And when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very greatly, and said unto her,

8 The God, the God of our fathers give thee favour, and accomplish thine enterprises to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem: then they worshipped God.

9 And she said unto them, Command the gates of the city to be opened unto me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things whereof you have spoken with me: so they commanded the young men to open unto her, as she had spoken.

10 And when they had done so, Judeth went out, she and her maid with her, and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.

11 Thus they went straight forth in the valley: and the first watch of the Assyrians met her:

12 And took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrews, and am fled from them: for they shall be given you to be consumed:

13 And I am coming before Olofernes the chief captain of your armie, to declare words of truth, and I will shew him a way whereby he shall go, and winne all the hill countrey, without losing the body or life of any one of his men.

14 Now when the men heard her words, and beheld her countenance, they wondered greatly at her beauty, and said unto her,

15 Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast basted to come down to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, untill they have delivered thee to his hands.

16 And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but shew unto him according to thy word, and he will entreat thee well.

17 Then they chose out of them an hundred men, to accompany her and her maids, and they brought her to the tent of Olofernes.

[Or, and they preparared a chariot for her.

18 Then was there a concourse throughout all the camp: for her coming was noised among the tents, and they came about her, as she stood without the tent of Olofernes, till they told him of her.

19 And they wondered at her beauty, and admired the children of Israel because of her, and every one said to his neighbour, Altho would despise this people, that have among them such women: surely it is not good that one man of them be left, who being let go, might deceive the whole earth.

20 And they that lay near Olofernes, went out, and all his servants, and they brought her into the tent.

21 Now Olofernes rested upon his bed under a canopy which was woven with purple, and gold, and emeralds, and precious stones.

22 So they shewed him of her, and he came out before his tent, with silver lamps going before him.

23 And when Judeth was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance: and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants took her up.

CHAP. XI.

3 Olofernes asketh Judeth the cause of her coming. 6 He telleth him how and when he may prevail. 20 He is much pleased with her wisdom and beauty.

Then said Olofernes unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thine heart: for I never hurt any that was willing to serve Nabuchodonosor, the king of all the earth.

2 Now therefore if thy people that dwelleth in the mountains had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves.

3 But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come unto us: for thou art come for safeguard: be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter.

4 For none shall hurt thee, but intreat thee well, as they do the servants of king Nabuchodonosor my lord.

5 Then Judeth said unto him, Receive the words of thy servant, and suffer thine handmaid to speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.

6 And if thou wilt follow the words of thine handmaid, God will bring the thing perfectly to passe by thee, and my lord shall not fail of his purposes.

7 As Nabuchodonosor king of all the earth li- veth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the upholding of every living thing: for not onely men shall serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field, and the cattell, and the fowls of the air shall live by thy power, under Nabuchodonosor and all his house.

8 For we have heard of thy wisdom, and thy policies, and it is reported in all the earth, that thou onely art excellent in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderfull in feats of war.

[Or, in fa-your.

9 Now as concerning the matter which Achior did speak in thy counsell, we have heard his words: for the men of Bethulia have saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken unto thee.

[Or, gat him.

10 Therefore, O lord and governour, respect not his word, but lay it up in thine heart, for it is true: for our nation shall not be punished, neither can the sword prevail against them, except they sinne against their God.

11 And now, that my lord be not defeated, and frustrate of his purpose, even death is now fallen upon them, and their sinne hath overtaken them, wherewith they will provoke their God to anger, whensoever they shall do that which is not fit to be done:

12 For their victuals fail them, and all their water is scant; and they have determined to lay hands upon their cattell, and purposed to consume all those things that God hath forbidden them to eat by his laws:

13 And are resolved to spend the first-fruits of the corn, and the tithes of wine and oil, which they had sanctified and reserved for the priests that serve in Jerusalem, before the face of our God, the which things it is not lawful for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands.

14 For they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done the like, to bring them a licence from the Senate.

15 Now when they shall bring them word, they will forthwith do it, and they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day.

16 Therefore I thine handmaids knowing all this, are fled from their presence, and God hath sent me to work things with thee, whereat all the earth shall be astonished, and whosoever shall hear it.

17 For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven day and night : now therefore, my lord, I will remain with thee, and thy servant will go out by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he will tell me when they have committed their sinnes :

18 And I will come and shew it unto thee : then thou shalt go forth with all thine army, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee.

19 And I will lead thee chorow the midst of Judea, untill thou come before Jerusalem, and I will let thy thorne in the midst thereof, and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth at thee : for if these things were told me, according to my foresight, and they were declared unto me, and I am sent to tell thee.

20 Then her words pleased Olofernes, and all his servants, and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said,

21 There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, both for beauty of face, and wisdom of words.

22 Likewise Olofernes said unto her, God hath done well to send thee before the people, that strength might be in our hands, and destruction upon them that lightly regard my lord.

23 And now thou art both beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words : surely if thou do as thou hast spoken, thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned throughout the whole earth.

CHAP. XII.

2 Judith will not eat of Olofernes meat. 7 She tarried three dayes in the camp, and every night went forth to pray. 13 Bagoas moveth her to be merry with Olofernes, 20 who for joy of her company drank much.

Then he commanded to bring her in, where his plate was set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine.

2 And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an offence : but provision shall be made for me of the things that I have brought.

3 Then Olofernes said unto her, If thy provision should fail, how should we give thee the like ? for there be none with us of thy nation.

4 Then said Judith unto him, As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy handmaids shall not spend those things that I have, before the Lord work by mine hand, the things that he hath determined.

5 Then the servants of Olofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she arose when it was towards the morning watch,

6 And sent to Olofernes, saying, Let my lord now command, that thine handmaids may go forth unto prayer.

7 Then Olofernes commanded his guard, that they should not slay her : thus she abode in the camp three dayes, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her self in a fountain of water by the camp.

8 And when she came out, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the raising up of the children of her people.

9 So she came in clean, and remained in the tent, untill she did eat her meat at evening.

10 And in the fourth day Olofernes made a feast to his own servants onely, and called none of the officers to the banquet.

11 Then said he to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, So now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us.

12 For lo, it will be a shame to our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company : for if we draw her not unto us, she will laugh us to scorn.

13 Then went Bagoas from the presence of Olofernes, and came to her, and he said, Let not this fair damsell fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and drink wine, and be merry with us, and he made this day as one of the daughters of the Assyrians, which serve in the house of Nabuchodonosor.

14 Then said Judith unto him, What am I now, that I should gainsay my lord ? surely whatsoever pleareth him, I will do speedily, and it shall be my joy unto the day of my death.

15 So she arose, and decked her self with her apparel, and all her woman's attire, and her maid went and laid soft skinnies on the ground for her, over against Olofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit, and eat upon them.

16 Now when Judith came in, and sat down, Olofernes his heart was ravished with her, and his minde was moved, and he desired greatly her company : for he waited a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her.

17 Then said Olofernes unto her, Drink now and be merry with us.

18 So Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day, more then all the dayes since I was born.

19 Then she took and ate and drank before him what her maid had prepared.

20 And Olofernes took great delight in her, and drank much more wine then he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Judith is left alone with Olofernes in his tent.

4 She prayeth God to give her strength. 7 She cut off his head while he slept, 10 and returned with it to Bethulia. 17 They saw it, and commend her.

Now when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut his tent without, and dismissed the waiters from the presence of his lord, and they went to their beds : for they were all weary, because the feast had been long.

2 And Judith was left alone in the tent, and Olofernes lying along upon his bed : for he was filled with wine.

3 Now Judith had commanded her maid to stand without her bed-chamber, and to wait for her coming forth, as she did daily : for she said, she would go forth to her prayers, and she spake to Bagoas according to the same purpose.

Or, bark.

C H A P. XIII.

4 So all went forth, and none was left in the bed-chamber, neither little, nor great. Then Judeth standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God of all power, look at this present upon the works of mine hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem.

5 For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to execute mine enterprises, to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against us.

6 Then she came to the pillar of the bed which was at Olofernes head, and took down his scutcheon from thence.

7 And approached to his bed, and took hold of the haire of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day.

8 And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and she took away his head from him.

9 And tumbled his body down from the bed, and pushed down the canopy from the pillars, and anon after she went forth, and gave Olofernes his head to her maids :

10 And she put it in her bag of meat : so they elwin went together according to their custom, unto prayer : and when they passed the camp, they compassed the valley, and went up the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

11 Then said Judeth a far off to the watchmen at the gate, Open, open now the gate : God, even our God is with us, to shew his power yet in Jerusalem, and his forces against the enemy, as he hath even done this day.

12 Now when the men of her cite heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their cite, and they called the elders of the cite.

13 And then they ran all together both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come : so they opened the gate, and received them, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them.

14 Then she said to them with a loud voice, Praise, praise God, praise God, (I say) for he hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.

15 So she took the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold the head of Olofernes, the chief captain of the army of Assur, and behold the canopy wherein he did lie in his drunkenness, and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.

16 As the Lord liveth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceived him to his destruction, and yet hath he not committed sinne with me, to defile and shame me.

17 Then all the people were wonderfully astounded, and bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.

18 Then said Orasius unto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most high God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heavens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chief of our enemies.

19 For this thy confidence shall not depart from the heart of men, which remember the power of God for ever.

20 And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee in good things, because thou hast not spared thy life for the affliction of our nation, but hast revenged our mine, walking a straight way before our God : and all the people said, So be it, so be it.

8 Achior heareth Judeth shew what she had done, and is circumcised. 11 The head of Olofernes is hanged up. 15 He is found dead, and much lamented.

Then said Judeth unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this * head, and hang it upon the highest place of your walls.

2 And so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sunne shall come forth upon the earth, take you every one his weapons, and go forth every valiant man out of the cite, and let you a captain over them, as though you would go down into the field toward the watch of the Assyrians, but go not down.

3 Then they shall take their armour, and shall go into their camp, and raise up the captains of the army of Assur, and they shall run to the tent of Olofernes, but shall not finde him, then fear shall fall upon them, and they shall see before your face.

4 So you, and all that inhabit the coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go.

5 But before you do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us as it were to his death.

6 Then they called Achior out of the house of Orasius : and when he was come, and saw the head of Olofernes in a mans hand in the assembly of the people, he fell down on his face, and his spirit failed.

7 But when they had recovered him, he fell at Judeths feet, and reverenced her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacle of Juda, and in all nations, which hearing thy name shall be astonished.

8 Now therefore tell me all the things that thou hast done in these dayes ; then Judeth declared unto him in the midst of the people, all that she had done from the day that she went forth untill that hour she spake unto them.

9 And when she had left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyfull noise in their cite.

10 And when Achior had seen all that the God of Israel had done, he beleaved in God greatly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joyned unto the house of Israel unto this day.

11 And assoon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Olofernes upon the wall, and every man took his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the straits of the mountain.

12 But when the Assyrians saw them, they sent to their leaders, which came to their captains, and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers.

13 So they came to Olofernes tent, and said to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken now our lord : for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battell, that they may be utterly destroyed.

14 Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the door of the tent, for he thought that he had slept with Judeth.

15 But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the bed-chamber, and found him cast upon the floor dead : and his head was taken from him.

16 // Therefore he cried with a loud voyce, with weeping, and sighing, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments.

17 After he went into the tent where Judeth lodged : and when he found her not, he leaped out to the people, and cried, and her maid that was with her, and she went before the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

x The song of Judeth. 19 She dedicateth the fluffe of Olofernes. 23 She died at Bethulia, a widow of great honour. 24 All Israel did lament her death.

Then Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang after her || this song of praise.

2 And Judith said, Begin unto my God with timbrels, sing unto my Lord with cymbals : tune unto him a // new psalm : exalt him, and call upon his Name.

3 For God breaketh the battels; for amongst the camps in the midst of the people he hath delivered me out of the hands of them that persecuted me.

4 Affur came out of the mountains from the north, he came with ten thousands of his army, the multitude whereof stoppeth the torrents, and their horsemen have covered the hills.

5 He bragged that he would burn up my borders, and kill my young men with the sword, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a prey, and my virgins as a spoil.

6 But the Almighty Lord hath disappointed them by the hand of a woman.

7 For the mighty one did not fall by the young men, neither did the sons of the Titans smite him, nor high giants set upon him : but Judith the daughter of Berari weakened him with the beauty of her countenance.

8 For he put off the garment of her widowhood, for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and anointed her face with ointment, and bound her hair in a [†] tirc, and took a linen garment to decelise him.

9 Her sandals ravished his eyes; her beauty took his minde prisoner, and the fauchin passed thorow his neck.

10 The Persians quaked at her boldnesse, and the Medes were daunted at her hardinesse.

11. Then my afflicted shouted for joy, and my weak ones cryed aloud: but || they were astonish'd: these lifted up their voyces, but they were overthrown.

12 The sons of the damfels have pierced them through, and wounded them as fugitives children:
they perished by the battell of the Lord.

13 I will sing unto the Lord a new song, O Lord, thou art great and glorious, wonderfull in strength, and invincible.

14 Let all creatures serue thee: for thou spakest, and they were made; thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it created them; and there is none that can resist thy voyce.

15 For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence: yet thou art mercifull to them that feare thee.

16 For all sacrifice is too little for a sweet savour unto thee, and all the fat is not sufficient for the burnt offering: but he that seeketh thee, O Lord, is great at all times.

17 To to the nations that rise up against my kindred; the Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgement, in putting fire and worms in their flesh; and they shall feel them, and burn for ever.

18 Now as soon as they entered into Jerusalem, they two shipped the Lord; and as soon as the people were punished, they offered their burnt-offerings, and their free-offerings, and their gifts.

19 Jothab also dedicated all the stuffe of Dositheus, which the people had given her; and gave the canopy which she had taken out of his bed-chamber, for a gift unto the Lord.

20 So the people continued fasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary, for the space of three moneths; and Jothab remained with them.

21 After this time every one returned to his own inheritance, and Jothab went to Bethulia and remained in her own possession, and was in her time honourable in all the countrey.

22 And many desired her, but none knew her all the dayes of her life after that Banabes her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.

23 But she increased more and more in honour, and waxed old in her husbands house, being an hundred and five yeeres old, and made her maid free; so she died in Bethulia: and they buried her in the cave of her husband Banabes.

24 And the house of Israel lamented her * seven dayes: and before she died, she did distribute her goods to all them that were nearest of kinred to Banabes her husband, and to them that were the nearest of her kinred.

25 And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the dayes of Jothab, nor a long time after her death.

Part of the tenth chapter after the Greek.

5 Mardocheus remembreth and expoundeth his dream of the river and the two dragons:

Then Mardocheus said, God hath done these things.

5 For I remember a dream which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed.

6 A little fountain became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water: this river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen.

7 And the two dragons are Haman and Aman.

8 And the nations were those that were assembled to destroy the name of the Jews:

9 And my nation is this Israel, which cried to God and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all those evils, and God hath wrought signes and great wonders; which have not been done among the Gentiles.

10 Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the Gentiles.

11 And these two lots came at the hour and time, and day of judgement before God amongst all nations.

12 So God remembered his people, and justified his inheritance.

13 Therefore those dayes shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the same moneth, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness, before God, according to the generations for ever among his people.

CHAP. XI.

1. The flock and quality of Mardocheus. 6 He dreameth of two dragons coming forth to fight, 10 and of a little fountain which became a great water.

In the fourth year of the reign of Dositheus and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Dositheus his son brought this epistle of Dositheus, which they said was the same, and that Dositheus the son of Dositheus, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

2 In the second year of the reign of Artaxerxes the great, in the first day of the month Nisan, Mardocheus the son of Jathus, the son of Semel, the son of Elfat of the tribe of Benjamin, had a dream.

3 Which was a Jew, and dwelt in the cite of Susa, a great man, being a servant in the kings court.

4 He was also one of the captives which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon carried from Jerusalem, with Tecomas king of Judea; and this was his dream.

5 Behold, a noise of a tumult, with thunder, and earthquakes, and uproar in the land.

6 And behold, two great dragons came forth ready to fight, and their crie was great.

7 And at their crie all nations were prepared to battell, that they might fight against the righteous people.

8 And lo a day of darkness and obscuritie: tribulation and anguish, affliction, and great uproar upon the earth.

9 And the whole righteous nation was troubled, fearing their own evils, and were ready to perish.

10 Then they cried unto God, and upon their cry, as it were from a little fountain, was made a great flood, even much water.

11 The light and the sun rose up, and the lowly were exalted, and devoured the glorious.

12 Now when Mardocheus, who had seen this dream, and what God had determined to do, was awake; he bare this dream in minde, and untill night by all means was desirous to know it.

CHAP. XII.

2 The conspiracie of the two eunuchs is discovered by Mardocheus, 5 for which he is entertained by the king, and rewarded.

And Mardocheus took his rest in the court with Gabatha, and Tharra, the two eunuchs of the king, and keepers of the palace.

2 * And he heard their devices, and searched out their purposes, and learned that they were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king, and so he certified the king of them.

3 Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were strangled.

4 And the king made a record of these things, and Mardocheus also wrote thereof.

5 So the king commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, and for this he rewarded him.

6 Howbeit Aman the son of Amadathus the Agagite,

Agagite, who was in great honour with the king, sought to molest Harbocheus and his people, because of the two eunuchs of the king.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The copie of the kings letters to destroy the Jews.
2 The prayer of Mardocheus for them.

The copie of the letters was this. The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes, and governors that are under him from India unto Ethiopia, in an hundred and seven and twenty provinces.

2 After that I became lord over many nations, and had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying my self away with equity and mildnesse, I purposed to seeke my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts; to renew peace which is desired of all men.

3 Now when I asked my counsellours how this might be brought to passe, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will, and steadfast fidelity, and had the honour of the second place in the kingdom,

4 Declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world there was scattered a certain malicious people that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually despised the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms honourably intended by us, cannot go forward.

5 Seeing then we understand that this people alone is continually in opposition unto all men, differing in the strange manner of their laws, and evil affected to our state, working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not be firmly established:

6 Therefore have we commanded that all they that are signified in writing unto you by Aman (who is ordained over the affairs, and is next unto us) shall all with their wives and children be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, the fourteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar of this present year:

7 That they, who of old, and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go into the grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs to be well seced, and without trouble.

8 Then Mardocheus thought upon all the works of the Lord, and made his prayer unto him,

9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, the King Almighty: for the whole world is in thy power, and if thou hast appointed to save Israel, there is no man that can gain say thee.

10 For thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things under the heaven.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thee, which are the Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory that I did not bow down to proud Aman.

13 For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel, to kiss the soles of his feet.

14 But I did this that I might not preferre the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I worship any but thee, O God, neither will I do it in pride.

15 And now, O Lord God, and King, spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us, to bring us to nought, yea, they desire to destroy the inheritance that hath been thine from the beginning.

16 Despise not the portion which thou hast delivered out of Egypt for thine own self:

17 Heare my prayer, and be mercifull unto thine inheritance: turn our sorrow into joy, that we may live, O Lord, and praise thy Name: and I will destroy not the mountains of them that praise thee, O Lord.

18 All Israel in like manner cried most earnestly unto the Lord, because their death was before their eyes.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The prayer of Queen Esther for her self and her people.

Queen Esther also being in fear of death, resorted unto the Lord,

2 And laid away her glorious apparell, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning: and in stead of precious ornaments, she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of her joy she filled with her torn hair.

3 And she prayed unto the Lord God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our king: help me desolate woman, which have no helper but thee:

4 For my danger is in mine hand.

5 From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all people, and our fathers from all their predecessors, for a perpetuall inheritance, and thou hast performed whatsoever thou didst promise them.

6 And now we have sinned before thee: therefore hast thou given us into the hands of our enemies,

7 Because we worshipped their gods: O Lord thou art righteous.

8 Nevertheless, it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but they have stricken hands with their idols,

9 That they will abolish the thing that thou wilt thy mouth hast obtained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and of thine altar.

10 And open the mouthes of the heathen to set forth the praises of the idols, and to magnifie a fleshly king for ever.

11 O Lord, give not thy scepter unto them that be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall, but turn their devices upon themselves, and make him an example that hath begun this against us.

12 Remember, O Lord, make thy self known in time of our affliction, and give me boldnesse, O king of the nations, and Lord of all power.

13 Give me eloquent speech in my mouth before the king: turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of all that are like minded to him:

14 But deliver us with thine hand, and help me that am desolate, and which have no other helper but thee.

15 Thou knowest all things, O Lord, thou knowest that I hate the glory of the unrighteous, and abhorre the bed of the uncircumcised, and of all the heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessity: for I abhorre the signe of my high estate, which is upon mine head, in the dayes wherein I shew my self, and that I abhorre it as a menstruous rag, and that I wear it not when I am at private with my self,

17 And that thine handmaid hath not eaten at Amans table, and that I have not greatly esteemed the kings feast, nor drunk the wine of the drink-offerings:

18 Neither had thine handmaid any joy, since

6 Esther cometh into the kings presence. 7 He looketh angrily, and she saureth. 8 The king doth take her up and comfort her.

Upon the third day when she had ended her prayer, she laid away her mourning garments, and put on her glorious apparell.

2 And being gloriously adorned, after she had called upon God, who is the beholder and Saviour of all things, she took two maids with her.

3 And upon the one she leaned, as carrying her self // daintily.

4 And the other followed, bearing up her train.

5 And she was // ruddy through the perfection of her beauty, and her countenance was cheerful and // very amiable: but her heart was in anguish for fear.

6 Then having passed thorow all the doores, she stood before the king, who sat upon his royall throne, and was clothed with all his robes of majesty, all glittering with gold and precious stones, and he was very dreadful.

7 Then lifting up his countenance that shone with majesty, he looked very fiercely upon her: and the queen fell down and was pale, and fainted, and bowed her self upon the head of the maid that went // before her.

8 Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who // in a fear leaped from his throne, and took her in his armes, till she came to her self again, and comforted her with loving words, and said unto her,

9 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer.

10 Thou shalt not die, though our commandment be // general: come near.

11 And so he held up his golden scepter, and laid it upon her neck, 12 And embraced her, and said, Speak unto me.

13 Then he said unto him, I saw thee, my lord, as an Angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy majesty.

14 For wonderfull art thou, lord, and thy countenance is full of grace.

15 And as she was speaking, // she fell down for faintness.

16 Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The letter of Artaxerxes, 19 wherein he taxeth Aman, 17, and revoketh the decree procured by Aman to destroy the Jews. 21 and commandeth the day of their deliverance to be kept holy.

The great king Artaxerxes unto the princes and governors of an hundred and seven and twenty provinces, from India unto Ethiopia and unto all // our faithfull subjects, greeting.

2 Whom, the more often they are honoured with the great bounty of // their gracious princes, the more proud they are waken.

3 And endeavour to hurt not our subjects onely, but not being able to bear abundance, do take in hand to practise also against those that do them good:

4 And take not onely thankfulness away from among men, but also lifted up with the glorious words of // Jew persons // that were never good, they think to escape the justice of God, that seeth all things, and hatech evil.

5 Often times also fair speech // of those that are put in trust to manage their friends affairs, hath caused many that are in authority to be partakers of innocent blood, and hath entwapped them in remediless calamities.

6 Beginning with the falshood and deceit of their lewd disposition, the innocency and goodnesse of princes.

7 Now ye may see this, as we have declared, not so much by ancient histories, as ye may, if ye search what hath been wickedly done of late through the pestilent behaviour of them that are unworthily placed in authority.

8 And we must take care for the time to come, that our kingdom may be quiet and peaceable for all men.

9 Both by changing our purposes, and always judging things that are evident, with more equal proceeding.

10 For Aman a Macedonian the sonne of Amadatha, being indeed a stranger from the Persian blood, and far distant from our goodnesse, and as a stranger received of us:

11 Had so far forth obtained the favour that he // shewed toward every nation, as that he was called our father, and was continually honoured of all men, as the next person unto the king.

12 But he not bearing his great dignity, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and life.

13 Having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction as well of Artaxerxes, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of blamelesse Esther, partaker of our kingdom, with their whole nation.

14 For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians.

15 But we finde that the Jews whom this wicked wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil doers, but live by most just laws:

16 And that they be children of the most high and most mighty living God, who hath // ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitours in the most excellent manner.

17 Therefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters sent unto you by Aman the sonne of Amadatha.

18 For he that was the worker of these things, is hanged at the gates of Susa with all his family: God who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts.

19 Therefore ye shall publish the copy of this letter in all places, that the Jews may freely live after their own laws.

20 And ye shall aid them, that even the same day, being the thirtieth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may be avenged on them, who in the time of their affliction shall set upon them.

21 For Almighty God hath turned to joy unto them the day, wherein the chosen people should have perished.

22 You shall therefore among your solemn feasts keep it an high day with all feasting:

23 That both now and hereafter there may be safetie to us, and the well affected Persians: but to those which do conspire against us, a memoriall of destruction.

24 Therefore every citie and countrey whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be destroyed without mercy, with fire and sword, and shall be made not onely impassable for men, but also most hateful to wilde beasts and fowls for ever.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON.

CHAP. I.

2 To whom God sheweth himself, 4 and wisdom her self. 6 An evil speaker cannot lie hid. 12 We procure our own destruction: 13 For God created not death.

Do be righteousnesse, ye that be iudges of the earth: for the Lord with a good (heart) and in simplicity of heart seek him.

2 For he will be found of them that tempt him not: and sheweth himself unto such as do not distrust him.

3 For forward thoughts separate from God: and his power, when it is tried, reprovethe the unwise.

4 For into a malicious soul wisdom shall not enter: nor dwell in the body that is subiect unto sin.

5 For the holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit, and remove from thoughts that are without understanding, and will not abide when unrighteousnesse cometh in.

6 For wisdom is a loving spirit: and will not acquite a blasphemor of his words: For God is witness of his reins, and a true beholder of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue.

7 For the spirit of the Lord filleth the world: and that which containeth all things, hath knowledge of the voice.

8 Therefore he that speaketh unrighteous things, cannot be hid: neither shall vengeance, when it punisheth passe by him.

9 For inquisition shall be made into the counsels of the ungodly: and the found of his words shall come unto the Lord for the manifestation of his wicked deeds.

10 For the ear of jealousy heareth all things: and the noise of murmurings is not hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is unprofitable, and refrain your tongue from backbiting: for there is no word so secret that shall go for nought: and the mouth that believeth, slayeth the soul.

12 Seek not death in the error of your life: and pull not upon your selves destruction, with the works of your hands.

13 For God made not death: neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the living.

14 For he created all things, that they might have their being: and the generations of the world were healthfull: and there is no poison of destruction in them: nor the kingdome of death upon the earth.

15 For righteousness is immortal.

16 But ungodly men with their works and words called it to them: for when they thought to have it their friend, they continued to nought, and made a covenant with it, because they are worthy to take part with it.

CHAP. II.

1 The wicked think this life short, 5 and of no other after this. 6 Therefore they will take their pleasure in this, 10 and conspire against the just. 21 What that is which doth blinde them.

For the ungodly said, reasoning with themselves, but not aright, Our life is short and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedy: neither was there any man known to have returned from the grave.

2 For we are born at all adventure: and we shall be hereafter as though we had never been: for the breath in our nostrils is as smoke, and a little spark in the moving of our heart:

3 Which being extinguished, our body shall be turned into ashes, and our spirit shall vanish as the light air,

4 And our name shall be forgotten in time, and no man shall have our works in remembrance, and our life shall passe away as the trace of a cloud, and shall be dispersed as a mist that is driven away with the beams of the sunne, and overcome with the heat thereof.

5 For our time is a very shadow that passeth away: and after our end there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man cometh again.

6 Come on therefore, let us enjoy the good things that are present: and let us speedily use the creatures like as in youth.

7 Let us fill our selves with costly wine, and ointments: and let no flower of the spring passe by us.

8 Let us crown our selves with rose buds before they be withered.

9 Let none of us go without his part of our voluptuousnesse: let us leave tokens of our joyfulness in every place: for this is our portion, and our lot is this.

10 Let us oppress the poor righteous man, let us not spare the widow, nor reverence the ancient gray hairs of the aged.

11 Let our strength be the law of justice: for that which is feeble is found to be nothing worth.

12 Therefore let us lie in wait for the righteous: because he is not for our ruin, and he is clean contrary to our doings: he upbraideth us with our offending the law, and objecteth to our infamy the transgressings of our education.

13 He professeth to have the knowledge of God: and he calleth himself the child of the Lord.

14 He was made to reprove our thoughts.

15 He is grievous unto us even to behold: for his life is not like other mens, his wayes are of another fashion.

16 We are esteemed of him as counterfeiters: he abstaineth from our wayes as from filthinesse: he pronounceth the end of the just to be blessed, and maketh his boast that God is his father.

17 Let us see if his words be true: and let us prove what shall happen in the end of him.

18 For if the just man be the sonne of God, he will help him, and deliver him from the hand of his enemies.

19 Let us examine him with despitefulness and torture, that we may know his meeknesse, and prove his patience.

20 Let us condemn him with a shameful death: for by his own saying he shall be respected.

21 Such things they did imagine, and were deceived: for their own wickednesse hath blinded them.

22 As for the mysteries of God, they knew them not: neither hoped they for the wages of righteousness: nor discerned a reward for blamelesse souls.

23 For God created man to be immortal, and made him to be an image of his own eternitie.

24 Nevertheless, through envy of the devill came death into the world: and they that do hold of his seed do sinne it.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The chaste man shall be crowned. 3 Bastard slips shall not thrive. 6 They shall witness against their parents. 7 The just die young, and are happy. 19 The miserable end of the wicked.

Better it is to have no children, and to have vertue: for the memoriall thereof is || immortal: because it is || known with God, and with men.

3 But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall not thrive, nor take deep rooting from bastard-slips, nor lay any fast foundation.

4 For though they flourish in branches for a time: yet standing not fast, they shall be shaken with the winds: and though the force of winds they shall be rooted out.

5 The imperfect branches shall be broken off, their fruit unprofitable, nor ripe to eat: yea, meet for nothing.

6 For children begotten of unlawfull † beds, are witnesses of wickedness against their parents in their crull.

7 But though the righteous be prevented with death: yet shall he be in rest.

8 For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that is measured by number of years.

9 But wisdom is the gray hair unto men, and an unsported life is old age.

10 He pleased God, and was beloved of him: so that living amongst sinners he was translated.

11 Yea, speedily was he taken away, lest that wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul.

12 For the bewitching of naughtinesse doth obscure things that are honest: and the wandring of concupiscence doth † undermine the simple minde.

13 He being made || perfect in a short time, fulfilled a long time.

14 For his soul pleased the Lord: therefore hastened he to take him away from among the wicked.

15 This the people saw, and understood it not, neither said they up this in their minds, That his grace and mercy is with his saints, and that he hath respect unto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead shall condemn the ungodly which are living, and youth that is soon perfected, the many years and old age of the unrighteous.

17 For they shall see the end of the wise, and shall not understand what God in his counsell hath decreed of him, and to what end the Lord hath set him in safety.

18 They shall see him, and despise him, but God shall laugh them to scorn, and they shall hereafter be a vile carcase, and a reproach among the dead for evermore.

19 For he shall rend them, and cast them down headlong, that they shall be speechlesse: and he shall shake them from the foundation: and they shall be utterly laid waste, and be in sorrow: and their memoriall shall perish.

20 And || when they cast up the accounts of their sinnes, they shall come with fear: and their own iniquities shall convince them to their face.

† Or. to the casting up of the account.

CHAP. V.

1 The wicked shall wonder at the godly, 4 and confesse their error, 5 and the vanity of their lives. 15 God will reward the just; and warre against the wicked.

Then shall the righteous man stand in great boldnes, before the face of such as have afflicted him, and made no account of his labours.

1 Kings must give ear. 3 They have their power from God, 5 who will not spare them. 12 Wisdom is soon found. 21 Princes must seek for it: 24 for a wise prince is the stay of his people.

6 For mercy will soon pardon the meaneest: but mighty men shall be mightily tormented.

8 But a sore triall shall come upon the mighty. 9 Unto you therefore, O kings, do I speak, that ye may learn wisdom, and not fall away.

10 For they that keep holinesse holly, shall be // judged holy: and they that have learned such things, shall finde // what to answer.

11 Therefore set your affection upon my words, desire them, and ye shall be instructed.

12 Wisdom is glorious, and never fadeth away: yea she is easily seen of them that love her, and found of such as seek her.

13 She preventeth them that desire her, in making her self first known unto them.

14 Whoso seeketh her early shall have no great travail: for he shall finde her sitting at his doore.

15 To think therefore upon her, is perfection of wisdom: and whoso watcheth for her, shall quickly be without care.

16 For the goeth about seeking such as are worthy of her, sheweth her self favourably unto them in the wayes, and meeteth them in every thought.

17 For the very true beginning of her, is the desire of // discipline: and the care of discipline is love.

18 And love is the keeping of her laws; and the giving heed unto her laws, is the assurance of incorruption.

19 And incorruption maketh us near unto God.

20 Therefore the desire of wisdom bringeth to a kingdom.

21 If your delight be then in thrones and scepters, O ye kings of the people, honour wisdom, that ye may reign for evermore.

22 As for wisdom, what she is, and how she came up, I will tell you, and will not hide mysteries from you: but will seek her out from the beginning of her nativite, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not possesse over the truth.

23 Neither will I go with consuming envy, for such a man shall have no fellowship with wisdom.

24 But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the world: and a wise king is the upholding of the people.

25 Receive therefore instruction through my words, and it shall do you good.

CHAP. VII.

1 All men have their beginning and end alike. 8 He preferred wisdom before all things else. 15 God gave him all the knowledge which he had. 22 The praise of wisdom.

I say self also am a mortal man, like to all, and the offspring of him that was first made of the earth.

2 And in my mothers womb was fashioned to be flesh in the time of ten months, * being compacted in blood, of the seed of man and the pleasure that came with sleep.

3 And when I was born, I drew in the common air, and fell upon the earth which is of like nature, and the first voice which I uttered, was crying, as all others do.

4 I was nursed in swaddling clothes, and that with cares.

5 For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.

6 * For all men have one entrance into life, and the like going out.

7 Therefore I prayed, and understanding was given me: I called upon God, and the spirit of wisdom came to me.

8 I preferred her before scepters and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison of her.

9 Neither compared I unto her any precious stone, because all gold in respect of her is as a little sand, and silver shall be counted as clay before her.

10 I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her in stead of riches: for the light that cometh from her, never goeth out.

11 * All good things together came to me with her, and innumerable riches in her hands.

12 And I reposed in them all, because wisdom goeth before them: and I knew not that she was the mother of them.

13 I learned diligently, and do communicate her liberally: I do not hide her riches.

14 For she is a treasure unto men that never faileth: which they that use, become the friends of God, being commended for the gifts that come from learning.

15 * God hath granted me to speak as I would, and to conceive as is meet for the things that I have given me: because it is he that leadeth unto wisdom, and directeth the wise.

16 For in his hand are both we and our words: all wisdom also and knowledge of workmanship.

17 For he hath given me certain knowledge of the things that are, namely, to know how the world was made, and the operation of the elements:

18 The beginning, ending, and midst of the times: the alterations of the turning of the sun, and the change of seasons:

19 The circuits of years, and the positions of stars:

20 The natures of living creatures, and the furies of wilde beasts: the violence of winds, and the reasonings of men: the diversities of plants, and the virtues of roots:

21 And all such things as are either secret or manifest, them I know.

22 For wisdom which is the worker of all things, taught me: for in her is an understanding spirit, holy, lone only, manifold, subtil, lively, clear, undecified, plain, not subject to hurt, loving the thing that is good, quick, which cannot be leited, ready to do good,

23 Kinde to man, steadfast, sure, free from care, having all power, overseeing all things, and going through all understandings, pure, and most subtil spirits.

24 For wisdom is more moving than any motion: she passeth and goeth through all things by reason of her pureness.

25 For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowing from the glory of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing fall into her.

26 For she is the brightness of the everlasting light, the unspotted mirror of the power of God, and the image of his goodness.

27 And being but one, she can do all things: and remaining in her self, she maketh all things new: and in all ages entering into holy souls, she maketh them friends of God, and prophets.

28 For God loveth none, but him that dwelleth with wisdom.

29 For she is more beautiful than the sun, and above all the order of stars: being compared with the light, she is found before it.

30 For after this cometh night: but vice shall not prevail against wisdom.

CHAP. VIII.

1 He is in love with wisdom: 4 for he that hath it, hath every good thing: 21 It cannot be had but from God.

Wisdom teacheth from one end to another mightily, and sweetly doth she order all things.

2 I loved her and sought her out from my youth, I desired to make her my spouse, and I was a lover of her beauty.

3 In that she is conversant with God, she magnifieth her nobilitie: yea, the Lord of all things himself loved her.

4 For she is participable to the mysteries of the knowledge of God, and a lover of his works.

5 Her riches be a possession to be desired in this life: what is richer than wisdom that worketh all things?

6 And if prudent works: who of all that are, is a more cunning workman than she?

7 And if a man love righteousness, her labours are virtues: for she teacheth temperance and prudence justice and fortitude: which are such things as men can have nothing more profitable in their life.

8 If a man desire much experience, she knoweth things of old, and consecreteth aright what is to come: she knoweth the subtilties of speeches, and can expound dark sentences: she foretelleth signes and wonders, and the events of seasons and times.

9 Therefore I purposed to take her to me to live with me, knowing that she would be a counsellor of good things, and a comfort in cares and grief.

10 For her sake I shall have estimation among the multitude, and honour with the elders, though I be young.

11 I shall be found of a quick conceit in judgement, and shall be admired in the sight of great men.

12 * When I hold my tongue they shall bide my leisure, and when I speak they shall give good ear unto me: if I talk much, they shall lay their hands upon their mouth.

13 Moreover, by the means of her I shall obtain immortality, and leave behinde me an everlasting memorial to them that come after me.

14 I shall see the people in order, and the nations shall be subject unto me.

15 Worthie tyrants shall be afraid when they do but hear of me, I shall be found good among the multitude, and valiant in warre.

21 Wherefore when I perceived that I could not otherwise obtain her, except God gave her me, (and that was a poine of wisdom also to know whose gift she was) I prayed unto the Lord, and besought him, and with my whole heart I said,

CHAP. IX.

1 A prayer unto God for his wisdom, 6 without which the best man is nothing worth, 13 neither can he tell how to please God.

O God of my fathers, and Lord of mercy, who hast made all things with thy word,

2 And ordained man through thy wisdom, that he should have dominion over the creatures which thou hast made,

3 And order the world according to equitie and righteousness, and execute judgement with an upright heart:

4 Give me wisdom that sitteth by thy throne, and resect me not from among thy children:

5 For I thy servant and sonne of thine handmaid, am a feeble person, and of a short time, and too young for the understanding of judgement and laws.

6 For though a man be never so perfect among the children of men, yet if the wisdom be not with him he shall be nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a King of thy people, and a iudge of thy sonnes and daughters.

8 Thou hast commanded me to build a temple upon thy holy mount, and an altar in the citie wherein thou dwellest, a resemblance of the holy tabernacle which thou hast prepared from the beginning.

9 And wisdom was with thee: which knoweth thy works, and was present when thou madest the world, and knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in the commandmentes.

10 I send her out of thy holy heavens, and from the throne of thy glory, that being present she may labour with me, that I may know what is pleasing unto thee.

11 For she knoweth and understandeth all things, and she shall lead me soberly in my doings, and preserve me in her power.

12 So shall my works be acceptable, and then shall I iudge thy people righteously, and be worthy to sit in my fathers seat.

13 For what man is he that can know the counsell of God? or who can think what the will of the Lord is?

14 For the thoughts of mortall men are all unstable, and our devices are but uncertain.

15 For the corruptible vaine presseth down the soul, and the earthly tabernacle weigheth down the minde that museth upon many things.

16 And hardly do we gresse aright at things that are upon earth, and with labour do we finde the things that are before us: but the things that are in heaven, who hath searched out?

17 And thy counsell who hath known, except thou give wisdom, and send thy holy Spirit from above?

18 For so the wayes of them which lived on the earth were reformed, and men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee, and were saved through wisdom.

CHAP. X.

1 What wisdom did for Adam, 4 Noe, 5 Abraham, 6 Lot, and against the five cities, 10 for Jacob, 13 Joseph, 16 Moses, 17 and the Israelites.

She preserved the first formed father of the world, that was created alone, and brought him out of his fall,

2 And gave him power to rule all things.

3 But when the unrighteous went away from her in his anger, he perished also in the fury where-with he murdered his brother.

4 For whose cause the earth being drowned with the flood, wisdom again preserved it, and directed the course of the righteous in a piece of wood of small value.

5 Whereover, the nations in their wicked conspiracy being confounded, she found out the righteous, and preserved him blamelesse unto God, and kept him strong against his tender compassion toward his sonne.

6 When the ungodly perished, she delivered the righteous man, who fled from the fire which fell down upon the five cities.

7 Of whose wickedness even to this day, the waste land that smoketh is a testimonie, and plants bearing fruit that never come to ripenesse: and a standing pillar of salt is a monument of an unbelieving soul.

8 For regarding not wisdom, they gat not one. By this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good: but also left behinde them to the world a memoriall of their foolishnesse: so that in the things wherein they offended, they could not so much as be hid.

9 But wisdom delivered from pain those that attended upon her.

10 When the righteous fled from his brothers wrath, she guided him in right paths, showed him the kingdom of God, and gave him knowledge of holy things, made him rich in his travels, and multiplied the fruit of his labours.

11 In the covetousnesse of such as oppressed him, she stood by him, and made him rich.

12 She defended him from his enemies, and kept him safe from those that lay in wait, and in a fore conflict she gave him the victory, that he might know that godliness is stronger then all.

13 When the righteous was sold, she forooke him not, but delivered him from him: she went down with him into the pit,

14 And left him not in bonds, till she brought him the scepter of the kingdom, and power against those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she showed them to be liars, and gave him perpetual glory.

15 She delivered the righteous people, and blamelesse seed from the nation that oppressed them.

16 She entred into the soul of the servant of the Lord, and withstood dreadful kings in wonders, and signes.

17 Rendered to the righteous a reward of their labours, guided them in a marvellous way, and was unto them for a count by day, and a light of stars in the night season.

CHAP. XI.

5 The Egyptians were punished, and the Israelites reserved in the same things. 15 They were plagued by the same things wherein they sinned. 20 God could have destroyed them otherwise, 23 but he is mercifull to all.

She prospered their works in the hand of the holy prophet.

2 * They went thowow the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched tents in places where there lay no way.

3 * They stood against their enemies, and were avenged of their adversaries.

4 When they were thirsty, they called upon thee, and water was given them out of the flinty rock, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.

5 For by what things their enemies were punished, by the same they in their need were benefited.

6 For in stead of a fountain of a perpetuall running river troubled with foul blood,

7 For a manifest reproof of that commandment whereby the infants were slain, thou gavest unto them abundance of water by a means which they hoped not for :

8 Declaring by that thirst them, * how thou hadst punished their adversaries.

9 For when they were tried, albeit but in mercie chastised, they knew how the ungodly were judged in wrath and tormented, thirsting in another manner then the just.

10 For these thou didst admonish and try as a father : but the other as a severe king thou didst condemn and punish.

11 Whether they were absent or present, they were veyed alike.

12 For a double grief came upon them, and a groaning for the remembrance of things past.

13 For when they heard by their own punishments the other to be benefited, they had some feeling of the Lord.

14 For whom they rejected with scorn when he was long before thrown out at the casting forth of the infants, him in the end, when they saw what came to passe, they admired.

15 But for the foolish devices of their wickedness, wherewith being deceived they worshipped serpents void of reason, and vile beasts, thou didst send a multitude of unreasonable beasts upon them for vengeance.

16 That they might know that wherewithall a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

17 For thy Almighty hand that made the world of matter without form, wanted not means to send among them a multitude of bears, or fierce lions :

18 O unknown wild beasts full of rage, newly created, breathing out either a fiery vapour, or filthy fumes of scattered smoke, or shooting horrible sparkles out of their eyes :

19 Whereof not onely the harts might dispatch

them at once, but also the terrible sight utterly destroy them.

20 Per, and without these might they have fallen down with one blast, being persecuted of vengeance, and scattered abroad through the breath of thy power : but thou hast ordered all things in measure and number and weight.

21 For thou canst shew thy great strength at all times when thou wilt, and who may withstand the power of thine arme :

22 For the whole world before thee is as a little grain of the ballance, yea as a drop of the morning dew that falleth down upon the earth.

23 But thou hast mercy upon all : for thou canst do all things, and winkest at the sinnes of men : because they should amend.

24 For thou lovest all the things that are, and abhorrest nothing which thou hast made : for never wouldest thou have made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.

25 And how could any thing have endured, if it had not been thy will : or been preserved, if not called by thee :

26 But thou sparest all : for they are thine, O Lord, thou lover of souls.

CHAP. XII.

2 God did not destroy those of Canaan all at once.

12 If he had done so, who could controll him ?

19 But by sparing them he taught us. 27 They were punished with their Gods.

For thine incorruptible Spirit is in all things.

2 Therefore chastenest thou them by little and little, that offend, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance, wherein they have offended : that leaving their wickedness, they may beseeve on thee, O Lord.

3 For it was thy will to destroy by the hands of our fathers, both those || old inhabitants of thy holy land,

4 Whom thou hatedst for doing most odious works of || witchcrafts, and wicked sacrifices :

5 And also those merciless murderers of children, and devourers of mans flesh, and the fensils of blood :

6 With their priests out of the midst of their idolatrous crew, and the parents that killed with their own hands, souls destitute of help :

7 That the land which thou esteemedst above all other, might receive a worthy || colony of Gods children.

8 Reverthelesse, even those thou sparedst as men, and didst send * waives, forerunners of thine host, to destroy them by little and little.

9 Not that thou wast unable to bring the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battell, or to destroy them at once with cruel beasts, or with one rough word :

10 But executing thy judgements upon them by little and little, thou gavest them place of repentance, not being ignorant that they were a naughty generation, and that their malice was bred in them, and that their cogitation would never be changed.

11 For it was a * cursed seed from the beginning, neither didst thou for fear of any man, give them pardon for those things wherein they sinned.

12 For who shall say, * What hast thou done ? or who shall withstand thy judgement ? or who shall accuse thee for the nations that perish, whom thou hast made ? or who shall come to stand || against thee || to be revenged for the unrighteous men ?

26 But they that would not be reformed by that correction wherein they were chastised with them, shall feel a judgement worthy of God.

27 For look for what things they grudged when they were punished, (that is) for them whom they thought to be gods [now] being punished in them, when they saw it, they acknowledged him to be the true God, whom before they denied to know, and therefore came extreme damnation upon them.

CHAP. XIII.

1 They were not excused that worshipped any of Gods works. 10 But most wretched are they that worship the works of mens hands.

*Rom. 1.19.

Surely vain are all men by nature, who are ignorant of God, and * could not out of the good things that are seen, know him that is: neither by considering the works, did they acknowledge the work-master:

and 17.3.

2 * But deemed either fire, or winde, or the swift air, or the circle of the stars, or the violent water, or the lights of heaven to be the gods which govern the world.

3 With whose beauty if they being delighted, took them to be gods, let them know how much better the Lord of them is: for the first author of beauty hath created them.

4 But if they were astonished at their power and vertue, let them understand by them, how much mightier he is that made them.

5 For by the greatness and beauty of the creatures, proportionably the maker of them is seen.

6 But yet for this they are the lesse to be blamed: for they peradventure erre seeking God, and desirous to finde him.

7 For being * conversant in his works, they || search him diligently, and beseech their sight: because the things are beautifull that are seen.

8 Howbeit, neither are they to be pardoned.

9 For if they were able to know so much, that they could aim at the world; how did they not sooner finde out the Lord thereof?

10 But miserable are they, and in dead things is their hope, who called them gods which are the works of mens hands, gold and silver to shew art in, and resemblances of beasts, or a stone good for nothing, the work of an ancient hand.

11 * Now a || carpenter that selleth timber, after he hath sawen down a tree meet for the purpose, and taken off all the bark skilfully round about, and hath wrought it handily, and made a vessel thereof fit for the service of mans life:

13 And taking the very refuse among those which served to no use (being a crooked piece of wood and full of knots) hath carved it diligently when he had nothing else to do, and formed it by the skill of his understanding, and fashioned it to the image of a man:

14 And made it like some wise beast, laying it over with vermilion and with paint, colouring it red, and covering every spot therein.

15 And when he had made a convenient room for it, let it in a wall, and made it fast with iron:

16 For he provided for it that it might not fall, knowing that it was unable to help it self, (for it is an image, and hath need of help:)

17 Then maketh he prayer for his goods, for his wife and children, and is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life.

18 For health, he calleth upon that which is weak: for life, prayeth to that which is dead: for aid, humbly beseecheth † that which hath least means to help: and for a good journey, he asketh of that which cannot let a foot forward:

19 And for gaining and getting, and for good success of his hands, asketh ability to do; of him that is most unable to do any thing.

7 For blessed is the wood whereby righteousness cometh.

8 * But that which is made with hands is cursed, as well it, as he that made it: he, because he made it; and it, because being corruptible, it was called God.

9 * For the ungodly and his ungodliness are both alike hitherunto God.

10 For that which is made shall be punished together with him that made it.

11 Therefore even // upon the idols of the Gentiles shall there be a visitation: because in the creature of God they are become an abomination, and * // stumbling blocks to the souls of men, and a // snare to the feet of the unwise.

12 For the devising of idols was the beginning, of spiritual fornication, and the invention of them the corruption of life.

13 For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever.

14 For by the vain-glorious of men they entered into the world, and therefore shall they come shortly to an end.

15 For a father afflicted with untimely mourning, when he hath made an image of his child soon taken away, now honoured him as a god which was then a dead man, and delivered to those that were under him, ceremonies and sacrifices.

16 Thus // in process of time an ungodly custom grown strong, was kept as a law, and graven images were worshipped by the commandments of kings.

17 Although when men could not honour // in presence, because they dwelt farre off, they took the counterfeite of his visage from farre, and made an expresse image of a king whom they honoured, to the end that by this their forwardnesse, they might flatter him that was absent, as if he were present.

18 Also the singular diligence of the artificer did help to set forward the ignorance to more superstition.

19 For he peradventure willing to please one in authority, forced all his skill to make the resemblance, // of the best fashion.

20 And so the multitude assured by the grace of the work, took him now for a god, which a little before was but honoured as a man.

21 And this was an occasion to deceive the world: for men serving either calamity or tyranny, did of setise unto stones and stocks the incommunicable // name.

22 Moreover, this was not enough for them, that they erred in the knowledge of God, but whereas they lived in the great warre of ignorance, those too great plagues called they peace.

23 For whilst they * slew their children in sacrifices, or used secret ceremonies, or made revelings of strange rites, 24 They kept neither libes nor marriages any longer undefiled: but either one slew another treacherously, or grieved him by adultery.

25 So that they reigned in all men // with corruption, blood, man-slaughter, theft and dissimulation, corruption, unfaithfulness, tumults, perjury.

26 Disquieting of good men, forgetfulness of good turns, desling of souls, changing of // kinde, disorder in marriages, adultery, and shamelesse uncleanness.

27 For the worshipping of idols // not to be ma-nied, is the beginning, the cause, and the end of all evil.

28 For either they are mad when they be merry, or prophetic lie, or live uniauly, or else lightly forswear themselves.

29 For inasmuch as their trust is in idols which have no life; though they swear falsely, yet they look not to be hurt.

30 Howbeit for both causes shall they be justly punished: both because they thought not well of God; // giving heed unto idols, and also unjustly sworn in deceit, despising holiness.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom they swear: but it is the just vengeance of sinners, that punisheth alwayes the offence of the ungodly.

CHAP. XV.

1 We do acknowledge the true God. 7 The folly of idol-makers, 14 and of the enemies of Gods people: 15 because besides the idols of the gentiles, 18 they worshipped vile beasts.

BUt thou, O God, art gracious and true, long-suffering, and in mercy ordering all things.

2 For if we time, we are thine, knowing thy power: but we will not time, knowing that we are counted thine.

3 For to know thee is perfect righteousness: yea, to know thy power is the root of immortality.

4 For neither did the mischievous invention of men deceive us, nor an image spotted with divers colours, the painters fruitlesse labour.

5 The sight whereof // enticeth fools to lust after it, and so they desire the form of a dead image that hath no breath.

6 Both they that make them, they that desire them, and they that worship them, are lovers of evil things, and are worthy to have such things to trust upon.

7 For the * potter tempering soft earth, fashioneth every vessel with much labour for one service: yea, of the same clay he maketh both the vessels that serve for clean uses, and likewise also all such as serve to the contrary: but what is the use of either sort, the potter himself is the judge.

8 And employing his labours wisely, he maketh a vain god of the same clay, even he which a little before was made of earth himself, and within a little while after returneth to the same out of the which he was taken, when his * life which was lent him shall be demanded.

9 Notwithstanding his care is, not that he shall // have much labour, nor that his life is short: but striveth to excell gold-smiths, and silver-smiths, and endeavour to do like the workers in brass, and counteth it his glory to make counterfeite things.

10 His heart is ashy, his hope is more vile than earth, and his life of lesse value than clay:

11 Forasmuch as he knew not his Maker, and him that inspired into him an active soul, and breathed in a living spirit.

12 But they counted one life a pasture, and one // time here a market for gain: for, say they, we must be getting every way, though it be by evil means.

13 // For this man that of earthly matter maketh brittle vessels, and graven images, knoweth himself to offend above all others.

14 And all the enemies of thy people, that hold them in abjection, are most foolish, and are more miserable than very babes.

15 For they counted all the idols of the heathen to be gods: which neither have the use of eyes to see,

17 For being mortal, he worketh a dead thing with wicked hands : for he himself is better then the things which he worshippeth : whereas he lived once, but they never.

18 Yea, they worshipped those beasts also that are most hatefull : for being compared together, some are worse then others.

19 Neither are they beautifull, so much as to be desired in respect of beasts : but they went without the praise of God and his blessing.

CHAP. XVI.

2 God gave strange meat to his people, to stir up their appetite, and vile beasts to their enemies to take it from them. 3 He stung with his serpents, 12 but soon healed them by his word onely. 17 The creatures altered their nature to pleasure Gods people, and to offend their enemies.

Therefore by the like were they punished worshippers, and by the multitude of beasts * tormented.

2 In stead of which punishment, dealing graciously with thine own people, thou preparedst for them meat of a strange taste, even * quails to lit up their appetite :

3 To the end that they desiring food might for the onely sight of the beasts sent among them, lo the even that which they must needs desire : but these suffering penurie for a short space, might be made partakers of a strange taste.

4 For it was requisite, that upon them exercising tyranny, should come penurie which they could not avoid : but to these it should onely be shewed how their enemies were tormented.

5 For when the horrible fiercenesse of beasts came upon // these, and they perished with * stings of crooked serpents, thy wrath endured not for ever.

6 But they were troubled for a small season, that they might be admonished, having a * signe of salvation, to put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law.

7 For he that turned himself towards it, was not saved by the thing that he saw : but by thee that art the Saviour of all.

8 And in this thou madest thine enemies confesse, that it is thou who deliverest from all evil :

9 For * them the bitings of grasshoppers and flies killed, neither was there found any remedy for their life : for they were worthy to be punished by such.

10 But thy sonnes not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame : for thy mercy was ever by them, and healed them.

11 For they were // plucked, that they should remember thy words, and were quickly saved, that not falling into deep forgetfulness, they might be // continually mindful of thy goodness.

12 For it was neither herb, nor mollifying plaine that restored them to health : but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.

13 For thou hast power of life and death : thou leadest to the gates of hell, and bringest up again.

14 A man indeed killeth through his malice : and the spirit when it is gone forth, returneth not : neither the soul received up, cometh again.

15 But it is not possible to escape thine hand.

16 * For the ungodly that denied to know thee, were scourged by the strength of thine arm : with strange rains, hails, and showres were they persecuted, that they could not avoid, and though fire were they consumed.

17 For which is most to be wondered at, the fire had more force in the water that quencherh all things : for the world * fighteth for the righteous.

18 For sometime the flame was mitigated that it might not burn up the beasts that were sent against the ungodly : but themselves might see and perceive that they were persecuted with the judgement of God.

19 And at another time it burneth even in the midst of water above the power of fire, that it might destroy the fruits of an unjust land.

20 * In stead whereof thou feddest thine own people with angels food, and didst send them from heaven bread prepared without their labour, able to content every mans delight, and agreeing to every taste.

21 For thy // sustenance declared thy sweetness unto thy children, and serving to the appetite of the eater, // tempered it self to every mans liking.

22 * But snow and ice endured the fire and melted not, that they might know that fire burning in the hail, and sparkling in the rain, did destroy the fruits of the enemies.

23 But this again did even forget his own strength, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serveth thee who art the Maker, increaseth his strength against the unrighteous for their punishment, and abatech his strength for the benefit of such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore even then was it altered into all // fashions, and was obedient to thy grace that nourisher all things, according to the desire // of them that had need :

26 That thy children, O Lord, whom thou lovest, might know that it is not the groiving of fruits that nourisher man : but that it is thy word which preferverh them that put their trust in thee.

27 For that which was not destroyed of the fire, being warmed with a little sun-beam, soon melted away.

28 That it might be known that we must present the sunne to give thee thanks, and at the day, lying pray unto thee.

29 For the hope of the unthankfull shall melt away as the winters hoar-frost, and shall run away as unprofitable water.

4 The terrors of that darkness. 12 The terrors of an ill conscience.

For great are thy judgements, and cannot be expressed : therefore // unmirtured souls have erred.

2 For when unrighteous men thought to oppress the holy nation : they being shut up // in their houses, the prisoners of darkness, and fettered with the bonds of a long night, lay [there] // expelled from the eternall providence.

3 For while they supposed to be hid in their secret sinnes, they were scattered // under a dark ball of forgetfulness, being horribly astonished, and troubled with (strange) // apparitions.

falling down, founded about them, and sad visions appeared unto them with headie countenances.

5 No power of the fire might give them light: neither could the bright flames of the stars endure to lighten that horrible night.

6 Only there appeared unto them a fire kindled of it self, very dreadful: for being much terrified, they thought the things which they saw, to be worse then the light they saw not.

7 * As for the illusions of art magick, they were put down, and their vanishing in wisdom was rewarded with diligence.

8 For they that promised to drive away terrors, and troubles from a sick soul, were sick themselves of fear worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing did fear them: yet being feared with beasts that passed by, and hissing of serpents,

10 They died for fear, denying that they saw the air, which could of no use be avoided.

11 For wickedness condemned by her own witness, is very timorous, and being pressed with conscience, always forsaileth grievous things.

12 For fear is nothing else, but a betraying of the succours which reason offereth.

13 And the expectation from within being lesse, counteth the ignorance more then the cause which bringeth the torment.

14 But they sleeping the same sleep that night, which was indeed intolerable, and which came upon them out of the bottoms of inevitable hell:

15 Were partly vexed with monstrous apparitions, and partly lained, their heart failing them: for a sudden fear, and not looked for, came upon them.

16 So then, whosoever there fell down was straitly kept, shut up in a prison, without iron bars.

17 For whether he were husbandman or shepherd, or a labourer in the field he was overtaken, and endured that necessity, which could not be avoided: for they were all bound with one chain of darkness.

18 Whether it were a whistling winde, or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches, or a pleasing fall of water running violently,

19 Or a terrible sound of stones cast down, or a running that could not be seen of skipping beasts, or a roaring voice of most savage wilde beasts, or a rebounding echo from the hollow mountains: these things made them to swoon for fear.

20 For the whole world shined with clear light, and none were hidden in their labour.

21 Sure then only was spread an horrible night, an image of that darkness which should afterward receive them: but yet were they unto themselves more grievous then the darkness.

CHAP. XVIII.

4 Why Egypt was punished with darkness, 5 and with the death of their children. 18 They themselves saw the cause thereof. 20 God also plagued his own people. 21 By what means that plague was stayed.

NEverthelesse, the Saints had a very great light, whose voice they hearing and not seeing these shapes, because they also had not suffered the same things, they counted them happy.

2 But for that they did not hurt them now, of whom they had been wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon, for that they had been enemies.

3 * In stead whereof thou gapest them a burning pillar of fire, both to be a guide of the unknown journey, and an harmlesse sinne to entertain them honourably.

4 For they were worthy to be deprived of light, and imprisoned in darkness, who had kept thy sonnes shut up, by whom the incorrupt light of the law was to be given unto the world.

5 * And when they had determined to slay the babes of the saints, one child being cast forth, and saved, to reproove them, thou tookest away the multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mighty water.

6 * Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that assuredly knowing unto what oaths they had given credence, they might afterwards be of good cheer.

7 So of thy people was accepted both the salvation of the righteous, and destruction of the enemies.

8 For wherewith thou didst punish our adversaries, by the same thou didst glorifie us whom thou hadst called.

9 * For the righteous children of good men did sacrifice secretly, and with one consent made it a holy law that the saints should be alike partakers of the same good and evil, the fathers now singing out the songs of praise.

10 But on the other side there sounded an ill according crye of the enemies, and a lamentable noise was carried abroad for children that were bewailed.

11 * The master and the servant were punished after one manner; and like as the king, so suffered the common person.

12 So they all together had innumerable dead with one kinde of death, neither were the living sufficient to bury them: for in one moment the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

13 For whereas they would not beleve any thing, by reason of the enchantment's; upon the destruction of the first-born, they acknowledged this people to be the sonnes of God.

14 For while all things were in quiet silence, and that night was in the midst of her swift course,

15 Thine Almighty word leapt down from heaven, out of thy royall throne, as a fierce man of war, into the midst of a land of destruction,

16 And brought thine unfained commandment as a sharp sword, and standing up sifted all things with death, and it touched the heaven, but it stood upon the earth.

17 Then suddenly if visions of horrible dreame troubled them fore, and terrors came upon them unlooked for.

18 And one thowen here, another there half dead, shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the dreame that troubled them did foreshew this, lest they should perish, and not know why they were afflicted.

20 Pea the tasting of death touched the righteous also, and there was a destruction of the multitude in the wilderness: but the wrath endured not long.

21 For then the blamelesse man made haste, and stood forth to defend them; and bringing the shield of his proper ministerie, even prayer, and the provocation of incense, set himself against the wrath, and so brought the calamitie to an end, declaring that he was thy servant.

22 So he overcame the destroyer, not with strength of bodie, nor force of arms, but with a word subdued he him that punished, alleadging the

CHAP. XIX.

1 Why God shewed no mercy to the Egyptians; 5 And how wonderfully he dealt with his people. 14 The Egyptians were worse then the Sodomites. 18 The wonderfull agreement of the creatures to serve Gods people.

As for the ungodly, wrath came upon them without interce unto the end: for he knew before what they would do;

2 What that having given them leave to depart, and sent them hastily away, they would repent and pursue them.

3 For whilst they were yet mourning and making lamentation at the graves of the dead, they added another foolish device, and pursued them as fugitives, whom they had || intreated to be gone.

4 For the destinie whereof they were worthy, drew them unto this end, and made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might fulfill the punishment which was wanting to their comments:

5 And that thy people might passe a wonderfull way: but they might finde a strange death.

6 For the whole creature in his proper kinde was fashioned againe anew, serving the peculiar commandments that were given unto them, that thy children might be kept without hurt.

7 As namely, a cloud shadowing the camp; and where water stood before, by land appeared; and out of the Red sea a way without impediment; and out of the violent stream, a green field:

8 Where through all the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy marvellous strange wonders.

9 For they went at large like hofes, and leaped like lambs, prailing thee, O Lord, who hadst delivered them.

10 For they were yet mindfull of the things that were done while they sojourned in the strange land, how the ground brought forth || flies in stead of caterpillars, and how the river cast up a multitude of frogs in stead of fishes.

11 But afterwards they saw a new generation of fowls, when being led with their appetite they asked delicate meats.

12 For quails came up unto them from the sea, for their || contentment.

13 And punishments came upon the sinners not without former signes by the force of thunders: for they suffered justly, according to their own wickednesse, inasmuch as they used a more hard and hateful behaviour toward strangers:

14 For the Sodomites did not receive those whom they knew not when they came: but these brought friends into bondage, that had well deserved of them.

15 And not onely so, but peradventure some respect shall be had of those, because they used strangers not friendly.

16 But these very grievously afflicted them whom they had received with feastings, and were already made partakers of the same laws with them.

17 Therefore even with blindness were these stricken, as those were at the doors of the righteous man: when being compassed about with horrible great darkness, every one sought the passage of his own doore.

18 For the elements were changed † in themselves by a kinde of harmony, like as in a Dialletrie notes change the name of the tune, and yet are alwayes sounds, which may well be perceived by the sight of the things that have been done.

19 For earthly things were turned into watery, and the things that before swam in the water, now went upon the ground.

20 The fire had power in the water, forgetting his own vertue: and the water forgot his own quenching nature.

21 On the other side, the flames waited not the flesh of the corruptible living things, though they walked therein, neither melted they the ice kinde of heavenly meat, that was of nature apt to melt.

22 For in all things, O Lord, thou didst magnifie thy people, and glorifie them, neither didst thou lightly regard them: but didst alittle them in every time and place.

THE WISDOME OF JESUS THE sonne of SIRACH, or, ECCLESIASTICUS.

A Prologue made by an uncertain Authour.

THIS Jesus was the sonne of Sirach, and grand childe to Jesus of the same name with him: this man therefore lived in the latter times, after the people had been led away captive, and called home again, and almost after all the Prophets. Now his grandfather Jesus (as he himself witnesseth) was a man of great diligence and wisdom among the Hebrews, who did not only gather the grave and short sentences of wise men that had been before him, but himself also uttered some of his own, full of much understanding and wisdom. When as therefore the first Jesus died, leaving this book almost || perfected, Sirach his sonne receiving it after him, left it to his own sonne Jesus, who having gotten it into his hands, compiled it all orderly into one volume, and called it Wisdom, intituling it, both by his own name, his fathers name, and his grandfathers, alluring the hearer by the very name of Wisdom, to have a greater love to the study of this book. It containeth therefore wise sayings, dark sentences, and parables, and certain particular ancient godly stories of men that pleased God. Also his prayer and song. Moreover, what benefits God had vouchsafed his people, and what plagues he had heaped upon their enemies: This Jesus did imitate Solomon, and was no lesse famous for wisdom and learning, both being indeed a man of great learning, and so reputed also.

g The Prologue of the wisdom of Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

Whereas many and great things have been delivered unto us by the Law and the Prophets, and by others that have followed their steps: for the which things Israel ought to be commended for learning and wisdom; and whereof not onely the readers must needs become skillfull themselves, but also they that desire to learn, be able to profit them which are || without, both by speaking and writing: my grandfather Jesus, when he had much given himself to the reading of the Law and the Prophets, and other books of our fathers, and had gotten therein good judgment, was drawn on also himself, to write something pertaining to learning and wisdom, to the intent that those which are desirous to learn, and are added to these things, might profit much more in living according to the Law. Wherefore, let me intreat you to read it with favour and attention, and to pardon us, wherein we may seeme to come short of some words which we have laboured to interpret. For the same things uttered in Hebrew, and translated into another tongue, have not the same force in them: and not onely these things, but the Law it self and the ¶ Prophets, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their own language. For in the eight and thirtieth year coming into Egypt, when Iuergetes was King, and continuing there some time, I found a ¶ book of no small learning: therefore I thought it most necessary for me to bestow some diligence and travail to interpret it, using great watchfulness, and skill in that space, to bring the book to an end, and set it forth for them also which in a strange countrey are willing to learn, being prepared before in manners to live after the Law.

CHAP. I.

1 All wisdom is from God, 10 He giveth it to them that love him. 12 The fear of God is full of many blessings. 28 To fear God without hypocrisy.

* 1. Kings.
3. 9.

11 * Wisdom cometh from the Lord, and is with him for ever.

2 ¶ Who can number the sand of the sea, and the drops of rain, and the daves of eternitie?

3 ¶ Who can finde out the height of heaven, and the breadth of the earth, and the deep, and wisdom?

4 ¶ Wisdom hath been created before all things, and the understanding of prudence from everlasting.

5 ¶ The word of God most high is the fountain of wisdom, and her wayes are everlasting commandments.

6 * To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed? or who hath known her wise counsels?

7 ¶ Unto whom hath the knowledge of wisdom been made manifest? and who hath understood her great experience?

8 ¶ There is one wise and greatly to be feared; the Lord sitting upon his throne.

9 ¶ He created her, and saw her, and numbered her, and poured her out upon all his works.

10 ¶ She is || with all flesh according to his gift, and he hath given her to them that love him.

11 The fear of the Lord is honour, and glory, and gladnesse, and a crown of rejoycing.

12 The fear of the Lord maketh a merry heart, and giveth joy and gladnesse, and a long life.

13 ¶ Who loveth the Lord, it shall go well with him at the last, and he || shall finde favour in the day of his death.

14 * To fear the Lord, is the beginning of wisdom, and it was created with the faithful in the womb.

15 ¶ She hath built an everlasting foundation with men, and she shall continue with their seed.

16 ¶ To fear the Lord, is fullnesse of wisdom, and filleth men with her fruites.

17 ¶ She filleth all their house with things desirable, and the garners with her increase.

18 The fear of the Lord is a crown of wisdom, making peace and perfect health to flourish: both which are the gifts of God: and it enlargeth their rejoycing that love him.

19 ¶ Wisdom raineth down skill and knowledge of understanding, and exalteth them to honour that hold her fast.

20 The root of wisdom is to fear the Lord, and the branches thereof are long life.

22 ¶ A furious man cannot || be justified, for the way of his fury shall be his destruction.

23 ¶ A patient man will bear for a time, and afterward joy shall spring up unto him.

24 ¶ He will hide his words for a time, and the lips of many shall declare his wisdom.

25 The parables of knowledge are in the treasures of wisdom: but godliness is an abomination to a sinner.

26 ¶ If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments, and the Lord shall give her unto thee.

27 For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction: and faith and meeknesse are his delight.

28 || Disdurst not the fear of the Lord when thou art poor: and come not unto him with a double heart.

29 ¶ Be not an hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heed what thou speakest.

1 Gods servants must looke for trouble, 7 and be patient and trust in him. 12 For wo to them that do not so. 15 But they that fear the Lord will do so.

MY sonne, if * thou come to serve the Lord, prepare thy soul for temptation.

2 Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure, and make not haste in time of trouble.

3 Cleave unto him, and depart not away, that thou mayest be increased at the last end.

4 ¶ Whatsoever is brought upon thee, take cheerfully, and be patient when thou art changed to a low estate.

5 ¶ For gold is tryed in the fire, and acceptable men in the furnace of adversitie.

13 Who unto him that is faint hearted, for he be-leeueth not, therefore shall he not be defended.

14 Who unto you that have lost patience : and what will ye do when the Lord shall visite you ?

15 They that fear the Lord, will not disobey his word, and they that love him, will keep his waies.

16 They that fear the Lord, will seek that which is well-pleasing unto him, and they that love him shall be filled with the law.

17 They that fear the Lord, will prepare their hearts, and humble their souls in his sight, 18 Saying, We will fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men : for as his maketh us, so is his mercy.

CHAP. III.

2 Children must honour and help both their parents.

21 We may not desire to know all things. 26 The incorrigible must needs perish. 30 Alms are rewarded.

Hear me your father, O children, and do thereafter, that ye may be safe.

2 For the Lord hath given * the father honour over the children, and hath confirmed the authority of the mother over the sonnes.

3 Who so honoureth his father, maketh an atonement for his sinnes.

4 And he that honoureth his mother, is as one that layeth up treasure.

5 Who so honoureth his father, shall have joy of his own children, and when he maketh his prayer, he shall be heard.

6 He that honoureth his father, shall have a long life, and he that is obedient unto the Lord, shall be a comfort to his mother.

7 He that feareth the Lord, will honour his father, and will do service unto his parents, as to his masters.

8 * Honour thy father and mother, both in word and deed, that a blessing may come upon thee from them.

9 For the * blessing of the father establisheth the houses of children, but the curse of the mother rooteth out foundations.

10 Glorie not in the dishonour of thy father, for the fathers dishonour is no glory unto thee.

11 For the glory of a man is from the honour of his fathers, and a mother in dishonour, is a reproach to the children.

12 My sonne, help thy father in his age, and grieve him not as long as he liveth.

13 And if his understanding fail, have patience with him, and despise him not when thou art in thy full strength.

14 For the relieving of thy father shall not be forgotten : and in stead of sinnes it shall be added to build thee up.

15 In the day of thine affliction it shall be remembered, thy sinnes also shall melt away, as the ice in the fair warm weather.

16 He that forsaketh his father, is as a blasphemer, and he that angreth his mother, is cursed of God.

17 My sonne, go on with thy business in meekness, so shalt thou be beloved of him that is approved.

18 * The greater thou art, the more humble thy self, and thou shalt finde favour before the Lord.

19 Many are in high place, and of renown : but * mysteries are revealed unto the meek.

20 For the power of the Lord is great, and he is honoured of the lowly.

21 * Seeke not out the things that are too hard for thee, neither search the things that are above thy strength.

22 But what is commanded thee, think thereupon with reverence, for it is not needfull for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are in secret.

23 Be not curious in unnecessary matters : for more things are shewed unto thee, then men understand.

24 For many are deceived by their own vain opinions, and an evil suspicion hath overtaken their judgement.

25 Without eyes thou shalt want sight : professe not the knowledge therefore that thou hast not.

26 A stubborn heart shall fare ill at the last : and he that loveth danger, shall perish therein.

27 An obstinate heart shall be laden with sorrows, and the wicked man shall heap sin upon sin.

28 In the punishment of the proud there is no remedy : for the plant of wickednesse hath taken root in him.

29 The heart of the prudent will understand a parable, and an attentive ear is the desire of a wise man.

30 * Water will quench a flaming fire, and alms maketh an atonement for sinnes.

31 And he that requitereth good turns, is mindful of that which may come hereafter : and when he falleth, he shall finde a stay.

C. H. A. P. IIII.

1 We may not despise the poor or fatherlesse, nor seek for wisdom, nor be ashamed of some things, nor gainsay the truth, nor be as lions in our houses.

My son, desist and not the poor of his living, and make not the needy eyes to wait long.

2 Make not an hungry soul sorrowfull, neither provoke a man in his distress.

3 Add not more trouble to an heart that is vexed, and desire not to give to him that is in need.

4 Rect not the supplication of the afflicted, neither men away the rice from a poor man.

5 Turn not away thine eye from the needy, and give him none occasion to curse thee :

6 For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul, his prayer shall be heard of him that made him.

7 Set thy self the love of the congregation, and bow thy head to a great man.

8 Not it not grieve thee to bow down thine ear to the poor, and give him a friendly answer with meeknesse.

9 Deliver him that suffereth wrong, from the hand of the oppressor, and be not faint-hearted when thou standest in judgement.

10 Be as a father unto the fatherlesse, and in stead of an husband unto their mother : so shall thou be as the sonne of the most High, and he shall love thee more then thy mother doth.

11 Wisdomme exalteth her children, and layeth hold of them that seek her.

12 He that loveth her, loveth life, and they that seek to her early, shall be filled with joy.

13 He that loveth her, shall inherit glory, and wheresoever he entereth, the Lord will bless.

14 They that serve her shall minister to the holy One, and them that love her, the Lord doth love.

15 Who so giveth ear unto her, shall judge the nations : and he that attendeth unto her, shall dwell securely.

16 If a man commit himself unto her, he shall inherit her: and his generation shall hold her in possession.

17 For at the first she will walk with him by crooked ways, and bring fear and dread upon him, and torment him with her discipline, until she may trust his soul, and try him by her laws.

18 Then will she return the straightway unto him, and comfort him, and shew him her secrets.

19 But if he go wrong, she will forsake him, and give him over to his own ruin.

20 Observe the opportunity, and beware of evil, and be not ashamed when it concerneth thy soul.

21 For there is a shame that bringeth sinne, and there is a shame which is glory and grace.

22 Accept no person against the soul, and let not the reverence of any man cause thee to fall.

23 And refrain not to speak when there is occasion to do good, and hide not thy wisdom in her beauty.

24 For by speech wisdom shall be known, and learning by the word of the tongue.

25 In no wise speak against the truth, but be abashed of the error of thine ignorance.

26 Be not ashamed to confesse thy sinnes, and force not the counsel of the elder.

27 Make not thy self an underling to a foolish man, neither accept the person of the mighty.

28 Strike for the truth unto death, and the Lord shall fight for thee.

29 Be not hasty in thy tongue, and in thy deeds slack and remisse.

30 Be not as a lion in thy house, nor franticke among thy servants.

31 Let not thine hand be stretched out to receive, and shut when thou shouldst repay.

CHAP. V.

1 We must not presume of our wealth & strength, nor of the mercy of God to sin. 9 We must not be double tongued, 12 nor answer without knowledge.

SET not thy heart upon thy goods, and say not, I have enough for my life.

2 Follow not thy own minde, and thy strength to walk in the wayes of thy heart:

3 And say not, Altho shall controul me for my works, for the Lord will surely revenge thy pride.

4 Say not, I have sinned, and what harm hath happened unto me: for the Lord is long suffering, he will in no wise let thee go.

5 Concerning propitiation, * be not without feare to adde sinne unto sinne.

6 And say not, His mercy is great: he will be pacified for the multitude of my sinnes: * for mercy and wrath come from him, and his indignation reſeib upon sinners.

7 Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth, and in thy security thou shalt be destroyed, and perish in the day of vengeance.

8 * Set not thine heart upon goods unjustly gotten, for they shall not profit thee in the day of calamity.

9 Acknow not with every winde, and go not into every way: for so doth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Be steadfast in thy understanding, and let thy word be the same.

11 * Be swift to hear, and let thy life be sincere, and with patience give answer.

12 If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbour: if not lay thy hand upon thy mouth.

13 Honour and shame is in talk: and the tongue of man is his fall.

14 Be not called a whisperer, and lie not in wait with thy tongue: for a foul shame is upon the chief, and an evil condemnation upon the double tongue.

15 Be not ignorant of any thing, in a great matter or a small.

CHAP. VI.

2 Do not extoll thine own conceit, 7 but make choice of a friend. 18 Seek wisdom beimes: 20 it is grievous to some, 28 yet the fruits thereof are pleasant.

35 Be ready to hear wise men.

IF head of a friend, become not an enemy: for [thereby] thou shalt inherit an ill name, shame and reproach: even so shall a sinner that hath a double tongue.

2 Extoll not thy self in the counsel of thine own heart: that thy soul be not torn in pieces as a bull [straying alone.]

3 Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and lose thy fruit, and leave thy self as a dry tree.

4 A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath it, and shall make him to be laughed to scorn of his enemies.

5 Sweet language will multiply friends: and a fair speaking tongue will increase kinde greetings.

6 Be in peace with many: nevertheless have but one counsellor of a thousand.

7 If thou wouldest get a friend, prove him first, and be not hasty to credit him.

8 For some man is a friend for his own occasion, and will not abide in the day of thy trouble.

9 And there is a friend, who having turned to enmity and strife, will discover thy reproach.

10 * Again some friend is a companion at the table, and will not continue in the day of thy affliction.

11 But in thy prosperity he will be as thy self, and will be bold over thy servants.

12 If thou be brought low, he will be against thee, and will hide himself from thy face.

13 Separate thy self from thine enemies, and take heed of thy friends.

14 A faithfull friend is a strong defence: and he that hath found such an one, hath found a treasure.

15 Nothing doth counterball a faithfull friend, and his excellency is unvaluable.

16 A faithfull friend is the medicine of life, and they that fear the Lord shall finde him.

17 Altho feareth the Lord shall direct his friendship aright: for as he is, so shall his neighbour be also.

18 By sonne, gather instruction from thy youth up: so shalt thou finde wisdom till thine old age.

19 Come unto her as one that ploweth and soweth, and wait for her good fruits: for thou shalt not toll much in labouring about her, but thou shalt eat of her fruits right soon.

20 She is very unpleasant to the unlearned: he that is without understanding, will not remain with her.

21 She will live upon him as a mighty stone of trial, and he will cast her from him ere it be long.

22 For wisdom is according to her name, and she is not manifest unto many.

23 Give ear, my son, receive my advice, and refuse not my counsell.

28 For at the last thou shalt finde her rest, and that shall be turned to thy joy.

29 Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and her chains a robe of glory.

30 For there is a golden ornament upon her; and her hands are a purple lace.

31 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her above thee as a crown of joy.

32 By some, if thou wilt, thou shalt be taught; and if thou wilt apply thy minde, thou shalt be prudent.

37 Let thy minde be upon the ordinances of the Lord, and * meditate continually in his commandments: he shall establish thine heart, and give thee wisdom at thine own desire.

CHAP. VII.

1 We are dejected from sinne, 4 from ambition, 8 presumption, 10 and fainting in prayer: 12 from lying and backbiting. 18 How to esteeme a friend: 19 a good wife: 20 a servant: 22 our cattell: 23 our children and parents: 31 the Lord and his Priests: 32 the poor and those that mourne.

DO no evil, so shall no harm come unto thee.

2 Depart from the unjust, and iniquitie shall turn away from thee.

3 By some, sow not upon the furrows of unrighteousnesse, and thou shalt not reap them seven fold.

4 Seek not of the Lord preeminence, neither of the king the fear of honour.

5 * Justitie not thy self before the Lord, and boast not of thy wisdom before the king.

6 Seek not to be judge, being not able to take away iniquity, lest at any time thou fear the person of the mighty, and lay a stumbling block in the way of thy uprightness.

7 Offend not against the multitude of a citie, and then thou shalt not cast thy self down among the people.

8 Bind not one sinne upon another, for in one thou shalt not be unpunished.

9 Say not, God will look upon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the most high God, he will accept it.

10 Be not faint-hearted, when thou makest thy prayer, neglect not to give alms.

11 Laugh no man to scorn in the bitterness of his soul: for there is one which humbleth and exalteth.

12 * Devise not a lie against thy brother: neither do the like to thy friend.

13 Use not to make any manner of lie: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Use not many words in a multitude of elders, * and make not much babbling when thou prayest.

15 Hate not laborious work, neither husbandry, which the most high hath * ordained.

16 Number not thy self among the multitude of sinners, but remember that wrath will not endure long.

17 Humble thy soul greatly: for the vengeance of the ungodly is fire and worms.

18 Change not a friend for any good by no means: neither a faithfull brother for the gold of Ophir.

19 Forgo not a wise and good woman: for her grace is above gold.

20 * Whereas thy servant worketh truly, entreat him not evilly, nor the hireling that bestoweth himself wholly for thee.

21 Let thy soul love a good servant, and defraud him not of liberty.

22 * Hast thou cattell? have an eye to them: and if they be for thy profit, keep them with thee.

23 Hast thou children? instruct them, and bow down their neck from their youth.

24 Hast thou daughters? have a care of their bodie, and shew not thy self cheerfull toward them.

25 Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou have performed a weighty matter: but give her to a man of understanding.

26 Hast thou a wife after thy minde? forsake her not, but give not thy self over to a light woman.

27 Honour thy father with thy whole heart, and forget not the sorrows of thy mother.

28 Remember that thou wast begot of them, and how canst thou recompense them the things that they have done for thee.

29 Fear the Lord with all thy soul, and reverence his priests.

30 Love him that made thee with all thy strength, and forsake not his ministers.

31 Fear the Lord, and honour the priest: and give him his portion as it is commanded thee, the first fruits, and the trespass-offering, and the gift of the shoulders, and the sacrifice of sanctification, and the first fruits of the holy things.

32 * And stretch thine hand unto the poor, that thy blessing may be perfected.

33 A gift hath grace in the sight of every man living, and for the dead detain it not.

34 Fail not to be with them that weep, and mourne with them that mourne.

35 Be not slow to visit the sick; for that shall make thee to be beloved.

36 Whatsoever thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt never do amiss.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Whom we may not strive with, 8 nor despise, 10 nor provoke, 15 nor have to do with.

STRIVE not with a mighty man, lest thou fall in to his hands.

2 * Be not at variance with a rich man, lest he overweigh thee: for gold * hath destroyed many, and perverted the hearts of kings.

3 Strive not with a man that is full of tongue, and heap not wood upon his fire.

4 Jest not with a rude man, lest thy ancestors be disgraced.

5 * Reproach not a man that turneth from sin, but remember that we are all worthy of punishment.

6 * Dishonour not a man in his old age: for even some of us was old.

7 Rejoyce not over thy greatest enemy being dead, but remember that we die all.

repetition.

8 Despise not the discourse of the wife, but acquaint thy self with their proverbs; for of them thou shalt learn instruction, and how to serve great men with ease.

9 Despise not the discourse of the elders: for they also learned of their fathers, and of them thou shalt learn understanding, and to give answer as need requireth.

10 Kindle not the coals of a sinner, lest thou be burnt with the flame of his fire.

11 Rise not up (in anger) at the presence of an injurious person, lest he lie in wait // to entrap thee in thy words.

12 Lend not unto him that is mightier then thy self: for if thou lendest him, count it but lost.

13 Be not surety above thy power: for if thou be surety, take care to pay it.

14 Go not to law with a sudge, for they will sudge for him according to his // honour.

15 Travell not by the way with a bold fellow, lest he become grievous unto thee: for he will deceit thee to his own will, and thou shalt perish with him through his folly.

16 * Strike not with an angry man, and go not with him into a solitary place: for blood is as nothing in his sight, and where there is no help, he will overthrow thee.

17 Consult not with a fool, for he cannot keep counsel.

18 Do no secret thing before a stranger, for thou knowest not what he will bring forth.

19 Open not thine heart to every man, lest he requite thee with a shameful turn.

CHAP. IX.

1 We are advised how to use our wives. 3 What women to avoid. 10 And not to change an old friend.
13 Not to be familiar with men in authority: 14 but to know our neighbours: 15 And to converse with wise men.

BE not jealous over the wife of thy bosome, and teach her not an evil lesson against thy self.

2 Give not thy soul unto a woman to see her foot upon thy substance.

3 Meet not with an harlot, lest thou fall into her snares.

4 Use not much the company of a woman that is a sinner, lest thou be taken with her attempts.

5 Case not on a maid, that thou fall not by those things that are precious in her.

6 Give not thy soul unto harlots, that thou lose not thine inheritance.

7 Look not round about thee in the streets of the city, neither wander thou in the solitary places thereof.

8 * Turn away thine eye from a beautifull woman, and look not upon another's beauty, for many have been deceived by the beauty of a woman, for herewith love is kindled as a fire.

9 Sit not at all with another mans wife, nor sit down with her in thine arms, and spend not thy money with her at the wine; lest thine heart incline unto her, and so through thy desire thou fall into destruction.

10 Forsake not an old friend, for the new is not comparable to him: a new friend is as new wine:
when it is old, thou shalt drink it with pleasure.

11 Envy not the glory of a sinner: for thou knowest not what shall be his end.

12 Delight not in the thing that the ungodly have pleasure in; but remember they shall not go unpunished unto their grave.

13 Keep thee far from the man that hath power to kill: so shalt thou not doubt the fear of death:

and if thou come unto him, make no fault, lest he take away thy life presently: remember that thou gost in the midst of snares, and that thou walkest upon the battlements of the city.

14 As near as thou canst, chaffe at thy neighbour, and consult with the wife.

15 Let thy talk be with the wife, and all thy communication in the law of the most high.

16 And let just men eat and drink with thee, and let thy glorying be in the fear of the Lord.

17 For the hand of the artificer, the work shall be commended: and the wise ruler of the people, for his speech.

18 A man of an ill tongue is dangerous in his city, and he that is rash in his talk shall be hated.

CHAP. X.

1 The commodities of a wife ruler. 4 God sceth him up, 7 The inconveniences of pride, injustice, and covertness. 14 What God hath done to the proud.
19 Who shall be honoured, 29 and who not.

A wise judge will instruct his people, and the government of a prudent man is well ordered.

2 * As the judge of the people is himself, so are his officers, and what manner of man the ruler of the city is, such are all they that dwell therein.

3 An unwise king destroyeth his people, but through the prudence of them which are in authority, the city shall be inhabited.

4 The power of the earth is in the hand of the Lord, and in due time he will set over it one that is profitable.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperity of man:
and upon the // person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.

6 * Bear not hatred to thy neighbour for every wrong, and do nothing at all by injurious practises.

7 Pride is hatefull before God and man: and by both doth one commit iniquity.

8 Because of unrighteous dealings, injuries, and riches got by deceit, the kingdom is translated from one people to another.

9 Why is earth and ashes proud? There is not a more wicked thing, then a covetous man: for such an one seeth his own soul to sale, because while he liveth, he casteth away his bowels.

10 The physician cureth off a long disease, and he that is to day a king, to morrow shall die.

11 For when a man is dead, he shall inherit creeping things, beasts and worms.

12 The beginning of pride is, when one departeth from God, and his heart is turned away from his Maker.

13 For pride is the beginning of sinne, and he that hath it, shall pour out abomination: and therefore the Lord brought upon them strange calamities, and overthrew them utterly.

14 The Lord hath cast down the thrones of proud princes, and let up the meek in their stead.

15 The Lord hath plucked up the roots of the proud nations, and planted the lowly in their place.

16 The Lord overthrow countreys of the heathen, and destroyed them to the foundations of the earth.

17 He took some of them away, and destroyed them, and hath made their memory to cease from the earth.

18 Pride was not made for men, nor furious anger for them that are born of a woman.

and they that love him, an honourable plant; they that regard not the law, are a dishonourable seed; they that transgresse the commandments, are a deceitfull seed.

20 Among brethren, he that is chief is honourable, so are they that fear the Lord in his eyes.

21 The fear of the Lord goeth before all the obtaining of authority: but roughnesse and pride is the losing thereof.

22 Whether he be rich, noble, or poore, their glory is the fear of the Lord.

23 It is not meet to despise the poore man that hath understanding, neither is it convenient to magnifie a sinfull man.

24 Great men, and judges, and potentates shall be honoured, yet is there none of them greater then he that feareth the Lord.

25 * Unto the servant that is wise shall they that are free do service: and he that hath knowledge, * will not grudge when he is reformed.

26 Be not overwise in doing thy business, and boast not thy self in the time of thy distresse.

27 * Better is he that laboureth and aboundeth in all things, * then he that boasteth himself, and wanteth bread.

28 By conne, glorifie thy soul in meeknesse, and give it honour according to the dignity thereof.

29 Who will iustifie him that sinneth against his own soul: and who will honour him that dishonoureth his own life?

30 The poore man is honoured for his skill, and the rich man is honoured for his riches.

31 He that is honoured in poverty, how much more in riches: and he that is dishonourable in riches, how much more in poverty?

CHAP. XI.

4 We may not vaunt nor set forth our selves, * nor answer rashly, * nor meddle with many matters.

14 Wealth and all things else are from God. 24. Brag not of thy wealth, 29 nor bring every man into thy house.

W I dome lifteth up the head // of him that is of low degree, and * maketh him to sit among great men.

2 Commend not a man for his beauty, neither abhorre a man for his outward appearance.

3 The bee is little among such as flie, but her fruit is the chief of sweet things.

4 * Boast not of thy clothing and raiment, and exalt not thy self in the day of honour: for the works of the Lord are wonderfull, and his works among men are hidden.

5 Many kings have sate down upon the ground, and one that was never thought of, hath worn the crown.

6 * Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced: and the honourable delivered into other mens hands.

7 * Blame not before thou hast examined the truth: understand first, and then rebuke.

8 Answer not before thou hast heard the cause: neither interrupt men in the midst of their talk.

6 Strive not in a matter that concerneth thee not: and sit not // in judgement with sinners.

10 By some, meddle not with many matters: for if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be innocent: and if thou follow after, thou shalt not obtain, neither shalt thou // escape by fleeing.

11 * There is one that laboureth and taketh pains, and maketh haste, and is so much the more behinde.

12 Again, there is another that is slow and hath need of help, wanting ability, and full of poverty: * yet the eye of the Lord looked upon him for good, and let him up from his low estate,

13 And lifted up his head from misery, so that many that saw it marvelled at him.

14 * Prosperity and adversity, life and death, poverty and riches, come of the Lord.

15 Wisdom, knowledge, and understanding of the law, are of the Lord: love, and the way of good works, are from him.

16 Error and darknesse had their beginning together with sinners: and evil shall wax old with them that glory therein.

17 The gift of the Lord remaineth with the godly, and his favour bringeth prosperitie for ever.

18 There is that wavereth rich by his wantnesse and pinching, and this is the portion of his reward:

19 Whereas he saith, * I have found rest, and now will eat continually of my goods, and yet he knoweth not what time shall // come upon him, and that he must leave those things to others, and die.

20 * Be steadfast in thy covenant, and be conuer- sant therein, and wax old in thy work.

21 Marvel not at the works of sinners, but trust in the Lord, and abide in thy labour: for it is an easie thing in the sight of the Lord, on the sudden to make a poore man rich.

22 The blessing of the Lord is // in the reward of the godly, and suddenly he maketh his blessing to flourish.

23 Say not, * What profit is there of my service: and what good things shall I do hereafter?

24 Again, say not, I have enough, and possesse many things, and what evil can come to me hereafter?

25 In the day of prosperity there is a forgetfulness of affliction: and in the day of affliction there is no remembrance of prosperity.

26 For it is an easie thing unto the Lord, in the day of death, to reward a man according to his wayes.

27 The affliction of an hour maketh a man forget pleasure: and in his end his deeds shall be discovered.

28 Judge none blessed before his death: for a man shall be known in his children.

29 Bring not every man into thine house: for the deceitfull man hath many trains.

30 Like as a partridge taken [and kept] in a cage, so is the heart of the proud; and like as a spie, watcheth he for thy fall.

31 For he lieth in wait, and turneth good into evil, and in things worthy praise will lay blame upon thee.

32 Of a spark of fire a heap of coals is kindled: and a sinfull man layeth wait for blood.

33 Take heed of a mischievous man (for he worketh wickednesse) lest he bring upon thee a perpetual blot.

34 Receive a stranger into thine house, and he will disturb thee, and turn thee out of thine own.

2 Do good to the godly man, and thou shalt finde a recompence; and if not from him, yet from the most High.

3 There can no good come to him that is always occupied in evil: nor to him that giveth no alms.

4 Give to the godly man, and help not a sinner.

5 Do well unto him that is lowly, but give not to the ungodly: hold back thy bread, and give it not unto him, lest he overmaster thee thereby. For [else] thou shalt receive twice as much evil for all the good thou shalt have done unto him.

6 For the most High hateth sinners, and will repay vengeance unto the ungodly, and keepeth them against the mighty day of their punishment.

7 Give unto the good, and help not the sinner.

8 A friend cannot be known in prosperity, and an enemy cannot be hidden in adversity.

9 In the prosperity of a man enemies will be grieved: but in his adversity even a friend will depart.

[Or, brasse.

10 Never trust thine enemy: for like as iron rusteth, so is his wickedness.

11 Though he humble himself, and go crouching, yet take good heed, and beware of him, and thou shalt be unto him as if thou hadst wiped a looking glasse, and thou shalt know that his rust hath not been altogether wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, lest when he hath overthrown thee, he stand up in thy place: neither let him sit at thy right hand, lest he seek to take thy seat, and thou at the last remember my words, and be picked therewith.

13 Who will pity a charmer that is bitten with a serpent, or any such as come nigh wilde beasts?

16 An enemy speaketh sweetly with his lips, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into a pit: he will weep with his eyes, but if he finde opportunity, he will not be satisfied with blood.

1 Keep not company with the proud, or a mightier than thy self. 15 Like will to like. 21 The difference between the rich and the poor. 25 A mans heart will change his countenance.

* Deut. 7. 2.

HE that toucheth pitch shall be defiled therewith, and * he that hath fellowship with a proud man, shall be like unto him.

2 Burden not thy self above thy power, while thou livest, and have no fellowship with one that is mightier, and richer than thy self. For how agree the kettle and the earthen pot together? + for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.

3 The rich man hath done wrong, and yet he threatneth withall: the poor is wronged, and he must intreat also.

4 If thou be for his profit, he will use thee: but if thou have nothing, he will forsake thee.

5 If thou have any thing, he will live with thee: yea he will make thee bare, and will not be loy for it.

6 If he have need of thee, he will deceive thee, and smile upon thee, and put thee in hope, he will speak thee fair, and say, What wantest thou?

[Gr. this shall smite against it and be broken.

7 And he will shame thee by his meats, untill he have drawn thee dry twice or thrice, and at the last he will laugh thee to scorn: afterward when he seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Beware that thou be not deceived, and brought down in thy solity.

[Or, by thy simplicity.

9 If thou be invited of a mighty man, with-draw thy self, and so much the more will he invite thee.

10 Dresse not thou upon him, lest thou be put back, stand not farre off, lest thou be forgotten.

[Or, forbear not. [Or, bue.

11 Affect not to be made equall unto him in talk, and beleve not his many words: for with much communication will he tempt thee, and smiling upon thee will get out thy secrets:

12 But cruelly he will lay up thy words, and will not spare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

13 Observe and take good heed, for thou walkest in perill of thy overthrowing: when thou hearest these things, awake in thy sleep.

14 Love the Lord all thy life, and call upon him for thy salvation.

15 Every beast loveth his like, and every man loveth his neighbour.

16 All flesh consorteth according to kinde, and a man will cleave to his like.

17 What fellowship hath the wolf with the lamb: so the sinner with the godly.

18 What agreement is there between the hyena and a dog: and what peace between the rich and the poor?

19 As the wilde asse is the lions prey in the wilderness: so the rich eat up the poor.

20 As the proud hate humility: so doth the rich abhorre the poor.

21 A rich man beginning to fall, is held up of his friends: but a poor man being down, is thrust also away by his friends.

22 When a rich man is fallen, he hath many helpers: he speaketh things not to be spoken, and yet men justify him: the poor man styp, and yet they rebuked him too: he spake wisely, and could have no place.

23 When a rich man speaketh, every man holdeth his tongue, and look what he saith, they extoll it to the clouds: but if the poor man speak, they say, What fellow is this: and if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.

24 Riches are good unto him that hath no sinne, and poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.

25 The heart of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be for good or evil: and a merry heart maketh a cheerefull countenance.

26 A cheerefull countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity, and the finding out of parabes is a wearisome labour of the minde.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A good conscience maketh men happy. 5 The niggard doth good to none. 13 But do thou good. 20 Men are happy that draw neer to wisdom.

Blessed is the man that hath not slept with his mouth, and is not plucked with the multitude of sinnes.

* Chap. 19. 16. & 25. 8. James 3. 2. [Or, sorrow.

2 Blessed is he whose conscience hath not condemned him, and who is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3 Riches are not comely for a niggard: and what should an envious man do with money?

4 He that gathereth by defrauding his own soul, gathereth for others: that shall spend his goods riotously.

5 He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good: he shall not take pleasure in his goods.

6 There is none worse then he that enbleth himself, and this is a recompense of his wickedness.

7 And if he doth good, he doth it unwillingly, and at the last he will declare his wickedness.

8 The envious man hath a wicked eye, he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.

9 A covetous mans eyes is not satisfied with his portion, and the iniquity of the wicked drieth up his soul.

10 A wicked eye enbleth [his] bread: and he is a niggard at his table.

11 By some, according to thy ability do good to thy self, and give the Lord his due offering.

12 Remember that death will not be long in coming, and that the covenant of the grave is not shewed unto thee.

13 Do good unto thy friend before thou die, and according to thy ability stretch out thy hand and give to him.

14 Defraud not thy self of the good day, and let not the part of a good desire overpasse thee.

15 Shalt thou not leave thy travels unto another: and thy labours to be divided by lot?

16 Give, and take, and sanctifie thy soul, for there is no seeking of dainties in the grave.

17 All flesh wareth hold as a garment: for the covenant from the beginning is, Thou shalt die the death.

18 As of the green leaves on a thick tree, some fall and some grow; so is the generation of flesh and blood, one cometh to an end, and another is born.

19 Every work rotereth and consumeth away, and the worker thereof shall go withal.

20 Blessed is the man that doth meditate good things in wisdom, and that reasoneth of holy things by his understanding.

21 He that considereth her wayes in his heart, shall also have understanding in her secrets.

22 Go after her as one that traceth, and lie in wait in her wayes.

23 He that piereth in at her windows, shall also hearken at her doore.

24 He that doth lodge near her house, shall also fasten a pin in her walls.

25 He shall pitch his tent nigh unto her, and shall lodge in a lodging where good things are.

26 He shall set his children under her shelter, and shall lodge under her branches.

27 By her he shall be covered from heat, and in her glory shall he dwell.

CHAP. XV.

2 Wisdom embraceth those that fear God. 7 The wicked shall not get her. 11 We may not charge God with our faults. 14 For he made and left us to our selves.

He that feareth the Lord will do good, and he that hath the knowledge of the law, shall obtain her.

2 And as a mother shall he meet him, and receive him as a wife married of a virgin.

3 With the bread of understanding shall she feed him, and give him the water of wisdom to drink.

4 He shall be stayed upon her, and shall not be moved, and shall rely upon her, and shall not be confounded.

5 She shall exalt him above his neighbours, and in the midst of the congregation shall she open his mouth.

6 He shall finde joy, and a crown of gladness.

and she shall cause him to inherit an everlasting name.

7 But foolish men shall not attain unto her, and sinners shall not see her.

8 For she is farre from pride, and men that are liars cannot remember her.

9 If pride is not seemly in the mouth of a sinner, for it was not sent him of the Lord.

10 For if pride shall be uttered in wisdom, and the Lord will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away: for thou oughtest not to do the things that he hateth.

12 Say not thou, He hath caused me to erre: for he hath no need of the sinfull man.

13 The Lord hateth all abomination, and they that fear God love it not.

14 He himself made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsell:

15 If thou wilt, to keep the commandments, and to perform acceptable faithfulness.

16 He hath set fire and water before thee: stretch forth thy hand unto whether thou wilt.

17 Before man is life and death, and whether him liketh, shall be given him.

18 For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things:

19 And his eyes are upon them that fear him, and he knoweth every work of man.

20 He hath commanded no man to do wickedly, neither hath he given any man license to sinne.

CHAP. XVI.

1 It is better to have none then many lewd children.

6 The wicked are not spared for their number.

12 Both the wrath and the mercy of the Lord are great. 17 The wicked cannot be hid. 20 Gods works are unfearchable.

Desire not a multitude of unprofitable children, neither delight in ungodly sonnes.

2 Though they multiply rejoyce not in them, except the fear of the Lord be with them.

3 Trust not thou in their life, neither respect their multitude: for one that is just is better then a thousand, and better it is to die without children, then to have them that are ungodly.

4 For by one that hath understanding shall the city be replenished: but the kindred of the wicked shall speedily become desolate.

5 Many such things have I seen with mine eyes, and mine ear hath heard greater things then these.

6 In the congregation of the ungodly shall a fire be kindled, and in a rebellious nation wrath is set on fire.

7 He was not pacified towards the old giants, who fell away in the strength of their foolishness.

8 Neither spared he the place where Lot sojourned, but abhorred them for their pride.

9 He pitied not the people of perdition, who were taken away in their sinnes.

10 For the six hundred thousand footmen, who were gathered together in the hardnesse of their hearts.

11 And if there be one stiff-necked among the people, it is marvell if he escape unpunished: for mercy and wrath are with him; he is mighty to forgive, and to pour out displeasure.

12 As his mercy is great, so is his correction also: he judgeth a man according to his works.

13 The sinner shall not escape with his spoiles, and the patience of the godly shall not be frustrate.

15 The Lord hardened Pharaoh, that he should not know him, that his powerfull works might be known to the world.

16 His mercy is manifest to every creature, and he hath separated his light from the darkness, with all habitation.

17 Say not thou, I will hide my self from the Lord: shall any remember me from above? I shall not be remembered among so many people: for what is my soul among such an infinite number of creatures?

18 Behold, the heaven, and the heaven of heavens, the deep, and the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moved when he shall visit.

19 The mountains also, and foundations of the earth shall be shaken with trembling, when the Lord looketh upon them.

20 No heart can think upon these things worthily: and who is able to conceive his ways?

21 It is a tempest which no man can see: for the most part of his works are hid.

22 Who can declare the works of his justice: or who can endure them? for his covenant is a farre off, and the trial of all things is in the end.

23 He that wanteth understanding, will think upon vain things: and a foolish man erring, imagineth follies.

24 My son, hearken unto me, and learn knowledge, and mark my words with thy heart.

25 I will shew forth doctrine in weight, and declare his knowledge exactly.

26 The works of the Lord are done in judgement from the beginning: and from the time he made them, he disposed the parts thereof.

27 He gathered his works for ever, and in his hand are the chief of them unto all generations: they neither labour, nor are weary, nor cease from their works.

28 None of them hindereth another, and they shall never disobey his word.

29 After this the Lord looked upon the earth, and filled it with his blessings.

30 Telleth all manner of living things hath he covered the face thereof, and they shall return into it again.

CHAP. XVII.

1 How God created and furnished man. 14 Avoid all sin: 19 For God seeth all things. 25 Turn to him while thou livest.

The Lord created man of the earth, and turned him into it again.

2 He gave them few dayes, and a short time, and ann power also over the things therein.

3 He endued them with strength by themselves, and made them according to his image,

4 And put the fear of him upon all flesh, and gave him dominion over beasts and fowls.

5 [They received the use of the five operations of the Lord, and in the flesh place he imparted to them understanding, and in the leventh, speech, interpreter of the cogitations thereof.]

6 Councell, and a tongue, and eyes, ears, and a heart, gave he them to understand.

7 Telleth all, he filled them with the knowledge of understanding, and shewed them good and evil.

8 He set his eye upon their hearts, that he might shew them the greatness of his works.

9 He gave them to glory in his marvellous acts for ever, that they might declare his works with understanding.

10 And the elect shall praise his holy Name.

11 Beside this, he gave them knowledge, and the law of life for an heritage.

12 He made an everlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his judgements.

13 Their eyes saw the maiestie of his glory, and their ears heard his glorious voice.

14 And he said unto them, Beware of all unrighteousness, and he gave every man commandment concerning his neighbour.

15 Their ways are ever before him, and shall not be hid from his eyes.

16 Every man from his youth is given to evil, neither could they make to themselves fleshy hearts for stony.

17 For in the division of the nations of the whole earth, he set a ruler over every people, but Israel is the Lords portion.

18 Although being his first born, he nourisheth with discipline, and giving him the light of his love, doth not forsake him.

19 Therefore all their works are as the sun before him, and his eyes are continually upon their ways.

20 None of their unrighteous deeds are hid from him, but all their innes are before the Lord.

21 But the Lord being gracious, and knowing his workmanship, neither left nor forsook them, but spared them.

22 The alms of a man is as a signet with him, and he will keep the good deeds of man, as the apple of the eye, and give repentance to his sons and daughters.

23 Afterwards he will rise up and reward them, and render their recompence upon their heads.

24 But unto them that repent, he granted them return, and comforted those that failed in patience.

25 Return unto the Lord, and forsake thy sins, make thy prayer before his face, and offend lesse.

26 Turn again to the most high, and turn away from iniquity: for he will lead thee out of darkness into the light of health, and hate thou abomination vehemently.

27 Although shall praise the most high in the grave, in stead of them which live and give thanks?

28 Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not: the living and sound in heart, shall praise the Lord.

29 How great is the loving kindness of the Lord our God, and his compassion unto such as turn unto him in holiness?

30 For all things cannot be in men, because the sonne of man is not immortall.

31 That is brighter then the sunne, yet the light thereof faileth: and flesh and blood will imagine evil.

32 He vieweth the power of the height of heaven, and all men are but earth and ashes.

4 Gods works are to be wondered at. 9 Mans life is short.

11 God is mercifull. 15 Do not blemish thy good deeds with ill words. 22 Deferre not to be justified.

30 Follow not thy lusts.

He that liveth for ever created all things in general.

his works? and who shall finde out his noble acts?

5 Who shall number the strength of his majesty? and who shall also tell out his mercies?

6 As for the wondrous works of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, neither may any thing be put unto them, neither can the ground of them be found out.

7 When a man hath done, then he beginneth; and when he leaveth off, then he shall be doubtfull.

8 What is man, and whereto serveth he? what is his good, and what is his evil?

9 The number of a mans dayes at the most are an hundred yeeres.

10 As a drop of water unto the sea, and a gravel stone in comparison of the land, so are a thousand yeers to the dayes of eternity.

11 Therefore is God patient with them, and poureth forth his mercy upon them.

12 He saw and perceived their end to be evill, therefore he multiplied his compassion.

13 The mercy of man is toward his neighbour, but the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh: he reprobeth and murthereth, and teacheth, and bringeth again, as a shepheard his flock.

14 He hath mercy on them that receive discipline, and that diligently seek after his judgments.

15 O my son, blamish not thy good deeds, neither use uncomfortable words when thou givest any thing.

16 Shall not the dew asswage the heat? so is a word better then a gift.

17 Lo, is not a word better then a gift? but both are with a gracious man.

18 A fool will upbraid charitably, and a gift of the envious consumeth the eyes.

19 Learn before thou speak, and use physick ere ever thou be sick.

20 Before judgement examine thy self, and in the day of visitation thou shalt finde mercy.

21 Humble thy self before thou be sick, and in the time of times shew repentance.

22 Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in due time, and deferre not untill death to be justified.

23 Before thou prayest, prepare thy self, and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.

24 Think upon the wrath that shall be at the end, and the time of vengeance when he shall turn away his face.

25 When thou hast enough, remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, think upon poverty and need.

26 From the morning untill the evening the time is changed, and all things are soon done before the Lord.

27 A wise man will fear in every thing, and in the day of sinning he will beware of offence: but a fool will not observe time.

28 Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom, and will give praise unto him that found her.

29 They that were of understanding in sayings, became also wise themselves, and poured forth exquisite parables.

30 So not after thy lusts, but restrain thy self from thine appetites.

31 If thou givest thy soul the desires that please her, she will make thee a laughing stock to thine enemies that maligne thee.

32 Take not pleasure in much good cheer, neither be tied to the expense thereof.

33 Be not made a begger by banquetting upon borrowing, when thou hast nothing in thy purse: for thou shalt lie in wait for thine own life, and be talked on.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Wine and women seduce wise men. 7 Say not all thou hearest. 17 Reprove thy friend without anger.

22 There is no wisdom in wickednesse.

A Labouring man that is given to drunkennesse shall not be rich: and he that conterneth small things shall fall by little and little.

2 Wine and women will make men of understanding to fall away: and he that cleaveth to harlots will become impudent.

3 Boths and worms shall have him to heritage, and a bold man shall be taken away.

4 He that is hasty to give credit is light minded, and he that sinneth shall offend against his own soul.

5 Whoso taketh pleasure in wickednesse, shall be condemned: but he that resisteth pleasures, crowneeth his life.

6 He that can rule his tongue shall live without strife, and he that hateth babbling, shall have lesse evill.

7 Rehearse not unto another that which is told unto thee, and thou shalt fare never the worse.

8 Whether it be to a friend or foe, talk not of other mens lives, and if thou canst without offence, reveal them not.

9 For he heard and observed thee, and when time cometh he will hate thee.

10 If thou hast heard a word, let it die with thee, and be bold, it will not burst thee.

11 A fool travaileth with a word, as a woman in labour of a child.

12 As an arrow that sticketh in a mans thigh, so is a word which a fools belly.

13 Admonish a friend, it may be he hath not done it: and if he have [done it] that he do it no more.

14 Admonish thy friend, it may be he hath not said it: and if he have, that he speak it no again.

15 Admonish a friend, for many times it is a slander, and beleve not every tale.

16 There is one that slipeth in his speech, but not from his heart, and who is he that hath not offended with his tongue?

17 Admonish thy neighbour before thou threaten him, and not being angry, give place to the law of the most high.

18 The fear of the Lord is the first step to be accepted [of him] and wisdom obtaineth his love.

19 The knowledge of the commandments of the Lord, is the doctrine of life, and they that do things that please him, shall receive the fruit of the tree of immortality.

20 The fear of the Lord is all wisdom, and in all wisdom is the performance of the law, and the knowledge of his omnipotency.

21 If a servant say to his master, I will not do as it pleaseth thee, though afterward he do it, be angreth him that nourisheth him.

22 The knowledge of wickednesse is not wisdom, neither at any time the counsell of sinners prudence.

23 There is a wickednesse, and the same an abomination, and there is a fool wanting in wisdom.

24 He that hath small understanding and feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisdom, and transgresseth the law of the most high.

25 There is an requisite subtilty, and the same is unjust, and there is one that turneth aside to make judgement appear: and there is a wise man that justifieth in judgement.

26 There is a wicked man that hangeth down his evil.

 slipping by the tongue, 24 Of lying, 27 Of divers advertisements.

For season-
ble.

There is a reproof that is not // comely; again
 some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.
 2 It is much better to reprove, then to be angered secretly : and he that confesseth his fault, shall be preserved from hurt.

3 How good is it when thou art reproved, to shew repentance ! for so shalt thou escape wilfull sinne.
 4 As is the lust of * an unchaste to deflower a virgin : so is he that executeth judgement with violence.

5 There is one that keepeth silence and is found wise : and another by much babbling becometh hate-full.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not to answer : and some keepeth silence,
 * knowing his time.

* Eccles. 3. 7.

* Chap. 32. 4.

7 A wise man will hold his * tongue till he see opportunity : but a babler and a fool will regard no time.

8 He that useth many words shall be abhorred ;
 and he that taketh to himself authority therein,
 shall be hated.

9 There is a sinner that hath good successe in evil things ; and there is a gain that turneth to losse.

10 There is a gift that shall not profit thee : and there is a gift whose recompense is double.

11 There is an abatement because of glory ;
 and there is that lifteth up his head from a low estate.

12 There is that buyeth much for a little, and re-payeth it seven fold.

13 * A wise man by his words maketh himself beloved : but the graces of fools shall be // poured out.

14 The gift of a fool shall do thee no good when thou hast it : neither yet of the envious for his necessity : for he looketh to receive many things for one.

15 He giveth little and upbraideth much, he openeth his mouth like a crier : to day he lendeth, and to morrow will he ask it again : such a one is to be hated of God and man.

16 The fool saith, I have no friends, I have no thank for all my good deeds, and they that eat my bread, speak evill of me.

17 How oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to scorn ! for he knoweth not aright what it is to have : and it is all one unto him, as if he had it not.

18 To slip upon a pavement, is better then to slip with the tongue : for the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.

19 // An unreasonable tale will alwayes be in the mouth of the unwise.

20 A wise sentence shall be rejected when it cometh out of a fools mouth : for he will not speak it in due season.

21 There is that is hindered from sinning through want : and when he taketh rest, he // shall not be troubled.

22 There is that destroyeth his own soul through bashfulness, and by accepting of persons over-throweth himself.

23 There is that for bashfulness promisseth to his friend, and maketh him his enemy for nothing.

24 * A lie is a foul blot in a man, yet it is continually in the mouth of the untaught.

25 A chief is better then a man that is accustomed to lie : but they both shall have destruction to heritage.

26 The disposition of a liar is // dishonourable and his shame is ever with him.

27 A wise man shall promote himself to honour with his words : and he that hath understanding will please great men.

28 * He that tilleth his land, shall increase his heap : and he that pleaseeth great men, shall get pardon for iniquity.

29 * Presents and gifts blinde the eyes of the wise, and // stop up his mouth that he cannot reprove.

30 Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded up, what profit is in them both ?

31 Better is he that hideth his folly, then a man that sheweth his wisdom.

32 Necessary patience in seeking the Lord, is better then he that leadeth his life without a guide.

CHAP. XXI.

3 Flee from sinne as from a serpent. 4 His oppression will undo the rich. 9 The end of the unjust shall be nought. 12 The differences between the fool and the wise.

My son, hast thou sinned ? do so no more, but
 * ask pardon for thy former sinnes.

2 Flee from sinne as from the face of a serpent :
 for if thou comest too neer it, it will bite thee : the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, slaying the souls of men.

3 All iniquity is as a two edged sword, the wounds whereof cannot be healed.

4 To terrifie and do wrong, will waste riches :
 thus the house of proud men shall be made desolate.

5 * A prayer out of a poor mans mouth reacheth to the ears of God, and his judgement cometh speedily.

6 He that hateth to be reprov'd, is in the way of sinners : but he that feareth the Lord, will // repent from his heart.

7 An eloquent man is known farre and neer, but a man of understanding knoweth when he slip-peth.

8 He that buildeth his house with other mens money, is like one that gathereth himself stones for the tomb of his buriall.

9 * The congregation of the wicked is like tow wrapped together : and the end of them is a flame of fire to destroy them.

10 The way of sinners is made plain with stones, but at the end thereof is the pit of hell.

11 He that keepeth the law of the Lord, getteth the understanding thereof : and the perfection of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.

12 He that is not // wise, will not be taught : but there is a // wisdom which multiplieth bitterness.

13 The knowledge of a wise man shall abound like a flood : and his counsell is like a pure fountain of life.

16 The talking of a fool is like a burden in the way: but grace shall be found in the lips of the wise.

17 They enquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, and they shall ponder his words in their heart.

18 As is a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool: and the knowledge of the unwise is as talk without sense.

19 Doctrine unto fools is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles on the right hand.

20 * A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter, but a wise man doth cease smile a little.

21 Learning is unto a wise man as an ornament of gold, and like a bracelet upon his right arm.

22 A foolish mans foot is soon in his [neighbour's] house: but a man of experience is ashamed of him.

23 A fool will peep in at the door into the house, but he that is well nurtured, will stand without.

24 It is the rudeness of a man to hearken at the door: but a wise man will be grieved with the disgrace.

25 The lips of talkers will be telling such things as pertain not unto them: but the words of such as have understanding, are weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fools is in their mouth, but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.

27 When the ungodly curseth Satan, he curseth his own soul.

28 * A whisperer defileth his own soul, and is hated wheresoever he dwelleth.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Of the slothfull man. 3 and a foolish daughter. 11 Weep rather for fools, then for the dead. 13 Meddle not with them. 16 The wise mans heart will not shrink. 20 What will lose a friend.

A Slothfull man is compared to a filthy stone, and every one will hiss him out to his disgrace.

2 A slothfull man is compared to the filth of a dunghill: every man that takes it up, will shake his hand.

3 An evil nurtured sonne is the dishonour of his father that begat him: and a [foolish] daughter is born to his losse.

4 * A wife daughter // shall bring an inheritance to her husband: but she that liveth dishonestly, is her fathers heaviness.

5 She that is bold, dishonoureth both her father and her husband, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of season [is as] musick in mourning: but stripes and correction of wisdom are never out of time.

7 Whoso teacheth a fool, is as one that cleaveth a pebble together, and as he that waketh one from a sound sleep.

8 He that telleth a tale to a fool, speaketh to one in a flumber: when he hath told his tale, he will say, What is the matter?

9 If children live honestly, and have // where-withall, they shall cover the baseness of their parents.

10 But children being haughtie through disdain and want of nurture, do stain the nobility of their kindred.

11 * Weep for the dead, for he hath lost the light: and weep for the fool, for he wanteth understanding: make little weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the fool is worse then death.

12 Seven dayes do men mourn for him that is dead: but for a fool and an ungodly man, all the dayes of his life.

13 Talk not much with a fool; and go not to him that hath no understanding, * beware of him lest thou have trouble, and thou shalt never be distressed [with his fooleries]: depart from him, and thou shalt finde rest, and never be // disquieted with madness.

14 What is heavier then lead: and what is the name thereof, but a fool?

15 * Sand, and salt, and a masse of iron, is easier to bear, then a man without understanding.

16 As timber girt and bound together in a building, cannot be shook with shaking: so the heart that is stablished by advised counsel, shall fear at no time.

17 A heart settled upon a thought of understanding, is as a fair plastering // on the wall of a gallery.

18 Pales set on an high place will never stand against the winde: so a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool, cannot stand against any fear.

19 He that pricketh the eye, will make tears to fall: and he that pricketh the heart, maketh it to shew her knowledge.

20 Whoso casteth a stone at the birds, frayeth them away, and he that upbraideth his friend, breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou diest with a sword at thy friend, yet despair not: for there may be a returning (to favour.)

22 If thou hast opened thy mouth against thy friend, fear not, for there may be a reconciliation: except for upbraidings, or pride, or disclosing of secrets, or a treacherous wound: for these things every friend will depart.

23 Be faithfull to thy neighbour in his poverty, that thou mayest rejoyce in his prosperity: abide steadfast unto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be true with him in his heritage: for a mean estate is not alwayes to be contemned, nor the rich that is foolish, to be had in admiration.

24 As the vapour and smoke of a furnace goeth before the fire: so reviling before blood.

25 I will not be ashamed to defend a friend: neither will I hide my self from him.

26 And if any evil happen unto me by him, every one that heareth it will beware of him.

27 * Who shall let a watch before my mouth, and a seal of wisdom upon my lips, that I fall not suddenly by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

CHAP. XXIII.

O Lord, Father and Governour of all my whole life, leave me not to their counsels, and let me not fall by them.

2 Who will let scourges over my thoughts, and the discipline of wisdom over mine heart: that they spare me not for mine ignorances, and it passe not by my finnes:

6 Let not the greenness of the belly, nor lust of the flesh take hold of me, and give not over me thy servants into an insipient minde.

7 Hear, O ye children, the discipline of the mouth: he that keepeth it shall never be taken in his lips.

8 The sinner shall be left in his foolishness: both the evil speaker and the proud shall fall thereby.

9 Accuseme not thy mouth to swearing: neither use thy self to the naming of the Holy one.

10 For as a servant that is continually beaten, shall not be without a blew marke: so he that sweareth and nameth God continually, shall not be faultlesse.

11 A man that useth much swearing shall be filled with iniquity, and the plague shall never depart from his house: if he shall offend, his sinne shall be upon him: and if he acknowledge not his sinne, he maketh a double offence: and if he swear in vain, he shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of calamities.

12 There is a word that is clothed about with death: God grant that it be not found in the heritage of Jacob, for all such things shall be sacre from the godly, and they shall not wallow in their sinnes.

13 Use not thy mouth to untemperate swearing, for therein is the word of sinne.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother, when thou sittest among great men. Be not forgetfull before them, and to thou by thy custome become a fool, and with that thou hadst not been boyn, and curle the day of thy nativity.

15 The man that is accustomed to opprobrious words, will never be reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 Two sorts of men multiply sinne, and the third will bring wrath: a hot minde is as a burning fire; it will never be quenched till it be consumed: a fornicator in the body of his flesh, will never cease till he hath kindled a fire.

17 All bread is sweet to a whoremonger, he will not leave off till he die.

18 A man that breaketh woodlock, saying thus in his heart, * Tho seeth me, I am compassed about with darkness, the walls cover me, and no body seeth me, what need I to fear? the most high will not remember my sinnes:

19 Such a man onely feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter then the sun, beholding all the wapes of men, and considering the most secret parts.

20 He knew all things ere ever they were created, so also after they were perfected, he looked upon them all.

21 This man shall be punished in the streets of the city, and where he suspecteth not he shall be taken.

22 Thus shall it go also with the wife that leaveth her husband, and bringeth in an heir by // another:

23 For first the hath disobeyed the law of the most high, and secondly, she hath trespasssed against her own husband: and thirdly, she hath played the whore in adultery, and brought children by another man.

24 She shall be brought out into the congregation, and // inquisition shall be made of her children.

CHAP. XXIIII.

2 Wisdome doth praise her self, sheweth her beginning, 4 her dwelling, 13 her glory, 17 her fruit, 26 her increase and perfection.

Wisdome shall praise her self, and shall glory in the midst of her people.

2 In the congregation of the most high shall she open her mouth, and triumph before his power.

3 I came out of the mouth of the most high, and covered the earth as // a cloud.

4 I dwelt in high places, and my throne is in a cloudie pillar.

5 I alone compassed the circuit of heaven, and walked in the bottome of the deep.

6 In the waves of the sea, and in all the earth, and in every people and nation, I got a possession.

7 With all these I sought rest: and in whose inheritance shall I abide?

8 So the Creator of all things gave me a commandment, and he that made me caused my tabernacle to rest, and said, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel.

9 He * created me from the beginning before the world, and I shall never fail.

10 In the * holy tabernacle I served before him: and so was I established in Zion.

11 * Likewise in the // beloved city he gave me rest, and in Jerusalem was my power.

12 And I took root in an honourable people, even in the portion of the Lords inheritance.

13 I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypresse-tree upon the mountains of Hermon.

14 I was exalted like a palm-tree in // Engaddi, and as a rose-plank in Jericho, as a fair olive-tree in a pleasant field, and grew up as a plane-tree // by the water.

15 I gave a sweet smell like cynamon and aspalathus, and I yielded a pleasant odour like the best myrrhe, as galbannum, and omy, and sweet storax, and as the sinne of frankincense in the * tabernacle.

16 As the turpentine tree I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.

17 As the vine brought I forth pleasant labour, and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.

18 I am the mother of fair love, and fear, and knowledge and holy hope, I therefore bring eternal, am given to all my children which are // a men of him.

19 Come unto me all ye that be desirous of me, and fill your selves with my fruits.

20 For my memoriall is: * Sweeter then honey, and mine inheritance then the honey-comb.

21 They that eat me shall yet be hungry, and they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.

22 He that obeyeth me, shall never be confounded, and they that work by me, shall not do amisse.

23 All these things are the book of the covenant of the most high God, even the * law which Moses commanded for an heritage unto the congregations of Jacob.

* Or, gloried.

Rom. 12.

10.

I A three things I // was beautified, and stood up beautifull both before God and men: the * unity of brethren, the love of neighbours, a man and a wife that agree together.

2 Three sorts of men my soul hateth, and I am greatly offended at their life: a poor man that to proud, a rich man that is a liar, and an old adulterer that doth.

3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, how canst thou finde any thing in thine age?

4 Oh how comely a thing is judgement for gray haires, and for ancient men to know counsell!

5 O how comely is the wisdom of old man, and under standing and counsell to men of honour!

6 Much experience is the crown of old men, and the fear of God is their glory.

7 There be nine things which I have judged in mine heart to be happy, and the tenth I will utter with my tongue: A man that hath joy of his children, and he that loveth to see the fall of his enemy.

* Chap. 14.

Jam. 3. 2.

8 Well is him that dwelleth with a wife of understanding, and that hath not * slipped with his tongue, and that hath not served a man more unworthy then himself.

9 Well is him that hath found // providence, and he that speaketh in the ears of them that will hear.

10 O how great is he that findeth wisdom! yet is there none above him that feareth the Lord.

11 But the love of the Lord passeth all things for illumination: he that holdeth it, // whereto shall he be likened?

* Or, a friend.

* Or, to whom.

12 The fear of the Lord is the beginning of his love: and faith is the beginning of cleaving unto him.

13 [Give me] any plague but the plague of the heart: and any wickednesse, but the wickednesse of a woman:

14 And any affliction but the affliction from them that hate me: and any revenge, but the revenge of enemies.

15 There is no head above the head of a serpent, and there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.

16 * I had rather dwell with a lion and a dragon, then to keep house with a wicked woman.

17 The wickednesse of a woman changeth her face, and darkeneth her countenance // like sackcloth.

18 Her husband shall sit among his neighbours, and when he heareth it, shall sigh bitterly.

19 All wickednesse is but little to the wickednesse of a woman: let the portion of a sinner fall upon her.

20 As the climbing of a sandy way is to the feet of the aged, so is a wife // full of words to a quiet man.

21 * Stumble not at the beauty of a woman, and desire her not for pleasure.

22 A woman, if she maintain her husband, is full of anger, impudencie, and much reproch.

23 A wicked woman abateth the courage, maketh an heavy countenance, and a wounded heart: a woman that will not comfort her husband in distress, maketh weak hands, and feeble knees.

24 Of * the woman came the beginning of sin, and through her we all die.

25 Give the water no passage: neither a wicked woman liberty to gad abroad.

26 If she go not as thou wouldest have her, cut her off from thy flesh, and give her a bill of divorce, and let her go.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 A good wife, 4 and a good conscience do glad men. 6 A wicked wife is a fearful thing. 31 Of good and bad wives. 28 Of three things that are grievous. 29 Merchants and hucksters are not without sinne.

Blessed is the man that hath a virtuous wife, for the number of his dayes shall be double.

2 A virtuous woman rejoiceth her husband, and he shall fulfill the years of his life in peace.

3 A good wife is a good portion, which shall be given in the portion of them that fear the Lord.

4 Whether a man be rich or poor, if he have a good heart toward the Lord, he shall at all times rejoice with a cheerful countenance.

5 There be three things that mine heart feareth, and for the fourth I was sore afraid: the slander of a citie, the gathering together of an unruly multitude, and a false accusation: all these are worse then death.

6 One a grief of heart and sorrow, is a woman that is jealous over another woman, and a scourge of the tongue which communicateth with all.

7 An evil wife is // a yoke shaken to and fro: he that hath hold of her, is as though he held a scorpion.

8 A drunken woman and a gadder abroad, causeth great anger, and she will not cover her own shame.

9 The whoredom of a woman may be known in her haughty looks, and eye-lids.

10 * If thy daughter be shameless, keep her in straitly, lest she abuse her self through overmuch liberty.

11 Watch over an impudent eye: and marvel not if he trespass against thee.

12 She will open her mouth as a thirsty traveller, when he hath found a fountain: and drink of every water near her: by every // ledge will she sit down, and open her quiver against every arrow.

band, and her discretion will for his bones.

14 A silent and loving woman is a gift of the Lord, and there is nothing so much worth, as a minde well instructed.

15 A shamefast and faithfull woman is a double grace, and her continent minde cannot be valued.

16 As the sunne when it ariseth in the high heaven: so is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of her house.

17 As the clear light is upon the holy candlestick: so is the beauty of the face in ripe age.

18 As the golden pillars are upon the lockets of silver: so are the fair feet with a constant heart.

19 My sonne, keep the flower of thine age sound: and give not thy strength to strangers.

20 When thou hast gotten a fruitfull possession through all the field: solve it with thine own seed, trusting in the goodnesse of thy stock.

21 So thy race which thou leavest shall be magnified, having the confidence of their good descent.

22 An harlot shall be accounted as a spittell: but a married woman is a tower against death to her husband.

23 A wicked woman is given as a portion to a wicked man: but a godly woman is given to him that seareth the Lord.

24 A dishonest woman contemneth shame: but an honest woman will reverence her husband.

25 A shamelesse woman shall be counted as a dog: but she that is shamefast will fear the Lord.

26 A woman that honoureth her husband, shall be judged wise of all: but she that dishonoureth him in her pride, shall be counted ungodly of all.

27 A loud crying woman and a scold shall be sought out to drive away the enemies.

28 There be two things that grieve my heart; and the third maketh me angry: a man of warre that suffereth poverty, and men of understanding that are not let by, and one that returneth from righteousness to sinne, the Lord prepareth such a one for the sword.

29 A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong: and an huckster shall not be freed from sinne.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Of sinnes in selling and buying. 7 Our speech will tell what is in us. 16 A friend is lost by discovering his secrets. 25 He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it.

Many have sinned for a small matter: and he that seeketh for abundance will turn his eyes away.

2 As a nail sticketh fast between the joinings of the stones: so doth sinne stick close between buying and selling.

3 Unless a man hold himself diligently in the fear of the Lord, his house shall soon be overthrowen.

4 As when one listeth with a sieve, the refuse remaineth: so the filth of man in his talk.

5 The fornice proveth the potter's vessels: so the trial of man is in his reasoning.

6 The fruit declareth if the tree have been blessed: so is the utterance of a conceit in the heart of man.

7 Waste no man before thou hearest him speak: for this is the trial of men.

8 If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her, and put her on, as a glorious long robe.

9 The birds will resort unto their like: so will truth return unto them that practise in her.

10 As the lion lieth in wait for the prey: so sin for them that work iniquity.

11 The discourse of a godly man is always with wisdom: but a fool changeth as the moon.

12 If thou be among the undiscrēt, observe the time: but be continually among men of understanding.

13 The discourse of fools is irksome, and their sport is in the wantonnesse of sinne.

14 The talk of him that sweareth much, maketh the hair stand upright: and their brawls make one stop his ears.

15 The strife of the proud is blood-shedding, and their revellings are grievous to the ear.

16 A foolish discovereth secrets, loseth his credits, and shall never finde friend to his minde.

17 Love thy friend, and be faithfull unto him: but if thou betrayest his secrets, follow no more after him.

18 For as a man hath destroyed his enemy: so hast thou lost the love of thy neighbour.

19 As one that letteth a bird go out of his hand: so hast thou let thy neighbour go, and shalt not get him again.

20 Follow after him no more, for he is too far off, he is as a roe escaped out of the snare.

21 As for a wound, it may be bound up, and after reviling there may be reconciliation: but he that betrayeth secrets, is without hope.

22 He that winketh with the eyes, worketh evil: and he that knoweth him will depart from him.

23 When thou art present, he will speak sweetly, and will admire thy words: but at the last he will withe his mouth, and slander thy sayings.

24 I have hated many things, but nothing like him, for the Lord will hate him.

25 Whoso casteth a stone on high, casteth it on his own head, and a deceitfull stroke shall make wounds.

26 Whoso diggeth a pit, shall fall therein: and he that setteth a trap, shall be taken therein.

27 He that worketh mischief, it shall fall upon him, and he shall not know whence it cometh.

28 Mockery and reproach are from the proud: but vengeance as a lion, shall lie in wait for them.

29 They that rejoyce at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare, and anguish shall consume them before they die.

30 Malice and wrath, even these are abominations, and the sinful man shall have them both.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Against revenge, 8 quarrelling, 10 anger, 15 and backbiting.

He that revengeth, shall finde vengeance from the Lord, and he will surely keep his sins (in remembrance.)

2 Forgive thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done unto thee: so shall thy sinnes also be forgiven when thou prayest.

3 One man heareth hatred another: and doth he seek pardon from the Lord?

4 He sheweth no mercy to a man, which is like himself: and doth he ask forgiveness of his own sinnes?

5 If he that is but flesh nourish hatred, who will intreat for pardon of his sinnes?

6 Remember thy end, and let enmities cease, [remember] corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.

7 Remember the commandments, and bear no malice to thy neighbour: [remember] the covenant of the highest, and wink at ignorance.

22 It shall not have rule over them that fear God, neither shall they be burnt with the flame thereof.

CHAP. XXIX.

2 We must shew mercy, and lend: 4 but the borrower must not defraud the lender. 9 Give alms. 14 A good man will not undo his surety. 18 To be surety, and undertake for others, is dangerous. 22 It is better to live at home, then to sojourn.

HE that is mercifull, will lend unto his neighbour; and he that strengtheneth his hands, keepeth the commandments.

2 * Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour again in due season.

3 Keep thy word, and deal faithfully with him, and thou shalt alwayes finde the thing that is necessary for thee.

4 Many, when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to be found, and put them to trouble that helped them.

5 Till he hath received, he will kisse a mans hand: and for his neighbours money, he will speak submissively: but when he should repay, he will prolong the time, and return words of grief, and complain of the time.

6 || If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half: and he will count as if he had found it: if not, he hath deprived him of his money, and he hath gotten him an enemy without cause: he payeth him with curlings and railings: and for honour, he will pay him disgrace.

7 Many therefore have refused to lend for other mens ill dealing, fearing to be defrauded.

8 Let have thou patience with a man in poor estate, and delay not to shew him mercy.

9 Help the poor for the commandments sake, and turn him not away because of his poverty.

10 Lose thy money for thy brother and thy friend, and let it not rust under a stone to be lost.

11 * Lay up the treasure according to the commandments of the most high, and it shall bring thee more profit then gold.

12 * Shut up alms in thy store-houses: and it shall deliver thee from all affliction.

13 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better then a mighty shield and strong spear.

14 An honest man is surety for his neighbour: but he that is impudent will forsake him.

15 Forget not the friendship of thy surety, for he hath given his life for thee.

16 A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety:

17 And he that is of an unthankfull minde will leave him [in danger] that delivered him.

18 Suretyship hath undone many of good estate, and shaken them as a wave of the sea: mighty men hath it driven from their houses, so that they wandered among strange nations.

19 A wicked man transgressing the commandments of the Lord, shall fall into suretyship: and he that undertaketh, and followeth other mens business for gain, shall fall into suits.

20 Help thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thy self fall not into the same.

21 The chief thing for life is water and bread, and clothing, and an house to cover shame.

22 Better is the life of a poor man in a mean cottage, then delicate fare in another mans house.

23 Be it little or much, hold thee contented, that thou hear not the reproach of thy house.

24 For it is a miserable life to go from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou dardest not open thy mouth.

25 Thou shalt entertain, and feast, and have no thanks: moreover, thou shalt hear bitter words:

26 Come thou stranger, and furnish a table, and feed me of that thou hast ready.

27 Give place thou stranger to an honourable man, my brother cometh to be lodged, and I have need of mine house.

28 These things are grievous to a man of understanding: the upbidding of house-rooms, and reproaching of the lender.

CHAP. XXX.

1 It is good to correct our children, 7 and not to cocker them. 14 Health is better then wealth. 22 Health and life are scorned by grief.

HE that loveth his sonne causeth him oft to feel the rod, that he may have joy of him in the end.

2 He that chastiseth his sonne, shall have joy in him, and shall rejoyce of him among his acquaintance.

3 He that teacheth his sonne, grieveth the enemy: and before his friends he shall rejoyce of him.

7 He that maketh too much of his soune, shall binde up his wounds, and his bowels will be troubled at every cry.

8 An horse not broken becometh headstrong : and a childe left to himself will be wilfull.

9 Cocker thy childe, and he shall make thee afraid : play with him, and he will bring thee to headnesse.

10 Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him, and lest thou gnash thy teeth in the end.

11 * Gue him no liberie in his youth, and wink not at his follies.

12 Bow down his neck while he is young, and bend him on the sides while he is a childe, lest he be woe stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee, and to bring sorrow to thine heart.

13 Chastise thy soune, and hold him to labour, lest his lewd behaviour be an offence unto thee.

14 Better is the poore being found and strong of constitution, then a rich man that is afflicted in his body.

15 Health and good estate of body are above all gold, and a strong body above infinite wealth.

16 There is no riches above a sound body, and no joy above the joy of the heart.

17 Death is better then a bitter life, or continual sicknesse.

18 Delicates poured upon a mouth shut up, are as messes of meat set upon a praye.

19 What good doth the offering unto an idoll ? for neither can it eat nor smell : so is he that is persecuted of the Lord.

20 He seeth with his eyes, and groaneth as an emur that embraceth a virgin, and sigheth.

21 * Give not over thy minde to heavinesse, and afflict not thy self in thine own counsell.

22 The gladnesse of the heart is the life of man, and the li- velynesse of a man prolongeth his dayes.

23 Love thine own soule, and comfort thine heart, remove sorrow farre from thee : for sorrow hath killed many, and there is no profit therein.

24 Envy and wrath shorten the life, and carefullnesse bringeth age before the time.

25 A cheerful and good heart will have a care of his meat and diet.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Of the desire of riches. 12 Of moderation and excellence in eating, or drinking wine.

Watching for * riches consumeth the flesh, and the care thereof driveth away sleep.

2 Watching care will not let a man slumber, as a sore disease breaketh sleep.

3 The rich hath great labour in gathering riches together : and when he relecth he is filled with his delicates.

4 The poore labourereth in his poore estate, and when he leaveth off he is still needy.

5 He that loveth gold shall not be justified, and he that followeth corruption, shall have enough thereof.

6 * Gold hath been the ruine of many, and their destruction was present.

7 It is a stumbling block unto them that sacrifice unto it, and every fool shall be taken therewith.

8 * Blessed is the rich that is found without blemish, and hath not gone after gold.

9 Altho is he : and we will call him blessed : for wonderfull things hath he done among his people.

10 Altho hath been tried thereby, and found perfect : then let him glory. Altho might offend, and hath not offended : or done evil, and hath not done it ?

11 His goods shall be established, and the congregation shall declare his alms.

12 If thou sit at a bountifull table, * † be not greedy upon it, and say not, There is much meat on it.

13 Remember that a wicked eye is an evil thing : and what is created more wicked then an eye ? therefore it weepeth upon every occasion.

14 Stretch not thine hand whithersoever it looketh, and thrust it not with him into the dish.

15 Judge of thy neighbour by thy self : and be discreet in every point.

16 Eat as it becometh a man, these things which are set before thee : and devour not, lest thou be hated.

17 Leave off first for manners sake : and be not unsatiable, lest thou offend.

18 * Altho thou sittest among many, reach not thine hand out first of all.

19 A very little is sufficient for a man well nurtured, and he fetcheth not his winde short upon his bed.

20 Sound sleep cometh of moderate eating, he riseth early, and his wits are with him : but the pain of watching and choler, and pangs of the belly, are with an unsatiable man.

21 And if thou hast been forced to eat, arise, go forth, womit, and thou shalt have rest.

22 My soune, hear me, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt finde as I told thee : in all thy works be quick, so shall there no sicknesse come unto thee.

23 * Altho is liberall of his meat, men shall speak well of him, and the report of his good house-keeping will be believed.

24 But against him that is a niggard of his meat, the whole city shall murmur, and the testimonies of his niggardnesse shall not be doubted of.

25 Shew not thy * ballantnesse in wine, * for wine hath destroyed many.

26 The furnace smothereth the edge by dipping : so doth wine the hearts of the proud by drunkennesse.

27 Wine is as good as life to a man if it be drunk moderately : what life is then to a man that is without wine : for it was made to make men glad.

28 Wine measurably drunk, and in season, bringeth gladnesse of the heart, and cheerfulnesse of the minde.

29 But wine drunken with excellence, maketh bitterness of the minde with babbling and quarrelling.

30 Drunkennesse increaseth the rage of a fool till he offend : it diminisheth strength, and maketh wounds.

31 Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise him not in his mirth : give him no despitefull words, and presse not upon him, with urging him to drink.

and receive a crown for thy well ordering of the feast.

3 Speak thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound iudgement, and hinder not myself.

4 * Pour not out words where there is a mustel-an, and shew not forth wisdom out of thine.

5 A consort of musick in a banquet of wine, is as a signet of caruncle set in gold.

6 As a signet of an emerald set in a work of gold,
so is the melodie of musick with pleasant wine.

7 Speak, young man, if there be need of thee; and yet scarcely when thou art twice asked.

8 Let thy speech be short, comprehending much in few words, be as one that knoweth, and yet holdeth his tongue.

9 * If thou be among great men, make not thy self equal with them, and when ancient men are in place, use not many words.

10 Before the thunder goeth lightning, and before a shamefast man shall go favour.

11 Rise up betimes, and be not the last, but get thee home without delay.

12 There take thy pastime, and do what thou wilt; but shun not by proud speech.

13 And for these things blesse him that made thee, and hath replenished thee with his good things.

14 Whoso feareth the Lord will receive his discipline, and they that seek him early shall finde favour.

15 He that seeketh the Law, shall be filled therewith; but the hypocrite will be offended thereat.

16 They that fear the Lord, shall finde iudge-ment, and shall knowe justice as a light.

17 A sinful man will not be reproved, but findeth an excuse according to his will.

18 A man of counsell will be considerate, but a strange and proud man is not daunted with fear, even when of himself he hath done without counsell.

19 Do nothing without advice, and when thou hast once done, repent not.

20 Go not in a way wherein thou mayest fall, and stumble not among the stones.

21 Be not confident in a plain way.

22 And beware of thine own children.

23 In every good work trust thy own soul, for this is the keeping of the commandments.

24 He that believeth in the Lord catcheth heed to the commandment, and he that trusteth in him, || shall fare never the worse.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The safety of him that feareth the Lord. 2 The wife and the foolish. 3 Times and seasons are of God. 4 Men are in his hands as clay in the hands of the potter. 5 Chiefly regard thy self.
6 Offservants.

There shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord, but in temptation even again he will deliver him.

2 A wise man hateth not the law, but he that is an hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.

3 A man of understanding trusteth in the law,
and the law is faithful unto him, || as an oracle.

4 Prepare what to say, and so thou shalt be heard;
and binde up instruction, and then make answer.

5 The heart of the foolish is like a cart-wheel;
and his thoughts are like a rolling ascleter.

6 A stalling horse is as a mocking friend, he neighbour under every one that sitteth upon him.

7 Why doth one day excell another? When as all the light of every day in the year is of the sunne.

8 By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished, and he altered seasons and seasons.

9 Some of them hath he made high dayes, and hallowed them, and some of them hath he || made ordinary dayes.

10 And all men are from the ground, and * Adam was created of earth.

11 In much knowledge the Lord hath divided them, and made their wayes diverse.

12 Some of them hath he blessed and exalted, and some of them hath he sanctified, and set near himself: but some of them hath he cursed, and brought low, and turned out of their places.

13 * As the clay is in the potters hand, to fashion it at his pleasure; so man is in the hand of him that made him, to render to them as liketh him best.

14 Good is set against evil, and life against death: so is the goodly against the sinner, and the sinner against the goodly.

15 So look upon all the works of the most high,
and there are two and two, one against another.

16 I awaked up last of all, as one that || gathereth after the grape-gatherers; by the blessing of the Lord I profited, and filled my wine vessel, like a gatherer of grapes.

17 * Consider that I laboured not for my self only, but for all them that seek learning.

18 Hear me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.

19 Give not thy sonne and wife, thy brother and friend, power over thee whilst thou livest, and give not thy goods to another: lest it repent thee, and thou intreat for the same again.

20 As long as thou livest, and hast breath in thee, || give not thy self over to any.

21 For better it is that thy children should seek to thee, then that thou shouldst || stand to their courtesie.

22 In all thy works keep to thy self the preeminence, leave not a hair in thine honour.

23 At the time when thou shalt end thy dayes, and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritance.

24 Fodder, a wand and burdens are for the asse:
and bread, correction, and work for a servant.

25 If thou set thy servant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shall seek liberty.

26 A yoke and a collar do bow the neck: so are torments and torments for an evil servant.

27 Send him to labour that he be not idle: for idleness teacheth much evil.

28 Set him to work as is fittest for him: if he be not obedient put on more heave fetters.

29 But be not excessive toward any, and without discretion do nothing.

10 * If thou have a servant, let him be unto thee as thy self, because thou hast bought him with a price.

11 If thou have a servant, intreat him as a brother: for thou hast need of him, as of thine own soul:
if thou intreat him evil, and he runne from thee,
which way wilt thou go to seek him?

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Of dreams. 13 The praise and blessing of them that fear the Lord. 18 The offering of the ancient, and prayer of the poor innocent.

The hopes of a man both of understanding, are vain and false: and dreams lift up fools.

3 The vision of dreams is the resemblance of one thing to another, even as the * likeness of a face to a face.

4 * Of an unclean thing what can be cleansed? and from y thing which is false, what truth can come? 5 Delusions, and soothsayings, and dreams are vain, and the heart sancteth as a womans heart in travail.

6 If they be not sent from the most High in thy visitation, || let not thy heart upon them.

7 For dreams have deceived many, and they have failed that put their trust in them.

8 The law shall be found perfect without lies: and wisdom is perfection to a faithfull mouth.

9 A man that hath travelled knoweth many things: and he that hath much experience, will declare wisdom.

10 He that hath no experience knoweth little: but he that hath travelled is full of prudence.

11 When I travelled, I saw many things, and I understand more then I can expresse.

12 I was oft times in danger of death: yet I was delivered because of these things.

13 The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live, for their hope is in him: he shall save them.

14 Whoso feareth the Lord, shall not fear: nor be afraid, for he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord: to whom doth he look? and who is his strength?

16 For * the eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him, * he is their mighty protection and strong stay, a defence from heat, and a cover from the sunne at noon, a preservation from stumbling, and a help from falling.

17 He raiseth up the soul, and lighteneth the eyes: he giveth health, life, and blessing.

18 * He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is ridiculous: and || the gifts of unjust men are not accepted.

19 * The most High is not pleased with the offerings of the wicked: neither is he pacified for sin, by the multitude of sacrifices.

20 Whoso bringeth an offering of the goods of the poor, both as one that killeth the soune before his fathers eyes.

21 The bread of the needy is their life: he that defraudeth him thereof, is a man of blood.

22 He that taketh away his neighbours living, slayeth him: and he that * defraudeth the labourer of his hire, is a bloodshedder.

23 When one buildeth, and another pulleth down, what profit have they then but labour?

24 When one prayeth, and another curseth whose voice will the Lord hear?

25 * He that washeth himself after the touching of a dead body, if he touch it again, what availeth his washing?

26 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, and goeth again and doth the same: who will hear his prayer? or what doth his humbling profit him?

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Sacrifices pleasing God. 14 The prayer of the fatherlesse, of the widow, and of the humble in spirit. 20 Acceptable mercy.

HE * that keepeth the law bringeth offerings know: he that taketh heed to the commandment, offereth a peace-offering.

2 He that requirerh a good turn, offereth fine flour: and he that giveth alms, sacrificeth praise.

3 To depart from wickednesse is a thing pleasing to the Lord, and to forsake unrighteousnesse, is propitiation.

4 * Thou shalt not appear empty before the Lord.

5 For all these things [are to be done] because of the Commandment.

6 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and the sweet labour thereof is before the most High.

7 The sacrifice of a just man is acceptable, and the memoriall thereof shall never be forgotten.

8 Give the Lord his honour with a good eye, and diminish not the first fruits of thine harvest.

9 * In all the gifts shew a cheerful countenance, and || dedicate thy tithes with gladnesse.

10 * Give unto the most High according as he hath enriched thee, and as thou hast gotten, give with a cheerful eye.

11 For the Lord recompenseth, and will give thee seven times as much.

12 || Do not think to corrupt with gifts, * for such he will not receive: and trust not to unrighteous sacrifices, for the Lord is judge, and with him is * no respect of persons.

13 He will not accept any person against a poor man, but will hear the prayer of the oppressed.

14 He will not despise the supplication of the fatherlesse: nor the widow when she poureth out her complaint.

15 Doth not the tears run down the widows cheeks: and is not her cry against him that causeth them to fall?

16 He that serveth the Lord, shall be accepted with labour, and his prayer shall reach unto the clouds.

17 The prayer of the humble pierceth the clouds: and till it come nigh, he will not be comforted: and will not depart till the most High shall behold to judge righteously, and execute judgement.

18 For the Lord will not be slack, neither will the mighty be patient towards them, till he have smitten in funder the loyns of the unmercifull, and repayed vengeance to the heathen: till he have taken away the multitude of the || proud, and broken the scepter of the unrighteous:

19 Till he have rendered to every man according to his deeds, and to the works of men according to their devices: till he have judged the cause of his people, and made them to rejoyce in his mercy.

20 Mercy is * seasonable in the time of affliction, as clouds of rain in the time of drought.

3 * Lift thy hand || against the strange nations, and let them see thy power.

5 And let them know thee, as we have known thee, that there is no God but only thou, O God.

6 Shew new signes, and make other strange wonders: glorifie thy hand, and thy right arm, that they may set forth thy wondrous works.

7 Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath: take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.

10 Smite in sunder the heads of the rulers of the heathen, that say, There is none other but we.

11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together, and inherit thou them, as from the beginning.

12 O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy Name, and upon Israel, whom thou hast named thy first-born.

13 O be merciful unto Jerusalem, thy holy city, the place of thy rest.

14 Fill Zion with thine unspeakable oracles, and the people with thy glory.

15 Give testimony unto those that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and raise up prophets that have been in thy Name.

16 Reward them that wait for thee, and let thy prophets be found faithful.

17 O Lord, hear the prayer of thy servants, according to the blessing of Aaron over thy people, that all they which dwell upon the earth, may know that thou art the Lord, the eternal God.

18 The belly devoureth all meats; yet is one meat better than another.

19 As the palace tasteth divers kinds of venison: so doth an heart of understanding false speeches.

20 A froward heart causeth heaviness: but a man of experience will recompense him.

21 A woman will receive every man, yet is one daughter better than another.

22 The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance, and a man loveth nothing better.

23 If there be blindness, meekness, and comfort in her tongue, then is not her husband like other men.

24 He that getteth a wife, beginneth a possession, a help like unto himself, and a pillar of rest.

25 Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoiled: and he that hath no wife, will wander up and down mourning.

26 Who will trust a thief well appointed, that skipeth from city to city: so [who will believe] a man that hath no house, and lodgeth wheresoever the night taketh him?

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 How to know friends and counsellours, 12 The discretion and wisdom of a godly man blesteth him.

27 Learn to restrain thine appetite.

Every friend saith, I am his friend also: but there is a friend which is onely a friend in name.

2 Is it not a grief unto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemy?

3 O wicked imagination, whence comest thou in to cover the earth with deceit?

4 There is a companion which rejoyceth in the prosperity of a friend: but in the time of trouble will be against him.

5 There is a companion which helpeth his friend for the belly, and taketh up the buckler against the enemy.

6 Forget not thy friend in thy minde, and he not unkindfull of him in thy riches.

7 Every counsellour extollethe counsell: but there is some that counselleth for himself.

8 Beware of a counsellour, and know before what need he hath, (for he will counsell for himself) lest he cast thee upon thee:

9 And say unto thee, Thy way is good: and afterward he stand on the other side, to see what shall befall thee.

10 Confide not with one that suspecteth thee: and hide thy counsell from such as envie thee.

11 Neither consort with a woman touching her of whom she is jealous, neither with a soldier in matters of war: nor with a merchant, concerning exchange; nor with a buyer, of selling; nor with an envious man, of thankfulness: nor with an unmerciful man, touching kindness: nor with the scoldbill for any work: nor with an hireling for a peck of finishing work: nor with an idle servant, of much busynesse: hearken not unto these in any matter of counsell.

12 But be continually with a godly man, whom thou knowest to keep the commandments of the Lord, whose minde is according to thy minde, and will sorrow with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.

13 And let the counsell of thine own heart stand: for there is no man more faithful unto thee then it.

14 For a mans minde is sometime wont to tell him more then seven watchmen, that sit above in an high tower.

15 And above all this, pray to the most High, that he will direct thy way in truth.

16 Let reason go before every enterprise, and counsell before every action.

17 The countenance is a signe of changing of the heart.

18 Four manner of things appear: good and evil, life and death: but the tongue ruleth over them continually.

19 There is one that is wise and teacheth many, and yet is unprofitable to himself.

20 There is one that sheweth wisdom in words, and is hated: he shall be destitute of all food.

21 For grace is not given him from the Lord: because he is deprived of all wisdom.

22 Another is wise to himself: and the fruits of understanding are commendable in his mouth.

23 A wise man instructeth his people, and the fruits of his understanding fall not.

24 A wise man shall be filled with blessing, and all they that see him shall count him happy.

25 The dayes of the life of man may be numbered: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

26 A wife man shall inherit glory among his people, and his name shall be perpetual.

27 Wee sonne, probe thy soul in thy life, and see what is evill for it, and give not that unto it.

28 For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing.

29 Be not unsatiabie in any dainty thing, nor too greedy upon meats.

30 For excess of meats bringeth sickness, and surfeiting will turn into choler.

31 By surfeiting have many perished, but he that taketh heed prolongeth his life.

1 Honour due to the physician, and why. 16 How to weep and mourne for the dead. 24 The wisdom of the learned man, and of the labourer and artificer, with the use of them both.

Honour a physician with the honour due unto him, for the uses which you may have of him: for the Lord hath created him.

2 For of the most High cometh healing, and he shall receive the honour of the king.

3 The skill of the physician shall lift up his head: and in the sight of great men he shall be in admiration.

4 The Lord hath created medicines out of the earth, and he that is wise will not abhorre them.

5 Was not the water made sweet with wood, that the vertue thereof might be known?

25 How can he get wiſdome that holdeth the plough, and that gloryeth in the goad: that dyeth open, and is occupied in their labours, and whoſe talk is of bullocks?

26 We giſteth his minde to make ſurrows: and is diligent to give the hine fodder.

27 So every carpenter and work-maſter, that labourerh night and day: and they that cut and grave ſeals, and are diligent to make great varteſe, and give themſelves to counterſeit imagery, and watch to finiſh a work.

28 The ſmith alſo ſitteth by the anvil, and conſidering the iron work, the vapour of the fire waſteth his fleſh, and he fighteth with the heat of the furnace: the noiſe of the hammer and the anvil is ever in his ears, and his eyes look ſtill upon the patern of the thing that he maketh: he ſeeth his minde to finiſh his work, and watcheth to poliſh it perfectly.

29 So doth the potter ſitteth at his work, and turning the wheel about with his feet, who is alway carefully ſet at his work: and maketh all his work by number.

Or tempereth it with his feet.

30 We faſhioneth the clay with his arm, and ſo boweth down his ſtrength beſore his feet, he applieth himſelf to lead it over; and he is diligent to make clean the furnace.

31 All theſe truſt to their hands: and every one is wiſe in his work.

32 Without theſe cannot a citie be inhabited: and they ſhall not dwell where they will, nor go up and down.

33 They ſhall not be ſought for in publike counſell, nor ſit high in the congregation: they ſhall not ſit on the iudges ſeat, nor underſtand the ſentence of judgement: they cannot declare juſtice and judgement, and they ſhall not be found where parables are ſpoken.

34 But they will maintain the ſtate of the world, and [all] their deſire is in the work of their craft.

CHAP. XXXIX.

1 A deſcription of him that is truly wiſe. 12 An exhortation to praife God for his works; which are good to the good, and evil to them that are evil.

BUt he that giveth his minde to the Law of the moſt high, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, will ſeek out the wiſdome of all the ancient, and be occupied in prophecies.

2 He will keep the ſayings of the renowned men: and where ſubtil parables are, he will be there alſo.

3 He will ſeek out the ſecrets of grave ſentences, and be converſant in dark parables.

4 He ſhall ſerve among great men, and appear beſore princes: he will travell through ſtrange countrys, for he hath tried the good and the evil among men.

5 He will give his heart to reſort early to the Lord that made him, and will pray beſore the moſt high, and will open his mouth in prayer, and make ſupplication for his ſinnes.

6 When the great Lord will, he ſhall be filled with the ſpirit of underſtanding: he ſhall pour out wiſe ſentences, and give thanks unto the Lord in his prayer.

7 He ſhall direct his counſell and knowledge, and in his ſecrets ſhall he meditate.

8 He ſhall ſhew forth that which he hath learned, and ſhall glory in the Law of the covenant of the Lord.

9 Many ſhall commend his underſtanding, and ſo long as the world endureth, it ſhall not be blot- ted out, his memoriall ſhall not depart away, and his name ſhall live from generation to generation.

† Chap. 44. 15.

10 * Nations ſhall ſhew forth his wiſdom, and the congregation ſhall declare his praife.

11 If he die, he ſhall leave a greater name then a thouſand: and if he live, he ſhall increaſe it.

Or, gain unto it.

12 Yet have I more to ſay which I have thought upon, for I am filled as the moon at the full.

13 Hearken unto me ye holy children, and bud forth as a roſe growing by the brook of the field:

Or, rivers of water.

14 And give ye a ſweet labour as frankincenſe, and ſcourth as a lile, ſend forth a ſmell, and ſing a ſong of praife, bleſſe the Lord in all his works.

15 Magnifie his Name, and ſhew forth his praife with the ſongs of your lips, and with harps, and in praſſing him you ſhall ſay after this manner:

16 * All the works of the Lord are exceeding good, and whatſoever he commandeth ſhall be accompliſhed in due ſeaſon.

* Gen. 1. 31. Mark 7. 37.

17 And none may ſay, What is this? wherefore is that? for at time convenient they ſhall all be ſought out: at his commandment the waters ſtand as an heap, and at the words of his mouth the receptacles of waters.

18 At his commandment is done whatſoever pleaſeth him, and none can hinder when he will ſave.

19 The works of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.
 20 He seeth from revealing to everlasting; and there is nothing wonderful before him.
 21 A man need not to say, What is this? wherefore is that? for he hath made all things for their uses.
 22 His blessing covered the dry land as a river, and watered it as a flood.
 23 As he hath turned the waters into saltness: so shall the heathen inherit his wrath.
 24 As his waters are plain unto the holy, so are they stumbling blocks unto the wicked.
 25 For the good are good things created from the beginning: so evil things for sinners.
 26 The principall things for the whole use of mans life, are water, fire, iron, and salt, flour of wheat, honey, milk, and the blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.
 27 All these things are for good to the godly: so to the sinners they are turned into evil.
 28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance, which in their fury lay on sore strokes, in the time of destruction they pour out their force, and appease the wrath of him that made them.
 29 Fire and hail, and famine, and death, all these were created for vengeance:
 30 Teeth of wilde beasts, and scorpions, || serpents, and the sword, punishing the wicked to destruction.
 31 They shall rejoyce in his commandment, and they shall be ready upon earth when need is, and when their time is come they shall not transgresse his word.
 32 Therefore from the beginning I was resolved, and thought upon these things, and have left them in writing.
 33 All the works of the Lord are good: and he will give every needfull thing in due season.
 34 So that a man cannot say, This is worse then that: for in time they shall be well approved.
 35 And therefore praise ye the Lord with the whole heart and mouth, and blesse the Name of the Lord.

CHAP. XL.

1 Many miseries in a mans life. 12 The reward of unrighteousnesse, and the fruit of true dealing.
 17 A vertuous wife, and an honest friend: rejoyce the heart; but the fear of the Lord is above all.
 28 A beggers life is hateful.

Great travell is created for every man, and an heavey yoke is upon the sonnes of Adam, from the day that they go out of their mothers womb, till the day that they return to the mother of all things.

2 Their imagination of things to come, and the day of death [trouble] their thoughts, and [cause] fear of heart:

3 From him that sitteth on a throne of glorie, unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes;

4 From him that weareth purple and a crown, || unto him that is clothed with a linen frock.

5 Wrath and envie, trouble and unquietnesse, fear of death, and anger, and strife, and in the time of rest upon his bed his night sleep do change his knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his rest, and afterward he is in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch, troubled in the vision of his heart, as if he were escaped out of a battell:

7 When all is safe, he awaketh and marvelleth that the fear was nothing.

8 [Such things happen] unto all flesh, both man and beast, & that is seven fold more upon sinners.

9 Death and bloud, shew, strife and sword, calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge.

10 These things are created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the flood.

11 All things that are of the earth shall turn to the earth again: and that which is of the waters doth return into the sea.

12 All || barbarie and injustice shall be blotted out: but true dealing shall endure for ever.

13 The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river, and shall vanish with a noise, like a great chunder in rain.

14 While he openeth his hand he shall rejoyce: so shall transgression come to nought.

15 The children of the ungodly shall not bring forth many branches: but are as unclean roots upon a hard rock.

16 The weed growing upon every water, and bank of a river, shall be pulled up before all grasse.

17 Bountifulnesse is as a || most fruitful garden, and mercifulnesse endureth for ever.

18 To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweet life: but he that findeth a treasure, is above them both.

19 Children and the building of a city continue a mans name: but a blamelesse wife is counted above them both.

20 Wine and musk rejoyce the heart: but the love of wisdom is above them both.

21 The pipe and the plauterie make sweet melody: but a pleasant tongue is above them both.

22 Thine eye desireth labour and beautie: but more then both, corn while it is green.

23 A friend and companion never meet amisse: but above both is a wife with her husband.

24 Brethren and help are against time of trouble: but alms shall deliver more then them both.

25 Gold and silver make the foot stand sure: but counsell is esteemed above them both.

26 Riches and strength lift up the heart: but the fear of the Lord is above them both: there is no want in the fear of the Lord, and it needeth not to seek help.

27 The fear of the Lord is a || fruitful garden, and covereth him above all glory.

28 My sonne, lead not a beggers life, for better it is to die then to beg.

29 The life of him that dependeth on another mans table, is not to be counted for a life: for he polluteth himself with other mens meat, but a wise man well nurtured will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweet in the mouth of the shamelesse: but in his belly there shall burn a fire.

CHAP. XLI.

1 The remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 5 The ungodly shall be accursed. 11 Of an evil and a good name. 14 Wisdom is to be uttered. 16 Of what things we should be ashamed.

O Death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liveth at rest in his possessions, unto the man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperitie in all things; yea, unto him that is yet able to receive meat!

2 O death, acceptable is thy sentence unto the needie, and unto him whose strength faileth, that is now in the last age, and || is vexed with all things, and to him that despiseth, and hath lost patience.

3 Fear not the sentence of death, remember them that have been before thee, and that came after, for this is the sentence of the Lord over all flesh.

1 Or, so whom every thing is troublesome

4 And why art thou against the pleasure of the most high? there is no inquisition in the grave, whether thou have lived ten, or an hundred, or a thousand years.

5 The children of sinners are abominable children, and they that are conversant in the dwelling of the ungodly.

6 The inheritance of sinners children shall perish, and their posteritie shall have a perpetuall reproach.

7 The children will complain of an ungodly father, because they shall be reproached for his sake.

8 Mo be unto you ungodly men which have forsaken the law of the most high God: for if you increase, it shall be to your destruction.

9 And if you be born, you shall be born to a curse: and if you die, a curse shall be your portion.

10 * All that are of the earth shall turn to earth again: to the ungodly shall go from a curse to destruction.

11 The mourning of men is about their bodies: but an ill name of sinners shall be blotted out.

12 Have regard to thy name: for that shall continue with thee above a thousand great treasures of gold.

13 A good life hath but few dales: but a good name endureth for ever.

14 My children, keep discipline in peace: for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen, what prophet is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hideth his wisdom.

16 Therefore be shamefast according to my word: for it is not good to retain all shamefastnesse, neither is it altogether approved in every thing.

17 Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother, and of a lie before a prince and a mightie man:

18 Of an offence before a judge and ruler, of iniquitie before a congregation and people, of unjust dealing before thy partner and friend:

19 And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojourneest, and in regard of the truth of God and his covenant, and to lean with thine elbow upon the meat, and of scorning to give and take:

20 And of silence before them that salute thee, and to look upon an harlot:

21 And to turn away thy face from thy kinsman, or to take away a portion of a gift, or to gaze upon another mans wife:

22 Or to be over-busie with his maid, and come not near her bed, or of upbraiding speeches before friends: and after thou hast given, upbraid not:

23 Or of iterating and speaking again that which thou hast heard, and of revealing of secrets.

24 So shalt thou be truly shamefast, and finde favour before all men.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Whereof we should not be ashamed. 9 Be careful of thy daughter. 12 Beware of a woman. 15 The works and greatnesse of God.

OF these things be not thou ashamed, and accept no person to sinne thereby.

2 Of the law of the most high, and his covenant, and of judgement to justifie the ungodly:

3 Of reckoning with thy partners and thy travellers, or of the gift of the heritage of friends:

4 Of exactnesse of balance and weights, or of getting much of little:

5 And of merchants // indifferent sellings, of much correction of children, and to make the side of an evil servant to bleed.

6 Sure keeping is good where an evil wife is, and shut up where many hands are.

7 Deliber all things in number and weight, and put all in writing that thou // givest out, or receivest in.

8 Be not ashamed to // inform the unwise and foolish, and the extreme aged // that contendeth with those that are young: thus shalt thou be truly learned, and approved of all men living.

9 The father waketh for the daughter when no man knoweth, and the care for her taketh away sleep: when she is young, lest she passe away the flower of her age; and being married, lest she should be hated:

10 In her virginitee lest she should be defiled, and gotten with childe in her fathers house: and having an husband, lest she should mis-behave her self, and when she is married, lest she should be barren.

11 Keep a sure watch over a shamelesse daughter, lest she make thee a laughing stock to thine enemies, and a by-word in the city, and a reproach among the people, and make thee ashamed before the multitude.

12 Behold not every bodie // beautie, and sit not in the midst of women.

13 For from garments cometh a moth, and // from women wickednesse.

14 Better is the // churlesnesse of a man, then a courteous woman, a woman, 1 say, which bringeth shame and reproach.

15 I will now remember the works of the Lord, and declare the things that I have seen: In the words of the Lord are his works.

16 The sunne that giveth light, looketh upon all things, and the work thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.

17 The Lord hath not given power to the saints to declare all his marvellous works, which the Almighty Lord firmly setteth, that whatsoever is, might be established for his glory.

18 He seeketh out the deep, and the heart, and considereth their craftie devices: for // the Lord knoweth all that may be known, and he beholdeth the signes of the world.

19 He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and revealeth the steps of hidden things.

20 * Though // escapeth him, neither any word is hidden from him.

21 He hath garnished the excellent works of his wisdom, and he is from everlasting to everlasting: unto him may nothing be added, neither can he be diminished, and he hath no need of any counsellor.

22 How desirable are all his works! and that a man may see even to a spark.

23 All these things live and remain for ever, for all uses, and they are all obedient.

24 All things are double one against another: and he hath made nothing imperfect.

25 One thing establisheth the good of another: and who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The works of God in heaven, and in earth, and in the sea, are exceeding glorious and wonderful, yet God himself in his power and wisdom is above all.

THE pride of the height, the clear firmament, the beauty of heaven, with his glorious shew: 2 The sunne when it appeareth, declaring at his rising a marvellous // instrument, the work of the most high.

3 At noon it pareth the country, and who can abide the burning heat thereof?

4 A man blowing a furnace is in works of heat, but the sunne burneth the mountaines three times more: breathing out fiery vapours, and sending forth bright beams, it dimmeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lord that made it, and at his commandment // it runneth haltilly.

6 He made the moon also to serve in her season, for a declaration of times, and a signe of the world.

7 From the moon is the signe of feasts, a light that decreaseth in her perfection.

8 The moneth is called after her name, increasing wonderfully in her changing, being an instrument of the armies above, shining in the firmament of heaven.

9 The beauty of heaven, the glory of the starres, an ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.

10 At the commandment of the holy One they will stand in their order, and never faint in their watches.

11 Look upon the rainbow, and praise him that made it, very beautifull it is in the brightnesse thereof.

12 It compasseth the heaven about with a glorious circle, and the hands of the most high have bended it.

13 By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall apace, and sendeth swiftly the lightnings of his judgement.

14 Through this the treasures are opened, and clouds file forth as fowls.

15 By his great power he maketh the clouds firm, and the hail-stones are broken small.

16 At his sight the mountaines are shaken, and at his will the south-winde bloweth.

17 The noise of the thunder maketh the earth // to tremble: in doth the northern storm and the whist-winde as birds flying he scattereth the snow, and the falling down thereof is as the lighting of grasshoppers.

18 The eye marvelleth at the beautie of the whitenesse thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raining of it.

19 The hoar-frost also as salt he poureth on the earth, and being congealed, it lieth on the top of sharp stakes.

20 When the cold north-winde bloweth, and the water is congealed into ice, it abideth upon every gathering together of water, and closeth the water as with a breast-plate.

21 It devoureth the mountaines, and burneth the wilderness, and consumeth the grasse as fire.

22 A present remedy of all is a mist coming speedily: a dew coming // after heat, refresheth.

23 By his counsell he appealeth the deep, and planeth islands therein.

24 They that sail on the sea, tell the danger thereof; and when we hear it with our ears, we marvel thereat.

25 For therein be strange and wonderous works, variety of all kinds of beasts, and whales created.

26 By him the end of them hath prosperous successe, and by his word all things consist.

27 We may speak much, and yet come short: wherefore in summe, he is all.

28 How shall we be able to magnifie him? for he is great above all his works.

29 The Lord is terrible and very great, and marvellous is his power.

30 When you glorifie the Lord, exalt him as much as you can: for even yet will he far exceed, and when you exalt him, put forth all your strength, and be not weary: for you can never go farre enough.

31 Who hath seen him that he might tell us? and who can magnifie him as he is?

32 There are yet his greater things then these be, for we have seen but a few of his works:

33 For the Lord hath made all things; and to the godly hath he given wisdom.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 The praise of certain holy men: 16 Of Enoch, 17 Noah, 19 Abraham, 22 Isaac, 23 and Jacob.

Let us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us.

2 The Lord hath wrought great glory by them, through his great power from the beginning.

3 Such as did bear rule in their kingdome, men renowned for their power, giving counsell by their understanding, and declaring propheties:

4 Leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their knowledge of learning meet for the people, wise and eloquent in their instructions.

5 Such as found out muscull tunes, and recited verses in writing.

6 Rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations.

7 All these were honoured in their generations, and were the glory of their times.

8 There be of them that have left a name behinde them, that their praises might be reported.

9 And some there be which have no memoriall, who are perished as though they had never been, and are become as though they had never been born, and their children after them.

10 But these were mercifull men, whose righteousness hath not been forgotten.

11 With their seed shall continually remain a good inheritance, and their children are within the covenant.

12 Their seed stands fast, and their children // for their sakes.

13 Their seed shall remain for ever, and their glory shall not be blotted out.

14 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liveth for evermore.

15 The people will tell of their wisdom, and the congregation will shew forth their praise.

16 Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated, being an example of repentance to all generations.

17 Noah was found perfect and righteous in the time of wrath, he was taken in exchange (for the world) therefore was he left as a remnant unto the earth when the flood came.

18 An everlasting covenant was made with him, that all flesh should perish no more by the flood.

19 Abraham was a great father of many people: in glory was there none like unto him.

20 Who kept the law of the most high, and was in covenant with him: he established the covenant in his flesh, and when he was proved, he was found faithful.

21 Therefore he assured him by an oath, that he would bless the nations in his seed, and that he would multiply him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seed as the stars, and cause them to inherit from sea to sea, and from the river unto the utmost part of the land.

22 With Isaac did he establish likewise (for Abraham his fathers sake) the blessing of all men, and the covenant.

23 And made it rest upon the head of Jacob, he acknowledged him in his blessing, and gave him an heritage, and divided his portions, among the twelve tribes did he part them.

C H A P. XLV.

1 The praise of Moses, 6 of Aaron, 23 and of Phinees.

AND he brought out of him a mercifull man, which found favour in the sight of all flesh, even * Moyses beloved of God and men, whose memoriall is blessed.

2 He made him like to the glorious saints, and magnified him, so that his enemies stood in fear of him.

3 By his wordes he caused the wonders to cease, and he made him * glorious in the sight of kings, and gave him a commandment for his people, and shewed him part of his glory.

4 He sanctified him in his faithfulness, and meeknesse, and chose him out of all men.

5 He made him to hear his voice, and brought him into the dark cloud, and * gave him commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge, that he might teach Jacob his covenants, and Israel his judgements.

6 He * exalted Aaron an holy man like unto him, even his brother of the tribe of Levi.

7 An everlasting covenant he made with him, and gave him the priesthood among the people, † he beautified him with comely ornaments, and clothed him with a robe of glory.

8 He put upon him perfect glory, and strengthened him with † rich garments, with breeches, with a long robe and the ephod.

9 And he compassed him with pomegranates, and with many golden bells round about, that as he went, there might be a * sound, and a noise made that might be heard in the temple for a memoriall to the children of his people.

10 With an holy garment, with gold and blue silk, and purple, the work of the embroiderer, with a breast-plate of judgement, and with Urim and Thummim.

11 With twisted scarlet, the work of the cunning workman, with precious stones graven like seals, and set in gold, the work of the jeweller, with a writing engraved for a memoriall, after the number of the tribes of Israel.

12 He set a crown of gold upon the mitre, wherein was engraven Holiness, an ornament of honour, a costly work, the desires of the eyes, goodly and beautifull.

13 Before him there were none such, neither did ever any stranger put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Their sacrifices shall be wholly consumed every day twice continually.

15 Moyses consecrated him, and anointed him with holy oil, this was appointed unto him by an everlasting covenant, and to his seed to long as the heaven should remain, that they should minister unto him, and execute the office of the priesthood, and blesse the people in his name.

16 He chose him out of all men liking to offer sacrifices to the Lord, incense and a sweet savour, for a memoriall, to make reconciliation for his people.

17 He gave unto him his commandments, and authority in the statutes of judgements, that he should teach Jacob the testimonies, and inform Israel in his lawes.

18 * Strangers conspired together against him, and maligned him in the wilderness, even the men that were of Dathans, and Abirons side, and the congregation of Core with fury and wrath.

19 This the Lord saw, and it displeased him, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: he did wonders upon them to consume them with the fiery flame.

20 * But he made Aaron more honourable, and gave him an heritage, and divided unto him the first-fruits of the increase, especially he prepared bread in abundance:

21 For they eat of the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gave unto him and his seed:

22 * Howbeit in the land of the people he had no inheritance, neither had he any portion among the people: for the Lord himself is his portion and inheritance.

23 * The child in glory is Phinees the sonne of Eleazar, because he had zeal in the fear of the Lord, and stood up with good courage of heart, when the people were turned back, and made reconciliation for Israel.

24 Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chief of the sanctuary and of his people, and that he and his posterity should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever.

25 According to the covenant made with David sonne of Jesse, of the tribe of Juda, that the inheritance of the king should be to his posterity alone: so the inheritance of Aaron should also be unto his seed.

26 God give you wisdom in your heart to judge his people in righteousness, that their good things be not abolished, and that their glory may endure for ever.

C H A P. XLVI.

1 The praise of Joshua, 9 of Caleb, 13 of Samuel.

JESUS * the sonne of Nave was ballant in the wars, and was the succellour of Moyses in prophesies, who according to his name was made great for the saving of the elect of God, and taking vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them, that he might set Israel in their inheritance.

2 How great glory gat he when he did lift up his hands, and stretched out his sword against the cities.

3 Who before him so stood to it? for the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.

4 * Did not the sunne go back by his means? and was not one day as long as two?

5 He called upon the most high Lord when the enemies pressed upon him on every side, and the great Lord heard him.

6 And with hailstones of mighty power he made the battell to fall violently upon the nations, and in the descent (of Bethoron) he destroyed them that resisted, that the nations might know all their strength, because he fought in the sight of the Lord, and he followed the mighty One.

7 In the time of Moyses also he did a work of mercy, he and Caleb the sonne of Iephunne, in that they withstood the congregation, and withheld the people from sinne, and appeased the wicked murmuring.

8 * And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two were preferred to bring them into the heritage, even unto the land that floweth with milk and honey.

9 The Lord gave strength also unto Caleb, which remained with him unto his old age; so that he entred upon the high places of the land, and his seed obtained it for an heritage.

10 That all the children of Israel might see that it is good to follow the Lord.

11 And concerning the judges, every one by name, whose heart went not a whooring, nor departed from the Lord, let their memory be blessed.

12 Let their bones * flourish out of their place, and let the name of them that were honoured, be continued upon their children.

13 * Samuel the Prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord, established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.

14 By the Law of the Lord he judged the congregation, and the Lord had respect unto Jacob.

15 By his faithfulness he was found a true Prophet, and by his word he was known to be faithful in vision.

16 He called upon the mighty Lord, when his enemies pressed upon him on every side, when he offered the sucking lamb.

17 And the Lord thundred from heaven, and with a great noise made his voice to be heard.

18 And he destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians, and all the princes of the Philistines.

19 And before his long sleep he made * protestations in the sight of the Lord and his anointed, I have not taken any mans goods, so much as a shoe : and no man did accuse him.

20 And after his death * he prophesied, and shewed the king his end, and lift up his voice from the earth in prophesie, to blot out the wickednesse of the people.

CHAP. XLVII.

1 The praise of Nathan, 2 of David, 12 of Solomon, his glory, and infirmities, 23 of his end and punishment.

And after him rose up * Nathan to prophesie in the time of David.

2 As is the fat taken away from the peace-offering, so was David chosen out of the children of Israel.

3 He played with * lions as with kids, and with bears, as with lambs.

4 * Slew he not a giant when he was yet but young? and did he not take away reproch from the people, when he lifted up his hand with the stone in the sling, and beat down the boasting of Goliath?

5 For he called upon the most high Lord, and he gave him strength in his right hand to slay that mighty warrior, and set up the horn of his people.

6 So the people honoured him with * ten thousand, and praised him in the blessings of the Lord, in that he gave him a crown of glory.

7 For * he destroyed the enemies on every side, and brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries, and brake their horn in sunder unto this day.

8 In all his works he praised the holy one most high, with words of glory, with his whole heart he sung songs, and loved him that made him.

9 He set fingers also before the altar, that by their voices they might make sweet melody, and daily sing praises in their songs.

10 He beautified their seats, and set in order the solemn times, until the end, that they might praise his holy Name, and that the temple might sound from morning.

11 * The Lord took away his sinnes, and exalted his horn for ever : he gave him a covenant of kings, and a throne of glory in Israel.

12 After him rose up a wise sonne, and for his sake he dwelt at Gath.

13 * Solomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was honoured; for God made all quiet round about him, that he might build an house in his name, and prepared his sanctuary for ever.

14 * How wise wast thou in thy youth, and as a flood filled with understanding!

15 Thy soule covered the whole earth, and thou silend it with dark parables.

16 Thy name went far unto the islands; and for thy peace thou wast beloved.

17 * The countreys marvelled at thee for thy songs, and proverbs, and parables, and interpretations.

18 By the name of the Lord God, which is called the Lord God of Israel, thou didst * gather gold as tin, and didst multiply silver as lead.

19 * Thou didst bow thy loynes unto women, and by thy body thou wast brought into subjection.

20 Thou didst stain thy honour, and pollute thy seed : so that thou broughtest wrath upon thy children, and wast grieved for thy folly.

21 * So the kingdom was divided, and out of Ephraim ruled a rebellious kingdom.

22 * But the Lord will never leave off his wrath, neither shall any of his works perish, neither will he abolish the posterity of his elect, and the seed of him that loveth him he will not take away : wherefore he gave a remnant unto Jacob, and out of him a root unto David.

23 Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and of his seed he left behinde him Roboam, even the foolishness of the people, and one that had no understanding, who * turned away the people through his counsell. There was also Jeroboam the sonne of Nebat, who * caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of sinne :

24 And their sinnes were multiplied exceedingly, that they were driven out of the land.

25 For they sought out all wickednesse, till the vengeance came upon them.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The praise of Elias, 12 Of Elizeus, 17 and of Ezekias.

Then stood up * Elias the Prophet as fire, and his word burnt like a lamp.

2 He brought a sore famine upon them, and by his zeal he diminished their number.

3 By the word of the Lord he * shut up the heaven, * and also three times brought down fire.

4 O Elias, how wast thou honoured in thy wondrous deeds : and who may glory like unto thee!

5 * Altho didst raise up a dead man from death, and his soul from the place of the dead by the word of the most high.

6 * Altho broughtest kings to destruction, and honourable men from their bed.

7 Altho heardest the rebuke of the Lord in Sema, * and in thine judgement of vengeance.

8 * Altho anointed kings to take revenge, and prophets to succeed after him.

9 * Altho was taken up in a whirlwinde of fire, and in a chariot of fiery horses.

10 Altho wast * ordained for reproofs in their times, to pacifie the wrath of the Lords judgement before he brake forth into fury, and to turn the heart of the father unto the sonne, and to restore the tribes of Jacob.

11 Blessed are they that saw thee, and slept in love, for we shall surely live.

12 * Elias it was, who was covered with a whirlwinde : and Elizeus was filled with his spirit : whilst he lived he was not moved [with the presence] of any prince, neither could any bring him into subjection.

13 * No word could overcome him, * and after his death his body prophesied.

14 He did wonders in his life, and at his death were his works marvellous.

15 For all this the people repented not; neither departed they from their sins, till they were spoiled and carried out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth : yet there remained a small people, and a ruler in the house of David.

CHAP. L.

1 Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 How the people were taught to praise God, and pray. 27 The conclusion.

Simon the high Priest the sonne of Onias, who in his life repaired the house again, and in his dayes fortified the temple.

2 And by him was built from the foundation the double height, the high forefront of the wall about the temple.

3 In his dayes the * cistern to receive water, being in compasse as the sea, was covered with plates of bras.

* 1 Kin. 7. 23.

4 He took care of the temple that it should not fall, and fortified the cite against besieging.

5 How was he honoured in the midst of the people, in his coming out of the sanctuary!

6 He was as the morning star in the midst of a cloud, and as the moon at the full:

¶ Or, the house of the vail.

7 As the sunne shining upon the temple of the most high, and as the rain-bow giving light in the bright clouds:

8 And as the flower of roses in the spring of the year, as lilies by the rivers of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense tree in the time of summer:

9 As fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessell of beaten gold set with all manner of precious stones:

10 And as a faire olive-tree budding forth fruit, and as a cypresse-tree, which groweth up to the clouds.

11 When he put on the robe of honour, and was clothed with the perfection of glory, when he went up to the holy Altar, he made the garment of holiness honourable.

12 When he took the portions out of the priests hands, he himself stood by the hearth of the Altar, compassed with his brethren round about, as a young cedar in Libanus, and as palm-trees compassed their him round about.

13 So were all the sonnes of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

14 And finishing the service at the altar, that he might adorn the offering of the most high Almighty.

15 He stretched out his hand to the cup, and poured of the blood of the grape, he poured out at the foot of the Altar, a sweet smelling savour unto the most high King of all.

16 Then shouted the sonnes of Aaron, and sounded the silver trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the most high.

¶ Or, trumpets beaten forth with the hammer.

17 Then all the people together hastened, and fell down to the earth upon their faces to worship their Lord God Almighty the most high.

18 The singers also sang praises with their voices, with great variety of sounds was there made sweet melody.

19 And the people besought the Lord the most high by prayer before him that is mercifull, till the the solemnitie of the Lord was ended, and they had finished his service.

20 Then he went down, and lifted up his hands over the whole congregation of the children of Israel, to give the blessing of the Lord with his lips, and to rejoyce in his name.

21 And they bowed themselves down to worship the second time, that they might receive a blessing from the most High.

22 Now therefore blesse ye the God of all which onely doth wondrous things every where, which createth our dayes from the wombe, and dealeth with us according to his merite.

23 He grant us joyfulnesse of heart, and that peace may be in our dayes in Israel for ever.

24 That he would confirm his mercy with us, and deliver us at his time.

25 There be two manner of nations which my heart abhorreth, and the third is no nation.

26 They that sit upon the mountain of Samaria, and they that dwell among the Philistines, and that foolish people that dwell in Sichem.

27 Jesus the sonne of Sirach of Jerusalem hath written this booke, the instruction of understanding and knowledge, who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.

28 Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things, and he that layeth them up in his heart, shall become wise.

29 For if he do them, he shall be strong to all things: for the light of the Lord leadeth him, who giveth wisdom to the godly: blessed be the Lord for ever, Amen, Amen.

CHAP. LI.

A prayer of Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

I thank thee, O Lord and king, and praise thee, O God my Saviour, I do give praise unto thy Name.

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserved my body from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lips that forge lies, and hast been mine helper against mine adversaries:

3 And hast delivered me according to the multitude of thy mercies, and greatness of thy Name from the teeth of them that were ready to devour me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions which I had:

4 From the choking of fire on every side, and from the mids of the fire which I kindled not:

5 From the depth of the belly of hell, from an unclean tongue, and from lying words:

6 By an accusation to the king from an unrighteous tongue, my soul drew neer even unto death, my life was neer to the hell beneath.

7 They compassed me on every side, and there was no man to help me: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.

8 Then thought I upon thy mercy, O Lord, and upon thy acts of old, how thou deliverest such as wait for thee, and savest them out of the hands of the enemies.

9 Then lifted I up my supplication from the earth, and prayed for deliverance from death.

10 I called upon the Lord the Father of my Lord, that he would not leave me in the dayes of my trouble, and in the time of the pincn when there was no help.

11 I will praise thy name continually, and will sing praise with thanksgiving, and to my prayer was heard.

12 For thou savedst me from destruction, and deliveredst me from the evil time: therefore will I give thanks, and praise thee, and blesse thy name, O Lord.

13 When I was yet young, or ever I went abroad, I desired wisdom openly in my prayer.

14 I prayed for her before the temple, and will seek her out, even to the end.

15 Even from the flower till the grape was ripe, hath my heart delighted in her, my foot went the right way, from my youth up sought I after her.

16 I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her, and gat much learning.

17 I prosted therein, [therefore] will I ascribe the glory unto him that giveth me wisdom:

18 For I purposed to do after her, and earnestly I followed that which is good, so shall I not be confounded.

19 My soul hath wrestled with her, and in my doings I was exact, I stretched forth my hands to the heaven above, and bewailed my ignorances of her.

20 I directed my soul unto her, and I found her in pureness, I have had my heart joyned with her from the beginning, therefore shall I not be forgotten.

21 My heart was troubled in seeking her: therefore have I gotten a good possession.

22 The Lord hath given me a tongue for my reward, and I will praise him therewith.

23 Draw neer unto me, you unlearned, and dwell in the house of learning.

24 Wherefore are you slow, and what say you of these things, seeing your souls are very thirsty?

25 I opened my mouth, and said, Buy her for your selves without money.

26 Put your neck under the yoke, and let your soul receive instruction, she is hard at hand to finde.

27 Behold with your eyes, how that I have had but little labour, and have gotten unto me much rest.

28 Get learning with a great summe of money, and get much gold by her.

29 Let your soul rejoyce in his mercy, and be not ashamed of his praise.

30 Work your work betimes, and in his time he will give you your reward.

BARUCH.

CHAP. I.

1 Baruch wrote a book in Babylon. 5 The Jews there wept at the reading of it. 7 They sent money and the book to the brethren at Jerusalem.

And these are the words of the book, which Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedecias, the sonne of Adasias, the sonne of Chelcias, wrote in Babylon.

2 In the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire.

3 And Baruch did read the words of this book, in the hearing of Jeconias the son of Joachim king of Juda, and in the ears of all the people that came to hear the book,

4 And in the hearing of the nobles, and of the kings sonnes, and in the hearing of the elders, and

and of all the people, from the lowest unto the highest, even of all them that dwell at Babylon by the river Sid.

Or, and vowed vows

5 Whereupon they wept, fasted 11 and prayed before the Lord.

6 They made also a collection of money, according to every mans power.

Or, Joachim

7 And they sent it to Jerusalem unto 11 Joachim the high Priest the son of Chelcias, sonne of Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem.

8 At the same time, when he received the vessels of the house of the Lord that were carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Iuda the tenth day of the moneth Sivan, [namely] 1 silver vessels, which Sedecias the son of Josias king of Iuda had made,

Or, prisoners.

9 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away Iechonias, and the princes, and the 11 captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon:

11 And pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of Balthazar his son, that their dayes may be upon earth as the dayes of heaven.

12 And the Lord will give us strength, and lighten our eyes, and we shall live under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Balthazar his sonne, and we shall serve them many dayes, and finde favour in their sight.

13 Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, (for we have sinned against the Lord our God, and unto this day the fury of the Lord, and his wrath is not turned from us)

14 And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the feasts and solemn dayes.

15 And ye shall say, To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us the confusion of faces, as it is come to passe this day, unto them of Iuda, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

16 And to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers.

* Dan. 9.5.

17 For we have sinned before the Lord,

18 And disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments that he gave us openly:

19 Since the day that the Lord brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have been negligent in not hearing his voice.

20 * Wherefore the evils cleaved unto us, and the curse which the Lord appointed by Moyses his servant, at the time that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, like as it is to see this day.

21 Nevertheless, we have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us:

22 But every man followed the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do evill in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAP. II.

The prayer and confession which the Jews at Babylon made, and sent in that book unto the brethren in Jerusalem.

Therefore the Lord hath made good his word which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Iuda,

2 To bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, as it came to passe in Jerusalem, according to the things that were written in the law of Moyses,

3 That a man should eat the flesh of his own sonne, and the flesh of his own daughter.

* Deu. 28.53.

4 Moreover, he hath delivered them to be in subjection to all the kingdoms that are round about us, to be as a reproach and desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them.

5 Thus we 1 were cast down, and not exalted, because we have sinned against the Lord our God, and have not been obedient unto his voice.

6 * To the Lord our God appertained righteousness: but unto us and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.

7 For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced against us.

8 Yet have we not prayed before the Lord, that we might turn every one from the imaginations of his wicked heart.

9 Wherefore the Lord watched over us for evil, and the Lord hath brought it upon us: for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us.

10 Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice to walk in the commandments of the Lord, that he hath set before us.

11 * And now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and high arm, and with signes and with wonders, and with great power, and hast gotten thyself a name, as appeareth this day:

* Dan. 9.15.

12 O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances.

13 Let thy wrath turn from us: for we are but a few left among the brethren, where thou hast scattered us.

14 Hear our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away:

15 That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because 11 Israel and his posterity is called by thy Name.

16 O Lord, * look down from thy holy house, and consider us: bow down thine ear, O Lord, to hear us.

17 Open thine eyes and behold, for the * dead that are in the graves, whose 11 souls are taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither praise nor righteousness:

18 But the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stouping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul will give thee praise and righteousness, O Lord.

19 * Therefore we do not make our humble supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings.

20 For thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying,

21 * Thus saith the Lord, Bow down your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon: so shall ye

23 I will cause to cease out of the cities of Juda, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of joy: the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, and the whole land shall be desolate of inhabitants.

24 But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hath thou made good the words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers should be taken out of their places.

25 And so, they are cast out to the heat of the day, and to the frost of the night, and they died in great misery, by famine, by sword, and by pestilence.

26 And the house which is called by thy name (hast thou said waste) as it is to be seen this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel, and the house of Juda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy goodness, and according to all that great mercy of thine.

28 As thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying,

29 * If ye will not hear my voice, surely I this very great multitude shall be turned into a small [number] among the nations, where I will scatter them.

30 For I knew that they would not hear me, because it is a stiff-necked people: but in the land of their captivities, they shall remember themselves.

31 And shall know that I am the Lord their God: for I give them an heart, and ears to hear.

32 And they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and think upon my name.

33 And return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.

34 And I will bring them again into the land, which I promised with an oath unto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shall be lords of it, and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.

35 And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more divide my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

CHAP. III.

3 The rest of their prayer and confession contained in that book which Baruch wrote, and sent to Jerusalem.

30 Wisdom was shewed first to Jacob, and was seen upon the earth.

O Lord Almighty, God of Israel, the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit crieth unto thee.

2 Hear, O Lord, and have mercy: for thou art merciful, and have pity upon us, because we have sinned before thee.

3 For thou endurest for ever, and we perish utterly.

4 O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayers of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which have sinned before thee, and not hearkened unto the voice of thee their God: for the which cause these plagues cleave unto us.

5 Remember not the iniquities of our forefathers: but think upon thy powers, and thy name, now at this time.

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.

7 And for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, to the intent that we should call upon thy name, and praise thee in our captivity: for we have called to mind all the iniquity of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

8 Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to painments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

9 Hear Israel, the commandments of life, give ear to understand wisdom.

10 How happeneth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land, that thou art wakened in a strange country, that thou art defiled with the dead,

11 That thou art counted with them that go down into the grave?

12 Thou hast forsaken the fountain of wisdom.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldst have dwelled in peace for ever.

14 Learn where is wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding; that thou mayest know also where is length of days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace.

15 * Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beasts upon the earth,

17 They that had their pasture with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trust, and made no end of their getting?

18 For they that wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are unsearchable, 19 They are vanished and gone down to the grave, and others are come up in their steads.

20 Young men have seen light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge have they not known,

21 Nor understood the paths thereof, nor laid hold of it: their children were farre off from that way.

22 It hath not been heard of in Chanaan, neither hath it been seen in Chanaan.

23 The Agarenes that seek wisdom upon earth, the merchants of Beroan, and of Cheman, the hundreds of fables, and searchers out of understanding: none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remember her paths.

24 O Israel, how great is the house of God, and how large is the place of his dwelling!

25 Great, and hath none end: high, and unmeasurable.

26 There were the giants famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in warre.

27 Those did not the Lord chuse, neither gave he the way of knowledge unto them.

28 But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their own foolishness.

29 * Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds?

30 * Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her for pure gold?

31 No man knoweth her way, nor thinketh of her path.

32 But he that knoweth all things, knoweth her, and hath found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for dwelling, he that filled it with fourfooted beasts.

2 Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it : walk † in the presence of the light thereof, that thou mayest be illuminated.

3 Give not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee, to a strange nation.

4 O Israel, happy are we : for things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us.

5 Be of good cheer my people, the memoriall of Israel.

6 Ye were sold to the nations, not for [your] destruction : but because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto the enemies.

* 1 Cor 10:20

7 For ye provoked him that made you, by * sacrificing unto devils, and not to God.

8 Ye have forgotten the everlasting God, that brought you up, and ye have grieved Jerusalem that nursed you.

9 For when he saw the wrath of God coming upon you, she said, Hearken, O ye that dwell about Sion : God hath brought upon me great mourning.

10 For I saw the captivity of my sonnes and daughters, which the Everlasting brought upon them.

11 Which joy did I nourish them: but sent them away with weeping and mourning.

12 Let no man rejoyce over me a widow, and forsaken of many, who for the sinnes of my children am left desolate, because they departed from the law of God.

13 They knew not his statutes, nor walked in the wayes of his commandments, nor trode in the paths † of discipline in his righteousness.

Or of his discipline in righteousnes.

14 Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the everlasting hath brought upon them.

15 For he hath brought a nation upon them from far : a shamelesse nation, and of a strange language, who neither revered old man, nor pitied child.

16 These have carried away the dear beloved children of the widow, and left her that was alone, desolate without daughters.

17 But what can I help you ?

18 For he that brought these plagues upon you, will deliver you from the hands of your enemies.

Or, proficacy.

19 Go your way, O my children, go your way : for I am left desolate.

20 I have put off the clothing of † peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my prayer : I will cry unto the Everlasting † in my dayes.

21 Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto the Lord, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies.

22 For my hope is in the Everlasting, that he will save you, and joy is come unto me from the holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from the Everlasting our Saviour.

23 For I sent you out with mourning and weeping : but God will give you to me again, with joy and gladnesse for ever.

24 Like as now the neighbours of Sion have seen your captivity, so shall they see shortly your salvation from our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting.

25 O ye children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God : for thine enemy hath persecuted thee : but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread upon his neck.

26 Like as delicate ones have gone rough wayes, and were taken away as a flock caught of the enemies.

Or, my darlings.

27 Be of good comfort, O my children, and cry unto God : for you shall be remembered of him that brought these things upon you.

28 For as it was your minde to go astray from God : so being returned, seek him ten times more.

29 For he that hath brought these plagies upon you, shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation.

30 Take a good heart, O Jerusalem : for he that gave thee that name, will comfort thee.

31 Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoyced at thy fall.

32 Miserable are the cities which thy children served : miserable is she that received thy sons.

33 For as she rejoyced at thy ruine, and was glad of the fall : so shall she be grieved for her own desolation.

34 For I will take away the rejoycing of her great multitude, and her pride shall be turned into mourning.

35 For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure, and she shall be inhabited of devils for a great time.

36 O Jerusalem, look about thee towards the east, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God.

37 Lo, thy sons come whom thou sentest away, they come gathered together from the east to the west, by the word of the holy One, rejoycing in the glory of God.

CHAP. V.

1 Jerusalem is moved to rejoyce, 5 and to behold their return out of captivity with glory.

Put off, O Jerusalem, the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever.

2 Cast about thee a double garment of the righteousness which cometh from God, and set a diadem on thine head, of the glory of the Everlasting.

3 For God will shew thy brightness unto every countrey under heaven.

4 For thy name shall be called of God for ever, The peace of righteousness, and the glory of Gods worship.

5 Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand on high, and look about toward the east, and behold thy children gathered from the west unto the east by the word of the holy One, rejoycing in the remembrance of God.

6 For they departed from thee on foot, and were led away of their enemies: but God bringeth them unto thee exalted with glory, as children of the kingdom.

7 For God hath appointed that every high hill, and banks of long continuance should be cast down, and valleys filled up, to make even the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God.

8 Moreover, even the woods, and every sweet smelling tree, shall overshadow Israel by the commandment of God.

9 For God shall lead Israel with joy, in the light of his glory, with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

¶ The Epistle of JEREMIE.

CHAP. VI.

1 The cause of their captivity is their sinne. 3 The place whereto they were carried is Babylon: the vanitie of whose idols and idolatrie are set forth at large in this Chapter.

A Copie of an Epistle which Jeremie sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon, by the king of the Babylonians, to certifie them as it was commanded him of God.

2 Because of the sinnes which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives into Babylon, by Nabuchodonosor, king of the Babylonians.

3 So when ye be come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many yeeres, and for a long season, namely, seven generations: and after that I will bring you away peaceably from thence.

4 Now shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, born upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear.

5 Beware therefore that ye in no wise be like to strangers, neither be ye afraid of them, when ye see the multitude before them, and behinde them, worshipping them.

6 But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee.

7 For mine angel is with you, and I my self caring for your souls.

8 As for their tongue, it is polished by the workman, and they themselves are gilded and laid over with silver, yet are they but false, and cannot speak.

9 And taking gold as it were for a virgin that loves to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods.

10 Sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves.

11 Yea, they will give thereof to the common harlots, and deck them as men with garments [being] gods of silver, and gods of gold, and wood.

12 Yet cannot these gods save themselves from rust and moths, though they be covered with purple raiment.

13 They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, when there is much upon them.

14 And he that cannot put to death one that offends him, holdeth a scripser as though he were a judge of the country.

15 He hath also in his right hand a dagger, and an axe: but cannot deliver himself from war and thieves.

16 Whereby they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not.

17 For like as a vessel that a man useth, is nothing worth when it is broken, even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temple, their eyes be full of dust, through the feet of them that come in.

18 And as the doors are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death: even to the priests make fast their temples, with doors, with locks and bars, lest their gods be spoiled with robbers.

19 They light them candles, yea, more then for themselves, whereof they cannot see one.

20 They are as one of the beams of the temple, yet they say their hearts are gnawed upon by things creeping out of the earth: and when they eat them, and their clothes, they feel it not.

21 Their faces are blacked through the smoke that comes out of the temple.

22 Upon their bodies and heads, sit bars, scallows, and birds, and the cats also.

23 By this you may know that they are no gods, therefore fear them not.

24 For withstanding the gold that is about them to make them beautifull, except they wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for neither when they were molten, did they feel it.

25 The things wherein there is no breath, are brought for a most high price.

26 They are born upon shoulders, having no feet, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth.

27 They also that serve them, are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither if they be bowed down, can they make themselves straight: but they set gifts before them as unto dead men.

28 As for the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and abuse: in like manner their wives lay up part thereof in salt: but unto the poor, and impotent they give nothing of it.

29 Menstruous women, and women in childbed eat their sacrifices: by these things ye may know that they are no gods: fear them not.

30 For how can they be called gods: because women set meat before the gods of silver, gold, and wood.

31 And the priests sit in their temples, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads.

32 They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.

33 The priests also take off their garments, and clothe their wives and children.

34 Whether it be evil that one doth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set up a king nor put him down.

35 In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money: though a man make a vow unto them and keep it not, they will not require it.

36 They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty.

37 They cannot restore a blinde man to his sight, nor help any man in his distresse.

38 They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherlesse.

39 Their gods of wood, and which are overlaid with gold and silver, are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain: they that worship them, shall be confounded.

40 How should a man then think and say that they are gods, when even the Caldrons themselves dishonour them?

41 Altho if they shall see one dumbe that cannot speak, they bring him and intreat that he may speak, as though he were able to understand.

42 Yet they cannot understand this themselves, and leave them: for they have no knowledge.

43 The women also with coards about them, sitting in the wares, burn brian for perfume: but if any of them drawn by some that passeth by, sit with him; the reproacheth her fellow that she was not thought as worthy as her self, nor her coard broken.

44 Whatsoever is done among them is false: how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?

45 They are made of carpenters, and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else then the workman will have them to be.

46 And they themselves that made them, can never continue long: how should then the things that are made of them be gods?

47 For they left lies and reproches to them that come after.

48 For when there cometh any warre or plague upon them, the priests confute with themselves, where they may be hidden with them.

49 How then can not men perceive that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from warre, nor from plague?

50 For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with silver and gold: it shall be known hereafter that they are false.

51 And it shall manifestly appear to all nations and kings, that they are no gods, but the works of mens hands, and that there is no work of God in them.

52 Altho they may not know that they are no gods:

53 For neither can they set up a king in the land, nor give rain unto men.

54 Neither can they iudge their own cause, nor redresse a wrong being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth.

55 Whereupon when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or laid over with gold or silver, their priests will flee away, and escape, but they themselves shall be burnt asunder like drams.

56 Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?

57 Neither are those gods of wood, and laid over with silver or gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers.

58 Altho gold, and silver, and garments, wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong do take and go away withall: neither are they able to help themselves.

59 Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his power, or else a profitable vessel in an house, which the owner shall have use of, then such false gods, or to be a doer in an house, to keep such things safe as be therein, then such false gods: or a pillar of wood in a palace, then such false gods.

60 For sunne, moon, and starres, being bright, and sent to do their offices, are obedient.

61 In like manner the lightning, when it breaketh forth is easie to be seen, and in the same manner the winde bloweth in every country.

62 And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden.

63 And the fire sent from above to consume hills and woods, doth as it is commanded: but these are like unto them neither in shew nor power.

64 Therefore it is neither to be supposed nor said, that they are gods, seeing they are able neither to iudge causes, nor to do good unto men.

65 Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not.

66 For they can neither curse nor blesse kings.

67 Neither can they shew signes in the heavens among the heathen: nor shine as the sunne, nor give light as the moon.

68 The beasts are better then they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves.

69 It is then by no means manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not.

70 For as a scar-crow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing: so are their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold.

71 And likewise their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold, are like to a white thorn in an orchard that every bird sitteth upon: as also to a dead-body that is cast into the dark.

72 And you shall know them to be no gods, by the bright purple that rotteth upon them: and they themselves afterward shall be eaten, and shall be a reproach in the country.

73 Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be farre from reproach.

Or, the same winde.

¶ When Azarias stood up, and prayen on this manner, and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire, said,

2 Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy Name is worthy to be praised, and glorified for evermore.

3 For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done to us: yea, true are all thy works, thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgements true.

4 In all the things which thou hast brought upon us, and upon the holy citie of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true iudgement, for according to truth and iudgement dost thou bring all these things upon us, because of our sinnes.

5 For we have sinned and committed iniquities departing from thee.

6 In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that it might go well with us.

7 Therefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and every thing that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgement.

8 And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawlesse enemies, most hateful forakers [of God] and to an uniault king, and the most wicked in all the world.

9 And now we cannot open our mouthes, we are become a shame and reproach to thy servants, and to them that worship thee.

10 Per-deliver us not up wholly, for thy names sake, neither disanull thou thy covenant :

11 And cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for thy beloved Abrahams sake, for thy servant Isaac sake, and for thy holy Israels sake :

12 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, That thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that lieth upon the sea-shore.

13 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our finnes.

14 Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt-offerings, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to sacrifice before thee, and to finde mercy.

15 Revertlesse in a contrite heart, and an humble spirit let us be accepted.

16 Like as in the burnt-offerings of rammes and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs : so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and [grant] that we may wholly go after thee : for they shall not be confounded that put their trust in thee.

17 And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face.

18 Put us not to shame : but deal with us after thy loving kindnesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

19 Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord, and let all them that do thy servants hurt, be ashamed.

20 And let them be confounded in all their power and might, and let their strength be broken.

21 And let them know that thou art Lord, the onely God, and glorious over the whole world.

22 And the kings servants that put them in, ceased not to make the oven hot with // rosin, pitch, towle, and small wood :

23 So that the flame streamed forth above the furnace, fourty and nine cubits.

24 And it passed echorow, and burnt those Caldreaus it found about the furnace.

25 But the angel of the Lord came down into the oven together with Azarias and his fellows, and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven :

26 And made the mids of the furnace, as it had been a // moist whistling winde, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.

27 Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying,

28 Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers : and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.

29 And blessed is thy glorious, and holy name : and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.

30 Blessed art thou in the temple of thine holy glory : and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.

31 Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and sittest upon the Cherubims, and to be praised, and exalted above all for ever.

32 Blessed art thou on the glorious throne of thy kingdom : and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.

16 Two judges hide themselves in the garden of Susanna to have their pleasure of her: 28 which when they could not obtain, they accuse, and cause her to be condemned for adultery: 46 but Daniel examineth the matter again, and findeth the two judges false.

I Here dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim.

2 And he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord.

3 Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses.

4 Now Joacim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house, and to him resorted the Jews: because he was more honourable than all others.

5 The same year were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient Judges, who seemed to govern the people.

6 These kept much at Joacims house: and all that had any suits in law, came unto them.

7 Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husbands garden to walk.

8 And the two Elders saw her going in every day, and walking: so that their lust was inflamed toward her.

9 And they perverted their own minds, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgements.

10 And albeit they both were wounded with her love: yet durst not one shew another his grief.

11 For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her.

12 Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.

13 And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner time.

14 So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place, and after they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together, when they might finde her alone.

15 And it fell out as they watched a fit time, she went in † as before, with two maids onely, and she was desirous to wash her self in the garden: for it was hot.

16 And there was no body there save the two elders that had hid themselves, and watched her.

17 Then she said to her maids, Bring me oyl and washing balls, and shut the garden doors that I may wash me.

18 And they did as she had them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at pilby doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: but they saw not the elders, because they were hid.

19 Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying,

20 Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee, therefore consent unto us, and lie with us.

21 If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou dost send away thy maids from thee.

22 Then Susanna lighted, and said, I am straited on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands.

23 It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not to do it, then to sinne in the sight of the Lord.

24 Which that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her.

25 Then ran the one and opened the garden door.

26 So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at a pilby door, to see what was done unto her.

27 But when the elders had declared their matter, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of Susanna.

28 And it came to passe the next day, when the people were assembled to her husband Joacim, the two elders came also full of mischievous imagination against Susanna to put her to death.

29 And said before the people, Send for Susanna the daughter of Chelcias Joacims wife: and so they sent.

30 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred.

31 Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beauteous to behold.

32 And these wicked men commanded to uncover her face (for she was covered) that they might be filled with her beauty.

33 Therefore her friends, & all that saw her wept.

34 Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head.

35 And she weeping, looked up towards heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord.

36 And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away.

37 Then a young man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her.

38 Then we that stood in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickedness, ran unto them.

39 And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger then we, and opened the door, and leaped out.

40 But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these things do we testify.

41 Then the assembly beleaved them, as those that were the elders and judges of the people: so they condemned her to death.

42 Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets secrets, and knowest all things before they be :

43 Thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and behold, I must die, whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voice.

45 Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised up the holy spirit of a young youth, whose name was Daniel,

46 Who cried with a loud voice, I am clear from the blood of this woman.

47 Then all the people turned them towards him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken?

48 So he standing in the midst of them, said, Are ye such fools ye sonnes of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth, ye have condemned a daughter of Israel?

49 Return again to the place of iudgement : for they have borne false witness against her.

50 Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder.

51 Then said Daniel unto them, But these two abide one far from another, and I will examine them.

52 So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art wiser old in wickedness, now thy times which thou hast committed aforetime, are come [to light]

53 For thou hast pronounced false iudgement, and hast condemned the innocent, and hast let the guilty go free, albeit the Lord saith,* The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay.

54 Now then if thou hast seen her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together?

55 And Daniel said, Very well : thou hast lied against thine own head : for even now the Angel of God hath received the sentence of God to cut thee in two.

56 So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Canaan, and not of Juda, beaurie hath deceived thee, and lust hath perverted thine heart.

57 Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companied with you : but the daughter of Juda would not abide your wickedness.

58 Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, Under an holm-tree.

59 Then said Daniel unto him, Well; thou hast also lied against thine own head : for the Angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you.

60 Which that all the assembly cryed out with a loud voice, and praised God, who saveth them that trust in him.

61 And they arose against the two elders, (for Daniel had convicted them of false witness by their own mouth)

62 And according to the law of Moses, * they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour : and they put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saved the same day.

63 Therefore Chesias and his wife praised God for their daughter Sultana, with Joachim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonestie found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

¶ The historie of the destruction of † Bel and the Dragon, cut-off from the end of Daniel.

19 The fraud of Bels priests is discovered. by Daniel, 27 and the dragon slain, which was worshipped. 33 Daniel is preferred in the lions den. 42 The king doth acknowledge the God of Daniel, and casteth his enemies into the same denne.

As king Assarces was gathered to his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia received his kingdom.

2 And Daniel † converted with the king, and was honoured above all his friends.

3 Now the Babylonians had an idoll called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine floure, and fourty sheep, and six vessels of wine.

4 And the king worshipped se, and went daily to adore it : but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Altho dost not thou worship Bel?

5 Altho answered and said, Because I may not worship idolls made with hands, but the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh.

6 Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living god? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day?

7 Then Daniel smiled, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never * eat or drink any thing.

8 So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth these expences, ye shall die.

9 But if ye can certifie me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, let it be according to thy word.

10 (Now the priests of Bel were threescore and ten, besides their wives and children) and the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.

11 So Bels priests said, Lo, we go out: but thou, O king, sit on the meat, and make ready the wine, and shut the door fast, and seal it with thine own signet.

12 And to morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel that speaketh falsely against us.

13 And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privie entrance, whereby they entred in continually, and consumed those things.

14 So when they were gone forth, the king set meats before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded this servants to bring ashes, and those they strewed throughout all the temple, in the presence of the king alone: then went they out and shut the door, and sealed it with the kings signet, and so departed.

* Eccles. 30. 19.

‡ Or, lived with the king.

15 Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children (as they were wont to do) and did eat and drink up all.

16 In the morning betime the king arose, and Daniel with him.

17 And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole.

18 And also as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all.

19 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these.

20 And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children: and then the king was angry.

21 And took the priests, with their wives and children, who shewed him the private doors where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table.

22 Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniels power, who destroyed him and his temple.

23 And in that same place there was a great dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.

24 And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of hyaline? lo, he lieth, he eateth and drinketh, thou canst not say, that he is no living God: therefore worship him.

25 Then said Daniel unto the king, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the living God.

26 But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staffe: the king said, I give thee leave.

27 Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seeth them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragons mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder: and Daniel said, || Lo, these are the gods you worship.

28 When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slain the dragon, and put the priests to death.

29 So they came to the king, and said, Deliber us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house.

30 Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, he delivered Daniel unto them:

31 Altho cast him into the lions den, where he was six dayes.

32 And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day || two carcasses, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.

33 Now there was in Bury a prophet called Habbauc, who had || made pottage, and had broken bread in a bowl: and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers.

34 But the angel of the Lord said unto Habbauc, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, who is in the lions den.

35 And Habbauc said, Lord, I never saw Babylon: neither do I know where the den is.

36 Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and bare him by the hair of his head, and through the vehemence of his spirit set him in Babylon over the den.

37 And Habbauc cryed, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God hath sent thee.

38 And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that seek thee, and love thee.

39 So Daniel arose and did eat: and the Angel of the Lord set Habbauc in his own place againe immediately.

40 Upon the seventh day the king went to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel was sitting.

41 Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

42 And he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

The prayer of MANASSES king of Juda, when he was holden captive in Babylon.

O Lord Almighty God of our fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and of their righteous seed, who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ornament thereof: who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment, who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whom all men fear, and tremble before thy power: for thy majestie of thy glory cannot be born, and thine angry threatening towards sinners is impossible: but thy mercifull promise is unmeasurable and unsearchable: for thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long-suffering, very mercifull, and repentest of the evils of men. Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodnesse hast promised repentance, & forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, as to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee: but thou hast appointed repentance unto them that are sinners: for I have sinned above the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are multiplied, and I am not worthy to behold & see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquity. I am bowed down with many iron bands, that I cannot lift up mine head, || neither have any release: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done evil before thee, I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: I have set up abominations, and have multiplied offences. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace: I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and I acknowledge mine iniquities: wherefore I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me: neither condemn me into the lower parts of the earth. For thou art the God, even the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodnesse: for thou wilt save me that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. Therefore I will praise thee for ever all the dayes of my life: for all the powers of the heavens do praise thee, and thine is the glory for ever and ever, Amen.

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

CHAP. I.

14 Antiochus gave leave to set up the fashions of the Gentiles in Jerusalem, 22 and spoiled it, and the temple in it, 57 and set up therein the abomination of desolation, 63 and slew those that did circumcise their children.

And it happened, after that Alexander sonne of Philip the Macedonian, who came out of the land of Chetlim, had smitten Darius king of the Persians and Medes, that he reigned in his stead, the first over Greece,

2 And made many wars, and wan many strong holds, and slew the kings of the earth,

3 And went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of many nations, insomuch that the earth was quiet before him, whereupon he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up.

4 And he gathered a mighty strong host, and ruled over countreys, and nations, and kings who became tributaries unto him.

5 And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die.

6 Therefore he called his servants, such as were honourable, and had been brought up with him from his youth, and parted his kingdom among them, while he was yet alive.

7 So Alexander reigned twelve yeers, and (then) died.

8 And his servants bare rule every one in his place.

9 And after his death, they all put crowns upon themselves, so did their sonnes after them many yeers, and evils were multiplied in the earth.

10 And there came out of them a wicked root, Antiochus (surnamed Epiphanes) sonne of Antiochus the king, who had been an hostage at Rome, and he reigned in the hundred and thirtieth and seventh yeer of the kingdom of the Greeks.

11 In those daies went there out of Israel wicked men, who perswaded many, saying, Let us go, and make a covenant with the heathen that are round about us: for since we departed from them, we have had much sorrow.

12 So this device pleased them well.

13 Then certain of the people were so forwarde herein, that they went to the king, who gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the heathen:

14 Whereupon they built a place of exercise at Jerusalem, according to the customes of the heathen.

15 And made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and joyined themselves to the heathen, and were sold to do mischief.

16 Now when the kingdom was established before Antiochus, he thought to reign over Egypt, that he might have the dominion of two realms.

17 Therefore he entred into Egypt with a great multitude, with chariots, and elephants, and horsemen, and a great nable, 18 And made warre against Ptoleme king of Egypt, but Ptoleme was afraid of him, and fled: and many were wounded to death.

19 Thus they got the strong cities in the land of Egypt, and he took the spoils thereof.

20 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he returned again in the hundred fourth and third yeer, and went up against Israel and Jerusalem with a great multitude,

21 And entred proudly into the sanctuary, and took away the golden altar, and the candlestick of light, and all the vessels thereof,

22 And the table of the show-bread, and the pouring vessels, and the vials, and the censers of gold, and the vail, and the crowns, and the golden ornaments that were before the temple, all which he pulled off.

23 He took also the silver and the gold, and the precious vessels: also he took the hidden treasures which he found.

24 And when he had taken all away, he went into his own land, having made a great massacre, and spoken very proudly.

25 Therefore there was great mourning in Israel, in every place where they were;

26 So that the princes and elders mourned, the virgins and young men were made feeble, and the beauty of women was changed.

27 Every bridegroom took up lamentation, and she that sat in the marriage chamber, was in heaviness.

28 The land also was moved for the inhabitants thereof, and all the house of Jacob was covered with confusion.

29 And after two yeers fully expired, the king sent his chief collector of tribute unto the cities of Juda, who came unto Jerusalem with a great multitude,

30 And spake peaceable words unto them, but [all was] deceit: for when they had given him credence, he fell suddenly upon the city, and smote it very sore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

31 And when he had taken the spoils of the city, he set it on fire, and pulled down the houses and walls thereof on every side.

32 But the women and children took they captive, and possessed the cattell.

33 Then builded they the city of David with a great and strong wall, [and] with mighty towers, and made it a strong hold for them.

34 And they put therein a fullill nation, wicked men, and fortified [themselves] therein.

35 They stored it also with armour and victuals, and when they had gathered together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and so they became a sore snare.

36 For it was a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil adversary to Israel.

37 Thus they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled it.

38 Insomuch that the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them, whereupon [the city] was made an habitation of strangers, and became strange to those that were born in her, and her own children left her.

39 Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, her feasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt.

40 As had been her glory, so was her dishonour increased, and her excellency was turned into mourning.

41 Dauid, King Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom; hat all should be one people, 42 And every one should leave his laws: so all the heathen agreed, according to the commandment of the King.

43 And many also of the Israelites consented to his religion, and sacrificed unto idols, and profaned the Sabbath.

44 For the King had sent letters by messengers unto Jerusalem, and the cities of Juda, that they should follow the strange laws of the land,

45 And forbid burnt-offerings, and sacrifice, and drink-offerings in the temple, and that they should profane the sabbaths, and festival days:

46 And pollute the sanctuary and holy people:

47 Set up altars, and groves, and chapels of idols, and sacrifice swines flesh, and unclean beasts:

48 That they should also leave their children uncircumcised, and make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness, and profanation:

49 So the end they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances.

50 And whosoever would not do according to the commandment of the King, he said, he should die.

51 In the self same manner wrote he to his whole kingdom, and appointed overseers over all the people, commanding the cities of Juda to sacrifice, city by city.

52 Then many of the people were gathered unto them, to wit, every one that forsook the law, and so they committed evils in the land:

53 And drove the Israelites into secret places, even wheresoever they could flee for succour.

54 Now the fifteenth day of the month Chisleu, in the hundred forty and fifth year, they set up the abomination of desolation upon the altar, and builded idol-altars throughout the cities of Juda on every side.

55 And burnt incense at the doors of their houses, and in the streets.

56 And when they had rent in pieces the books of the law which they found, they burnt them with fire.

57 And wheresoever was found with any the book of the testament, or if any consented to the law, the kings commandment was, that they should put him to death.

58 Thus did they by their authority, unto the Israelites every month, so as many as were found in the cities.

59 Now the five and twentieth day of the month they did sacrifice upon the idol-altar, which was upon the Altar of God.

60 At which time according to the commandment, they put to death certain women, that had caused their children to be circumcised.

61 And they hanged the infants about their necks, and rifed their houses, and slew them that had circumcised them.

62 Howbeit, many in Israel were fully resolved and confirmed in themselves, not to eat any unclean thing.

63 Therefore, they chose rather to die, than that they might not be defiled with meats, and that they might not profane the holy covenant: so then they died.

64 And there was very great wrath upon Israel.

CHAP. II.

6 Maccabias lamenteth the case of Jerusalem. 24 He slayeth a Jew that did sacrifice to idols in his presence, and the Kings messenger also. 34 He and his are assailed upon the Sabbath, and make no resistance. 50 He dieth, and instructs his sonnes: 66 and maketh their brother Judas Maccabeus generall.

In those dayes arose Maccabias the sonne of John, the sonne of Simon a Priest of the sonnes of Iosab, from Jerusalem, and dwelt in Bethan.

2 And he had five sonnes: Iddan called Gaddis:

3 Simon called Thassi:

4 Judas, who was called Maccabeus;

5 Eleazar, called Avaran; and Jonathan, whose surname was Apphus.

6 And when he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Juda and Jerusalem,

7 He said, Who is me, wherefore was I born to see this misery of my people, and of the holy cite, and to dwell there, when it was delivered into the hand of the enemy, and the sanctuary into the hand of strangers?

8 Her temple is become as a man without glory. 9 Her glorious vessels are carried away into captivity, her infants are slain in the streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy.

10 What nation hath not had a part in her kingdom, and gotten of her spoils?

11 All her ornaments are taken away, of a free-woman she is become a bond-slave.

12 And behold, our sanctuary, even our beauty and our glory is laid waste, and the Gentiles have profaned it.

13 So what end therefore shall we live any longer?

14 Then Maccabias and his sonnes rent their clothes, and put on sackcloth, and mourned very sore.

15 In the mean while the kings officers, such as compelled the people to revolt, came into the cite Bethan, to make them sacrifice.

16 And when many of Israel came unto them, Maccabias also and his sonnes came together.

17 Then answered the kings officers, and said to Maccabias on this wise, Thou art a ruler and an honourable and great man in this cite, and strengthened with sonnes and brethren:

18 Now therefore come thou first, and fulfill the kings commandment, like as all the heathen have done, yea, and the men of Juda also, and such as remain at Jerusalem: so shalt thou and thy house be in the number of the kings friends, and thou and thy children shall be honoured with silver and gold, and many rewards.

19 Then Maccabias answered and spake with a loud voice, Though all the nations that are under the kings dominion obey him, and fall away every one from the religion of their fathers, and give consent to his commandments:

20 Yet will I, and my sonnes and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers.

21 God forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances.

22 We will not hearken to the kings words, to go from our religion, either on the right hand, or the left.

23 Now when he had left speaking these words, there came one of the Jews in the sight of all, to sacrifice on the altar which was at Bethan, according to the kings commandment.

24 Which thing when Maccabias saw, he was inflamed with zeal, and his reins trembled, neither could he forbear to shew his anger according to judgement: wherefore he ran and slew him upon the altar.

Or, Maccabias the son of John, &c. arose from Jerusalem, or out of Jerusalem.

Or, who was called And so afterward in the rest, || Gaddis, || Or, Avaran, or, Abaron.

Or, holy thing.

Or, the laws and rites of the strangers of the land.

Or, and they made Israel hide themselves in holes in every place of succour.

Or, the kings commandment put him to death.

Or, that had circumcised their children.

25 Also the kings commissioner who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and the altar he pulled down.

26 Thus dealt he zealously for the law of God, like as * Phineas did unto Zambri the son of Saul.

27 And Mattathias cried throughout the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous of the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him follow me.

28 So he and his sons fled into the mountains, and left all that ever they had in the city.

29 Then many that sought after justice and judgement, went down into the wilderness, to dwell there.

30 Both they, and their children, and their wives, and their cattell, because afflictions increased sore upon them.

31 Now when it was told the kings servants and the host that was at Jerusalem, in the city of David, that certain men who had broken the kings commandment, were gone down into the secret places in the wilderness, 32 They pursued after them a great number, and having overtaken them, they camped against them, and made warre against them on the Sabbath day.

33 And they said unto them, Let that which you have done hitherto suffice, come forth, and do according to the commandment of the king, and you shall live.

34 But they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the kings commandments, to profane the Sabbath day.

35 So then they gave them the battell with all speed.

36 Wherein, they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped the places where they lay hid;

37 But said, Let us die all in our innocency: heaven and earth shall testify for us, that you put us to death wrongfully.

38 So they rose up against them in battell on the Sabbath, and they slew them with their wives and children, and their cattell, to the number of a thousand people.

39 Now when Mattathias and his friends understood hereof, they mourned for them right sore.

40 And one of them said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not for our lives and laws against the heathen, they will now quickly root us out of the earth.

41 At that time therefore they decreed, saying, Whosoever shall come to make battell with us on the Sabbath day, we will fight against him, neither will we die all, as our brethren that were murdered in the secret places.

42 Then came there unto him a company of Asidians, who were mighty men of Israel, even all such as were voluntarily devoted unto the law.

43 Also all they that fled for persecution, sojourned themselves unto them, and were a stay unto them.

44 So they sojourned their forces, and smote unfeeling men in their anger, and wicked men in their wrath: but the rest fled to the heathen for succour.

45 Then Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars.

46 And what children ever they found within the coast of Israel uncircumcised, those they circumcised valiantly.

47 They pursued also after the proud men, and the work prospered in their hand.

48 So they recovered the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of kings, neither suffered they the sinner to triumph.

49 Now when the time drew neerer, that Mattathias should die, he said unto his sonnes, Now hath pride and rebuke gotten strength, and the time of destruction, and the wrath of indignation:

50 Now therefore, my sonnes, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what acts our fathers, did in their time, so shall ye receive great honour, and an everlasting name.

52 * Was not Abraham found faithfull in temptation, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness?

53 * Joseph in the time of his distresse kept the commandment, and was made lord of Egypt.

54 * Phineas our father, in being zealous and fervent, obtained the covenant of an everlasting Priesthood.

55 * Jesus for fulfilling the word, was made a Judge in Israel.

56 * Caleb for bearing witness before the congregation, received the heritage of the land.

57 * David for being mercifull, possessed the throne of an everlasting kingdom.

58 * Elias for being zealous and fervent for the Law, was taken up into heaven.

59 * Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, by believing were saved out of the flame.

60 * Daniel for his innocency was delivered from the mouth of lions.

61 And thus consider ye throughout all ages, that none that put their trust in him, shall be overcome.

62 Fear not then the words of a sinful man: for his glory shall be dung and worms.

63 To day he shall be lifted up, and to morrow he shall not be found, because he is * returned into his dust, and his thought is come to nothing.

64 Therefore, ye my sons, be valiant, and shew your selves men in the behalf of the law, for by it shall you obtain glory.

65 And behold, I know that your brother Simon is a man of counsell, give ear unto him alway: he shall be a father unto you.

66 As for Judas Maccabeus, he hath been mighty and strong, even from his youth up: let him be your captain, and fight the battell of the people.

67 Take also unto you, all those that observe the law, and avenge ye the wrong of your people.

68 Recompenst fully the heathen, and take heed to the commandments of the Law.

69 So he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers.

70 And he died in the hundred forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers, at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

harnesse about him, and he made battels, protecting the host with his sword.

4 In his acts he was like a lion, and like a lions whelp roaring for his prey.

5 For he pursued the wicked, and sought them out, and burnt up those that vexed his people.

6 Therefore the wicked shrank for fear of him, and all the workers of iniquity were troubled because salvation prospered in his hand.

7 He grieved also many kings, and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed for ever.

8 Moreover he went through the cities of Judah, destroying the ungodly out of them, and turning away wrath from Israel:

9 So that he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he + received unto him such as were ready to perish.

10 Then Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host out of Samaria, to fight against Israel.

11 Which thing when Judas perceived, he went forth to meet him, and so he smote him, and slew him: many also fell down slain, but the rest fled.

12 Wherefore Judas took their spoils, and Apollonius sword also, and therewith he fought all his life long.

13 Now when Seron a prince of the army of Syria heard say that Judas had gathered unto him a multitude and company of the faithful to go out with him to warre:

14 He said, I will get me a name and honour in the kingdom, for I will go fight with Judas, and them that are with him, who despise the kings commandment.

15 So he made him ready to go up, and there went with him a mighty host of the ungodly to help him, and to be avenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when he came nere to the going up of Bethoron, Judas went forth to meet him with a small company.

17 Also when they saw the host coming to meet them, said unto Judas, How shall we be able, being so few, to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing we are ready to faint with fasting all this day?

18 Unto whom Judas answered, * It is no hard matter for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with the God of heaven it is all one to deliver with a great multitude, or a small company.

19 For the victory of battell standeth not in the multitude of an host, but strength cometh from heaven.

20 They came || against us + in much pride and iniquity to destroy us, and our wives and children, and to put us:

21 But we fight for our lives and our laws.

22 Wherefore the Lord himself will overthrow them before our face: and as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

23 Now as soon as he had left off speaking, he leapt suddenly upon them, and so Seron and his host was overthrowen before him.

24 And they pursued them + from the going down of Bethoron, unto the plain, where were slain about eight hundred men of them; and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 Then began the fear of Judas and his brethren, and an exceeding great dread to fall upon the nations round about them:

26 Inasmuch as his fame came unto the king, and all nations talked of the battels of Judas.

27 Now when king Antiochus heard these things, he was full of indignation: wherefore he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm [even] a very strong army.

28 He opened also his treasure, and gave his soldiers pay for a year, commanding them to be ready + whensoever he should need them.

29 Nevertheless, when he saw that the money of his treasure failed, and + that the tributes in the countrey were small, because of the dissension, and plague which he had brought upon the land, || in taking away the laws which had been of old time;

30 He feared + that he should not be able to bear the charges any longer, nor to have such gifts to give so liberally, as he did before: for he had abounded above the kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore being greatly perplexed in his minde, he determined to go into Persia there to take the tributes of the countreys, and to gather much money.

32 So he left Lysias a noble man, and one of the blood royall, to oversee the affairs of the king, from the river Euphrates, unto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to bring up his sonne Antiochus, until he came again.

34 Moreover, he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all things that he would have done, as also concerning them that dwelt in Judah and Jerusalem.

35 To wit, that he should send an army against them, to destroy and root out the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memoriall from that place:

36 And that he should place strangers in all their quarters, and divide their land by lot.

37 So the king took the half of the forces that remained, and departed from Antioch + his royall city, the hundred forty and seventh year, and having passed the river Euphrates, he went thorow the high countreys.

38 Then Lysias chose Ptolemee the son of Dorymenes, and Alcanos, and Gorgias, mighty men of the kings friends:

39 And with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horsemen to go into the land of Judah, and to destroy it as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came and pitched by Emmaus in the plain countrey.

41 And the merchants of the countrey hearing the fame of them, took silver and gold very much, with || servants, and came into the camp to buy the children of Israel for slaves: a power also of Syria, and of the land || of the Philistines, joyned themselves unto them.

42 Now when Judas and his brethren saw that miseries were multiplied, and that the forces did encamp themselves in their borders (for they knew how the king had given commandment to destroy the people, and utterly abolish them.)

43 They said one to another, Let us restore the decayed estate of our people, and let us fight for our people, and the sanctuary.

44 Then was the congregation gathered together, that they might be ready for battell, and that they might pray, and ask mercy and compassion.

45 Now Jerusalem lay void as a wilderness, there was none of her children that went in or out: the sanctuary also was troden down, and aliens kept the strong hold: the brethren had their habitation in that place, and joy was taken from Jacob, and the pipe with the harp ceased.

46 Therefore the Israelites assembled themselves together, and came to || Bethphage, over against Jerusalem, for in Bethphage was the place where they played aforetime in Israel.

47 Then they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and cast ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes :

48 And laid open the book of the law || wherein the heathen had sought to paint the likenesse of their images :

49 They brought also the Priests garments, and the first-fruits, and the tithes : and the * Nazarites they stirred up, who had accomplished their days.

50 Then cried they with a loud voice toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these, and whither shall we carry them away :

51 For thy sanctuary is troden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness, and brought low.

52 And lo, the heathen are assembled together against us to destroy us : what things they imagine against us, thou knowest.

53 How shall we be able to stand against them, except thou (O God) be our help :

54 Then sounded they with trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

55 And after this, Judas ordained captains over the people, even captains over thousands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens.

57 So the camp removed, and pitched upon the south side of Emmaus.

58 And Judas said, Arm your selves, and be valiant men, and see that ye be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these nations that are assembled together against us, to destroy us and our sanctuary.

59 For it is better for us to die in battell, then to behold the calamities of our people, and our sanctuary.

60 Nevertheless, as the will [of God] is in heaven, so let him do.

CHAP. IIII.

6 Judas defeateth the plot, 14 and forces of Gorgias, 23 and spoileth their tents, 34 and overthroweth Lyfias. 45 He pulleth down the altar which the heathen had profaned, and seareth up a new : 60 and makeeth a wall about Sion.

Then took Gorgias five thousand footmen, and a thousand of the best horsemen, and removed out of the camp by night :

2 To the end he might rush in upon the camp of the Jews, and smite them suddenly. And the men of the fortress were his guides.

3 Now when Judas heard thereof, he himself removed, and the valiant men with him, that he might smite the kings armie, which was at Emmaus.

4 While as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp.

5 In the mean season came Gorgias by night into the camp of Judas : and when he found no man there, he sought them in the mountains : for said he, These fellows flee from us.

6 But as soon as it was day, Judas smelted himself in the plain with three thousand men, who nevertheless had neither || armour, nor swords to their mindes.

Or, targets.

7 And they saw the camp of the heathen, that it was strong and well furnished, and compassed round about with horsemen : and these were expert men of war.

8 Then said Judas to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their assault.

9 Remember how our fathers were delivered in the red-sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with an armie.

10 Now therefore let us cry unto heaven, if peradventure the Lord will have mercy upon us, and remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this host before our face this day.

11 That to all the heathen may know that there is one, who delivereth and saveth Israel.

12 Then the strangers lift up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them.

13 Therefore they went out of the camp to battell, but they that were with Judas sounded their trumpets.

14 So they joyned battell, and the heathen being discomfited fled into the plain.

15 Howbeit all the hundredmost of them were slain with the sword : for they pursued them into Gazera, and unto the plains of Idumea, and Azotus, and Jamnia, so that there were slain of them, upon a three thousand men.

16 This done, Judas returned again with his host from pursuing them :

17 And said to the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, in as much as there is a battell before us,

18 And Gorgias and his host are here by us in the mountain : but stand ye now against your enemies, and overcome them, and after this ye may boldly take the spoils.

19 As Judas was yet speaking these words, there appeared a part of them looking out of the mountain :

20 Altho when they perceived that the Jews had put their host to flight, and were burning the tents (for the smoke that was seen declared what was done.)

21 When therefore they perceived these things, they were sore afraid, and seeing also the host of Judas in the plain ready to fight,

22 They fled every one into the land of strangers.

23 Then Judas returned to spoil the tents, where they got much gold and silver, and blue silk, and purple of the sea, and great riches.

24 After this they went home, and sung a song of thanksgiving, and praised the Lord in heaven : because it is good, because his mercy endureth for ever.

25 Thus Israel had a great deliverance that day.

26 Now all the strangers that had escaped, came and told Lyfias what had happened.

27 Altho when he heard thereof was confounded and discouraged, because neither such things as he would were done unto Israel, nor such things as the king commanded him were come to passe.

28 The next year therefore following, Lyfias gathered together threescore thousand choice men of foot, and five thousand horsemen, that he might subdue them.

29 So they came into Bouna, and pitched their tents at Bethsura, and Judas met them with ten thousand men.

30 And when he saw that mightie armie, he marvelled, and said, Blessed art thou, O Saviour of Israel, * who dost quash the violence of the mightie man by the hand of thy servant David, and and gavest the host of // strangers into the hands of // Jonathan the sonne of Saul, and his armour-bearer.

31 Shut up this army in the hand of the people of Israel, and let them be confounded in their power and holiness.

32 Make them to be of no courage, and cause the boldnesse of their strength to // fall away, and let them quake at their destruction.

33 Cast them down with the sword of them that love thee, and let all those that know thy name, praise thee with thanksgiving.

34 So they joynd battell, and there were slain of the host of Lysias about five thousand men, even before them were they slain.

35 Now when Lysias saw his army put to flight, and the manfullnesse of Judas soldiers, and how they were ready either to live or die valiantly, he went into Antiochia, and gathered together a company of strangers, and having made his army greater then it was, he purposed to come again into Judea.

36 Then said Judas and his brethren, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to cleanse, and // dedicate the sanctuary.

37 Upon this all the host assembled themselves together, and went up into mount Sion.

38 And when they saw the sanctuary desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burnt up, and shrubs growing in the courts, as in a forest, or in one of the mountains, yea and the Priests chambers pulled down;

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and cast ashes upon their heads,

40 And fell down flat to the ground upon their faces, and blew an alarm with the trumpets, and cried towards heaven.

41 Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the forresse, untill he had cleansed the sanctuary.

42 So he chose Priests of blamelesse conversation, such as had pleasure in the law:

43 Who cleaned the sanctuary, and bare out the defiled stones into an unclean place.

44 And when as they consulted what to do with the altar of burnt offerings, which was profaned;

45 They thought it best to pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the heathen had defiled it: wherefore they pulled it down,

46 And laid up the stones in the mountain of the temple in a convenient place, untill there should come a Prophet, to shew what should be done with them.

47 Then they took whole stones * according to the Law, and built a new altar, according to the former:

48 And made up the sanctuary, and the things that were within the temple, and hallowed the courts.

49 They made also new holy vessels, and into the temple they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt offerings, and of incense, & the table.

50 And upon the altar they burnt incense, and the lamps that were upon the candlestick they lighted, that they might give light in the temple.

51 Furthermore, they set the loaves upon the table, and // spread out the vails, and finished all the works which they had begun to make.

52 Now on the five and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, (which is called the moneth Cassleu) in the hundred forty and eight yeer they rose up betimes in the morning,

53 And offered sacrifice according to the Law, upon the new altar of burnt offerings, which they had made.

54 Look at what time and what day the heathen had profaned it, even in that was it dedicated with songs, and citherns, and harps, and cymbals.

55 Then all the people fell upon their faces, worshipping and praying the God of heaven, who had given them good successe.

56 And so they kept the dedication of the altar eight dayes, and offered burnt-offerings with gladnesse, and sacrificed the sacrifice of // deliverance and praise.

57 They deckt also the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold, and with shields; and the gates, and the chambers they // renewed, and // hanged doors upon them.

58 Thus was there very great gladnesse among the people, for that the reproach of the heathen was put away.

59 Moreover Judas and his brethren, with the whole congregation of Israel, ordained that the dayes of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their season from yeer to yeer, by the space of eight dayes, from the five and twentieth day of the moneth Cassleu, with mirth and gladnesse.

60 At that time also they builded up the mount Sion with high walls, and strong towers round about, lest the Gentiles should come and tread it down, as they had done before.

61 And they set there a garison to keep it: and fortified Bethlura to preserve it, that the people might have a defence against Thumra.

3 Judas smiteth the children of Dan, Beai, and Ammon. 17 Simon is sent into Galilee. 25 The exploits of Judas in Galaad. 51 He destroyeth Ephron for denying him to passe through it. 56 Divers that in Judas absence would fight with their enemies, are slain.

NOW when the nations round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary renewed as before, it displeased them very much.

2 Wherefore they thought to destroy the generation of Jacob that was among them, and thereupon they began to slay and destroy the people.

3 Then Judas fought against the children of Esau in Thumra at // Arabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he gave them a great overthrow, and abated their courage, and took their spoils.

4 Also he remembered the // insurie of the children of // Beai, who had been a snare and an offence unto the people, in that they lay in wait for them in the wayes.

5 He shut them up therefore in the towers, and encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burnt the towers of that place with fire, and all that were therein.

6 Afterward he passed over to the children of Ammon, where he found a mighty power, and much people, with Timotheus their captain.

7 So he fought many battells with them, till at length they were discomfited before him: and he smote them.

8 And when he had taken Tazar, with the towns belonging thereto, he returned into Judea.

9 Then the heathen that were at Galaad assembled themselves together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to destroy them: but they fled to the forresse of Dathema,

11 And they are preparing to come and take the fortreffe whereunto we are fled, Timotheus being captain of their host :

12 Come now therefore, and deliver us from their hands, for many of us are slain.

13 Yea all our brethren that were in the places of Tobie, are put to death : their wives and their children also they have carried away captives, and born away their stuffe, and they have destroyed there about a thousand men.

14 While these letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with their clothes rent, who reported on this wise,

15 And said, They of Ptolemais, and of Cyprus, and Sidon, and all Galilee of the Gentiles are assembled together against us to consume us.

16 Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled a great congregation together, to consult what they should do for their brethren that were in trouble and assaulted of them.

17 Then said Judas unto Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in Galilee, for I and Jonathan my brother will go into the countrey of Galaad.

18 So he left Joseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias, captains of the people, with the remnant of the host in Judea to keep it.

19 Unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and see that you make not war against the heathen, untill the time that we come again.

20 Now unto Simon were given three thousand men to go into Galilee, and unto Judas eight thousand men for the countrey of Galaad.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, where he fought many battels with the heathen, so that the heathen were discomfited by him.

22 And he pursued them unto the gate of Ptolemais : and there were slain of the heathen about three thousand men, whose spoils he took.

23 And those that were in Galilee, and in Arabias, with their wives and their children, and all that they had, took he away [with him] and brought them into Judea with great joy.

24 Judas Maccabeus also, and his brother Jonathan, went over Jordan, and travelled three dayes journey in the wilderness.

25 There they met with the Nabathites, who came unto them in peaceable manner, and told them every thing that had happened to their brethren in the land of Galaad :

26 And how that many of them were shut up in Bosra, and Bosor, in Alema, Calphor, Waken, and Carnaim, (all these cities are strong and great.)

27 And that they were shut up in the rest of the cities of the countrey of Galaad, and that against to morrow they had appointed to bryng their host against the fortes, and to take them, and to destroy them all in one day.

28 Whereupon Judas and his host turned suddenly by the way of the wilderness unto Bosra, and when he had won the city, he slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils, and burnt the city with fire.

29 From whence he removed by night, and went till he came to the fortreffe.

30 And betimes in the morning they looked up, and behold, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders, and other engines of warre to take the fortreffe : for they assaulted them.

31 When Judas therefore saw that the battell was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets, and a great sound, he said unto his host, Fight this day for your brethren.

32 So he went forth behinde them in three companies, who sounded their trumpets, and cryed with prayer.

33 Then the host of Timotheus, knowing that it was Maccabeus, fled from him : wherefore he smote them with a great slaughter : so that there were killed of them that day about eight thousand men.

34 This done, Judas turned aside to Maspha, and after he had assaulted it, he took it, and slew all the males therein, and received the spoils thereof, and burnt it with fire.

35 From thence went he and took Casphon, Waged, Bosor, and the other cities of the countrey of Galaad.

36 After these things gathered Timotheus another host, and encamped against Raphon beyond the brook.

37 So Judas sent [men] to espy the host, who brought him word, saying, All the brethren that be round about us, are assembled unto them, even a very great host.

38 He hath also hired the Arabians to help them, and they have pitched their tents beyond the brook, ready to come and fight against thee : upon this Judas went to meet them.

39 Then Timotheus said unto the captains of his host, When Judas and his host come neer the brook, if he passe over first unto us, we shall not be able to withstand him : for he will mightily prevaill against us.

40 But if he be afraid, and camp beyond the river, we shall go over unto him, and prevaill against him.

41 Now when Judas came neer the brook, he caused the scribes of the people to remain by the brook : unto whom he gave commandment, saying, Suffer no man to remain in the camp, but let all come to the battell.

42 So he went first over unto them, and all the people after him : then all the heathen being discomfited before him, cast away their weapons, and fled unto the temple that was at Carnaim.

43 But they took the city, and burnt the temple, with all that were therein, Thus was Carnaim subdued, neither could they stand any longer before Judas.

44 Then Judas gathered together all the Israelites that were in the countrey of Galaad, from the least unto the greatest, even their wives, and their children, and their stuffe, a very great host, to the end they might come into the land of Judea.

45 Now when they came unto Ephron (this was a great city in the way as they should go, very well fortified) they could not turn from it, either on the right hand or the left, but must needs passe thorow the midst of it.

46 Then they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones.

47 Whereupon Judas sent unto them in peaceable manner, saying, Let us passe thorow your land to go into our own countrey, and none shall do you any hurt, we will onely passe thorow on foot : howbeit they would not open unto him.

48 Therefore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the host, that every man should pitch his tent in the place where he was.

49 So the souldiers pitched, and assaulted the city all that day, and all that night, till at the length the city was delivered into his hands :

|| Or, captive Jews.

|| Or, Bosra. || Or, Chafcor.

|| Or, the heathen.

|| Or, Bosor.

† Or, lift up their eyes. || Or, the heathen assaulted the Jews.

|| Or, Judas and his company.

51. Altho then slew all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain.

52. After this went they over Jordan, into the great plain before Bethshan.

53. And Judas gathered together those that he came behinde, and he exhorted the people all the way through, till they came into the land of Judea.

54. So they went up to mount Sion with joy and gladness, where they offered burnt offerings, because not one of them were slain until they had returned in peace.

55. Now what time as Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Galilee, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais,

56. Joseph the sonne of Zacharias, and Azarias, captains of the garibows, heard of the valiant acts and warlike deeds which they had done.

57. Therefore they said, Let us also get us a name, and go fight against the heathen that are round about us.

58. So when they had given charge unto the garibon that was with them, they went towards Jamnia.

59. Then came Gorgias and his men out of the city to fight against them.

60. And so it was that Joseph and Azarias were put to flight, and pursued unto the borders of Judea: and there were slain that day of the people of Israel, about two thousand men.

61. Thus was there a great overthrow among the children of Israel, because they were not obedient unto Judas and his brethren, but thought to do some valiant act.

62. Moreover, these men came not of the seed of those, by whose hand deliverance was given unto Israel.

63. Howbeit the man Judas and his brethren, were greatly renowned in the sight of all Israel, and of all the heathen wheresoever their name was heard of.

64. Inasmuch as the people assembled unto them with joyful acclamations.

65. Afterward went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the land toward the south, where he smote Hebron, and the towns thereof, and pulled down the fortresse of it, and burnt the towers thereof round about.

66. From thence he remoyed to go into the land of the Philistines, and passed through Samaria.

67. At that time certain priests desirous to shew their valour, were slain in battell, for that they went out to fight unadvisedly.

68. So Judas turned to Azotus in the land of the Philistines, and when he had pulled down their altars, and burnt their carved images with fire, and spoiled their cities, he returned into the land of Judea.

CHAP. VI.

8. Antiochus dieth, 12 and confesseth that he is plagued for the wrong done to Jerusalem. 20 Judas besiegeth those in the tower at Jerusalem. 28 They procure Antiochus the younger, to come into Judea. 51 He besiegeth Sion, 60 and maketh peace with Israel: 62 yet overthroweth the wall of Sion.

About that time king Antiochus travelling through the high countreys, heard say that Cleitus in the countrey of Persia, was a king greatly renowned for riches, silver and gold;

2. And that there was in it a very rich temple wherein were coverings of gold, and breast-plates, and shields which Alexander sonne of Philip the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Grecians had left there.

3. Therefore he came and sought to take the city, and to spoil it, but he was not able, because they of the city having had warning thereof,

4. Rose up against him in battell: So he fled, and departed thence with great heaviness, and returned to Babylon.

5. Moreover there came one who brought him tidings into Persia, that the armies which went against the land of Judea, were put to flight:

6. And that Lysias who went forth first with a great power, was driven away of the Jews, and that they were made strong by the armour, and power, and store of spoils, which they had gotten of the armies, whom they had destroyed.

7. Also that they had pulled down the abomination which he had set up upon the altar in Jerusalem, and that they had compassed about the sanctuary with high walls as before, and his city Bethlura.

8. Now when the king heard these words, he was astonished, and sore moved, whereupon he laid him down upon his bed, and fell sick for grief, because it had not befallen him as he looked for.

9. And there he continued many dayes: for his grief was ever more and more, and he made account that he should die.

10. Therefore he called for all his friends, and said unto them, The sleep is gone from mine eyes, and my heart faileth for very care.

11. And I thought with my self, Into what tribulation am I come, and how great a flood [of miserie] is it wherein now I am: for I was bound, and beloved in my power.

12. But now I remember the evils that I did at Jerusalem, and that I took all the vessels of gold and silver that were therein, and sent to destroy the inhabitants of Judea without a cause.

13. I perceive therefore that for this cause these troubles are come upon me, and behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land.

14. Then called he for Philip, one of his friends whom he made ruler over all his realm,

15. And gave him the crown, and his robe, and his signet, to the end he should bring up his sonne Antiochus, and nourish him up for the kingdom.

16. So king Antiochus died there in the hundred forty and ninth year.

17. Now when Lysias knew that the king was dead, he set up Antiochus his sonne (whom he had brought up being young) to reign in his stead, and his name he called Eupator.

18. About this time they that were in the tower, shut up the Israelites round about the Sanctuary, and fought always their hurt and the strengthening of the heathen.

19. Therefore Judas purposing to destroy them, called all the people together to besiege them.

20. So they came together, and besieged them in the hundred and sixtieth year, & he made mounts for shot against them; and [other] engines.

21. Howbeit certain of them that were besieged got forth, unto whom some ungodly men of Israel joynd themselves.

22. And they went unto the king, and said, How long wilt thou be ere thou execute judgement, and avenge our brethren?

23. He have been willing to serve thy father, and to do as he would have us, and to obey his commandments.

Or, he should take his sonne Antiochus to him.

24 For which cause they of our nation besiege the tower and are alienated from us: moreover as many of us as they could light on, they slew, and spoiled our inheritance.

25 Neither have they stretched out their hand against us only, but also against all their borders.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the tower at Jerusalem, to take it: the sanctuary also, and Bethsura have they fortified.

27 Therefore if thou dost not prevent them quickly, they will do greater things then these, neither shalt thou be able to rule them.

28 Now when the king heard this, he was angry, and gathered together all his friends, and the captains of his army, and those that had charge of the host.

29 There came also unto him from other kingdoms, and from the isles of the sea, bands of hired soldiers.

30 So that the number of his army was an hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and two and thirty elephants exercised in battell.

31 These went through Iudaea, and pitched against Bethsura, which they assaulted many dayes, making engines of warre: but they [of Bethsura] came out, and burnt them with fire, and fought valiantly.

32 Upon this Iudas removed from the tower and pitched in Balthacharias, over against the kings camp.

33 Then the king rising very early marched fiercely with his host toward Balthacharias: where his armies made them ready to battell, and sounded the trumpets.

34 And to the end they might provoke the elephants to fight, they shewed them the bloud of grapes and mulberries.

35 Moreover they divided the beasts among the armies, and for every elephant they appointed a thousand men armed with coats of male, and with helmets of brass on their heads, and besides this, for every beast were ordained five hundred horsemen of the best.

36 These were ready at every occasion: where-forever the beast was, and whithersoever the beast went, they went also, neither departed they from him.

37 And upon the beasts there were strong towers of wood, which covered every one of them, and were girt fast unto them with devices: there were also upon every one two and thirty strong men that fought upon them, besides the Indian that ruled him.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, they set them on this side, and that side, at the two parts of the host, giving them signes what to do, and being harnessed all over amidst the ranks.

39 Now when the sunne shone upon the shields of gold, and brass, the mountains glistered there-with, and shined like lamps of fire.

40 So part of the kings army being spread upon the high mountains, and part on the valleys below, they marched on safely, and in order.

41 Wherefore all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the harness, were moved: for the army was very great and mighty.

42 Then Iudas and his host drew near, and entered into battell, and there were slain of the kings army six hundred men.

43 Cleazar also (surname) Savaan, perceiving that one of the beasts, armed with royall harness, was higher then all the rest, and supposing that the king was upon him, 44 Dug himself in leopards, to the end he might deliver his people, and get him a perpetual name.

45 Wherefore he ran upon him courageously through the midst of the battell, slaying on the right hand, and on the left, so that they were divided from him on both sides.

46 Which done, he crept under the elephant, and thrust him under, and slew him: whereupon the elephant fell down upon him, and there he died.

47 Howbeit [the rest of the Jews] seeing the strength of the king, and the violence of his forces, turned away from them.

48 Then the kings army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king pitched his tents against Judea, and against mount Sion.

49 But with them that were in Bethsura he made peace: for they came out of the city, because they had no victuals there, to endure the siege, it being a year of rest to the land.

50 So the king took Bethsura, and set a garrison there to keep it.

51 As for the sanctuary, he besieged it many dayes: and set there artillery with engines, and instruments to cast fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings.

52 Whereupon they also made engines against their engines, and held them battell a long season.

53 Yet at the last their vessels being without victuals, (for that it was the seventh year, and they in Judea that were delivered from the Gentiles, had eaten up the residue of the store)

54 There were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine did so prevail against them, that they were faine to disperse themselves, every man to his own place.

55 At that time Lysias heard say, that Philip (whom Antiochus the king whilst he lived had appointed to bring up his sonne Antiochus, that he might be king)

56 Was returned out of Persia, and Media: and the kings host also that went with him, and that he sought to take unto him the ruling of the affairs.

57 Wherefore he went in all haste, and said to the king, and the captains of the host, and the company, All decay daily, and our victuals are but small, and the place we lay siege unto is strong: and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us.

58 Now therefore let us be friends with these men, and make peace with them, and with all their nations.

59 And covenant with them that they shall live after their laws, as they did before: for they are therefore displeased, and have done all these things because we abolished their laws.

60 So the king and the princes were content: wherefore he sent unto them to make peace, and they accepted thereof.

61 Also the king and the princes made an oath unto them: whereupon they went out of the strong hold.

62 Then the king entred into mount Sion, but when he saw the strength of the place, he brake his oath that he had made, and gave commandment to pull down the wall round about.

63 Afterward departed he in all haste, and returned unto Antiochia, where he found Philip to be master of the citie. So he fought against him, and took the citie by force.

CHAP. VII.

1 Antiochus is slain, and Demetrius reigneth in his stead. 5 Alcimus would be high Priest, and compassed of Judas to the king. 16 He slayeth three-score Ashdarians. 43 Nicanor is slain, and the kings forces are defeated by Judas. 49 The day of this victory is kept holy every year.

[A the hundred and one and fiftieth year; Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus departed from Rome, and came up with a few men unto a city of the sea coast, and reigned there.

2 And as he entered into the palace of his ancestors, so it was, that his forces had taken Antiochus and Elysas to bring them unto him.

3 Therefore when he knew it, he said, Let me not see their faces.

4 So his host slew them. Now when Demetrius was set upon the throne of his kingdom,

5 There came unto him all the wicked and ungodly men of Israel, having Alcimus (who was desirous to be high priest) for their captain.

6 And they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have slain all thy friends, and driven us out of our own land.

7 Now therefore send some man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see what havock he hath made amongst us, and in the kings lands, and let him punish them with all them that aid them.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of the king, who ruled beyond the flood, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithfull to the king.

9 And him he sent with that wicked Alcimus, whom he made high priest, and commanded that he should take vengeance of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed, and came with a great power into the land of Judea, where they sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with peaceable words deceitfully.

11 But they gave no heed to their words, for they saw that they were come with a great power.

12 Then did they assemble unto Alcimus and Bacchides, a company of scribes, to require justice.

13 Now the Ashdarians were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them.

14 For said they, One that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with this army, and he will do us no wrong.

15 So he spake unto them peaceably, and swore unto them, saying, I will procure the harm neither of you nor your friends.

16 Whereupon they believed him: howbeit he took of them threescore men, and slew them in one day, according to the words which he wrote,

17 * The flesh of thy saints [I have they cast out] and their blood have they shed round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them.

18 Therefore the fear and dread of them fell upon all the people, who said, There is neither truth, nor righteousness in them, for they have broken the covenant and oath that they made.

19 After this, removed Bacchides from Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Bethzeth, where he sent and took many of the men that had forsaken him, and certain of the people also, and when he had slain them [he cast them] into the great pit.

20 Then committed he the country to Alcimus, and left with him a power to aid him: so Bacchides went to the king.

21 But Alcimus contended for the high priesthood.

22 And unto him resorted all such as troubled the people, who after they had gotten the land of Judea into their power, did much hurt in Israel.

23 Now when Judas saw all the mischief that Alcimus and his company had done among the Israelites, even above the heaven, 24 He went out into all the coasts of Judea round about, and took vengeance of them that had revolted from him, so that they durst no more go forth into the country.

25 On the other side, when Alcimus saw that Judas and his company had gotten the upper hand, and knew that he was not able to abide their force, he went again to the king, and said all the worst of them that he could.

26 Then the king sent Nicanor one of his honourable princes, a man that bare deadly hate unto Israel, with commandment to destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Jerusalem with a great force, and sent unto Judas and his brethren deceitfully with friendly words, saying,

28 Let there be no battell between me and you, I will come with a few men that I may see you in peace.

29 He came therefore to Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably. Howbeit, the enemies were prepared to take away Judas by violence.

30 Which thing after it was known to Judas (to wit) that he came unto him with deceit; he was sore afraid of him, and would see his face no more.

31 Nicanor also, when he saw that his counsell was discovered, went out to fight against Judas besides Capharsalama.

32 Where there were slain of Nicanors side about five thousand men, and [there] fled into the city of David.

33 After this went Nicanor up to mount Zion, and there came out of the sanctuary certain of the priests, and certain of the elders of the people to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the burnt-sacrifice that was offered for the king.

34 But he mocked them, and laughed at them, and abused them shamefully, and spake proudly:

35 And swore in his wrath, saying, Unless Judas and his host be now delivered into my hands, if ever I come again in safety, I will burn up this house; and with that he went out in a great rage.

36 Then the priests entered in, and stood before the altar, and the temple, weeping, and saying,

37 Thou, O Lord, didst choose this house to be called by thy name, and to be a house of prayer and petition for thy people.

38 Be avenged of this man and his host, and let them fall by the sword: remember their blasphemies, and suffer them not to continue any longer.

39 So Nicanor went out of Jerusalem, and pitched his tents in Bethoron, where an host out of Syria met him.

40 But Judas pitched in Adasa with three thousand men, and there he prayed, saying,

41 * O Lord, when they that were sent from the king of the Assyrians blasphemed, thine angel went out and smote an hundred fourscore and five thousand of them:

42 Then to destroy thou this host before us this day, that the rest may know that he hath spoken blasphemously against thy sanctuary, and judge thou him according to his wickedness.

43 So the thirteenth day of the month Adar the hosts fought battell; but Nicanors host was discomdiscomfited; and he himself was best slain in the battell.

44 Now when Hecanors host saw that he was slain, they cast away their weapons, and fled.

45 Then ^{for, the Jews.} they pursued after them a dayes journey, from Ada into Salern, sounding an alarm after them with their trumpets.

46 Whereupon they came forth out of all the towns of Iudaea round about, and closed them in, so that they turning back upon them that pursued them, were all slain with the sword, and not one of them was left.

47 Afterwards they took the spoils, and the prey, and smote off Hecanors head, and his right hand, which he stretched out so proudly, and brought them away, and hanged them up towards Jerusalem.

48 For this cause the people rejoyced greatly, and they kept that day a day of great gladnesse.

49 Moreover, they ordained to keep yearly this day, being the thirteenth of Adar.

50 Thus the land of Iuda was in rest a litle while.

C H A P. VIII.

1 Judas is informed of the power and policy of the Romanes, 20 and maketh a league with them. 24 The articles of that league.

NOW Judas had heard of the fame of the Romanes, that they were mighty and valiant men, and such as would lovingly accept all that joined themselves unto them, and make a league of amitie with all that came unto them.

2 And that they were men of great valour: it was told him also of their warres and noble acts which they had done amongst the ^{for, Frenchmen.} Galatians, and how they had conquered them, and brought them under tribute.

3 And what they had done in the country of Spain, for the winning of the mines of the silver and gold which is there.

4 And that by their policie and patience they had conquered ^{for, every place.} all that place (though it were very farre from them) and the kings also that came against them from the uttermost part of the earth, till they had discomfited them, and given them a great overthow, so that the rest did give them tribute every year.

5 Besides this, how they had discomfited in battell Philip, and Dersus king of the ^{for, Macedonians.} Cilicians: with others that lift up themselves against them, and had overcome them.

6 Now also Antiochus the great king of Asia, that came against them in battell, having an hundred and twenty elephants, with horsemen and chariots, and a very great army, was discomfited by them.

7 And how they took him alive, and covenanted that he and such as reigned after him, should pay a great tribute, and give hostages, and that which was agreed upon.

8 And the country of India and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest countries, which they took of him, and gave to king Eumenes.

9 Moreover, how the Grecians had determined to come and destroy them:

10 And that they having knowledge thereof, sent against them a certain captain, and fighting with them, slew many of them, and carried away captives their wives, and their children, and spoiled him, and took possession of their lands, and putted down their strong holdes, and brought them to be their servants unto this day.

11 [It was told him thus] how they destroyed and brought under their dominion all other kingdomes and illes that at any time resisted them:

12 But with their friends, and such as relied upon them, they kept amity: and that they had conquered kingdomes both far and nigh, inso much as all that heard of their name were afraid of the.

13 Also, that whom they would help to a kingdom, those reigne: and whom again they would, they displace: finally, that they were greatly exalted.

14 Yet for all this, none of them wore a crown, or was clothed in purple to be magnified thereby.

15 Moreover, how they had made for themselves a senate-house, wherein three hundred and twentie men sat in counsell daily, consulting alway for the people, to the end they might be well ordered.

16 And that they committed their government to one man every year, who ruled over all their countrey, and that all were obedient to that one, and that there was neither envie, nor emulation amongst them.

17 In consideration of these things, Judas chose Eupolemus the sonne of John, the sonne of Accos, and Talon the sonne of Cleazar, and sent them to Rome to make a league of amity and confederacy with them.

18 [And to intreat them] that they would take the yoke from them, for they saw that the kingdom of the Grecians did oppress Israel with servitude.

19 They went therefore to Rome (which was a very great journey) and came into the senate, where they spake, and said;

20 Judas Maccabeus with his brethren, and the people of the Iewus, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy, and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

21 So that matter pleased the Romanes well.

22 And this is the copy of the epistle which (the senate) wrote back again, in tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem; that there they might have by them a memoriall of peace and confederacy:

23 Good successe be to the Romanes, and to the people of the Iewus, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and enemy be farre from them.

24 If there come first any warre upon the Romanes, or any of their confederates throughout all their dominion,

25 The people of the Iewus shall help them, as the time shall be appointed, with all their heart.

26 Neither shall they give any thing unto them that make warre upon them, or aid them with victuals, weapons, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto the Romanes; but they shall keep their covenant without taking any thing therefore.

27 In the same manner also, if warre come first upon the nation of the Iewus, the Romanes shall help them with all their heart, according as the time shall be appointed them.

28 Neither shall victuals be given to them that take part against them, or weapons, or money, or ships, as it hath seemed good to the Romanes: but they shall keep their covenants, and that without deceit.

29 According to these articles did the Romanes make a covenant with the people of the Iewus.

30 Howbeit, if hereafter the one party or the other, shall think meet to adde or diminish any thing, they may do it at their pleasures, and whatsoever they shall adde or take away, shall be satisfied.

31 And as touching the evils that Demetrius doth to the Jews, we have written unto him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made thy yoke heavy upon our friends and confederates the Jews?
32 If therefore they complain any more against thee: we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

C H A P. IX.

1 Alcimus and Bacchides come again with new forces into Judea. 7 The army of Judas flee from him, and he is slain. 30 Jonathan and Simon quarrell. 55 Alcimus is plagued, and dieth. 70 Bacchides maketh peace with Jonathan.

Furthermore, when Demetrius heard that Alcimus and his host were slain in battell; he sent Bacchides and Alcimus into the land of Judea the second time, and with them || the chief strength of his host.

2 Altho went forth by the way that leadeth to || Salsala, and pitched their tents before Babeloth, which is in Arbela, and after they had won it, they slew much people.

3 Altho the first moneth of the hundred fifty and second year they encamped before Jerusalem.

4 From whence they removed and went to || Beerea, with twenty thousand footmen, and two thousand horsemen.

5 Now Judas had pitched his tents at Eleasa, and three thousand chosen men with him.

6 Altho seeing the multitude of the other army to be so great, were sore afraid, whereupon many conveyed themselves out of the host, inasmuch as there abode of them no more but eight hundred men.

7 When Judas therefore saw that his host slip away, and that the battell pressed upon him, he was sore troubled in minde, and much distressed, for that he had no time to gather them together.

8 Nevertheless unto them that remained, he said, Let us arise, and go up against our enemies, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them.

9 But they debated him, saying, We shall never be able: || let us now rather save our lives, and hereafter we will return with our brethren, and fight against them: for we are but few.

10 Then Judas said, God forbid that I should do this thing, and flee away from them: if our time be come, let us die manfully for our brethren, and || let us not stain our honour.

11 Altho that the host of Bacchides removed out of their tents, and stood over against || them, their horsemen being divided into two troops, and their slingers and archers going before the host, and they that marched in the foreward were all mighty men.

12 As for Bacchides he was in the right wings, so the host drew neer on the two parts, and sounded their trumpets.

13 They also of Judas side, even they sounded their trumpets also, so that the earth shook at the noise of the armies, and the battell continued from morning till night.

14 Now when Judas perceived that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, he took with him all the hardy men, 15 Altho discomfited the right wings, and pursued them unto the mount Azus.

16 But when they of the left wing saw that they of the right wing were discomfited, they followed upon Judas, and those that were with him, hard at the heels from behind:

17 Whereupon there was a sore battell, inso-much as many were slain on both parts.

18 Judas also was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 Then Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers in Babilon.

20 Moreover they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many dayes, saying,

21 How is the vallant man fallen, that deliveredst Israel!

22 As for the other things concerning Judas and his warres, and the noble acts which he did, and his greatnesse, they are not written: for they were very many.

23 ¶ Now after the death of Judas, the wicked began to put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and there rose up all such as wrought iniquity.

24 In those dayes also was there a very great famine, by reason whereof the countrey revolted, and went with || them.

25 Then Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lords of the countrey.

26 And they made enquire and search for Judas friends: and brought them unto Bacchides, who took vengeance of them, and || used them despitefully.

27 So was there a great affliction in Israel, the like whereof was not since the time that a prophet was not seen amongst them.

28 For this cause all Judas friends came together, and laid unto Jonathan, 29 Since thy brother Judas died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies, and Bacchides, and against them of our nation that are adversaries to us.

30 Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince, and captain in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battels.

31 Upon this, Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and rose up in stead of his brother Judas.

32 But when Bacchides gat knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him.

33 Then Jonathan and Simon his brother, and all that were with him, perceiving that, fled into the wilderness of Ezechor, and pitched their tents by the water of the pool Aphar.

34 ¶ Altho which when Bacchides understood, he came neer to Jordan with all his host upon the sabbath day.

35 Now Jonathan had sent his brother || John a captain of the people, to pray his friends the sabbathites, || that they might leave with them their carriage which was much.

36 But the children of Jambai came out of Medaba, and took John and all that he had, and went their way with it.

37 After this came word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambai made a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from || Madabatha with a great train, as being the daughter of one of the great princes of Canaan.

38 Therefore they remembered John their brother, and went up and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain.

39 Altho they lift up their eyes and looked, and behold, there was much ado, and great carriage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and brethren to meet them with || drums and || instruments of musick, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathan and they that were with him, rose up against them from the place where they they lay in ambush, and made a slaughter of them in such sort, as many fell down dead, and the remnant fled into the mountain, and they took all their spoils.

41 Thus was the marriage turned into mourning, and the noise of their melody into lamentation.

42 So when they had avenged fully the blood of their brother, they turned again to the marsh of Jordan.

43 Now when Bacchides heard hereof, he came on the sabbath day unto the banks of Jordan with a great power.

44 Then Jonathan said to his company, Let us go up now and fight for our lives, for it standeth not with us to day, as in time past:

45 For behold, the battell is before us and behinde us, and the water of Jordan on this side and that side, the marsh likewise and the wood, neither is there place for us to turn aside.

46 Wherefore crye now unto heaven, that ye may be delivered from the hand of your enemies.

47 Which that they joined battell, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, but he turned back from him.

48 Then Jonathan and they that were with him, leapt into Jordan, and swaine over unto the farther bank: howbeit the other passed not over Jordan unto them.

49 So there were slain of Bacchides side that day about a thousand men.

50 Afterward returned [Bacchides] to Jerusalem, and repaired the strong cities in Judea: the fort in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Bethodon, and Bethel, and Chamnatha, Pharathon, and Taphon (these did he strengthen with high walls, with gates, and with battes).

51 And in them he set a garrison, that they might work malice upon Israel.

52 He fortified also the city Bethsura, and Sazara, and the tower, and put forces in them, and provision of victuals.

53 Besides, he took the chief mens sonnes in the country for hostages, and put them into the tower at Jerusalem to be kept.

54 Moreover, in the hundred fifty and third year, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded that the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary should be pulled down: he pulled down also the works of the prophets.

55 And as he began to pull down, even at that time was Alcimus plagued, and his enterpises hindered: for his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palse, so that he could no more speak any thing, nor give order concerning his house.

56 So Alcimus died at that time with great torment.

57 Now when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he returned to the king, whereupon the land of Judea was in rest two years.

58 Then all the ungodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Jonathan and his company are at ease, and dwell without care: now therefore we will bring Bacchides hither, who shall take them all in one night.

59 So they went and consulted with him.

60 Then removed he, and came with a great host, and sent letters publicly to his adherents in Judea, that they should take Jonathan and those that were with him: howbeit they could not, because their counsell was known unto them.

61 Wherefore they took of the men of the country that were authors of that mischief, about fifty persons, and slew them.

62 Afterward Jonathan and Simon, and they that were with him, got them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and they repaired the decays thereof, and made it strong.

63 Which thing when Bacchides knew, he gathered together all his host, and sent word to them that were of Judea.

64 Then went he and laid siege against Bethbasi, and they fought against it a long season, and made engines of warre.

65 But Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth himself into the country, and with a certain number went he forth.

66 And he smote Odonathes and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent.

67 And when he began to smite them, and came up with his forces, Simon and his company went out of the city, and burnt up the engines of warre.

68 And fought against Bacchides, who was distressed by them, and they afflicted him sore. For his counsell and strength was in vain.

69 Which refoe he was very wroth at the wicked men that gave him counsell to come into the country, inasmuch as he slew many of them, and purpoled to return into his own country.

70 Whereof when Jonathan had knowledge, he sent ambassadors unto him, to the end he should make peace with him, and deliver them the prisoners.

71 Which thing he accepted, and did according to his demands, and swore unto him that he would never do him harm all the dayes of his life.

72 When therefore he had restored unto him the prisoners that he had taken aforesaid out of the land of Judea, he returned and went his way into his own land, neither came he any more into their borders.

73 Thus the sword ceased from Israel: but Jonathan dwelt at Bethsamas, and began to govern the people, and he destroyed the ungodly men out of Israel.

CHAP. X.

1 Demetrius maketh large offers to have peace with Jonathan. 25 His letters to the Jews. 47 Jonathan maketh peace with Alexander. 53 Who killeth Demetrius, 58 and marieth the daughter of Ptolemeus. 62 Jonathan is sent for by him, and much honoured, 75 and prevaileth against the forces of Demetrius the younger, 84 and burneth the temple of Dagon.

In the hundred and fifteth year, Alexander the sonne of Antiochus (surnamed Epiphanes) went up and took Ptolemeus: for the people had received him, by means whereof he retained there.

2 Now when king Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered together an exceeding great host, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Moreover Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with loving words, so as he magnified him.

4 For, said he, Let us first make peace with him, before he join with Alexander against us:

5 For he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and against his brethren, and his people.

6 Wherefore he gave him authority to gather together an host, and to provide weapons that he might aid him in battell: he commanded also that the hostages that were in the tower, should be delivered him.

7 Then came Jonathan to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the tower.

8 Altho were fore afraid when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together an host.

9 Whereupon they of the tower delivered their hostages unto Jonathan, and he delivered them unto their parents.

10 This done, Jonathan settled himself in Jerusalem, and began to build and repaire the city.

11 And he commanded the workemen to build the walls, and the mount Sion round about with square stones, for fortification, and they did so.

12 Then the strangers that were in the fortresses which Bacchides had built, fled away:

13 Inasmuch as every man left his place, and went into his own country.

14 Only at Bethsura certain of those that had forsaken the law and the commandments, remained still: for it was their place of refuge.

15 Now when king Alexander had heard what promises Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: when also it was told him of the battels and noble acts which he and his brethren had done, and of the pains that they had endured,

16 He said, Shall we finde such another man: now therefore we will make him our friend and confederate.

17 Upon this he wrote a letter, and sent it unto him according to these words, saying,

18 King Alexander to his brother Jonathan, sendeth greeting.

19 We have heard of thee, that thou art a man of great power, and meet to be our friend.

20 Therefore now this day we ordain thee to be the high priest of the nation, and to be called the kings friend (and therewithall he sent him a purple robe and a crown of gold) [and requireth thee] to take our part, and keep friendship with us.

21 So in the seventh moneth of the hundred and sixtieth year, at the feast of the tabernacles, Jonathan put on the holy robe, and gathered together forces, and provided much armour.

22 Whereof when Demetrius heard, he was very foy, and said,

23 What have we done, that Alexander hath prevented us, in making amity with the Jews to strengthen himself?

24 I also will write unto them words of encouragement (and promise them) dignities and gifts that I may have their aid.

25 He sent unto them therefore, to this effect: King Demetrius unto the people of the Jews sendeth greeting.

26 Whereas you have kept covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, not joyning your selves with our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad:

27 Therefore now continue ye still to be faithful unto us, and we will well recompense you for the things you do in our behalf,

28 And will grant you many immunities, and give you rewards.

29 And now do I free you, and for your sake I release all the Jews from tributes, and from the customes of salt, and from crown taxes,

30 And from that which appertaineth unto me to receive for the third part of the seed, and the half of the fruit of the trees, I release it from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the land of Judea, nor of the three governments which are added therunto out of the countrey of Samaria, and Galilee, from this day forth for evermore.

31 Let Jerusalem also be holy and free, with the borders thereof, both from censures and tributes

32 And as for the tower, which is at Jerusalem, I yield up my authority over it, and give it to the high priest, that he may let in it such men as he shall choose to keep it.

33 Moreover, I freely set at liberty every one of the Jews that were carried captives out of the land of Judea, into any part of my kingdom, and I will that all my officers remit their tributes even of their cattell.

34 Furthermore, I will that all the feasts and sabbaths, and new moons, and solemn dayes, and the three dayes before the feast, and the three dayes after the feast, shall be all dayes of immunity and freedom for all the Jews in my realm.

35 Also no man shall have authority to meddle with them, or to molest any of them in any matter.

36 (I will further) that there be enrolled amongst the kings forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, unto whom pay shall be given as belongeth to all the kings forces.

37 And of them some shall be placed in the kings strong holds, of whom also some shall beset over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust: and I will that their overseers and governors be of themselves, and that they live after their own laws, even as the king hath commanded in the land of Judea.

38 And concerning the three governments that are added to Judea from the countrey of Samaria let them be joyued with Judea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, nor bound to obey other authority than the high priests.

39 As for Idolemais and the land pertaining thereto, I give it as a free gift to the sanctuary at Jerusalem, for the necessary expenses of the sanctuary.

40 Moreover, I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver out of the kings accounts from the places appertaining.

41 And all the overplus which the officers payed not in, as in former time, from henceforth shall be given towards the workes of the temple.

42 And besides this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they took from the uses of the temple out of the accounts year by year, even those things shall be released, because they appertain to the priests that minister.

43 And whosoever they be that flee unto the temple at Jerusalem, or be within the liberties thereof, being indebted unto the king, or for any other matter, let them be at liberty, and all that they have in my realm.

44 For the building also and repairing of the workes of the sanctuary, expenses shall be given of the kings accounts,

45 And, and for the building of the walls of Jerusalem, and the fortifying thereof round about, expenses shall be given out of the kings accounts, as also for the building of the walls in Iada.

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credit unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil that he had done in Israel: for he had afflicted them very foy.

47 But with Alexander they were well pleased, because he was the first that entreated of true peace with them, and they were confederate with him alwayes.

48 Then gathered king Alexander great forces, and camped over against Demetrius.

49 And after the two kings had joyued battell, Demetrius host fled: but Alexander followed after him, and preballed against them.

† Gr. walk.

Nor, of the holy things.

50 And he continued the battell very sore untill the sunne went down, and that day was Demetrius slain.

51 Afterward Alexander sent ambassadours to Ptoleme king of Egypt, with a message to this effect:

52 Forasmuch as I am come again to my realm, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, and have gotten the dominion, and overtownd Demetrius, and recovered our countrey,

53 (For after I had toynd battell with him, both he and his host was discomfited by us, so that we sit in the throne of his kingdom)

54 Now therefore let us make a league of amitie together, and give me now thy daughter to wife, and I will be thy sonne in law, and will give both thee and her gifts, according to thy dignity.

55 Then Ptoleme the king gave answer, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou didst return unto the land of thy fathers, and takest in the throne of their kingdom.

56 And now will I do to thee, as thou hast writen: meet me therefore at Ptolemais, that we may see one another, for I will marry my daughter to thee according to thy desire.

57 So Ptoleme went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and they came unto Ptolemais in the hundred threescore and second year.

58 Where king Alexander meeting him, gave unto him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great glory, as the manner of kings is.

59 Now king Alexander had writen unto Jonathan, that he should come and meet him.

60 Also thereupon went honourably to Ptolemais, where he met the two kings, and gave them and their friends silver and gold, and many presents, and found favour in their sight.

61 At that time certain pestilent fellows of Israel, men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him, to accuse him: but the king would not hear them.

62 Dea more then that, the king commanded to take off his garments, and clothe him in purple: and they did so.

63 Also he made him sit by himself, and said unto his princes, Go with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 Now when his accusers saw that he was honoured according to the proclamation, and clothed in purple, they fled all away.

65 So the king honoured him, and wrote him among his chief friends, and made him a duke, and a partaker of his dominion.

66 Afterward Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

67 Furthermore, in the hundred threescore and fifth year, came Demetrius sonne of Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers.

68 Whereof when king Alexander heard tell, he was right wroth, and returned unto Antioch.

69 Then Demetrius made Apollonius the governour of Coelosyria his generall, who gathered together a great host, and camped in Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying,

70 Thou alone liftest up thy self against us, and I am laughed to scorn for thy sake, and repatched, and why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains?

71 Now therefore if thou trustest in thine own strength, come down to us into the plain field, and there let us trie the matter together: for with me is the power of the cities.

72 Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that take our part, and they shall tell thee that thy foot is not able to stand before our face: for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land.

73 Wherefore now thou shalt not be able to abide the horsemen, and so great a power in the plain, where is neither stone nor hilt, nor place to flee unto.

74 So when Jonathan heard these words of Apollonius, he was moved in his minde, and chusing ten thousand men, he went out of Jerusalem, where Simon his brother met him for to help him.

75 And he pitched his tents against Toppe, but they of Toppe shut him out of the city, because Apollonius had a garison there.

76 Then Jonathan laid siege unto it: whereupon they of the city let him in for fear: and so Jonathan won Toppe.

77 Whereof when Apollonius heard, he took three thousand horsemen with a great host of footmen, and went to Azotus: as one that journeyed, and therewithall drew him forth into the plain, because he had a great number of horsemen, in whom he put his trust.

78 Then Jonathan followed after him to Azotus, where the armies toynd battell.

79 Now Apollonius had left a thousand horsemen in ambush.

80 Then Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behinde him: for they had compassed in his host, and cast darts at the people, from morning till evening.

81 But the people stood still as Jonathan had commanded them: and so the enemies horses were tired.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the footmen (for the horsemen were spent) who were discomfited by him, and fled.

83 The horsemen also being scattered in the field, fled to Azotus, and went into Bethdagon their idols temple for safety.

84 But Jonathan let fire on Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils: and the temple of Dagon, with them that were fled into it, he burnt with fire.

85 Thus there were burnt and slain with the sword, well nigh eight thousand men.

86 And from thence Jonathan removed his host, and camped against Ascalon, where the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great pomp.

87 After this returned Jonathan and his host unto Jerusalem, having many spoils.

88 Now when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan yet more.

89 And sent him a buckle of gold, as the use is to be given to such as are of the kings blood: he gave him also Accaron with the borders thereof in possession.

sea shore, and many ships, and went about through deceit to get Alexanders kingdom, and joyn it to his own.

2 Whereupon he took his journey into Syria in peaceable manner, so as they of the cities opened unto him, and met him: for king Alexander had commanded them so to do, because he was his father in law.

3 Now as Ptolemeus entred into the cities, he set in every one of them a garrison of soldiers to keep it.

4 And when he came neer to Asotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon that was burnt, and Asotus and the suburbs thereof that were destroyed, and the bodies that were cast abroad, and them that he had burnt in the battell, for they had made heaps of them by the way where he should passe.

5 Also they told the king whatsoever Jonathan had done, to the intent he might blame him: but the king held his peace.

6 Then Jonathan met the king with great pomp at Joppa, where they saluted one another, and lodged.

7 Afterwards Jonathan, when he had gone with the king to the river called Cleuthenus, returned again to Jerusalem.

8 King Ptolemeus therefore having gotten the dominion of the cities by the sea, unto Selenicia upon the sea coast, imagined wicked counsels against Alexander.

9 Whereupon he sent ambassadours unto king Demetrius, saying, Come, let us make a league betwix us, and I will give thee my daughter whom Alexander hath, and thou shalt reign in thy fathers kingdom:

10 For I repent that I gave my daughter unto him, for he sought to slay me.

11 Thus did he slander him, because he was desirous of his kingdom.

12 Wherefore he took his daughter from him, and gave her to Demetrius, and forsook Alexander, so that their hatred was openly known.

13 Then Ptolemeus entred into Antioch, where he set two crowns upon his head, the crown of Asia and of Egypt.

14 In the mean season was king Alexander in Cilicia, because those that dwell in those parts had revolted from him.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, he came to warre against him, whereupon king Ptolemeus brought forth his host, and met him with a mighty power, and put him to flight.

16 So Alexander fled into Arabia, there to be defended, but king Ptolemeus was exalted.

17 For Zabdiel the Arabian took off Alexanders head, and sent it unto Ptolemeus.

18 King Ptolemeus also died the third day after, and they that were in the strong holds, were slain one of another.

19 By this means Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seventh year.

20 At the same time Jonathan gathered together them that were in Judea, to take the tower that was in Jerusalem, and he made many engines of warre against it.

21 Then certain ungodly persons who hated their own people, went unto the king, and told him that Jonathan besieged the tower.

22 Whereof when he heard, he was angry, and immediately remounting, he came to Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not lay siege to the tower, but come and speak with him at Ptolemais in great haste.

23 Nevertheless Jonathan when he heard this, commanded to bessege it [still] and he chose certain of the elders of Israel, and the priests, and put himself in perill.

24 And took silver and gold, and raiment, and divers presents besides, and went to Ptolemais, unto the king, where he found labour in his sight.

25 And though certain ungodly men of the people had made complaints against him,

26 Yet the king entreated him as his predecessor had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends.

27 And confirmed him in the high priesthood, and in all the honours that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his chief friends.

28 Then Jonathan desired the king, that he would make Judea free from tribute, as also the three governments with the countrey of Samaria, and he promised him three hundred talents.

29 So the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan of all these things after this manner.

30 King Demetrius unto his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, sendeth greeting.

31 We send you here a copy of the letter which we did write unto our cousin Lathenes concerning you, that you might see it.

32 King Demetrius unto his father Lathenes, sendeth greeting:

33 We are determined to do good to the people of the Jews who are our friends, and keep covenants with us, because of their good will towards us.

34 ¶ Wherefore we have ratified unto them the borders of Judea, with the three governments of Apherema, and Idida, and Ramathem, that are added unto Judea, from the countrey of Samaria, and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, in stead of the payments which the king receiveth of them yearly aforesaid out of the fruits of the earth, and of trees.

35 And as for other things that belong unto us, of the tithes and customes pertaining unto us, as also the salt-pits, and the crown-taxes, which are due unto us, we discharge them of them all for their relief.

36 And nothing hereof shall be revoked from this time forth for ever.

37 Now therefore see that thou make a copy of these things, and let it be delivered unto Jonathan, and let upon the holy mount in a conspicuous place.

38 After this, when king Demetrius saw that the land was quiet before him, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his forces, every one to his own place, except certain bands of strangers, whom he had gathered from the isles of the heathen, wherefore all the forces of his fathers hated him.

39 Moreover, there was one Tryphon, that had been of Alexanders part afore, who seeing that all the host murmured against Demetrius, went to Simalcus the Arabian, that brought up Antiochus the young son of Alexander,

40 And lay force upon him, to deliver him [this young Antiochus] that he might reign in his fathers stead: he told him therefore all that Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre were at enmity with him, and there he remained a long season.

41 In the mean time Jonathan sent unto king Demetrius, that he would call those of the tower out of Jerusalem, and those also in the fortresses: for they fought against Israel.

42 So Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will

I will not onely do this for thee and thy people, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, at opportunity serve.

43 Now therefore thou shalt do well if thou lend me men to help me: for all my forces are gone from me.

44 Upon this Jonathan sent him three thousand strong men into Antioch, and when they came to the king, the king was very glad of their coming.

45 Whereby, they that were of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of an hundred and twenty thousand men, and would have slain the king.

46 Wherefore the king fled into the court, but they of the city kept the passages of the city, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called to the Jews for help, who came unto him all at once, and dispersing themselves thorow the city, slew that day in the city to the number of an hundred thousand.

48 Also they set fire on the city, and gat many spoils that day, and delivered the king.

49 So when they of the city saw that the Jews had got the city as they would, their courage was abated, wherefore they made supplication to the king, and cried, saying,

50 || Grant us peace, and let the Jews cease from assaulting us and the city.

51 Which that they cast away their weapons, and made peace, and the Jews were honoured in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his train, and they returned to Jerusalem, having great spoils.

52 So king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and the land was quiet before him.

53 Nevertheless, he dissembled in all that ever he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, neither rewarded he him according to the benefits which he had received of him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this returned Tryphon, and with him the young child Antiochus, who reigned and was crowned.

55 Then there gathered unto him all the men of warre, whom Demetrius had put away, and they fought against Demetrius, who turned his back and fled.

56 Moreover, Tryphon took the † elephants, and wome Antioch.

57 At that time young Antiochus wrote unto Jonathan, saying, I confirm thee in the high priesthood, and appoint thee ruler over the four governments, and to be one of the kings friends.

58 Upon this he sent him golden vessels † to be served in, and gave him leave to drink in gold, and to be clothed in purple, and to wear a golden buckle.

59 His brother Simon also he made captain from the place called the ladder of Tyus, into the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathan || went forth and passed thorow the cities beyond the water, and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to help him: and when he came to Ascalon, they of the city met him honourably.

61 From whence he went to Gaza, but they of Gaza shut him out; wherefore he laid siege unto it, and burned || the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them.

62 Afterward when they of Gaza made supplication unto Jonathan, † he made peace with them, and took the loynes of the chief men for hostages, and sent them to Jerusalem, and passed thorow the country unto Damascus.

63 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius princes were come to Cades which is in Galilee, with a great power, purposing || to remove him out of the country,

64 He went to meet them, and lest Simon his brother in the country.

65 Then Simon encamped against Bethsur, and fought against it a long season, and shut it up:

66 But they desired to have peace with him, which he granted them, and then put them out from thence, and took the cite, and set a garrison in it.

67 As for Jonathan and his host, they pitched at the water of Genesar, from whence begins in the morning they gat them to the plain of Masor.

68 And behold, the host of strangers met them in the plain, who having laid men in ambush for him in the mountains, came themselves over against him.

69 So when they that lay in ambush rose out of their places, and joynd battell, all that were of Jonathan's side fled:

70 Inasmuch as there was not one of them left, except Battathias the sonne of Absalom, and Judas the sonne of Galphi, the captains of the host.

71 Then Jonathan rent his clothes, and cast earth upon his head, and prayed.

72 Afterwards turning again to battell, he put them to flight, and so they ran away.

73 Now when his own men that were fled saw this, they turned again unto him, and with him pursued them to Cades, even unto their own tents, and there they camped.

74 So there were slain of the heathen, that day, about three thousand men: but Jonathan returned to Jerusalem.

C. H. A. P. XII.

Jonathan reneweth his league with the Romanes and Lacedemonians. 28 The forces of Demetrius thinking to surprise Jonathan, see away for fear.

35 Jonathan fortifieth the castle in Judea, 48 and is shut up by the fraud of Tryphon in Ptolemais.

Now when Jonathan saw that the time served him, he chose certain men, and sent them to Rome, for to confirm and renew the friendship that they had with them.

2 He sent letters also to the Lacedemonians, and to other places for the same purpose.

3 So they went unto Rome, and entred into the senate, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the people of the Jews sent us unto you, to the end you should renew the friendship which you had with them, and league, as in former time.

4 Upon this the Romanes gave them letters unto the governours of every place, that they should bring them into the land of Judea peaceably.

5 And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote unto the Lacedemonians:

6 Jonathan the high priest, and the elders of the nation, and the priests, and the other people of the Jews, unto the Lacedemonians their brethren, send greeting.

7 There were letters sent in times past unto Onias the high priest from || Darius, who reigned then among you, to signify that you are our brethren, as the copy here under-written doth specifie.

8 At which time Onias entreated the ambassador that was sent, honourably, and received the letters, wherein declaration was made of the || league and friendship.

† Or, he gave them the right hand.

9 Therefore we also, albeit we need none of these things, for that we have the holy books of scripture in our hands to comfort us;

10 Have nevertheless attempted to send unto you, for the renewing of brotherhood and friendship, lest we should become strangers unto you altogether: for there is a long time passed since you sent unto us.

11 We therefore at all times without ceasing, both in our feasts, and of bee convenient dayes, do remember you in the sacrifices which we offer, and in our prayers, as reason is, and as it becometh us to thinke upon our brethren:

12 And we are right glad of your honour.

13 As for our selves, we have had great troubles and warres on every side: forsomuch as the kings that are round about us, have fought against us.

14 Howbeit we would not be troublesome unto you, nor to others of our confederates and friends in these warres.

15 For we have help from heaven that succoureth us, so as we are delivered from our enemies, and our enemies are under foot.

16 For this cause we chose Antimenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Talon, and sent them unto the Romanes, to renew the amity that we had with them, and the former league.

17 We commanded them also to go unto you, and to salure you, and to deliver you our letters concerning the renewing of our brotherhood.

18 Wherefore now ye shall do well to give us an answer thereto.

19 And this is the copy of the letters which Onias sent.

20 Arcus king of the Lacedemonians, to Onias the high priest, greeting.

21 It is found in writing, that the Lacedemonians and Iews are brethren, and that they are of the stock of Abraham:

22 Now therefore since this is come to our knowledge, you shall do well to write unto us of your prosperitie.

23 We do write back again to you; that your cattell and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore [our ambassadours] to make report unto you on this wise.

24 Now when Jonathan heard that Demetrius princes were come to fight against him with a greater host then afore, 25 He removed from Ierusalem, and met them in the land of Amathis: for he gave them no respite to enter his country.

26 He sent spies also unto their tents, who came again, and told him that they were appointed to come upon them in the night season.

27 Wherefore so soon as the lumme was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready to fight: also he sent forth sentinels round about the host.

28 But when the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battell, they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp.

29 Howbeit Jonathan and his company knew it not till the morning: for they saw the lights burning.

30 Then Jonathan pursued after them, but overtook them not: for they were gone over the river Eleutherus.

31 Wherefore Jonathan turned to the Arabians, who were called Zabadeans, and smote them, and took their spoils.

32 And removing thence he came to Damascus, and so passed thorow all the countrey.

33 Simon also went forth, and passed thorow the countrey unto Alcaton, and the holds there adjoining, from whence he turned aside to Toppe, and won it.

34 For he had heard that they would deliver the hold unto them that took Demetrius part, wherefore he set a garrison there to keep it.

35 After this came Jonathan home again, and calling the elders of the people together, he consulted with them about building strong holds in Iudea,

36 And making the walls of Ierusalem higher, and raising a great mount between the tower and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be alone, that men might neither sell nor buy in it.

37 Upon this they came together, to build up the city, [forasmuch as [part of] the wall toward the brook on the east side was fallen down, and they repaired that which was called Capbenatha.

38 Simon also set up Abida, in Sephela, and made it strong with gates and barres.

39 Now Tryphon went about to get the kingdom of Asia, and to kill Antiochus the king, that he might set the crown upon his own head.

40 Howbeit he was afraid that Jonathan would not suffer him, and that he would fight against him; wherefore he sought a way how to take Jonathan, that he might kill him. So he removed, and came to Bethlan.

41 Then Jonathan went out to meet him with fourty thousand chosen men for the battell, and came to Bethlan.

42 Now when Tryphon saw that Jonathan came with so great a force, he durst not stretch his hand against him.

43 But received him honourable, and commended him unto all his friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his men of war to be as obedient unto him, as to himself.

44 Unto Jonathan also he said, Why hast thou put all this people to so great trouble, seeing there is no warre betwixt us?

45 Therefore send them now home again, and chuse a few men to wait on thee, and come thou with me to Idoilemais, for I will give it thee, and the rest of the strong holds and forces, and all that have any charge: as for me, I will return and depart: for this is the cause of my coming.

46 So Jonathan believing him, did as he had him, and sent away his host, who went into the land of Iudea.

47 And with himself he retained but three thousand men, of whom he sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with him.

48 Now assoon as Jonathan entered into Idoilemais, they of Idoilemais shut the gates, and took him, and all them that came with him, they slew with the sword.

49 Then sent Tryphon an host of footmen, and horsemen into Galilee and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathans company.

50 But when they knew that Jonathan and they that were with him were taken and slain, they encouraged one another, and went close together prepared to fight.

51 They therefore that followed upon them, perceiving that they were ready to fight for their lives, turned back again.

52 Whereupon they all came into the land of Iudea peaceably, and there they bewailed Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were

CHAP. XIII.

8 Simon is made captain in his brother Jonathan's room. 19 Tryphon getteth two of Jonathan's sons into his hands, and slayeth their father. 27 The tombe of Jonathan. 36 Simon is favoured by Demetrius, 43 and winneth Gaza, and the tower at Jerusalem.

NOW when Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a great host, to invade the land of Judea and destroy it,

2 And saw that the people was in great trembling and fear, he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gave them exhortation, saying, Ye your selves know what great things I and my brethren, and my fathers house have done for the laws and the sanctuary, the battels also and troubles which we have seen,

4 By reason whereof all my brethren are slain for Israel's sake, and I am left alone.

5 Now therefore be it farre from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of trouble: for I am no better then my brethren.

6 Doubtlesse I will avenge my nation and the sanctuary, and our wives and our children: for all the heathen are gathered to destroy us of very malice.

7 Now as soon as the people heard these words, their spirit revived.

8 And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou shalt be our leader in stead of Judas and Jonathan thy brother.

9 Fight thou our battels, and whatsoever thou commandest us, that will we do.

10 So then he gathered together all the men of warre, and made haste to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about.

11 Also he sent Jonathan the sonne of Absalom, and with him a great power to Joppe, who casting out them that were therein, remained there in it.

12 So Tryphon removed from Ptolemais with a great power to invade the land of Judea, and Jonathan was with him in ward, 13 But Simon pitched his tents at Adida, over against the plain.

14 Now when Tryphon knew that Simon was risen up in stead of his brother Jonathan, and meant to joyne battell with him, he sent messengers unto him, saying,

15 Whereas we have Jonathan thy brother in hold, it is for money that he is owing unto the kings treasure, concerning the business that was committed unto him.

16 Wherefoze now send an hundred talents of silver, and two of his sonnes for hostages, that when he is at libertie he may not revolt from us, and we will let him go.

17 Thereupon Simon, albeit he perceived that they spake deceitfully unto him, yet sent he the money, and the children, lest peradventure he should procure to himselfe great hatred of the people:

18 Who might have said, Because I sent him not the money and the children, therefore is [Jonathan] dead.

19 So he sent them the children and the hur-died talents: howbeit [Tryphon] dissembled, neither would he let Jonathan go.

20 And after this came Tryphon to invade the land, and destroy it, going round about by the way that leadeth unto Adora, but Simon and his host marched against him in every place wheresoever he went.

21 Now they that were in the tower, sent messengers unto Tryphon, to the end that he should hasten his coming unto them by the wilderness, and send them victuals.

22 Wherefoze Tryphon made ready all his host, men to come that night, but there fell a very great snow, by reason whereof he came not. So he departed and came into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he came neer to Balcama, he slew Jonathan, who was buried there.

24 Afterward Tryphon returned, and went into his own land.

25 Then sent Simon, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in Bodin the citie of his fathers.

26 And all Israel made great lamentation for him, and bewailed him many dayes.

27 Simon also built a monument upon the sepulchre of his father and his brethren, and called it aloft to the sight, with heben stone behinde and before.

28 Moreover, he set up seven pyramides one against another, for his father and his mother, and his four brethren.

29 And in these he made cunning devices, about the which he set great pillars, and upon the pillars he made all their armour for a perpetual memoriall, and by the armour, ships carved, that they might be seen of all that sail on the sea.

30 This is the sepulchre which he made at Boddin, and it standeth yet unto this day.

31 Now Tryphon dealt deceitfully with the young king Antiochus, and slew him.

32 And he reigned in his stead, and crowned himselfe king of Asia, and brought a great calamity upon the land.

33 Then Simon built up the strong holds in Judea, and fenced them about with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and barres, and layd up victuals therein.

34 Moreover, Simon chose men, and sent to king Demetrius, to the end he should give the land an immunitie, because that all that Tryphon did was to spoile.

35 Unto whom king Demetrius answered, and wrote after this manner:

36 King Demetrius unto Simon the high priest, and friend of kings, as also unto the elders and nation of the Jews sendeth greeting.

37 The golden crown and the scarlet robe which ye sent unto us, we have received: and we are ready to make a steadfast peace with you, yea, and to write unto our officers, to confirm the immunities which we have granted.

38 And whatsoever covenants we have made with you, shall stand: and the strong holds which ye have builded shall be your own.

39 As for any oversight, or fault committed unto this day, we forgive it, and the crown-tax also which ye owe us: and if there were any other tribute paid in Jerusalem, it shall no more be paid.

40 And look who are meet among you to be in our court, let them be enrolled, and let there be peace betwixt us.

41 Thus the pike of the heathen was taken away from Israel, in the hundred and seventieth yeer.

† Gr in the strong holds

† Gr. all Tryphons doings were robberies.

For, for the affairs, or, offices that he had, or, the necessary uses which he had.

42 Then the people of Israel began to write in their instruments and contracts, in the first year of Simon the high priest, the governour and leader of the Jews.

43 In those daies Simon camped against Gazara, and besieged it round about, he made also an engine of warre, and set it to the city, and battered a certain tower, and took it.

44 And they that were in the engine, leapt into the citie: whereupon there was a great uproar in the citie.

45 In so much as the people of the city rent their clothes, and climbed upon the walls, with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, beseeching Simon to grant them peace.

46 And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickedness, but according to the mercy.

47 So Simon was appeased towards them, and fought no more against them, but put them out of the citie, and cleansed the houses wherein the idols were: and so entered into it with songs and thanksgiving.

48 Pea, he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed such men there as would keep the law, and made it stronger then it was before, and built therein a dwelling place for himself.

49 They also of the tower in Jerusalem were kept so strait, that they could neither come forth, nor go into the countrey, nor buy, nor sell: wherefore they were in great distress for want of victuals, and a great number of them perished through famine.

50 Then cried they to Simon, beseeching him to be at one with them: which thing he granted them, and when he had put them out from thence, he cleansed the tower from pollutions:

51 And entered into it the three and twentieth day of the second moneth in the hundred seventy and one year, with thanksgiving and branches of palm-trees, and with harps and cymbals, and with viols, and hymns, and songs: because there was destroyed a great enemy out of Israel.

52 He ordained also that that day should be kept every year with gladness. Moreover, the hill of the Temple that was by the tower he made stronger then it was, and there he dwelt himself with his company.

53 And when Simon saw that John his son was a valiant man, he made him captain of all the hosts, and dwelt in Gazara.

CHAP. XIII.

3 Demetrius is taken by the king of Persia. 4 The good deeds of Simon to his countrey. 18 The Macedonians and Romans renew their league with him. 26 A memoriall of his acts is set up in Zion.

NOW in the hundred threescore and twelfth year king Demetrius gathered his forces together, and went into Media to get him help to fight against Tryphon.

2 But when Ariaces the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entered within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him alive.

3 Altho went and smote the host of Demetrius, and took him, and brought him to Ariaces, by whom he was put in ward.

4 As for the land of Judaea, that was quiet all the daies of Simon: for he sought the good of his nation in such wise, as that evermore his authority and honour pleased them well.

5 And as he was honorable (in all his acts) so in this, that he took Toupe for an haven, and made an entrance to the isles of the sea,

6 And enlarged the bounds of his nation, and recovered the countrey,

7 And gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of Gazara, and Bethsura, and the tower, out of the which he took all uncleanness, neither was there any that resisted him.

8 Then did they till their ground in peace, and the earth gave her increase, and the trees of the field their fruit.

9 The ancient men sat all in the streets communing together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparell.

10 He prohibited victuals for the cities, and set in them all manner of munition, so that his honourable name was renowned unto the end of the world.

11 He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy:

12 For every man sat under his vine, and his fig-tree, and there was none to feare them:

13 Neither was there any left in the land to fight against them: pea, the kings themselves were overthrowen in those daies.

14 Moreover he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every contemner of the law, and wicked person he took away.

15 He beautified the sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the temple.

16 Now when it was heard at Rome, and as farre as Sparta, that Jonathan was dead, they were very lovy.

17 But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made high Priest in his stead, and ruled the countrey, and the cities therein:

18 They wrote unto him in tables of brasse, to renew the friendship and league which they had made with Judas and Jonathan his brethren:

19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Jerusalem.

20 And this is the copy of the letters that the Lacedemonians sent, the rulers of the Lacedemonians, with the citie, unto Simon the high priest, and the elders and priests, and residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, send greeting.

21 The ambassadours that were sent unto our people, certified us of your glory and honour, wherefore we were glad of their coming:

22 And did register the things that they spake in the counsell of the people, in this manner. Pumenius sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater sonne of Jason, the Jews ambassadours came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us.

23 And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their ambassage in publick records, to the end the people of the Lacedemonians might have a memoriall thereof: furthermore, we have written a copy thereof unto Simon the high priest.

24 After this, Simon sent Pumenius to Rome, with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, to confirm the league with them.

25 Whereof when the people heard, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sonnes?

26 For he and his brethren, and the house of his father have established Israel, and chased away in fight their enemies from them, and confirmed their liberty.

27 So then they wrote [it] in the tables of brasse, which they set upon pillars in mount Zion, and this is the copie of the writing. The eighteenth day of the moneth Elul, in the hundred threescore and twelfth year, being the third year of Simon the high priest,

28 At // Saramel in the great congregation of the priests and people, and rulers of the nation, and elders of the country, were these things notified unto us.

29 Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, wherein for the maintenance of their sanctuary, and the law, Simon the son of Dattathias of the posterity of Jarib, together with his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and resisting the enemies of their nation, did their nation great honour.

30 For after that Jonathan having gathered his nation together, and been their high priest was added to his people;

31 Their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy it, and lay hands on the sanctuary.

32 At which time Simon rose up, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed // the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages,

33 And fortified the cities of Judea, together with Bethsura that lieth upon the borders of Judea, where the harroun of the enemies had been before, but he set a garrison of Jews there.

34 Moreover, he fortified Joppa which lieth upon the sea, and // Gazara that bordereth upon Asotus, where the enemies had dwelt before; but he placed Jews there, and furnished them with all things convenient for the reparation thereof.

35 The people therefore seeing the acts of Simon, and unto what glory he thought to bring his nation, made him their governour, and chief priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he fought by all means to exalt his people.

36 For in his time things prospered in his hands, so that the heathen were taken out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a tower, out of which they issued and polluted all about the sanctuary, and did much hurt // in the holy place.

37 But he placed Jews therein, and fortified it, for the safety of the country, and the city, and called up the walls of Jerusalem.

38 King Demetrius also confirmed him in the high priesthood, according to those things, 39 And made him one of his friends, and honoured him with great honour.

40 For he had heard say, that the Romanes had called the Jews their friends, and confederates, and brethren, and that they had entertained the ambassadors of Simon honourably.

41 Also that the Jews and priests were well pleased that Simon should be their governour and high priest for ever, until there should arise a faithful prophet.

42 Moreover, that he should be their captain, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the armour, and over the fortresses, that [I say] he should take charge of the sanctuary.

43 Besides this, that he should be obeyed of every man, and that all the writings in the country should be made in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold.

44 Also that it should be lawfull for none of the people or priests, to break any of these things, or to gainsay his words, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold.

45 And whosoever should do otherwise, or break any of these things, he should be punished.

46 Thus it liked all the people to deal with Simon, and to do as hath been said.

47 Then Simon accepted hereof, and was well pleased to be high priest, and captain, and governour of the Jews and priests, and to defend them all.

48 So they commanded that this writing should be put in tables of brass, and that they should be set up within the compass of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place.

49 Also that the copies thereof should be laid up in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them.

CHAP. XV.

4 Antiochus desireth leave to passe through Judea, and grantech great honours to Simon and the Jews; 16 The Romanes write to divers kings and nations, to favour the Jews. 27 Antiochus quarrelleth with Simon, 38 and sendeth some to annoy Judea.

Moreover, Antiochus sonne of Demetrius the king, sent letters from the isles of the sea, unto Simon the priest, and prince of the Jews, and to all the people.

2 The contents whereof were these: King Antiochus to Simon the high priest, and prince of his nation, and to the people of the Jews greeting;

3 Forasmuch as certain pestilent men have usurped the kingdom of our fathers, and my purpose is to challenge it again, that I may restore it to the old estate, and to that end have gathered a multitude of foreign souldiers together, and prepared ships of warre,

4 By meaning also being to go through the country, that I may be avenged of them that have destroyed it, and made many cities in the kingdom desolate.

5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the obligations which the kings before me granted thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they granted.

6 I give thee leave also to coyn money for thy country with thine own stamp.

7 And as concerning Jerusalem, and the sanctuary, let them be free, and all the armour that thou hast made, and fortresses that thou hast built, and keepe in thine hands; let them remain unto thee.

8 And if any thing be, or shall be owing to the king, let it be forgiven thee, from this time forth for evermore.

9 Furthermore, when we have obtained our kingdom, we will honour thee, and thy nation, and thy temple with great honour, so that your honour shall be known throughout the world.

10 In the hundred threescore and fourteenth yeer went Antiochus into the land of his fathers: at which time all the forces came together unto him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 Therefore being pursued by king Antiochus, he fled unto Doja, which lieth by the sea side.

12 For he saw that troubles came upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him.

13 Then camped Antiochus against Doja, having with him an hundred and twenty thousand men of warre, and eight thousand horsemen.

14 And when he had compassed the city round about, and joined ships close to the town on the sea side, he vexed the city by land and by sea, neither suffered he any to go out or in.

15 In the mean season came Ammenius, and his company from Rome, having letters to the kings and countreys: wherein were written these things:

16 Lucius, Consul of the Romanes, unto king Ptoleme greeting:

17 The Jews a bassadours, our friends and confederates, came unto us to renew the old friendship and league, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews.

18 And they brought a shield of gold, of a thousand pound.

19 We thought it good therefore to write unto the kings and countreys, that they should do them no harm, nor fight against them, their cities or countreys, nor yet aid their enemies against them.

20 It seemed also good to us to receive the shield of them.

21 If therefore there be any pestilent fellows, that have fled from their countrey unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their owne law.

Or Arathes

22 The same things wrote he likewise unto Demetrius the king, and Artaxus, to Ariarathes and Arsaces,

Or Samp-faces

23 And to all the countreys, and to Samphamenes and the Lacedemonians, and to Delus, and Hydnus, and Sicyon, and Caria, and Samos, and Pamphylia, and Lycia, and Balaearnassus, and Rhodus, and Phaselias, and Cos, and Sider, and Aradus, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene.

Or, Basilis.

24 And the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

Or bring-ing his forces to it.

25 So Antiochus the king camped against Dorra the second day, assaulting it continually, and making engines, by which means he shut up Tryphon, that he could neither go nor in.

26 At that time Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to aid him: silver also and gold, and much armour.

27 Nevertheless he would not receive them, but brake all the covenants which he had made with him afore, and became strange unto him.

28 Furthermore he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his friends, to commune with him, and say, Don withhold Toppe and Gazara, with the tower that is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my realm.

29 The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places within my kingdome.

Or, except the borders, &c.

30 Now therefore deliver the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places wherof ye have gotten dominion without the borders of Judea.

Or, subdue you in fight.

31 Or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver: and for the harm that you have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: if not, we will come and and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Jerusalem, and when he saw the glory of Simon, and the embord of gold, and silver plate, and his great attendance, he was astonished, and told him the kings message.

33 Then answered Simon, and said unto him, We have neither taken other mens land, nor holden that which appertaineth to others, but the inheritance of our fathers, which our enemies had wrongfully in possession a certain time.

34 Therefore we having opportunity, hold the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And whereas thou demanded Toppe and Gazara, albeit they did great harm unto the people in our countrey, yet will we give an hundred talents for them. Hereunto Athenobius answered him not a word,

36 But returned in a rage to the king, and made report unto him of these speeches, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that he had sent whereupon the king was exceeding wroth.

37 In the mean time fled Tryphon by ship unto Othollas.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captain of the sea coast, and gave him an host of footmen and horsemen.

39 And commanded him to remove his host toward Judea: also he commanded him to build up Cedon, and to fortifie the gates, and to warre against the people: but as for the king [himself] he pursued Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to invade Judea, and to take the people prisoners, and slay them.

41 And when he had built up Cedon, he set horsemen there, and an host [of footmen] to the end that slinking out they might make outroads upon the wayes of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

C H A P. XVI.

3 Judas and John prevail against the forces sent by Antiochus. 11 The captain of Jericho inviteth Simon and two of his sons into his castle, and there treacherously murdereth them. 19 John is fought for, 22 and escapeth, and killeth those that fought for him.

Then came up John from Gazara, and told Simon his father, what Cendebeus had done.

2 Wherefore Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said unto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers house, have ever from our youth unto this day fought against the enemies of Israel, and things have prospered so well in our hands, that we have delivered Israel oftentimes.

3 But now I am old, and ye [by Gods mercy] are of a sufficient age: be ye in stead of me and my brother, and go and fight for our nation, and the help from heaven be with you.

4 So he chose out of the countrey twenty thousand men of war with horsemen, who went out against Cendebeus, and rested that night at Bethin.

5 And when as they rose in the morning, and went into the plaine, behold, a mighty great host both of footmen and horsemen, came against them: howbeit, there was a water-brook betwixt them.

6 So he and his people pitched over against them, and when he saw that the people were afraid to go over the water-brook, he went first over himself, and then the men seeing him, passed through after him.

7 [That done] he divided his men, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: for the enemies horsemen were very many.

8 Then sounded they with the holy trumpets: whereupon Cendebeus and his host were put to flight, so that many of them were slain, and the remnant gat them to the strong hold.

9 At that time was Judas Johns brother wounded, but John still followed after them, until he came to Cedon, which [Cendebeus] had built.

10 So they fled even unto the towers in the fields of Azotus, wherefore he burnt it with fire: so that there were slain of them about two thousand men. Afterward he returned into the land of Judea in peace.

11 Moreover, in the plaine of Jericho was Ptolemes the son of Abubus made captain, and he had abundance of silver and gold.

Or which when he had set on fire, they fled unto the towers in the fields of Azotus, and there were slain, &c.

12 For he was the high priest's sonne in law.
13 Therefore his heart being lifted up, he thought to get the country to himself, and thereupon consulted deceitfully against Simon and his sons to destroy them.

14 Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them, at which time he came down himself to Jericho with his sonnes, Balthas and Judas, in the hundred threescore and seven year, in the eleventh moneth called Saba.

15 Where the son of Abubus receiving them deceitfully into a little hold called Docus, which he had built, made them a great banquet: howbeit he had his men there.

16 So when Simon and his sons had drunk largely, Ptoleme and his men rose up and took their weapons, and came upon Simon into the banquetting place, and slew him and his two sons, and certain of his servants.

17 In which doing he committed a great treachery, and recompensed evil for good.

18 Then Ptoleme wore these things, and sent to the king, that he should send him an host to aid him, and he would deliver him the country and cities.

19 He sent others also to Gazara to kill John, and unto the tribunes he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them silver, and gold, and rewards.

20 And others he sent to take Jerusalem, and the mountain of the temple.

21 Now one had runne afore to Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were slain, and [quoth he] Ptoleme hath sent to slay thee also.

22 Hereof when he heard, he was sore astonished: So he laid hands on them that were come to destroy him, and slew them, for he knew that they sought to make him away.

23 As concerning the rest of the acts of John, and his warres and worthy deeds which he did, and the building of the walls which he made, and his doings,

24 Behold, these are written in the Chronicles of his priesthood, from the time he was made high priest after his father.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

CHAP. I.

1 A letter of the Jews from Jerusalem to them of Egypt, to thank God for the death of Antiochus.
19 Of the fire that was hidden in the pit. 24 The prayer of Nemeas.

I He brethren the Jews that be at Jerusalem, and in the land of Judea, wish unto the brethren the Jews that are throughout Egypt, health and peace.

2 God be gracious unto you, and remember his covenant that he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants,

3 And give you all an heart to serve him, and to do his will with a good courage, and a willing minde,

4 And open your hearts in his law and commandments, and send you peace,

5 And hear your prayers, and be at one with you, and never forsake you in time of trouble.

6 And now we be here praying for you.

7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews wrote unto you in the extremity of trouble, that came upon us in those years, from the time that Jason and his company revolted from the holy land and kingdom:

8 And burnt the porch, and shed innocent blood. Then we prayed unto the Lord, and were heard: we offered also sacrifices, and fine flour, and lighted the lamps, and let forth the loaves.

9 And now see that we keep the feast of * tabernacles in the moneth Callen.

10 In the hundred fourty one and eighty year, the people that were at Jerusalem, and in Judea, and the counsell, and Judas, sent greeting and health unto Aristobulus, king Ptolemicus master, who was of the stock of the anointed priests, and to the Jews that were in Egypt:

11 Inasmuch as God hath delivered us from great perils, we thank him highly, as having been in battell against a king.

12 For he cast them out that fought within the holy city.

13 For when the leader was come into Perea, and the army, with him that seemed invincible, they were slain in the temple of Manne, by the decree of Manneas priests.

14 For Antiochus, as though he would marry her, came into the place, and his friends that were with him, to receive money in name of a dowry.

15 Which when the priests of Manne had set forth, and he was entered with a small company into the compass of the temple, they shut the temple as soon as Antiochus was come in.

16 And opening a privie door of the roof, they threw stones like thunderbolts, and stroke down the captain, helved them in pieces, smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were with out.

17 Blessed be our God in all things, who hath delivered up the ungodly.

18 Therefore whereas we are now purposed to keep the purification of the temple upon the five and twentieth day of the moneth * Callen, we thought it necessary to certifye you thereof, that ye also might keep it, as the [feast] of the tabernacles, and of the fire [which was given us] when Nemeas offered sacrifice, after that he had builded the temple, and the altar.

19 For when our fathers were led into Babilonia, the priests that were then deputed took the fire of the altar privily, and hid it in a hollow place of a pit without water, where they kept it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men.

20 Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nemeas being sent from the king of Babilonia, did send of the posteritie of those priests that had hid it, to the fire: but when they told us, they found no fire, but thick water:

* Levit. 23.
Num. 29.

Lev. 23. 34.

21 Then commanded he them to draw it up, and to bring it : and when the sacrifices were laid on, Neemias commanded the priests to sprinkle the wood, and the things laid thereupon, with the water.

22 When this was done, and the time came that the sunne shone, which afore was hid in the cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that every man marvelled.

23 And the priests made a prayer whilst the sacrifice was consuming, [I say] both the priests, and all the rest, Jonathan beginning, and the rest answering thereunto as Neemias did.

24 And the prayer was after this manner, O Lord, Lord God, creatour of all things, who art fearfull and strong, and righteous, and merciful, and the onely and gracious King,

25 The onely aliver of all things, the onely just Almighty, and everlasting, thou that deliverest Israel from all trouble, and didst choose the fathers and sanctifie them :

26 Receive the sacrifice for thy whole people Israel, and preserve thine own portion, and sanctifie it.

27 Gather those together that are scattered from us, deliver them that serve among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and let the heathen know that thou art our God.

28 Punish them that oppress us, and with pride do us wrong.

29 Plant thy people again in thy holy place, as Moses hath spoken.

30 And the priests sung psalms of thanksgiving.

31 Now when the sacrifice was consumed, Neemias commanded the water that was left, to be poured on the great stones.

32 When this was done, there was kindled a flame : but it was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.

33 So when this matter was known, it was told the king of Persia, that in the place where the priests that were led away, had hid the fire, there appeared water, and that Neemias had purified the sacrifices therewith.

34 Then the king inclining the place, made it holy after he had tried the matter.

35 And the king took many gifts, and bestowed thereof on those whom he would gratifie.

36 And Neemias called this thing Naphthar, which is as much to say, a cleansing : but many men call it Sephi.

CHAP. II.

1 What Jeremie the prophet did. 5 How he hid the tabernacle, the ark, and the altar. 13 What Neemias and Judas wrote. 20 What Jason wrote in five books. 25 And how those were abridged by the author of this book.

IT is also found in the records, that Jeremie the prophet commanded them that were carried away, to take of the fire, as it hath been signified.

2 And how that the prophet having given them the law, charged them not to forget the commandments of the Lord, and that they should not erre in their mindes, when they see images of silver, and gold, with their ornaments.

3 And with other such speeches exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their hearts.

4 It was also contained in the same writings, that the prophet being warned of God, commanded the tabernacle and the ark to go with him, as he went forth into the mountain, where Moses climbed up, and saw the heritage of God.

5 And when Jeremie came thither, he found an hollow cave, wherein he laid the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the door.

6 And some of those that followed him, came to mark the way, but they could not finde it.

7 Which when Jeremie perceived, he blamed them, saying, As for that place, it shall be unknown untill the time that God gather his people again together, and receive them unto mercy.

8 Then shall the Lord shew them these things, and the glory of the Lord shall appear, and the cloud also as it was shewed under Moses, and as when Solomon desired that the place might be honourably sanctified.

9 It was also declared that he being wise, offered the sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple.

10 And as when Moses prayed unto the Lord, the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the sacrifices : even so prayed Solomon also, and the fire came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt offerings.

11 And Moses said, Because the sinne-offering was not to be eaten it was consumed.

12 So Solomon kept those eight dayes.

13 The same things also were reported in the writings, and commentaries of Neemias, and how he founding a library, gathered together the acts of the kings and the prophets, and of David, and the epistles of the kings concerning the holy gifts.

14 In like manner also Judas gathered together all those things that were lost, by reason of the warre we had, and they remain with us.

15 Therefore if ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, we have written unto you, and ye shall do well if ye keep the same dayes.

17 † We hope also that the God that delivered all his people, and gave them all an heritage, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the sanctuary,

18 As he promised in the law, will shortly have mercy upon us, and gather us together out of every land under heaven, into the holy place : for he hath delivered us out of great troubles, and hath purified the place.

19 Now as concerning Judas Maccabeus, and his brethren, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar,

20 And the warres against Antiochus Epiphanes, and Eupator his sonne,

21 And the manifest signes that came from heaven, unto those that behaved themselves manfully to their honour for Judaisme : so that being but a few they overcame the whole countrey, and chased barbarous multitudes,

22 And recovered again the temple renowned all the world over, and freed the city, and upheld the laws, which were going down, the Lord being gracious unto them with all favour :

23 All these things [I say] being declared by Jason of Cyrene in five books, we will assay to abridge in one volume.

24 For considering the infinite number, and the difficulty which they finde that desire to look into the narrations of the story, for the variety of the matter,

25 We have been careful, that they that will read, might have delight, and that they that are desirous to commit to memory, might have ease, and † Greek, now God is that saved all his people, and rendred the heritage, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the sanctuary, as he promised in the law : for we hope in God that he will shortly, &c.

and that all into whose hands it comes, might have profit.

26 Therefore to us that have taken upon us this painfull labour of abiding, it was not easie, but a matter of sweat and watching.

Or, to deserve well of many.

27 Even as it is no ease unto him that prepareth a banquet, and seeketh the benefit of others, yet if for the pleasing of many, we will undertake gladly this great pain:

28 Leaving to the author the exact handling of every particular, and labouring to follow the rules of an abridgement.

29 For as the master-builder of a new house must care for the whole building: but he that undertaketh to set it out, and paint it, must seek out fit things for the adorning thereof: even so I think it is with us.

30 To stand upon every point, and go over things at large, and to be curious in particulars, belongeth to the first author of the storie.

31 But to use brevity, and avoid much labouring of the work, is to be granted to him that will make an abridgement.

32 Here then will we begin the story: onely adding thus much to that which hath been said, that it is a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story itself.

CHAP. III.

1 Of the honour done to the temple by the kings of the Gentiles. 4 Simon uttereth what treasures are in the temple. 7 Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 24 He is stricken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

NOW when the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godlinesse of Onias the high priest, and his hatred of wickednesse,

2 It came to passe that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and magnifie the temple with their best gifts;

3 Inasmuch that Seleucus king of Asia, of his own reverence, bare all the costs belonging to the service of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin who was made governour of the temple, fell out with the high priest about disorder in the city.

5 And when he could not overcome Onias, he gat him to Apollonius the son of Thraseas, who then was governour of Coelosyria and Phenice,

6 And told him that the treasure in Jerusalem was full of infinite sums of money, so that the multitude of their riches which did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices was innumerable, and that it was possible to bring all into the kings hand.

7 Now when Apollonius came to the king, and had shewed him of the money wherof he was told, the king chose out Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandment, to bring him the forsaid money.

8 So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Coelosyria and Phenice, but indeed to fulfill the kings purpose.

9 And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received of the high priest of the city, he told him what intelligence was given of the money, and declared wherof he came, and asked if these things were so indeed.

10 Then the high priest told him that there was such money laid up for the relief of widowers and fatherlesse children:

11 And that some of it belonged to Hircanus, son of Tobias, a man of great dignity, and not as that wicked Simon had mis-informed: the sum wherof in all was four hundred talents of silver, and two hundred of gold.

12 And that it was altogether impossible that such wrongs should be done unto them, that had committed it to the holiness of the place, and to the maiestie and inviolable sanctitie of the temple, honoured over all the world.

13 But Heliodorus, because of the kings commandment given him, said, That in any wise it must be brought into the kings treasury.

14 So at the day which he appointed, he entred in to order this matter: wherfore there was no small agony throughout the whole city.

15 But the priests prostrating themselves before the altar in their priests vestments, called unto heaven upon him that made a law concerning things given to be kept, that they should safely be preserved for such as had committed them to be kept.

16 Then whoso had looked the high priest in the face, it would have wounded his heart: for his countenance, and the changing of his colour, declared the inward agonie of his minde.

17 For the man was so compassed with fear, and horror of the body, that it was manifest to them that looked upon him, what sorrow he had now in his heart.

18 Others ran flocking out of their houses to the generall supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt.

19 And the women girt with sackcloth under their breasts, abounded in the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ran, some to the gates, and some to the walls, and others looked out of the windows.

20 And all holding their hands towards heaven, made supplication.

21 Then it would have pitted a man to see the falling down of the multitude of all sorts, and the fear of the high priest, being in such an agonie.

22 They then called upon the Almighty Lord, to keep the things committed of trust, safe and sure, for those that had committed them.

23 Nevertheless, Heliodorus executed that which was decreed.

24 Now as he was there, present himself with his guard about the treasury, the Lord of spirits, and the prince of all power caused a great apparition, so that all that presumed to come in with him, were astonished at the power of God, and fainted, and were sore afraid.

25 For there appeared unto them an horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with a very fast covering, and he ran fiercely, and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse, had compleat harness of gold.

26 Moreover, two other young men appeared before him, notable in strength, excellent in beauty, and comely in apparell, who stood by him on either side, and scourged him continually, and gave him many sore stripes.

27 And Heliodorus fell suddenly unto the ground, and was compassed with great darkness: but they that were with him, took him up, and put him into a street.

28 Thus him, that lately came with a great train, and with all his guard into the said treasury, they carried out, being unable to help himself with his weapons: and manifestly they acknowledged the power of God.

29 For he by the hand of God was cast down, and lay speechlesse without all hope of life.

Or, to make generall supplication

† Gr expectation.

Or, Lord of our fathers.

10 But they praised the Lord that had miraculously honoured his own place: for the temple which a little afore was full of fear and trouble, when the almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladness.

11 Then straightwayes certain of Heliodorus friends, prayed Onias that he would call upon the most high to grant him his life, who lay ready to give up the ghost.

12 So the high priest suspecting lest the king should misconceive, that some treachery had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a sacrifice for the health of the man.

13 Now as the high priest was making an atonement, the same young men, in the same cloths, appeared, and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, inasmuch as for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life.

14 And seeing that thou hast been scourged from heaven, declare unto all men the mighty power of God: and when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.

15 So Heliodorus, after he had offered sacrifice unto the Lord, and made great vows unto him that had saved his life, and saluted Onias, returned with his host to the king.

16 Then testified he to all men, the works of the great God, which he had seen with his eyes.

17 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be yet sent once again to Jerusalem, he said,

18 If thou hast any enemy or traitour send him thither, and thou shalt receive him well scourged, if he escape with his life: for in that place, no doubt, there is an especial power of God.

19 For he that dwelleth in heaven, hath his eye on that place and defendeth it, and he beareth and destroyeth them that come to hurt it.

20 And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury, fell out on this sort.

CHAP. III.

1 Simon slandereth Onias. 7 Jason by corrupting the king obtaineth the office of the high priest. 24 Menelaus getteth the same from Jason by the like corruption. 34 Andronicus traitorously murdereth Onias. 36 The king being informed thereof, causeth Andronicus to be put to death. 39 The wickednesse of Lysimachus by the instigation of Menelaus.

This Simon now (of whom we spake afore) having been a betrayer of the money, and of his country, slandered Onias, as if he had terrified Heliodorus, and been the worker of these evils.

2 Thus was he bold to call him a traitour, that had deserved well of the citie, and tended his own nation, and was so zealous of the laws.

3 But when their hatred went to farre, that by one of Simons faction murders were committed,

4 Onias seeing the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, as being the governour of Coelosyria and Phenice, did rage, and increase Simons malice,

5 He went to the king, not to be an accuser of his countrey men, but seeking the good of all, both publike and private:

6 For he saw that it was impossible, that the state should continue quiet, and Simon leave his folly inlesse the king did look thereunto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus called Epiphanes, took the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias, laboured under-hand to be high priest,

8 Promising unto the king by intercession, three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and of another revenue, eightie talents.

9 Besides this, he promised to assigne an hundred and fifty more, if he might have licence to let him up a place for exercise, and for the training up of youth in the fashions of the heathen, and to wite them of Jerusalem (by the name of) Antiochians.

10 Which when the king had granted, and he had gotten into his hand the rule, he forthwith brought his own nation to the Greekish fashion.

11 And the royall privileges granted of speciall favour to the Jews, by the means of John the father of Eupolemus, who went ambassadour to Rome for amity and ayd, he took away; and putting down the governments which were according to the law, he brought up new customs against the law.

12 For he built gladly a place of exercise under the tower it self, and brought the chief young men under his subjection, and made them wear a hat.

13 Now such was the height of Greek fashions, and increase of heathenish manners, though the exceeding profanenesse of Jason that ungodly wretch, and not high priest:

14 That the priests had no courage to serve any more at the altar, but desisting the temple, and neglecting the sacrifices, fastened to be partakers of the unlawfull allowance in the place of exercise, after the game of // Discus called them forth;

15 Not letting by the honours of their fathers, but liking the glory of the Grecians best of all.

16 Whereof fore calamity came upon them; for they had them to be their enemies and avengers, whose custome they followed so earnestly, and unto whom they desired to be like in all things.

17 For it is not a light thing to do wickedly against the laws of God: but the time following shall declare these things.

18 Now when the game that was used every fifth year, was kept at Tyris, the king being present,

19 This ungracious Jason sent // speciall messengers from Jerusalem, who were Antiochians, to carry three hundred drachmes of silver to the sacrifice of Hercules, which even the bearers thereof thought fit not to bestow upon the sacrifice, because it was not convenient, but to be reserved for other charges.

20 This money then in regard of the sender, was appointed to Hercules sacrifice, but because of the bearers thereof, it was imployed to the making of gallies.

21 Now when Apollonius the sonne of Panaantheus was sent into Egypt, for the coronation of king Ptolemeus Philometor, Antiochus understanding him not to be well affected to his affairs, provided for his own safety: whereupon he came to Ioppe, and from thence to Jerusalem.

22 Where he was honourably received of Jason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torchlight, and with great shoutings; and so afterward went with his host unto Phenice.

23 Three yeeres afterward Jason sent Menelaus the forefate Simons brother, to bear the money unto the king, and to put him in minde of certain necessary matters.

24 But he being brought to the presence of the king, when he had magnified him for the glorious appearance of his power, got the priesthood to himself, offering more then Jason by three hundred talents of silver.

25 So he came with the kings mandate, bringing nothing worthy the high priesthood, but having the fury of a cruel tyrant, and the rage of a savage beast.

26 Then Jason, who had undermined his own brother, being undermined by another, was compelled to flee into the country of the Ammonites.

27 So Heleneus got the principalltie: but as for the money that he had promised unto the king, he took no good order for it, albeit Sosistratus the ruler of the castle required it.

28 For unto him appertained the gathering of the customs. Wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Now Heleneus left his brother Lysimachus in his stead in the priesthood, and Sosistratus left Crates: who was governour of the Syrians.

30 While those things were in doing, they of Tharhis and Ballos made insurrection, because they were given to the kings concubine called Antiochis.

31 Then came the king in all haste to appeale matters, leaving Andronicus a man in authority, for his deputy.

32 Now Heleneus supposing that he had gotten a convenient time, stole certain vessels of gold out of the temple, and gave some of them to Andronicus, and some he sold into Tyrus, and the cities round about.

33 Which when Onias knew of a surety, he reproved him, and withdrew himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by Antiochia.

34 Wherefore Heleneus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him to get Onias into his hands; who being perswaded therunto, and coming to Onias in deceit, gave him his right hand with oaths, and though he were suspected (by him) yet perswaded he him to come forth of the sanctuary: whom forthwith he shut up without regard of justice.

35 For the which cause not only the Jews, but many also of other nations took great indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of the man.

36 And when the king was come again from the places about Cilicia, the Jews that were in the city, and certain of the Greeks that abhorred the fact also, complained because Onias was slain without cause.

37 Therefore Antiochus was heartily sorry, and moved to pity, and wept, because of the sober and modest behaviour of him that was dead.

38 And being kindled with anger, forthwith he took away Andronicus his purple, and rent off his clothes, and leading him through the whole citie unto that very place where he had committed impietie against Onias, there slew he the cursed murderer. Thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as he had deserved.

39 Now when many sacriledges had been committed in the citie by Lysimachus, with the consent of Heleneus, and the bruit thereof was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, many vessels of gold being already carried away.

40 Whereupon the common people rising, and being filled with rage, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began first to offer violence: one || Aranus being the leader, a man faire gone in yeeres, and no less in folly.

41 They then seeing the attempt of Lysimachus, some of them caught stones, some clubs, others taking handfuls of dust that was next at hand, cast them all together upon Lysimachus, and those that set upon them.

42 Thus many of them they wounded, and some they stroke to the ground, and all [of them] they forced to flee: but as for the church-robber himself, him they killed besides the treasure.

43 Of these matters therefore there was an accusation laid against Heleneus.

44 Now when the king came to Tyrus, three men that were sent from the senate, pleaded this cause before him.

45 But Heleneus being now convicted, wonned Ptolemee the sonne of Dorymenes, to give him much money, if he would pacifie the king towards him.

46 Whereupon Ptolemee taking the king aside into a certain gallery, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another minde.

47 Insomuch that he discharged Heleneus from the accusations, who notwithstanding was cause of all the mischief: and those poor men, who if they had told their cause, yea, before the Syethians, should have been judged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus they that followed the matter for the city, and for the people, and for the holy vessels, did soon suffer unjust punishment.

49 Wherefore even they of Tyrus moved with hatred of that wicked deed, caused them to be honourably buried.

50 And so through the covetousnesse of them that were of power, Heleneus remained still in authority, increasing in malice, and being a great traitour to the citizens.

CHAP. V.

2 Of the signes and tokens seen in Jerusalem. 6 Of the end and wickednesse of Jason. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Jews. 15 The spoiling of the temple. 27 Maccabeus fleeth into the wildecnesse.

ABOUT the same time Antiochus prepared his second voyage into Egypt:

2 And then it happened, that through all the city for the space almost of forty daies, there were seen hostemen running in the aire, in cloth of gold, and armed with lances, like a band of soldiers.

3 And troups of hostmen in array, encountering and running one against another, with shaking of shields, and multitude of pikes, and drawing of swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden ornaments, and harness of all sorts.

4 Wherefore every man prayed that that apparition might turn to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had been dead, Jason took at the least a thousand men, and suddenly made an assault upon the city, and they that were upon the walls, being put back, and the city at length taken, Heleneus fled into the castle:

6 But Jason slew his own citizens without mercy (not considering that to get the day of them of his own nation, would be a most unhappy day for him: but thinking they had been his enemies, and not his countrey men whom he conquered)

7 Notwith, for all this he obtained not the principallty, but at the last received shame for the reward of his treason, and fled again into the country of the Ammonites.

8 In the end therefore he had an unhappy return, being accused before Aretas the king of the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated as a forsaker of the laws, and being had in abomination, as an open enemy of his countrey, and countrey men, he was cast out into Egypt.

9 Thus he that had driven many out of their country,

|| Or, slaves.

|| Or, executioners.

countrie, perished in a strange land, retiring to the Libedonians, and chinking there to finde succour by reason of his kindred.

10 And he that had cast out many unburied, had none to mourne for him, nor any solemn funeralls at all, nor sepulchre with his fathers.

11 Now when this that was done came to the kings ear, he thought that Judea had revolted: whereupon removing out of Egypt in a furious minde, he took the cite by force of arms,

12 And commanded his men of warre not to spare such as they met, and to slay such as went up upon the houses.

13 Thus there was killing of young and old, making away of men, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants.

14 And there were destroyed within the space of thre whole dayes, fourscore thousand, whereof fourty thousand were slain in the conflict; and no fewer sold then slain.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but presumed to go into the most holy temple of all the world: Heliclus that traitour to the laws, and to his own countrie, being his guide:

16 And taking the holy vessels with polluted hands, and with profane hands pulling down the things that were dedicated by other kings to the augmentation, and glory, and honour of the place, he gave them away.

17 And so haughtie was Antiochus in minde, that he considered not that the Lord was angry for a while for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the cite, and therefore his eye was not upon the place.

18 For had they not been formerly wrapped in many sinnes, this man soon as he had come, had forthwith been scourged, and put back from his presumption, as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to view the treasury.

19 For verily thus, God did not choole the people for the places sake, but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore the place it self, that was partaker with them of the adversities that happened to the nation, did afterward communicate in the benefits sent from the Lord: and as it was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty, so againe the great Lord being reconciled, it was set up with all glory.

21 So when Antiochus had carried out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto Antiochia, weening in his pride to make the land navigable, and the sea passable by foot: such was the haughtinesse of his minde.

22 And he left governours to ber the nation: at Jerusalem Philip, for his countrie a Phrygian, and for manners more barbarous then he that set him there.

23 And at Garisim Andronicus; and besides Heliclus, who worse then all the rest, bare an heauble hand over the citizens, having a malicious minde against his countrymen the Jews.

24 He sent also that detestable ring-leader Apollonius, with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were in their best age, and to sell the women, and the younger sort:

25 Altho coming to Jerusalem, and pretending peace, did forbear till the holy day of the sabbath, when taking the Jews keeping holy-day, he commanded his men to a him themselves.

26 And so he slew all them that were gone to the celebrating of the sabbath, and running through the city with weapons, slew great multitudes.

27 But Julius Maccabaeus † with nine others, at thereabout, withdrew himself into the wilderness, and lived in the mountains after the manner of beasts, with his company, who fed on herbs continually, lest they should be partakers of the pollution.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Jews are compelled to leave the law of God.

4 The temple is defiled. 8 Cruelty upon the people and the women. 12 An exhortation to bear affliction, by the example of the valiant courage of Eleazarus, cruelly tormented.

Nowe long after this, the king sent an old man † Athens, to compell the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God:

2 And to pollute also the temple in Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius: and that in Garisim, of Jupiter the defender of strangers, as they † did desire that dwelt in the place.

3 The coming in of this mischief was sore and grievous to the people.

4 For the temple was filled with riot and revelling by the Gentiles, who dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the circuit of the holy places, and besides that, brought in things that were not lawfull.

5 The altar also was filled with profane things which the law forbiddeth.

6 Neither was it lawfull for a man to keep sabbath dayes, or ancient feasts, or to professe himself at all to be a Jew.

7 And in the day of the kings birth every moneth they were brought by bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, the Jews were compelled to go in procession to Bacchus, carrying wine.

8 Moreover, there went out a decree to the neighbour cities of the † heathen, by the suggestion of Heliclus, against the Jews, that they should observe the same fashion, and be partakers of their sacrifices.

9 And whoso would not conform themselves to the manners of the Gentiles, should be put to death. Then might a man have seen the present misery.

10 For there were two women brought who had circumcised their children, whom when they had openly led round about the cite, the babes hanging at their breasts, they cast them down headlong from the wall.

11 And others that had run together into caves neer by, to keep the sabbath-day secretly, being discovered to Philip, were all burnt together, because they made a conscience to help themselves, for the honour of the most sacred day.

12 Now I beseech those that read this book, that they be not discouraged for these calamities, but that they judge those punishments not to be for destruction, but for a chastening of our nation.

13 For it is a token of his great goodness, when wicked doers are not suffered any long time, but forthwith punished.

14 For not as with other nations whom the Lord patiently forbeareth to punish, till they be come to the fullnesse of their sinnes, so dealeth he with us,

15 Lest that being come to the height of sinnes, afterwards he should take vengeance of us.

16 And therefore he never withholdeth his mercy from us: and though he punish with adversity, yet doth he never forsake his people.

17 But let this that we have spoken be for a warning unto us: and now will we come to the declaring of the matter in few words.

† Antioch: the Latine interpreter.

† Out of Ios. lib. 12 cap. 7. or as they were.

† Gr. Grecians.

† Gr. who was the tenth.

18 Eleazar one of the principall scribes, an aged man, and of a well favoured countenance, was constrained to open his mouth, and to eat swines flesh.

19 But hee choosing rather to die gloriously, then to live stained with such an abomination, spit it forth, and came of his own accord to the torment.

20 As it behoved them to come, that are resolute to stand out against such things as are not lawful for love of life to be tasted.

21 But they that had the charge of that wicked feast, for the old acquaintance they had with the man, taking him aside, besought him to bring flesh of his own provision, such as was lawful for him to use, and make as if he did eat of the flesh taken from the sacrifice commanded by the king.

22 That in so doing he might be delivered from death, and for the old friendship with them, finde favour.

23 But he began to consider discreetly, and as became his age, and the excellency of his ancient years, and the honour of his gray head, whereunto he was come, and his most honest education from a childe, or rather the holy law made and given by God: therefore he answered accordingly, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the grave.

24 For it becometh not our age, said he, in any wise to dissemble, whereby many young persons might thinke, that Eleazar being fowtysore years old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion.

25 And for they through mine hypocrisie, and desire to live a little time, and a moment longer, should be deceived by me, and I get a stain to mine old age, and make it abominable.

26 For though for the present time I should be delivered from the punishment of men: yet should I not escape the hand of the Almighty, neither alive, nor dead.

27 Therefore now manfully changing this life, I will shew my self such a one, as mine age requireth.

28 And leave a notable example to such as he young to die willingly, and courageously, for the honourable and holy lawes: and when he had said these words, immediately he went to the torment.

29 They that led him, changing the good will they bare him a little before, into hatred, because the fore said speeches proceeded, as they thought, from a desperate humour.

30 But when he was ready to die with stripes, he groaned and said, It is manifest unto the Lord, that both the holy knowledge, that whereas I might have been delivered from death, I [now] endure sore pains in body, by being beaten: but in soul am well content to suffer these things, because I fear him.

31 And thus this man died, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memoriall of vertue, not onely unto young men, but unto all his nation.

C H A P. VII.

The constancy and cruell death of seven brethren and their mother in one day, because they would not eat swines flesh at the kings commandment.

It came to passe also that seven brethren with their mother were taken, and compelled by the king against the law to taste swines flesh, and were tormented with scourges and whippes.

2 But one of them that spake first, said thus, What wouldest thou ask or learn of us? we are ready to die, rather then to transgresse the lawes of our fathers.

3 Then the king being in a rage, commanded pannes and caldrons to be made hot.

4 Which forthwith being heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that spake first, and to cut off the utmost parts of his body, the rest of his brethren, and his mother looking on.

5 Now when he was thus maimed: in all his members, he commanded him being yet alive to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the panne: and as the vapour of the panne was for a good space dispersed, they exhorted one another with the mother, to die manfully, saying thus.

6 The Lord God looked upon us, and in truth hath comfort in us, as Moses in his song, which witnessed to their faces, declared, saying, And he shall be comforted in his servants.

7 So when the first was dead, after this manner, they brought the second to make him a mocking stock: and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him, Wilt thou eat before thou be punished throughout every member of thy body?

8 But he answered in his own language, and said, No. Wherefore he also received the next torment in order, as the former did.

9 And when he was at the last gaspe, he said, Thou like a fury takest us out of this present life, but the king of the world shall raise us up, who have died for his lawes unto everlasting life.

10 After him was the third made a mocking stock: and when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soon, holding forth his hands manfully.

11 And said courageously, These I had from heaven, and for his lawes I despise them, and from him I hope to receive them again.

12 Insomuch that the king, and they that were with him, marvelled at the young mans courage, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

13 Now when this man was dead also, they tormented and mangled the fourth in like manner.

14 So when he was ready to die, he said thus, It is good, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God, to be raised up again by him: as for thee, thou shalt have no resurrection to life.

15 Afterward they brought the fifth also, and mangled him.

16 Then looked he unto the king, and said, Thou hast power over men, thou art corruptible, thou dost what thou wilt, yet thinke not that our nation is forsaken of God.

17 But abide a while, and behold his great power, how he will torment thee, and thy seed.

18 After him also they brought the sixth, who being ready to die, said, Be not deceived without cause: for we suffer these things for our selves having sinned against our God: therefore marvelous things are done (unto us.)

19 But thinke not thou that takest in hand to strive against God, that thou shalt escape unpunished.

20 But the mother was marvellous above all, and worthy of honourable memory: for when she saw her seven sonnes slain within the space of one day, she bare it with a good courage, because of the hope that she had in the Lord.

21 Yea, she exhorted every one of them in her own language: filled with courageous spirits; and stirring up her womanish thoughts with a manly stomack, she said unto them,

22 I cannot tell how you came into my wombe; for I neither gave you breath nor life, neither was it I that formed the members of every one of you.

23 But doubtlesse the Creator of the world,

* Deu. 32. 36

|| Or, madnesse or, pride.

C H A P. VIII.

who founded the generation of man, and found out the beginning of all things, will also of his own mercie give you breath and life again, as you now regard not your own selves for his lawes sake.

24 Now Antiochus thinking himself despised, and suspecting it to be a reproachfull speech, whilst the youngest was yet alive, did not onely exhort him by words, but also assured him with oathes, that he would make him both a rich and a happy man, if he would turn from the lawes of his fathers, and that also he would take him for his friend, and trust him with affaires.

25 But when the young man would in no case hearken unto him, the king called his mother, and exhorted her, that she would counsell the young man to save his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many wordes, she promised him that she would counsell her sonne.

27 But she bowing her self towards him, laughing the cruell tyrant to scorn, spake in her countrey language on this manner, O my sonne, have pity upon me that bare thee nine moneths in my wombe, and gave thee suck three yeeres, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age, and endured the troubles of education.

28 I beseech thee my sonne, look upon the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them of things that were not, and so was mankind made likewise.

29 Fear not this tormentour, but being worthy of thy brethren take thy death, that I may receive thee againe in mercy with thy brethren.

30 Whiles she was yet speaking these wordes, the young man said, Without wait ye for? I will not obey the kings commandment: but I will obey the commandment of the law that was given unto our fathers by Moses.

31 And thou that hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, shalt not escape the hands of God.

32 For we suffer because of our sinnes.

33 And though the living Lord be angry with us a little while for our chaffening and corrections, yet shall he be at one again with his servants.

34 But thou, O godlesse man, and of all other most wicked, be not lifted up without a cause, nor puffed up with uncertain hopes, lifting up thy hand against the servants of God:

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the judgement of Almighty God, who seeth all things.

36 For our brethren who now have suffered a short pain, are dead under Gods covenant of everlasting life: but thou through the judgement of God, shalt receive just punishment for thy pride.

37 But I, as my brethren, offer up my body and life for the lawes of our fathers, beseeching God that he would speedily be mercifull unto our nation, and that thou by torments and plagues mayest confesse, that he alone is God.

38 And that time, and my brethren, the wrath of the Almighty which is justly brought upon all our nation, may cease.

39 Then the king being in a rage, handled him worse then all the rest, and took it grievously that he was mocked.

40 So this man died undefiled, and put his whole trust in the Lord.

41 Last of all after the sonnes, the mother died.

42 Let this be enough now to have spoken concerning the idolatrous feasts, and the extreme tortures.

1 Judas gathereth an host. 9 Nicanor is sent against him: who presumeth to make much money of his prisoners. 16 Judas encourageth his men, and putteth Nicanor to flight, 28 and divideth the spoils. 30 Other enemies are also defeated, 35 and Nicanor sleeth with grief to Antioch.

Then Judas Maccabeus, and they that were with him, went privily into the towne, and called their kinsfolks together, and took unto them all such as continued in the Jews religion, and assembled about six thousand men.

2 And they called upon the Lord, that he would look upon the people that was trodden down of all, and also pity the temple, profaned of ungodly men.

3 And that he would have compassion upon the city, sore defaced and ready to be made even with the ground, and hear the blood that cried unto him.

4 And remember the wicked slaughter of harmless infants, and the blasphemies committed against his name, and that he would shew his hatred against the wicked.

5 Now when Maccabeus had his company about him, he could not be withstood by the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 Therefore he came at unawares, and burnt up towne and cities, and got into his hands the most commodious places, and overcame and put to flight no small number of his enemies.

7 But specially took he advantage of the night, for such privy attempts, inasmuch that the bruit of his mannesse was spread every where.

8 So when Philip saw that this man increased by little and little, and that things prospered with him still more and more, he wrote unto Ptolemeus the governour of Coelosyria and Phenice, to send more aid to the kings affairs.

9 Then forthwith choosing Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, one of his special friends, he sent him with no fewer then twenty thousand of all nations under him, to root out the whole generation of the Jews, and with him he appointed also Gorgias a captain, who in matters of warre had great experience.

10 So Nicanor undertook to make so much money of the captive Jews as should defray the tribute of two thousand talents, which the king was to pay to the Romans.

11 Wherefore immediately he sent to the cities upon the sea coast, proclaiming a sale of the captive Jews, and promising that they should have fourscore and ten bodies for one talent, not expecting the vengeance that was to follow upon him from the Almighty God.

12 Now when word was brought unto Judas of Nicanors coming, and he had imparted unto those that were with him, that the army was at hand, 13 They that were fearfull, and distrusted the justice of God, fled, and conveyed themselves away.

14 Others sold all that they had left, and with all besought the Lord to deliver them, being sold by the wicked Nicanor before they met together:

15 And if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants he had made with their fathers, and for his holy and glorious names sake, by which they were called.

16 So Maccabeus called his men together unto unto the number of six thousand, and exhorted them not to be stricken with terror of the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen, who came wrongfully against them, but to fight manfully.

17 And to set before their eyes the injury that they had unjustly done to the holy place, and the cruel handling of the city, whereof they made a mockery, and also the taking away of the government of their forefathers :

18 For they said he trust in their weapons, and boldness : but our confidence is in the Almighty God, who at a beck can cast down both them that come against us, and also all the world.

19 Moreover he recounted unto them what helps their forefathers had found, and how they were delivered, when under Sennacherib an hundred fourscore and five thousand perished.

20 And he told them of the battell that they had in Babylon with the Galatians, how they came but eight thousand in all to the battell, with four thousand Macedonians, and that the Macedonians being perplexed, the eight thousand destroyed an hundred and twenty thousand, because of the help that they had from heaven, and so received a great booty.

21 Thus when he had made them bold with these words, and ready to die for the laws, and the country, he divided his armie into four parts :

22 And soyned with himself his own brethren, leaders of each band, to wit, Simon and Joseph, and Jonathan, giving each one fifteen hundred men.

23 Also (he appointed) Eleazar to read the holy book, and when he had given them this watchword, The help of God; himself leading the first band, he soyned battell with Alcenor.

24 And by the help of the Almighty, they slew above nine thousand of their enemies, and wounded and maimed the most part of Alcenor's host, and so put all to flight :

25 And took their money that came to buy them, and pursued them farre : but lacking time, they returned.

26 For it was the day before the sabbath, and therefore they would no longer pursue them.

27 So when they had gathered their armour together, and spoiled their enemies, they occupied themselves about the sabbath, yielding exceeding praise and thanks to the Lord, who had preserved them unto that day, which was the beginning of mercy diffilling upon them.

28 And after the sabbath, when they had given part of the spoils to the maimed, and the widows and orphans, the rest they divided among themselves and their servants.

29 When this was done, and they had made a common supplication, they besought the merciful Lord to be reconciled with his servants for ever.

30 Moreover, of those that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, who fought against them, they slew above twenty thousand, and very easily got high and strong holds, and divided amongst themselves many spoils more, and made the maimed, orphans, widows, yea and the aged also, equal in spoils with themselves.

31 And when they had gathered their armour together, they laid them up all carefully in convenient places, and the remnant of the spoils they brought to Jerusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches that wicked person, who was with Timotheus, and had annoyed the Jews many waies.

33 Furthermore, at such time as they kept the feast for the victory in their country, they burnt Callisthenes that had set fire upon the holy gates, who was fled into a little house, and so he received a reward meet for his wickedness.

34 As for that most ungracious Alcenor, who had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Jews,

35 He was through the help of the Lord brought down by them of whom he made least account, and putting off his glorious apparell, and discharging his company, he came like a fugitive servant thorow the mid-land unto Antioch, having very great dishonour for that his host was destroyed.

36 Thus he that took upon him to make good to the Romans, their tribute by means of the captives in Jerusalem, told abroad, that the Jews had God to fight for them, and therefore they could not be hurt, because they followed the laws that he gave them.

CHAP. IX.

1 Antiochus is chased from Persepolis. 5 He is stricken with a sore disease, 14 and promiseth to become a Jew. 23 He dieth miserably.

ABout that time came Antiochus with his dishonour out of the country of Persia.

2 For he had entred the city called Persepolis, and went about to robbe the temple, and to hold the city : whereupon the multitude running to defend themselves with their weapons, put them to flight ; and so it happened, that Antiochus being put to flight of the inhabitants, returned with shame.

3 Now when he came to Sebana, news was brought him what had happened unto Alcenor and Timotheus.

4 Then swelling with anger, he thought to avenge upon the Jews the disgrace done unto him by those that made him flee. Therefore commanded he his chariot-man to drive without ceasing, and to dispatch the journey, the judgement of God now following him. For he had spoken proudly in this sort, That he would come to Jerusalem, and make it a common burying place of the Jews.

5 But the Lord Almighty, the God of Israel smote him with an incurable and invisible plague : for altho as he had spoken these words, a pain of the bowels that was remediless, came upon him, and sore torments of the inner parts.

6 And that most justly : for he had tormented other mens bowels with many and strange torments.

7 Howbeit he nothing at all ceased from his bragging, but still was filled with pride, braching out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey : but it came to passe that he fell down from his chariot, carried violently ; so that having a sore fall, all the members of his body were much pained.

8 And thus he that a little afore thought he might command the waves of the sea, (so proud was he beyond the condition of man) and weigh the high mountains in a balance, was now cast on the ground, and carried in an hostler, flying forth unto all the manifest power of God.

9 So that the worms rose up out of the body of this wicked man, and whiles he lived in sorrow and pain, his flesh fell away, and the stinkiness of his smell was noisome to all his army.

10 And the man that thought a little afore he could reach to the stores of heaven, no man could endure to carry for his intolerable stink.

That is, the enemies

Or, lamed with tortures.

Or, lamed.

Or, disorderly.

11 Here therefore being plagued, he began to leave off his great pride, and to come to the knowledge [of himself] by the scourge of God, his pain increasing every moment.

12 And when he himself could not abide his own sinell, he said these words, It is meet to be subject unto God, and that a man that is mortall should not proudly think of himself, as if he were God.

13 This wicked person bowed also unto the Lord, [who now no more would have mercy upon him] saying thus,

14 That the holy city [to the which he was going in haste to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying place] he would set at liberty.

15 And as touching the Jews, whom he had judged not worthy to be so much as buried, but to be cast out with their children to be devoured of the fowls and wild beasts, he would make them all equals to the citizens of Athens.

for Antioch

16 And the holy temple which before he had spoiled, he would garnish with goodly gifts, and replenish the holy vessels with many more, and out of his own revenue defray the charges belonging to the sacrifices:

17 Yea, and that also he would become a Jew himself, and go thorow all the world that was inhabited, and declare the power of God.

18 But for all this, his pains would not cease: for the iust judgment of God was come upon him: therefore despairing of his health, he wrote unto the Jews the letter under-written, containing the form of a supplication, after this manner:

19 Antiochus king and governour, to the good Jews his citizens, wisheth much joy, health and prosperity.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and your affairs be to your contentment, I give very great thanks to God, having my hope in heaven.

21 As for me, I was weak, or else I would have remembered kindly your honour, and good will. Returning out of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common safety of all:

22 Not distrusting mine health, but having great hope to escape this sickness.

23 But considering that even my father, at what time he led an army into the high countreys, appointed a successeur, for common affairs.

24 To the end, that if any thing fell out contrary to expectation, or if any tidings were brought that were grievous, they of the land knowing to whom the state was left, might not be troubled.

25 Again, considering how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom, wait for opportunities, and expect what shall be the event, I have appointed my sonne Antiochus king, whom I often committed, and commended unto many of you, when I went up into the high provinces, to whom I have written as followeth.

26 Therefore I pray and request you to remember the benefits that I have done unto you generally, and in speciall, and that every man will be still faithfull to me and my sonne.

for following.

27 For I am persuaded that he shall understanding my minde, will favourably and graciously yeeld to your desires.

28 Thus the murderer, and blasphemour having suffered most grievously, as he entreated other men, so died he a miserable death in a strange countrey in the mountains.

29 And Philip that was brought up with him, carried away his body, who also fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemus Philometor.

C H A P. X.

1 Judas recovereth the city, and purified the temple. 15 Gorgias vexeth the Jews. 16 Judas winneth their holds. 29 Timotheus and his men are discomfited. 35 Gazara is taken, and Timotheus slain.

NOW Baccabeus and his company, the Lord guiding them, recovered the temple, and the citie.

2 But the altars which the heathen had built in the open streets, and also the chappels, they pulled down.

3 And having cleansed the temple, they made another altar, and striking stones, they took fire out of them, and offered a sacrifice after two yeeres, and set forth incense, and lights, and shewbread.

4 When that was done, they fell flat down, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such troubles, but if they sinned any more against him, that he himself would chasten them with mercy, and that they might not be delivered unto the blasphemous, and barbarous nations.

5 Now upon the same day that the strangers profaned the temple, on the very same day it was cleansed again, even the five and twentieth day of the same moneth, which is Casleu.

6 And they kept eight dayes with gladnesse as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long afore they had held the feast of the tabernacles, when as they wandered in the mountains and dens like beasts.

7 Therefore they bare branches, and fair boughs, and palms also, and sang psalms unto him that had given them good successe in cleansing his place.

8 They ordained also by a common statute and decree, That every yeer those dayes should be kept of the whole nation of the Jews.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus called Epiphanes.

10 Now will we declare the acts of Antiochus Epipator, who was the sonne of this wicked man; gathering briefly the calamities of the warres.

11 So when he was come to the crown, he set one Lysias over the affaires of his realm, and [appointed him] chief governour of Coelosyria and Phenice.

12 For Ptolemus that was called Barron, choosing rather to do justice unto the Jews, for the wrong that had been done unto them, endeavoured to continue peace with them.

13 Whereupon being accused of [the kings] friends before Epipator, and called traitour at every word, because he had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed unto him, and departed to Antiochus Epiphanes, and seeing that he was in no honourable place, he was so discouraged, that he poisoned himself and died.

14 But when Gorgias was governour of the holds, he hired soldiers, and nourished warre continually with the Jews.

15 And therewithall the Idumeans having gotten into their hands the most commodious holds, kept the Jews occupied, and receiving those that were banished from Jerusalem, they went about to nourish warre.

16 Then they that were with Baccabeus made supplication, and besought God that he would for, and not bearing his authority as becometh a noble man for strong places.

would be their helper; and so they ran with violence upon the strong holds of the Tournans.

17 And assaulting them strongly, they won the holds, and kept off all that fought upon the walls, and slew all that fell into their hands, and killed no fewer then twenty thousand.

18 And became certain (who were no lesse then nine thousand) who fled together into two very strong castles, having all manner of things convenient to sustain the siege,

19 Baccabeus left Simon and Joseph, and Zacharius also, and them that were with him, who were now to besiege them, and departed himself unto those places which more needed his help.

10r, Simon.

20 Now if they that were with Simon, being led with covetousnesse, were perswaded for money (through certain of those that were in the castle) and took seventy thousand drachmes, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Baccabeus what was done, he called the governours of the people together, and accused those men that they had sold their brethren for money, and let their enemies free to fight against them.

22 So he slew those that were found traitours, and immediately took the two castles.

23 And having good successe with his weapons in all things he took in hand, he flew in the two holds more then twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus whom the Jews had overcome before, when he had gathered a great multitude of forein forces, and horses out of Asia not a few, came as though he would take Jewry by force of arms.

10r, Maccabeus, and they that were with him.

* Deut. 28.

25 But when he drew neer, if they that were with Baccabeus, turned themselves to pray unto God, and sprinkled earth upon their heads, and girded their loins with sackcloth,

26 And fell down at the foot of the altar, and besought him to be mercifull to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth.

27 So after the prayer, they took their weapons, and went on further from the city: and when they drew neer to their enemies, they kept by themselves.

28 Now the sunne being newly risen, they joyned both together: the one part having together with their vertue, their refuse also unto the Lord, for a pledge of their successe and victorie: the other sine making their rage leader of their battell.

10r, warrant, or surety.

29 But when the battell waxed strong, there appeared unto the enemies from heaven, five comely men upon horses, with byldes of gold, and two of them led the Jews,

30 And took Baccabeus betwixt them, and covered him on every side with their weapons, and kept him safe, but shot arrows and lightnings against the enemies: so that being confounded with blindness, and full of trouble, they were killed.

31 And there were slain [of footmen] twenty thousand and five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himself, he fled into a very strong hold, called Gagara, where Chereas was governour.

33 But they that were with Baccabeus, laid siege against the fortreffe courageously four dayes.

34 And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and uttered wicked wordes.

35 Nevertheless upon the first day early, twenty young men of Baccabeus company, inflamed with anger because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall manly, and with a fierce courage killed all that they met withall.

36 Others likewise ascending after them, whilles they were busied with them that were within, burnt the towers, and kindling fires, burnt the blasphemers alive: and others broke open the gates, and having received in the rest of the army, took the city.

37 And killed Timotheus that was hid in a certain pit, and Chereas his brother, with Apollonaphanes.

38 When this was done, they praised the Lord with psalms and thanksgivings, who had done so great things for Israel, and given them the victory.

CHAP. XI.

3 Lysias thinking to get Jerusalem, 8 is put to flight.

16 The letters of Lysias to the Jews: 22 of the king unto Lysias: 27 and to the Jews: 34 of the Romanes to the Jews.

Now long after this, Lysias the kings + p[ro]tector and cousin, who also managed the affaires, took sore displeasure for the things that were done.

10r, curtour.

2 And when he had gathered about fourscore thousand with all the horsemen, he came against the Jews, thinking to make the city an habitation of the Gentiles.

10r, Grecians.

3 And to make a gain of the temple, as of the other chappels of the heathen, and to set the high priesthood to sale every yeer:

4 Not at all considering the power of God, but puffed up with his tenne thousand footmen, and his thousand horsemen, and his fourscore elephants.

5 So he came to Judea and drew neer to Bethsura, which was a strong town, but distant from Jerusalem about five furlongs, and he laid siege unto it.

6 Now when if they that were with Baccabeus heard that he besieged the holds, they and all the people with lamentation and tears besought the Lord that he would send a good angel to deliver Israel.

10r, Maccabeus and his company.

7 Then Baccabeus himself first of all took weapons, exhorting the other, that they would jeopard themselves together with him, to help their brethren: so they went forth together with a willing minde.

8 And as they were at Jerusalem, there appeared before them on horseback, one in white clothing, shaking his armour of gold.

9 Then they praised the mercifull God all together, and took heart, inasmuch that they were ready not onely to fight with men, but with most cruell beasts, and to pierce thorow walls of iron.

10 Thus they marched forward in their armour, having an helper from heaven: for the Lord was mercifull unto them.

11 And giving a charge upon their enemies, like lions, they slew eleven thousand footmen, and sixteen hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight.

12 Many of them also being wounded, escaped naked; and Lysias himself fled away shamefully, and so escaped.

13 Also as he was a man of understanding, casting with himself what losse he had had, and considering that the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God helped them, he sent unto them,

14 And persuaded them to agree to all reasonable conditions, and [promised] that he would persuade the king, that he must needs be a friend unto them.

15 Then Maccabeus consented to all that Lysias desired, being careful of the common good; and whatsoever Maccabeus wrote unto Lysias concerning the Jews, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written unto the Jews from Lysias to this effect: Lysias unto the people of the Jews sendeth greeting.

17 John and Absalon, who were sent from you, delivered me the petition subscribed, and made request for the performance of the contents thereof.

18 Therefore what things soever were meet to be reported to the king, I have declared them, and he hath granted as much as might be.

19 If then you will keep your selves loyal to the state, hereafter also will I endeavour to be a means of your good.

20 But of the particulars I have given order, both to these, and the other that came from me, to continue with you.

21 Fare ye well. The hundred and eight and fourty year, the four and twentieth day of the moneth // Dioscorothine.

|| Or,
Dioscoros.

22 Now the kings letter contained these words: King Antiochus unto his brother Lysias sendeth greeting.

23 Since our father is translated unto the gods, our will is, that they that are in our realm live quietly, that every one may attend upon his own affairs.

24 Lette understand also that the Jews would not consent to our father, for to be brought unto the custome of the Gentiles, but had rather keep their own manner of living: for the which cause they require of us that we should suffer them to live after their own laws.

25 Therefore our minde is, that this nation shall be in rest, and we have determined to restore them their temple, that they may live according to the customes of their forefathers.

|| Or,
give them assurance.

26 Upon that do well therefore to send unto them, and // grant them peace, that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good comfort, and ever go cheerfully about their own affairs.

27 And the letter of the king unto the nation of the Jews was after this manner: King Antiochus sendeth greeting unto the councill, and the rest of the Jews.

28 If ye fare well, we have our desire, we are also in good health.

29 Helentius declared unto us, that your desire was to return home, and to follow your own business.

30 Therefore they that will depart shall have safe conduct, till the thirtieth day of Xanthicus with security.

31 And the Jews shall use their own kinde of meats, and laws, as before: and none of them any manner of wayes shall be molested for things ignorantly done.

32 I have sent also Helentius, that he may comfort you.

|| Or, April.

33 Fare ye well. In the hundred forty and eighth year, and in the fifteenth day of the moneth // Xanthicus.

|| Or, Consuls.

34 The Romanes also sent unto them a letter containing these words: Quintus Memmius, and Titus Paulus, // ambassadors of the Romanes, send greeting unto the people of the Jews.

35 Whatsoever Lysias the kings cousin hath granted, therewith we also are well pleased.

36 But touching such things as he judged to be referred to the king: after you have abridged thereof, send one forthwith, that we may declare as it is convenient for you: for we are now going to Antioch.

37 Therefore send some with speed, that we may know what is your minde.

38 Farewell, this hundred and eight and fourty year, the fifteenth day of the moneth Xanthicus.

CHAP. XII.

1 The kings lieutenants vex the Jews. 3 They of Joppe drown two hundred Jews. 6 Judas is avenged upon them. 11 He maketh peace with the Arabians, 16 and taketh Caspis. 22 Timotheus armies overthrowen.

When these covenants were made, Lysias went unto the king, and the Jews were about their husbandry.

2 But of the governours of severall places, Timotheus, and Apollonius the sorne of Graneus, also Hieronimus, and Demophon, and besides them Alcanor the governour of Cyprus would not suffer them to be quiet, and live in peace.

3 The men of Joppe also did such an ungodly deed: they played the Jews that dwelt among them to go with their wives and children into the boats which they had prepared, as though they had meant them no hurt.

4 Altho accepted of it according to the common decree of the city, as being desirous to live in peace, and suspecting nothing: but when they were gone forth into the deep, they drowned no lesse then two hundred of them.

5 When Judas heard of this cruelty done unto his countrymen, he commanded those that were with him [to make them ready].

6 And calling upon God the righteous judge, he came against those murderers of his bretheren, and burnt the haven by night, and set the boats on fire, and those that fled thither he slew.

7 And when the town was shut up, he went backward, // as if he would return to root out all them of the city of Joppe.

8 But when he heard that the Tammites were minded to do in like manner unto the Jews that dwelt among them,

9 He came upon the Tammites also by night, and set fire on the haven and the navy, so that the light of the fire was seen at Jerusalem, two hundred and forty furlongs off.

10 Now when they were gone from thence, nine furlongs in their journey toward Timotheus, no fewer then five thousand men on foot, and five hundred horsemen of the Arabians set upon him.

11 Whereupon there was a very sore battell, but Judas side by the help of God got the victory, so that the Romanes of Arabia, being overcome, besought Judas for peace, promising both to give him cattell, and to pleasure him other wise.

12 Then Judas thinking indeed that they would be profitable in many things, granted them peace: whereupon they shook hands and so they // departed to their tents.

13 He went also about to make a bridge to a certain strong city, which was fenced about with walls, and inhabited by people of divers countreys, and the name of it was Talspis.

14 But they that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walls, and provision of victuals,

|| Or, went

victuals, that they behaved themselves rudely towards them that were with Judas, railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

15 Therefore Judas, with his company, calling upon the great Lord of the world, (who without any rain or engines of warre, did cast down Jericho in the time of Joshua) gave a fierce assault against the walls,

16 And took the city by the will of God, and made unspeakable slaughters, inasmuch that a lake two furlongs broad, neer adjoining thereunto, being filled full, was seen running with blood.

17 Then departed they from thence seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Characha unto the Jews that are called Tubien.

18 But as for Timotheus they found him not in the places: for before he had dispatched any thing, he departed from thence, having left a very strong garrison in a certain hold:

19 Holobet, Dositheus and Sosipater, who were of Baccabeus captains, went forth and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortress, above ten thousand men.

20 And Baccabeus ranged his army by bands, and set them over the bands, and went against Timotheus, who had about him an hundred and twenty thousand men of foot, and two thousand and five hundred horsemen.

21 Now when Timotheus had knowledge of Judas coming, he sent the women and children, and the other baggage unto a fortress called Carnion: (for the town was hard to besiege, and un-easie to come unto, by reason of the straitness of all the places.)

22 But when Judas his first band came in sight, the enemies (being smitten with fear and terror, through the appearing of him that seeth all things,) fled again, one running this way, another that way, so as that they were often hurt of their own men, and wounded with the points of their own swords.

23 Judas also was very earnest in pursuing them, killing those wicked wretches, of whom he slew about thirty thousand men.

24 Moreover, Timotheus himself fell into the hands of Dositheus and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Jews parents, and the brethren of some of them, who if they had put him to death, should not be regarded.

25 So when he had assured them with many words, that he would restore them without hurt, according to the agreement, they let him go for the saving of their brethren.

26 Then Baccabeus marched forth to Carnion, and to the temple of Atargatis, and there he slew five and twenty thousand persons.

27 And after he had put to flight and destroyed them, Judas removed the host towards Ephron, a strong citie, wherein Lysias abode, and a great multitude of divers nations, and the strong young men kept the walls, and defended them mightily: wherein also was great provision of engines and darts.

28 But when Judas and his company had called upon Almighty God (who with his power breaketh the strength of his enemies) they wan the citie, and slew twenty and five thousand of them that were within.

29 From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which leeth six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem.

30 But when the Jews that dwelt there had testified that the Scythopolitans dealt lovingly with them, and entreated them kindly in the time of their adversity;

31 They gave them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still unto them: and so they came to Jerusalem, the feast of the weeks approaching.

32 And after the feast called Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the governour of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousand men of foot, and four hundred horsemen.

34 And it happened that in their fighting together, a few of the Jews were slain.

35 At which time Dositheus, one of Baccabeus company, who was on horseback, and a strong man, was still upon Gorgias; and taking hold of his coat, drew him by force, and when he would have taken that cursed man alive, a horseman of Thracia coming upon him, smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled unto Parfa.

36 Now when they that were with Gorgias had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord that he would shew himself to be their helper and leader of the battell.

37 And with that he began in his own language, and sung psalms with a loud voice, and rushing unawares upon Gorgias men, he put them to flight.

38 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the citie Dullam. And when the seventh day came, they purified themselves (as the custome was) and kept the sabbath in the same place.

39 And upon the day following, as was the use had been, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that were slain, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers graves.

40 Now under the coats of every one that was slain, they found things consecrated to the idols of the Tammites, which is forbidden the Jews by the law. Then every man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slain.

41 All men therefore praising the Lord the righteous judge, who had opened the things that were hid,

42 Betook themselves unto prayer, and besought him, that the sinne committed might wholly be put out of remembrance. Besides, that noble Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sinne, forasmuch as they saw before their eyes the things that came to pass, for the sinnes of those that were slain.

43 And when he had made a gathering throughout the company, to the sum of two thousand drachmes of silver, he sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sin-offering, doing therein very well and honestly, in that he was mindfull of the resurrection.

44 (For if he had not hoped that they that were slain should have risen again, it had been superfluous and vain to pray for the dead)

45 And also in that he perceived that there was great labour laid up for those that died godly. (It was an holy and good thought) whereupon he made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be delivered from sinne.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Eupator invadeth Judea: 15 Judas by night slayeth many 18 Eupators purpose is defeated. 23 He maketh peace with Judas.

In the hundred forty and ninth year it was told Judas that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Judea,

|| Or, at such time, &c.

* Deu. 27. 7.

|| Dositheus and Sosipater.

|| That is, Venus.

2 And with him Lyllas his protectour, and ruler of his affaires, having either of them a Grecian power of footmen, an hundred and ten thousand, and horsemen five thousand and three hundred, and elephants two and twenty, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks.

3 Ptolemas also sojourned himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the countrey, but because he thought to have been made governour.

4 But the king of kings moved Antiochus minde against this wicked wretch, and Lyllas informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the king commanded to bring him unto Beroe, and to put him to death, as the manner is in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had a round instrument which on every side hanged down into the ashes.

6 And whosoever was condemned of sacriledge, or had committed any other grievous crime, there did all men thrust him unto death.

7 Such a death it happened that wicked man to die, not having so much as buriall in the earth, and that most justly.

8 For inasmuch as he had committed many sinnes about the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

9 Now the king came with a barbarous and haughty minde, to do far worse to the Jews then had been done in his fathers time.

10 Which things when Judas perceived, he commanded the multitude to call upon the Lord night and day, that if ever at any other time, he would now also help them, being at the point to be put from their law, from their countrey, and from the holy temple.

11 And that he would not suffer the people, that had even now been but a little refreshed, to be in subjection to the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had all done this together, and besought the mercifull Lord with weeping and fasting, and lying flat upon the ground three dayes long, Judas having exhorted them, commanded they should be in a readinesse.

13 And Judas being apart with the elders, determined before the kings hosts should enter into Judea and get the city, to go forth and try the matter [in fight] by the help of the Lord.

14 So when he had committed [all] to the Centour of the world, and exhorted his souldiers to fight manfully, even unto death, for the laws, the temple, the cite, the countrey, and the common wealth, he camped by Modin.

15 And having given the watchword to them that were about him, Antiochus is of God, with the most valiant and choise young men, he went in into the kings tent by night, and slew in the camp about four thousand men, and the chiefest of the elephants, with all that were upon him.

16 And at last they filled the camp with fear and tumult, and departed with good successe.

17 This was done in the break of the day, because the protection of the Lord did help him.

18 Now when the king had taken a taste of the manliness of the Jews, he went about to take the holds by policie, 19 And marched towards Bethsur, which was a strong hold of the Jews, but he was put to flight, failed, and lost of his men.

20 For Judas had conveyed unto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.

21 But Rhodocus who was in the Jews host, disclosed the secrets to the enemies; therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 The king created with them in Bethsur the second time, gave his hand, took cheires, departed, fought with Judas, was over come:

23 Heard that Philip who was left over the affaires in Antioch, was desperately bent, confounded, intreated the Jews, submitted himself, and swore to all equal conditions, agreed with them, and offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and dealt kindly with the place.

24 And accepted well of Dacabeus, made him principall governour from Ptolemas unto the Serchenians:

25 Came to Ptolemas, the people there were grieved for the covenants: for they sould be, cause they would make their covenants void.

26 Lyllas went up to the judgement seat, said as much as could be in defence of the cause, persuaded, pacified, made them well affected, returned to Antioch. Thus it went touching the kings coming and departing.

CHAP. XIII.

6 Alcimus accuseth Judas: 18 Nicanor maketh peace with Judas. 39 He seeketh to take Rhasis, 46 who to escape his hands, killeth himself.

After three yeers was Judas informed that Demetrius the Sonne of Seleucus, having entred by the haven of Tripolis with a great power and nable, 2 Had taken the countrey, and killed Antiochus, and Lyllas his protectour.

3 Now one Alcimus who had been high priest, and had defiled himself wilfully in the times of their mingling (with the Gentiles) seeing that by no means he could save himself, nor have any more access to the holy altar,

4 Came to king Demetrius in the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting unto him a crown of gold, and a palm, and also of the boughs which were used solemnly in the temple: and so that day he held his peace.

5 Howbeit having gotten opportunity to further his foolish enterprise, and being called into counsell by Demetrius, and asked how the Jews stood affected, and what they intended, he answered therunto,

6 Those of the Jews that be called Asideans (whose captain is Judas Dacabeus) now with warre, and are seditious, and will not let the realm be in peace.

7 Therefore I being deprived of mine ancestors honour (I mean the high priesthood) am now come hither:

8 First verily for the unfeigned care I have of things pertaining to the king, and secondly, even for that I intend the good of mine own countrey-men: for all our nation is in no small misery, through the unadvised dealing of them aforesaid.

9 Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, be carefull for the countrey, and our nation which is pressed on every side, according to the clemencie that thou readily shewest unto all.

10 For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet.

11 This was no sooner spoken of him, but others of the kings friends being maliciously set against Judas, did more incense Demetrius.

12 And forthwith calling Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governour over Judea, he sent him forth, 13 Commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high priest of the great temple.

10r, rebelled.

10r, thought to be of the temple.

10r, had had a little rest.

10r, Lord.

14 Then the heathen that had fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Picanor by flocks, thinking the harm and calamities of the Jews, to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Jews heard of Picanor's coming, and that the heathen were up against them, they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him that had established his people for ever, and who alwayes helpeth his portion with manifestation of his presence.

16 So at the commandment of the captain, they removed strong-houses from thence, and came near unto them, at the towne of Dessau.

17 Now Simon, Judas brother, had soyned battell with Picanor, but was somewhat discomfited through the sudden silence of his enemies.

18 Nevertheless, Picanor hearing of the malignesse of them that were with Judas, and the courageousnesse that they had to fight for their country, durst not try the matter by the sword.

19 Therefore he sent Dositheus, and Theodotus, and Barathias, to make peace.

20 So when they had taken long advise ment thereupon, and the captain had made the multitude acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of one minde, they consented to the covenants,

21 And appointed a day to meet in together by themselves: and when the day came, and stools were set for either of the us,

22 Judas placed armed men ready in convenient places, lest some treachery should be suddenly practised by the enemies: so they made a peaceable conference.

23 Now Picanor abode in Jerusalem, and did no hurt, but sent away the people that came flocking unto him.

24 And he would not willingly have Judas out of his sight: for he loved the man from his heart.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children: so he married, was quiet, and it took part of this life.

26 But Alcimus perceiving the love that was betwixt them, and considering the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and told him that Picanor was not well affected towards the state; for that he had ordained Judas, a traitour to his realm, to be the kings successor.

27 Then the king being in a rage, and provoked with the accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Picanor, signifying that he was much displeased with the covenants, and commanding him that he should send Baccabeus prisoner in all haste unto Antioch:

28 When this came to Picanor's hearing, he was much confounded in himself, and took it grievously that he should make void the articles which were agreed upon, the man being in no fault.

29 But because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to accomplish this thing by policy.

30 Notwithstanding, when Baccabeus saw that Picanor began to be churlish unto him, and that he entreated him more roughly than he was wont, perceiving that such lowly behaviour came not of good, he gathered together not a few of his men, and withdrew himself from Picanor.

31 But the other, knowing that he was notably prevented by Judas policy, came into the great and holy temple, and commanded the priests that were offering their usual sacrifices, to deliver him the man.

32 And when they were that they could not tell where the man was whom he sought,

33 He stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an oath in this manner, If I will not deliver me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and I will break down the altar, and erect a notable temple unto Baalim.

34 After these words he departed. Then the priests lift up their hands towards heaven, and besought him that was ever a defender of their nation, saying in this manner,

35 Thou, O Lord of all things, who hast need of nothing, wast pleased that the temple of thine habitation should be among us;

36 Therefore now, O holy Lord of all holiness, keep this house ever undefiled which lately was cleansed, and stop every unrighteous mouth.

37 Now was there accused unto Picanor, one Razis, one of the elders of Jerusalem, a lover of his countrey men, and a man of very good report, who for his kindness was called a father of the Jews.

38 For in the former times, when they mingled not themselves with the Gentiles, he had been accused of Judaisme, and did boldly jeopard his body and life with all vehemency for the religion of the Jews.

39 So Picanor willing to declare the hate that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought, by taking him, to do the Jews much hurt.

41 Now when the multitude would have taken the tower, and violently broken into the inner doore, and had that fire should be brought to burn it, he being ready to be taken on every side, fell upon his sword;

42 Choosing rather to die manfully, then to come into the hands of the wicked, to be abused otherwise then becometh his noble birth.

43 But missing his stroke through haste, the multitude also rushing within the doore, he ran boldly up to the wall, and cast himself down manfully amongst the thickest of them.

44 But they quickly giving back, and a space being made, he fell down into the midst of the void place.

45 Nevertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being inflamed with anger, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out like founts of water, and his wounds were grievous, yet he ranne thorow the midst of the throng; and standing upon a steep rock,

46 When as his blood was now quite gone, he plucked out his bowels, and casting them in both his hands, he cast them upon the throng, and calling upon the Lord of life and spirit to restore him those again, he thus died.

CHAP. XV.

5 Picanor's blasphemy. 8 Judas encourageth his men by his dream. 28 Picanor is slain.

But Picanor hearing that Judas and his company were in the strong places about Samaria, resolved without any danger to set upon them on the sabbath-day.

2 Nevertheless, the Jews that were compelled to go with him, said, O destroy not so cruelly and barbarously, but give honour to that day, which he that seeth all things, hath honoured with holiness, above other dayes.

3 Then the most ungracious wretch demanded if there were a mighty One in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath-day to be kept.

4 And when they said, There is in heaven a living Lord, and mighty, who commanded the seventh day to be kept.

5 Then said the other, And I also am mighty upon upon earth, and I command to take arms, and to do the kings businesse: yet he obtained not to have his wicked will done.

6 So Hicanoz in exceeding pride and haughtinesse, determined to set up a publick monument of his victorie over Judas and them that were with him.

7 But Maccabeus had ever sure confidence that the Lord would help him:

8 Therefore he exhorted his people not to fear the coming of the heathen against them, but to remember the help which in former times they had received from heaven, and now to expect the victorie and aid which should come unto them from the Almighty.

9 And so comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withall putting them in minde of the battels that they wonne afore, he made them more cheerefull.

10 And when he had stirred up their mindes, he gave them their charge, shewing them therewithall the faithhood of the heathen, and the breach of oaths.

11 Thus he armed every one of them, not so much with defence of shields and speares, as with comfortable and good words, and besides that he told them a dream worthy to be believed, as if it had been so indeed, which did not a little reioyce them.

12 And this was his vision, that Onias, who had been high priest, a vertuous and a good man, reverend in conversation, gentle in condition, well spoken also, and exercised from a childe in all points of vertue, holding up his hands, prayed for the whole body of the Jews.

13 This done, in like manner there appeared a man with gray hairs, and exceeding glorious, who was of a wonderfull and excellent maiestie.

14 Then Onias answered, saying, This is a lover of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy city, (to wit) Jeremias the prophet of God.

15 Whereupon, Jeremias holding forth his right hand, gave to Judas a sword of gold: and in giving it, spake thus,

16 Take this holy sword, a gift from Gods; with the which thou shalt wound the adversaries.

17 Thus bring well comforted by the words of Judas, which were very good, and able to stir them up to valour, and to encourage the hearts of the young men, they determined not to pitch camp, but courageously to set upon them, and manfully to try the matter by conflict, because the city, and the sanctuary, and the temple were in danger.

18 For the care that they took for their wives, and their children, their brethren, and kindred, was in least account with them: but the greatest and principall fear was for the holy temple.

19 Also they that were in the city took not the least care, being troubled for the conflict abroad:

20 And now when as all looked what should be the result, and the enemies were already come neer, and the army was set in array, and the beasts conveniently placed, and the horsemen set in wings,

21 Maccabeus seeing the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fiercenesse of the beasts, stretched out his hands towards heaven, and called upon the Lord; that worketh wonders, knowing that victorie cometh not by arms, but even as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy.

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this manner, O Lord, thou didst send thine angel in the time of Ezekias king of Iudea, and didst slay in the host of Sennacherib, an hundred fourscore and five thousand.

23 Therefore now also, O Lord of heaven, send a good angel before us, for a fear and dread unto them.

24 And through the might of thine arm, let those be stricken with terrour, that come against thy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then Hicanoz and they that were with him, came forward with trumpets and songs.

26 But Judas and his company encountered the enemies with invocation and prayer.

27 So that fighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no lesse then thirty and five thousand men: for through the appearance of God they were greatly cheered.

28 Now when the battell was done, returning again with joy, they knew that Hicanoz lay dead in his harness.

29 Then they made a great shout, and a noise, praising the Almighty in their own language.

30 And Judas, who was ever the chief defender of the citizens, both in body and minde, and who continued his love towards his countrymen all his life, commanded to strike off Hicanozs head, and his hands, with his shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of the tower,

32 And shewed them vsle Hicanozs head, and the hand of that blasphemer, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy temple of the Almighty.

33 And when he had cut out the tongue of that ungodly Hicanoz, he commanded that they should give it by pieces unto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple.

34 So every man praised toward the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 He hanged also Hicanozs head upon the tower, an evident and manifest signe unto all of the help of the Lord.

36 And they ordained all with a common decree, in no case to let that day passe without solemnitie, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which in the Syrian tongue is called Adar, the day before Nardochens day.

37 Thus went it with Hicanoz: and from that time forth the Hebrews had the city in their power. And here will I make an end.

38 And if I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired: but if slenderly and meanly, it is that which I could attain unto.

39 For as it is hurtfull to drink wine, or water alone; and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taster: even so speech finely framed, delighteth the ears of them that read the story. And here shall be an end.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO SAINT MATTHEW.

CHAP. I.

1 The genealogie of Christ from Abraham to Joseph. 18 He was conceived by the holy Ghost, and born of the virgin Mary, when she was espoused to Joseph. 19 The Angel satisfieth the misdeeming thoughts of Joseph, and interpreteth the names of Christ.

THE Book of the * generation of JESUS CHRIST, the son of David, the son of Abraham.

2 * Abraham begat Isaac, and * Isaac begat Jacob, and * Jacob begat Judas and his brethren.

3 And * Judas begat Phares and Zara of Thamar, and * Phares begat Esrom, and Esrom begat Aram.

4 And Aram begat Aminadab, and Aminadab begat Naasson, and Naasson begat Salmon.

5 And Salmon begat Booz of Rachab, and Booz begat Obed of Ruth, and Obed begat Jesse.

6 And * Jesse begat David the king, and * David the king begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Urias.

7 * And Solomon begat Roboam, and Roboam begat Abia, and Abia begat Asa.

8 And Asa begat Josaphat, and Josaphat begat Joram, and Joram begat Ozias.

6 And Ozias begat Joatham, and Joatham begat Achaz, and Achaz begat Ezekias.

10 And * Ezekias begat Manasses, and Manasses begat Amon, and Amon begat Josias.

11 And * Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the time they were carried away to Babylon.

12 And after they were brought to Babylon, * Jechonias begat Salathiel, and Salathiel begat Jorobabel.

13 And Jorobabel begat Abiud, and Abiud begat Eliakim, and Eliakim begat Azor.

14 And Azor begat Sadoc, and Sadoc begat Achim, and Achim begat Eliud.

15 And Eliud begat Eleazar, and Eleazar begat Dacian, and Dacian begat Jacob.

16 And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Abraham to David, are fourteen generations : and from David until he carrying away into Babylon, are fourteen generations : and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ, are fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the * birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise : When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph (before they came together) he was found with child of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband being a just man and not willing to make her a publique example, was intinded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife : for that which is conceived in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 * And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his Name Jesus : for he shall save his people from their sins.

22 (Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 * Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted, is, God with us.)

24 Then Joseph being raised from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife :

25 And knew her not till she had brought forth her first-born son ; and he called his name Jesus.

NOW when * Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, in the dayes of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem,

2 Saying, Where is he that is born king of the Jews ? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea : for thus it is written by the prophet ;

6 * And thou Bethlehem in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda : for out of thee shall come a Governour that shall rule my people Israel.

7 Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go, and search diligently for the young child, and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed, and so, the star which they saw in the east, went went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrror.

12 And being warned of God in a dream, that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

13 And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

15 And was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my Son.

16 When Herod was dead, he saw that he was mocked of the wife men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wife men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying,

18 In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life.

21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Judaea, in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee:

23 And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene.

CHAP. III.

1 John preacheth: his office, life, and baptism 7 He reprehendeth the Pharisees; 13 and baptizeth Christ in Jordan.

In these dayes came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judaea,

2 And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 And the same John had his raiment of camels hair, and a leathern girdle about his loyns, and his meat was locusts and wilde boue.

5 Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judaea, and all the region round about Jordan,

6 And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

7 But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, * O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits // meet for repentance.

9 And thinke not to say within your selves, * We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

10 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: * therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewen down, and cast into the fire.

11 * I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me, is mightier then I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

12 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner: but will burn up the chaffe with unquenchable fire.

13 * Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him.

14 But John forbade him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?

15 And Jesus answering, said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness. Then he suffered him.

16 And Jesus when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him,

17 And lo, a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Christ fasteth, and is tempted. 11 The angels minister unto him. 13 He dwelleth in Capernaum, 17 begetteth to preach, 18 calleth Peter and Andrew.

21 James and John, 23 and healeth all the diseased.

Then was Jesus led up of the spirit into the wilderness, to be tempted of the devil.

2 And when he had fasted fourty dayes and fourty nights, he was afterward an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered and said, It is written, * Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God cast thy self down: for it is written, * He shall give his angels charge concerning thee, and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Jesus said unto him, It is written again, * Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them:

9 And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, * Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and behold, angels came and ministered unto him.

12 * Now when Jesus had heard that John was cast into prison, he departed into Galilee.

13 And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the sea-coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephtali:

16 The people which sat in darkness, saw great light : and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death, light is sprung up.

17 * From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 * And Jesus walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon, called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea : (for they were fishers)

19 And he said unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets : and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 * And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness, and all manner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syria : and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases, and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy, and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people, from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judea, and from beyond Jordan.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ beginneth his sermon in the mount : 3 declaring who are blessed, 13 who are the salt of the earth, 14 the light of the world, the citie on an hill, 15 the candle : 17 that he came to fulfill the law.

21 What it is to kill, 27 to commit adultery, 33 to swear : 38 exhorteth to suffer wrong, 44 to love even our enemies, 48 and to labour after perfection.

And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain : and when he was set, his disciples came unto him.

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 * Blessed are the poor in spirit : for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 Blessed are they that mourn : for they shall be comforted.

5 * Blessed are the meek : for they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness : * for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the mercifull : for they shall obtain mercy.

8 * Blessed are the pure in heart : for they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peace-makers : for they shall be called the children of God.

10 * Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake : for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 Blessed are ye when men shall rebile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of * evil against you & say so for my sake.

12 Rejoyce, and be exceeding glad : for great is your reward in heaven : for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 * We are the salt of the earth : * but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted ? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be troden under foot of men.

14 We are the light of the world. A citie that is set on an hill, cannot be hid.

15 Neither do men * light a candle, and put it under a bushell : but on a candlestick, and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men, * that they may see your good works, and glorifie your Father which is in heaven.

17 * Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets : I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.

18 For verily I say unto you, * Till heaven and earth passe, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise passe from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 * Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven : but whosoever shall do, and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 * We have heard that it was said by them of old time, * Thou shalt not kill : and whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgement.

22 But I say unto you, that whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause, shall be in danger of the judgement : and whosoever shall say to his brother, Racha, shall be in danger of the counsell : but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee :

24 Leave there thy gift before the altar ; and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 * Agree with thine adversary quickly, whilst thou art in the way with him : lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily, I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 * We have heard that it was said by them of old time, * Thou shalt not commit adultery.

28 But I say unto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 * And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee : for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee : for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath been said, * Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement.

32 But I say unto you, that * whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery : and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

CHAP. VI.

1 Christ continueth his sermon in the mount, speaking of almes, 5 prayer, 14 forgiving our brethren, 16 fasting, 19 where our treasure is to be laid up, 24 of serving God and mammon: 25 exhorteth not to be careful for worldly things, 33 but to seek Gods kingdom.

Take heed that ye do not your almes before men, to be seen of them: otherwile ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.

2 Therefore, * when thou dost thine almes, let it not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do, in the synagogues, and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily, I say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou dost almes, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doth:

4 That thine almes may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, himself shall reward thee openly.

5 ¶ And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily, I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 But thou when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, use not vain * repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: * Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy Name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our daily bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: for thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

14 ¶ For, if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

15 But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ¶ Moreover, when ye fast, be not as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily, I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face:

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

19 ¶ Lay not up for you your selves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal.

20 * But lay up for you your selves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal.

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 * The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!

24 ¶ No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

25 Therefore I say unto you, * Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body what ye shall put on: is not the life more then meat, and the body then raiment?

26 Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better then they?

27 Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin.

29 And yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or what shall we drink? or where will we be clothed.

23 But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.

24 Take therefore no thought for the morrow : for the morrow shall take thought for the things of it self : sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

CHAP. VII.

1 Christ ending his sermon in the mount, reproveth rash judgement, 6 forbiddeth to cast holy things to dogs, 7 exhorteth to prayer, 13 to enter in at the strait gate, 15 to beware of false prophets, 21 not to be hearers, but doers of the word : 24 like houses builded on a rock, 26 and not on the sand.

* Luk. 6. 37. Rom. 2. 1. * Mar. 4. 24. Luk. 6. 38. * Luk. 6. 41.

Judge not, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged : * and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3 * And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye ?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye ; and behold, a beam is in thine own eye ?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

6 ¶ Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rent you.

7 ¶ Ask, and it shall be given you : seek, and ye shall find : knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

8 For every one that asketh, receiveth : and he that seeketh, findeth : and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone ?

10 Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent ?

11 If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him ?

12 Therefore all things * whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them : for this is the law and the prophets.

13 ¶ Enter ye in at the straight gate : for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat :

14 ¶ Because straight is the gate, and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

15 ¶ Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheeps clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

16 Be shall know them by their fruits : * Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles ?

17 Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit : but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit : neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 ¶ Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21 ¶ Not every one that saith unto me, * Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven : but he that doth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name ? and in thy name have cast out devils ? and in thy name done many wonderful works ?

23 And then will I profess unto them, * I never knew you : * depart from me ye that work iniquity.

24 ¶ Therefore, * whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock :

25 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house : and it fell not, for it was founded upon a rock.

26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man which built his house upon the sand :

27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

28 And it came to passe when Jesus had ended these sayings, * the people were astonished at his doctrine.

29 For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the Scribes.

CHAP. VIII.

2 Christ cleanseth the leper, 5 healeth the centurions servant, 14 Peters mother in law, 16 and many other diseased, 18 sheweth how he is to be followed : 23 stilleth the tempest on the sea, 28 driveth the devils out of two men possessed, 31 and suffereth them to go into the swine.

When he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

2 * And behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will, be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man, but go thy way, shew thy self to the priest, and offer the gift that * Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

5 ¶ And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a Centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

7 And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 The Centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof : but speak the word onely, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me : and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth : and to another, Come, and he cometh : and to my servant, Do this, and he doth it.

10 When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no nor in Israel.

11 And I say unto you, that many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven :

12 But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness : there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Jesus said unto the centurion : So thy way, and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee.

cheer. And his servant was healed in the self same hour.

14 ¶ And when Jesus was come into Peters house, he saw his wifes mother laid, and sick of a fever :

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her : and she arose and ministered unto them.

16 ¶ When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils : and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick :

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Elias the prophet, saying, * Himselfe took out infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

19 ¶ And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests ; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

21 And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

22 But Jesus said unto him, Follow me, and let the dead bury their dead.

23 ¶ And when he was entred into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 ¶ And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch that the ship was covered with the waves : but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us : we perish.

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith ? Then he arose and rebuked the windes and the sea, and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the windes and the sea obey him ?

28 ¶ * And when he was come to the other side, into the countrey of the Gergesens, there met him two possessed with devils coming out of the tombes, exceeding fierce, so that no man might passe by that way.

29 And behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus thou son of God : art thou come hither to torment us before the time ?

30 And there was a good way off from them an heard of many swine, feeding.

31 So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine : and behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 And they that kept them, fled, and went their wayes into the city, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils.

34 And behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus, and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

CHAP. IX.

- 1 Christ curing one sick of the palsey, 9 calleth Matthew from the receipt of custome, 10 cureth with Publicanes and sinners, 14 defendeth his disciples for not fasting, 20 cureth the bloody issue, 23 raiseth from death Jairus daughter, 27 giveth sight to two blinde men, 32 healeth a dumb man possessed of a devill, 36 and hath compassion of the multitude.

And he entred into a ship, and passed over, and came into his own city.

2 ¶ And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsey, lying on a bed : and Jesus seeing their faith, said unto the sick of the palsey, Sonne, be of good cheer, thy sins be forgiven thee.

3 And behold, certain of the Scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And Jesus knowing their thoughts, said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts ?

5 For whether is easier to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee : or to say, Arise and walk ?

6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsey) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But when the multitude saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

9 ¶ * And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custome : and he called unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.

10 ¶ And it came to passe as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many Publicanes and sinners came and sate down with him and his disciples.

11 And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your master with Publicanes and sinners ?

12 But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

13 But go ye and learn what that meaneth, * I will have mercy, and not sacrifice : for I am not come to call the righteous, * but sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, * Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not ?

15 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the hyde-chamber mourn, as long as the hydegroom is with them ; but the dayes will come when the hydegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.

16 ¶ No man putteth a piece of // new cloth unto an old garment : for that which is put in to fill it up, taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

17 Neither do men put new wine into old bottles : else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish : but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

18 ¶ * While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead : but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

19 And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.

20 ¶ (And behold, a woman which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve yeers, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment.

21 For shee said within her self, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.

22 But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort : thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.)

23 And when Jesus came into the rulers house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise,

25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And I the same hereof went abroad into all that land.

27 ¶ And when Jesus departed thence, two blinde men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou son of David, have mercy on us.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blinde men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? they said unto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, Accord- ing to your faith be it unto you.

30 And their eyes were opened, and Jesus straightly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.

31 But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that countrey.

32 ¶ As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devill.

33 And when the devill was cast out, the dumb spake, and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel.

34 But the Pharisees said, * He casteth out the devils through the prince of the devils.

35 * And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preach- ing the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness, and every disease among the people.

36 ¶ But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them; because they || fainted, and were scattered abroad, * as sheep ha- ving no shepherd.

37 Then saith he unto his disciples, * The har- vest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few.

38 Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

CHAP. X.

1 Christ sendeth out his twelve apostles, enabling them with power to do miracles; 5 giveth them their charge; teacheth them, 16 comforteth them against persecutions: 40 and promiseth a blessing to those that receive them.

¶ AD * when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power || a- gainst unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness, and all manner of disease.

2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, James the sonne of Zebedee, and John his brother:

3 Phillip and Bartholomew, Thomas, and Matthew the Publicane, James the sonne of Alphaeus, and Lebbaius, whose surname was Thaddaeus:

4 Simon the Cananaite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and com- manded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any citie of the Samaritanes enter ye not.

6 * But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

7 And as ye go, preach, saying, * The king- dom of heaven is at hand:

8 Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give.

9 * ¶ Prohibe neither gold, nor silver, nor brasse in your purses:

10 Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: (* for the workman is worthy of his meat)

11 * And into whatsoever citie or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy, and there abide till ye go thence.

12 And when ye come into an house, salute it.

13 And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

14 * And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words: when ye depart out of that house or citie, * shake off the dust of your feet.

15 Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tole- rable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement, then for that citie.

16 ¶ Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents and || harmless as doves.

17 But beware of men, for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues;

18 And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the gentiles.

19 * But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak; for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.

20 For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

21 * And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the child- ren shall rise up against their parents, and shall de- nounce them to be put to death.

22 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake: * but he that endureth to the end, shall be saved.

23 But when they persecute you in this citie, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, ye shall not || have gone over the cities of Israel till the Sonne of man be come.

24 * The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.

25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord: if they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his house- hold?

26 Fear them not therefore: * for there is no- thing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known.

27 What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the house tops.

28 * And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

29 Are not two sparrows sold for a || farthing: and one of them shall not fall on the ground with- out your Father.

30 * But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

31 Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value then many sparrows.

32 * Whosoever therefore shall confesse me be- fore men, him will I confesse also before my Fa- ther which is in heaven.

33 * But whosoever shall denie me before men, him will I also denie before my Father which is in heaven.

34 * Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

CHAP. XI.

2 John sendeth his disciples to Christ. 7 Christs testimony concerning John. 18 The opinion of the people both concerning John and Christ. 20 Christ upbraided the unthankfulness and unrepentance of Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum. 25 and praising his Fathers wisdom in revealing the gospel to the simple. 28 he calleth to him all such as feel the burden of their sins.

AND it came to passe, when Iesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.

2 * Now when John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples,

3 And said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another ?

4 Iesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see :

5 * The blinde receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and * the poor have the gospel preached to them.

6 And blessed is he whosoever shall not be offended in me.

7 * And as they departed, Iesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see ? A reed shaken with the winde ?

8 But what went ye out for to see ? A man clothed in soft raiment ? behold, they that wear soft clothing, are in kings houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see ? A prophet ? yea, I say unto you, and more then a prophet.

10 For this is he of whom it is written, * Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women, there hath not risen a greater then John the Baptist : notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven, is greater then he.

12 * And from the dayes of John the Baptist, untill now, the kingdom of heaven li suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

13 For all the prophets and the law prophesied untill John.

14 And if ye will receive it, this is * Elias which was for to come. * Mal. 4. 5.

15 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16 * But whereunto shall I liken this generation ? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows, 17 And saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced : we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, We hath a devil.

19 The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a wine-bibber, a friend of Publicans and sinners : but wisdom is justified of her children.

20 * Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not. Luk. 10. 13.

21 * Alas unto thee Chorazin, woe unto thee Bethsaida : for if the mighty works which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgement, then for you.

23 And thou Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell : for if the mighty works which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained untill this day.

24 But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom, in the day of judgement, then for thee.

25 * At that time Iesus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes. * Luk. 10. 21

26 Even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight.

27 * All things are delivered unto me of my Father : and no man knoweth the Son but the Father : * neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him. * Joh. 3. 35. * Joh. 6. 46.

28 * Come unto me all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

29 Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me, for I am meek, and lowly in heart : * and ye shall finde rest unto your souls. * Jer. 6. 16.

30 * For my yoke is easie, and my burden is light. * 1 Joh. 5. 3.

CHAP. XII.

1 Christ reproveth the blindness of the Pharisees concerning the breach of the sabbath, 3 by scriptures 9 by reason, 13 and by a miracle. 22 He healeth the man possessed that was blinde and dumb. 31 Blasphemy against the holy Ghost shall never be forgiven. 36 Account shall be made of idle words. 38 He rebuketh the unfaithfull, who seek after a signe, 49 and sheweth who is his brother, sister and mother.

AT that time * Iesus went on the sabbath-day through the corn, and his disciples were an hungred, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat. * Deut. 23. 25. Mar. 2. 23. Luke 6. 1.

2 But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath-day.

3 But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did when he was an hungred, and they that were with him, * 1 Sam. 21. 6.

4 How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shew-bread, which was not lawfull for him to eat, neither for them which were with him,* but only for the priests?

5 Q Have ye not read in the * law, how that on the sabbath-dayes the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blamelesse?

6 But I say unto you, that in this place is one greater then the temple.

7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, * I will have mercy and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltlesse.

8 For the son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

9 * And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue.

10 Q And behold, there was a man which had his hand withered: and they asked him, saying, Is it lawfull to heal on the sabbath-dayes? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath-day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man better then a sheep? wherefore it is lawfull to do well on the sabbath-dayes.

13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand: and he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other.

14 Q Then the Pharisees went out, and held a counsell against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all.

16 And charged them that they should not make him known:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Elias the prophet, saying,

18 * Behold my servant whom I have chosen, my beloved in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgement to the Gentiles.

19 He shall not strive, nor cry, neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20 A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench; till he send forth judgement unto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

22 * Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blinde and dumb: and he healed him, in so much that the blinde and dumb both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is this the son of David?

24 But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.

25 And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against it self is brought to desolation: and every city or house divided against it self, shall not stand.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself: how shall then his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.

29 Q else how can one enter into a strong mans house, and spoil his goods, except he first binde the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

30 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth abroad.

31 Q Therefore I say unto you, * All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

32 And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good: or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.

34 Q generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? * for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things.

36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgement.

37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 Q Then certain of the Scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a signe from thee.

39 But he answered and said to them, An evill and adulterous generation seeketh after a signe, and there shall no signe be given to it, but the signe of the prophet Jonas.

40 * For as Jonas was three dayes and three nights in the whales belly: so shall the Sonne of man be three dayes and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgement with this generation; and shall condemn it, because they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and behold, a greater then Jonas is here.

42 * The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and behold, a greater then Solomon is here.

43 * When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh thorow drye places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out: and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked then himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse then the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.

46 Q While he yet talked to the people, * behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.

47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.

48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

49 And he stretched forth his hand towards his disciples, and said, Behold my mother, and my brethren.

50 For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

The same day went Jesus out of the house, * and sat by the sea side.

* Mark. 4. 1.

2 And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat, and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

* Luke 8. 5.

3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, * Behold, a sower went forth to sow.

4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the wayes side, and the fowls came and devoured them up.

5 Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprang up, because they had no deepnesse of earth:

6 And when the sun was up, they were scorched: and because they had not root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns: and the thorns spring up and choked them.

8 But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundred fold, some sixty fold, some thirty fold.

9 Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why spakest thou unto them in parables?

11 He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 * For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not: and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

14 And in them is fulfilled the prophesie of E. saias, which saith, * By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand: and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive.

15 For this peoples heart is waxed grosse, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed: lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see, and your ears, for they hear.

17 For verely I say unto you, * that many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them: and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 ¶ Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart: this is he which received seed by the wayes side.

20 But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it:

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution cometh because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 He also that received seed among the thorns, is he that heareth the word: and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and he becometh unfruitfull.

23 But he that received seed into the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it: which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth some an hundred fold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, the kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was springing up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay: lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and binde them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, * The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field.

32 Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree: so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ Another parable spake he unto them, The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

34 * All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables, and without a parable spake he not unto them:

35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, * I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man:

38 The field is the world: the good seed are the children of the kingdom: but the tares are the children of the wicked one:

39 The enemy that sowed them, is the devil: the harvest is the end of the world: and the reapers are the angels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burnt in the fire: so shall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity:

42 And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

43 ¶ Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field: the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto 47 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kinde ;

48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world : the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just.

50 And shall cast them into the furnace of fire : there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Jesus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things ? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to passe, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 ¶ And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagoge, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works ?

55 ¶ Is not this the carpenters sonne ? is not his mother called Mary ? and his brethren, James and Joseph, and Simon, and Judas ?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us ? Whence then hath this man all these things ?

57 And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, ¶ A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

58 And he did not many mighty works there, because of their unbelief.

1 Herods opinion of Christ. 3 Wherefore John Baptist was beheaded. 13 Jesus departeth into a desert place : 15 where he feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 22 He walketh on the sea to his disciples : 34 and landing at Cenesaret, healeth the sick by the touch of the hemme of his garment.

¶ At that time ¶ Herod the tetrach heard of the fame of Jesus,

2 And said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist, he is risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works ¶ do shew forth themselves in him.

3 ¶ For Herod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philipps wife.

4 For John said unto him, ¶ It is not lawfull for thee to have her.

5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.

6 But when Herods birth-day was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them : and pleased Herod.

7 Whereupon he promised with an oath, to give her whatsoever she would ask.

8 And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptists head in a charger.

9 And the king was sorry : nevertheless for the oaths sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her.

10 And he sent and beheaded John in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsell : and she brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jesus.

13 ¶ ¶ When Jesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart : and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15 ¶ ¶ And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, ¶ This is a desert place, and the time is now past : send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16 But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart : give ye them to eat.

17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves and two fishes.

18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grasse, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were filled : and they took up of the fragments that remained, twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

22 ¶ And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.

23 ¶ And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray : ¶ and when the evening was come, he was there alone :

24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves : for the winde was contrary.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night, Jesus went unto them walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit : and they cried out for fear.

27 But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid.

28 And Peter answered him, and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water to go to Jesus.

30 But when he saw the winde ¶ boisterous, he was afraid : and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord save me.

31 And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, ¶ Thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt ?

32 And when they were come into the ship, the winde ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, ¶ Of a truth thou art the Son of God.

34 ¶ ¶ And when they were gone over, they came into the land of Cenesaret.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased :

36 And besought him, that they might onely touch the hem of his garment : and as many as touched were made perfectly whole.

3 Christ reproved the scribes and Pharisees, for transgressing Gods commandments through their own traditions, 11 teacheth how that which goeth into the mouth, doth not defile a man. 21 He healeth the daughter of the woman of Canaan, 30 and other great multitudes: 32 and with seven loaves, and a few little fishes, feedeth four thousand men, besides women and children.

* Mark. 7. 1.

Then came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying,

2 Why do thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the elders: for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do you also transgresse the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, * Honour thy father and mother: and he that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, * It is a gift by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me,

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites, well did Elias prophesie of you, saying,

8 * This people hateth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips: but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear and understand.

11 Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man: but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered, and said, * Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone: * they be blinde leaders of the blinde. And if the blinde lead the blinde, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 * Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 * For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, theses, false witness, blasphemies.

20 These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands, defileth not a man.

21 ¶ Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22 And behold, A woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord thou sonne of David, my daughter is grievously vexed with a devill.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came, and besought him, saying, Send her away, for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered, and said, * I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25 Then came she, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to dogs.

27 And she said, Truth Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crummes which fall from their masters table.

28 Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

29 ¶ And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee, and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30 ¶ And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blinde, dumbe, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus feet, and he healed them:

31 In so much that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumbe to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blinde to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

32 ¶ Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three dayes, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude?

34 And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? and they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

36 And he took the seven loaves, and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left, seven baskets full.

38 And they that did eat, were four thousand men beside women and children.

39 And he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The Pharisees require a signe. 6 Jesus warneth his disciples of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadduces. 13 The peoples opinion of Christ, 10 and Peters confession of him. 21 Jesus foreteweth his death, 23 reproving Peter for dissuading him from it. 24 And admonisheth those that will follow him, to bear the crosse.

The Pharisees also, with the Sadduces, came and tempting, desired him that he would shew them a signe from heaven.

2 He answered and said unto them, When it is evening ye say, It will be fair weather: for the skie is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day: for the skie is red and lowing. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the skie, but can ye not discern the signes of the times?

4 A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a signe, and there shall no signe be given unto it, but the signe of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

5 And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

6 ¶ Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the Sadduces.

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying,

8 Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among your selves, because ye have brought no bread?

9 * Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

10 * Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

11 How is it that ye do not understand, that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees?

12 Then understood they how that he had them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

13 * When Jesus came into the coasts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples saying,

* Whom do men say, that I the Son of man, am?

14 And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist, some Elias, and others Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 And Simon Peter answered and said, * Thou art Christ the Son of the living God.

17 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou Simon Bar-jona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18 And I say also unto thee, that * thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church: and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19 * And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt binde on earth, shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

20 Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

21 * From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it farre from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.

23 But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan, thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 * * Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his crosse, and follow me.

25 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake, shall finde it.

26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

27 For the Son of man shall come in the glorie of his Father, with his angels: * and then he shall reward every man according to his works.

28 Verily I say unto you, * There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The transfiguration of Christ, 14 he healeth the lunaticke, 22 foretelleth his own passion, 24 and payeth tribute.

And * after six dayes, Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart;

2 And was transfigured before them; and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 * While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: hear ye him.

6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lift up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, untill the Son of man be risen again from the dead,

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, * Why then say the Scribes, that Elias must first come?

11 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come and restore all things:

12 But I say unto you, that Elias is come already, and they know him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed: likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the baptist.

14 * And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling, down to him, and saying,

15 Lord have mercy on my son, for he is lunatick, and sore vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 Then Jesus answered and said, O faithlesse and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the devil, and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, * If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place, and it shall remove, and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 Howbeit this kinde goeth not out, but by prayer fasting.

22 * And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again: and they were exceeding sorry.

24 * And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute-money, came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yea. And when he was come in to the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom of tribute? of their own child, or of strangers?

26 Peter saith unto him, Of sinners. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.
27 Notwithstanding, let us should offend them, go thou to the sea; and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde in a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Christ warneth his disciples to be humble and harmless, y to avoid offences, and not to despise the little ones: 15 teacheth how we are to deal with our brethren, when they offend us, 21 and how oft to forgive them: 23 which he setteth forth by a parable of the king, that took account of his servants, 32 and punished him who shewed no mercy to his fellow.

At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the Kingdom of heaven?

2 And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3 And said, Verily I say unto you, * Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And whoso shall receive one such little child in my Name, receiveth me.

6 * But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which beleve in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 Who unto the world because of offences: for it must needs be that offences come: but wo to that man by whom the offence cometh.

8 * Therefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather then having two hands, or two feet, to be cast into everlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather then having two eyes to be cast into hell fire.

10 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones: for I say unto you, that in heaven their angels do alwayes behold the face of my father which is in heaven.

11 * For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

12 * How thinkest thou? If a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he finde it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, then of the ninety and nine which went not astray.

14 Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 Wherefore, * if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.

16 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

17 And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an * heathen man, and a publicane.

18 Verily I say unto you, * Whatsoever ye shall binde on earth, shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

19 Again I say unto you, that if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my Name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 When came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sinne against me, and I forgive him? till seven times?

22 Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Till seven times: but untill seventie times seven.

23 Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king which would take account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him which ought him ten thousand talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants, which ought him an hundred pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, Thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldst not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had pittie on thee?

34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him.

35 So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Christ healeth the sick, 3 answereth the Pharisees concerning divorce: 10 sheweth when marriage is necessary: 13 receiveth little children: 16 instructeth the young man how to attain eternal life, 20 and how to be perfect: 23 telleth his disciples how hard it is for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God: 27 and promisseth reward to those that forsake any thing.

And it came to passe, * that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judea, beyond Jordan:

3 ¶ The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

4 And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning, made them male and female?

5 And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh.

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

7 They say unto him, Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away?

8 He saith unto them, Moses because of the hardnesse of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away, doth commit adultery.

10 ¶ His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mothers womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heavens sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 ¶ Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ¶ And behold, one came and said unto him, Good master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternall life?

17 And he said unto him, Why calledst thou me good? there is none good but one, that is God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self.

20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?

21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowfull: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, that a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

24 And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camell to go through the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 But Jesus beheld them: and said unto them,

With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ Then answered Peter, and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee, what shall we have therefore?

28 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

29 And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my Names sake, shall receive an hundred fold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

30 ¶ But many that are first, shall be last; and the last shall be first.

CHAP. XX.

1 Christ by the similitude of the labourers in the vineyard, sheweth that God is debter unto no man, 17 foretelleth his passion, 20 by answering the mother of Zebedees children, teacheth his disciples to be lowly, 30 and giveth two blinde men their sight.

FOR the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the market place,

4 And said unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right, I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and said unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more, and they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the good man of the house,

12 Saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.

13 But he answered one of them, and said, Friends, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny?

14 Take thine hire, and go thy way, I will give unto thee last even as unto thee.

15 Is it not lawfull for me to do what I will with mine own? is thine eye evil because I am good?

16 So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many are called, but few chosen.

17 ¶ And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

19 * And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucifie him: and the third day he shall rise again.

20 ¶ Then came to him the mother of Zebedees children, with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

21 And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left in thy kingdom.

22 But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.

23 And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.

25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them,

26 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister.

27 And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant.

28 Even as the Sonne of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

29 * And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 ¶ And behold, two blinde men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cryed out, saying, Have mercie on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cryed the more, saying, Have mercie on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.

32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you?

33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Christ rideth into Jerusalem upon an asse, 12 driveth the buyers and sellers out of the temple, 17 curseth the fig-tree, 23 purteth to silence the priests and elders, 28 and rebuketh them by the similitude of the two sons, 35 and the hus bandmen, who slew such as were sent unto them.

And * when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethpage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples,

2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall finde an asse tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

3 And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them: and straightway he will send them.

4 All this was done that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

5 * Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy king cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an asse, and a colt the foal of an asse.

6 * And the disciples went and did as Jesus commanded them,

7 And brought the asse and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.

8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way, others cut down branches from the trees, and straved them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cryed, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David: blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.

10 * And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.

12 ¶ And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overturned the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves, 13 And said unto them, It is written, * My house shall be called the house of prayer, * but ye have made it a den of thieves.

14 And the blinde and the lame came to him in the temple, and he healed them.

15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David, they were fore displeased,

16 And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea, have ye never read, * Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

17 ¶ And he left them, and went out of the city into Bethany, and he lodged there.

18 Now in the morning, as he returned into the city, he hungered.

19 * And when he saw a fig-tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon but leaves onely, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig-tree withered away.

20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig-tree withered away?

21 Jesus answered, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig-tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea, it shall be done.

22 And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 ¶ And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and elders of the people came unto him, as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in likewise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

25 The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? and they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven, he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?

27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

28 ¶ But what think you? A certain man had two sons, and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to day in my vineyard.

29 He answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go sir, and went not.

31 ¶ Either of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that the Publican, and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

32 For * John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the Publicans and the harlots believed him. And ye, when ye had seenie, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 ¶ I hear another parable, There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a wine-press in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen: that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants, more then the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all, he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir, * come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

39 And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 ¶ When the Lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

41 They say unto him, We will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Jesus saith unto them, * Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lords doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever shall fall on this stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46 But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The parable of the marriage of the kings son. 9 The vocation of the Gentiles. 12 The punishment of him that wanted the wedding garment. 15 Tribute ought to be paid to Cesar. 23. Christ confute the Sadducees for the resurrection. 34 answereth the lawyer, which is the first and great commandment, 41 and poeth the Pharisees about the Messias.

¶ And Jesus answered *, and spake unto them again by parables, and said,

2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son,

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Again he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oren and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7 But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth, and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt up their cities.

8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.

9 Go ye therefore into the high-ways, and as many as ye shall finde, bid to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the high-ways, and gathered together all, as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 ¶ And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless.

13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 * For many are called, but few are chosen.

15 ¶ Then went the Pharisees and took counsell how they might entangle him in his talk.

16 And they sent out unto him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men.

17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou: is it lawful to give tribute unto Cesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute-money. And they brought unto him a penny.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?

21 They say unto him, Cesar. Then saith he unto them, * Render therefore unto Cesar, the things which are Cesaris: and unto God, the things that are Gods.

22 ¶ When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ ¶ The same day came to him the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 Now there were with us seven brethren, and the first when he had married a wife, deceased, and having no issue, left his wife unto his brother.

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 ¶ Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying,

33 And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his doctrine.

34 * But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.

35 Then one of them which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

37 Jesus said unto him, * Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, with all thy heart and with all thy soul, and with all thy minde.

38 This is the first and great commandment:

39 And the second is like unto it, * Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self.

40 On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophete.

41 * While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of David.

43 He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 The Lord said unto my Lord, * Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?

46 And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man (know it at day to day) ask him any more questions.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Christ admonisheth the people to follow the good doctrine, not the evil examples of the Scribes and Pharisees. 5 His disciples must beware of their ambition. 13 He denounceth eight woes against their hypocricie and blindness: 34 and prophesieth of the destruction of Jerusalem.

Then spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2 Saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses seat.

3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for they say and do not.

4 * For they blade leavie burdons, and girdions to be born, and lay them on mens shoulters, but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 But all their works they do, for to be seen of men: * they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

6 * And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.

8 * But ye not ye called Rabbi: for one is your master, even Christ, and all ye are brethren.

9 And call no man your father upon the earth: * for one is your father which is in heaven.

10 Neither he ye called masters: for one is your master, even Christ.

11 But he that is greatest among you, shall be your servant.

12 * And whosoever shall exalt himself, shall be abased, and he that shall humble himself, shall be exalted.

13 * But * two unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in your selves, neither suffer ye them that are entering, to go in.

14 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: * for ye devour widows houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

15 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him two-fold more the child of hell then your selves.

16 Wo unto you, ye blinde guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing: but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor.

17 Ye fools and blinde: for whether is greater the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?

18 And whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is full guiltie.

19 Ye fools and blinde: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

20 Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

21 And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.

22 And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: * for ye pay tithe of mint, and anise, and cummin, and be omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgement, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to have the other undone.

24 Ye blinde guides, which strain at a gnat, and swallow a camell.

25 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: * for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and rapine.

26 Then blinde Pharisee, cleanse first that which is with in the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 Wo unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye are like unto whitened sepulchres, which indeed appear beautifull outwardly, but are within full of dead mens bones, and of all uncleanness.

28 When ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocricie and insauitie.

29 Wo unto you scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous,

30 And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

31 Therefore ye be witnesses unto your selves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets.

32 Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers.

35 That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, * from the blood of righteous Abel, unto the blood of Zacharias, son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Christ foretelleth the destruction of the temple: 3 what and how great calamities shall be before it. 29 The signes of his coming to judgement, 36 and because that day and hour is unknown, 42 we ought to watch like good servants, expecting every moment our makers coming.

And * Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.

2 And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? * verily I say unto you, * There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us when shall these things be? and what shall be the signe of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

4 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ: and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars, and rumours of wars; see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to passe, but the end is not yet.

7 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes in divers places.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 * Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my Names sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.

12 And because iniquitie shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13 But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world, for a witnesse unto all nations, and then shall the end come.

15 * When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by * Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whose readeth, let him understand)

16 Then see them which be in Judea, flee into the mountains.

17 Let him which is on the house top, not come down to take any thing out of his house:

18 Neither let him which is in the field, return back to take his clothes.

19 And wo unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those dayes.

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath-day:

21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those dayes should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elects sake those dayes shall be shortened.

23 * Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there: beleeve it not.

24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signes and wonders, insomuch that (if it were possible) they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore, if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert, go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers, beleeve it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shinerh even unto the west: so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 * For wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 Immediately after the tribulation of those dayes, * shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken.

30 And then shall appear the signe of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, * and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven, with power and great glory.

31 * And he shall send his angels || with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four windes, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now learn a parable of the fig-tree: When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh:

33 So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors.

34 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not passe till all these things be fulfilled.

35 * Heaven and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

36 I But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father onely.

37 But as the dayes of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

38 * For as in the dayes that were before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, untill the day that Noe entered into the ark,

39 And knew not untill the flood came, and tooke them all away: so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

40 * Then shall two be in the field, the one shall be taken, and the other left.

41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill, the one shall be taken, and the other left.

42 I * Watch therefore, for ye know not what your Lord doth come.

43 * But know this, that if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up:

45 * Also then is a faithfull and wise servant, whom his Lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season.

46 Blessed is that servant whom his Lord when he cometh, shall finde so doing.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The parable of the ten virgins, 14 and of the talents.
31 Also the description of the last judgement.

Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom.

2 And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oyl with them:

4 But the wise took oyl in their vessels with their lamps.

5 While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh, go ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oyl, for our lamps are gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you, but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selves.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and they that were ready, went in with him to the marriage, and the door was shut.

11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 But he answered, and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not.

13 * Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour, wherein the Son of man cometh.

14 * ¶ For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods:

15 And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one, to every man according to his severall abilitie, and straightway took his journey.

16 Then he that had received the five talents, went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that had received one, went and hid in a hole, and hid his talents money.

19 After a long time, the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so he that had received five talents came, and brought other five talents, saying, Lord thou deliveredst unto me five talents, behold, I have gained besides them five talents more.

21 His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithfull servant, thou hast been faithfull over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

22 He also that had received two talents, came and said, Lord thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents besides them.

23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithfull servant, thou hast been faithfull over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent, came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothfull servant, thou knowest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 * For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away, even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth the sheep from the goats.

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the king say unto them on his right hand, Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

35 * For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?

38 When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 When saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee?

40 And the king shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, In as much as ye have done unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

41 Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink:

43 I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked

44 Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?

45 Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, In as much as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 The rulers conspire against Christ. 7 The woman anointeth his head. 14 Judas selleth him. 17 Christ catcheth the passover: 26 instructeth his holy supper: 36 prayeth in the garden: 47 and being betrayed with a kisse, 57 is carried to Caiaphas, 69 and denied of Peter.

And it came to passe, when Iesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples,

2 * Ye know that after two dayes, is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 * Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas,

4 And consulted that they might take Iesus by subtilty, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uprore among the people.

6 ¶ Now when Iesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simen the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at meat.

8 But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 When Iesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 * For ye have the poor alwayes with you, but me ye have not alwayes.

12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my buriall.

13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this that this woman hath done, be told for a memoriall of her.

14 ¶ Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests,

15 And said unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? and they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunitie to betray him.

17 ¶ Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread, the disciples came to Iesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The master saith, My time is at hand, I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Iesus had appointed them, and they made ready the passover.

20 ¶ Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowfull, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

23 And he answered and said, * He that dip-peth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24 The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but wo unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man if he had not been born.

25 Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered, and said, Master, is it I? he said unto him, Thou hast said.

26 ¶ And as they were eating, * Iesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat, this is my body.

27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it:

28 For this is my blood of the new testament which is shed for many for the remission of sins.

29 But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, untill that day when I drink it new with you in my Fathers kingdom.

30 And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the mount of olives.

31 Then saith Iesus unto them, * All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, * I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

32 But after I am risen again, * I will go before you into Galilee.

33 Peter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.

34 Iesus said unto him, * Verily I say unto thee, that this night before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Peter said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee: likewise also shall all the disciples.

36 ¶ Then cometh Iesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

37 And he took with him Peter, and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowfull, and very heavy.

38 Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowfull, even unto death: tarry ye here and watch with me.

39 And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my father, if it be possible, let this cup passe from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What, could ye not watch with me one hour?

41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my father, if this cup may not passe away from me, except I drink it, yet will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.

44 And he left them, and went away a gain, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest, behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

47 ¶ And * while he yet spake, lo, Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him, gave them a signe, saying, Whomsoever I shall kisse, that same is he: hold him fast.

49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, Master, and kissed him.

50 And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.

51 And behold, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and strook a servant of the high priests, and smote off his ear.

52 Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: * for all they that take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more then twelve legions of angels?

54 But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, * that thus it must be?

55 In that same hour said Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.

56 But all this was done, that the * scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.

57 ¶ * And they that had laid hold on Jesus, led him away to Calaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

58 But Peter followed him afar off, unto the high priests palace, and went in, and sat with the servants to see the end.

59 Now the chief priests and elders, and all the counsell sought false witness against Jesus to perrish him to death,

60 But found none: yea, though many false witness came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses, 61 And said, This fellow said, * I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three dayes.

62 And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? What is it, which these witness against thee?

63 But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us, whether thou be the Christ the Son of God.

64 Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, * Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

65 Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy, what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.

66 What think ye? They answered and said, He is guilty of death.

67 * Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him: and others smote him with the palms of their hands,

68 Saying, Prophesie unto us, thou Christ, who is he that smote thee?

69 ¶ * Now Peter sat without in the palace:

and a damsell came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.

71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

72 And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.

73 And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art one of them, for thy speech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

75 And Peter remembered the words of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crew, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Christ is delivered bound to Pilate. 3 Judas hangeth himself. 19 Pilate admonished of his wife, 24 washeth his hands, 26 and looeth Barabbas. 29 Christ is crowned with thorns, 34 crucified, 40 reviled, 50 diech, and is buried. 66 His sepulchre is sealed and watched.

¶ When the morning was come, * all the chief priests and elders of the people, took counsell against Jesus, to put him to death.

2 And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governour.

3 ¶ Then Judas which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

4 Saying, I have sinned, in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that.

5 And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, * and departed, and went and hanged himself.

6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawfull for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they took counsell, and bought with them the potters field, to bury strangers in.

8 Wherefore that field was called, * The field of blood unto this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremie the prophet, saying, * And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value:

10 And gave them for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 And Jesus stood before the governour: and the governour asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest.

12 And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then saith Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?

14 And he answered him to never a word: insomuch that the governour marvelled greatly.

15 * Now at that feast the governour was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?

18 For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.

19 ¶ When he was set down on the judgement seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream, because of him.

20 * But the chief priests and elders perswaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.

21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? but they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 ¶ When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children.

26 ¶ Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.

27 ¶ Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.

28 And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe.

29 ¶ And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, king of the Jews.

30 And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.

32 * And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to bear his cross.

33 * And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull.

34 ¶ They gave him vinegar to drink, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

35 And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, * They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 And sitting down, they watched him there:

37 And set up over his head, his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 Then were there three thieves crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 ¶ And they that passed by, reviled him, wagging their heads,

40 And saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three dayes, save thy self: if thou be the Son of God, come down from the crosse.

41 Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said,

42 He saved others, himself he cannot save: if he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the crosse, and we will believe him.

43 * He trusted in God, let him deliver him now if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.

44 The thieves also which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

45 Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour.

46 And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachani, that is to say, * My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias.

48 And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49 The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.

50 ¶ Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

51 And behold, the hall of the temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom, and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent;

52 And the graves were opened, and many bodies of saints which slept, arose;

53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

54 Now when the centurion, and they that were with him watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55 And many women were there (beholding afarre off) which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him.

56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedees children.

57 ¶ When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus disciple:

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus: then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.

59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 And laid it in his own new tombe, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ Now the next day that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that decree thou saidst, while he was yet alive, After three dayes I will rise again.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure untill the third day, lest his disciples come by night and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse then the first.

65 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch, go your way, make it as sure as ye can.

66 So they went and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Christ's resurrection is declared by an angel to the women. 9 He himself appeareth to them. 11 The high priests give the soldiers money to say that he was stolen out of his sepulchre. 16 Christ appeareth to his disciples, 19 and sendeth them to baptize and teach all nations.

In the * end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there // was a great earthquake, for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus which was crucified.

6 He is not here: for he is risen, as he said: come see the place where the Lord lay.

7 And go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead: and behold, he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him, lo, I have told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with fear and great joy, and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren, that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

11 Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsell, they gave large money unto the soldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, his disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this come to the governors ears, we will persuade him, and secure you.

15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

16 Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.

19 * Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the holy Ghost:

20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway even unto the end of the world. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING to Saint M A R K.

CHAP. I.

1 The office of John the Baptist. 9 Jesus is baptized, 12 tempted; 14 he preacheth: 16 calleth Peter, Andrew, James and John; 23 helath one that had a devil, 29 Peters mother in law, 32 many diseased persons: 41 and cleanseth the leper.

In the beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ the Son of God,

2 As it is written in the prophets, * Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 * The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 * John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance, // for the remission of sins.

5 * And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins.

6 And John was * clothed with camels hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins: and he did eat locusts and wilde honey:

7 And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier then I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.

8 I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost.

9 * And it came to passe in those dayes, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.

10 And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens // opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him.

11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

12 * And immediately the spirit driveth him into the wilderness.

13 And he was there in the wilderness, forty dayes tempted of Satan, and was with the wilde beasts, and the angels ministered unto him.

14 Now after that John was put in prison, * Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God,

15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.

16 * Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: (for they were fishers)

17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.

19 And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.

21 * And they went into Capernaum; and straightway on the sabbath-day he entered into the synagoge, and taught.

* Mat. 7. 28.

22 * And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the Scribes.

* Luke 4. 33.

23 * And there was in their synagoge a man with an unclean spirit, and he cryed out,

24 Saying, Let us alone, what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth: art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the holy One of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cryed with a loud voice, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.

* Mat. 8. 14.

29 * And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagoge, they entered into the house of Simon, and Andrew, with James, and John.

30 But Simons wives mother lay sick of a fever; and anon they tell him of her.

31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lift her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

33 And all the title was gathered together at the doore.

34 And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils, and suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.

|| Or, so say that they knew him.

35 And in the morning rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee.

38 And he said unto them, Let us go in the next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth.

39 And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.

* Mat. 8. 2.

40 * And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41 And Jesus moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and said unto him, I will, be thou clean.

42 And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosie departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;

44 And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded for a testimony unto thee.

* Luke 5. 15

45 * But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the cities, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ healeth one sick of the pallsie, 14 calleth Matthew from the receipt of custome, 15 eateth with publicanes and sinners, 18 exorciseth his disciples for not fasting, 23 and for plucking the ears of corn on the sabbath day.

And again * he entered into Capernaum, after some dayes, and it was noised that he was in the house.

* Mat. 9. 1.

2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no not so much as about the doore: and he preached the word unto them.

3 And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the pallsie, which was borne of four.

4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for presse, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the pallsie lay.

5 When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the pallsie, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.

6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sins but God only?

* Job 14. 4.
Isa. 43. 25.

8 And immediately when Jesus perceived in his spirit, that they reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the pallsie, Thy sins be forgiven thee: or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?

10 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the pallsie)

11 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way unto thine house.

12 And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all, insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 And he went forth again by the sea side, and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.

14 * And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the receipt of custome, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.

* Mat. 9. 9.
|| Or, at the place where the custome was received.

15 And it came to passe, that as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicanes and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.

16 And when the scribes and pharisees saw him eat with publicanes and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicanes and sinners?

17 When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole, have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

18 * And the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees used to fast; and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John, and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

* Mat. 9. 14.
Luke 5. 33.

19 And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the dayes will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

21 No man also seweth a piece of new cloth on an old garment: else the new piece that filled it it up, carry away from the old, and the rent is made whole.

|| Or, raw, or, unwrought.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles, else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.

* Mat. 12. 1.

23 * And it came to passe, that he went thorow the corn fields on the sabbath-day, and his disciples began as they went, to pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath-day that which is not lawfull?

25 And he said unto them, Have ye never read what David did, when he had need and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him?

26 How he went into the house of God in the dayes of Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the shew-bread, which is not lawfull to eat, but for the priests, and gave also to them which were with him?

27 And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath:

28 Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

CHAP. III.

1 Christ healeth the withered hand, to and many other infirmities: 11 rebuketh the unclean spirits: 13 chuseth his twelve apostles: 23 convinceth the blasphemie of calling out devils by Beelzebub: 31 and sheweth who are his brother, sister, and mother.

* Mat. 12. 9.

And he entred again into the synagoge, and there was a man there which had a withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath-day, that they might accuse him.

3 And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth.

4 And he saith unto them, Is it lawfull to do good on the sabbath-dayes, or to do evil: to save life, or to kill? but they held their peace.

Or, blind-ness.

5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

6 And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsell with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.

7 But Jesus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him: and from Judea,

8 And from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond Jordan, and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him.

9 And he spake to his disciples that a small ship should wait on him, because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

Or, rushed.

10 For he had healed many, insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.

12 And he straightly charged them, that they should not make him known.

* Mat. 10. 1.

13 * And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him.

14 And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach:

15 And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils.

16 And Simon he surnamed Peter.

17 And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James (and he surnamed them Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder)

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus, and Simon the Canaanite, 19 And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went into an house.

Or, home.

20 And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.

Or, kinsmen

21 And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him, for they said, He is beside himself.

* Mat. 9. 34.

22 ¶ And the Scribes which came down from Jerusalem, said, * He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.

23 And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a kingdom be divided against it self, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And if a house be divided against it self, that house cannot stand.

26 And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and spoil his goods, except he will first binde the strong man, and then he will spoil his house.

28 * Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies where with soever they shall blaspheme:

* Mat. 12. 31

29 But he that shall blaspheme against the holy Ghost, hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternall damnation:

30 Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

* Mat. 12. 46.

31 ¶ There came then his brethren and his mother, and standing without, sent unto him calling him.

32 And the multitude sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren.

35 For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The parable of the sower, 14 and the meaning thereof. 21 We must communicate the light of our knowledge to others. 26 The parable of the seed growing secretly, 30 and of the mustard-seed. 35 Christ stilleth the tempest on the sea.

And he began again to teach by the sea side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea, and the whole multitude was by the sea, on the land.

* Mat. 13. 1.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, and said unto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken, Behold, there went out a sower to sow.

4 And it came to passe as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came, and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth.

6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

8 And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased, and brought forth some thirty, and some sixty, and some an hundred.

9 And he said unto them, Lo that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve, asked of him the parable.

11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God; but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables.

12 That seeing they may see, and not perceive, and hearing they may hear, and not understand: lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.

13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will you know all parables?

14 The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown, but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground, who when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness:

17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time, afterward when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And these are they which are sown among thorns: such as hear the word,

19 And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things, entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

20 And these are they which are sown on good ground, such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirty fold, some sixty, and some an hundred.

21 C And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushell, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?

22 For there is nothing hid which shall not be manifested: neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

23 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

24 And he said unto them, Take heed what you hear: with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear, shall more be given.

25 For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

26 C And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground, 27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of her self, first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.

29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 C And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a grain of mustard seed; which when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth.

32 But when it is sown it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches, so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

33 And with many such parables spake he the word unto them as they were able to bear it.

34 But without a parable he saith he saith not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 And the same day when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship; and there were also with him other little ships.

37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still: and the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

40 And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that you have no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

CHAP. V.

1 Christ delivering the possessed of the legion of devils; 13 they enter into the swine; 25 He healeth the woman of the bloody issue, 35 and raiseth from death Jairus his daughter.

AND they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombes, a man with an unclean spirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombes, and no man could binde him, nor with chains:

4 Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And alwayes night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombes, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

8 (For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much, that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains, a great herd of swine feeding.

13 And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine, and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea (they were about two thousand) and were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right minde, and they were afraid.

16 And they that said it, told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also, concerning the swine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him, and he was nigh unto the sea.

22 * And behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagoge, Jairus by name, and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,

23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death, I pray thee come and lay thy hands on her that she may be healed, and she shall live.

24 And Jesus went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him.

25 And a certain woman which had an issue of blood twelve yeeres.

26 And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse,

27 When she had heard of Jesus, came in the presse behind, and touched his garment :

28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up : and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

30 And Jesus immediately knowing in himself that vertue had gone out of him, turned him about in the presse, and said, Who touched my clothes ?

31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me ?

32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole: go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagoge's house, certain which said, Thy daughter is dead, why troublest thou the Master any further ?

36 Alas as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagoge, Be not afraid, only believe.

37 And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, & John the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagoge, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsell is not dead, but sleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to scorn: but when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsell, and them that were with him, and entred in where the damsell was lying.

41 And he took the damsell by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damzell (I say unto thee) arise.

42 And straightway the damsell arose, and walked, for she was of the age of twelve yeers: and they were astonished with a great astonishment.

43 And he charged them straitly, that no man should know it: and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

CHAP. VI.

1 Christ is contemned of his countrymen. 7 He giveth the twelve power over unclean spirits. 14 Divers opinions of Christ. 18 John Baptist is beheaded, 29 and buried. 30 The apostles return from preaching. 34 The miracle of five loaves and two fishes. 48 Christ walketh on the sea: 53 and healeth all that touch him.

And * he went out from thence, and came into his own country, and his disciples follow him.

2 And when the sabbath-day was come, he began to teach in the synagoge: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?

3 Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James and Joseph, and of Judas, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him.

4 But Jesus said unto them, * A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.

5 And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.

6 And he marvelled because of their unbelief. * And he went round about the villages, teaching.

7 ¶ * And he calletli unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by twos and two, and gave them power over unclean spirits,

8 And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staffe onely: no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse:

9 But he shod with sandals: and not put on thin coats.

10 And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into an house, there abide till ye depart from that place.

11 * And whosoever shall not receive you nor hear you, when ye depart thence, * shake off the dust under your feet, for a testimony against them: verily I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrah in the day of judgement, then for that city.

12 And they went out, and preached that men should repent.

13 And they cast out many devils, * and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

John

John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.

15 Others said, that it is Elias. And others said, that it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.

16 * But when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is John whom I beheaded; he is risen from the dead.

17 For Herod himself had sent forth, and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison; for Herodias sake, his brother Philip's wife; for he had married her.

18 For John had said unto Herod, * It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.

19 Therefore Herodias had // a quarrell against him; and would have killed him; but she could not.

20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man, and an holy, and // observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birth-day made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Galilee:

22 And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod, and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsell, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23 And he swore unto her, * Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom.

24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother, * What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.

25 And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me by and by in a charger, the head of John the Baptist.

26 And the king was exceeding sorry; yet for his oaths sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her.

27 And immediately the king sent // an executioner, and commanded him head to be brought, and he went, and beheaded him in the prison,

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsell, and the damsell gave it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30 * And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 And he said unto them, Come ye your selves apart into a desert place, and rest a while: for there were many comings, and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.

32 * And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

33 And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.

34 * And Jesus when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things.

35 * And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed,

36 Send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread, for they have nothing to eat.

37 He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred // penny-worth of bread, and give them to eat?

38 He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes.

39 And he commanded them to make all sit down by companies upon the green grass.

40 And they sat down in ranks by hundreds, and by fifties.

41 And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he amongst them all.

42 And they did all eat, and were filled.

43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eat of the loaves, were about five thousand men.

45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before // unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 * And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them toiling in rowing: (for the wind was contrary unto them) and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out.

50 (For they all saw him, and were troubled) And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them into the ship, and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For they considered not the miracle of the loaves, for their heart was hardened.

53 * And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Genesareth, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him,

55 And ran thitherout that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds, those that were sick, where they heard he was.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch, if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched // him, were made whole.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Pharisees finde fault at the disciples, for eating with unwashen hands. 8 They break the commandment of God by the traditions of men. 14 Meat defileth not the man. 24 He healeth the Syrophenician woman's daughter of an unclean spirit. 31 and one that was deaf and stammered in his speech.

Then * came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jerusalem.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with // defiled (that is to say, with unwashen) hands, they found fault.

3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands \parallel oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups and \parallel pots, brassen vessels, and of \parallel cables.

5 Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why wash not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashed hands?

6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath Isaiah prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, * This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 Whosoever in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

8 For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he said unto them, Full well ye \parallel respect the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

10 For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father, or mother, It is * Corban, that is to say, a gift; by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me: he shall be free.

12 And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother:

13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.

14 ¶ And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand.

15 There is nothing from without a man that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.

16 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

17 And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him;

19 Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats?

20 And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.

21 * For from within, out of the heart of men proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 Theft, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness:

23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

24 ¶ And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would have no man know it; but he could not be hid.

25 For a certain woman whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet:

26 (The woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation) and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

27 But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.

28 And she answered and said unto him, Yes Lord, yet the dogs under the table eat of the childrens crumbs.

29 And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way, the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

31 ¶ And again departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, throw the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.

32 And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech: and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.

33 And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spake, and touched his tongue:

34 And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

36 And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it.

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, We hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Christ feedeth the people miraculously: 10 refuseth to give a sign to the Pharisees: 14 admonisheth his disciples to beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod: 22 giveth a blind man his sight: 27 acknowledgeth that he is the Christ, who should suffer and rise again: 34 and exhorteth to patience in persecution for the profession of the Gospel.

In those days * the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them,

2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat:

3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far.

4 And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness?

5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? and they said, Seven.

6 And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them: and they did set them before the people.

7 And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.

8 So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left, seven baskets.

9 And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

10 ¶ And straightway he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

*Matt. 16. 1.

11 And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a signe from heaven tempting him.

12 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a signe? verily I say unto you, There shall no signe be given to this generation.

13 And he left them, and entering into the ship again, departed to the other side.

*Matt. 16. 5.

14 ¶ Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more then one loaf.

15 And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.

*Matt. 16. 7.

16 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread.

17 And when Jesus knew it, he saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand ye? have ye your heart yet hardened?

18 Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?

19 When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

20 And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven.

21 And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand?

22 ¶ And he cometh to Bethsaida, and they bring a blinde man unto him, and besought him to touch him.

23 And he took the blinde man by the hand, and led him out of the town, and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought.

24 And he looked up and said, I see men as trees, walking.

25 After that, he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.

26 And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.

*Matt. 16. 13

27 ¶ * And Jesus went out, and his disciples into the towns of Cesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Whom do men say that I am?

28 And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias; and others, One of the prophets.

29 And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answereth and saith unto him, Thou art the Christ.

30 And he charged them that they should tell no man of him.

31 And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three dayes rise again.

32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.

33 But when he had turned about, and looked on his disciples he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.

34 ¶ And when he had called the people unto him with his disciples also, he said unto them, ¶ Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his crosse, and follow me.

*Matt. 10. 32.

35 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the Gospels, the same shall save it.

36 For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?

37 Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

38 ¶ Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed when he cometh in the glory of his Father, with the holy angels.

*Matt. 10. 33.

C H A P. IX.

2 Jesus is transfigured: 11 He instructeth his disciples concerning the coming of Elias: 14 calleth forth a dumb and deaf spirit: 30 foretelleth his death and resurrection: 33 exhorteth his disciples to humility: 38 bidding them not to prohibit such as be not against them, nor to give offence to any of the faithfull.

¶ And he said unto them, ¶ Verily I say unto you, that there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.

2 ¶ And after six dayes, Jesus taketh with him, Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow: so as no fuller on earth can white them.

4 And there appeared unto them Elias, with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.

5 And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here, and let us make three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he wist not what to say, for they were sore afraid.

7 And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him.

8 And suddenly when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead.

10 And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.

11 ¶ And they asked him, saying, Whose say the Scribes that Elias must first come?

12 And he answered and told them, Elias verily cometh first, and restoreth all things, and how it is written of the Son of man that he must suffer many things, and be set at nought.

13 But I say unto you, that Elias is indred come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they liked, as it is written of him.

14 ¶ And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.

15 And straightway, all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him, saluted him.

16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye with them?

17 And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit:

18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he setteth him; and he cometh, and gnaweth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out, and they could not.

*Matt. 17. 1.

*Mat. 33. 2, 4.

*Matt. 17. 14.

Or among your selves.

Or, dasheth him.

19 He answered him, and said, O faithlesse generation, how long shall I be with you, how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me.

20 And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him, and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a childe.

22 And oftentimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.

23 Jesus said unto him, If thou canst beleve, all things are possible to him that beleveeth.

24 And straightway the father of the childe cried out, and said with teares, Lord, I beleve, help thou mine unbelief.

25 When Jesus saw the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him, and he was as one dead, insomuch that many said, he is dead.

27 But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up, and he arose.

28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing but by prayer and fasting.

30 ¶ And they departed thence, and passed through Galilee, and he would not that any man should know it.

31 For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.

32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 ¶ And he came to Capernaum, and being in the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among your selves by the way?

34 But they held their peace: for by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest.

35 And he sat down, and called the twelve, and said unto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all.

36 And he took a childe, and set him in the midst of them: and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them,

37 Whosoever shall receive one of such childe in my Name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38 ¶ And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy Name, and he followeth not us, and we forbid him, because he followeth not us.

39 But Jesus said, Forbid him not, for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my Name, that can lightly speak evil of me.

40 For he that is not against us, is on our part.

41 ¶ For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink, in my Name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.

42 ¶ And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that beleve in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 ¶ And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off:

it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, then having two hands, to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:

44 ¶ Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, then having two feet, to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:

46 ¶ Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, then having two eyes to be cast into hell fire:

48 ¶ Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For every one shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 ¶ Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his saltiness, wherewith will you season it? Have salt in your selves, and have peace one with another.

CHAP. X.

1 Christ disputeth with the Pharisees touching divorcement: 13: blesteth the children that are brought unto him: 17: resolveth a rich man how he may inherit life everlasting: 23: telleth his disciples of the danger of riches: 28: promitteth rewards to them that forsake any thing for the gospel: 32: foretelleth his death and resurrection: 35: biideth the two ambitious sinners to think rather of suffering with him: 46: and restoreth to Bartimeus his sight.

¶ And he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judea by the farther side of Jordan: and the people resort unto him again: and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

¶ And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

¶ And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you?

¶ And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

¶ And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardnesse of your heart he wrote you this precept.

¶ But from the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female.

¶ For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife,

¶ And they twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.

¶ What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

¶ And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter.

¶ And he saith unto them, ¶ Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

¶ And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

¶ And they brought young children to him that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

¶ But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

¶ Verily I say unto you, ¶ Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little childe, he shall not enter therein.

17 ¶ And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternall life?

18 And Jesus said unto him, What lackest thou me good? there is no man good, but one, that is God.

19 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour the father and mother.

20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.

21 Then Jesus beholding him, loved him, and said unto him, one thing thou lackest; go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come and take up the crosse, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answered again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the kingdom of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go thorow the eye of a needle, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, who then can be saved?

27 And Jesus looking upon them, saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

*Mat. 19. 17.

28 ¶ Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.

29 And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the gospels, 30 But he shall receive an hundred fold now in this time, houses and brethren, and sisters, and mothers and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come eternall life.

*Mat. 19. 30

31 ¶ But many that are first, shall be last: and the last first.

*Mat. 20. 17

32 ¶ And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem: and Jesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they followed, they were afraid; and he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him,

33 Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes: and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles:

34 And they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him, and the third day he shall rise again.

*Mat. 20. 20.

35 ¶ And James and John the sons of Zebedee came unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we shall desire.

36 And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you?

37 They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand in thy glory.

38 But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask: can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?

39 And they said unto him, We can. And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized with, shall ye be baptized:

40 But to sit on my right hand and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John.

42 But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, ¶ Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles, exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them,

*Luk. 22. 25
for think good.

43 But to shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister:

44 And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all.

45 For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

46 ¶ And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples, and a great number of people; blinde Bartimeus, the son of Timeus, sat by the high-way side, begging.

*Mat. 20. 29.

47 And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

48 And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

49 And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called: and they call the blinde man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise, he calleth thee.

50 And he casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blinde man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight.

52 And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole: and immediately, he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

10 or saved thee.

C H A P. XI.

1 Christ ridech with triumph into Jerusalem, 12 curseth the fruitlesse leafe tree: 15 purgeth the temple: 20 exhorteth his disciples, to steadfastnes of faith, and to forgive their enemies: 27 and defendeth the lawfulness of his actions, by the witness of John, who was a man sent of God.

And when they came nigh to Jerusalem, unto Bethpaz, and Bethanien, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples.

*Mat. 21. 1.

2 And saith unto them, Go your way into the village over against you, and as soon as ye be entered into it, ye shall finde a colt tied, whereon never man sat: loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye that the Lord hath need of him, and straightway, he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the doore without, in a place where two wayes met: and they loose him.

5 And certain of them that stood there, said unto them, What do ye looking the colt?

6 And they said unto them even as Jesus had commanded: and they let them go.

7 And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him, and he sat upon him.

B b

8 And

8 And many spread their garments in the way : and others cut down branches of the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna, blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord.

10 Blessed be the kingdom of our father David, that cometh in the Name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.

11 And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple, and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come, he went out unto Bethanie with the twelve.

12 And on the morrow when they were come from Bethanie, he was hungry.

13 And seeing a fig-tree asfarre off, having leaves, he came, if haply he might finde any thing thereon : and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet.

14 And Jesus answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 And they come to Jerusalem, and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrow the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves :

16 And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel throughto the temple.

17 And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer : but ye have made it a den of thieves.

18 And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him : for they feared him, because all the people was astonished at his doctrine.

19 And when even was come, he went out of the city.

20 And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig-tree dried up from the roots.

21 And Peter calling to remembrance, saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig-tree which thou cursedst is withered away.

22 And Jesus answering saith unto them, I have faith in God.

23 For verily I say unto you, that whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea, and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith, shall come to passe, he shall have whatsoever he saith.

24 Therefore I say unto you, What thing soever ye desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

25 And when ye stand, praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any : that your Father also which is in heaven, may forgive you your trespasses.

26 But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven, forgive your trespasses.

27 And they come again to Jerusalem, and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders,

28 And say unto him, By what authority dost thou these things? and who giveth thee this authority to do these things?

29 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

30 The baptism of John, was it from Heaven, or of men? answer me.

31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From Heaven, he will say, Why then did ye not believe him?

32 But if we shall say, Of men, they feared the people : for all men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed.

33 And they answered, and said unto Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

CHAP. XII.

1 In a parable of the vineyard let out to unthankfull husbandmen, Christ foretelleth the reprobation of the Jewes, and the calling of the gentiles. 13 He avoideth the snare of the Pharisees and Herodians about paying tribute to Cesar: 18 convinceth the error of the Sadducees, who denied the resurrection: 28 resolveth the scribe, who questioned of the first commandment: 35 resteth the opinion that the scribes held of Christ: 38 bidding the people to beware of their ambition and hypocrisy: 41 and commendeth the poor widow for her two mites, above all.

And he began to speak unto them by parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set an hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they caught him and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away themselves bandied.

5 And again he sent another, and him they killed: and many others, beating some, and killing some.

6 Having yet therefore one son his wellbeloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.

7 But those husbandmen said amongst themselves, this is the heir, come, let us kill him, and he the inheritance shall be ours.

8 And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall therefore the Lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

10 And have ye not read this scripture? The stone which the builders rejected, is become the head of the corner.

11 This was the Lords doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

12 And they sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people, for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.

13 And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees, and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words.

14 And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou regardst not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a penny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it: and he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cæsars.

Valuing of our money, seven pence halfeny, as Matt. 18. 28.

17 And Jesus answering said unto them, Remember to Celar the things that are Celars : and to God the things that are Gods. And they marvelled at him.

18 ¶ Then come unto him the Sadduces, which say there is no resurrection, and they asked him, saying,

19 Master, Moses wrote unto us, If a mans brother die, and leave his wife behinde him, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

20 Now there were seven brethren : and the first took a wife, and dying, left no seed, 21 And the second took her, and died, neither left he any seed, and the third likewise.

22 And the seven had her, and left no seed : last of all the woman died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them : for the seven had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answering, said unto them, Do ye not therefore erre, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God ?

25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage : but are as the angels which are in heaven.

26 And as touching the dead, that they rise : have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob ?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living : ye therefore do greatly erre.

28 ¶ And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all ?

29 And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord :

30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy minde, and with all thy strength : this is the first commandment.

31 And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self : there is none other commandment greater then these.

32 And the scribe said unto him, Well Master, thou hast said the truth : for there is one God, and there is none other but he.

33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more then all whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices.

34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 ¶ And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, how say the scribes that Christ is the Son of David ?

36 For David himself said by the holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord, and whence is he then his son ? and the common people heard him gladly.

38 ¶ And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the market-places,

39 And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts :

40 ¶ Which devour widows houses, and for a pretence make long prayers : these shall receive greater damnation.

41 ¶ And Jesus sat ober against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast in money into the treasury : and many that were rich cast in much.

42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two hal mites, which make a farthing.

43 And he called unto him his disciples, and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast more in, then all they which have cast into the treasury.

44 For all they did cast in of their abundance : but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Christ foretelleth the destruction of the temple : 9 the persecutions for the gospel : 10 that the gospel must be preached to all nations : 14 that great calamities shall happen to the Jews : 24 and the manner of his coming to judgement : 32 The hour whereof being known to none, every man is to watch and pray, that we be not found unprovided, when he cometh to each one particularly by death.

And as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones, and what buildings are here.

2 And Jesus answering, said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings : there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, ober against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew asked him privately,

4 ¶ Tell us, when shall these things be ? and what shall be the signe when all these things shall be fulfilled ?

5 And Jesus answering them, began to say, Take heed lest any man deceive you.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ : and shall deceive many.

7 And when ye shall hear of wars, and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled : for such things must needs be, but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom : and there shall be earth- quakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles : these are the beginnings of sorrow.

9 ¶ But take heed to your selves : for they shall deliver you up to councils, and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten, and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.

10 And the gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 ¶ But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought before hand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate : but what soever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye : for it is not ye that speak, but the holy Ghost.

12 Now the brother that becometh the brother to death, and the father and son, and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.

13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake : but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 ¶ But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand.

standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth, understand) then let them that be in Judaea, flee to the mountains :

15 And let him that is on the house top, not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the field, not turn back again for to take up his garment.

17 But wo to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those dayes.

18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter.

19 For in those dayes shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created, unto this time, neither shall be.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh should be saved : but for the elects sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the dayes.

21 * And then, if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or lo, he is there : beleve him not.

22 For false christs, and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signes, and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect.

23 But take ye heed : behold, I have foretold you all things.

24 * But in those dayes, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light.

25 And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.

26 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds, with great power and glory.

27 And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four windes, from the uttermost part of the earth, to the uttermost part of heaven.

28 Now learn a parable of the fig-tree, When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near :

29 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to passe, know that it is nigh, even at the doors.

30 Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

31 Heaven and earth shall passe away : but my words shall not passe away.

32 * But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.

33 * Take ye heed, watch and pray : for ye know not when the time is.

34 For the Son of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.

35 Watch ye therefore (for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning)

36 Lest coming suddenly, he finde you sleeping.

37 And what I say unto you, I say unto all, Watch.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A conspiracie against Christ. 3 Precious ointment is poured on his head by a woman. 10 Judas selleth his master for money. 12 Christ himself foretelleth how he shall be betrayed of one of his disciples : 22 after the passover prepared, and eaten, intituleth his supper : 26 declareth aforeshadow the flight of all his disciples, and Peters deniall. 43. Judas betrayeth him with a kisse. 46 He is apprehended in the garden, 53 falsely accused, and unjustly condemned of the Jews council, 55 shamefully abused by them, 66 and thrice denied of Peter.

After two dayes, was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread : and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uprore of the people.

3 * And being in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of spikenard, very precious, and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.

4 And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made ?

5 For it might have been sold for more then three hundred pence, and have been given to the poor : and they murmured against her.

6 And Jesus said, Let her alone, why trouble you her ? she hath wrought a good work on me.

7 For ye have the poor with you alwayes, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good : but me ye have not alwayes.

8 She hath done what she could : she is come aforeshand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of, for a memoriall of her.

10 * And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

12 * And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the passover ?

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water : follow him.

14 And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the good man of the house, The master saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples ?

15 And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared : there make ready for us.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them : and they made ready the passover.

17 And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.

18 * And as they sat, and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, one of you which eateth with me, shall betray me.

19 And they began to be sorrowfull, and to say unto him, one by one, Is it I ? And another said, No it I ?

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish.

21 The Son of man indeed goeth as it is written of him : but wo to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed : good were it for that man if he had never been born.

22 * And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take eat : this is my body.

23 And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them : and they all drank of it.

24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.

26 ¶ And when they had sung anll hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

27 * And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28 But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.

29 * But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

30 And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this day, even in this night before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

32 * And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane, and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

33 And he taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy,

34 And saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowfull unto death: tarry ye here and watch.

35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible the hour might passe from him.

36 And he saith, Abba, Father, All things are possible unto thee, take away this cup from me; nevertheless, not that I will, but what thou wilt.

37 And he cometh and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldst thou not watch one hour?

38 March ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation: the spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy) neither wist they what to answer him.

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come, behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise up, let us go; so, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 ¶ And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders.

44 And he that betrayed him, had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same he is: take him, and lead him away safely.

45 And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Greeting, Greeting, and kissed him.

46 ¶ And they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47 And one of them that stood by, drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me?

49 I was daily with you in the temple, teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 And they all forsook him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him.

52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¶ And they led Jesus away to the high priest, and with him were assembled all the chief priests, and the elders, and the scribes.

54 And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

55 * And the chief priests, and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death, and found none.

56 For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three dayes I will build another made without hands.

59 But neither so did their witness agree together.

60 And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?

61 But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?

62 And Jesus said, I am: * and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

63 Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses?

64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophesie: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.

66 ¶ And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest.

67 And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch, and the cock crew.

69 And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curse, and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

72 * And the second time the cock crew: and Peter called to minde the word that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice thou shalt deny me thrice. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

CHAP. XV.

1 Jesus brought bound and accused before Pilate.

15 Upon the clamour of the common people, the murderer Barabbas is loosed, and Jesus delivered up to be crucified. 17 He is crowned with thorns, 19 spit on, and mocked: 21 fainteth in bearing his cross: 27 hangeth between two thieves, 29 suffereth the triumphing reproaches of the Jews: 39 but confessed by the centurio to be the Son of God, 43 and is honourably buried by Joseph.

And straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and and Scribes, and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate.

2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the king of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the chief priests accused him of many things: but he answered nothing.

4 * And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee.

5 But Jesus yet answered nothing: so that Pilate marvelled.

6 Now at that feast he released unto them one prisoner, whomsoever they desired.

7 And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection.

8 And the multitude crying aloud, began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them.

9 But Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the king of the Jews?

10 (For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envie.)

11 But the chief priests moved the people, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them.

12 And Pilate answered and said again unto them, What will ye then that I shall do unto him whom ye call the king of the Jews?

13 And they cried out again, Crucify him.

14 Then Pilate said unto them, Why? what evil hath he done? and they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucify him.

15 And so Pilate willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

16 And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Pretorium, and they call together the whole band.

17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head,

18 And began to salute him, Hail king of the Jews.

19 And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees, worshipped him.

20 And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him.

21 * And they compell one Simon a Cyrenian, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his cross.

22 And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, the place of a skull.

23 And they gave him to drink, wine mingled with myrrhe: but he received it not.

24 And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take.

25 And it was the third hour, and they crucified him.

26 And the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS.

27 And with him they crucified two thieves, the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.

28 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, * And he was numbered with the transgressors.

29 And they that passed by, railing on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days,

30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross.

31 Likewise also the chief priests mocking, said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others, himself he cannot save.

32 Let Christ the king of Israel descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe: and they that were crucified with him, reviled him.

33 And when the ninth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.

34 And at the ninth hour Jesus cryed with a loud voice, saying, * Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachani: which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.

36 And one ran, and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone, let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.

37 And Jesus cryed with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.

38 And the vail of the temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom.

39 And when the centurion which stood over against him, saw that he so cryed out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God.

40 There were also women looking on a far off, among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less, and of Joses, and Salome:

41 Who also when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministered unto him, and many other women which came up with him into Jerusalem.

42 * And now when the even was come, because it was the preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath)

43 Joseph of Arimathea, an honourable counsellor, which also waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Jesus.

44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead, and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead.

45 And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph.

46 And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone upon the door of the sepulchre.

47 And Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of Joses, beheld where he was laid.

14 then to the apostles, 15 whom he sendeth forth to preach the Gospel, 19 and ascendeth into heaven.

AND when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 * And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.

3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away) for it was very great.

5 * And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were affrighted.

6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen, he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go your way, tell his disciples and Herod, that he goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see him, as he said unto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre: for they trembled, and were amazed, neither said they any thing to any man: for they were afraid.

9 ¶ Now when Jesus was risen early, the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils.

10 And he went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept.

11 And they when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not.

12 ¶ After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country.

13 And they went and told it unto the residue: neither believed they them.

14 ¶ Afterward he appeared unto the eleven, as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief, and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.

15 * And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.

16 He that believeth and is baptized, shall be saved; but he that believeth not, shall be damned.

17 And these signs shall follow them that believe: * In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues;

18 * They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick; and they shall recover.

19 ¶ So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

20 And they went forth and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING to Saint LUKE.

CHAP. I.

1 The preface of Luke to his whole gospel. 5 The conception of John the Baptist, 26 and of Christ. 39 The prophetic of Elizabeth, and of Mary, concerning Christ. 57 The nativity and circumcision of John. 67 The prophetic of Zachary, both of Christ, 76 and of John.

Fas much as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us,

2 Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eye-witnesses, and ministers of the word:

3 It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus;

4 That thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed.

5 ¶ There was in the days of Herod the king of Judaea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

6 And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord, blameless.

7 And they had no child, because that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 And it came to pass, that while he executed the priests office before God in the order of his course,

9 According to the custom of the priests office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 * And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not Zacharias, for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and many shall rejoice at his birth.

15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord; and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink, and he shall be filled with the holy Ghost, even from his mothers womb.

16 * And many of the children of Israel shall be turned to the Lord their God.

17 And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.

19 And the angel answering, said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God: and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple: for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.

23 And it came to pass that after as the dayes of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

24 And after those dayes his wife Elizabeth conceived, and hid her self five moneths, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the daies wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.

26 And in the sixth moneth the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a cite of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Ioseph, of the house of David; and the virgins name was Mary.

28 And the angel came in unto her, and said, Greeting thee, who art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee, blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her minde what manner of salutation this should be.

30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God.

31 And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name Iesus.

32 He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest, and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David.

33 And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever, and of his kingdom there shall be no end.

34 Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

35 And the angel answered and said unto her, The holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be called the Son of God.

36 And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age, and this is the sixth moneth with her, who was called barren.

37 For with God nothing shall be impossible.

38 And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word: and the angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in those dayes, and went into the hill-country with haste, into a city of Juda, 40 And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to passe that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb: and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord, should come to me?

44 For lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

45 And blessed is the // that believed, for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

46 And Mary said, My soul doth magnifie the Lord,

47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

48 For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his name.

50 And his mercy is on them that fear him, from generation to generation.

51 * He hath shewed strength with his arm, * he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

52 * He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.

53 * He hath filled the hungry with good things, and the rich he hath sent empty away.

54 He hath holpen his servant Israel, * in remembrance of his mercy, 55 * As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham and to his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three moneths, and returned to her own house.

57 Now Elizabeths full time came, that she should be delivered, and she brought forth a son.

58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her, and they rejoiced with her.

59 And it came to passe, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child, and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answered and said, Not so, but he shall be called John.

61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.

62 And they made signes to his father, how he would have him called.

63 And he asked for a writing table, and wrote, saying, his name is John: and they marvelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God.

65 And fear came on all that dwelt round about them, and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill-country of Iudaea.

66 And all they that had heard them, laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be: and the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,

68 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, for he hath visited and redeemed his people,

69 * And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us, in the house of his servant David;

70 * As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began.

71 That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us.

72 To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant:

73 * The oath which he sware to our father Abraham,

74 That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, might serve him without fear,

75 In holiness and righteousness before him, all the dayes of our life.

76 And thou child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his wayes;

77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people, by the remission of their sins,

78 Through the // tender mercy of our God; whereby the // day-spring from on high hath visited us,

79 To give light to them that sit in darkness, and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

80 And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

CHAP. II.

1 Augustus taxeth all the Roman Empire. 6 The nativity of Christ. 8 One angel relateth it to the shepherds. 13 Many sing praises to God for it. 21 Christ is circumcised. 22 Mary purified. 28 Simeon and Anna prophetic of Christ; 40 who increaseth in wisdom, 46 questioneth in the temple with the doctors, 51 and is obedient to his parents.

AND it came to passe in those dayes, that there went out a decree from Cesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

2 (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was gouernour of Syria)

3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own citie.

4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the citie of Nazareth, into Iudea, unto * the citie of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and lineage of David)

5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with childe.

6 And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that she should be deliuered.

7 And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the Inn.

8 And there were in the same countrey shepherds abiding in the field, keeping // watch over their flock by night.

9 And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11 For unto you is born this day, in the citie of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a signe unto you; Ye shall finde the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel, a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will towards men.

15 And it came to passe, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to passe, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this childe.

18 And all they that heard it, wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 * And when eight dayes were accomplished for the circumcising of the childe, his name was called * JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when the dayes of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Ierusalem, to present him to the Lord;

23 (As it is written in the Law of the Lord,

* Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord)

24 And to offer a sacrifice according to * that which is said in the law of the Lord, a pair of turtle doves, or two young pigeons.

25 And behold, there was a man in Ierusalem, whose name was Simeon, and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the holy Ghost was upon him.

26 And it was revealed unto him by the holy Ghost, that he should not see death before he had seen the Lords Christ.

27 And he came by the Spirit into the temple, and when the parents brought in the childe Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said, 29 Lord now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to the word.

30 For mine eyes have seen thy salvation;

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people:

32 A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this childe is set for the * fall and rising again of many in Israel: and for a signe which shall be spoken against:

35 (Yea a sword shall pierce thowgh thy own soul also) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

36 And there was one Anna a prophetesse, the daughter of Phanneel, of the tribe of Aser; she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity:

37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years: which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 And she coming in that instant, gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in // Ierusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own citie Nazareth.

40 And the childe grew, and waxed strong in Spirit, filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was upon him.

41 Now his parents went to Ierusalem * every year at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Ierusalem, after the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had fulfilled the dayes; as they returned, the childe Jesus tarried behinde in Ierusalem, and Joseph and his mother knew not of it.

44 But they supposing him to have been in the company, went a dayes journey, and they sought him among their kind-folk and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Ierusalem, seeking him.

46 And it came to passe, thae after three dayes they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed; and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

52 And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

CHAP. III.

1 The preaching and baptisme of John: 15 his testimony of Christ: 20 Herod imprisoneth John: 21 Christ baptized, receiveth testimony from heaven: 23 The age and genealogie of Christ from Joseph upwards.

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Cæsar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea, and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the tetrarch of Abilene,

2 Annas and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John, the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.

3 And he came into all the countrey about Jordan preaching the baptisme of repentance, for the remission of sins,

4 As it is written in the book of the words of Elias the prophet, saying, * The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low, and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough wayes shall be made smooth,

6 And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7 Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, * O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruites, worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within your selves, We have Abraham to our father, for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

9 And now also the ax is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen down and cast into the fire.

10 And the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then?

11 He answereth and saith unto them, * He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none: and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

12 Then came also publicanes to be baptized and said unto him, Master, what shall we do?

13 And he said unto them, Exact no more then that which is appointed you.

14 And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? and he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your wages.

15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ or not:

16 John answered, saying unto them all, * I indeed baptize you with water, but one mightier then I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire:

17 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner, but the chaffe he will burn with fire unquenchable.

18 And many other things in his exhortation preached he unto the people.

19 * But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother Philipps wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, 20 Loved yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

21 Now when all the people were baptized, * it came to passe that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened:

22 And the holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son, in thee I am well pleased.

23 And Jesus himself began to be about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) the son of Joseph, which was the son of Heli,

C H A P. III.

1 The temptation and fasting of Christ. 13 He overcometh the devil: 14 beginneth to preach. 16 The people of Nazareth admire his gracious words. 33 He cureth one possessed of a devil. 38 Peters mother in law. 40 and divers other sick persons. 41 The devil acknowledge Christ, and are reproved for it. 43 He preacheth thorow the cities.

*Mat. 4. 1.

AND * Jesus being full of the holy Ghost, returned from Jordan, and was led by the spirit into the wilderness,

2 Being forty daies tempted of the devil, and in those daies he did eat nothing: and when they were ended he afterward hungered.

3 And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

5 And the devil taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me, and to whomsoever I will, I give it.

Or, shall down before me.

7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine.

8 And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

9 And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thy self down from hence.

10 For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee.

11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14 ¶ And Jesus returned in the power of the spirit into Galilee, and there went out a fame of him thorow all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

*Mat. 13. 44.

16 ¶ And he came to * Nazareth, where he had been brought up, and as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and stood up for to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet * Ezechias: and when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written,

*Isa. 61. 1.

18 * The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bound,

19 To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down: and the eyes of all that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

22 And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Josephs son?

23 And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, * Whithersoever he will tell: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country.

24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country.

25 But I tell you of a truth, * Many widows were in Israel in the daies of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six moneths, when great famine was thorowout all the land:

26 But unto none of them was Elias sent save unto Sarepta a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.

* 2. Kings
5. 14.

27 * And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Elisha the prophet: and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian.

28 And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath,

Or, edge.

29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the cite, and led him unto the brow of the hill (whereon their cite was built) that they might cast him down headlong.

30 But he passing thorow the mids of them, went his way:

31 And came down to Capernaum, a cite of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbath daies.

32 And they were astonished at his doctrine: * for his word was with power.

*Mat. 7. 29.
* Mat. 1. 23.

33 ¶ * And in the synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice,

Or, away.

34 Saying, Let us alone, what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the holy one of God.

35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the mids, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, what a word is this? for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the countrey round about.

*Mat. 8. 14.

38 ¶ And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simons house: and Simons wifes mother was taken with a great fever, and they besought him for her.

39 And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever, and it left her. And immediately she arose and ministered unto them.

40 ¶ Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases, brought them unto him: and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.

41 * And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And he rebuking them, suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

*Mat. 1. 34.

42 And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them.

Or, to say that they knew him to be Christ

43 And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also, for therefore am I sent.

44 And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ teacheth the people out of Peters ship; 4 in a miraculous taking of fishes, sheweth how he will make him and his partners fishers of men; 12 cleanse the leper: 16 prayeth in the wilderness: 18 healeth one sick of the palsey: 27 calleth Matthew the publicane: 29 catech wick sinners, as being the physician of souls: 34 foretelleth the fastings, and afflictions of the apostles after his ascension: 36 and likeneth faint-hearted and weak disciples to old bottles, and worn garments.

*Mat. 4. 18.

AND it came to passe, that as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Genesareth,

2 And saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And he entred into one of the ships which was Simons, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land; and he sat down and taught the people out of the ship.

4 Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.

5 And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing; nevertheless, at thy word I will let down the net.

6 And when they had this done, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes, and their net brake.

7 And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus knees, saying, Depart from me, for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 And so was also James and John the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not, from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsook all and followed him.

12 AND it came to passe, when he was in a certain city, behold, a man full of leprosie: who seeing Jesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt thou canst make me clean.

13 And he put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will, be thou clean: and immediately the leprosie departed from him.

14 And he charged him to tell no man; but go, and shew thy self to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him, and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 AND he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to passe on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees, and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 AND behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsey: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not finde by what way they might bring him in, because of the multitude, they went upon the house-top, and let him down through the tiling with his couch, into the midst before Jesus.

20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins but God alone?

22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee, or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins (he said unto the sick of the palsey) I say unto thee, Rise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.

27 AND after these things he went forth, and saw a publicane named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 And Levi made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicanes, and of others that sat down with them.

30 But the scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicanes and sinners?

31 And Jesus answering, said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician: but they that are sick.

32 I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 AND they said unto him, *Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink?

34 And he said unto them, Can ye make the children of the bride chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them?

35 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

36 AND he spake also a parable unto them, No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old: if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old.

37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish.

38 But new wine must be put into new bottles, and both are preserved.

39 No man also having drunk old wine, straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

CHAP. VI.

1 Christ reproveth the Pharisees blindness about the observation of the sabbath, by scripture, reason, and miracle: 13 chooseth twelve apostles: 17 healeth the diseased: 20 preacheth to his disciples before the people of blessings and curses: 27 how we must love our enemies, 46 and joy in the obedience of good works to the hearing of the word, left in the evil day of temptation we fall like an house built upon the face of the earth without any foundation.

AND it came to passe on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn fields; fields : and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawfull to do on the sabbath dayes ?

3 And Iesus answering them, said, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when himselfe was an hungred, and they which were with him.

4 How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shew-bread, and gave also to them that were with him, which is not lawfull to eat but for the priests alone ?

5 And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

* Mat. 12.9.

6 * And it came to passe also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagoge and taught, and there was a man whose right hand was withered.

7 And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath-day : that they might finde an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.

9 Then said Iesus unto them, I will ask you one thing, Is it lawfull on the sabbath-dayes to do good, or to do evill : to save life, or to destroy it ?

10 And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand : and he did so : and his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madnesse, and communed one with another what they might do to Iesus.

12 And it came to passe in those dayes, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

* Mat. 10.1.

13 ¶ And when it was day he called unto him his disciples : and of them he chose twelve, whom also he named apostles :

14 Simon (whom he also named Peter) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,

15 Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon called Cloates,

* Jude 1.

16 And Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitour.

17 ¶ And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Iudea and Jerusalem, and from the Sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases :

18 And they that were vexed with unclean spirits : and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude sought to touch him : for there went vertue out of him, and he healed them all.

* Mat. 5.3.

20 ¶ And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, ¶ Blessed be ye poor : for yours is the kingdom of God.

21 Blessed are ye that hunger now : for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now : for ye shall laugh.

22 Blessed are ye when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reprove you, and call out your name as evill, for the Son of mans sake.

23 Rejoyce ye in that day, and leap for joy : for behold, your reward is great in heaven : for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

24 * But woe unto you that are rich : for ye have received your consolation.

25 * Woe unto you that are full : for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh now : for ye shall mourne and weep.

* Isa. 65.13.

* Mat. 5.44.

* Mat. 5.46.

32 * For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye : for sinners also love those that love them.

33 And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye : for sinners also do even the same.

34 * And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye : for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again.

* Mat. 5.40.

35 But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend hoping for nothing again : and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the highest : for he is kinde unto the unthankfull, and to the evill.

36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your Father also is mercifull.

38 Give, and it shall be given unto you : good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withall, it shall be measured to you again.

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye : when thou thy self beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye ? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

43 * For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit : neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

* Mat. 7.16.

44 For every tree is known by his own fruit : for of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble-bush gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good : and an evil man out of the evill treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is evill : for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 ¶ * And why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say ?

* Mat. 7.21.

47 Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, sayings, and do them; I will shew you to whom he is like.

48 He is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock.

49 But he that heareth, and doth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell, and the ruine of that house was great.

CHAP. VII.

1 Christ findeth a greater faith in the Centurion a Gentile, then in any of the Jews: 10 healeth his servant being absent: 11 raiseth from death the widows son at Naim: 19 answereth Johns messengers with the declaration of his miracles: 24 testifieth to the people what opinion he held of John: 30 inveheth against the Jews, who with neither the manners of John nor of Jesus could be wonne: 36 and sheweth by occasion of Mary Magdalene, how he is a friend to sinners, not to maintain them in sins, but to forgive them their sins upon their faith and repentance.

*Mat. 8. 5.

NOW when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people: * he entered into Capernaum.

2 And a certain centurions servant, who was dear unto him, was sick and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

4 And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, that he was worthy for whom he should do this:

5 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.

6 Then Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thy self, for I am not worthy that thou shouldst enter under my roof.

7 Wherefore neither thought I my self worthy to come unto thee: but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed.

8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my servant, Do this, and he doth it.

9 When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that he went into a city called Naim: and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not.

14 And he came and touched the bier, (and they that bare him stood still) And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead, sat up, and began to speak, and he delivered him to his mother.

16 And there came a fear on all, and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us, and that God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judea, and throughout all the region round about.

18 * And the disciples of John shewed him of all these things.

19 And John calling unto him two of his disciples, sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come, or look we for another?

20 When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come, or look we for another?

21 And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blinde he gave sight.

22 Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard, how that the blinde see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached.

23 And blessed is he whosoever shall not be offended in me.

24 And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

25 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings courts.

26 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more then a prophet.

27 This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women, there is not a greater prophet then John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God, is greater then he.

29 And all the people that heard him, and the publicanes justified God, being baptized with the baptism of John.

30 But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsell of God against themselves, being not baptized of him.

31 And the Lord said, * Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

32 They are like unto children sitting in the market-place, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced: we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

33 For John the Baptist came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and ye say, He hath a devil.

34 The Son of man is come eating and drinking, and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a wine-bibber, a friend of publicanes and sinners.

35 But wisdom is justified of all her children.

36 * And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisees house, and sat down to meat.

37 And behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisees house, brought an alabaster box of ointment,

38 And stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the haire of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 Now when the Pharisee which had blinded him, saw it, he spake within himself saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who, and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Jesus answering, said unto him: Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on.

41 There was a certain creditor, which had two debtors: the one ought five hundred pence, and the other fifty.

42 And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, Which of them will love him most?

43 Simon answered and said, I suppose that he to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the haire of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kisse: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feet.

46 Mine head with oyl thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment.

47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.

48 And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.

49 And they that sat at meat with him, began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sins also?

50 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee, go in peace.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Women minister unto Christ of their substance.

4 Christ after he had preached from place to place, attended with his apostle, propoundeth the parable of the sower, 16 and of the candle: 21 declareth who are his mother and brethren: 22 rebuketh the winds, 26 calleth the legion of devils out of the man, into the herd of swine: 37 is rejected of the Gadarens: 43 healeth the woman of her bloody issue: 49 and raiseth from death Jaius daughter.

As it came to passe afterward, that he went throughout every city and village preaching, and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him.

2 And certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils;

3 And Joanna the wife of Chusa, Herods steward, and Susanna, and many others which ministered unto him of their substance.

4 ¶ And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable:

5 A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

6 And some fell upon a rock, and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundred fold. And when he had said these things, he sayd, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be?

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.

11 ¶ Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

12 Those by the way side, are they that hear: then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13 They on the rock, are they, which when they hear, receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe; and in time of temptation fall away.

14 And that which fell among thorns, are they which when they have heard, go forth, as doth the seed, and are choked with cares and riches, and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

15 But that on the good ground, are they which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 ¶ No man when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.

17 ¶ For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest: neither any thing hid, that shall not be known, and come abroad.

18 Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whatsoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.

19 ¶ Then came to him his mother, and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.

20 And it was told him by certain, which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.

21 And he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 ¶ Now it came to passe on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples; and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake; and they launched forth.

23 But as they sailed, he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of winde on the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, we perish, when he arose, and rebuked the winde, and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid, wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this? for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

26 ¶ And they arrived at the country of the Gadarens, which is over against Galilee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the title a certain man which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs.

28 When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus thou Son of God most high? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 (For he had commanded the legion of 30 And Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep.

32 And there was there an herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them: and he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city, and in the country.

35 Then they went out to see what was done, and came to Jesus, and found the man out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right minde, and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it, told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils, was healed.

37 ¶ Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarens round about, besought him to depart from them: for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

38 Now the man out of whom the devils were departed, besought him, that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying,

39 Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole cite, how great things Jesus had done unto him.

40 And it came to passe, that when Jesus was returned, the people gladly received him: for they were all waiting for him.

41 ¶ And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue, and he fell down at Jesus feet, and besought him that he would come in to his house:

42 For he had one onely daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay dying (But as he went, the people thronged him.)

43 ¶ And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any.

44 Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stancheth.

45 And Jesus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter, and they that were with him, said, Master, the multitude throng thee, and presse thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jesus said, Some body hath touched me: for I perceive that vertue is gone out of me.

47 And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.

48 And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort, thy faith hath made thee whole, go in peace.)

49 While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogues house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead, trouble not the master.

50 But when Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not, beleeve onely, and she shall be made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to go in, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father, & the mother of the maiden.

52 And all wept and bewailed her: but he said, Weep not; she is not dead but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Rise, arise.

55 And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat.

56 And her parents were astonished: but he charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAP. IX.

1 Christ sendeth his apostles to work miracles, and to preach. 7 Herod desireth to see Christ. 17 Christ feedeth five thousand: 18 enquireth what opinion the world had of him: foretelleth his passion: 23 proposeth to all the pattern of his patience. 28 The transfiguration. 37 He healeth the lunatick: 43 again forewarneth his disciples of his passion: 46 commendeth humility: 51 biddeth them to shew mildnesse towards all, without desire of revenge. 57 Divers would follow him, but upon conditions.

¶ Then * he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authoritie over all devils, and to cure diseases.

2 And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.

3 And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves nor scrip, neither bread, neither money, neither have two coats a piece.

4 And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake of the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.

6 And they departed and went throughout the towns preaching the gospel, and healing every where.

7 ¶ * Now Herod the Tetrarch heard of all that was done by him; and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead:

8 And of some, that Elias had appeared: and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again.

9 And Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this of whom I hear such things? And he desired to see him.

10 ¶ And the apostles when they were returned, told him all that they had done. * And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place, belonging to the city called Betsaida.

11 And the people when they knew it, followed him, and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.

12 ¶ And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes, except we should go and buy meat for all this people.

*Mat. 10. 1.

*Mat. 14. 1.

*Mat. 14. 13.

*Mat. 14. 13.

14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.

16 Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

18 ¶ And it came to passe as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 They answering, said, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias: and others say that one of the old prophets is risen again.

20 He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering, said, The Christ of God.

21 And he strictly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing.

22 Saying, The Sonne of man must suffer many things, and be reſected of the elders, and chief priests, and Scribes, and be slain, and be called the third day.

23 ¶ And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his crosse daily, and follow me.

24 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

25 ¶ For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

26 ¶ For whosoever shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory and in his fathers, and of the holy angels.

27 ¶ But I tell you of a truth, There be some standing here which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.

28 ¶ And it came to passe about an eight dayes after these sayings, he took Peter, and John, and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering.

30 And behold there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias.

31 Also appeared in glory, and spake of his decease, which he should accomplish at Jerusalem.

32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory and the two men that stood with him.

33 And it came to passe as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them, and they feared as they entered into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Sonne, hear him.

36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone: and they kept it close, and told no man in those dayes any of those things which they had seen.

37 ¶ And it came to passe, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.

38 And behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my sonne, for he is mine onely childe.

39 And so, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out, and teareth him, that he cometh again, and bruising him, hardly departeth from him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering, said, O faithlesse and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you and suffer you? Bring thy sonne hither.

42 And as he was yet a coming, the devill taketh him down, and tace him: and Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the childe, and delivered him again to his father.

43 ¶ And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God: but while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples, 44 Let these sayings sink down into your eares: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

46 ¶ Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.

47 And Jesus perceiving the thought of their heart, took a childe, and set him by him,

48 And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this childe in my Name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

49 ¶ And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devills in thy name, and we forbid him, because he followeth not with us.

50 And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us, is for us.

51 ¶ And it came to passe when the time was come that he should be received up, he stedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem, 52 And sent messengers before his face, and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritanes to make ready for him.

53 And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem.

54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did?

55 But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner spirit ye are of.

56 For the Son of man is not come to destroy mens lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.

57 ¶ And it came to passe that as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

58 And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 ¶ And he said unto another, Follow me: but he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60 Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead, but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.

61 And another also said, Lord, I will follow thee: but let me first go bid them farewell which are at home at my house.

62 And Jesus said unto him, No man having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

CHAP. X.

Christ sendeth out at once seventy disciples to work miracles, and to preach : 17 admonisheth them to be humble, and wherein to rejoyce : 21 thanketh his father for his grace : 23 magnifieth the happy estate of his church : 25 teacheth the lawyer how to attain eternall life, and to take every one for his neighbour that needeth his mercy : 41 reprehendeth Martha, and commendeth Mary her sister.

After these things, the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city, and place, whither he himself would come.

2 Therefore said he unto them, * The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few : pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 So your wayes : * behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.

4 Carry neither purse nor scrip, nor shoes, and salute no man by the way.

5 * And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it : if not, it shall turn to you again.

7 And in the same house remain, eating, and drinking such things as they give : for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you.

9 And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

10 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your wayes out into the streets of the same, and say,

11 Even the very dust of your city which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you, notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

12 But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, then for that city.

13 * Wo unto thee Chorazin, wo unto thee Bethsaida : for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgement, then for you.

15 And thou Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell.

16 * Ye that heareth you, heareth me : and he that despiseth you, despiseth me : and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me.

17 ¶ And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us by thy name.

18 And he said unto them, I beheld satan as lightning, fall from heaven.

19 Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy : and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

20 Notwithstanding in this rejoyce not, that the spirits are subject unto you : but rather rejoyce because your names are written in heaven.

21 ¶ In that hour Jesus rejoyced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes : even so, Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 ¶ All things are delivered to me of my Father : and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father ; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

23 ¶ And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, * Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see.

24 For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them ; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

25 ¶ And behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, * Master, what shall I do to inherit eternall life ?

26 He said unto him, What is written in the law ? how readest thou ?

27 And he answering, said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy minde ; and thy neighbour as thy self.

28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right : this do, and thou shalt live.

29 But he willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour ?

30 And Jesus answering, said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

31 And by chance there came down a certain priest that way, and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certain Samaritane, as he journeyed, came where he was : and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him, and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves ?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 ¶ Now it came to passe, as they went, that he entered into a certain village : and a certain woman named Martha, received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus feet, and heard his word.

40 But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone ? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 And Jesus answered, and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful, and troubled about many things :

42 But one thing is needfull, and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

mous Pharisees: 28 and sheweth who are blessed: 29 preacheth to the people: 37 and reprehendeth the outward shew of holiness, in the Pharisees, Scribes, and lawyers.

And it came to passe, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, * Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done as in heaven, so in earth.

3 Give us II day by day our daily bread.

4 And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, friend, lend me three loaves:

6 For a friend of mine II in his journey, is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him:

7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not, the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed, and I cannot rise and give thee.

8 I say unto you, Though he will not rise, and give him, because he is his friend: yet because of his importunity, he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.

9 * And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you: seek, and ye shall finde: knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10 For every one that asketh, receiveth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

11 * If a sonne shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall ask an egge, will he offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly father give the holy Spirit to them that ask him?

14 ¶ And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to passe when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake: and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, * He casteth out devils through Beelzebub the chief of the devils.

16 And other tempting him, sought of him a signe from heaven.

17 But he knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against it self is brought to desolation: and a house divided against a house, shall fall.

18 If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub.

19 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges.

20 But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.

21 When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace.

22 But when a stronger then he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

23 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

24 * ¶ When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest: and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out.

25 And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked then himself, and they enter in, and dwell there, and the last state of that man is worse then the first.

27 ¶ And it came to passe as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lift up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.

28 But he said, Yea, rather blessed are they that hear the word of God and keep it.

29 ¶ * And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation, they seek a signe, and there shall no signe be given it, but the signe of Jonas the prophet.

30 For as Jonas was a signe unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.

31 The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgement with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth, to hear the wisdom of Solomon; and behold, a greater then Solomon is here.

32 The men of Nineveh shall rise up in the judgement with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold, a greater then Jonas is here.

33 * No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushell, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.

34 * The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light: but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.

35 Take heed therefore, that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.

37 ¶ And as he spake, a certain Pharisee sought him to dine with him; and he went in, and sat down to meat.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 * And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter: but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

40 Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 But rather give alms of such things as you have: and behold, all things are clean unto you.

42 But two unto you Pharisees: for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and passe over judgement and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43 * ¶ Also unto you Pharisees: for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 ¶ Also unto you scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

45 ¶ Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus sayings, thou reproachest us also.

* Mat. 23. 4.

for ye sate men with burdens greivous to be born, and ye your selves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 ¶ ¶ Go unto you: for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation:

51 ¶ From the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, it shall be required of this generation.

52 ¶ ¶ Go unto you lawyers: for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in your selves, and them that were entering in, ye hindered.

53 And as he said these things unto them, the Scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things:

54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAP. XII.

1 Christ preacheth to his disciples to avoid hypocrisie and fearfulness in publishing his doctrine: 13 warneth the people to beware of covetousnesse, by the parable of the rich man who set up greater barns. 22 We must not be overcarefull of earthly things, 31 but seek the kingdom of God, 33 give alms, 36 be ready at a knock to open to our Lord whensoever he cometh. 41 Christs ministers are to see to their charge, 49 and look for persecution. 54 The people must take this time of grace, 58 because it is a fearful thing to die without reconciliation.

1 ¶ ¶ The mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, inasmuch that they trod one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisie.

2 ¶ For there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness, shall be heard in the light: and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets, shall be proclaimed upon the house tops.

4 ¶ And I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that, have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed the body, hath power to cast into hell, yea, I say unto you, fear him.

6 Are not five sparrows sold for two || farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.

8 ¶ Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confesse me before men, him shall the Son of man also confesse before the angels of God.

9 But he that denieth me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven.

11 ¶ And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say:

12 For the holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.

13 ¶ And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me.

14 And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge, or a divider over you?

15 And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousnesse: for a mans life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.

16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully.

17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?

18 And he said, This will I do, I will pull down my barns and build greater, and there will I bestow all my fruits, and my goods.

19 And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years, take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry.

20 But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided?

21 So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich towards God.

22 ¶ And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, ¶ Take no thought for your life what ye shall eat, neither for the body what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

24 Consider the ravens, for they neither sow nor reap, which neither have storehouse nor barn, and God feedeth them. How much more are ye better than the fowls?

25 And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit?

26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow, they toil not, they spin not: and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory, was not arrayed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven: how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, || neither be ye of doubtful mind.

30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.

31 ¶ But rather seek ye the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added unto you.

32 Fear not, little flock: for it is your Fathers good pleasure to give you the kingdom.

33 Sell that ye have, and give alms: ¶ provide your selves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 ¶ Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning.

* Mat. 10. 19

|| Or, do they require thy soul.

* Mat. 6. 25.

|| Or, live not in carefull suspense.

* Mat. 6. 20.

* 1 Pet. 1. 13.

36 And ye your selves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding, that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 Blessed are those servants, whom the Lord when he cometh, shall finde watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

38 And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and finde them so, blessed are those servants.

39 *And this know, that if the good man of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 ¶ Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all?

42 And the Lord said, ¶ Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh, shall finde so doing.

44 Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

45 But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming, and shall begin to beat the men-servants, and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken:

46 The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him; and at an hour when he is not ware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 And that servant which knew his lords will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

49 ¶ I am come to send fire on the earth, and what will I, if it be already kindled?

50 But I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how am I strained till it be accomplished?

51 * Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division.

52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall be divided against the son; and the son against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 ¶ And he said also to the people, ¶ When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower: and so it is.

55 And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat: and so it cometh to passe.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky, and of the earth: but how is it that ye do not discern this time?

57 Yea, and why then of your selves judge ye not what is right?

58 ¶ ¶ Then thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him;

lest he hale thee to the sudge, and the sudge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.

59 I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast payed the very last mite.

¶ See Mark 12.42.

C N A P. XIII.

1 Christ preacheth repentance upon the punishment of the Galileans, and others. 6 The fruitlesse fig-tree may not stand. 11 He healeth the crooked woman: 18 sheweth the powerfull working of the word in the hearts of his chosen, by the parable of the grain of mustard-seed, and of leaven: 24 exhorteth to enter in at the strait gate: 31 and reproveth Herod and Jerusalem.

There were present at that season, some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Jesus answering, said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Of those eighteen, upon whom the tower in Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?

¶ Or, debtors.

5 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ He spake also this parable: A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard, and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 ¶ Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three yeers I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and finde none: cut it down, why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering, said unto him, Lord, let it alone this yeer also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:

9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

11 ¶ And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen yeers, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up her self.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath-day, and said unto the people, There are six dayes in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath-day.

15 The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, thou dost reach one of you on the sabbath loose his ox, or his asse from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen yeers, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day?

17 And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoyced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ¶ ¶ Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and wherunto shall I resemble it?

¶ Mat. 13.31.

19 It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree: and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it.

20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God?

21 It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

22 And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Jerusalem.

23 Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them, 24 Yea, I say unto you, it will be as the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence you are:

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence you are; depart from me all ye workers of iniquity.

28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out.

29 And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.

30 And behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.

31 ¶ The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence: for Herod will kill thee.

32 And he said unto them, Go ye and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to day and to morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected.

33 Nevertheless, I must walk to day and to morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem.

34 ¶ O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee: how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not?

35 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER XIII.

2 Christ healed the dropsic on the sabbath: 7 teacheth humility: 12 to feast the poor. 15 Under the parable of the great supper, sheweth how worldly minded men, who condemn the word of God, shall be shut out of heaven. 25 Those who will be his disciples, to bear their cross, must make their accounts beforehand, lest with shame they revolt from him afterward, 34 and become altogether unprofitable, like salt that hath lost his savour.

And it came to passe, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath-day, that they watched him.

2 And behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsic.

3 And Jesus answering, spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawfull to heal on the sabbath-day?

4 And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go:

5 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath-day?

6 And they could not answer him again to these things.

7 ¶ And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms, saying unto them,

8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room, lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him:

9 And he that had thee and him, come and say to thee, Give this man place: and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room.

10 ¶ But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room: that when he that had thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee.

11 ¶ For whosoever exalteth himself, shall be abased: and he that humbleth himself, shall be exalted.

12 ¶ Then said he also to him that had him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours: lest they also bid thee again, and a recompense be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind:

14 And thou shalt be blessed: for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just.

15 ¶ And when one of them that sat at meat with him, heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.

16 ¶ Then said he unto him, A certain man made a great supper and had many:

17 And sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come: for all things are now ready.

18 And they all with one consent began to make excuse: The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.

19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.

20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry, said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the blind, and the lame.

22 And the servant said, Lord, it is done, as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.

23 And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the high ways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.

24 For I say unto you, that none of those men which were bidden, shall taste of my supper.

25 ¶ And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them,

26 ¶ If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.

27 And whosoever doth not bear his crosse, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.

28 For which of you intending to build a tower, steth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it?

29 Lest haply after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it, begin to mock him,

30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish.

31 Or what king going to make war against another king, steth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand, to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?

32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewise, whosoever he be of you, that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.

34 * Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned?

35 It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill, but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

CHAP. XV.

1 The parable of the lost sheep: 8 of the piece of silver: 11 of the prodigal son.

Then drew near unto him all the publicanes and sinners for to hear him.

2 And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 And he spake this parable unto them saying,

4 * What man of you having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, untill he finde it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoyce with me, for I have found my sheep which was lost.

7 I say unto you, that likewise soyl shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more then over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.

8 ¶ Whether what woman having ten li pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she finde it?

9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoyce with me, for I have found the piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say unto you, There is joy in the presence of the angels of God, over one sinner that repenteth.

11 ¶ And he said, A certain man had two sons:

12 And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living.

13 And not many dayes after, the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land, and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country, and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

17 And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my fathers have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

18 I will arise, and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee,

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

20 And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet.

23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it, and let us eat and be merry.

24 For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing.

26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and found.

28 And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 And he answering, said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment, and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

31 And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine.

32 It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was lost, and is found.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The parable of the unjust steward. 14 Christ reproveth the hypocrisy of the covetous Pharisees. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus the begger.

And he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man which had a steward, and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship: for thou wast be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig, to beg I am ashamed.

4 I am resolved what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred || measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore.

8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light.

9 And I say unto you, Make to your selves friends of the || Mammon of unrighteousness, that when you fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

10 He that is faithful in that which is least, is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least, is unjust also in much.

11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous || Mammon, who will commit to you the true riches?

12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another mans, who shall give you that which is your own?

13 ¶ No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other, or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other: ye cannot serve God and Mammon.

14 And the Pharisees also who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.

15 And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify your selves before men, but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed amongst men, is abomination in the sight of God.

16 ¶ The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.

17 ¶ And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, then one tittle of the law to fall.

18 ¶ Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

19 ¶ There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day.

20 And there was a certain begger named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores,

21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich mans table: moreover, the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to passe that the begger died, and was carried by the angels into Abrahams bosom: the rich man also died and was buried,

23 And in hell he lift up his eyes being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.

24 And he cried, and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy life time receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, he hath us and you there is a great gulfe fixed, so that they which would passe from hence to you, cannot, neither can they passe to us, that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house:

28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets, let them hear them.

30 And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.

31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Christ teacheth to avoid occasion of offence. 3 One to forgive another. 6 The power of faith. 7 How we are bound to God, and not he to us. 11 He healeth ten lepers. 22 Of the kingdom of God, and the coming of the Son of man.

Then said he unto the disciples, ¶ It is impossible but that offences will come, but two unto him through whom they come.

2 It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, then that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 ¶ Take heed to your selves: ¶ If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.

4 And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent: thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 ¶ And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye might say unto this hyacinth-tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea, and it should obey you.

7 But which of you having a servant plowing, or feeding cattell, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat?

8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thy self, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken: and afterwards thou shalt eat and drink.

9 Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

11 ¶ And it came to passe, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed thorough the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as he entred into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off:

13 And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus Master have mercy on us.

14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go shew your selves unto the priests. And it came to passe that as they went, they were cleansed.

15 And one of them when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God,

16 And fell down on his face at his feet giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.

17 And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

19 And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 ¶ And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come; he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation.

21 Neither shall they say, Lo here, or lo there: for behold, the kingdom of God is within you.

22 And he said unto the disciples, The dayes will come when ye shall desire to see one of the dayes of the Sonne of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 * And they shall say to you, See here, or see there: go not after them, nor follow them.

24 For as the lightning that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven: so shall also the Sonne of man be in his day.

25 But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.

26 * And as it was in the dayes of Noe; so shall it be also in the dayes of the Sonne of man.

27 They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, untill the day that Noe entered into the ark: and the flood came and destroyed them all.

28 * Likewise also as it was in the dayes of Lot, they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded:

29 But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all:

30 Even thus shall it be in the day when the Sonne of man is revealed.

31 In that day, he which shall be upon the house top, and his stuffe in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.

32 * Remember Lots wife,

33 * Whosoever shall seek to save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life, shall preserve it.

34 * I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, the other shall be left.

35 Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

36 ¶ Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

37 And they answered and said unto him, * Where Lord? and he said unto them, Wherever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

CHAP. XVIII.

3 Of the importunate widow. 9 Of the Pharisee and the publicane. 15 Children brought to Christ. 18 A ruler that would follow Christ, but is hindered by his riches. 28 The reward of them that leave all for his sake. 31 He foreteweth his death, 35 and restoreth a blinde man to his sight.

¶ And he spake a parable unto them, to this end, That men ought * alwayes to pray, and not to faint,

2 Saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, nor regarded man.

3 And there was a widow in that cite, and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man,

5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continuall coming she weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

7 And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?

8 I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Sonne of man cometh, shall he finde faith on the earth?

9 And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, and the other a publicane.

11 The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publicane.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

13 And the publicane standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather then the other: * for they one that exalteth himself, shall be abased: and he that humbleth himself, shall be exalted.

15 And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.

17 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, shall in no wise enter therein.

18 * And a certain ruler asked him saying, Good master, what shall I do to inherit eternall life?

19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good save one, that is God.

20 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.

22 Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come follow me.

23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowfull: for he was very rich.

24 And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowfull, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needles eye, then for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they that heard it, said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.

28 * Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.

29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God sake, 38 And he cryed, saying, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.

39 And they which went before, rebuked him, that he should hold his peace : but he cried so much the more, Thou Son of David have mercy on me.

40 And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him : and when he was come near, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee ? and he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight, thy faith hath saved thee.

43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God : and all the people when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Of Zachæus a publicane. 11 The ten pieces of money. 18 Christ rideth into Jerusalem with triumph : 41 weepeth over it : 45 driveth the buyers and sellers out of the temple : 47 teaching daily in it. The rulers would have destroyed him, but for fear of the people.

AND Jesus entered and passed thorow Jericho.

2 And behold, there was a man named Zachæus, which was the chief among the publicanes, and he was rich.

3 And he sought to see Jesus who he was, and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycamore-tree to see him, for he was to passe that way.

5 And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zachæus, make haste and come down : for to day I must abide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.

8 And Zachæus stood, and said unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor, and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.

9 And Jesus said unto him, This day to salvation came to this house, forasmuch as he also is the son of Abraham.

10 ¶ For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added, and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Jerusalem, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

12 ¶ He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten poundes, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to passe, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten poundes.

17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant : because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five poundes.

19 And he said likewise unto him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound which I have kept laid up in a napkin :

21 For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man : thou takest up that thou laydest not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 And he said unto him, Out of thine own mouth wilt I judge thee, thou wicked servant : thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow.

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury ?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten poundes.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten poundes)

26 For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath, shall be given ; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But those mine enemies which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he went before, ascending up to Jerusalem.

29 ¶ And it came to passe when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethanie, at the mount called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples,

30 Saying, Go ye into the village over against you, in the which at your entering ye shall finde a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat : loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him ? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent, went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt ?

34 And they said, The Lord hath need of him.

35 And they brought him to Jesus : and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoyce and praise God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works that they had seen.

38 Saying, blessed be the king that cometh in the Name of the Lord, peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.

41 ¶ And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and wept over it,

42 Saying, if thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side, 44 And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee: and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another, because thou knowest not the time of thy visitation.

45 * And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought,

46 Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves.

47 And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes, and the chief of the people sought to destroy him, 48 And could not finde what they might do: for all the people were very attentive to hear him.

CHAP. XX.

1 Christ avoucheth his authority by a question of Johns baptisme. 9 The parable of the vineyard 19 Of giving tribute to Cesar. 27 He convinceth the Sadducees that denyed the resurrection. 41 How Christ is the son of David. 45 He warneth his disciples to beware of the Scribes.

And it came to passe that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the Gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him, with the elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, By what authority dost thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing, and answer me.

4 The baptisme of John, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven, he will say, Why then beleevdest thou him not?

6 But if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 Then began he to speak to the people this parable: A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season, he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant; and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent the third, and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the Lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him, when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir, come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, * The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?

18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

19 ¶ And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him, and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which would feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the government.

21 And they asked him, saying, * Master, we know that thou sayest, and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God truly.

22 Is it lawfull for us to give tribute unto Cesar, or no?

23 But he perceived their craftinesse, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a penny: whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cesar.

25 And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which be Cessars, and unto God the things which be Gods.

26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people, and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 ¶ Then came to him certain of the Sadducees (which deny that there is any resurrection), and they asked him.

28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any mans brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29 There were therefore seven brethren, and the first took a wife, and died without children.

30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childlesse.

31 And the third took her, and in like manner the seven also. And they left no children, and died.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.

34 And Jesus answering, said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:

* Psal. 118.

For of a truth.

¶ See Mat. 18. 28.

* Mat. 22. 23.

* Mat. 21. 12

For, hanged

* Mat. 21. 33

* Mat. 21. 33.

35 But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that woful, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marrie, nor are given in marriage.

36 Neither can they die any more; for they are equall unto the angels, and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.

37 Now that the dead are raised, * even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

38 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living; for all live unto him.

39 ¶ Then certain of the Scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that, they durst not ask him any question at all.

41 And he said unto them, * How say they that Christ is Davids son?

42 And David himself saith in the book of psalms, The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?

45 ¶ Then in the audience of all the people, he said unto his disciples,

46 * Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the market, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts.

47 Which devoure widows houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Christ commendeth the poor widow. 5 He foretelleth the destruction of the temple, and of the cite Jerusalem: 23 The signes also which shall be before the last day. 34 He exhorteth them to be watchfull.

And he looked up, * and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasure.

2 And he saw also a certain poor widow, casting in thither two mites.

3 And he said, Of a truerh I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more then they all.

4 For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God, but she of her penurie hath cast in all the living that she had.

5 ¶ And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones, and gifts, he said,

6 As for these things which ye behold, the dayes will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another that shall not be thrown down.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what signe will there be when these things shall come to passe?

8 And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come in my Name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth near: so ye not therefore after them.

9 But when ye shall hear of wars, and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to passe, but the end is not by and by.

10 ¶ Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom:

11 And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences, and fearfull sights, and great signes shall there be from heaven.

12 But before all these they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my Names sake.

13 And it shall turn to you for a testimony.

14 * Searle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer.

15 For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay, nor resist.

16 And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kindred, and friends: and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

17 And ye shall be hated of all men for my Names sake.

18 * But there shall not a hair of your head perish.

19 In your patience possesse ye your souls.

20 * And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.

21 Then let them which are in Judea, flee to the mountains; and let them which are in the midst of it depart out, and let not them that are in the countreys, enter thereinto.

22 For these be the dayes of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

23 But two unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those dayes; for there shall be great distress in the land, and ward upon this people.

24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations, and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, untill the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25 ¶ And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars, and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexitie, the sea and the waves roaring.

26 Mens hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth; for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

27 And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

28 And when these things begin to come to passe, then look up, and lift up your heads: for your redemption draweth nigh.

29 And he spake to them a parable, Behold the fig-tree, and all the trees, 30 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves, that summer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to passe, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not passe away, till all be fulfilled.

33 Heaven and earth shall passe away: but my words shall not passe away.

34 ¶ And take heed to your selves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkennesse, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.

35 For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 Watch ye therefore and pray alwayes, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to passe, and to stand before the Son of man.

37 And in the day-time he was teaching in the temple, and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olives.

38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, for to hear him.

1 The Jews conspire against Christ. 3 Satan prepareth Judas to betray him. 7 The apostles prepare the paschever. 19 Christ instituteth his holy supper: 21 covertly foretelleth of the traitour: 24 dehorteth the rest of his apostles from ambition: 32 assurcth Peter his faith should not fail, 34 and yet he should deny him thrice. 39 He prayeth in the mount, and sweateth blood: 47 is betrayed with a kisse: 50 he healeth Malchus ear. 54 He is thrice denyed of Peter, 63 shamefully abused, 66 and confesseth himself to be the Son of God.

NOW is the feast of unleavened bread drewnigh, which is called the paschever.

2 And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

3 ¶ Then entered Satan into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them.

5 And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money.

6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them in the absence of the multitude.

7 ¶ Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the paschever must be killed.

8 And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the paschever, that we may eat.

9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a picher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in.

11 And ye shall say unto the good man of the house, The master saith unto thee, Where is the guest chamber where I shall eat the paschever with my disciples?

12 And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished, there make ready.

13 And they went and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the paschever.

14 ¶ And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.

15 And he said unto them, I desire I have desired to eat this paschever with you before I suffer.

16 For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, untill it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves.

18 For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, untill the kingdom of God shall come.

19 ¶ And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you, This do in remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 ¶ But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me, is with me on the table.

22 And truly the Son of man goeth as it was determined, but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed.

23 And they began to enquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 ¶ And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.

25 ¶ And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them, and they that exercise authority upon them, are called benefactors.

26 But ye shall not be so; but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.

27 For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth.

28 ¶ Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations.

29 And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me:

30 That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

31 ¶ And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat;

32 But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee both into prison, and to death.

34 ¶ And he said, I tell thee Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 ¶ And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.

36 Then said he unto them, But now he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment and buy one.

37 For I say unto you, that this that is written, must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressours: for the things concerning me have an end.

38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

39 ¶ And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives, and his disciples also followed him.

40 ¶ And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

41 And he was withdrawn from them about a stones cast, and knelt down, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, If thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine be done.

43 And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven strengthening him.

44 And being in an agonie, he prayed more earnestly, and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.

45 And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow, 46 And he said unto them, Sleep ye, please and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

47 ¶ And while he yet spake, behold, a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew neer unto Jesus, to kisse him.

48 But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Sonne of man with a kisse?

49 When they which were about him, saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50 ¶ And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.

51 And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him.

52 Then

52 Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and cap- tains of the temple, and the elders which were come to him, Be ye come out as against a thief, with swords and staves?

53 When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

54 ¶ Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priests house. And Peter followed a far off.

55 ¶ And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down among them.

56 But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him.

57 And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not.

59 And about the space of one hour after, another confidently affirmed, saying: Of a truth this fellow also was with him: for he is a Galilean.

60 And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately while he yet spake, the cock crew.

61 And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter: and Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crew, thou shalt deny me thrice.

62 And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

63 ¶ And the men that held Jesus, mocked him, and smote him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they smote him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesie, who is it that smote thee?

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 ¶ And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people, and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into their council, 67 Saying, Art thou the Christ? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, you will not believe.

68 And if I also ask you, you will not answer me, nor let me go.

69 Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, ¶ Ye say that I am.

71 And they said, What need we any further witness: for we our selves have heard of his own mouth.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Jesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herod.

2 Herod mocketh him. 3 Herod and Pilate are made friends. 4 Barabbas is desired of the people, and is loosed by Pilate, and Jesus is given to be crucified.

5 He telleth the women that lament him, the destruction of Jerusalem: 6 prayeth for his enemies.

7 Two evil doers are crucified with him. 8 His death. 9 His buriall.

And the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cæsar, saying, that he himself is Christ a king.

3 ¶ And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Jews? and he answered him and said, Thou sayest it.

4 Then said Pilate to the chief priests, and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Iudea, beginning from Galilee to this place.

6 When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herods jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself was at that time in Jerusalem.

8 ¶ And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him, and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words, but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.

12 ¶ And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 ¶ And Pilate when he had called together the chief priests, and the rulers, and the people,

14 Said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people, and behold, I having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him, and lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

16 I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

17 For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.

18 And they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas:

19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the citie, and for murder was cast in prison.)

20 Pilate therefore willing to release Jesus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him.

22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him, I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voices of them, and of the chief priests prevailed.

24 And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired: but he delivered Jesus to their will.

26 ¶ And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon a Syrian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the crosse, that he might bear it after Jesus.

27 ¶ And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Jesus turning unto them, said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for your selves, and for your children.

29 For behold, the dayes are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 ¶ Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

33 And when they were come to the place which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 ¶ Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stood beholding, and the rulers also with them, derided him, saying, He saved others, let him save himself, if he be Christ the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar.

37 And saying, If thou be the king of the Jews, save thyself.

38 And a superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Latine, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ¶ And one of the malefactors, which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us.

40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying, Dost thou not fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds; but this man hath done nothing amiss.

42 And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and the ball of the temple was rent in the mids.

46 ¶ And when Jesus had cryed with a loud voice, he said, * Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

47 Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

50 ¶ And behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counsellour, and he was a good man, and a just:

51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them) he was of Arimathea, a city of the Jews (who also himself waited for the kingdom of God)

52 This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.

54 And that day was the preparation, and the sabbath drew on.

55 And the women also which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments, and rested the sabbath-day, according to the commandment.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 Christ's resurrection is declared by two angels to the women that come to the sepulchre: 9 these report it to others. 13 Christ himself appeareth to the two disciples that went to Emmaus. 36 Afterward he appeareth to the apostles, and reproveth their unbelief: 47 giveth them a charge: 49 promisetb the holy Ghost: 51 and so ascendeth into heaven.

NOW * upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they entred in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

4 And it came to passe, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments.

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye || the living among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: * remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee.

7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 And they remembered his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12 * Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre, and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to passe.

13 ¶ And behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to passe, that while they communed together, and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 But their eyes were holden, that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another as ye walk, and are sad?

18 And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering, said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to passe there in these dayes?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word, before God and all the people.

20 And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

21 But we trusted that he had been he, which should have redeemed Israel: and beside all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre:

* Mat. 28. 1.

|| Or, him that liveth.

* Mat. 17. 23.

* John 20. 6.

* Mar. 16. 12.

22 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

24 And certain of them which were with us, went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said, but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken:

26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And beginning at Moses, and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures, the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went, and he made as though he would have gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is towards evening, and the day is far spent: and he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to passe as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him, and he vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

36 ¶ And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and said unto them, Peace be unto you.

37 But they were terrified, and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit.

38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled, and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?

39 Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I my self: handle me, and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41 And while they yet beleebed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Waite ye here any meat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an hony-comb.

43 And he took it, and did eat before them.

44 And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms concerning me.

45 Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures,

46 And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

47 And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name, among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.

48 And he ve are witnesses of these things.

49 ¶ And behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.

50 ¶ And he led them out as far as to Bethany, and he lift up his hands, and blessed them.

51 ¶ And it came to passe while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy:

53 And were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

THE GOSPEL ACCORDING to Saint J O H N.

CHAP. I.

1 The divinity, humanity, and office of Jesus Christ.

15 The testimony of John. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, &c.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

2 ¶ The same was in the beginning with God.

3 ¶ All things were made by him, and without him was not any thing made that was made.

4 In him was life, and the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not.

6 ¶ There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7 The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the light, that all men through him might believe.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to bear witness of that light.

9 That was the true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his Name:

13 Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 ¶ And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father) full of grace and truth.

15 ¶ John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me, is preferred before me: for he was before me.

16 And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 ¶ No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 ¶ And this is the record of John, when the Jews

Jesus sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem, to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denied not: but confessed, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou the prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou, that we may give an answer to them that sent us? what sayest thou of thyself?

23 He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Elias.

24 And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that prophet?

26 John answered them, saying, I baptize with water, but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not.

27 He it is who coming after me, is preferred before me, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

28 These things were done in Bethabara, beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world.

30 This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and have record that this is the Son of God.

35 Again the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples:

36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.

38 Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say being interpreted, Master) where dwellest thou?

39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.

40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peters brother.

41 He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah, which is being interpreted, the Christ.

42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jonas, thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.

43 The day following, Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.

46 And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.

47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile.

48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God, thou art the King of Israel.

50 Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig-tree, beleevest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these.

51 And he saith unto him, Verily verily I say unto you, hereafter you shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ turneth water into wine, 2 departeth into Capernaum, and to Jerusalem, 14 where he purgeth the temple of buyers and sellers. 19 He foretelleth his death and resurrection. 23 Many beleeved because of his miracles, but he would not trust himself with them.

AND the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there.

2 And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.

4 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.

5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

6 And there were set there six water-pots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

7 Jesus saith unto them, Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew) the governor of the feast called the bidden guests,

10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine, and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory, and his disciples beleeved on him.

12 After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples, and they continued there not many days.

13 And the Jews paschever was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

14 And found in the temple those that sold oxen, and sheep, and doves, and the changers of money, sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen, and poured out the changers money, and overthrew the tables:

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, * The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

18 Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, What have these things thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, * Destroy this temple, and in three dayes I will raise it up.

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six yeeres was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three dayes?

21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them: and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24 But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men,

25 And needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man.

CHAP. III.

1 Christ teacheth Nicodemus the necessity of regeneration: 14 of faith in his death. 16 The great love of God towards the world. 18 Condemnation for unbelief. 23 The baptesme, witness, and doctrine of John concerning Christ.

There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews:

2 The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.

3 Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mothers womb, and be born?

5 Jesus answered, Verily verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh, is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit, is spirit.

7 Marcell not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.

8 The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily verily I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen, and yet receive not our witness.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not: how shall ye believe if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

14 And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness: even so must the Son of man be lifted up:

15 That whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have eternall life.

16 And for God so loved the world, that he gave his onely begotten Sonne: that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17 For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world: but that the world through him might be saved.

18 He that believeth on him, is not condemned: but he that believeth not, is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the onely begotten Son of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, * that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

20 For every one that doth evil, hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved.

21 But he that doth truth, cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judea, and there he tarried with them, * and baptized.

23 And John also was baptizing in Aenon, near to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptised.

24 For John was not yet cast into prison.

25 Then there arose a question between some of Johns disciples and the Jews, about purifying.

26 And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, be that was with thee beyond Jordan, * to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 John answered and said, * A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven.

28 Ye pour it down, hear me witness, that I said, * I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly, because of the bridegrooms voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

31 He that cometh from above, is above all: he that is of the earth, is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven, is above all.

32 And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth, and no man receiveth his testimony.

33 He that hath received his testimony, * hath set to his seal, that God is true.

34 For he whom God hath sent, speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him.

35 The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand.

36 He that believeth on the Son, hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son, shall not see life: but the wrath of God abideth on him.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ talketh with a woman of Samaria, and revealeth himself unto her. 27 His disciples marvel. 31 He declareth to them his zeal to Gods glory. 39 Many Samaritans believe on him. 43 He departeth into Galilee, and healeth the rulers son that lay sick at Capernaum.

When therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John,

2 (Though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples)

3 He left Judea, and departed again into Galilee.

4 And he must needs go through Samaria.

5 Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which to called Sychar, near to the parcell of ground

* that Jacob gave to his son Joseph.

6 Now Jacobs well was there. Jesus therefore being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well : and it was about the sixth hour.

7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water : Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8 For his disciples were gone away into the city to buy meat.

9 Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria ? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans.

10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knowest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink : thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep : from whence then hast thou that living water ?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle ?

13 Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again :

14 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst : but the water that I shall give him, shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

15 The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Go call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said,
I have no husband :

18 For thou hast had five husbands, and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband : in that saidst thou truly.

19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountain, and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem worship the Father.

22 Ye worship ye know not what : we know what we worship : for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth : for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh which is called Christ : when he is come, he will tell us all things.

26 Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he.

27 ¶ And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman : yet no man said, What seekest thou ? or, why talkest thou with her ?

28 The woman then leaveth water-pot and went her way into the city, and saith to the men.

29 Come, for a man which told me all things that thou hast done : is not this the Christ ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31 ¶ In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of.

33 Therefore said the disciples one to another,
Hath any man brought him ought to eat ?

34 Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

35 Say not ye, There are yet four moneths, and then cometh harvest : behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields : * for they are white already to harvest.

36 And he that reapeth, receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternall : that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth may rejoyce together.

37 And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour : other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

39 ¶ And many of the Samaritans of that city beleaved on him, for the saying of the woman which testified, He told me all that ever I did.

40 So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them : and he abode there two dayes.

41 And many more beleaved, because of his own word :

42 And said unto the woman, Now we beleeve, not because of thy saying, for we have heard him our selves, and know that this is indeed the Christ the Saviour of the world.

43 ¶ Now after two dayes he departed thence,
and went into Galilee :

44 For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast : for they also went unto the feast.

46 So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee,
* where he made the water wine. And there was a certain noble man, whose son was sick at Capernaum.

47 ¶ When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son : for he was at the point of death.

48 Then saith Jesus unto him, Except ye see signes and wonders, ye will not beleeve.

49 The noble man saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.

50 Jesus saith unto him, So thy way, thy son liveth. And the man beleaved the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 Then enquired he of them the hour when he began to amend : and they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth : and himself beleaved and his whole house.

54 This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

CHAP. V.

1 Jesus on the sabbath day cureth him that was diseased eight and thirty years. 10 The Jews therefore excuse him for it. 17 He answereth for himself, and reproveth them, shewing by the testimony of his Father, 34 of John, 36 of his works, 39 and of the scriptures, who he is.

2 Now there is at Jerusalem by the strey marker a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue, Bethesda, having five porches.

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blindes, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmitie thirty and eight years.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wille thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediatly the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.

10 ¶ The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath-day, * it is not law-full for thee to carry thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed and walk.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed and walk?

13 And he that was healed, wist not who it was:
for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.

14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath-day.

17 ¶ But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because not onely he had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equall with God.

19 Then answered Jesus, and said unto them, Verely verely I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doth, these also doth the Son likewise.

20 For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doth: and he will shew him greater works then these, that ye may marvell.

21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them: even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man: but hath committed all judgement unto the Son:

23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son, * honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verely verely I say unto you, He that hear-eth my word, and beleeveth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation: but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verely verely I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear, shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself: so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself:

27 And hath given him authority to execute judgement also, because he is the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,

29 And shall come forth, * they that have done good unto the resurrection of life, and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgement is just, because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 ¶ If I bear witness of my self, my witness is not true.

32 ¶ There is another that beareth witness of me, and I know that the witness which he wit-neth of me, is true.

33 He sent unto John, * and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and a shining light:
and ye were willing for a season to rejoyce in his light.

36 ¶ But I have greater witness then that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father himself which hath sent me,
* hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, * nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye beleve not.

39 ¶ Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternall life, and they are they which testifie of me.

40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

41 I receive not honour from men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Fathers name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 ¶ How can ye beleve, which receive honour of one another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God onely?

45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye beleved Moses, ye would have beleved me: for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye beleve not his writings, how shall ye beleve my words?

CHAP. VI.

1 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves, and two fishes. 5 Thereupon the people would have made him king. 16 But, withdrawing himself, he walked on the sea to his disciples: 26 reproveth the people flocking after him, and all the fleshly hearers of his word: 32 declareth himself to be the bread of life to beleivers. 66 Many disciples depart from him.
68 Peter confesseth him. 70 Judas is a devill.

tude that was.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 ¶ When Jesus then lift up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat?

6 (And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do)

7 Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother, saith unto him, 9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves, and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down, and likewise of the fishes, as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above, unto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world.

15 ¶ When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 ¶ And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea,

17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea towards Capernaum: and it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose, by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty, or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, It is I, be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other boat there, save that one wherein his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone:

23 (Notwithstanding there came other boats from Tiberias, nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks)

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them and said, Verily very I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 ¶ Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, what shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore unto him, What signe shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee: what dost thou work?

31 ¶ Our fathers did eat manna in the desert, as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily verily I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven, but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me, shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me, shall never thirst.

36 But I said unto you, that ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 All that the Father giveth me, shall come to me; and him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, Is not this Jesus the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmure not among your selves.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me, draw him, and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 ¶ It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

46 Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 Verily verily I say unto you, He that believeth on me, hath everlasting life.

48 I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eat Manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give, is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore strove amongst themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily verily I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

54 Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58 This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread, shall live for ever.

59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying, who can hear it?

61 When Jesus knew in himself, that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62 What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?

63 It is the spirit that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life.

64 But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning, who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

66 From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.

69 And we believe, and are sure that thou art that Christ the Son of the living God.

70 Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?

71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAP. VII.

1 Jesus reproveth the ambition and boldnesse of his kinmen: 10 goeth up from Galilee to the feast of tabernacles: 14 teacheth in the temple. 40 Divers opinions of him among the people. 45 The Pharisees are angry that their officers took him not, and chide with Nicodemus for taking his part.

After these things, Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Iudea, because the Jews sought to kill him.

2 Now the Jews feast of tabernacles was at hand.

3 His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Iudea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou dost.

4 For there is no man that doth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly: If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world.

5 For neither did his brethren believe in him.

6 Then Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

7 The world cannot hate you, but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 So ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast, for my time is not yet full come.

9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay, but he deceiveth the people.

13 Howbeit, no man spake openly of him, for fear of the Jews.

14 Now about the midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?

16 Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of my self.

18 He that speaketh of himself, seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

19 Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.

22 Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers) and ye on the sabbath-day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the sabbath-day receive circumcision, if that the law of Moses should not be broken, are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath-day?

24 Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgement.

25 Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they seek to kill?

26 But he, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him: do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

27 Howbeit, we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am, and I am not come of my self, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him, for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31 And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32 The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him: and the Pharisees

Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

34 * Ye shall seek me, and shall not finde me : and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not finde him : will he go unto the dispersed among the II Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles ?

36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not finde me : and where I am thither ye cannot come ?

37 * In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cryed, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink.

38 * He that beleeveth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39 (* But this spake he of the spirit, which they that beleve on him, should receive : for the holy Ghost was not yet given, because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)

40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the prophet.

41 Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee ?

42 * Hath not the scripture said, that Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was ?

43 So there was a division among the people because of him.

44 And some of them would have taken him, but no man laid hands on him.

45 Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees, and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him ?

46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived ?

48 Have any of the rulers, or of the Pharisees beleeveth on him ?

49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed.

50 Nicodemus saith unto them, (* he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them)

51 * Doth our law judge any man before it hear him, and know what he doth ?

52 They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee ? Search and look : for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 And every man went unto his own house.

CHAP. VIII.

Christ delivereth the woman taken in adultery. 12 He preacheth himself the light of the world, and justifieth his doctrine : 33 answereth the Jews that boasted of Abraham, 59 and conveyeth himself from their cruelty.

Jesus went unto the mount of Olives :

2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him, and he sat down, and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery, and when they had set her in the midst,

4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 * Now Moses in the law commanded us that such should be stoned : but what sayest thou ?

6 This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lift up himself, and said unto them, * He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last : and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Jesus had lift up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers ? hath no man condemned thee ?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee : go and sin no more.

12 Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, * I am the light of the world : he that followeth me, shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

13 The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thy self, thy record is not true.

14 Jesus answered and said unto them, * Though I bear record of my self, yet my record is true : for I know whence I came, and whither I go : but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye judge after the flesh, I judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgement is true : for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17 * It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

18 I am one that bear witness of my self, and the Father that sent me, beareth witness of me.

19 Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father ? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me nor my Father : if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20 These words spake Jesus in the temple, as he taught in the temple : and no man laid hands on him, for his hour was not yet come.

21 Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins : whither I go, ye cannot come.

22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself : because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.

23 And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from above : ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins : for if ye beleve not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou ? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.

26 I have many things to say, and so judge of you : but he that sent me, is true, and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.

27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lift up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of my self : but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.

29 And he that sent me is with me : the Father hath not left me alone : for I do alwayes those things that please him.

30 As he spake those words, many beleved on him.

31 Then said Iesus to those Iewes which beleved on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed.

32 And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33 They answered him, Telle be Abrahams seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?

34 Iesus answered them, Verily, verily I say unto you, "Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.

35 And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever.

36 If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams seed, but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39 They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus saith unto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

40 But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this do not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, Telle be not boyn of fornication, we have one Father, even God.

42 Iesus saith unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me, for I proceeded forth and came from God, neither came I of my self, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot bear my word.

44 Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye beleve me not.

46 Which of you convinceth me of sin? and if I say the truth, why do ye not beleve me?

47 He that is of God, heareth Gods words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes and said unto him, Say we not well, that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a devil?

49 Iesus answered, I have not a devil: but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 And I seek not mine own glory, there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

51 Verily, verily I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.

52 Then said the Iewes unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets, and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy self?

54 Iesus answered, If I honour my self, my honour is nothing: it is my Father that honoureth me, of whom ye say that he is your God:

55 Yet ye have not known him, but I know him: and he that I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying.

56 Your father Abraham rejoyced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad.

57 Then said the Iewes unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham?

58 Iesus said unto them, Verily, verily I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

59 Then took they up stones to cast at him: but Iesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, going thorow the midst of them, and so passed by.

CHAP. IX.

1 The man that was born blinde restored to sight. 8 He is brought to the Pharisees. 13 They are offended at it, and excommunicate him: 35 but he is received of Iesus, and confesseth him: 39 Who they are whom Christ enlighteneth.

As as Iesus passed by, he saw a man which was blinde from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blinde?

3 Iesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blinde man with the clay,

7 And said unto him, Go wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him, that he was blinde, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, A man that is called Iesus made clay and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blinde.

14 And it was the sabbath-day when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath-day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner, do such miracles? and there was a division among them.

17 They say unto the blinde man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet.

18 But the Iewes did not beleve concerning him, that he had been blinde, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blinde? how then doth he now see?

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we know not; of who hath opened his eyes we know not: he is of age, ask him; he shall speak for himself.

22 These words spake his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man should confesse that he was Christ, he should be put out of the Synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age, ask him.

24 Then again called they the man that was blinde, and said unto him, Give God the praise, we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that where as I was blinde, now I see.

26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple, but we are Moses disciples.

29 He knoweth that God spake unto Moses: as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered and said unto them, Why hearken ye to a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blinde.

33 If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.

34 They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sin, and dost thou teach us? and they cast him out.

35 Jesus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou beleefe on the Son of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might beleefe on him?

37 And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I beleefe: and he worshipped him.

39 And Jesus said, For judgement I am come into this world, that they which see not, might see; and that they which see, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blinde also?

41 Jesus said unto them, If ye were blinde, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

CHAP. X.

1 Christ is the door, and the good shepherd. 19 Divers opinions of him. 24 He proveth by his works, that he is Christ the Son of God: 39 escapeth the Jews. 40 and went again beyond Jordan, where many beleevd on him.

Verily verily I say unto you, He that climbeth up by the door into the sheep-fold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entereth in by the door, is the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him the porter openeth: and the sheep hear his voice, and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep; he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily verily I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.

8 All that ever came before me, are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.

9 I am the door, by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and finde pasture.

10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.

11 I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

12 But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.

13 The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep.

14 I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine.

15 As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father, and I lay down my life for the sheep.

16 And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice: * and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

17 Therefore doth my Father love me, * because I lay down my life, that I might take it again.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of my self: I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. * This commandment have I received of my Father.

19 ¶ There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, We hath a devil, and is mad, why hear ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil: can a devil open the eyes of the blinde?

22 ¶ And it was at Jerusalem the * feast of the dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomons porch.

24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly.

25 Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye beleevd not: the works that I do in my fathers name, they bear witness of me.

26 But ye beleevd not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

27 My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me.

28 And I give unto them eternal life, and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

29 My Father which gave them me, is greater than all: and no man is able to pluck them out of my Fathers hand.

30 I and my Father are one.

31 Then the Jews took up stones again to stone him.

32 Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father, for which of those works do ye stone me?

33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy, and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God.

34 Jesus answered them, * Is it not written in your law, I said ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken:

36 Say ye of him whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest, because I said, I am the Son of God?

37 If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

38 But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know and believe that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39 Therefore they sought again to take him; but he escaped out of their hand,

40 And went away again beyond Jordan, into the place where John at first baptized, and there he abode.

41 And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle: but all things that John spake of this man, were true.

42 And many believed on him there.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ raiseth Lazarus four dayes buried. 45 Many Jews beleeve. 47 The high priests and Pharisees gather a council against Christ. 49 Caiaphas prophesieth. 54 Jesus hid himself. 55 At the passover they enquire after him, and lay wait for him.

NOW a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha.

2 (* It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick)

3 Therefore his sister sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest, is sick.

4 When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two dayes still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judaea again.

8 His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee, and goest thou thither again?

9 Jesus answered, Are there not twelue hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he, and after that, he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth, but I go that I may awake him out of sleep.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.

13 Doubtless Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.

14 Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there (so the intent ye may beleeve) nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellow disciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 Then when Jesus came, he found that he had stien in the grave four dayes already.

18 (Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, aboute fiftene furlongs off)

19 And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.

20 Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house.

21 Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22 But I know, that even now whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

23 Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Martha saith unto him, * I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Jesus saith unto her, I am the resurrection and the * life: he that beleeveeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:

26 And whosoever liveth and beleeveeth in me, shall never die. Beleevest thou this?

27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord, I beleeve that thou art the Christ the Son of God which should come into the world.

28 And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

30 Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him.

31 The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave, to weep there.

32 Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groined in the spirit, and * was troubled,

34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They say unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 Jesus wept.

36 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him.

37 And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blinde, have caused that even this man should not have died?

38 Jesus therefore again groining in himself, cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four dayes.

40 Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that if thou wouldest beleeve, thou shouldest see the glory of God?

41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lift up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.

42 And I knew that thou hearest me alwayes: but but because of the people which stand by, I said it, that they may beleefe that thou hast sent me.

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus come forth.

44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with grave-clothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him and let him go.

45 Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, beleaved on him.

46 But some of them went their wayes to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.

47 ¶ Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a councill, and said, What do we: for this man doth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will beleefe on him: and the Romanes shall come and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, We know nothing at all.

50 * For consider that it is expedient for us that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation:

52 And not for that nation onely, but that also he should gather together in one, the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth, they took counsell together for to put him to death.

54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews: but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ And the Jews passeover was nigh at hand, and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passeover, to purifie themselves.

56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jesus excuseth Mary anointing his feet. 9 The people flock to see Lazarus. 10 The high priests consult to kill him. 12 Christ rideth into Jerusalem. 20 Greeks desire to see Jesus. 23 He foretelleth his death. 37 The Jews are generally blinded: 42 yet many chief rulers beleefe, but do not confesse him: 44 therefore Jesus calleth earnestly for confession of faith.

¶ Then Jesus, six dayes before the passeover, came to Bethany, where Lazarus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.

2 There they made him a supper, and Martha served: but Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table with him.

3 Then took Mary a pound of ointment, of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair, and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simons son, which should betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor: but because he was a thief, and * had the bag, and bare what was put therein.

7 Then said Jesus, Let her alone, against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For the poor alwayes ye have with you: but me ye have not alwayes.

9 Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there, and they came, not for Jesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

10 ¶ But the chief priests consulted, that they might put Lazarus also to death:

11 Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and beleaved on Jesus.

12 ¶ On the next day, much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 Took branches of palm-trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna, blessed is the king of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 And Jesus when he had found a young asse, sat thereon, as it is written.

15 * Fear not, daughter of Sion, behold, thy king cometh sitting on an asse colt.

16 These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record.

18 For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, We perceive ye how ye prevaill nothing: behold, the world is gone after him.

20 ¶ And there were certain Greeks among them that came up to worship at the feast:

21 The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus.

22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and again Andrew and Philip told Jesus.

23 ¶ And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily verily I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 * He that loveth his life, shall lose it: and he that hateth his life in this world, shall keep it unto life eternall.

26 If any man serve me, let him follow me, and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.

27 Now is my soul troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour.

28 Father glorifie thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorifie it again.

29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundred: others said, An angel spake to him.

30 Jesus answered and said, This voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the judgement of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.

33 (This he said, signifying what death he should die.)

34 The people answered him, * We have heard out of the law, that Christ abideth for ever:

* Mat. 21. 8.

* Zech. 9. 9.

* Mat. 10. 49

* Psal. 110. 4.

ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lift up? who is this Son of man?

35 Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you, walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness, knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus and departed, and did like himself from them.

37 ¶ But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:

38 That the saying of Elias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, * Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because that Elias said again.

40 * We hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

41 These things said Elias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 Nevertheless, among the chief rulers also, many believed on him: but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue.

43 * For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

44 ¶ Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

46 ¶ I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me, should not abide in darkness.

47 * And if any man hear my words and believe not, I judge him now; for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 ¶ He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: * the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

49 For I have not spoken of my self, but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jesus washeth the disciples feet: exhorteth them to humility and charity. 18 He foretelleth and discovereth to John by a token, that Judas should betray him: 31 commandeth them to love one another: 35 and forewarneth Peter of his denial.

NOW * before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that his hour was come, that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.

2 ¶ And supper being ended, (the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simons son, to betray him)

3 Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God,

4 He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments, and took a towel, and girded himself.

5 After that, he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and Peter saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?

7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now: but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.

10 Jesus saith to him, He that is washed, needeth not, save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye are clean, but not all.

11 For he knew who should betray him, therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again: he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?

13 ¶ Ye call me Master, and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am.

14 If I then your Lord and Master have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one anothers feet.

15 For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.

16 ¶ Verily verily I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord, neither he that is sent, greater than he that sent him.

17 If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speak not of you all, I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, * He that eateth bread with me, hath lift up his heel against me.

19 ¶ Now I tell you before it come, that when its come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.

20 ¶ Verily verily I say unto you, he that receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me: and he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

21 ¶ When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 ¶ Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 ¶ Now there was leaning on Jesus bosom, one of his disciples whom Jesus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckened to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.

25 ¶ He then lying on Jesus breast, saith unto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jesus answered, He it is to whom I shall give a kiss, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot the son of Simon.

27 ¶ And after the sop, Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 ¶ Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 ¶ For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast: or that he should give something to the poor.

30 ¶ He then having received the sop, went immediately out: and it was night.

31 ¶ Therefore when he was gone out, Jesus saith, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.

32 ¶ If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him.

33 ¶ Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me, * and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come: so now I say unto you.

36 ¶ Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now: but thou shalt follow me afterwarde.

37 Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will * lay down my life for thy

CHAP. XIII.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples with the hope of heaven: 6 professeth himself the way, the truth and the life, and one with the Father: 13 assureth their prayers in his name to be effectuall: 15 requesteth love and obedience: 16 promisseth the holy Ghost the comforter: 27 and leaveth his peace with them.

Let not your heart be troubled: ye beleve in God, beleve also me.

2 In my Fathers house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you: I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto my self, that where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest: and how can we know the way?

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father but by me.

7 If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip: he that hath seen me, hath seen the Father,
and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Beleevest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you, I speak not of my self: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doth the works.

11 Beleve me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else beleve me for the very works sake.

12 Verily verily I say unto you, He that belee-veth on me, the works that I do, shall he do also,
and greater works then these shall he do, because I go unto my Father.

13 * And whatsoever ye shall ask in my Name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Sonne.

14 If ye shall ask any thing in my Name, I will do it.

15 ¶ If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another comforter, that he may abide with you for ever.

17 Even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him, for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

18 I will not leave you comfortlesse, I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more: but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also.

20 At that day ye shall know, that I am in my Father, and you in me, and I in you.

21 He that hath my commandments, and keep-eth them, he it is that loveth me, and he that loveth me, shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest my self to him.

22 Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest the self unto us,
and not unto the world?

23 Jesus answered and said unto him, If any man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 He that loveth me not, keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear, is not mine, but the Fathers which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

26 But the Comforter, which is the holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

27 Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you, not as the world giveth, give I unto you:
let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

28 Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoyce, because I said, I go unto the Father: for my Father is greater then I.

29 And now I have told you before it come to passe, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleve.

30 Hereafter I will not talk much with you:
for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.

31 But that the world may know that I love the Father; and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do: arise, let us go hence.

CHAP. XV.

1 The consolation and mutual love between Christ and his members, under the parable of the vine. 13 A comfort in the hatred and persecution of the world.
26 The office of the holy Ghost, and of the apostles.

I Am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

2 * Every branch in me that beareth not fruit,
he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth moze fruit.

3 * Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you.

4 Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of it self, except it abide in the vine: no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: he that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

6 If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered, and men gather them,
and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

7 If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

8 Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit, so shall ye be my disciples.

9 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.

10 If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide abide in my love: even as I have kept my fathers commandments, and abide in his love.

11 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.

12 This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13 Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

14 Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

15 Whenceforth I call you not servants, for the servant knoweth not what his Lord doth, but I have called you friends: for all things that I have heard of my Father, I have made known unto you.

16 Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you that you should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

17 These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18 If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than the Lord: if they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you: if they have kept my sayings, they will keep yours also.

21 But all these things will they do unto you for my names sake, because they know not him that sent me.

22 If I had not come, and spoken unto them, they had not had sinne: but now they have no cloak for their sinne.

23 He that hateth me, hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sinne: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.

25 But this cometh to passe, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause.

26 But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me.

27 And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples against tribulation by the promise of the holy Ghost, and by his resurrection and ascension: 23 of which their prayers made in his name to be accepted, to his Father: 33 Peace in Christ, and in the world affliction.

These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.

2 They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you, will think that he doth Gods service.

3 And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 These things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. These things I told you, that ye should not be offended, because I must depart.

5 When I am gone, ye will have no man to testify of me, and when I am gone, ye will have no man to testify of me, and when I am gone, ye will have no man to testify of me.

6 But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

7 Nevertheless, I tell you the truth, It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you: but if I depart, I will send him unto you.

8 And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgement.

9 Of sinne, because they beleeve not on me.

10 Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more.

11 Of judgement, because the prince of this world is judged.

12 I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now:

13 Howbeit, when the Spirit of truth is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself: but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak, and he will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorifie me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

15 All things that the Father hath, are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

16 A little while and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while: we cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye enquire among your selves of that I said, A little while and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while and ye shall see me?

20 Verily verily I say unto you, that ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowfull, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 A woman when she is in travell, hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man take from you.

23 And in that day ye shall ask me nothing: Verily verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in synagogues, that the time cometh when I shall no more speak unto you in synagogues, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 In that day ye shall ask in my name: and I will say unto you, that I will pray the Father for you:

27 For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have known me, and have believed that I came out from God.

28 I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.

29 His disciples said unto him, He now speaketh plainly and speaketh no synagogues.

31 Jesus answered them, Do ye now beleve?

32 Behold, the hour cometh, yea is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33 These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace; in the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Christ prayeth to his Father to glorifie him: 6 to preserve his apostles 11 in unity, 17 and truth: 20 to glorifie them, and all other belevers with him in heaven.

These words spake Jesus, and lift up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come, glorifie thy Son, that the Son also may glorifie thee.

2 As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternall life to as many as thou hast given him.

3 And this is life eternall, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom thou hast sent.

4 I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now, O Father, glorifie thou me with thine own self, with the glorie which I had with thee before the world was.

6 I have manifested thy Name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me, and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me, are of thee.

8 For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me, and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have beleved that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them, I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me, for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and thine are mine, and I am glorified in them.

11 And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. O Father, keep through thine own Name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy Name, those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the sonne of perdition: that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee, and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 I have given them thy word, and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that thou shouldst keep them from the evil.

16 They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

17 Sanctifie them through thy truth, thy word is truth.

18 As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world.

19 And for their sakes I sanctifie my self, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.

20 Neither pray I for these alone; but for them also which shall beleve on me through their word.

21 That they all may be one, as thou Father art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may beleve that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them: that they may be one, even as we are one.

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

24 Father, I will that they also whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am, that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee, but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 And I have declared unto them thy Name, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me, may be in them, and I in them.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Judas betrayeth Jesus. 6 The officers fall to the ground. 10 Peter smiteth off Malchus ear. 12 Jesus is taken and led unto Annas and Caiaphas. 15 Peters deniall. 19 Jesus examined before Caiaphas. 28 His arraignment before Pilate. 36 His kingdom. 40 The Jews ask Barrabas to be let loose.

When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

2 And Judas also which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus oft times resorted thither with his disciples.

3 Judas then having received a band of men, and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns, and torches, and weapons.

4 Jesus therefore knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? and they said, Jesus of Nazareth.

8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he. If therefore ye seek me, let these go their way.

9 That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, Of them which thou gavest me, have I lost none.

10 Then Simon Peter, having a sword, drew it, and smote the high priests servant, and cut off his right ear: the servants name was Malchus.

11 Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 Then the band, and the captain, and officers of the Jews took Jesus and bound him.

13 And led him away to Annas first (for he was father in law to Caiaphas) which was the high priest that same year.

14 * Now Caiaphas was he which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 * And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest.

16 But Peter stood at the door without. Then went one that other disciple which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.

17 Then saith the damozell, that kept the door, unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He saith, I am not.

18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals (for it was cold) and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.

19 * The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the world, I ever taught in the Synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews alwayes resort, and in secret have I said nothing.

21 * Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by, stroke Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?

23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evill, bear witness of the evill: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 * Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

25 And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself: * they said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the servants of the high priest (being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off) saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied again, and immediately the cock crew.

28 * * Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas, unto the hall of Judgement: and it was early, and they themselves went not into the judgement hall, lest they should be defiled: but that they might eat the passover.

29 Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring you against this man?

30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.

31 Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:

32 * That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 * Then Pilate entered into the judgement hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

34 Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thy self, or did others tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation, and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: What hast thou done?

36 Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a King then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a King. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth: every one that is of the truth, heareth my voice.

38 Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I finde in him no fault at all.

39 * But ye have a custome, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the king of the Jews?

40 * Then cryed they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Christ is scourged, crowned with thorns, and beaten.

4 Pilate is desirous to release him, but being overcome with the outrage of the Jews, he delivered him to be crucified. 23 They cast lots for his garments. 26 He commendeth his mother to John. 28 He dieth. 31 His side is pierced. 38 He is buried by Joseph and Nicodemus.

Then * Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.

2 And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe,

3 And said, Hail king of the Jews: and they smote him with their hands.

4 Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I finde no fault in him.

5 Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe: and Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man.

6 When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cryed out, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I finde no fault in him.

7 The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Sonne of God.

8 * Then Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid.

9 And went again into the judgement hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? but Jesus gave him no answer.

10 Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? Knowest thou not that I have power to crucifie thee, and have power to release thee?

11 Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

12 And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cryed out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Cæsars friend: whosoever maketh himself a king, speaketh against Cæsar.

13 * Then Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgement seat, in a place that is called the pavement, but in the Hebrew, Sabbath.

14 And it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your king.

15 But they cryed out, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucifie your king? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Cæsar.

16 * Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified: and they took Jesus, and led him away.

17 And he bearing his cross, went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew, Golgotha.

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

19 ¶ And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross: and the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the cite, and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latine.

21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write likewise, the king of the Jews, but that he said, I am king of the Jews.

22 Pilate answered, What I have written, I have written.

23 ¶ * Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments (and made four parts, to every souldier a part) and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, || woven from the top throughout.

24 They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rent it: but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: * that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the souldiers did.

25 ¶ Now there stood by the crosse of Jesus, his mother, and his mothers sister, Mary the wife of ¶ Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26 ¶ Then Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he said unto his mother, Woman, behold thy sonne.

27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother. And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

28 ¶ After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, * that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

29 Now there was set a vessell full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssope, and put it to his mouth.

30 ¶ Then Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

31 The Jews therefore because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the crosse on the sabbath-day (for that sabbath-day was an high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32 Then came the souldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs.

34 But one of the souldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.

35 And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true; and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

36 For these things were done, * that the scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken.

37 * And again another scripture saith, They shall not on him whom they pierced.

38 ¶ * And after this Joseph of Arimathea (being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews) besought Pilate, that he might take away the body of Jesus; and Pilate gave him leave: he came therefore and took the body of Jesus.

39 And there came also Nicodemus which at the first came to Jesus by night, and brought a mixture of myrrhe and aloes about an hundred pound weight.

40 Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linen clothes, with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

41 Now in the place where he was crucified, there was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.

42 There laid they Jesus therefore, because of the Jews preparation day, for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

CHAP. XX.

1 Mary cometh to the sepulchre: 3 to do Peter and John, ignorant of the resurrection. 11 Jesus appeareth to Mary Magdalene, 19 and his disciples. 24 The incredulity and confession of Thomas. 30 The scripture is sufficient to salvation.

The * first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

2 Then she runneth and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the * other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together, and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying, yet went he not in.

6 Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie,

7 And the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it self.

8 Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

10 Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 ¶ But Mary stood without at the sepulchre, weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre,

12 And seeth two angels in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had layen:

13 And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14 And when she had thus said, she turned her self back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.

15 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? she supposing him to be the gardner, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Mary: She turned her self, and saith unto him, Rabbouni, which is to say, Master.

17 Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not: for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and ascend with you.

19 ¶ Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus, and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

20 And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord.

21 Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the holy Ghost.

* Mar. 18. 18

23 ¶ Whosoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them, and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24 ¶ But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord: but he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 ¶ And after eight days, again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you.

27 Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side, and be not faithless, but believing.

28 And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord, and my God.

29 Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.

30 ¶ And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book.

31 But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ the Son of God, and that believing ye might have life through his Name.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Christ appearing again to his disciples, was known of them by the great draught of fishes. 12 He dinneth with them: 13 seemingly commandeth Peter to feed his lambs and sheep: 18 foretelleth him of his death: 22 rebuketh his curiosity touching John. 25 The conclusion.

AFTER these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias: and on this wise shewed he himself:

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately, and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus.

5 Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved, saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fishers coat unto him; (for he was naked) and did call himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits) dragging the net with fishes.

9 As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.

11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, What art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jesus then cometh and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 ¶ So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.

16 He saith to him again the second time, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

17 He said unto him the third time, Simon son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved, because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things, thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18 Verily, verily I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdest thy self, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

20 Then Peter turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved, following, which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

* Cha. 13. 23 and 20. 2.

21 Peter seeing him, saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do?

22 Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die: but if I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24 This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we know that his testimony is true.

25 ¶ And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world it self could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

THE ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

CHAP. I.

1 Christ preparing his apostles to the beholding of his ascension, gathereth them together into the mount Olivet, commandeth them to expect in Jerusalem the sending down of the holy Ghost, promiseth after few dayes to send it; by vertue whereof they should be witnesses unto him, even to the utmost parts of the earth. 9 After his ascension they are warned by two Angels to depart, and to set their minds upon his second coming. 12 They accordingly return, and giving themselves to prayer, chuse Matthias apostle in the place of Judas.

The former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach,

2 Untill the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen.

3 To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion, by many infallible proofs, being seen of them fourtie dayes, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

4 And il being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me.

5 For John truly baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the holy Ghost, not many dayes hence.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?

7 And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.

8 But ye shall receive il power, after that the holy Ghost is come upon you, and ye shall be witnesses unto me, both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

9 And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10 And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven, as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel,

11 Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this Jesus which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come, in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

12 Then returned they unto Jerusalem, from the mount called Olivet, which is from Jerusalem a sabbath dayes journey.

13 And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Phillip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James.

14 These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.

15 And in those dayes Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number of the names together were about an hundred and twentie)

16 Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, which was guide to them that took Jesus.

17 For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.

18 Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquitie, and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem, insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aeldama, that is to say the field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of psalms, Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and his bishoprick let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which have companied with us, all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us,

22 Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed, and said, Thou Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen,

25 That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave forth their lots, and the lot fell unto Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAP. II.

1 The apostles filled with the holy Ghost, and speaking divers languages, are admired by some, and derided by others. 14 Whom Peter disproving and shewing that the Apostles spake by the power of the holy Ghost, that Jesus was risen from the dead, ascended into heaven, had poured down the same holy Ghost, and was the Messiah, a man known to them to be approved of God by his miracles, wonders, and signs, and not crucified without his determinate counsell, and foreknowledge: 37 he baptiseth a great number that were converted, 41 who afterwards devoutly and charitably converse together: the apostles working many miracles, and God daily increasing his church.

AND when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven, as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues, like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them :

4 And they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

6 Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.

7 And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak, Galileans?

8 And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judea, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya, about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes, 11 Cretes and Arabians, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.

12 And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Others mocking, said, These men are full of new wine.

14 But Peter standing up with the eleven, lift up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:

15 For these are not drunken as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel,

17 And it shall come to passe in the last dayes, (saith God) I will pour out of my spirit upon all flesh: and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophesie, and your yong men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:

18 And on my servants, and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those dayes of my spirit, and they shall prophesie:

19 And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signes in the earth beneath: blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke.

20 The sunne shall be turned into darknesse, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come.

21 And it shall come to passe, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord, shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words, Jesus of Nazareth a man approved of God among you, by miracles, wonders and signes, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye your selves also know:

23 Him, being delivered by the determinate counsell and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death, because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For David speaketh concerning him, "I foresaw the Lord alwayes before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved.

26 Therefore did my heart rejoyce, and my tongue was glad: moreover also, my flesh shall rest in hope.

27 Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the wayes of life, thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you * of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day:

30 Therefore being a prophet, * and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne:

31 He seeing this before spake of the resurrection of Christ, * that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

32 This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34 For David is not ascended into the heavens, but he saith himself, * The Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter, and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, What shall we do?

38 Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sinnes, and ye shall receive the gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save your selves from this untoward generation.

41 Then they that gladly received his word, were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the apostles doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signes were done by the apostles.

44 And all that believed were together, and had all things common,

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.

46 And they continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladnesse, and singlenesse of heart, 47 Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

* Ps. 110. 1.

|| Or at home.

power, or holiness, but by God, and his Son Jesus, and through faith in his Name, 13 withall reprehending them for crucifying Jesus. 17 Which because they did it through ignorance, and that thereby were fulfilled Gods determinate counsell, and the scriptures, 19 he exhorteth them by repentance and faith to seek remission of their sins, and salvation in the name Jesus.

Now Peter and John went up together into the temple, at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour.

2 And a certain man, lame from his mothers womb, was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple, which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple.

3 Also seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked an alms.

4 And Peter fastning his eyes upon him, with John, said, Look on us.

5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have, give I thee: In the Name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up & walk.

7 And he took him by the right hand, and lift him up, and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength.

8 And he leaping up, stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walking, and praising God.

10 And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as the lame man which was healed, held Peter and John, all the people ranne together unto them in the porch that is called Solomons, greatly wondering.

12 ¶ And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his Sonne Jesus, whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go.

14 *But ye denied the holy One, and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you,

15 And killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead, whereof we are witnesses.

16 And his Name, through faith in his Name, hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him, hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17 And now brethren, I wote that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 ¶ Repent ye therefore and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord,

20 And he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you:

21 Whom the heaven must receive, untill the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets, since the world began.

22 * For Moses truly said unto the fathers, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you, of your brethren, like unto me: him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.

23 And it shall come to passe, that every soul which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 Yea, and all the prophets from Samuel, and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these dayes.

25 Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

36 Unto you first, O God having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

CHAP. III.

1 The rulers of the Jews offended with Peters sermon, 4 (though thousands of the people were converted that heard the word) imprison him and John. 5 After, upon examination, Peter boldly avouching the lame man to be healed by the name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus only we must be eternally saved, 13 they command him and John to preach no more in that Name, adding also threatening. 23 Whereupon the church fleeeth to prayer: 31 and God by moving the place where they were assembled, testified that he heard their prayer, confirming the church with the gift of the holy Ghost, and with mutuall love and charitie.

And as they spake unto the people, the priests and the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees came upon them,

2 Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now even-tide.

4 Howbeit, many of them which heard the word, believed, and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 ¶ And it came to passe on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And Annas the high priest, and Calaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name have ye done this?

8 Then Peter filled with the holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole,

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the Name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 * This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, where by we must be saved.

12 ¶ Now when they saw the boldnes of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled, and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed, standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the councill, they conferred among themselves,

16 Saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them, is manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem, and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this Name.

18 And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all, nor teach in the Name of Jesus.

19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God, to hearken unto you more then unto God, judge ye.

20 For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.

21 So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God for that which was done.

22 For the man was above fourety yeeres old on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 ¶ And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lift up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God which hast made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is.

25 ¶ Whoe by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast appointed, both Herods, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel were gathered together, 28 For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsell determined before to be done.

29 And now Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldnesse they may speak thy word,

30 By stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signes and wonders may be done by the Name of thy holy child Jesus.

31 ¶ And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldnesse.

32 And the multitude of them that believed, were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them, that ought of the things which he possessed, was his own, but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and great grace was upon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessours of lands or houses, sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 And laid them down at the apostles feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

36 And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas (which is, being interpreted, The sonne of consolation) a Levite, and of the countrey of Cyprus, 37 Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles feet.

CHAP. V.

After that Ananias and Sapphira his wife for their hypocrisy at Peters rebuke had fallen down dead, 12 and that the rest of the apostles had wrought many miracles, 14 to the increase of the faith: 17 the apostles are again imprisoned, 19 but delivered by an angel, bidding them to preach openly to all: 21 When, after their teaching accordingly in the temple, 29 and before the councill, 33 they are in danger to be killed, through the advice of Gamaliel, a great counsellor among the Jews, they be kept alive, 40 and are but beaten: for which they glorifie God, and cease no day from preaching.

But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,

2 And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privie to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles feet.

3 But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart, to lye to the holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power: why hast thou conceived this lying in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5 And Ananias hearing these words, fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three houres after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much. And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband, are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

12 ¶ And by the hands of the apostles were many signes and wonders wrought among the people: (and they were all with one accord in Solomons porch, 13 And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.

14 And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women)

15 Inasmuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least, the shadow of Peter passing by, might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits, and they were healed every one.

17 ¶ Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees) and were filled with indignation,

18 And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said,

20 Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people, all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught: but the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest, and the captain of the temple, and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison, are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence (for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,

28 Saying, Did not we straightly command you, that you should not teach in this name? and behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this mans blood upon us.

29 ¶ Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.

31 Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sinnes.

32 And we are his witnesses of these things, and so is also the holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 ¶ When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.

34 Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharise, named Gamaliel, a doctor of law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles forth a little space,

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to your selves, what ye intend to do as touching these men.

36 For before these dayes rose up Theudas, boasting himself to be some body, to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joyned themselves: who was slain, and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Judas of Galilee, in the dayes of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished, and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsell, or this work be of men, it will come to nought.

39 But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it, lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the Name of Jesus, and let them go.

41 ¶ And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his Name.

42 And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

CHAP. VI.

1 The apostles desirous to have the poor regarded for their bodily sustenance, as also careful themselves to dispence the word of God, the food of the soul, appoint the office of deaconship to seven chosen men: 5 of whom Stephen, a man full of faith, and of the holy Ghost, is one: 12 who is taken of those whom he confounded in disputing, 13 and after falsely accused of blasphemy against the law and the temple.

And in those dayes, when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the holy Ghost, and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4 But we will give our selves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 ¶ And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the whole Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch.

6 Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.

7 And the word of God increased, and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly, and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 And Stephen full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 ¶ Then there arose certain of the Synagogue, which is called the Synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.

10 Then they were not able to resist the wisdom, and the spirit by which he spake.

11 And they suborned men which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God.

12 And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the Scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceased not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law.

14 For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

C H A P. VII.

1 Stephen permitted to answer to the accusation of blasphemy, 2 sheweth that Abraham worshipped God rightly, and how God chose the fathers, 20 before Moses was born, and before the tabernacle and temple were built : 37 that Moses himself worshipped of Christ : 44 and that all outward ceremonies were ordained according to the heavenly pattern to last but for a time : 51 reprehending their rebellion, and murdering of Christ, the just One, whom the prophets foretold should come into the world : 54 whereupon they stoned him to death ; who commendeth his soul to Jesus, and humbly prayeth for them.

Then said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken, The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And said unto him, Set thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Caldeans, and dwelt in Charran : and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no not so much as to set his foot on : yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 And God spake on this wise, that his seed should sojourn in a strange land, and that they should bring them into bondage, and treat them evil four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage, will I judge, said God : and after that shall they come forth and serve me in this place.

8 * And he gave him the covenant of circumcision : * and so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day, * and Isaac begat Jacob, and * Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 * And the patriarchs moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt : but God was with him,

10 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, * and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt, and all his house.

11 Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction, and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 * But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 * And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren, and Josephs kindred was made known unto Pharaoh.

14 Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to him, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.

15 * So Jacob went down into Egypt, * and died, he and our fathers,

16 And were carried over into Sichem, and laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the father of Sichem.

17 But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt, 18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil treated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 * In which time Moses was born, and * was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his fathers house three months :

21 And when he was cast out, Pharaohs daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in words, and in deeds.

23 And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.

24 * And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian.

25 For he supposed his brethren would have understood, how that God by his hand would deliver them, but they understood not.

26 * And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren, why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.

30 * And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sinai, an Angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him, 32 Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.

33 Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet, for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer by the hands of the Angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signes in the land of Egypt, and in the red-sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

37 * This is that Moses which said unto the children of Israel, * A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me, him shall ye hear.

38 * This is he that was in the Church in the wilderness, with the Angel which spake to him in the mount Sinai, and with our fathers : who received the lively oracles to give unto us.

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt,

40 * Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us : for as for this Moses, which brought brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 And they made a calf in those daies, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoyced in the works of their own hands.

42 Then God turned and gave them up to worship the host of heaven, * as it is written in the booke of the prophets, O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts, and sacrifices, by the space of fourtie yeers in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Moses, * that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

45 Which also our fathers that came after, brought in with Iesus into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the dayes of David.

46 Who found favour before God, and desired to finde a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

47 * But Solomon built him an house.

48 * Howbeit, the most high dwelleth not in temples made with hands, as saith the prophet,

49 Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me, saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51 I will stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52 Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of the just One, of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53 Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.

54 When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he being full of the holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Iesus standing on the right hand of God, 56 And said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cryed out with a loud voyce, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord, 58 And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young mans feet, whose name was Saul.

59 And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Iesus receive my spirit.

60 And he kneeled down, and cryed with a loud voyce, Lord, lay not this sinne to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

CHAP. VIII.

By occasion of the persecution in Jerusalem the church being planted in Samaria: by Philip the deacon, who preached, did miracles, and baptized many, among the rest Simon the sorcerer, a great seducer of the people; 14 Peter and John come to confirm, and enlarge the church: where by prayer, and imposition of hands, giving the holy Ghost, 18 when Simon would have bought the like power of them, 20 Peter sharply reproving his hypocrisy, and covet-ousnesse, and exhorting him to repentance, together with John preaching the word of the Lord, return to Jerusalem. 26 But the angel sendeth Philip to teach, and baptize the Ethiopian eunuch.

AND Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem, and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Iudaea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Stephen to his buriall, and made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison.

4 Therefore they that were scattered abroad, went every where preaching the word.

5 Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that cite.

9 But there was a certain man called Simon, which before time in the same cite used sorcerie, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one.

10 To whom they all gave heed from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they beleaved Philip, preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Iesus Christ, they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon himself beleaved also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem, heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John.

15 Who when they were come down, prayed for them that they might receive the holy Ghost.

16 (For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Iesus.)

17 Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles hands, the holy Ghost was given, he offered them money, 19 Saying, give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter, for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednesse, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquitie.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye ye to the Lord for me; that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem; and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritanas.

26 And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south; unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza which is desert.

27 And he arose and went: and behold a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jerusalem for to worship, 28 Also returning, and sitting in his chariot, read Elishas the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and loyn thy self to this chariot.

30 And Philip ran thither to him; and heard him read the prophet Elishas, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? and he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.

32 The place of the Scripture which he read, was this, * He was led as a sheep to the slaughter, and like a lamb dumb before the shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgement was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See here is water, what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still, and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing thowen he preached in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

CHAP. IX.

1 Saul going toward Damascus, 4 is stricken down to the earth, 10 is called to the apostleship, 18 and is baptized by Ananias. 20 He preacheth Christ boldly. 23 The Jews lay wait to kill him; 29 so do the Grecians: but he escapeth both. 31 The church having rest, Peter healeth Ananias of the palse, 36 and restoreth Tabitha to life.

And Saul yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.

3 And as he journeyed he came near Damascus; and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

6 And he trembling and astonished, said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And he was three dayes without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 ¶ And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias, and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street, which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judas, for one called Saul of Tarsus: for behold he prayeth, 12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests, to binde all that call on thy Name.

15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my Name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my Names sake.

17 And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house, and putting his hands on him, said, Brother Saul, the Lord (even Jesus that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales, and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Sonne of God.

21 But all that heard him, were amazed; and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this Name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them, bound unto the chief priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

23 ¶ And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him:

24 * But their laying await was known of Saul: and they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by the wall in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the Name of Jesus.

28 And he was with them coming in, and going out at Jerusalem.

29 And he spake boldly in the Name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the churches rest throughout all Judaea, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the holy Ghost, were multiplied.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

34 And there he found a certain man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed right years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda, and Saron, saw him, and turned to the Lord.

36 ¶ Now there was at Toppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works, and alms-deeds which she did.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes, that she was sick and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Toppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose, and went with them: when he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made while she was with them.

40 But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down and prayed, and turning him to the body, said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she said, Sir.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lift her up: and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Toppa, and many beleev'd in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe, that he tarried many dayes in Toppa, with one Simon a tanner.

CHAP. X.

1 Cornelius a devout man, 5 being commanded by an angel, sendeth for Peter: 11 who by a vision, 15, 20, is taught not to despise the Gentiles. 34 As he preacheth Christ to Cornelius and his company, 44 the holy Ghost falleth on them, 48 and they are baptized.

There was a certain man in Cesarea, called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band,

2 A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway.

3 He saw in a vision evidently, about the ninth hour of the day, an Angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memoriall before God.

5 And now send men to Toppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter;

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner whose house is by the sea side: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the Angel which spake unto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually.

8 And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Toppa.

9 ¶ On the morrow as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the house to pray, about the sixth hour.

10 And he became very hungry and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

11 And saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet, knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of four-footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill, and eat.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord: for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

14 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God had cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 Now while Peter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen, should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had made inquiry for Simons house, and stood before the gate,

18 And called, and asked whether Simon which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 ¶ While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius: and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the Centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by an holy Angel, to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them: and on the morrow Peter went away with them, and certain brethren from Toppa accompanied him.

24 And the morrow after they entred into Cesarea: and Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

25 And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Peter took him up, saying, Stand up, I my self also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said unto them, Ye know how that it is an unlawfull thing for a man that is a Jew, to keep company, or come unto one of another nation:

Or be grieved.

nation : but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man common or unclean.

29 Therefore came I unto you without gain-saying, altho as I was sent for : I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me.

30 And Cornelius said, Four dayes ago I was fasting until this hour, and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and behold, a man stood before me in brighte clothing,

31 And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes are had in the remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Toppa, and call hither Simon whose surname is Peter : he is lodged in the house of one Simon a tanner, by the sea-side ; who when he cometh shall speak unto thee.

33 I immediately therefore I sent to thee, and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commaunded thee of God.

34 ¶ Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, * Cla reueth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons :

35 But in every nation he that feareth him and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.

36 The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Iesus Christ (he is Lord of all)

37 That word (I say) you know, which was published throughout all Iudea, and began from Galilee, after the baptisme which John preached :

38 How God anointed Iesus of Nazareth with the holy Ghost, and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the deuill : for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did, both in the land of the Iewes, and in Ierusalem, whom they slew and hanged on a tree :

40 Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly,

41 Not to all the people, but unto witnesses, chosen before of God, even to us who did eat and drinke with him after he arose from the dead.

42 And he commaunded us to preach unto the people, and to testifie that it is he which was ordained of God to be the iudge of quick and dead.

43 * To him give all the prophets witness, that through his Name whatsoever beleueeth in him, shall receiue remission of sinnes.

44 ¶ While Peter yet spake these words, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 And they of the circumcision which beleueed, were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which haue received the holy Ghost, as well as we ?

48 And he commaunded them to be baptized in the Name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain dayes.

CHAP. XI.

1 Peter being accused for going in to the Gentiles, 5 maketh his defence, 18 which is accepted. 19 The gospel being spread into Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, Barnabas is sent to confirm them. 26 The disciples there are first called Chritians. 27 They send relief to the brechren in Iudea in time of famine.

¶ And the apostles and brethren that were in Iu-dea, heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come up to Ierusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircum-cised, and didst eat with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the be-ginning, and expounded it by order unto them, saying,

5 I was in the cite of Toppa, praying, and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel de-scend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners, and it came euen to me.

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw four-footed beas-ts of the earth, and wilde beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the aire.

7 And I heard a voyce saying unto me, Arise, Peter, slay and eat.

8 But I said, Not so, Lord : for nothing com-mon or unclean hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voyce answered me again from hea-ven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times : and all were drawn up again into heaven.

11 And behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea unto me.

12 And the Spirit bade me go with them, no-thing doubting. Moreover, these six brethren accompanied me, and we entred into the mans house :

13 And he shewed us how he had seen an Angell in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Toppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter :

14 Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.

15 And as I began to speak, the holy Ghost fell on them, * as on us at the beginning.

16 Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he sayd, * John indeed baptized with water : but ye shall be baptized with the holy Ghost.

17 Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who beleueed on the Lord Iesus Christ, what was I that I could withstand God ?

18 ¶ When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

19 ¶ Now they which were scattered abroad up-on the persecution that arose about Stephen, tra-uelled as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and An-tioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Iewes onely.

20 And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Je-sus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them : and a great number beleueed, and turned unto the Lord.

22 ¶ And things of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Ierusalem : and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go as far as Antioch.

1 King Herod persecuteth the Christians, killeth James, and imprisoneth Peter, whom an angel delivereth, upon the prayers of the church. 20 In his pride taking to himself the honour due to God, he is stricken by an angel, and dieth miserably. 24 After his death the word of God prospereth.

NOW about that time, Herod the king // stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church.

2 And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further, to take Peter also. (Then were the dayes of unleavened bread)

4 And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quarter-masters of soldiers to keep him, intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 Peter therefore was kept in prison, but // prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

6 And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains, and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And behold, the Angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the Angel said unto him, Gird thy self, and binde on thy sandals, and so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out and followed him, and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel: but thought he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city, which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street, and forthwith the Angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a suretie, that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark, where many were gathered together praying.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsell came // to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peters voice, she opened not the gate for gladnesse, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he beckning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, So shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 And Herod // was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sydon: but they came with one accord to him, and having made Blastus // the kings chamberlain their friend, desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the kings countrey.

21 And upon a set day, Herod arrayed in royall apparell, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory, and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

3 And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

5 And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also John to their minister.

6 And when they had gone thorow the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain socerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Barjesus:

7 Which was with the deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man: who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8 But Elnias the socerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul (who also is called Paul) filled with the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And said, Full of all subtilty and all mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right wayes of the Lord?

11 And now behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blinde, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darknesse, and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputy when he saw what was done, beleeved, being astonish'd at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and his company loosed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and John departing from them, returned to Jerusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and sat down.

15 And after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood up, and beckning with his hands, said, Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give audience.

17 The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people * when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, * and with an high arm brought he them out of it.

18 And about the time of forty years † suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

19 And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Chanaan, * he divided their land to them by lot.

20 And after that * he gave unto them judges, about the space of four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet.

21 * And afterward they desired a king, and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years.

22 And when he had removed him, * he raised up unto them David to be their king, to whom also he gave testimony, and said, * I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfill all my will.

23 * Of this man I have said God according to his promise, raised up to Israel a Saviour Jesus:

24 * When John had first preached before his coming, the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And as John fulfilled his course, he said, * Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.

26 Men and brethren, children of the Stock of Abraham, and whoeever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent.

27 For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath-day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 * And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain.

29 And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.

30 * But God raised him from the dead:

31 And he was seen many dayes of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people.

32 And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers,

33 God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again, as it is also written in the second psalm, * Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee.

34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, * I will give you the sure mercies of David.

35 Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, * Thou shalt not suffer thine holy One to see corruption.

36 For David † after he had served his own generation by the will of God, * fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But he whom God raised again, saw no corruption.

38 ¶ Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins.

39 And by him all that beleeve are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.

40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in * the prophets,

41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your dayes, a work which you shall in no wise beleeve, though a man declare it unto you.

42 And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them † at the next sabbath.

43 Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews, and religious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas, who speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.

44 ¶ And the next sabbath-day came almost the whole cite together to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, andudge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles.

47 For to have the Lord commanded us, saying, * I have set thee to be a lichter of the Gentiles, that thou shouldst be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life, beleeved.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the cite, and and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 * But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.

52 And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the holy Ghost.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Paul and Barnabas are persecuted from Iconium. 8 At Lystra Paul healeth a creepie, whereupon they are reputed as gods. 19 Paul is stoned. 21 They passe through divers churches, confirming the disciples in faith and patience. 26 Returning to Antioch, they report what God had done with them.

AND it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews, and also of the Greeks, believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their mindes evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signes and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews, with their rulers, to slay them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about.

7 And there they preached the Gospel.

8 And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a creepie from his mothers womb, who never had walked.

9 The same heard Paul speak, who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet; and he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lift up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius; because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Jupiter which was before their cite, brought oren and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you, that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein.

16 * Altho in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own wales.

17 Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

19 And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, * and having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the cite, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioch,

22 Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.

23 And when they had ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24 And after they had passed throughout Bithynia, they came to Amphipolia.

25 And when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down into Attalia,

26 And thence sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been recommended to the grace of God, for the work which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

CHAP. XV.

1 Great dissension ariseth touching circumcision. 6 The apostles consult about it, and send their determination by letters to the churches 36 Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the brethren together, fall at strife, and depart asunder.

AND certain men which came down from Judea, taught the brethren, and said, * Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

2 When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissention and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question.

3 And being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phenice, and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, That it was needfull to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.

6 And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up and said unto them, * Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.

8 And God which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the holy Ghost, even as he did unto us:

9 And put no difference between us and them, * purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, * to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, we shall be saved even as they.

12 ¶ Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.

13 ¶ And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me.

14 Simeon hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets, as it is written,

16 * After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down: and I will build again the ruines thereof, and I will see it up:

17 That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my Name is called, saith the Lord, who doth all these things.

18 Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which come from among the Gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

21 For Moses of old time hath in every citie them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath-day.

22 Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas: namely, Judas surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren.

23 And wrote letters by them after this manner, The apostles and elders, and brethren send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia.

24 Forasmuch as we have heard, that certain which went out from us, have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law, to whom we gave no such commandment:

25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you, with our beloved Barnabas and Paul:

26 ¶ And when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle.

27 ¶ And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden then these necessary things;

29 That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep your selves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle.

31 ¶ Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.

34 Notwithstanding it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in An-tioc, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 ¶ And some dayes after, Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again, and visit our brethren, in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.

37 And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark.

38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

39 And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other, and to Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus;

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.

41 And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Paul having circumcised Timothy, 7 and being called by the Spirit from one countrey to another, 14 converted Lydia, 16 casteth out a spirit of divination. 19 For which cause he and Silas are whipped and imprisoned. 26 The prison doors are opened. 31 The jailour is converted, 37 and they are delivered.

¶ Then came he to Derbe and Lystra: and behold, a certain disciple was there, * named Timothy, the sonne of a certain woman which was a Jewesse, and beleaved: but his father was a Greek:

2 Which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him, and took and circumcised him because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greek.

4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, * that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Jerusalem.

5 And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.

6 Now when they had gone throughout Bithynia, and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia,

7 After they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing by Mysia, came down to Troas.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.

10 And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavoured to go into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony, and we were in that city abiding certain dayes.

13 And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made, and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.

14 ¶ And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us : whose heart the Lord opened, that he attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when he was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

16 And it came to passe, as we went to prayer, a certain damsell possessed with a spirit of divination, met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying.

17 The same followed Paul, and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.

18 And this did she many dayes : but Paul being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the Name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And he came out the same hour.

19 And when her masters saw that the hope of these gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market place, unto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our cite,

21 And teach customs which are not lawfull for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans.

22 And the multitude rose up together against them, and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them.

23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailour to keep them safely.

24 Altho. having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.

25 And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang psalms unto God : and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken : and immediately all the doors were opened, and every ones bands were loosed.

27 And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thy self no harm, for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I do to be saved ?

31 And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.

32 And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33 And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes, and was baptized, he and all his straightaway.

34 And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.

35 And when it was day, the magistrates sent the sergeants, saying, Let those men go.

36 And the keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul, The magistrates have sent to see you go : now therefore depart, and go in peace.

37 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly uncondemned, being Romans, and have cast us into prison, and now do they thrust us out prius : nay verily, but let them come themselves and fetch us out.

38 And the sergeants told these words unto the magistrates : and they feared when they heard that they were Romans.

39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the cite.

40 And they went out of the prison, * and entered into the house of Lydia, and when they had seen the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Paul preacheth at Thessalonica : 4 Where some beleeve, and others persecute him 10 He is sent to Berea, and preacheth there. 13 Being persecuted at Thessalonica, 15 he cometh to Athens, and disputeth and preacheth the living God to them unknown, 34 whereby many are converted unto Christ.

Now when they had passed through Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews.

2 And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath dayes reasoned with them out of the scriptures,

3 Opening and alleging, that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead : and that this Jesus whom I preach unto you, is Christ.

4 And some of them beleeved, and comforted with Paul and Silas : and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.

5 But the Jews which beleeved not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uprore, and assaulted the house of Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Jason, and certain brethren, unto the rulers of the cite, crying, These that have turned the world upside down, are come hither also,

7 Altho Jason hath received : and these all do contrary to the decrees of Cæsar, saying, that there is another king, one Jesus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the rulers of the cite, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security of Jason, and of the other, they let them go.

10 And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea : who coming thither, went into the synagogue of the Jews.

11 These were more noble then those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of minde, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleeved : also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul, to go as it were to the sea : but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they that conducted Paul, brought him unto Athens, and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the cite wholly given to idolatry.

Or. full of idols.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

18 Then certain philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoicks, encountered him: and some said, What wilt this babler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection.

19 And they took him, and brought him unto the Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.

21 (For all the Athenians and strangers which were there, spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.)

22 Then Paul stood in the midst of the Areopagus, and said, Men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

24 * God that made the world and all things therein, feeling that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands:

25 Neither is worshipped with mens hands, * as though he needed any thing, feeling he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things:

26 And hath made of one blood, all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation:

27 That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and finde him, though he be not farre from every one of us.

28 For in him we live, and move, and have our being, as certain also of your own poets have said, for we are also his off-spring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the off-spring of God, * we ought not to think that the God-head is like unto gold, or silver, or stone graven by art and mans device.

30 And the times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men every where to repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a day in the which he will judge the world in righteousness, by that man whom he hath ordained, whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked; and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit, certain men clave unto him, and continued: among the which was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Paul laboured with his hands, and preacheth at Corinth to the Gentiles. 9 The Lord encourageth him in a vision. 12 He is accused before Gallio the deputy, but is dismissed. 18 Afterwards passing from city to city, he strengtheneth the disciples. 24 Apollos being more perfectly instructed by Aquila and Priscilla, 28 preacheth Christ with great efficacy.

After these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth,

2 And found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome) and came unto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought (for by their occupation they were tent-makers)

4 And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews, and the Greeks.

5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ.

6 And when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, * he shook his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads; I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7 And he departed thence, and entered into a certain mans house named Titus, one that worshipped God, whose house joyned hard to the synagogue.

8 * And Crispus the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord, with all his house: and many of the Corinthians hearing, believed, and were baptized.

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee, to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

11 And he continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 And when Gallio was the deputy of Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgement seat, 13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong, or wicked lewdnesse, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you.

15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it: for I will be no judge of such matters.

16 And he drave them from the judgement seat.

17 Then all the Greeks took Sosthenes, the chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgement seat: and Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 And Paul after this, tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having shorn his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not;

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must by all means keep this feast that cometh, in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you, * if God will: and he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he had landed at Caesarea, and gone up and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 A And a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord, and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was disposed to passe into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him: who when he was come, helped them much which had believed through grace.

28 For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures, that Jesus was Christ.

CHAP. XIX.

6 The holy Ghost is given by Pauls hands. 9 The Jews blaspheme his doctrine, which is confirmed by miracles. 13 The Jewish exorcists 16 are beaten by the devil. 19 Conjuring books are burnt. 24 Demetrius for love of gain, raiseth an uproar against Paul. 35 which is appeased by the town-clerk.

As it came to passe, that while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts, came to Ephesus and finding certain disciples,

2 He said unto them, Have ye received the holy Ghost since ye believed? and they said unto him, We have not so much as heard whether there be any holy Ghost.

3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? and they said, Unto Johns baptism.

4 Then said Paul, * John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, That they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6 And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

8 And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the space of two years, so that all they which dwell in Asia, heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.

11 And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul.

12 So that from his body were brought unto the sick, handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13 Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was, leapt on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus, and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 And many that believed came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.

19 Many also of them which used curious arts, brought their books together, and burned them, before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 So mightily grew the word of God, and prevailed.

21 A After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia, and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome.

22 So he sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no small stirre about that way.

24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain unto the craftsmen.

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth.

26 Moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying, that they be no gods which are made with hands.

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought: but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia, and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion, and having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Pauls companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused, and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the town-clerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter.

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be shaken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

18 Wherefore if Demetrius and the craft-men, which are with him, have a matter against any man, let the law be open, and there are deputies, let them implead one another.

19 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawful assembly.

20 For we are in danger to be called in question for this dayes uprore, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

21 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAP. XX.

1 Paul goeth to Macedonia. 7 He celebrateth the Lords supper, and preacheth. 9 Eutychus having fallen down dead, is raised to life. 17 At Miletus he calleth the elders together, telleth them what shall befall to himself, 28 committeth Gods flock to them; 29 warneth them of false teachers, 32 commendeth them to God, 36 prayeth with them, and goeth his way.

And after the uprore was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and departed for to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there abode three moneths: and when the Jews said wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berea; and of the Thessalonians Aristarchus, and Secundus; and Gaius of Derbe and Timothy; and of Asia, Trophimus and Crispinus.

5 These going before, tarried for us at Troas. 6 And we sailed away from Philippi, after the dayes of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five daies, where we abode seven dayes.

7 And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow, and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certain yong man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep, and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10 And Paul went down and fell on him, and embracing him, said, Trouble not your selves, for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, he departed.

12 And they brought the yong man alive, and were not a little comforted.

13 And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.

14 And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Miletus.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios, and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllum: and the next day we came to Miletus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the Church.

18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord with all humilitie of mind, and with many tears, and temptations which befell me by the lying in wait of the Jews:

20 And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house,

21 Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22 And now behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 Where that the holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying, that bonds and afflictions shall abide me.

24 But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto my self; so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.

27 For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.

28 I Take heed therefore unto your selves, and to all the flock, over the which the holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30 Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember that by the space of three years, I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.

32 And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 I have coveted no mans silver, or gold, or apparel.

34 Yea, you your selves know, that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring, ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept for, and fell on Pauls neck, and kissed him.

38 Sorowling most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

CHAP. XXI.

Paul will not by any means be dissuaded from going to Jerusalem. 9 Philips daughter prophesieth. 17 Paul cometh to Jerusalem: 27 where he is apprehended, and in great danger, 31 but by the chief captain is rescued, and permitted to speak to the people.

And it came to passe, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we came with with a straight course unto Choos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara.

2 And finding a ship sailing over unto Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth.

3 Now when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

4 And finding disciples, we carried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

5 And when we had accomplished those days, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought us on our way with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship, and they returned home again.

7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day we that were of Jews company, departed, and came unto Cesarea, and we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist (* which was one of the seven) and abode with him.

9 And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesie.

10 And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judaea a certain prophet, named Agabus.

11 And when he was come unto us, he took Pauls girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem binde the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we heard these things, both we and they of that place besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep, and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound onely, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those days, we took up our carriages, and went up to Jerusalem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following, Paul went in with us unto James, and all the Elders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which beleve, and they are all zealous of the law.

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, saying, that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this, that we say to thee: we have four men which have a vow on them;

24 Them take, and purifie thy self with them, and be at charges with them, that they may have their heads: and all may know, that those things whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gentiles which beleve, we have written and concluded, that they observe no such thing, save onely that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them, entered into the temple, to shew the accomplishment of the dayes of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27 And when the seven dayes were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him,

28 Crying out, Men of Israel, help: this is the man that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and further, brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seen before with him in the city, Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple)

30 And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar.

32 Who immediately took soldiers, and centurions, and ran down unto them: and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chief captain came nether and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was that he was born of the soldiers, for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him, 37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee? who said, Canst thou speak Greek?

38 Art not thou that Egyptian which before these dayes maddest an uprore, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?

39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people.

40 And when he had given him licence, Paul stood on the stairs, and beckened with the hand unto the people: and when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

3 I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus a citie in Cilicis, yet brought up in this citie at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous towards God, as ye all are this day.

4 And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the high priest doth bear me witnesse, and all the estate of the elders : from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished.

6 And it came to passe that as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.

7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And they that were with me, saw indeed the light, and were afraid : but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus, and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there, 13 Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that just one, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnesse unto all men, of what thou hast seen and heard.

16 And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And saw him saying unto me, Wake haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem : for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, they know that I impudently, and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee.

20 And when the blood of thy martyr Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 And he said unto me, Depart : for I will send thee far hence unto the Gentiles.

22 And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lift up their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth : for it is not fit that he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air,

24 The chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and had that he should be examined by scourging : that he might know wherefore they cried so against him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawfull for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou dost, for this man is a Roman.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? he said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him, which should have examined him : and the chief captain also was afraid after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would have known the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priest, and all their counsell to appear, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

And Paul earnestly beholding the counsell, said, Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God, untill this day.

2 And the high Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall : for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

4 And they that stood by, said, Revilest thou Gods high priest?

5 Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest : for it is written, * Thou shalt not break evill of the ruler of thy people.

9 And there arose a great cry : and the Scribes that were of the Pharisees party arose, and strove, saying, We finde no evill in this man : but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, let us not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following, the Lord stood by by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying, that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more then forty which had made this conspircie.

14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound our selves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing untill we have slain Paul.

15 Now therefore ye with the counsell, signifie to the chief captain, that he bring him down unto you to morrow, as though ye would enquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, as ever he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Pauls sisters come heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.

19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, The Jews have agreed to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring down Paul to morrow into the counsell, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yeeld unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more then forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred souldiers to go to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spear-men two hundred, at the third hour of the night,

24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix the governour.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

26 Claudius Lysias, unto the most excellent governour Felix, sendeth greeting.

27 This man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: Then came I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Roman.

28 And when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their counsell:

29 Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

30 And when it was told me how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also, to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the souldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle.

33 Who when they came to Cesarea and delivered the epistle to the governour, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governour had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of Cilicia:

35 I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in Herods judgement-hall.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Paul being accused by Tertullus the orator, to answereth for his life and doctrine. 24 He preacheth Christ to the governour and his wife. 26 The governour hopeth for a bribe, but in vain. 27 At last, going out of his office, he leaveth Paul in prison.

And after five dayes, Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governour against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietnesse, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it alwayes, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.

5 For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ring-leader of the sect of the Nazarens.

6 Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have judged according to our law.

7 But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom, thy self might take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul after that the governour had beckened unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many yeares a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for my self:

11 Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve dayes since I went up to Jerusalem to do worship.

12 And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city.

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confesse unto thee, that after the way which they call herese, to worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and the prophets.

15 And have hope towards God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16 And herein do I exercise my self, to have alwayes a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.

17 Now after many yeares, I came to bring almes to my nation, and offerings.

22 And when Felix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, * When Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

23 And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have libertie, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.

24 And after certain dayes, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewesse, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgement to come, Felix trembled, and answered, So thy way for this time, when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him : wherefore he sent for him the oftner, and communed with him.

27 But after two years, Doctus Festus came into Felix room : and Felix willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

C H A P. XXV.

a The Jews accuse Paul before Festus. 8 He answereth for himself, 11 and appealeth unto Cesar. 14 Afterwards, Festus openeth his matter to king Agrippa, 23 and he is brought forth. 25 Festus cleareth him to have done nothing worthy of death.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three dayes he ascended from Cesarea to Jerusalem.

2 Then the high priest, & the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them 10 more then ten dayes, he went down unto Cesarea, and the next day sitting in the judgement seat, commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem, stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove.

8 While he answered for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, have I offended any thing at this time.

9 But Festus willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, * Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me ?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesars judgement seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Cesar.

12 Then Festus when he had conferred with the council answered, Hast thou appealed unto Cesar : unto Cesar wilt thou go.

13 And after certain dayes, king Agrippa and Bernice came unto Cesarea to salute Festus.

14 And when they had been there many dayes, Festus declared Pauls case unto the king, saying, There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix:

15 About whom when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, * It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused, have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgement seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be referred unto the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man my self. To morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the morrow when Agrippa was come and Bernice, with great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and principall men of the citie, at Festus commandment Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to live any longer.

25 But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord : wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king, Agrippa, that after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withall to signify the crimes laid against him.

C H A P. XXVI.

2 Paul in the presence of Agrippa, declareth his life from his childhood, 12 and how miraculously he was converted, and called to his apostleship. 24 Festus chargeth him to be mad, whereunto he answereth modestly. 26 Agrippa almost persuaded to be a Christian. 31 The whole company pronounce him innocent.

stretcht forth the hand, and answered for himself.

2 I thinke my self happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer for my self this day before thee, touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews :

3 Especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs, and questions which are among the Jews : wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews,

5 Which knew me from the beginning, (if they would testifie) that after the most straitest sect of our religion, I lived a Pharisee.

6 And now I stand and am Iudged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers :

7 Unto which promise our twelve tribes incessantly serving God day and night, hope to come : for which hopes sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Alas should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead ?

9 I verily thought with my self, that I ought to do many things contrary to the Name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 Which thing I also did in Jerusalem, and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests, and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them.

11 And I punished them oft in every synagoge, and compelled them to blaspheme : and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 Whereupon as I went to Damascus, with authority and commission from the chief priests :

13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me, and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me ? It is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou Lord ? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise, and stand upon thy feet, for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee.

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee,

18 To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision :

20 But shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance.

21 For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things then those which the prophets and Moses did say should come :

23 That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul thou art beside thy self, much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus, but I speak forth the words of truth and sobernesse.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely : for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him : for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets ? I know that thou believest.

28 Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.

29 And Paul said, I would to God, that not onely thou, but also all that heare me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governour, and Bernice, and they that sat with them.

31 And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, This man both nothing worthy of death, or of bonds.

32 Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appalled unto Cæsar.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Paul shipping toward Rome, 10 foretelleth of the danger of the voyage, 11 buris not believed, 14 They are tossed to and fro with tempest, 41 and suffer shipwrack : 23, 34, 44, yet all come safe to land.

And when it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners, unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus band.

2 And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we lanchted, meaning to sail by the coast of Asia, one Aristarchus a Macedonian, of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius courteous intreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had lanchted from thence, we sailed under Egiptus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Adria a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy, and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many dayes, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under I Crete, over against Salmone :

8 And hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called, The safe havens, nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them,

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not onely of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

10r. Quadic.

10r. i. u. j. u. j.

11 Nevertheless the centurion beleaved the master and the owner of the ship, more then those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part abided to be saved thence also, if by any means they might attain to Spain, and there to winter: which is an haven of Crete, and lyeth toward the south-west, and north-west.

13 And when the south-winde blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence they sailed close by Crete.

14 But not long after there arose against it a tempestuous winde, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up in the winde, we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain land which is called Cauda, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used brigs, under girding the ship; and fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And being exceedingly tossed with a tempest the next day they lightened the ship,

19 And the third day we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved, was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said; Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and losse:

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no losse of any mans life among you, but of the ship.

23 For there stood by me this night the angel of God whose I am, and whom I serve, 24 Saying, Fear not Paul, thou must be brought before Cesar; and so, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 Wherefore now, be of good cheer: for I beleve God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 Wherewith we must be cast upon a certain land.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria about midnight, the shipmen deemed that they were near to some country:

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship, 31 Paul said to the Centurion, and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 And while the day was coming on, Paul be- sought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day, that ye have tarried, and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34 Wherefore I pray you to take some meat, for this is for your health: for there shall not an hairs fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all, and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.

37 And we were in all in the ship, two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek, with a shoale, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rubber bands, and hoisted up the main sail to the winde, and made toward shoale.

41 And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground, and the fore-part stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder-part was broken with the violence of the waves.

42 And the soldiers counsell was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.

43 But the centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commanded that they which could swim, should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:

44 And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship: and so it came to passe that they escaped all safe to land.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Paul after his shipwreck is kindly entertained of the Barbarians. 5 The viper on his hand hurth him not. 8 He healeth many diseases in the island. 11 They depart towards Rome. 17 He declareth to the Jews the cause of his coming. 24 After his preaching some were perswaded, and some beleaved not. 30 Yet he preacheth there two years.

And when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita.

2 And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

4 And when the Barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

5 And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm.

6 Wherewith they looked when he should have swollen or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their mindes, and said that he was a God.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius, who received us and lodged us three dayes courteously.

8 And it came to passe that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever, and of a bloody flux, to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

10 Who also honoured us with many honours, and

10r. here.

10r. cut teh aneres, they left them in the sea, &c.

and when we departed, they laden us with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three moneths we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the isle, whose signe was Cadus and Dollus.

12 And landing at Syracuse, we tarried there three dayes.

13 And from thence we fet a compasse, and came to Regium, and after one day the fourth winde blew, and we came the next day to Putcoli :

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven dayes : and so we went towards Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appi-fornini, and the three taverns : whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

16 And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard : but Paul was suffered to dwell by himself, with a souldier that kept him.

17 And it came to passe that after three dayes, Paul called the chief of the Jews together. And when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, though I have committed nothing against the people or customes of our fathers, yet was I delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romanes.

18 Also when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Cesar, not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you : because that for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.

21 And they said unto him, We neither received letters out of Judea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came, shewed or spake any harm of thee.

22 But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest : for as concerning this sect, we know that every where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the law of Moyses, and out of the prophets from morning till evening.

24 And some beleeveth the things which were spoken, and some beleeveth not.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the holy Ghost by Cnias the prophet, unto our fathers,

26 Saying, Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand, and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed grosse, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

28 Be it known therefore unto you, that the salvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles, and that they will hear it.

29 And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two whole yeers in his own hired house, and received all that came in unto him, 31 Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE apostle to the ROMANES.

CHAP. I.

1 Paul commendeth his calling to the Romanes, 9. and his desire to come to them. 16 What his gospel is, and the righteousness which it sheweth. 18 God is angry with all manner of sin. 21 What were the sins of the Gentiles.

Paul a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God, (which he had promised afore by his prophets in the holy scriptures)

3 Concerning his Sonne Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh,

4 And declared to be the Sonne of God with power, according to the spirit of holinesse, by the resurrection from the dead.

5 By whom we have received grace and apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations for his Name.

6 Among whom are ye also the called of Jesus Christ.

7 To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints : Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8 First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.

9 For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you alwayes in my prayers,

10 Making request (if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God) to come unto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end you may be established.

12 That is, that I may be comforted together with you, by the mutuall faith both of you and me.

13 Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you (but was let hitherto) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

14 I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians, both to the wise, and to the unwise.

Or, in my spirit.

Or, in you.

Or, in you.

15 So,

* Acts 13. 2.

† Or determined.

Or, to the obedience of faith.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth, to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17 For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, "The just shall live by faith."

18 For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness, and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness.

19 Because that which may be known of God, is manifest in them, for God hath shewed it unto them.

20 For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse.

21 Because that when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful, but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

22 Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools:

23 And changed the glory of the incorruptible God, into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and four-footed beasts, and creeping things.

24 Therefore God also gave them up to uncleanness, through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves:

25 Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet.

28 And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient:

29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness, full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity, whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despitefull, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31 Without understanding, covenant-breakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:

32 Who knowing the judgement of God (that they which commit such things, are worthy of death) not only do the same, but are pleased in them that do them.

CHAP. II.

1 They therefore, though they condemn it in others, cannot excuse themselves, and much less escape the judgement of God. 2 whether they be Jews or Gentiles. 3 The Gentiles cannot escape, 4 nor yet the Jews, 5 whom their circumcision shall not profit, if they keep not the law.

Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, who soever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thy self; for thou that judgest, dost the same things.

2 But we are sure that the judgement of God is according to truth, against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and dost the same, that thou shalt escape the judgement of God?

4 O despisest thou the riches of his goodness, and forbearance, and long-suffering, not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But after thy hardness, and impenitent heart, treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath, and revelation of the righteous judgement of God:

6 Who will render to every man according to his deeds:

7 To them who by patient continuance in well-doing, seek for glory, and honour, and immortality, eternal life:

8 But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness: indignation, and wrath;

9 Tribulation and anguish upon every soul of man that doth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile.

10 But glory, honour, and peace to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile.

11 For there is no respect of persons with God.

12 For as many as have sinned without law, shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned in the law, shall be judged by the law,

13 (For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified).

14 For when the Gentiles which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these having not the law are a law unto themselves:

15 Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts like mean while accusing, or else excusing one another)

16 In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel.

17 Behold, thou art called a Jew, and restest in the law, and makest thy boast of God:

18 And knowest his will, and approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law,

19 And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,

20 An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the form of knowledge, and of the truth in the law.

21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal?

22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, dost thou commit sacrilege?

23 Thou that makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God?

24 For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles, through you, as it is written.

25 For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.

26 Therefore, if the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

* Is. 52. 5. Ezek. 36. 26. 27.

27 And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfill the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgresse the law?

28 For he is not a Jew which is one outwardly, neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh.

29 But he is a Jew which is one inwardly, and circumcision is that of the heart, in the spirit, and not in the letter; whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

1 The Jews prerogative: 3 which they have not lost. 9 Howbeit, the law convinceth them also of sin. 20 Therefore no flesh is justified by the law, 28 but all without difference, by faith onely: 31 and yet the law is not abolished.

What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?

2 Much every way: chiefly because that unto them were committed the oracles of God.

3 For what if some should not believe? shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?

4 God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar, as it is written, * That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.

5 But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I speak as a man)

6 God forbid: for then how shall God judge the world?

7 For if the wrath of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

8 And not rather as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say, Let us do evils that good may come: whose damnation is just!

9 What then? are we better then they? no in no wise: for we have before + proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under sin,

10 As it is written, There is none righteous, no not one:

11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable, there is none that doth good, no not one.

13 Their throat is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they have used deceit, the poison of asps is under their lips:

14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness.

15 Their feet are swift to shed blood.

16 Destruction and misery are in their wayes:

17 And the way of peace have they not known.

18 There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know, that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law, that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become || guilty before God.

20 Therefore by the deeds of the law, there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.

21 But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets.

22 Even the righteousness of God, which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference:

23 For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God.

24 Being justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ:

25 Whom God hath || set forth to be a propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the || remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God.

26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

27 Where is boasting then? it is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay: but by the law of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude, that a man is justified by faith, without the deeds of the law.

29 Is he the God of the Jews onely? is he not also of the Gentiles? yea, of the Gentiles also.

30 Seeing it is one God which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

31 Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Abrahams faith was imputed to him for righteousness, 10 before he was circumcised. 13 By faith onely he and his seed received the promise. 16 Abraham is the father of all that believe: 24 Our faith also shall be imputed to us for righteousness.

What shall we say then, that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh hath found?

2 For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory, but not before God.

3 For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

4 Now to him that worketh, is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly; his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works,

7 Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision onely, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11 And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith, which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:

12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision onely, but also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.

13 For the promise that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect.

15 Because the law worketh wrath : for where no law is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace : to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed, not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,

17 (As it is written, * I have made thee a father of many nations) || before him whom he believed, even God who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not, as though they were :

Gen. 15. 5.

18 Altho against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations : according to that which was spoken, * So shall the seed be.

19 And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sarahs womb.

20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief : but was strong in faith, giving glory to God :

21 And being fully persuaded, that what he had promised, he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousnesse.

23 Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him :

24 But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead,

25 Altho was delivered for our offences ; and was raised again for our justification.

CHAP. V.

1 Being justified by faith, we have peace with God,

2 and joy in our hope, 8 that such we were reconciled by his blood, when we were enemies, to we shall much more be saved being reconciled. 12 As sin and death came by Adam, 17 so much more righteousness and life by Jesus Christ, 20 Where sin abounded, grace did superabound.

Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ.

2 By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoyce in hope of the glory of God.

3 And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also, knowing that tribulation worketh patience :

4 And patience, experience : and experience, hope :

5 And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts, by the holy Ghost which is given unto us.

Or, according to the same.

6 For when we were yet without strength, || in due time Christ died for the ungodly.

7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die : yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8 But God commendeth his love towards us, in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9 Much more then being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10 For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son : much more being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

11 And not only so, but we also joy in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.

12 Therefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin : and so death passed upon all men, || for that all have sinned.

Or, in whom.

13 For until the law came was in the world : but sin is not imputed when there is no law.

14 Nevertheless, death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adams transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come :

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one, many be dead ; much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift : for the judgement was by one to condemnation : but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.

Or, by one offence.

17 For if || by one mans offence death reigned by one, much more they which receive abundance of grace, and of the gift of righteousness, shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.

Or, by one offence.

18 Therefore as || by the offence of one judgement came upon all men to condemnation : even so || by the righteousness of one, the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life.

Or, by one righteousness.

19 For as by one mans disobedience many were made sinners : so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

20 Moreover, the law entered, that the offence might abound : but where sin abounded, grace did much more abound.

21 That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life, by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

1 We may not live in sin, 2 for we are dead unto it, 3 as appeareth by our baptisme. 12 Let not sin reign any more, 18 because we have yielded our selves to the service of righteousness, 23 and for that death is the wages of sin.

What shall we say then ? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound ?

2 God forbid : how shall we that are dead to sin, live any longer therein ?

3 Know ye not that so many of us || as were baptized into Jesus Christ, were baptized into his death ?

Or, are.

4 Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death, that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father : even so we also should walk in newness of life.

5 For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death : we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection :

6 Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

7 For he that is dead, is freed from sin.

8 Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him :

9 Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead, dieth no more, death hath no more dominion over him.

10 For in that he died, he died unto sin once : but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

11 Likewise reckon ye also your selves to be dead indeed unto sin : but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13 Neither yield ye your members as + instruments

† Gr. justified.

† Gr. arms or weapons.

ments of unrighteousnesse unto sin : but yeeld your selves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

14 For sin shall not have dominion over you : for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then shall we saine, because we are not under the law, but under grace ? God forbid.

16 Know ye not, that to whom ye yeeld your selves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey : whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness ?

17 But God be thanked that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you.

18 Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men, because of the infirmities of your flesh : for as ye have yeelded your members servants to uncleannesse and to iniquity, unto iniquity, even so now yeeld your members servants to righteousness unto holiness.

20 For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed ? for the end of those things is death.

22 But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

23 For the wages of sin is death : but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

1 No law hath power over a man longer then he liveth, 4 But we are dead to the law. 7 Yet is not the law sin, 12 but holy, just, good, 16 as I acknowledge who am grieved because I cannot keep it.

K Now ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law), how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth ?

2 For the woman which hath an husband, is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth : but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then if while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteresse : but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law : so that she is no adulteresse, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ, that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins which were by the law, did work in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death.

6 But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held, that we should serve in newnesse of spirit, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shall we say then ? is the law sin ? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law : for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet.

8 For sin taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law sin was dead.

9 For I was alive without the law once, but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

10 And the commandment which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

11 For sin taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12 Wherefore the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

13 Was then that which is good, made death unto me ? God forbid. But sin that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good : that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

14 For we know that the law is spiritual : but I am carnall, sold under sin.

15 For that which I do, I allow not : for what I would, that do I not : but what I hate, that do I.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law, that it is good.

17 Now then, it is no more I that do it : but sin that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that in me (that is in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing : for to will is present with me, but how to perform that which is good, I finde not.

19 For the good that I would, I do not : but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then a law, that when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I delight in the law of God, after the inward man.

23 But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death ?

25 I thank God, through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then, with the minde I myself serve the law of God : but with the flesh, the law of sin.

CHAP. VIII.

1 They that are in Christ, and live according to the Spirit, are free from condemnation. 5, 13 What harm cometh of the flesh, 6, 14 and what good of the Spirit, 17 and what of being Gods childe, 19 whose glorious deliverance all things long for, 29 was before hand decreed from God. 38 What can sever us from his love ?

There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the law of the Spirit of life, in Christ Jesus, hath made me free from the law of sin and death.

3 For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son, in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin condemned sin in the flesh :

4 That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are after the flesh, do minde the things of the flesh : but they that are after the Spirit, the things of the Spirit.

6 For to be carnally minded, is death : but to be spiritually minded, is life and peace :

7 Because of the carnall minde is enmity against God : for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you.

Or, know.

Or, where to ye were delivered.

Or, to righteousness.

Or, know.

Or, this body of death.

Or, passions.

Or, being dead to that.

Or, concupiscence.

Or, by a sacrifice for sin.

Or, the minding of the flesh. Or, the minding of the Spirit. Or, the minding of the flesh.

10 And if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

11 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin: but the Spirit is life, because of righteousness.

12 But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead, dwell in you: he that raised up Christ from the dead, shall also quicken your mortal bodies, by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

13 Therefore brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

14 For if we live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortifie the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

15 For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

16 For we have not received the Spirit of bondage again to fear: but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

17 The Spirit it self beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God,

18 And if children, then heirs, heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ: it is so, be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

19 For I reckon, that the sufferings of this present time, are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

20 For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God.

21 For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope.

22 Because the creature it self also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

23 For we know that the whole creation groaneth, and travaileth in pain together until now.

24 And not onely they, but our selves also which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we our selves groan within our selves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.

25 For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen, is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

26 But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

27 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit it self maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

28 And he that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, I because he maketh intercession for the saints, according to the will of God.

29 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.

30 For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the first-born among many brethren.

31 And over whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified.

32 What shall we then say to these things? If God is for us, who can be against us?

33 He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all: how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

34 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods elect? It is God that justifieth.

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.

35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or perill, or sword?

36 As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long, we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 Nay in all these things we are more than conquerors, through him that loved us.

38 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

CHAP. IX.

1 Paul is sorry for the Jews. 7 All the seed of Abraham were not the children of the promise. 18 God hath mercie upon whom he will. 21 The potter may do with his clay what he list. 25 The calling of the Gentiles, and rejecting of the Jews were foretold. 32 The cause why sofew Jews embraced the rightcousnesse of faith.

I Say the truth in Christ. I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the holy Ghost,

2 That I have great heaviness and continuall sorrow in my heart.

3 For I could wish that my self were accursed from Christ, for my brethren my kinsmen according to the flesh:

4 Who are Israelites: to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenant, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises:

5 Who are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

6 Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israel, which are of Israel.

7 Neither because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but in Isaac shall thy seed be called.

8 That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed.

9 For this is the word of promise, At this time will I come, and Sara shall have a son.

10 And not onely this, but when Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac,

11 (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth)

12 It was said unto her, The elder shall serve the younger.

13 As it is written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.

14 What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.

15 For he saith to Moses, I will have mercie on whom I will have mercie, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercie.

17 For the Scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will, he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet finde fault? For who hath resisted his will?

20 Nay but I man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

22 What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much long-suffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction?

23 And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory?

24 Even us whom he hath called: not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles.

25 As he saith also in Dea, "I will call them my people, which were not my people: and her, beloved, which was not beloved."

26 "And it shall come to passe, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people: there shall they be called, the children of the living God."

27 Elias also cryeth concerning Israel, "Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved."

28 For he will finish the work, and cut it short in righteousness: because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth.

29 And as Elias said before, "Except the Lord of sabaoth had left us a seed, we had been as Sodoma, and been made like unto Gomorha."

30 What shall we say then? That the Gentiles which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith?

31 But Israel, which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness.

32 Therefore? Because they sought it, not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law: for they stumbled at that stumbling stone.

33 As it is written, "Behold, I lay in Zion a stumbling stone, and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him, shall not be ashamed."

CHAP. X.

5 The scripture sheweth the difference betwixt the righteousness of the law, and this of faith, 11 and that all, both Jew and Gentile, that believe, shall not be confounded. 18 And that the gentiles shall receive the word, and believe. 19 Israel was not ignorant of these things.

Brethren, my hearts desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

2 For I bear them record, that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of Gods righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.

4 For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

5 For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, that "the man which doth those things, shall live by them."

6 But the righteousness which is of faith, speak eth on this wise, "Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is to bring Christ down from above)"

7 "Or who shall descend into the deep? (that is to bring up Christ again from the dead.)"

8 But what saith it? "The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thine heart: that is the word of faith, which we preach."

9 That if thou shalt confesse with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt beleve in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10 For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confessions are made unto salvation.

11 For the scripture saith, "Whosoever believeth on him, shall not be ashamed."

12 For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all, is rich unto all that call upon him.

13 "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord, shall be saved:"

14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed, and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, "How beautifull are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!"

16 But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Elias saith, "Lord, who hath beleaved?" our report?

17 So then, saith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

18 But I say, Have they not heard? yes verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.

19 But I say, Did not Israel know? first, Moses saith, "I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you."

20 But Elias is very bold, and saith, "I was found of them that sought me not: I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me."

21 But to Israel he saith, "All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people."

CHAP. XI.

1 God hath not cast off all Israel. y Some were elected though the rest were hardened. 16 There is hope of their conversion. 18 The Gentiles may not insult upon them. 26 For there is a promise of their salvation. 33 Gods judgements are unsearchable.

I say then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew. Note ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying,

3 "Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars, and I am left alone, and they seek my life."

4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? "I have reserved to my self seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Baal."

5 Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6 And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace, otherwise work is no more work.

7 What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded:

8 According as it is written: God hath given them the spirit of blindness, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear unto this day.

9 And David saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling block, and a recompence unto them.

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway.

11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles: how much more their fulness!

13 For I speak to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office:

14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world: what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the first-fruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou being a wilde olive-tree wert grafted in amongst them, and with them partakest of the root and fatnesse of the olive-tree:

18 Boast thou against the branches: but if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.

20 Well: because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not high-minded, but fear.

21 For if God spared not the naturall branches, make heed lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but towards thee, goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, if they bide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graffe them in again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the olive-tree which is wilde by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive-tree: how much more shall they which be the naturall branches, be grafted into their own olive-tree?

25 For I would not brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, (lest ye should be wise in your own conceits) that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulnesse of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Israel shall be saved, as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the deliverer, and shall turn away ungodlinesse from Jacob.

27 For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sin.

28 As concerning the gospel, they are enemies to your sake, but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers sake.

29 For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.

30 For as ye in times past have not believed, so now have not obtained mercy through unbelief:

31 Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

32 For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgements, and his ways past finding out!

34 For who hath known the minde of the Lord, or who hath been his counsellor?

35 Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

36 For of him, and through him, and to him are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

CHAP. XII.

1 Gods mercies must move us to please God. 3 No man must think too well of himselfe, but attend every one on that calling wherein he is placed. 9 Love, and many other duties are required of us. 19 Revenge is specially forbidden.

I Beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2 And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your minde, that ye may prove what is that good, that acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himselfe more highly then he ought to think, but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.

4 For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office:

5 So we being many are one on body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

6 Having then gifts, differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophesie, let us prophesie according to the proportion of faith,

7 Or ministry, let us wait on our ministering: or he that teacheth, on teaching:

8 Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that ruleth, with diligence: he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.

9 Let love be without dissimulation: abhorre that which is evil, cleave to that which is good.

10 Be kindly affectioned one to another, with brotherly love, in honour preferring one another.

11 Not slothfull in businesse: fervent in spirit, serving the Lord.

12 Rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation, continuing instant in prayer.

13 Distributing to the necessity of saints, given to hospitality.

14 Bless them which persecute you, bless and curse not.

15 Rejoyce with them that do rejoyce, and weep with them that weep.

* Pro. 25. 21.

20 * Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him: if he thirst give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.

21 Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Subjection, and many other duties we owe to the magistrates. 8 Love is the fulfilling of the law. 11 Gluttony and drunkenness, and the works of darkness, are out of season in the time of the gospel.

Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power, but of God: the powers that be, are ordained of God.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shall receive to themselves damnation.

3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil: wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same.

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good: but if thou do that which is evil, he is afraid: for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doth evil.

5 Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake.

6 For, for this cause pay you tribute also: for they are Gods ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7 Render therefore to all their dues, tribute to whom tribute is due, custom to whom custom, fear to whom fear, honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9 For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet: and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour, therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.

11 And that knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12 The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light.

13 Let us walk honestly as in the day, not in rioting and drunkenness, nor in chambering and wantonness, nor in strife and envying.

14 But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof.

CHAP. XIII.

3 Men may not condemn nor condemn one the other for things indifferent: 13 but take heed that they give no offence in them: 15 for that the apostle proveth unlawfully by many reasons.

1 In that is weak in the faith receive you, but not to doubtful disputations.

2 For one believeth that he may eat all things: another who is weak, eateth herbs.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth. For God hath received him.

4 Who art thou that judgest another mans service? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Dear he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

* Or, ordered.

* Or, decently.

* Or, not to judge his doubtful thoughts.

5 One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind.

6 We that ill regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he hath not regarded it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, (for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not to the Lord eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

7 For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord: and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lords.

9 For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.

10 But why doest thou judge thy brother? or why doest thou set at nought thy brother? we shall all stand before the judgement-seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12 So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumbling block, or an occasion to fall in his brothers way.

14 I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of it self: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.

16 Let not then your good be evil spoken of.

17 For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness and peace, and joy in the holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serveth Christ, is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19 Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.

20 For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure: but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21 It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22 Had thou faith? have it to thy self before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.

23 And he that is doubtful, is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith, is sin.

CHAP. XV.

The strong must bear with the weak. 2 We may not please our selves, 3 for Christ did not so, 7 but receive one the other, as Christ did us all, 8 both Jew, 9 and Gentiles. 15 Paul excuseth his writing, 28 and promiseth to see them, 30 and requesteth their prayers.

When that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.

2 Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification.

3 For even Christ pleased not himself, but as it is written, * The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.

* Psal. 69. 9.

4 For whatsoever things were written aforetime, were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

5 Now the God of patience and consolation, grant you to be like minded one towards another, according to Christ Jesus :

6 That ye may with one minde and one mouth glorifie God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7 Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us to the glory of God.

8 Now I say, that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers :

9 And that the Gentiles might glorifie God for his mercy, as it is written, * For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy Name.

10 And again he saith, * My joyce ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again, * Praise the Lord all ye Gentiles, and laud him all ye people.

12 And again Calas saith, * There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles, in him shall the Gentiles trust.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope through the power of the holy Ghost.

14 And I my self also am persuaded of you my brethren, that ye also are full of goodnesse, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15 Wherefore, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you, in some sort, as putting you in minde, because of the grace that is given to me of God,

16 That I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the holy Spirit.

17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ, in those things which pertain to God.

18 For I will not dare to speak of any of those things, which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed, 19 Though mighty signes and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God, so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

20 For to have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another mans foundation :

21 But as it is written, * To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see : And they that have not heard, shall understand.

22 For which cause also I have been so much hindered from coming to you.

23 But now having no more place in these parts, and having a great desire to see you many years,

24 Whenceforth I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you : for I trust to see you in my journey, and to bring you on my way thitherward by sea, if first I be somewhat filled with your company.

25 But now I go unto Jerusalem, to minister unto the saints.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.

27 It hath pleased them, verely, and their debtors to be are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnall things.

28 Whence therefore I have performed this, and have sealed to them this sent, I will come by you into Spain.

29 And I am sure that when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulnesse of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christs sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me, in your prayers to God for me,

31 That I may be delivered from them that do not beleve in Iudas : and that my service, which I have for Jerusalem, may be accepted of the saints :

32 That I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.

33 Now the God of peace be with you all Amen.

||Or, are disobedient.

CHAP. XVI.

3 Paul willeth the brethren to greet many, 17 and adviſeth them to take heed of those which cause diſſenſion and offences, 21 and after ſundry ſalutations endeth with praife and thanks to God.

I Commend unto you Phebe our ſiſter, which is a ſervant of the church which is at Cenchrea :

11 Salute Herodion my kinſman. Greet them that be of ſell houſhold of Marcianus, which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Triphena and Triphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Perſis, which laboured much in the Lord.

13 Salute Rufus choſen in the Lord, and his mother, and mine.

14 Salute Aſyncertus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus and Julia, Derens, and his ſiſter, and Olympas, and all the ſaints which are with them.

16 Salute one another with an holy kiſſe. The churches of Chriſt ſalute you.

17 Now I beſeech you, brethren, mark them which cauſe diſſenſions and offences, contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned, and avoid them.

27 To God onely will be glory through Jesus Christ for ever. Amen.

¶ Written to the Romanes from Corinthus, and sent by Phoebe servant of the church at Cenchrea.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL the apostle to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAP. I.

After his salutation and thanksgiving, 10 he exhorteth them to unitie, 12 and reproveth their dissensions.

18 God destroyeth the wisdom of the wise 21 by the foolishnesse of preaching, and 26 calleth not the wise, mighty, and noble, but 27, 28 the foolish, weak, and men of no account.

And called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ, through the will of God, and soothenes our brother,

2 Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that * are sanctified in Christ Jesus, * called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the Name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours:

3 Grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thank my God alwayes on your behalfe, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ,

5 That in every thing ye are enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge:

6 Even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you.

7 So that ye come behinde in no gift; waiting for the † coming of our Lord Jesus Christ,

8 Who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blamelesse in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 * God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no † divisions among you: but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same minde, and in the same judgement.

11 For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul, and I of * Apollo, and I of Cephas, and I of Christ.

13 Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but * Crispus and Gaius:

15 Lest any should say, that I had baptized in mine own name.

16 And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: * not with wisdom of † words, lest the crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnesse: but unto us which are saved, it is the * power of God.

19 For it is written, * I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 * Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 * For after that, in the wisdom of God, the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishnesse of preaching to save them that beleve.

22 For the * Jewes require a signe, and the Greeks seek after wisdom.

23 But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jewes a stumbling block, and unto the Greeks foolishnesse:

24 But unto them which are called, both Jewes and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God.

25 Because the foolishnesse of God is wiser then men: and the weaknesse of God is stronger then men.

26 For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, nor many mighty, nor many noble are called.

27 But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wise: and God hath chosen the weak things of the world, to confound the things which are mighty,

28 And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are,

29 That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption:

CHAP. II.

He declareth that his preaching, though it bring not excellencie of speech, or of humane wisdom: yet consisteth in the 4, 5 power of God: and so far excelleth the wisdom of this world, and humane sense, as that the naturall man cannot understand it.

And I, brethren, when I came to you, * came not with excellencie of speech, or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God.

2 For I remained not to know any thing among you, that Jesus Christ and him crucified.

3 And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4 And my speech, and my preaching * was not with cunning words of mans wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit, and of power:

5 That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

6 Doubtless we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought.

7 But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom which God ordained before the world unto our glory.

8 Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 But as it is written, * Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

10 But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the Spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we have received, not the Spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

13 * Which things also we speak, not in the wise words, mans wisdom teacheth, but which the holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 But the naturall man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 * But he that is spiritual, || judgeth all things, yet he himself is || judged of no man.

16 * For who hath known the minde of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the minde of Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 Milk is fit for children. 3 Strife and division, arguments of a baby mind. 7 He that planteth, and he that watereth, is but one. 9 The ministers are Gods labourers and knowers. 11 Christ the only foundation. 12 With him the temple of God, 13 which must be kept holy. 14 The wisdom of this world is foolishness to us with God.

And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnall, even as unto babes in Christ.

2 I have fed you with milk, and not with meat:

for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet carnall: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and || divisions, are ye not carnall, and walk as men?

4 For while one saith, I am of Paul, and another, I am of Apollo, are ye not carnall?

5 Altho then is Paul, and who is Apollo, but ministers by whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man?

6 I have planted, Apollo watered: but God giveth the increase.

7 So then, neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth: but God that giveth the increase.

8 Now he that planteth, and he that watereth, are one: * and every man shall receive his own reward, according to his own labour.

9 For we are labourers together with God, ye are Gods || husbandry, ye are Gods building.

10 According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise master-builder I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11 For other foundation can no man lay, then that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

12 Now if any man build upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble:

13 Every mans work shall be made manifest. For the day shall declare it, because it || shall be revealed by fire, and the fire shall try every mans work, of what sort it is.

14 If any mans work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.

15 If any mans work shall be burnt, he shall suffer losse: but he himself shall be saved: yet so, as by fire.

16 * Know ye not that ye are the temple of God; and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man || defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18 Let no man deceive himself: if any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19 For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God, for it is written, * He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

20 And again, * The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21 Therefore let no man glory in men, for all things are yours.

22 Whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come, all are yours:

23 And ye are Christs, and Christ is Gods.

CHAP. IIII.

1 In what account the ministers ought to be had.

7 We have nothing which we have not received.

9 The apostles spectacles to the world, angels and men, 13 the filth and off-scouring of the world:

15 yet our fathers in Christ, 16 whom we ought to follow.

Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God.

2 Whereover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

4 For I know nothing by my self, yet am I not hereby justified, but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5 * Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God.

6 And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to my self, and to Apollo, for your sakes: that ye might learn in us not to think of men, above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.

7 For who maketh thee to differ from another? And what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory as if thou hadst not received it?

8 Now ye are full, now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us, and I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you.

9 For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as it were appointed to death. For we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 We are fools for Christs sake, but ye are wise in Christ: we are weak, but ye are strong: ye are honourable, but we are despised.

11 Even unto this present hour we both hunger and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwelling place:

12 * And labour, working with our own hands: being reviled we bless: being persecuted, we suffer it:

13 * Being defamed, we intreat: we are made as the filth of the world, and are the off-scouring of all things unto this day.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sons I warn you.

15 For though you have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel.

16 Wherefore I beseech you, be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause have I sent unto you Timotheus who is my beloved sonne, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my words which be in Christ, as I teach every where in every church.

18 Now some are puffed up as though I would not come to you.

19 * But I will come to you shortly, * if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.

20 For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meeknesse?

CHAP. V.

1 The incestuous person & is cause rather of shame unto them, then of rejoycing. 7 The old leaven is to be purged out. 10 Hainous offenders are to be shunned and avoided.

It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication, as is not so much as named amongst the Gentiles, that one should have his fathers wife.

2 And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed, might be taken away from among you.

3 * For I verily as absent in body, but present in spirit, have I judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed;

4 In the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,

5 * To deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

6 Your glorying is not good: * know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us.

8 Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickednesse: but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in an epistle, not to company with fornicators.

10 Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters: for then must ye needs go out of the world:

11 But now I have written unto you, not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner, with such an one, no not to eat.

12 For what have I to do to judge them also that are without? Do not ye judge them that are within?

13 But them that are without, God judgeth. Therefore put away from among your selves that wicked person.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Corinthians must not vex their brethren, in going to law with them: 6 especially under infidels

9 The unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God. 15 Our bodies are the members of Christ, 19 and temples of the holy Ghost: 16, 17 they must not therefore be defiled.

Are any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?

2 Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

4 If then ye have judgements of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge, who are least esteemed in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man amongst you? no not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.

7 Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another: why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer your selves to be defrauded?

8 Nay, you do wrong and defraud, and that your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? We not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind,

10 Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

12 All things are lawfull unto me, but all things are not expedient : all things are lawfull for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats : but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord : and the Lord for the body.

14 And God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power.

15 Know ye not, that your bodies are the members of Christ : shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What, know ye not that he which is joyned to an harlot, is one body : (saith he) shall be one flesh.

17 But he that is joyned unto the Lord, is one Spirit.

18 Flee fornication. Every sinne that a man doeth, is without the body : but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his own body.

19 What, know ye not that your body is the temple of the holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?

20 For ye are bought with a price : therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your spirit, which are Gods.

CHAP. VII.

2 He treateth of marriage, 4 shewing it to be a remedy against fornication : 10 and that the bond thereof ought not lightly to be dissolved. 18, 20 Every man must be content with his vocation. 25 Virginities wherefore to be embraced. 35 And for what respects we may either marry, or obtain from marrying.

NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me : It is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3 Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence : and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4 The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband : and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5 Defraud you not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give your selves to fasting and prayer, and come together again, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6 But I speak this by permission, and not of commandment.

7 For I would that all men were even as I myself : but every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, It is good for them if they abide even as I.

9 But if they cannot contain, let them marry : for it is better to marry than to burn.

10 And unto the married, I command, yet not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband :

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband : and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, not the Lord, If any brother hath a wife that beleeveth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that beleeveth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband : else were your children unclean, but now are they holy.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases : but God hath called us to peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save the husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk : and so ordain I in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised : is any called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a servant? care not for it : but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's freeman : likewise also ye that are called being free, are Christ's servants.

23 Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, let every man wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins, I have no commandment of the Lord : yet I give my judgement as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present distress, I say, that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned : nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh : but I spare you.

29 But this I say, brethren, The time is short. It remaineth, that both they that have wives, be as though they had none :

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not : and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not : and they that buy, as though they possessed not :

31 And they that use this world, as not abusing it : for the fashion of this world passeth away.

32 But I would have you without carefulness. He that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord :

33 But he that is married, careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is difference also between a wife and a virgin : the unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy, both in body and in spirit : but she that is married, careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speak for your own profit, not that I might cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that you may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

† Gr. in peace.

† Gr made free.

|| Or, necessity

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if he passe the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart, that he will keep his virgin, doth well.

38 So then, he that giveth her in marriage, doth well: but he that giveth her not in marriage, doth better.

39 The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth, but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will, only in the Lord.

40 But she is happier if she so abide, after my judgement: and I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

CHAP. VIII.

1 To abstain from meats offered to idols. 8, 9, We must not abuse our Christian libertie, to the offence of our brethren: 11, but must bridle our knowledge with charitie.

NOW as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but charitie edifieth.

2 And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man love God, the same is known of him.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many)

6 But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we // in him, and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge: for some with conscience of the idol unto this hour, eat it as a thing offered unto an idol, and their conscience being weak is defiled.

8 But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither if we eat, // are we the better: neither if we eat not, // are we the worse.

9 But take heed lest by any means this // liberty of yours become a stumbling block to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee which hath knowledge sit at meat in the idols temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak be // emboldened to eat those things which are offered unto idols:

11 And through thy knowledge shall thy weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

12 But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13 Therefore if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAP. IX.

1 He sheweth his libertie, 7 and that the minister ought to live by the gospel: 15 yet that himself hath of his own accord abstained 18 to be either chargeable unto them, 23 or offensive unto any, in matters indifferent: 24 Our life is like unto a race.

AM I not an apostle? am I not free? have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? are not you my work in the Lord?

2 If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubt, lette I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.

3 Wine and beer to them that do examine me, is this,

4 Have we not power to eat and to drink?

5 Have we not power to lead about a sister, a // wife, as well as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord and Cephas?

6 Or I only and Barnabas, have not we power to forbear working?

7 Altho goeth a warfare any time at his own charges: who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?

8 Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also.

9 For it is written in the law of Moses, * Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? for our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that he that ploweth should plow in hope: and that he that sareth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.

11 * If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things?

12 If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? nevertheless, we have not used this power: but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.

13 * Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things, // live of the things of the temple: and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the altar?

14 Even so hath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the gospel, should live of the gospel.

15 But I have used none of these things: neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for it were better for me to die, then that any man should make my glorying void.

16 For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me, yea, woe is unto me if I preach not the gospel.

17 For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward: but if against my will a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.

18 What is my reward then? verely that when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not my power in the gospel.

19 For though I be free from all men, yet have I made my self servant unto all, that I might gain the more.

20 And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews: to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law:

21 To them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ) that I might gain them that are without law.

22 To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some.

23 And this I do for the gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

24 Know ye not that they which run in a race, run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run that ye may obtain.

25 And every man that strive for the mastery, is temperate in all things : now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown ; but we an incorruptible.

26 I therefore so run, not as uncertainly : so fight I, not as one that beatech the air :

27 But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection : lest that by any means when I have preached to others, I myself should be a cast-away.

CHAP. X.

1 The sacraments of the Jews 6 are types of ours, 7 and their punishments 11 examples for us. 14 We must flee from idolatry. 21 We must not make the Lords table the table of devils : 24 and in things indifferent we must have regard of our brethren.

Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed thorow the sea :

2 And were all baptized unto Moles in the cloud, and in the sea :

3 And did all eat the same Spirituall meat,

4 And did all drink the same Spirituall drinke : (for they drank of that Spirituall Rock that I followed them : and that Rock was Christ.)

5 But with many of them God was not well pleased : for they were overthrowen in the wilderness.

6 Now these things were [†] our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things as [†] they also lusted.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them, as it is written, * The people sat down to eat and drinke, and rose up to play.

8 Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and * fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

9 Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were * destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were * destroyed of the destroyer.

11 Now all these things happened unto them for ^{||} ensamples : and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you, but ^{||} such as is common to man : but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able : but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

14 Wherefore my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry.

15 I speak as to wise men : judge ye what I say.

16 The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ ? the bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ ?

17 For we being many are one bread, and one body : for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18 Behold Israel after the flesh : are not they which eat of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar ?

19 What say I then ? that the stool is any thing, or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing :

20 But I say, that the things which the Gentiles * sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils and not to God : and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.

21 Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lords, and the cup of devils : ye cannot be partakers of the Lords table, and of the table of devils.

22 Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy ? are we stronger than he ?

23 All things are lawfull for me, but all things are not expedient : all things are lawfull for me, but all things edifie not.

24 Let no man seek his own : but every man anothers wealth.

25 Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

26 For * the earth is the Lords, and the fulnesse thereof.

27 If any of them that believe not, bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to go, whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say unto you, This is offered in sacrifice unto idols, eat not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake. * The earth is the Lords, and the fulnesse thereof.

29 Conscience I say, not thine own, but of the others : for why is my liberty judged of another mans conscience ?

30 For, if I by ^{||} grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of for that, for which I give thanks ?

31 Whether therefore ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32 Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the [†] Gentiles, nor to the Church of God :

33 Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAP. XI.

1 He reproveth them, because in holy assemblies 4 their men prayed with their heads covered, and 6 women with their heads uncovered, 17 and because generally their meetings were not for the better, but for the worse, as 21 namely in profaning with their own feasts the Lords supper. 23 Lastly, he calleth them to the first institution thereof.

4 their men prayed with their heads covered, and 6 women with their heads uncovered, 17 and because generally their meetings were not for the better, but for the worse, as 21 namely in profaning with their own feasts the Lords supper. 23 Lastly, he calleth them to the first institution thereof.

Be ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.

2 Now I praise you, brethren, that you remember me in all things, and keep the ^{||} ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

3 But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ : and the head of the woman is the man, and the head of Christ is God.

4 Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered, dishonoureth her head : for that is even all one as if she were shaven.

6 For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn : but if it be a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

7 For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God : but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman : but the woman of the man.

9 Neither was the man created for the woman : but the woman for the man.

11 Nevertheless, neither is the man without the woman; neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.
12 For as the woman is of the man: even so is the man also by the woman: but all things of God.
13 Judge in your selves: is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered?
14 Doth not even nature it self teach you, that if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?
15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her; for her hair is given her for a || covering.
16 But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom; neither the churches of God.
17 Now in this that I declare unto you, I praise you not, that you come together not for the better, but for the worse.
18 For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there be || divisions among you, and I partly beleve it.
19 For there must be also || heresies among you,
that they which are approved, may be made manifested among you.
20 When ye come together therefore into one place, || this is not to eat the Lords supper.
21 For in eating every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.
22 What have ye not houses to eat and to drink in; or despise ye the church of God, and shame || them that have not? What shall I say to you?
Shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.
23 For I have received of the Lord, that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread:
24 *And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat, this is my body, which is broken for you: this do || in remembrance of me.
25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.
26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, || ye do shew the Lords death till he come.
27 Wherefore, whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.
28 But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.
29 For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh || damnation to himself, not discerning the Lords body.
30 For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.
31 For if we would judge our selves, we should not be judged.
32 But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.
33 Wherefore my brethren, when ye come to-

CHAP. XII.

1 Spiritual gifts 4 are divers, 7 yet all to profit withall. 8 And to that end are diversly bestowed.
12 That by the like proportion, as the members of a naturall body tend all to the 16 mutuall decencie, 22 service, and 26 succour of the same body:
27 so we should do one for another, to make up the mysticall body of Christ.

NOW concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.
2 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led.
3 Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God, calleth Jesus || accursed: and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.
4 Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit.
5 And there are differences of administrations,
but the same Lord.
6 And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all.
7 But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withall.
8 For to one is given by the Spirit, the word of wisdom, to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit:
9 To another faith by the same Spirit: to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit:
10 To another the working of miracles, to another prophesie, to another discerning of spirits, to another divers kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.
11 But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.
12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ.
13 For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or || Gentiles, whether we be bond or free: and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.
14 For the body is not one member, but many.
15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?
16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body: is it therefore not
of the body?
17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?
18 But now hath God set the members, every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.
19 And if they were all one member, where were
the body?
20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.
21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again, the head to the feet, I have no need of you.
22 Nay much more, those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary.
23 And those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we || bestow more abundant honour, and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.
24 For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

28 And God hath set some in the church: first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues.

CHAP. XIII.

1 All gifts 2, 3 how excellent soever are nothing worth without charity. 4 The praises thereof, and 13 prelation before hope and faith.

Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And though I have the gift of prophesie, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge: and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have no charity, I am nothing.

3 And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Charity suffereth long, and is kinde: charitie envieth not: charitie is vaunteth not it self, is not puffed up.

8 Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophesies, they shall fail: whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 For we know in part, and we prophesie in part.

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

Or. reasoned

12 For now we see through a glasse, & darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part, but then shall I know even as also I am known.

Or. in a riddle.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Prophecie is commended, 2, 3, 4 and perferred before speaking with tongues, 6 by a comparison drawn from musical instruments: 12 Both must be referred to edification, 22 as to their true and proper end. 26 The true use of each is taught, 27 and the abuse taxed. 34 Women are forbidden to speak in the church.

Follow after charity, and desire spirituall gifts, but rather that ye may prophesie.

2 For he that speaketh in an unknown tongue, speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man understandeth him: howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

Or. hear-eth.

3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue, edifieth himself: but he that prophesieth, edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that you prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth, then he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret: that the church may receive edifying.

6 Now brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

Or. times.

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battell?

9 So likewise you, except you utter by the tongue words that be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.

Or. significant.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them are without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a Barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a Barbarian unto me.

12 Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excell to the edifying of the church.

Or. of spirits.

13 Wherefore let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.

16 Else when thou shalt blesse with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned, say Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than you all:

19 Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, than by my voice I might teach others also, then ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye children, but in understanding be ye men.

21 In the law it is written, Cleave men of other tongues and other lips, will I speak unto this people: and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.

Or. perfect, or, of a ripe age.

* 112. 28. 11.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleeve, but to them that beleeve not: but prophesying serveth not for them that beleeve not, but for them which beleeve.

23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophesie, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unconvinced, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all.

25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest, and so falling down on his face, he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth.

26 Now is it then, brethren? when ye come to gether, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done to edifying.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church, and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29 Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge.

30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.

31 For we may all prophesie one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.

32 And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.

34 Let your women keep silence in the churches, for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law.

35 And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

36 What? came the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only?

37 If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you, are the commandments of the Lord.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, covet to prophesie, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40 Let all things be done decently, and in order.

CHAP. XV.

3 By Christ's resurrection, 12 he proveth the necessity of our resurrection, against all such as deny the resurrection of the body. 21 The fruit, 35 and manner thereof, 51 and of the changing of them that shall be found alive at the last day.

Moreover brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also you have received, and wherein ye stand.

2 By which also are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain.

3 For I delivered unto you first of all, that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures:

4 And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures:

5 And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve.

6 After that he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once: of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

7 After that he was seen of James, then of all the apostles.

8 And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time.

9 For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.

10 But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me, was not in vain: but I laboured more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me:

11 Therefore whether it were I, or they, so we preach, and so ye believe.

12 Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God, because we have testified of God, that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised.

17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins.

18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished.

19 If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first-fruits of them that slept.

21 For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

23 But every man in his own order. Christ the first-fruits, afterward they that are Christs, at his coming.

24 Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, then the Father, when he shall have put down all rule, and all authority, and power.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed, is death.

27 For he hath put all things under his feet; but when he saith all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.

28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do, which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?

30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?

31 I protest by my soul, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.

32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantage is it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink, for to morrow we die.

33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.

34 Awake to righteousness, and sin not: for some have not the knowledge of God, I speak this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, how are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?

36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened except it die.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain.

38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh, but there is one kinde of flesh of men, another flesh of beastes, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestiall bodies, and bodies terrestriall; but the glory of the celestiall is one, and the glory of the terrestriall is another.

41 There is one glory of the Sun, and another glory of the Moone, and another glory of the Stars: for one Star differeth from another Star in glory.

42 So also is the resurrection of the dead, it is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruption.

43 It is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory: it is sown in weaknesse, it is raised in power.

44 It is sown a naturall body, it is raised a spiritual body. There is a naturall body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul, the last Adam was made a quickning spirit.

46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual: but that which is naturall, and afterward that which is spiritual.

47 The first man is of the earth earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.

48 As is the earthy, such are they that are earthy, and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God: neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 Behold, I shew you a mystery: we shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,

52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump, (for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed)

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortall must put on immortallitie.

54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortall shall have put on immortallitie, then shall be brought to passe the saying that is written, * Death is swallowed up in victory.

55 O death, where is thy sting? O Il grave, where is thy victory?

56 The sting of death is sin, and the strength of sin is the law.

57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory, through our Lord Jesus Christ.

58 Therefore my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, alwayes abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as you know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAP. XVI.

1 He exhorted them to relieve the want of the brethren at Jerusalem: 10 commendeth Timothy: 13 and after friendly admonitions, 16 shureth up his epistle with divers salutations.

Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.

2 Upon the first day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

3 And when I come, whomsoever you shall approve by your letters them will I send to bring your liberalitie unto Jerusalem.

4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall passe thorow Macedonia: (for I do passe thorow Macedonia)

6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey, whithersoever I go.

7 For I will not see you now by the way, but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.

8 But I will tarry at Ephesus untill Pentecost.

9 For a great door, and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.

10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you, with the brethren, but his will was not at all to come at this time: but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

13 Marth ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

14 Let all your things be done with charity.

15 I beseech you brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the first fruits of Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to the ministry of the saints)

16 That ye submit your selves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us and laboureth.

17 I am glad of the coming of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part, they have supplied.

18 For they have refreshed my spirit and yours: therefore acknowledge ye them that are such.

19 The churches of Asia salute you: Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house.

20 All the brethren greet you: greet ye one another with an holy kiss.

21 The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand.

22 If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be anathema, Maranatha.

23 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

24 My love be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL the apostle to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAP. I.

3 The apostle encourageth them against troubles, by the comforts and deliverances which God had given him, as in all his afflictions, 8 to particularly in his late danger in Asia: 12 and calling both his own conscience, and theirs to witness of his sincere manner of preaching the immutable truth of the gospel, 15 he exhorteth his not coming to them, as proceeding not of lightness, but of his lenity towards them.

P

And an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia.

2 Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort,

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we our selves are comforted of God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings, which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 And our hope of you is steadfast, knowing that as you are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were picked out of ourselves, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life.

9 But we had the sentence of death in our selves, that we should not trust in our selves, but in God which raiseth the dead.

10 Who delivereth us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us:

11 You also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons, thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

12 For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with crafty wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-wards.

13 For we write none other things unto you, than what you read or acknowledge, and I trust you shall acknowledge even to the end.

14 And as you have acknowledged us in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are ours in the day of the Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence I was minded to come unto you before, that you might have a second benefit:

16 And to pass by you into Macedonia, and to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Judea.

17 When therefore I was thus minded, did I use lightness? or of the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea, yea, and nay, nay?

18 But as God is true, our word toward you, was not yea and nay.

19 For the Son of God Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him amen, unto the glory of God by us.

21 Now he which stablish us with you, in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God.

22 Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts, 23 Wherefore, I call God for a record upon my soul, that to spare you I came not as yet unto Corinth.

24 Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

CHAP. II.

1 Having shewed the reason why he came not to them, 6 he requireth them to forgive and to comfort that excommunicated person, 10 even as himself also upon his true repentance had forgiven him: 13 Declaring withal why he departed from Troas to Macedonia, 14 and the happy success which God gave to his preaching in all places.

But I determined this with my self, that I would not come again to you in heaviness.

2 For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest when I came I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice, having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart, I wrote unto you with many tears, not that you should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

6 Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.

7 So that contrariwise, ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

8 Wherefore I beseech you, that ye would confirm your love towards him.

9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgive any thing, to whom I forgive it, for your sakes forgive I it, in the person of Christ.

11 Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia.

14 Now thanks be unto God which alwayes canterb us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the favour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15 For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ in them that are saved, and in them that perish.

16 To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other, the savour of life unto life: and who is sufficient for these things?

17 For we are not as many, which is corrupt the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we in Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 Left their false teachers should charge them with vain-glory, he sheweth the faith and graces of the Corinthians to be a sufficient commendation of his ministry. 6 Whereupon entering a comparison between the ministers of the law and of the gospel, 12 he proveth that his ministry is so far the more excellent, as the gospel of life and liberty is more glorious then the law of condemnation.

DO we begin again to commend our selves? or need we, as some others, epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2 We are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men.

3 For as much as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

4 And such trust have we through Christ to God-ward.

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selves to think any thing as of our selves; but our sufficiency is of God.

6 Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament, not of the letter, but of the Spirit: for the letter killeth, but the Spirit is giveth life.

7 But if the ministracion of death written, and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his countenance, which glory was to be done away:

8 How shall not the ministracion of the Spirit be rather glorious?

9 For if the ministracion of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministracion of righteousness exceed in glory.

10 For even that which was made glorious, had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great boldnesse of speech.

13 And not as Moses which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to the end of that which is abolished.

14 But their mindes were blinded: for untill this day remaineth the same vail untaken away, in the reading of the old testament: which vail is done away in Christ.

15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.

16 Hebertelle when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.

17 Now the Lord is that Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18 But we all with open face, beholding as in a glasse the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He declareth how he hath used all sincerity and faithfull diligence in preaching the gospel, 7 and how the troubles and persecutions which he daily endured for the same, did redound to the praise of Gods power, 12 to the benefit of the church, 16 and to the apostles own eternall glory.

Therefore seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy we faint not,

2 But have renounced the hidden things of dishonestie, not walking in craftinesse, nor handling the word of God deceitfully, but by manifestation of the truth, commending our selves to every mans conscience in the sight of God.

3 But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost.

4 In whom the God of this world hath blinded the mindes of them which beleve not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

5 For we preach not our selves, but Christ Jesus the Lord, and our selves your servants for Jesus sake.

6 For God who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of the power may be of God, and not of us.

8 We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair;

9 Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

10 Alwayes bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.

11 For we which live, are alway delivered unto death for Jesus sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12 So then death worketh in us, but life in you.

13 We having the same Spirit of faith, according as it is written, * I beleved, and therefore have I spoken: we also beleve, and therefore speak,

14 Knowing, that he which raised up the Lord Jesus, shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

15 For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many, redound to the glory of God.

16 For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternall weight of glory;

18 While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen, are temporal; but the things which are not seen, are eternall.

For, deal deceitfully with.

For of the Lord the Spirit.

Gr. shame.

For quickeneth.

For not altogether without help or means.

For boldnesse.

* Gal. 1. 16. 10

CHAP. V.

1 That in his assured hope of immortall glory, 9 and inexpectance of it, and of the generall judgement, he laboureth to keep a good conscience, 12 not that he may herein boast of himself, 14 but as one that having received life from Christ, endeavoureth to live as a new creature to Christ onely, 18 and by his ministry of reconciliation to reconcile others also in Christ to God.

For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternall in the heavens.

2 For in this we grieve earnestly, desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven.

3 If so be that being clothed, we shall not be found naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle do grieve, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

5 Now he that hath wrought us for the self same thing, is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

6 Therefore we are alwayes confident, knowing that whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord.

7 (For we walk by faith, not by sight.)

8 We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9 Therefore we labour, that whether present or absent we may be accepted of him.

10 For we must all appear before the judgement seat of Christ, that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God, and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For we commend not our selves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that you may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

13 For whether we be besides our selves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

14 For the love of Christ constraineth us, because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead:

15 And that he died for all, that they which live, should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16 Therefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17 Therefore if any man be in Christ, || he is a new creature: * old things are past away, behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation,

19 To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them, and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christs stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21 For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin: that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

That he hath approved himself a faithful minister of Christ, both by his exhortations, 3 and by integrity of life, 4 and by patient enduring all kinds of affliction and disgraces for the gospel. 10 Of which he speaketh the more boldly amongst them, because his heart is open to them: 13 and he expecteth the like affection from them again: 14 exhorting to flee the society and pollution of idolaters, as being themselves temples of the living God.

We then as workers together with him, beseech you also, that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.

2 (For he saith, * I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time: behold, now is the day of salvation)

3 Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed;

4 But in all things approving our selves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 In stripes, in imprisonments, || in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings,

6 By pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,

7 By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness, on the right hand, and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers, and yet true:

9 As unknown, and yet well known: as dying, and behold, we live: as chastened, and not killed:

10 As sorrowful, yet alway rejoicing: as poor, yet making many rich: as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged.

12 We are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your own bowels.

13 Now for a recompence in the same, (I speak as unto my children) be ye also enlarged.

14 We ye not unqually yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth, with an infidel?

16 And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, * I will dwell in them, and walk in them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 * Therefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you,

18 And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAP. VII.

1 He proceedeth in exhorting them to purity of life, 2 and to bear him like affection as he doth to them: 3 Whereof, lest he might seem to doubt, he declareth what comfort he took in his afflictions, by the report which Titus gave of their godly sorrow, which his former epistle had wrought in them, 13 and of their loving, kindnesse and obedience towards Titus, answerable to his former blessings of them.

Having therefore these promises (dearly beloved) let us cleanse our selves from all filthiness ness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 Receive us, we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.

3 I speak not this to condemn you : for I have said before, that you are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you, I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 For when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side; without were fightings, within were fears.

6 Nevertheless, God that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus.

7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me, so that I rejoiced the more.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though I did repent : for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance, for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.

10 For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of : but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For behold, this self-same thing that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you ; yea, what clearing of your selves ; yea, what indignation, yea, what fears, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge : in all things ye have approved your selves to be clear in this matter.

12 Wherefore though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nay for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort, yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed, but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting which I made before Titus is found a truth.

15 And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling you received him.

16 I rejoice therefore that I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAP. VIII.

1 He stirreth them up to a liberrall contribution for the poor saints at Jerusalem, by the example of the Macedonians, 7 by commendation of their former forwardness, 9 by the example of Christ, 14 and by the spiritual profit that shall redound to themselves thereby : 16 commending to them the integrity and willingness of Titus, and those other brethren, who upon his request, exhortation, and commendation, were purposely come to them for this business.

Moreover brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia :

2 How that in a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their joy, and their deep poverty, abounded unto the riches of their liberality.

3 For to their power (I bear record) yea and beyond their power they were willing of themselves :

4 Praying us with much intreaty, that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God.

6 Inasmuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.

7 Therefore as ye abound in every thing, in faith, in utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us ; so that ye abound in this grace also.

8 I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 And herein I give my advice, for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago.

11 Now therefore perform the doing of it, that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which you have.

12 For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 For I mean not that other men be eased, and you burdened :

14 But by an equality : that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want, that there may be equality.

15 As it is written, he that hath gathered much, had nothing over, and he that had gathered little, had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

17 For indeed he accepted the exhortation, but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the gospel, throughout all the churches :

19 And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with this gift of grace which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind.

20 Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us :

21 Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, wherein we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which I have in you.

23 Whether any do enquire of Titus ; he is my partner, and fellow-worker concerning you : or our brethren be enquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf.

C H A P. IX.

He yeellecth the reason why, though he knew their forwardnesse, yet he sent Titus and his brethren beforehand. 6 And he proceedeth in stirring them up to a bountifull almes, as being but a kinde of sowing of seed, to which shall return a great increase to them, 13 and occasion a great sacrifice of thanksgiving unto God.

For, as touching the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you.

2 For I know the forwardnesse of your minde, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that Achata was ready a year ago, and your zeal hath provoked very many.

3 Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf, that, as I said, ye may be ready.

4 Let haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you unprepared, we (that we say not you) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your tithes, of which ye had notice before, that the same might be ready as a matter of bounty, not of covetousnesse.

6 But this, I say, by which soweth sparingly, shall reap sparingly: and he which soweth bountifullly, shall reap bountifullly.

7 Every man according as he purpoeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity: for * God loveth a cheerful giver.

8 And God is able to make all grace abound towards you, that ye alwayes having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work.

9 (As it is written, * We hath dispersed abroad: he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever.

10 Now he that * ministereth seed to the sower, both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness.)

11 Being enriched in every thing to all bountifullnesse, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12 For the administration of this service, not onely supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God.

13 Whiles by the experiment of this ministration the glory of God for your professed subjection unto the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberrall distribution unto them, and unto all men:

14 And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding grace of God in you.

15 Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift.

C H A P. X.

Against the false apostles, who disgraced the weakness of his person and bodily presence, he setteth out the spirituall might and authority, with which he is armed against all adversary powers, 7 assuring them that at his coming hee will be found as mighty in word, as he is now in writing being absent: 13 and withall taxing them for reaching out themselves beyond their compasse, and vaunting themselves into other mens labours.

Now I Paul myself beseech you, by the meeknesse and gentlenesse of Christ, who in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you.

2 But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present, with that confidence wherewith I think to be bold against some which I think of us, as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4 (For the weapons of our warfare are not carnall, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds)

5 Casting down all imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ:

6 And having in a readinesse to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Do ye look on things after the outward appearance? If any man trust to himself, that he is Christ, let him of himself think this again, that as he is Christ, even so are we Christs.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority, (which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction) I should not be ashamed:

9 That I may not seem as if I would terrifie you by letters.

10 For his letters (say they) are weighty and powerful, but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible:

11 Let such an one think this, that such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

12 For we dare not make our selves of the number, or compare our selves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves amongst themselves, are not wise.

13 But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the || rule, which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14 For we stretch not our selves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you, for we are come as far as to you also, in preaching the gospel of Christ:

15 Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, of other mens labours, but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be || enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly.

16 To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another mans || line of things made ready to our hand.

17 * But be that gloryeth, let him glory in the Lord.

18 For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

C H A P. XI.

1 Out of his jealousie over the Corinthians, who seemed to make more account of the false apostles, then of him, he entereth into a forced commendation of himself, 5 of his equalitie with the chief apostles, 7 of his preaching the gospel to them freely, and without any their charge, 13 shewing that he was not inferior to those deceitfull workers, in any legall prerogative; 23 and in the service of Christ, and in all kinde of sufferings, for his ministry, far superiour.

Would to God you could bear with me a little in my folly, and indeed I bear with me.

2 For I am jealous over you with godly jealousie, for I have espoused you to one husband, that that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ.

3 But I fear lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtiltie, so your mindes should be corrupted from the simplicitie that is in Christ.

4 For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him.

5 For I suppose I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.

6 But though I be rude in speech, yet not in knowledge; but we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

7 Have I committed an offence in abasing my self that you might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other churches, taking wages of them to do you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me, the brethren which came from Macedonia, supplied, and in all things I have kept my self from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep my self.

10 As the truth of Christ is in me, † no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion: that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 For such are false apostles, deceitfull workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.

14 And no marvel, for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness, whose end shall be according to their works.

16 I say again, Let no man think me a fool: if otherwise, yet as a fool I receive me, that I may boast my self a little.

17 That which I speak, I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly in this confidence of boasting.

18 Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.

19 For ye suffer fools gladly, seeing ye your selves are wise.

20 For ye suffer if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face.

21 I speak as concerning reproach, as though we had been weak: howbeit, whereinsoever any is bold, I speak foolishly, I am bold also.

22 Are they Hebrews? so am I: are they Israelites? so am I: are they the seed of Abraham? so am I:

23 Are they ministers of Christ? I speak as a fool, I am more: in labours more abundant: in stripes above measure: in prisons more frequent: in deaths oft.

24 Of the Jews five times received I † forty stripes save one.

25 Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck: a night and a day I have been in the deep.

26 In journeying often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by mine own countreymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren, 27 In wearinesse and painefulnesse, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakednesse.

28 Besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches.

29 Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burn not?

30 If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.

31 The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 In Damascus the governour under Aretas the king, kept the city with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me.

33 And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAP. XII.

1 For commending of his apostleship, though he might glory of his wonderfull revelations, 9 yet he rather chooseth to glory of his infirmities, 11 blaming them for forcing him to this vain boasting, 14 He promisseth to come to them again; but yet altogether in the affliction of a father, 20 although he seareth he shall to his grief finde many offenders, and publike disorders there.

It is not expedient for me doubtlesse to glory, I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.

2 I knew a man in Christ above fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I cannot tell, or whether out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth) such an one caught up to the third heaven.

3 And I knew such a man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth)

4 How that he was caught up into paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawfull for a man to utter.

5 Of such an one will I glory, yet of my self I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool: for I will say the truth. But now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me:

7 And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a † thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

8 For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

10 Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christs sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become a fool in glorying, ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though I be nothing.

12 Truly the signes of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signes and wonders, and mighty deeds.

|| Or, possible.

* See Ezek. 28. 24.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other churches, except it be that I my self was not burdenome, to you: forgive me this wrong.

14 Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you: and I will not be burdenome to you, for I seek not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you, though the more abundantly I love you, the lesse I be loved.

16 But be it so, I did not burden you: never, thelesse being crafty, I caught you with guile.

17 Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you?

18 I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother: did Titus make a gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 Again, think you that we excuse our selves unto you? we speak before God in Christ: but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

20 For I fear lest when I come I shall not finde you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as you would not, lest there be debates, envyings, wrathes, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults, 21 And lest when I come again, my God will humble me among you, and that I shall bewail many which have sinned already, and have not repented of the uncleannesse, and fornication, and lasciviousnesse which they have committed.

CHAP. XIII.

1 He threateth severity, and the power of his apostleship against obdurate sinners: 5 and advising them to a trial of their faith, 7 and to a reformation of their sins before his coming, 11 he concludeth his epistle with a generall exhortation and a prayer.

This is the third time I am coming to you: in the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 I told you before, and foretell you as if I were present the second time, and being absent, now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that if I come again I will not spare:

3 Since ye seek a proof of Christ speaking in me, which to you-wards is not weak, but is mighty in you.

4 For though he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth by the power of God: for we also are weak in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God towards you.

5 Examine your selves, whether ye be in the faith: prove your own selves: know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates.

6 But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray to God that ye do no evil, not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as reprobates.

8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, open your perfection.

10 Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present, I should use sharpnesse, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally, brethren, farewell: Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one minde, live in peace, and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

12 Greet one another with a holy kisse.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

The second epistle to the Corinthians, was written from Philippi a city of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE apostle, to the GALATIANS.

CHAP. I.

6 He wondred that they have so soon left him and the gospel, 8 and accuseth those that preach any other gospel than he did. 11 He learned the gospel not of men, but of God: 13 and sheweth what he was before his calling, 17 and what he did presently after it.

Paul an apostle, not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who called him from the dead,

2 And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia:

3 Grace be to you and peace, from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 Who gave himself for our sinner, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I marvel, that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ, unto another gospel:

7 Which is not another; but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you, than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you, than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

10 For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11 But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me, is not after man.

12 For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my conversation in time past, in the Jews religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it:

† Gr. your souls.

|| Or. with him.

† Or equals
in years.

14 And profited in the Jews religion above many me † equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mothers womb, and called me by his grace,

16 To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen, immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood :

17 Neither went I up to Jerusalem, to them which were apostles before me ; but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

† Or, returned

18 Then after three years I || went up to Jerusalem, to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19 But other of the Apostles saw I none, save James the Lords brother.

20 Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.

21 Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia,

22 And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judea, which were in Christ.

23 But they had heard only, that he which persecuted us in times past, now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAP. II.

1 He sheweth when he went up again to Jerusalem, and for what purpose : 3 and that Titus was not circumcised : 11 and that he resisted Peter, and told him the reason, 14 why he and other, being Jews, do beleve in Christ to be justified by faith, and not by works : 20 and that they live not in sinne, who are so justified.

Then fourteen years after, I went up again to Jerusalem, with Barnabas, and took Titus with me also.

2 And I went up by revelation, and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but || privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run in vain.

3 But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised :

4 And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty, which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage.

5 To whom we gave place by subjection, no not for an hour, that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But of these, who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me, God accepteth no mans person) for they who seemed to be somewhat, in conference added nothing to me.

7 But contrariwise when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter :

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me towards the Gentiles)

9 And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Onely they would that we should remember the poor, the same which I also was forward to do.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles : but when they were come, he withdrew, and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him, inasomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly, according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews ?

15 We who are Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles,

16 Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have beleaved in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law : for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 But if while we seek to be justified by Christ, we our selves also are found sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin : God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things which I destroyed, I make my self a transgressor.

19 For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God.

20 I am crucified with Christ. Nevertheless I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me : and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 I do not frustrate the grace of God : for if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

CHAP. III.

1 He asketh what moved them to leave the faith, and hang upon the law. 6 They that beleve are justified, 9 and blessed with Abraham. 10 And this he sheweth by many reasons.

O Foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that you should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you ?

2 This onely would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith ?

3 Are ye so foolish ? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh ?

4 Have ye suffered || so many things in vain : if it be yet in vain.

† Or, so great.

5 He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith ?

6 Even as Abraham beleaved God, and it was || accounted to him for righteousness.

† Or, imputed

7 Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 And the scripture foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, * In thee shall all nations be blessed.

* Gen. 12. 3.

9 So then they which be of faith, are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the works of the law, are under the curse : for it is written, * Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

* Deu. 27. 26.

11 But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, * the just shall live by faith.

12 And the law is not of faith: but * the man that doth them, shall live in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, * Cursed is every one that hangeth on tree:

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ: that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speak after the manner of men: though it be but a mans covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man dissannulleth, or addeth thereto.

16 Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. We saith not, And to seeds, as of many, but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ.

17 And this I say, that the covenant that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot dissannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come, to whom the promise was made, and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not a mediator of one, but God is one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

22 But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that beleve.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith, which should afterwards be revealed.

24 Wherefore the law was our school-master to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a school-master.

26 For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

27 For as many of you as have been baptized in to Christ, have put on Christ.

28 There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

29 And if ye be Christs, then are ye Abrahams seed, and heirs according to the promise.

CHAP. IIII.

1 We were under the law till Christ came, as the heir is under his guardian till he be of age. 5 But Christ freed us from the law: 7 therefore we are servants no longer to it. 14 He remembereth their good will to him, and his to them, 22 and sheweth that we are the sons of Abraham by the free woman.

NOW I say, that the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant though he be lord of all,

2 But is under tutors and governors, until the time appointed of the father.

3 When so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world:

4 But when the fulness of the time was come,

God sent forth his Son made of a woman, made under the law,

5 To redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.

6 And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son: and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

8 Howbeit then when ye knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But now after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye || again to the weak and beggerly elements, wherunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

10 Ye observe dayes, and moneths, and times, and years.

11 I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

12 Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are, ye have not injured me at all.

13 Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh, I preached the gospel unto you at the first.

14 And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected, but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.

15 || Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?

17 They zealously affect you, but not well: yea, they would exclude || you, that you might affect them.

18 But it is good to be zealously affected alwayes in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.

19 My little children, of whom I travail in birth again untill Christ be formed in you,

20 I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice, for || I stand in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, yethat desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, the one by a bond-maid, the other by a free-woman.

23 But he who was of the bond-woman, was born after the flesh: but he of the free-woman was by promise.

24 Which things are an allegory: for these are the two covenants; the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar.

25 For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and || answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.

26 But Jerusalem which is above, is free, which is the mother of us all.

27 For it is written, * Rejoyce then barren that bearest not: break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath an husband.

28 Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.

29 But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now.

30 Nevertheless, what saith the scripture? * Cast out the bond-woman and her son: for the son of the bond-woman shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman.

31 So then, brethren, we are not children of the bond-woman, but of the free.

CHAP. V.

1 He moveth them to stand in their libertie, 3 and not to observe circumcision: 13 but rather love, which is the sum of the law. 19 He reckoneth up the works of the flesh, 22 and the fruits of the Spirit, 25 and exhorteth to walk in the Spirit.

STand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not intangled again with the yoke of bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

4 Christ is become of no effect unto you, who-soever of you are justified by the law: ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.

6 For in Jesus Christ, neither circumcision abaseth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but faith which worketh by love.

7 Ye did run well, || who did hinder you, that ye should not obey the truth?

8 This persuasion cometh not of him that calleth you.

9 A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.

10 I have confidence in you through the Lord, that you will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you, shall bear his judgement, who-soever he be.

11 And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? then is the offence of the crosse ceased.

12 A would they were even cut off which trouble you.

13 For brethren, ye have been called unto liberty, only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.

14 For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this: * Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self.

15 But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and || ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.

17 For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh, and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

18 But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these, Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,

21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revelings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things, shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, 23 Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.

24 And they that are Christs, have crucified the flesh, with the || affections, and lusts.

25 If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26 Let us not be desirous of vain-glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAP. VI.

1 He moveth them to deal mildly with a brother that hath slipped, 2 and to bear one anothers burdens, to be liberal to their teachers, 9 and not weary of well-doing. 12 He sheweth what they intend that preach circumcision. 14 He glorieth in nothing, save in the crosse of Christ.

Brethren, || if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such a one in the spirit of meekness, considering thy self, lest thou also be tempted.

2 Bear ye one anothers burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.

3 For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4 But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoycing in himself alone, and not in another.

5 For every man shall bear his own burden.

6 Let him that is taught in the word, communicate unto him that teacheth, in all good things.

7 Be not deceived, God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption: but he that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

9 And let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

10 As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.

11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised: only lest they should suffer persecution for the crosse of Christ.

13 For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law, but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

14 But God forbid that I should glory save in the crosse of our Lord Jesus Christ, || by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

15 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision abaseth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.

16 And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man trouble me: for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE apostle to the EPHESIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 After the salutation, and thanksgiving for the Ephesians; 4 he treateth of our election, 6 and adoption by grace, 11 which is the true and proper fountain of mans salvation. 13 And because the height of this mysterie cannot easily be attained unto, 16 he prayeth that they may come 18 to the full knowledge and 20 possession thereof in Christ.

PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to the saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:

2 Grace be to you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ:

4 According as he hath chosen us in him, before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy, and without blame before him in love:

5 Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will:

6 To the praise of the glory of his grace, where in he hath made us accepted in the beloved.

7 In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins; according to the riches of his grace,

8 Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence:

9 Having made known unto us the mysterie of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he hath purposed in himself.

10 That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of times, he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth, even in him:

11 In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him, who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:

12 That he should be to the praise of his glory, who first trusted in Christ.

13 In whom ye also trusted after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise, 14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance, until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints,

16 Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

17 That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the Spirit of wisdom and revelation, in the knowledge of him;

18 The eyes of your understanding being enlightened: that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints:

19 And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, according to the working of his mightie power:

20 Which he wrought in Christ when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places,

21 Far above all principalltie, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not onely in this world, but also in that which is to come:

22 And hath put all things under his feet, & gave him to be the head over all things to the church,

23 Which is his body, the fulnesse of him that filleth all in all.

CHAP. II.

1 By comparing what we were by 3 nature, with what we are 5 by grace, 10 he declareth, that we are made for good works, and 13 being brought near by Christ, should not live as 11 Gentiles, and 12 foreigners in time past, but as 19 citizens with the saints, and the family of God.

AND you hath he quickened who were dead in trespasses and sins,

2 Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience.

3 Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past, in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh, and of the minde, and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.

4 But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us,

5 Even when we were dead in sins hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved.)

6 And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus.

7 That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus.

8 For by grace are ye saved, through faith, and that not of your selves: it is the gift of God:

9 Not of works, lest any man should boast:

10 For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.

11 Wherefore remember that ye being in time pasted Gentiles in the flesh, who are called uncircumcision, by that which is called the circumcision in the flesh made by hands, 12 That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the common-wealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world.

13 But now in Christ Jesus, ye who sometimes were far off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us:

15 Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments, contained in ordinances, for to make in himself, of twaine, one new man, so making peace.

16 And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the crosse, having slain the enmity || thereby :

17 And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh.

18 For through him we both have an access by one Spirit unto the Father.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow-citizens with the saints, and of the household of God :

20 And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone.

21 In whom all the building fitly framed together, groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord :

22 In whom you also are built together for an habitation of God through the Spirit.

CHAP. III.

5 The hidden myserie, 6 that the Gentiles should be saved, 3 was made known to Paul by revelation: 8 and to him was that grace given, that 9 he should preach it. 13 He desireth them not to faint for his tribulations, 14 and prayeth 19 that they may perceive the great love of Christ toward them.

For this cause, I Paul, the prisoner of Jesus Christ for you Gentiles,

2 If ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God which is given me to you-ward,

3 Now that by revelation he made known unto me the myserie, (as I wrote || afore in few words,

4 Whereby when ye read ye may understand my knowledge in the myserie of Christ)

5 Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit;

6 That the Gentiles should be fellow heirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ, by the gospel;

7 Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me, by the effectuall working of his power.

8 Unto me, who am lesse then the least of all saints is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ,

9 And to make all men see, what is the fellowship of the myserie, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ :

10 To the intent that now unto the principallities and powers in heavenly places, might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God,

11 According to the eternall purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord :

12 In whom we have boldnesse and access with confidence by the faith of him.

13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

15 Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named,

16 That he would grant you according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might, by his Spirit in the inner-man :

17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith, that ye being rooted and grounded in love,

18 May be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height :

19 And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulnesse of God.

20 Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us;

21 Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus, throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 He exhorteth to unitie, 7 and declareth that God therefore giveth divers 11 gifts unto men, that his church might be 13 edified and 16 grown up in Christ. 18 He calleth them from the impurity of the Gentiles, 24 to put on the new man, 25 to cast off lying, and 29 corrupt communication.

I therefore the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,

2 With all lowlinesse and meeknesse, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love,

3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

4 There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling.

5 One Lord, one faith, one baptisme,

6 One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.

7 But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, * When he ascended up on high, he led || captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9 Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?

10 He that descended, is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might || fill all things)

11 * And he gave some, apostles : and some, prophets : and some, evangelists : and some, pastors and teachers ;

12 For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ :

13 Till we all come || in the unitie of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the || stature of the fulnesse of Christ :

14 That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every winde of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftinesse, whereby they lie in wait to deceive :

15 But || speaking the truth in love may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ :

16 * From whom the whole body fitly joyned together, and compacted by that which every joynt supplieth, according to the effectuall working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body, unto the edifying of it self in love.

17 This I say therefore and testifie in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk in the vanity of their minde,

18 Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God, through the ignorance that is in them, because of the * || blindness of their heart :

19 Who being past feeling, have given themselves over unto lasciviousnesse, to work all uncleanness with greedinesse.

27 Neither give place to the devill.

CHAP. V.

2 After generall exhortations to love, 3 to flee fornication, 4 and all uncleanness, 7 not to converse with the wicked, 15 to walk warily, and to be 18 filled with the Spirit, 22 he descendeth to the particular duties, how wives ought to obey their husbands, 25 and husbands ought to love their wives, 32 even as Christ doth his church.

Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children,

2 And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us, an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savour.

3 But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousnesse, let it not be once named among you as becometh saints :

4 Neither filthinesse, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient, but rather giving of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ, and of God.

6 Let no man deceive you with vain words : for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them.

8 For ye were sometime darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord : walk as children of light,

9 (For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness, and righteousness, and truth)

10 Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord :

11 And have no fellowship with the unfruitfull works of darkness, but rather reprove them.

12 For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But all things that are so reprov'd, are made manifest by the light : for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.

14 Wherefore he saith, * Awake thou that sleepest, arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

15 * See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, 16 Redeeming the time, because the dayes are evil.

17 Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is.

18 And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess : but be filled with the Spirit :

19 Speaking to your selves in psalms and hymnes, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord,

20 Giving thanks alwayes for all things unto God and the Father, in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, 21 Submitting your selves one to another in the fear of God.

22 Wives submit your selves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.

23 For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the Church : and he is the Saviour of the body.

24 Therefore as the Church is subject unto Christ : so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

25 Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it :

26 That he might sanctifie and cleanse it with the washing of water, by the word :

27 That he might present it to himself a glorious church not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing : but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives, as their own bodies : he that loveth his wife, loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh : but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church :

30 For we are members of his bodie, of his flesh and of his bones,

31 For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystérie : but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

33 Nevertheless, let every one of you in particular, so love his wife even as himself, and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

CHAP. VI.

1 The dutie of children toward their parents, 5 of servants towards their masters. 10 Our life is a warfare, 12 not onely against flesh and blood, but also spirituall enemies. 13 The compleat armour of a Christian. 18 and how it ought to be used.

21 Tychicus is commended.

Children, obey your parents in the Lord : for this is right.

2 Honour thy father and mother, (which is the first commandment with promise)

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath : but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the Lord, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ :

6 Not with eye-service as men-pleasers, but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart :

7 With which will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men :

8 Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man both, the same shall be receive of the Lord, whether be he bond or free.

9 And ye masters, do the same things unto them, || forbearing threatening : knowing that || your master also is in heaven, neither is there respect of persons with him.

10 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11 But on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12 For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against || spiritual wickedness in || high places.

13 Therefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and || having done all to stand.

14 Stand therefore, having your loynes girt about with truth, and having on the breast-plate of righteousness :

15 And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace.

16 Above all, taking the shield of faith, whereby ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

17 And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.

18 Praying alwayes with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance, and supplication for all saints,

19 And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel :

20 For which I am an ambassador || in bonds : that || thereto I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tychicus a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things.

22 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.

23 Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ || in sincerity. Amen.

¶ Written from Rome unto the Ephesians, by Tychicus.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE apostle to the PHILIPPIANS.

CHAP. I.

3 He testifieth his thankfulness to God, and his love toward them, for the fruits of their faith, and fellowship in his sufferings, 9 daily praying to him for their increase in grace. 12 He sheweth what good the faith of Christ had received by his troubles at Rome, 21 and how ready he is to glorifie Christ, either by his life or death : 27 exhorting them to unity, 28 and to fortitude in persecution.

PAUL and Timotheus the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus, which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons.

2 Grace be unto you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 I thanke my God upon every || remembrance of you,

4 Alwayes in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,

5 For your fellowship in the Gospel from the first day untill now :

6 Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you, || will perform it untill the day of Jesus Christ,

7 Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because || I have you in my heart, in as much as both in my bonds, & in the defence & confirmation of the Gospel, ye all are || partakers of my grace.

8 For God is in my record, how greatly I long after you all, in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

9 And this I pray that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all || judgement :

10 That ye may || approve things that || are excellent, that ye may be sincere, and without offence till the day of Christ :

11 Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand brethren, that the things which happened unto me, have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel.

13 So that my bonds || in Christ are manifest in all the palace, and in all other places.

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

15 Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife, and some also of good will.

16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds, 17 But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

18 What then ? notwithstanding every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached, and I therein do rejoyce, yea, and will rejoyce.

19 For I know that this shall turn to my salvation through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, 20 According to my earnest expectation, and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness as alwayes, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour : yet what I shall choose, I wot not.

23 For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ, which is far better :

24 Nevertheless, to abide in the flesh is more needfull for you.

25 And having this confidence, I know that I

26 That your rejoycing may be more abundant in Iesus Christ for me, by my coming to you again.

27 Onely let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one minde, striving together for the faith of the gospel;

28 And in nothing terrified by your adversaries, which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God.

29 For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not onely to beleve on him, but also to suffer for his sake,

30 Having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

CHAP. II.

He exhorteth them to unity, and to all humblenesse of minde, by the example of Christs humilitie and exaltation: 12 to a carefull proceeding in the way of salvation, that they be as lights to the wicked world, 16 and comforts to him their apostle, who is now ready to be offered up to God. 19 He hopeth to send Timothy to them, whom he greatly commended, 25 as Epaphroditus also, whom he presently sendeth to them.

If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies;

2 Fulfill ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one minde.

3 Let nothing be done through strife, or vain glory, but in lowliness of minde let each esteem other better than themselves.

4 Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

5 Let this minde be in you, which was also in Christ Iesus:

6 Who being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

7 But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men.

8 And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the crosse.

9 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name:

10 That at the name of Iesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth:

11 And that every tongue should confesse, that Iesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 Wherefore my beloved, as ye have alwayes obeyed, not as in my presence onely, but now much more in my absence; work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.

13 For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

14 Do all things without murmurings, and disputings:

15 That ye may be blamelesse, and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world:

16 Holding forth the word of life, that I may rejoyce in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

17 Yea, and if I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoyce with you all.

18 For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoyce with me.

19 But I trust in the Lord Iesus, to send Epaphroditus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I have no man like-minded, who will naturally care for your state.

21 For all seek their own, not the things which are Iesus Christs.

22 But ye know the proof of him, that as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24 But I trust in the Lord, that I also my self shall come shortly.

25 Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and companion in labour, and fellow-soldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.

26 For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.

27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death, but God had mercie on him: and not on him onely, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that when ye see him again, ye may rejoyce, and that I may be the lesse sorrowfull.

29 Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladnesse, and hold such in reputation:

30 Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAP. III.

1 He warneth them to beware of the false teachers of the circumcision, 4 shewing that himself hath greater cause then they, to trust in the righteousness of the law: 7 which notwithstanding he counteth as dung and losse, to gain Christ and his righteousness, 12 therein acknowledging his own imperfection: 15 He exhorteth them to be thus minded, 17 and to imitate him, 18 and to decline the waies of carnall Christians.

Finally, my brethren, rejoyce in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

2 Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the circumcision.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoyce in Christ Iesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

4 Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more.

5 Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews: as touching the law, a Pharisee:

6 Concerning zeal, persecuting the church: touching the righteousness which is in the law blamelesse.

7 But what things were gain to me, those I counted losse for Christ.

8 Yea doubtlesse, and I count all things but losse, for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Iesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the losse of all things, and do count them but dung that I may win Christ,

9 And be found in him, not having mine own right.

righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith :

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death,

11 If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.

12 Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I count not my self to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before,

14 I press toward the mark, for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

15 Let us therefore as many as be perfect be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you;

16 Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us minde the same thing.

17 Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so, as ye have us for an example :

18 (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the crosse of Christ :

19 Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who minde earthly things.)

20 For our conversation is in heaven, from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ :

21 Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAP. IIII.

1 From particular admonitions, 4 he proceedeth to generall exhortations, 10 shewing how he rejoyced at their liberality towards him in prison, not so much for the supply of his own wants; as for the grace of God in them : 19 and so he concludeth with prayer and salutations.

Therefore, my brethren, dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

2 Beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same minde in the Lord.

3 And I intreat thee also, true yoke-fellow, help those women which laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow-labourers, whose names are in the book of life.

4 Rejoyce in the Lord alway : and again I say, Rejoyce.

5 Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

6 Be careful for nothing : but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God.

7 And the peace of God which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and mindes through Christ Jesus.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report : if there be any vertue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

9 Those things which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do : and the God of peace shall be with you.

10 But I rejoyced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care of me shall flourish again, wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

11 Not that I speak in respect of want : for I have learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

12 I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound : every where, and in all things I am instructed, both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

13 I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding, ye have well done, that ye did communicate with my affliction.

15 Now ye Philippians know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me, as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

16 For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto me.

17 Not because I desire a gift : but I desire fruit that may abound to your account.

18 But I have all, and abound, I am full, having received of Epaphroditus the things which were sent from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well pleasing to God.

19 But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory, by Christ Jesus.

20 Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

21 Salute every saint in Christ Jesus : the brethren which are with me greet you.

22 All the saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Cæsars household.

23 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

It was written to the Philippians from Rome, by Epaphroditus.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE apostle to the COLOSSIANS,

CHAP. I.

1 After salutation he thanketh God for their faith,
2 confirmeth the doctrine of Epaphras, 3 prayeth further for their increase in grace, 14 describeth the true Christ, 21 encourageth them to receive Jesus Christ, and commendeth his own ministry.

And an apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

2 To the saints and faith-full brethren in Christ, which are at Colosse, grace be unto you,
and peace from God our Father,
and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We give thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying alwayes for you :

4 Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which we have to all the saints;

5 For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel :

6 Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world, and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth.

7 As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellow-servant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ :

8 Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.

9 For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding.

10 That ye might walk worthy of the Lord im-to all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work,
and increasing in the knowledge of God :

11 Strengthened with all might according to his glorious power, unto all patience and long-suffering with joyfulness :

12 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light :

13 Who hath delivered us from the power of darknesse, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son.

14 In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins :

15 Who is the image of the invisible God, the first-born of every creature.

16 For by him were all things created that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers : all things were created by him, and for him.

17 * And he is before all things, and by him all things consist.

18 And he is the head of the body, the church ;
who is the beginning, the first-born from the dead,
that in all things he might have the preeminence.

19 For it pleased the Father, that in him should all fulnesse dwell.

20 And (he having made peace through the blood of his crosse) by him to reconcile all things unto himself, by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you that were sometime alienated, and enemies in your minde by wicked works, yet
now hath he reconciled,

22 In the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and unblameable, and unreproeable in his sight :

23 If ye continue in the faith grounded and set-led, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven, whereof I Paul am made a minister.

24 Who now rejoyce in my sufferings for you,
and fill up that which is behinde of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his bodies sake, which is the church.

25 Whereof I am made a minister according to the dispensation of God, which is given to me for you, to fulfill the word of God :

26 Even the mystrie which hath been hid from ages, and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints :

27 To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystrie among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.

28 Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus.

29 Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAP. II.

1 He still exhorteth them to be constant in Christ,
2 to beware of philosophie, and vain traditions, 18 worshipping of angels, 20 and legall ceremonies, which are ended in Christ.

For I would that ye knew what great conflict
I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh.

2 That their hearts might be comforted, bringing knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgement of the mystrie of God, and of the Father, and of Christ :

3 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the steadfastness of your faith in Christ :

6 As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus
the Lord, so walk ye in him :

7 Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 Beware lest any man spoil you through philo-sophie or vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ :

9 For in him dwelleth all the fulnesse of the Godhead bodily.

10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power.

12 Buried with him in baptism, wherein also you are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.

13 And you being dead in your sinnes; and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses,

14 Blotting out the hand-writing of ordinances, that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his crosse :

15 And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.

16 Let no man therefore judge you in meat or in drink, or in respect of an holy day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath dayes :

17 Which are a shadow of things to come, but the body is of Christ.

18 Let no man beguile you of your reward, in a voluntary humility, and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly minde :

19 And not holding the head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God,

20 Therefore if ye be dead with Christ from the II elements of the world: why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances?

21 Touch not, taste not, handle not :

22 Which all are to perish with the using) after the commandments and doctrines of men.

23 Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will-worship and humility, and in neglecting of the body, not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

CHAP. III.

1 He sheweth where we should seek Christ. 5 He exhorteth to mortification, 10 to put off the old man, and to put on Christ; exhorting to charity, humility, and other several duties.

If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

2 Set your II affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3 For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4 When Christ who is our life shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

5 Mortifie therefore your members which are upon the earth: fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry :

6 For which things sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience.

7 In the which ye also walked sometime when ye lived in them.

8 But now you also put off all these, anger, wrath, malice, blasphemie, filthy communication out of your mouth.

9 Be not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds :

10 And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge, after the image of him that created him.

11 Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free : but Christ is all, and in all.

12 But on therefore (as the elect of God holy and beloved) bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of minde, meeknesse, long-suffering :

13 Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a II quarrell against any; even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

14 And above all these things, put on charity, which is the bond of perfectnesse.

15 And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body : and be ye thankful.

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in psalmes, and hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the Name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18 Wives, submit your selves unto your own husbands as it is fit in the Lord.

19 Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them,

20 Children, obey your parents in all things, for this is well-pleasing unto the Lord.

21 Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

22 Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh : not with eye-service, as men-pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing God :

23 And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men :

24 Knowing, that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ.

25 But he that doth wrong, shall receive for the wrong which he hath done : and there is no respect of persons.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He exhorteth them to be fervent in prayer, 5 to walk wisely toward them that are not yet come to the true knowledge of Christ. 10 He salueth them, and wisheth them all prosperity.

Masters, give unto your servants that which is just and equal, knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving.

3 Watch, praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds :

4 That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5 Talk in wisdom toward them that are without redeeming the time.

6 Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, that you may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7 All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithfull minister, and fellow servant in the Lord :

8 Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts :

9 Which Onesimus a faithfull and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.

12 Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluted you, alwayes labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.

14 Luke the beloved physician, and Demas greet you.

15 Salute the brethren which are in Laodicea, and Phymbas, & the church which is in his house. 16 And when this epistle is read amongst you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans: and that ye likewise read the epistle from Laodicea, 17 And say to Archippus, Take heed to the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

18 The salutation by the hand of me Paul. Remember my bonds. Grace be with you. Amen.

¶ Written from Rome to the Colossians, by Ephecius and Onesimus.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE apostle to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 The Thessalonians are given to understand both how mindfull of them S. Paul was at all times in thanksgiving and prayer: & also how well he was persuaded of the truth, and sincerity of their faith, and conversion to God.

Paul and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ: grace be unto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 We give thanks to God alwayes for you all, making mention of you in our prayers,

3 Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God, and our Father:

4 Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.

5 For our gospel came not unto you in word onely: but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as ye know what manner of men we were amongst you for your sake.

6 And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the holy Ghost:

7 So that ye were examples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you sounded out the word of the Lord, not onely in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad, so that we need not to speak any thing.

9 For they themselves shew of us, what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living & true God,

10 And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus which delivereth us from the wrath to come.

CHAP. II.

In what manner the gospel was brought and preached to the Thessalonians, and in what sort also they received it. 18 A reason is rendered both why Saint Paul was so long absent from them, and also why he was so desirous to see them.

For your selves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain.

2 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know at Thessippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4 But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak, not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.

5 For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness, God is witness.

6 For of men sought we glorie, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.

7 But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:

8 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God onely, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.

10 Deare witnesses, and God also, how holily, and justly, and unblameably we behaved our selves among you that believe.

11 As you know, how we exhorted and comforted, and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children, 12 That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glorie.

13 For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but (as it is in truth) the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God, which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countreymen, even as they have of the Jews.

15 Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and their own prophets, and have persecuted us: and they please not God, and are contrary to all men:

16 Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they might be saved, to fill up their sin alway: for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time, in violence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.

¶ Or used authority.

¶ Or chafed us out.

¶ Or, striving.

¶ Or, filled.

¶ Or, beloved of God, your election.

18 Therefore we would have come unto you (even I Paul) once and again: but Satan hindered us.

19 For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoycing? are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?
20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAP. III.

1 S. Paul testifieth his great love to the Thessalonians, partly by sending Timothy unto them to strengthen and comfort them: partly by rejoycing in their well doing: to And partly by praying for them, and desiring a safe coming unto them.

Vherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left at Athens alone:

2 And sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, and our fellow labourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:

3 That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for your selves know that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verily when we were with you, we told you before, that we should suffer tribulation, even as it came to passe, and ye know.

5 For this cause when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our labour be in vain.

6 But now when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us alwayes, desiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you:

7 Therefore, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God,

10 Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith:

11 Now God himself, and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way unto you.

12 And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one towards another, and towards all men, even as we do towards you:

13 To the end he may stablish your hearts unblamable in holiness before God even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints.

CHAP. IIIII.

He exhorteth them to go on forward in all manner of godlinesse, 6 to live holily and justly: 9 to love one another, 11 and quietly to follow their own businesse: 13 and last of all, to sorrow moderately for the dead. 17 And unto this last exhortation is annexed a brief description of the resurrection, and second coming of Christ to judgement.

Furthermore then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3 For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:

4 That every one of you should know how to possesse his vessel in sanctification and honour:

5 Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God:

6 That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter, because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you, and testified.

7 For God hath not called us into uncleanness, but unto holiness.

8 He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly love, ye need not that I write unto you: for ye your selves are taught of God to love one another.

10 And indeed ye do it towards all the brethren, which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more:

11 And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, (as we commanded you)

12 That ye may walk honestly towards them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.

13 But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope

14 For if we beleve that Jesus died, and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus, will God bring with him.

15 For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive, and remain unto the coming of the Lord, shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16 For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

17 Then we which are alive and remain, shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

18 Therefore comfort one another with these words.

CHAP. V.

1 He proceedeth in the former description of Christs coming to judgement, 16 and giveth divers precepts, 23 and to concludeth the epistle.

But of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.

2 For your selves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety: then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child, and they shall not escape.

4 But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6 Therefore let us not sleep as do others: but let us watch and be sober.

7 For they that sleep, sleep in the night: and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.

8 But let us who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith, and love, and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.

9 For God hath not appointed us to wrath: but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,

10 Who died for us, that whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11 Therefore I comfort your selves together, and edifie one another, even as also ye do.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their works sake. And be at peace among your selves.

||Or, beseech
||Or, disorderly.

14 Now well I exhort you brethren, warn them that are ill, comfort the feeble-minded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.

15 See that none render evil for evil unto any man: but ever follow that which is good, both among your selves, and toward all men.

16 Rejoice evermore.

17 Joy without ceasing.

18 In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.

22 Abstain from all appearance of evil.

23 And the very God of peace sanctifie you wholly: and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blamelesse unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

24 Faithfull is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

25 Brethren pray for us.

26 Greet all the brethren with a holy kisse.

27 I charge you by the Lord, that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

||Or, adjure.

28 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

¶ The first epistle unto the Thessalonians, was written from Athens.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL the apostle, to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 Saint Paul certifieth them of the good opinion which he had of their faith, love, and patience: 11 and therewithall useth divers reasons for the comforting of them in persecution, whereof the chiefest is taken from the righteous judgement of God.

PAUL and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians, in God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ,

2 Grace unto you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are bound to thank God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all towards each other aboundeth:

4 So that we our selves glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that endure.

5 Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer.

6 Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you:

7 And to you who are troubled, rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven, with his mighty angels,

8 In flaming fire, taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power:

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his Saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11 Therefore also we pray alwayes for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfill all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power.

12 That the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

1 He willeth them to continue stedfast in the truth received; 3 sheweth that there shall be a departure from the faith, 9 and a discovery of Antichrist, before the day of the Lord come: 15 and thereupon repeateth his former exhortation, and prayeth for them.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him,

2 That ye be not soon shaken in minde, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

3 Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that of man sin be revealed, the son of perdition:

4 Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what I withheld, that he might be revealed in his time.

||Or, holdeth.

7 For the mystery of iniquitie doth already work: onely he who now letteth, will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:

9 Even him whose coming is after the working of Satan, with all power, and signes, and lying wonders,

10 And with all deceitfullnesse of unrighteousnesse, in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

11 And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:

12 That they all might be damned, who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousnesse.

† Gr. the angels of his power.
||Or, yeelding

||Or, vouchsafe.

13 But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren, beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth.

14 Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

15 Therefore brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.

16 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God even our father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation, and good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAP. III.

He craveth their prayers for himself, 3 testifieth what confidence he hath in them, 5 maketh request to God in their behalf, 6 giveth them divers precepts, especially to shun idleness and ill company. 16 And last of all concludeth with prayer and salutation.

Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you :

2 And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men : for all men have not faith.

3 But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil.

4 And we have confidence in the Lord, touching you, that ye both do, and will do the things which we command you.

5 And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ.

6 Now we command you, brethren, in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw your selves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.

7 For your selves know how ye ought to follow us, for we behaved not our selves disorderly among you.

8 Neither did we eat any mans bread for nought : but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you.

9 Not because we have not power, but to make our selves an example unto you to follow us.

10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

11 For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busie-bodys.

12 Now them that are such we command, and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietnesse they work, and eat their own bread.

13 But ye, brethren, be not weary in well doing.

14 And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

15 Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace alwayes by all means. The Lord be with you all.

17 The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.

18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL the apostle to TIMOTHIE.

CHAP. I.

1 Timothy is put in minde of the charge which was given unto him by Paul, at his going to Macedonia. 5 Of the right use and end of the law. 11 Of S. Pauls calling to be an apostle, 20 and of Hymeneus and Alexander.

Paul an apostle of Jesus Christ by the commandment of God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, which is our hope :

2 Unto Timothy my own son in the faith : grace, mercy and peace from God our Father, and Jesus Christ our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some, that they teach no other doctrine.

4 Neither give heed to fables, and endless genealogies, which minister questions rather than godly edifying, which is in faith : so do.

5 Now the end of the commandment is charity, out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned :

6 From which some having swerved, have turned aside into vain jangling :

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law, understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully.

9 Knowing this that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, for man-slavers,

10 For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for men-stealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine.

11 According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.

12 And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me : for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry, 13 Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious. But I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly, in unbelief.

14 And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant, with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

15 This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief.

Or, not aiming.

16 Howbeit, for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all long suffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter beleve on him to life everlasting.

17 Now unto the king eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

18 This charge I commit unto thee, son Timothy, according to the propheties which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare:

19 Holding faith, and a good conscience, which some having put away, concerning faith have made shipwreck.

20 Of whom is Hymeneus and Alexander, whom I have delivered unto Satan that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

1 That it is meet to pray and give thanks for all men, and the reason why. 2 How women should be attire. 3 They are not permitted to teach. 4 They shall be saved notwithstanding the testimonies of Gods wrath in child-birth, if they continue in faith.

||Or, desire.

I || Exhort therefore, that first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men:

||Or, eminent place.

2 For kings, and for all that are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour:

4 Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

||Or, a testimony.

5 For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus.

6 Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time.

7 Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

8 I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands without wrath and doubting.

||Or, plained.

9 In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparell, with shamefastnesse and sobriety: not with broidered hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;

10 But (which becometh women professing godlinesse) with good works.

11 Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.

12 But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.

13 For Adam was first formed, then Eve.

14 And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding she shall be saved in child-bearing, if they continue in faith and charity, and holinesse with sobriety.

CHAP. III.

How bishops and deacons, and their wives should be qualified, 14 and to what end S. Paul wrote to Timothy of these things. 15 Of the church, and the blessed truth therein taught and professed.

||Or, modest.
||Or, not ready to quarrell and offer wrong as one in wine.

This is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work.

2 A bishop then must be blamelesse, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

3 Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre, but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;

4 One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity:

5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride, he fall into the condemnation of the devil.

7 Moreover, he must have a good report of them which are without, lest he fall into reproach, and the snare of the devil.

8 Likewise must the deacons be grave, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

9 Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blamelesse.

11 Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithfull in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children, and their own houses well.

13 For they that have used the office of a deacon well, purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldnesse in the faith, which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly.

15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thy self in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.

16 And without controversie, great is the mystery of godlinesse: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, beleaved on in the world, received up into glory.

CHAP. IIII.

He foretelleth that in the latter times there shall be a departure from the faith. 6 And to the end that Timothy might not fail in doing his duty, he furnissheth him with divers precepts belonging thereto.

Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils:

2 Spraking lies in hypocrisy, having their conscience seared with a hot iron:

3 Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which beleve and know the truth.

4 For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7 But refuse profane and old wives fables, and exercise thy self rather unto godlinesse.

8 For bodily exercise profiteth little, but godlinesse is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9 This is a faithfull saying, and worthy of all acceptance:

10 For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of these that beleve.

||Or one newly come to the faith.

||Or, ministered.

||Or, stay.

||Or, for a little time.

- 11 These things command and teach.
 12 Let no man despise thy youth, but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in faith, in faith, in purity.
 13 Till I come, give attendance to readings, to exhortation, to doctrine.
 14 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophesie, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.
 15 Meditate upon these things, give thy self wholly to them: that thy profiting may appear to all.
 17 Take heed unto thy self, and unto thy doctrine: continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thy self, and them that hear thee.

CHAP. V.

- 1 Rules to be observed in reproving. 3 Of widows.
 17 Of elders. 23 A precept for Timothies health.
 24 Some mens sins go before unto judgement, and some mens do follow after.

Rebuke not an elder, but intreat him as a father, and the younger men as brethren:

2 The elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters, with all purity.

3 Honour widows that are widows indeed.

4 But if any widow have children or nephews let them learn first to shew Π piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

5 Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 But she that liveth Π in pleasure, is dead while she liveth.

7 And these things give in charge, that they may be blamelesse.

8 But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own Π house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse then an infidell.

9 Let not a widow be taken into the number, under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man.

10 Well reported of for good works, if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry:

12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13 And which they learn to be idle, wandring about from house to house: and not onely idle, but eatlers also, and busie-bodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14 I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, quire the house, give none occasion to the adversary Π to speak reproachfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16 If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged, that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

17 Let the elders that rule well, be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the scripture saith, * Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn: and, * The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but Π before two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.

21 I charge thee before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things Π without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens sins, keep thy self pure.

23 Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomachs sake, and thine often infirmities.

24 Some mens sins are open before and, going before to judgement: and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the good works of some are manifest before hand, and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAP. VI.

- 1 Of the duty of servants. 3 Not to have fellowship with new fangled teachers. 6 Godlinesse is great gain: 10 And love of money the root of all evil. 11 What Timothie is to see, and what to follow, 17 and whereto admonish the rich. 20 to keep the purity of true doctrine, and to avoid profane janglings.

Let as many servants as are under the yoke, count their own masters worthy of all honour: that the Name of God, and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

3 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren: but rather do them service, because they are Π faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godlinesse:

4 He is Π proud, knowing nothing, but Π dotting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmises,

5 Π perverse disputings of men of corrupt mindes, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godlinesse: from such withdraw thy self.

6 But godlinesse with contentment is great gain.

7 For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain, we can carry nothing out.

8 And having food and raiment, let us be therewith content.

9 But they that will be rich, fall into temptation, and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtfull lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10 For the love of money is the root of all evil, which while some coveted after, they have Π erred from the faith, and pierced themselves thorow with many sorrows.

11 But thou, O man of God, flee these things: and follow after righteousness, godlinesse, faith, love, patience, meeknesse.

12 Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternall life whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession, 14 That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukeable, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ.

15 Which in his times he shall shew, who is the blessed and onely Potentate, the king of kings, and Lord of lords:

the light which no man can approach unto, whom no man hath seen, nor can see : to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy.

18 That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, || willing to communicate :

19 Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.

20 O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called :

¶ The first to Timothy was written from Laodicea, which is the chiefest cite of Phrygia Pacatiana.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL the apostle, to TIMOTHIE.

CHAP. I.

Pauls love to Timothy, and the unfeigned faith which was in Timothy himself, his mother and grandmother. 6 He is exhorted to stir up the gift of God which was in him, to be steadfast and patient in persecution, and to persist in the form and truth of that doctrine which he had learned of him. 15 Phygellus, and Hermogenes; and such like are noted, and Onesiphorus is highly commended.

¶ And an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus.

2 To Timothy my dearly beloved son : grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day :

4 Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindfull of thy teares, that I may be filled with joy :

5 When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance, that thou stirre up the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of my bands.

7 For God hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power, of love, and of a sound minde.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner, but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel, according to the power of God :

9 Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace which was given us in Christ Jesus, before the world began,

10 But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light, through the gospel :

11 Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 For the which cause I also suffer these things : nevertheless I am not ashamed, for I know whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.

13 Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

14 That good thing which was committed unto thee, keep by the holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned away from me : of whom are Phygellus, and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain.

17 But when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant unto him that he may finde mercy of the Lord in that day : and in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAP. II.

1 He is exhorted again to constancy and perseverance, and to do the duty of a faithful servant of the Lord, in dividing the word aright, and staying profane and vain babblings. 17 Of Hymeneus and Phileus 19 The foundation of the Lord is sure. 22 He is taught whereof to beware, and what to follow after, and in what sort the servant of the Lord ought to behave himself.

¶ Thou therefore my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.

3 Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth himself with the affairs of this life : that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.

5 And if a man also strive for masterles, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6 ¶ The husbandman that laboureth must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say, and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 Remember that Jesus Christ of the seed of David was raised from the dead, according to my gospel.

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an evil doer, even unto bonds : but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore I endure all things for the elects sakes, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus, with eternal glory.

11 It is a faithful saying : For if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him :

2 If we suffer, we shall also reign with him : if we deny him, he also will deny us :

10r. the husbandman labouring first, must be 1 partaker of the fruits.

¶ Or, trusted.

13 If we beleve not, yet he abideth faithfull, he cannot deny himself.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord, that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.

15 Study to shew thy self approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

16 But shun profane and vain babblings, for they will increase unto more ungodliness.

17 And their word will eat as doth a II canker: of whom is Hymeneus and Philetus:

18 Who concerning the truth have erred, saying that the resurrection is past already: and overthrow the faith of some.

19 Nevertheless, the foundation of God standeth II sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the Name of Christ depart from iniquity.

20 But in a great house there are not onely vessels of gold, and of silver, but also of wood, and of earth: and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified and meet for the masters use, and prepared unto every good work.

22 Flee also youthfull lusts: but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

23 But foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.

24 And the servant of the Lord must not strive: but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, II patient:

25 In meeknesse instructing those that oppose themselves: if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth.

26 And that they may II recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are II taken captive by him at his will.

CHAP. III.

1 He advertiseth him of the times to come, 6 describeth the enemies of the truth, 10 propoundeth unto him his own example, 16 and commendeth the holy Scriptures.

This know also, that in the last dayes perilous times shall come.

2 For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankfull, unholy,

3 Without naturall affection, tract-breakers, II false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 Traitors, heady, high-minded, lovers of pleasures more then lovers of God:

5 Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such men away.

6 For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive the silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts,

7 Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt mindes, I reprobare concerning the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as theirs also was.

10 But II thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, long-suffering, charity, patience,

11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra, what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12 Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus, shall suffer persecution.

13 But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceyving, and being deceyved.

14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them:

15 And that from a child thou hast known the holy Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation, through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

16 All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:

17 That the man of God may be perfect, II thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He exhorteth him to do his duty with all care and diligence: 6 certifieth him of the nearness of his death: 9 willeth him to come speedily unto him, and to bring Marcus with him, and certain other things which he wrote for: 14 warneth him to beware of Alexander the smith: 16 informeth him what had befallen him at his first answering. 19 And soon after he concludeth.

I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing, and his kingdom:

2 Preach the word, be instant in season, out of season, reprove, rebuke, exhort with all long-suffering and doctrine.

3 For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine, but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears.

4 And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables.

5 But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, II make full proof of thy ministry.

6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.

7 I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith.

8 Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord the righteous judge shall give me at that day: and not to me onely, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me.

10 For Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thessalonica: Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia.

11 Onely Luke is with me. Take Mark and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

12 And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.

13 The cloak that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.

14 Alexander the copper-smith did me much evil, the Lord reward him according to his works.

15 Of whom be thou ware also, for he hath greatly withstood II our words.

16 At my first answer no man stood with me: but all men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.

17 Notwithstanding, the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me, that by me the preaching might 22 The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

¶ The second epistle unto Timotheus, ordained the first bishop of the church of the Ephesians, was written from Rome, when Paul was brought before Nero the second time.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO TITUS.

CHAP. I.

1 For what end Titus was left in Crete. 6 How they that are to be chosen ministers, ought to be qualified. 11 The mouths of evil teachers to be stopped: 12 and what manner of men they be.

Paul a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of Gods elect, and the acknowledging of the truth, which is after godliness:

2 ¶ In hope of eternal life, which God that cannot lie, promised before the world began:

3 Which in due times manifested his word through preaching which is committed unto me, according to the commandment of God our Saviour:

4 To Titus mine own son after the common faith: grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are || wanting, and ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee.

6 If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children, not accused of riot, or unruly.

7 For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God: not self-willed, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre;

8 But a lover of hospitality, a lover of || good men, sober, just, holy, temperate,

9 Holding fast the faithful word, || as he hath been taught, that he may be able to sound doctrine, both to exhort and to convince the gain-sayers.

10 For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, especially they of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre sake.

12 One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are alwayes liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13 This witness is true: wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be found in the faith;

14 For giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men, that turn from the truth.

15 Unto the pure all things are pure, but unto them that are defiled, and unbelieving, is nothing pure: but even their minde & conscience is defiled.

16 They profess that they know God, but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work || reprobate.

CHAP. II.

1 Directions given unto Titus both for his doctrine and life. 9 Of the duty of servants, and in generall of all Christians.

Be: speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be || sober, grave, temperate, found in faith, in charity, in patience.

3 The aged women likewise that they be in behaviour as becometh || holiness, nor || false accusers, nor given to much wine, teachers of good things;

4 That they may teach the young women to be || sober, to love their husbands, to love their children,

5 To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be || sober-minded.

7 In all things shewing thy self a pattern of good works: in doctrine shewing incorruptness, gravity, sincerity,

8 Sound speech that cannot be condemned, that he that is of the contrary part, may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9 Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things, not || answering again:

10 Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity, that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11 For the grace of God || that bringeth salvation, hath appeared to all men;

12 Teaching us that denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in this present world:

13 Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ, 14 Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

15 These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAP. III.

1 Titus is yet further directed by Paul, both concerning the things he should teach and not teach. 10 He is willed also to reject obstinate hereticks: 12 which done he appointeth him both time and place wherein he should come unto him, and so conclude it.

Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work.

¶ Or, vigilant.

¶ Or, holy women.
¶ Or, make-bates.
¶ Or, wife.

¶ Or, discreet

¶ Or, gain-saying.

¶ Or, that bringeth salvation to all men, hath appeared.

2 To speak evil of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meeknesse unto all men.
3 For we our selves also were sometimes foolishly, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts & pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

10r. picie.

4 But after that the kindnesse and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared,

5 Not by works of righteousness, which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the holy Ghost :

1 Gr. richly.

6 Which he shed on us abundantly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour.

7 That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.

8 This is a faithfull saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that they which have believed in God, might be careful to maintain good works : these things are good and profitable unto men.

9 But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law, for they are unprofitable and vain.

10 A man that is an heretick, after the first and second admonition, reject :

11 Knowing that he that is such, is subverted, and sinneth, being condemned of himself.

12 When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tycticus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis : for I have determined there to winter.

13 Bring Senas the lawyer, and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.

14 And let ours also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be not unfruitfull.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

¶ It was written to Titus, ordained the first bishop of the church of the Cretians, from Nicopolis of Macedonia.

¶ THE EPISTLE OF PAUL TO PHILEMON.

4 He rejoyleth to hear of the faith and love of Philemon : 9 whom he desireth to forgive his servant Onesimus, and lovingly to receive him again.

PAUL a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellow-labourer,

2 And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellow-labourer, and to the church in thy house :

3 Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5 Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints :

6 That the communication of thy faith may become effectually by the acknowledging of every good thing, which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ, to enjoin thee that which is convenient,

9 Yet for loves sake I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds.

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable : but now profitable to thee and to me.

12 Whom I have sent again : thou therefore receive him that is mine own bowels.

13 Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel.

14 But without thy minde would I do nothing : that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15 For perhaps, he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever.

16 Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord.

17 If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as my self.

18 If he have wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account.

19 I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it : albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord : refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21 Having confidence in thy obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22 But withall prepare me also a lodging : for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23 There salute thee Epaphras, my fellow-prisoner in Christ Jesus :

24 Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, my fellow-labourers.

25 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

¶ Written from Rome to Philemon, by Onesimus a servant.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE apostle to the HEBREWS.

CHAP. I.

1 Christ in these last times coming to us from the Father, 4 is preferred above the angels, both in person and office.

God who at sundry times, and in divers manners, spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

2 Hath in these last dayes spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds.

3 Who being the brightnesse of his glory, and the expresse image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the maiesty on high:

4 Being made so much better then the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name then they.

5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?

6 And again, when he bringeth in the first begotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever, a scepter of righteousness is the scepter of thy kingdom:

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity, therefore God even thy God hath anointed thee with the oyl of gladnesse above thy fellows.

10 And, Thou Lord in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the works of thine hands.

11 They shall perish, but thou remainest: and they shall all wax old as doth a garment.

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

13 But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, untill I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

CHAP. II.

1 We ought to be obedient to Christ Jesus, 5 and that because he vouchsafed to take our nature upon him, 14 as it was necessary.

Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

2 For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward:

3 How shall we escape if we neglect to great salvation, which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him,

4 God also bearing them witness, both with signes and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his own will:

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one in a certain place testified, saying, What is man that thou art mindful of him: or the son of man that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him a little lower then the angels, thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst let him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him:

9 But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower then the angels, for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour, that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

11 For both he that sanctifieth, and they who are sanctified, are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren.

12 Saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.

13 And again, I will put my trust in him: and again, Behold, I, and the children which God hath given me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood; he also himself likewise took part of the same, that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil:

15 And deliver them who through fear of death were all their life time subject to bondage.

16 For verily he took not on him the nature of angels: but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest, in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people:

18 For in that he himself hath suffered, being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

1 Christ is more worthy then Moses: 7 therefore if we beleeve not in him, we shall be more worthy punishment then hard hearted Israel.

Wherefore holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the apostle and high priest of our profession Christ Jesus,

2 Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory then Moses, in as much as he who had builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man, but he that buildeth all things is God.

5 And Moses verely was faithful in all his house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after:

6 But Christ as a Son over his own house, whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

10 Therefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do alway erre in their hearts, and they have not known my wayes.

11 So I swore in my wrath, † They shall not enter into my rest.

12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13 But exhort one another daily while it is called, To day, lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end.

15 While it is said, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 For some when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moyses.

17 But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcases fell in the wilderness?

18 And to whom swore he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

19 So we see that they could not enter in, because of unbelief.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The rest of Christians is attained by faith. 12 The power of Gods word. 14 By our high priest Jesus the Son of God, subject to infirmities, but not sin, 16 We must and may go boldly to the throne of grace.

Let us therefore fear, lest a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2 For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but † the word preached did not profit them, || not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

3 For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest, although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom || it was first preached, entered not in because of unbelief:

7 Again he limiteth a certain day, saying in Davids, To day, after so long a time: as it is said, to day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if || Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a || rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.

11 Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of || unbelief.

12 For the word of God is quick and power:

full, and sharper then any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his light: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Seeing then that we have a great high priest that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.

15 For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities: but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

16 Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and finde grace to help in time of need.

CHAP. V.

1 The authority and honour of our Saviours priesthood. 11 Negligence in the knowledge thereof is reproved.

For every high priest taken from among men, is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins.

2 Who || can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way, for that he himself also is compassed with infirmities.

3 And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, to also for himself, to offer for sins.

4 And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 So also, Christ glorified not himself, to be made an high priest: but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

7 Who in the dayes of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and teares, unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard || in that he feared:

8 Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered:

9 And being made perfect, he became the author of eternall salvation unto all them that obey him;

10 Called of God an high priest after the order of Melchisedec.

11 Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.

12 For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God, and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13 For every one that useth milk, † is unskillfull in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are || of full age, even those who by reason || of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAP. VI.

1 He exhorteth, not to fall back from the faith, 11 but to be stedfast, 12 diligent and patient to wait upon God, 13 because God is most sure in his promise.

Therefore leaving || the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection, not not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith towards God,

2 Of the doctrine of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgement.

3 And this will we do, if God permit.

4 For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy ghost,

5 And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come;

6 If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance: seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them, by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God.

8 But that which beareth thorns and briers, is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing, whose end is to be burned.

9 But be obeyed, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.

10 For God is not unrighteous, to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed towards his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister.

11 And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope unto the end.

12 That ye be not slothfull, but followers of them, who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he swore by himself,

14 Saying, Surely, blessing, I will bless thee, and multiplying, I will multiply thee.

15 And so after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16 For men verily swear by the greater, and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17 Wherein God willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath.

18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us.

19 Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and which entereth into that within the veil,

20 Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made an high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAP. VII.

1 Christ Jesus is a priest after the order of Melchisedec, 11 and so far more excellent then the priests of Aaron's order.

For this Melchisedec king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him:

2 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all: first being by interpretation king of righteousness, and after that also, king of Salem, which is, king of peace:

3 Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life: but made like unto the Son of God, abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.

5 And verily they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham:

6 But he whose descent is not counted from them, receiveth tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction, the less is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die receive tithes: but there be receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Levi also who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

11 If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

14 For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda, of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.

15 And it is yet far more evident; for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest.

16 Which is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17 For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

18 For there is verily a transgressing of the commandment going before, for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof.

19 For the law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did: by the which we draw nigh unto God.

20. And in as much as not without an oath he was made priest;

21 (For those priests were made without an oath: but this with an oath, by him that said unto him, * The Lord swears, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec)

22 By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament.

23 And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death.

24 But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood.

25 Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost, that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then the heavens.

27 Who needeth not daily as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the peoples: for this he did once, when he offered up himself.

28 For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity: but the word of the oath which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

11 Or, pedigree.

11 Or, but it was the bringing in.

11 Or, without swearing of an oath.

11 Or, evermore.

CHAP. VIII.

1 By the eternall priesthood of Christ, the Leviticall priesthood of Aaron is abolished: 7 and the temporall covenant with the fathers; by the eternall covenant of the gospel.

Now of the things which we have spoken, this is the sum: We have such an high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the majesty in the heavens:

||Or. of holy things.

2 A minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle which the Lord pitched, and not man.

||Or. they are priests.

3 For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

4 For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that there are priests that offer gifts according to the law.

||Or. testament.

5 Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle. For see (saith he) that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises.

7 For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come (saith the Lord) when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and the house of Judah:

9 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt, because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their minds, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people.

* Jer. 31. 33.
† Or. give.
|| Upon.

11 And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

13 In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old, is ready to vanish away.

CHAP. IX.

1 The description of the rites and bloody sacrifices of the law, 11 farre inferiour to the dignity and perfection of the blood and sacrifice of Christ.

||Or. ceremonies.

Then verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.

||Or. holy.

2 For there was a tabernacle made, the first wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread, which is called the sanctuary.

3 And after the second hall, the tabernacle which is called the holiest of all:

4 Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aarons rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant;

5 And over it the cherubims of glorious shadow, ing the mercie-seat: of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6 Now when these things were thus obtained, the priests went alwayes into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

7 But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people.

8 The holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holiest of all, was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:

9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience,

10 Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnall ordinances imposed on them until the time of reformation.

||Or. rites, &c. ceremonies.

11 But Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building:

12 Neither by the blood of goats and calves: but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternall redemption for us.

13 For if the blood of buls, and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternall Spirit, offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?

||Or. fault.

15 And for this cause he is the Mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator.

||Or. be brought in.

17 For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all whilst the testator liveth.

18 Whereupon, neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.

||Or. purified.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people, according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book and all the people,

||Or. purple.

20 Saying, This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoyned unto you.

21 Moreover, he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood: and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true, but into heaven it self, now to appear in the presence of God for us.

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place, every year with blood of others:

26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27 And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgement :

28 So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many, and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time, without sin unto salvation.

CHAP. X.

1 The weaknesse of the law-sacrifices. 10 The sacrifice of Christs body once offered, 14 for ever hath taken away sins. 19 An exhortation to hold fast the faith, with patience and thanksgiving.

For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually, make the comers thereunto perfect.

2 For then would they not have ceased to be offered, because that the worshippers once purged, should have had no more conscience of sins ?

3 But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

4 For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats, should take away sins.

5 Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me :

6 In burnt-offerings, and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure :

7 Then said I, Lo, I come, (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above, when he said, Sacrifice, and offering, and burnt-offerings, and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein, which are offered by the law :

9 Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God : He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 By the which will we are sanctified, through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices which can never take away sins.

12 But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God :

13 From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof the holy Ghost also is a witness to us : for after that he had said before,

16 This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord : I will put my lawes into their hearts, and in their mindes will I write them :

17 And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now, where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, boldnesse to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus,

20 By a new and living way which he hath consecrated for us, through the blood, that is to say, his flesh :

21 And having an high priest over the house of God :

22 Let us draw neer with a true heart, in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

23 Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering : (for he is faithful that promised)

24 And let us consider one another to provoke unto love, and to good works.

25 Not forsaking the assembling of our selves together, as the manner of some is, but exhorting one another : and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.

26 For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,

27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgement, and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.

28 He that despised Moses law, died without mercie under two or three witnesses.

29 Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace ?

30 For we know him that hath said, * Iengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord : and again, The Lord shall judge his people.

31 It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But call to remembrance the former dayes, in which after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions :

33 Partly whilst ye were made a gazing stock, both by reproaches and afflictions, and partly whilst ye became companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in your selves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.

36 For ye have need of patience, that after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

37 For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now the just shall live by faith : but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition : but of them that believe, to the saving of the soul.

CHAP. XI.

1 What faith is. 6 Without faith we cannot please God. 7 The worthy fruits thereof in the fathers of old time.

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

2 For by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that the world was framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith Abel offered unto God, a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts : and by it he being dead, yet speaketh.

5 By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death, and was not found, because God had translated him : for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him : for he that cometh to God, must believe that that he is, and that he is rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

Or, being

7 By faith Noah being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house, by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith Abraham when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed, and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise.

10 For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also Sara her self received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when he was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.

12 Therefore sprang there even of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

† Gr. according to faith.

13 These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly if they had been mindfull of that country, from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned :

16 But now they desire a better country, that is an heavenly : wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God : for he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith Abraham when he was tried, offered up Isaac : and he that had received the promises, offered up his only begotten son :

18 Of whom it was said, that in Isaac shall thy seed be called.

19 Accounting that God was able to raise him up, even from the dead : from whence also he received him in a figure.

20 By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

21 By faith Jacob when he was a dying, blessed both the sons of Joseph, and worshipped leaning upon the top of his staff.

22 By faith Joseph when he died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel : and gave commandment concerning his bones.

23 By faith Moses when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child, and they not afraid of the kings commandment.

24 By faith Moses when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaohs daughter :

25 Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season :

26 Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt : for he had respect unto the recompence of the reward.

27 By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king, for he endured as seeing him who is invisible.

28 Through faith he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the first-born should touch them.

29 By faith they passed through the Red sea, as by dry land : which the Egyptians assaying to do, were drowned.

30 By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days.

31 By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them which beleeveth not, when she had received the spies with peace.

32 And what shall I more say ? for the time would fail me to tell of Gideon, and of Barak, and of Samson, and of Jephthae, of David also and Samuel, and of the prophets.

33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 Women received their dead raised to life again : and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance, that they might obtain a better resurrection.

36 And others had trial of cruel mockings, and scourgings, yea moreover, of bonds and imprisonment, 37 They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword : they wandered about in sheep-skins, and goat-skins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented.

38 Of whom the world was not worthy : they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And these all having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise :

40 God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

C H A P. XII.

1 An exhortation to constant faith, patience, and godliness. 22 A commendation of the new testament above the old.

Wherefore, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,

2 Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.

4 We have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor saint when thou art rebuked of him.

6 For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgech every son whom he receiveth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons : for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not ?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards and not sons.

9 Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh, which corrected us, and we gave them reverence : shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live ?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure : but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.

Or, beginner

Or, remembered.

Or, for Christ.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyful, but grievous; nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness, unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees.

13 And make straight paths for your feet; lest that which is lame be turned out of the way, but let it rather be healed.

14 Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord:

15 Looking diligently, lest any man fail of the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness, springing up, trouble you, and thereby many be defiled:

16 Lest there be any fornicators, or profane persons, as Esau, who for one morsell of meat sold his birth-right.

17 For ye know how that afterward when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

18 For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words, which voice they that hear, intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more.

20 (For they could not endure that which was commanded: and if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart.)

21 And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake.)

22 But ye are come unto mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels,

23 To the general assembly and church of the first-born, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men, made perfect,

24 And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.

25 See that ye refuse not him that speaketh: for if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven.

26 Whose voice then shook the earth, but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth onely, but also heaven.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken, may remain.

28 Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably, with reverence and godly fear.

29 For our God is a consuming fire.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Divers admonitions, as to charitie, 4 to honest life, 5 to avoid covetousnesse, 7 to regard Gods preachers, 9 to take heed of strange doctrines, 10 to confesse Christ, 16 to give ains, 17 to obey governours, 18 to pray for the apostle. 20 The conclusion.

Let brotherly love continue.

2 Be not forgetfull to entertain strangers, for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.

3 Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being your selves also in the body.

4 Marriage is honorable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whosoever is married, his own body he keepeth, as himself: he that keepeth his body, keepeth himself: he that defileth himself, defileth his body, which is his temple, the which shall be reckoned to him of God, who shall reward him so, as he will.

5 Let your conversation be without covetousnesse: and be content with such things as ye have. For he hath said, "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee."

6 So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.

7 Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation.

8 Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.

9 Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace, not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.

10 We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat, which serve the tabernacle.

11 For the bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burnt without the camp.

12 Wherefore Jesus also that he might sanctifie the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.

13 Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing his reproach.

14 * For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.

15 By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips, giving thanks to his name.

16 But to do good, and to communicate, forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

17 Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit your selves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account: that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.

18 Obay for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.

19 But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

20 Now the God of peace that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant,

21 Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation, for I have written a letter unto you in few words.

23 Know ye, that our brother Timothy is set at liberty, with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.

24 Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you.

25 Grace be with you all. Amen.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE of JAMES.

CHAP. I.

We are to rejoyce under the crosse, 5 to ask patience of God, 13 and in our trials not to impute our weakness or sins to him, 19 but rather to hearken to the word to meditate in it, and to do thereafter: 26 otherwise men may seem, but never be truly religious.

James a servant of God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations,

3 Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5 If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not, and it shall be given him.

6 But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: for he that wavereth, is like a wave of the sea, driven with the winde, and tossed.

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 A double-minded man is unstable in all his wayes.

For glory.

9 Let the brother of low degree // rejoyce in that he is exalted:

10 But the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grasse he shall passe away.

11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grasse; and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his wayes.

12 Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

For, saye.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with // evil: neither tempteth he any man.

14 But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Do not erre, my beloved brethren.

17 Every good gift, and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness; neither shadow of turning.

18 Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of first-fruits of his creatures.

19 Therefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthinesse, and superfluity of naughtinesse, and receive with the meeknesse the ingrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

22 But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his naturall face in the glasse.

24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his // deed.

For, doing.

26 If any man among you seem to be religious, and hideth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this mans religion is vain.

27 Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father, is this, To visit the fatherlesse and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAP. II.

It is not agreeable to Christian profession to regard the rich, and to despise the poor brethren: 13 rather we are to be loving and mercifull, 14 and not to boast off faith where no deeds are, 17 which is but a dead faith, 19 the faith of devils, 21 not of Abraham, 25 and Rahab.

My brethren have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ the Lord of glory, with respect of persons.

† Gr. synagogue.

2 For if there come unto your // assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparell, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment:

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here // in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

For, well, or, seemly.

4 Are ye not then partiall in your selves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

5 Hearken my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of // the kingdom, which he hath promised to them that love him?

For, that.

6 But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgement seat?

7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy name, by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfill the royall law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self, ye do well.

9 But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law, as transgressours.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

For, that law which said.

11 For // he that said, Do not commit adultery: said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.

13 For he shall have judgement without mercy that hath shewed no mercy; and mercy beforceth against judgement.

For, glorifieth

14 Canst thou do it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?

15 If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed, and filled: notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needfull to the body: what doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead being alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith if without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God, thou doest well: the devils also believe and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, what faith without works is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 He seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, * Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the friend of God.

24 Seest thou then, how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also, was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAP. III.

1 We are not rashly or arrogantly to reprove others: 5 whatsoever to bridle the tongue, a little member, but a powerful instrument of much good, and great harm: 13 They who be truly wise, be milde and peaceable, without envying and strife.

MY brethren, be not many masters, knowing what we shall receive the greater // condemnation.

2 For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce windes, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governour listeth.

5 Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things: behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth.

6 And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue amongst our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of man's hand,

8 But the tongue can no man tame, it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.

9 Therewith bless we God, even the Father: and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: my brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same // place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the fig-tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13 Who is a wise man, and endued with knowledge amongst you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meeknesse of wisdom.

14 But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.

15 This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, // sensual, devilish.

16 For where envying and strife is, there is confusion, and every evil work.

17 But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easie to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, // without partialitie, and without hypocrisy.

18 And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

CHAP. IIIII.

1 We are to strive against covetousnesse, 4 intemperance, 5 pride, 11 detraction and rash judgement of others: 13 and not to be confident in the good success of worldly businesse, but mindfull ever of the uncertainty of this life, to commit our selves and all our affairs to Gods providence.

FROM whence come wars and // fightings amongst you? come they not hence, even of your // lusts, that war in your members?

2 Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3 Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your // lusts.

4 Ye adulterers, and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, is the enemy of God.

5 Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in us, lusteth // to envie?

6 But he giveth more grace, wherefore he saith, * God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7 Submit your selves therefore to God: resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

8 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you: cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purifie your hearts ye double-minded.

9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: yet your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heavinesse.

10 Humble your selves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11 Speak not evil one of another (brethren) he that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12 There is one law-giver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?

13 // So to him, ye that say, To day, or to morrow will we go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain:

14 Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow: for what is your life? // it is even a vapour that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15 For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will we shall live, and do this, or that.

16 But now ye rejoice in your boastings: all such rejoicing is evil.

17 Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAP. V.

1 Wicked rich men are to fear Gods vengeance. 7 We ought to be patient in afflictions, after the example of the prophets, and Job : 12 to forbear swearing : 13 to pray in adversity, to sing in prosperity : 16 to acknowledge mutually our severall faults, to pray one for another, 19 and to reduce a straying brother to the truth.

Go to now ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

2 Your riches are corrupted, and your garments moth eaten.

3 Your gold and silver is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire : ye have heaped treasure together for the last dayes.

4 Behold the hire of the labourers, which have reaped down your fieldes, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieeth : and the cries of them which have reaped, are entred into the ears of the Lord of sabbath.

5 Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton : ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye have condemned and killed the just, and he doth not resist you.

7 Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord : behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and bath long patience for it, until he receive the early and later rain.

8 Be ye also patient, stablish your hearts : for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 If churche not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned : behold, the Judge standeth before the doore.

10 Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11 Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord, that the Lord is very pitifull and of tender mercy.

12 But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath : but let your yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted ? let him pray. Is any merry ? let him sing psalms.

14 Is any sick among you ? let him call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oyl in the name of the Lord :

15 And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up : and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

16 Confesse your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed : the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

17 Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain, and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six moneths.

18 And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, if any of you do erre from the truth, and one convert him ;

20 Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way, shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins.

|| Or, in his prayer.

THE FIRST EPISTLE generall of PETER.

CHAP. I.

1 He blesteth God for his manifold spirituall graces, 10 shewing that the salvation in Christ is no news, but a thing prophesied of old : 13 and exhorteth them accordingly to a godly conversation, forasmuch as they are now born anew by the word of God.

Peter an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit unto obedience, and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ : grace unto you and peace be multiplied.

3 Blessed be the God, and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope, by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you,

5 Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time

6 Wherein ye greatly rejoyce, though now for a season (if need be) ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations.

7 That the trial of your faith being much more precious then of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise, and honour and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ.

8 Whom having not seen, ye love : in whom though now ye see him not, yet believing ye rejoyce with joy unspeakable, and full of glory :

9 Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10 Of which salvation the prophets have enquired, and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you.

11 Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you, which the holy Ghost sent down from heaven, which things the angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore gird up the loyns of your minde, be sober, and hope to the end, for the grace

† Gr. perfectly.

grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ.

14 As obedient children, not fashioning your selves according to the former lusts, in your ignorance :

15 But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation :

16 Because it is written, * Be ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every mans work, passe the time of your sojourning here in fear :

18 Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers :

19 But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lamb without blemish and without spot,

20 Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you :

21 Who by him do believe in God that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God.

22 Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren : see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently,

23 Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God which liveth and abideth for ever.

24 || For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass : the grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away :

25 But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAP. II.

He dehortheth them from the breach of charitie :

4 shewing that Christ is the foundation whereupon they are built. 11 He beseecheth them also to abstain from fleshly lusts, 13 to be obedient to magistrates : 18 and teacheth servants how to obey their masters, 20 patiently suffering for well doing, after the example of Christ.

Wherefore laying aside all malice and all guile, and hypocrites, and envies, and all evil speakings.

2 As new born babes desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby :

3 If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious.

4 To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5 Ye also as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6 Wherefore it is contained in the scripture, * Behold, I lay in Zion, a chief corner-stone, elect, precious : and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

7 Unto you therefore which believe he is precious ; but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 * And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient, whereunto also they were appointed.

9 But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye should shew forth the praises of him, who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light :

10 Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God : * which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul.

12 Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles, that whereas they speak against you as evil doers, they may by your good works which they shall behold, glorifie God in the day of visitation.

13 Submit your selves to every ordinance of man for the Lords sake, whether it be to the king, as supreme,

14 Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well.

15 For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men, 16 As free, and not using your libertie for a cloak of malitiousness, but as the servants of God.

17 || Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

18 Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear, not onely to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.

19 For this is thank-worthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.

20 For what glory is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently : but if when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently : this is acceptable with God.

21 For even hereunto were ye called, because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps.

22 Who did no sinne, neither was guile found in his mouth.

23 Who when he was reviled, reviled not again, when he suffered, he threatened not, but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously.

24 Who his own self bare our sinnes in his own bodie upon the tree, that we being dead to sinne, should live unto righteousness, by whose stripes ye were healed.

25 For ye were as sheep going astray, but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

CHAP. III.

1 He teacheth the dutie of wives and husbands to each other, 8 exhorting all men to unitie and love, 14 and to suffer persecution. 19 He declareth also the benefits of Christ toward the old world.

Likewise, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands, that if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives,

2 While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3 Whose adorning, let it not be that outward adorning, of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparell.

4 But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner in the old time, the holy women also who trusted in God adorned themselves.

7 Likewise ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life, that your prayers be not hindered.

8 Finally, be ye all of one minde, having compassion one of another, || love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:

9 Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessings, knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.

10 For * he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile.

11 Let them eschew evil, and do good, let him speak peace and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

13 And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14 But and if ye suffer for righteousness sake, happy are ye, and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled:

15 But sanctifie the Lord God in your hearts, and be ready alwayes to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, with meeknesse and low feare:

16 Having a good conscience, that whereas they speak evil of you as of evil doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, then for evil doing.

18 For Christ also hath once suffered for sinnes, the just for the unjust: (that he might bring us to God) being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:

19 By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison:

20 Which sometime were disobedient, when once the long suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.

21 The like figure whereunto, even baptisme, doth also now save us, (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience towards God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22 Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God, angels, and authorities, and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAP. III.

He exhorteth them to cease from sinne by the example of Christ, and the consideration of the generall end that now approacheth: 12 and comforteth them against persecution.

Forasmuch then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm your selves likewise with the same minde: for he that hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sinne:

2 That he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh, to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

3 For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousnesse, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquettings, and abominable idolatries:

4 Wherein they think it strange that you run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you:

5 Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6 For, for this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the Spirit.

7 But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober and watch unto prayer.

8 And above all things have fervent charity among your selves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sinnes.

9 Use hospitality one to another without grudging.

10 As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11 If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God: if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth, that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ: to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial, which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you.

13 But rejoice in as much as ye are partakers of Christs sufferings: that when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the Spirit of glory, and of God rested upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evil doer, or as a busy-body in other mens matters.

16 Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorifie God on this behalf.

17 For the time is come that judgement must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

18 And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

19 Wherefore, let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing as unto a faithful Creatour.

CHAP. V.

1 He exhorteth the elders to feed their flocks. 5 the younger to obey, 8 and all to be sober, watchfull, and constant in the faith: 9 to resist the cruell adversary the devill.

The elders which are among you exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed.

THE SECOND EPISTLE generall of PETER.

CHAP. I.

1 Confirming them in hope of the increase of Gods graces, 5 he exhorteth them by faith and good works, to make their calling sure : 12 whereof he is carefull to remember them, knowing that his death is at hand : 16 and warneth them to be constant in the faith of Christ, who is the true son of God, by the eye-witness of the apostles beholding his majestic, and by the testimony of the Father and the prophets.

Simon Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us, through the righteousness of God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ :

2 Grace and peace be multiplied unto you, through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord.

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue :

4 Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises : that by these you might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 And besides this, giving all diligence, add to your faith, virtue : and to virtue, knowledge :

6 And to knowledge, temperance ; and to temperance, patience ; and to patience, godliness ;

7 And to godliness, brotherly kindness ; and to brotherly kindness, charity.

8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren, nor unfruitfull in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things, is blinde, and cannot see far off, and hath forgotten, that he was purged from his old sins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure : for if ye do these things ye shall never fall :

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly, into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up, by putting you in remembrance :

14 Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.

15 Therefore, I will endeavour that you may be able after my decease, to have these things always in remembrance.

16 For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eye-witnesses of his majesty.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19 We have also a more sure word of prophesie, wherunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, untill the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts :

20 Knowing this first, that no prophesie of the scripture is of any private interpretation.

21 For the prophesie came not in old time by the will of man : but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the holy Ghost.

CHAP. II.

1 He foretelleth them of false teachers, shewing the impiety and punishment both of them and their followers : 7 from which the godly shall be delivered, as Lot was out of Sodom : 10 and more fully describeth the manners of those profane and blasphemous seducers, whereby they may be the better known, and avoided.

But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bringing upon them their own destruction.

2 And many shall follow their pernicious ways, by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

C H A P. 111.

2 And though covetousnesse shall they with falsitye weede make merchandise of you: whose judgement now of a long time lingeeth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.

4 For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgement:

5 And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the right person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly:

6 And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes, condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly:

7 And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:

8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawfull deeds)

9 The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgement to be punished:

10 But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despite a government, * persequuntur are they, self-willed, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

11 Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.

12 But these as naturall brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not, and shall utterly perish in their own corruption,

13 And shall receive the reward of unrighteousnesse, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day-time: spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings, while they feast with you;

14 Having eyes full of adultery and that cannot cease from sin, beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices: cursed children.

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousnesse:

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with mans voice, forbade the madness of the prophet.

17 These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest, to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonnesse, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error.

19 While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again intangled therein, and overcome: the latter end is worse with them then the beginning.

21 For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, then after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and the sow that was washed, to her wallowing in the mire.

He assureth them of the certainty of Christs coming to judgement, against those scornors who dispute against it: 8 warning the godly for the long patience of God, to hasten their repentance. 10 He describeth also the manner how the world shall be destroyed: 11 exhorting them from the expectation thereof, to all holiness of life: 15 and again, to think the patience of God to tend to their salvation, as Paul wrote to them in his epistles.

This second epistle (beloved) I now write unto you, in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That ye may be mindfull of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last dayes scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

4 And saying, There is the promise of his coming: for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water, and in the water.

6 Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished.

7 But the heavens and the earth which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgement, and perdition of ungodly men.

8 But (beloved) be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand yeers, and a thousand yeers as one day.

9 The Lord is not slack concerning his promise (as some men count slacknesse) but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

10 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in the which the heavens shall passe away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burnt up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness,

12 Looking for, and hastening unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat.

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore (beloved) seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blamelesse.

15 And account that the long-suffering of our Lord is salvation, even as our beloved brother Paul also, according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you.

16 As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things, in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17 Wherefore (beloved) seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also be brought away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastnesse.

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ: to him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE generall of JOHN.

CHAP. I.

1 He describeth the person of Christ, in whom we have eternall life by a communion with God : 5 to which we must adioyn holinesse of life, to testifie the truth of that our communion and profession of faith, as also to assure us of the forgivenesse of our sins by Christs death.

hat which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled of the word of life :

2 (For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternall life which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us)

3 That which we have seen and heard, declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us ; and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Iesus Christ.

4 And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.

5 His then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darknesse at all.

6 If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darknesse, we lie, and do not the truth :

7 But if we walk in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Iesus Christ his son cleanseth us from all sin.

8 If we say that we have no sin, we deceive our selves, and the truth is not in us.

9 If we confesse our sins, he is faithfull, and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousnesse.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAP. II.

1 He comforteth them against the sins of infirmities. 3 Rightly to know God is to keep his commandments, 9 to love our brethren, 15 and not to love the world. 18 We must beware of seducers : 20 from whose deceits the godly are safe preserved by perseverance in faith and holinesse of life.

M little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Iesus Christ the righteous :

2 And he is the propitiation for our sins : and not for ours onely, but also for the sins of the whole world.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4 He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected : hereby know we that we are in him.

6 He that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning : the old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8 Again, a new commandment, that I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you : because the darknesse is past, and the true light now shineth.

9 He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darknesse even unill now.

10 He that loveth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother, is in darknesse, and walketh in darknesse, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darknesse hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his Names sake.

13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

14 I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15 Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away and the lust thereof : but he that doth the will of God abideth forever.

18 Little children, it is the last time, and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists, whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from us, but they were not of us : for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us : but they went out, that thy might be made manifest, that they were not all of us.

20 But ye have an unction from the holy One, and ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you, because ye know not the truth : but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 Who is a liar but he that denieth that Iesus is the Christ : he is antichrist that denieth the Father and the Son.

23 Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father : but he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning : if that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternall life.

26 These things have I written unto you, concerning them that seduce you.

27 But the anointing which ye have received of him,

† Gr. scand-
all.

him, abideth in you : and ye need not that any man teach you : but, as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie ; and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in it him.

28 And now, little children, abide in him, that when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 If ye know that he is righteous, if ye know that every one that doth righteousness, is born of him.

CHAP. III.

1 He declareth the singular love of God towards us, in making us his sons : 3 who therefore ought obediently to keep his commandments ; 11 as also brotherly to love one another.

BEhold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God : therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be : but we know, that when he shall appear, we shall be like him : for we shall see him as he is.

3 And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sin, transgresseth also the law : for sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know, that he was manifested to take away our sins, and in him is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not : who-soever sinneth, hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 Little children, let no man deceive you : he that doth righteousness, is righteous, even as he is righteous.

8 He that committeth sin, is of the devil : for the devil sinneth from the beginning : for this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin : for his seed remaineth in him, and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil : whosoever doth not righteousness, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.

11 For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.

12 Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother : and wherefore slew he him ? because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Barrell not my brethren, if the world hate you.

14 We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren : he that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.

15 Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer, and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us, and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17 But who so hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him ?

18 My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.

20 For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence towards God.

22 And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 And this is his commandment, that we should believe on the Name of his Sonne Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.

24 And he that keepeth his commandments, dwelleth in him, and he in him : and hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAP. II.

1 He warneth them not to believe all teachers who boast of the Spirit, but to try them by the rules of the catholick faith : 7 and by many reasons exhorteth to brotherly love.

BEloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God : because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God : every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

3 And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God : and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof you have heard that it should come, and even now already is it in the world.

4 Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them : because greater is he that is in you, then he that is in the world.

5 They are of the world : therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.

6 We are of God : he that knoweth God, heareth us : he that is not of God, heareth not us : hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 Beloved, let us love one another : for love is of God : and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not, knoweth not God, for God is love.

9 In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

10 Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.

13 Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14 And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15 Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love, and he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement : because as he is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out fear : because fear hath torment : he that feareth is not made perfect in love.

19 We love him : because he first loved us.

Or, it.

Or, know ye

Or, commandment.

Or, perceive.

Or, love with us.

20 If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

21 And this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God, love his brother also.

CHAP. V.

He that loveth God, loveth his children, and keepeth his commandments: 3 Which to the faithfull are light, and not grievous. 9 Jesus is the Son of God, able to save us, 14 and to hear our prayers, which we make for our selves, and for others.

Whosoever beleeueth that Jesus is the Christ, is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat, loveth him also: that is begotten of him.

2 By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and keep his commandments.

3 For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments, and his commandments are not grievous.

4 For whatsover is born of God, overcometh the world, and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

5 This is he that overcometh the world, but he that beleeueth that Jesus is the Son of God.

6 This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ, not by water only, but by water and blood: and it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7 For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the holy Ghost: and these three are one.

8 And there are three that bear witness in earth, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood, and these three agree in one.

9 If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God, which he hath testified of his Sonne.

10 He that beleeueth on the Son of God, hath the witness in himself: he that beleeueth not God, hath made him a liar, because he beleeueth not the record that God gave of his Son.

11 And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternall life: and this life is in his Son.

12 He that hath the Son, hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.

13 These things have I written unto you that beleeve on the name of the Son of God, that ye may know that ye have eternall life, and that ye may beleeve on the name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have in him, that if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us.

15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsover we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it.

17 All unrighteousnesse is sin, and there is a sin not unto death.

18 We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God, keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickednesse.

20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding that we may know him that is true; and we are in him that is true, even in his Sonne Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternall life.

21 Little children, keep your selves from idols Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN.

He exhorteth an honourable matron with her children, to persevere in Christian love and belief, lest they lose thereward of their former profession: 10 and to have nothing to do with those seducers that bring not the true doctrine of Christ Jesus.

Elder unto the elect lady, and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth:

2 For the truths sake which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever:

3 Grace be with you, mercie, and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ the Son of the Father, in truth and love.

4 I rejoyced greatly, that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another.

6 And this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, that as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.

7 For many deceivers are entred into the world, who confesse not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist.

8 Look to your selves, that we loose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

9 Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God: he that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed.

11 For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his evil deeds.

12 Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink, but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN.

He commendeth Gaius for his pietie, 5 and hospitality. 7 to true preachers, 9 complaining of the unkinde dealing of ambitious Diotrephes on the contrary side, 11 whose evill example is not to be followed: 12 and giveth speciall testimonie to the good report of Demetrius.

Or, truly.
Or, pray.

The elder unto the welbelovèd Gaius, whom I love in the truth.

2 Belovèd, I will above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3 For I rejoyced greatly when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.

4 I have no greater joy then to hear that my children walk in truth.

5 Belovèd, thou dost faithfully whatsoever thou dost to the brethren, and to strangers:

6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7 Because that for his names sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 All therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellow-helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church, but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Therefore if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doth, putting against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbideth them that would, & casteth them out of the church.

11 Belovèd, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. Be that doth good is of God: but he that doth evil, hath not seen God.

12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth it self: yea, and we also bear record, and ye know that our record is true.

13 I had many things to write, but I will not with inke and pen write unto thee.

14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

†Gr. mouth to mouth.

THE GENERALL EPISTLE OF JUDE.

He exhorteth them to be constant in the profession of the faith. 14 False teachers are crept in to seduce them: for whose damnable doctrine and manners, horrible punishment is prepared: so whereas the godly by the assistance of the holy Spirit and prayers to God, may persevere, and grow in grace, and keep themselves, and recover others out of the snares of those deceivers.

Jude the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ, and called:

2 Mercie unto you and peace, and love be multiplied.

3 Belovèd, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation: it was needfull for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

4 For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousnesse, and denying the onely Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterwards destroyed them that believed not.

6 And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness, unto the judgement of the great day.

7 Even as Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after † strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternall fire.

8 Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominions and speak evil of dignities.

9 Yet Michael the archangel, when contending with the devill, he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.

10 But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11 Mount unto them, for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gain-saying of Core.

12 These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots;

13 Raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blacknesse of darkness for ever.

14 And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints,

15 To execute judgement upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them, of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches, which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts, and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having mens persons in admiration because of advantage.

17 But, belovèd, remember ye the words which were

*Zech. 3. 2.

Or, principality.

Or, seller.

were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ :

18 How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.

19 These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit.

20 But ye, beloved, building up your selves on your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost,

21 Keep your selves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.

22 And of some have compassion, making a difference :

23 And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire : bating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultlesse before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,

25 To the onely wise God our Saviour be glory and majestie, dominion and power, now and ever. Amen.

THE REVELATION OF Saint JOHN the Divine.

CHAP. I.

4 John writeth his revelation to the seven churches of Asia, signified by the seven golden candlesticks.
7 The coming of Christ. 14 His glorious power and majestie.

The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to passe; and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John :

2 I John bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.

3 Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophesie, and keep those things which are written therein, for the time is at hand.

4 John to the seven churches in Asia, Grace be unto you, and peace, from him * which is, and which was, and which is to come, and from the seven spirits which are before his throne :

5 And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the * first-begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth : unto him that loved us, * and washed us from our sins in his own blood,

6 And hath * made us kings and priests unto God and his Father : to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

7 * Behold, he cometh with clouds, and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him : and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him : even so. Amen.

8 I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.

9 I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 I was in the spirit on the Lords day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet, 11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last : and what thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia : unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candle-

13 And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head, and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire,

15 And his feet like unto fine brasse, as if they burned in a furnace : and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seven stars : and out of his mouth went a sharp two edged sword : and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead : and he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not, I * am the first and the last.

18 I am the first and the last, and was dead : and behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen, and have the keys of hell and death.

19 Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter, 20 The mystrie of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, & the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches, and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seven churches.

CHAP. II.

What is commanded to be written to the angels, that is, the ministers of the churches of 1 Ephesus, 8 Smyrna, 12 Pergamos, 18 Thyatira : and what is commanded, or found wanting in them.

Unto the angel of the church of Ephesus write, These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks :

2 I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil, and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars :

3 And hast born, and hast patience, and for my Names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Nevertheless, I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works, or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

7 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the

the Spirit saith unto the churches, To him that overcome I will give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

8 And unto the angel of the church in Smyrna write, These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive,

9 I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.

10 Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

11 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches, He that overcometh, shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write, These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges,

13 I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satans seat is, and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast three that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

16 Repent, or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches, To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, saving he that receiveth it.

18 And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write, These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass, 19 I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works, and she last to be more than the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, because thou suffereest that woman Jezabel, which calleth her self a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

23 And I will kill her children with death, and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak, I will put upon you none other burden.

25 But that which ye have already, hold fast till I come.

26 And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations:

27 (* And he shall rule them with a rod of iron: as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers) even as I received of my Father.

28 And I will give him the morning star.

29 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAP. III.

2 The angel of the church of Sardis is reproved, 3 exhorted to repent, and threatened if he do not repent. 8 The angel of the church of Philadelphia is approved for his diligence and patience. 15 The angel of Laodicea rebuked, for being neither hot nor cold, 19 and admonished to be more zealous. 20 Christ standeth at the door, and knocketh.

And unto the angel of the church in Sardis, write, These things saith he that hath the seven spirits of God, and the seven stars, I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

2 Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 Remember therefore how thou hast received, and heard, and hold fast, and repent. * If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4 Thou hast a few names even in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment, and I will not blot out his name out of the * book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write, These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth:

8 I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my Name.

9 Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan (which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie) behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the worlds, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11 Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

12 Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

13 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14 And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans, write, These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God,

17 Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing: and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked.

18 I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and ancient thine eyes with eye-salve, that thou mayest see.

19 * As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore and repent.

20 Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and be with me.

21 To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

22 He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAP. IIII.

2 John seeth the throne of God in heaven. 4 The four and twentie elders. 6 The four beasts full of eyes before and behinde. 10 The elders lay down their crowns, and worship him that sat on the throne.

After this I looked, and behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.

2 And immediately I was in the spirit: and behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.

3 And he that sat, was to look upon like a jasper, and a sapphire stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

4 And round about the throne were four and twentie seats, and upon the seats I saw four and twentie elders sitting, clothed in white raiment, and they had on their heads crowns of gold.

5 And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thundings, and voices: and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea of glass like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts full of eyes before and behinde.

7 And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

8 And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they rest not day and night, saying, * Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beasts give glory, and honour, and thanks to him that sat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,

10 The four and twentie elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

11 * Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

CHAP. V.

1 The book sealed with seven seals: 9 which onely the Lamb that was slain is worthy to open. 12 Therefore the elders praise him, 9. and confesse that he redeemed them with his blood.

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne, a book written within, and on the back side sealed with seven seals.

2 And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

3 And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look therein.

4 And I wept much because no man was found worthy to open, and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not, behold, the sin of the tribe of Judah, the root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne, and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns, and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the book, the four beasts, and four and twentie elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints.

9 And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation:

10 * And hast made us unto our God kings and priests, and we shall reign on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne, and the beasts, and the elders, and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands,

12 Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain, to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.

14 And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twentie elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAP. VI.

1 The opening of the seals in order, and what followed thereupon, containing a prophesie to the end of the world.

And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts, saying, Come, and see.

2 And I saw, and behold, a white horse, and he that sat on him had a bow, and a crown was given unto him, and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come, and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon, to take peace from the earth; and that they should kill one another, and there was given unto him a great word.

5 And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come, and see. And I beheld, and lo, a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny, and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come, and see.

8 And I looked, and behold, a pale horse; and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed with him: and power was given unto them, over the fourth part of the earth to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held.

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also, and their brethren that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo, there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

13 And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig-tree casteth her untimely figs when she is shaken of a mighty wind.

14 * And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places:

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every freeman, hid themselves in the dens, and in the rocks of the mountains;

16 * And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

CHAP. VII.

3 An angel sealeth the servants of God in their foreheads. 4 The number of them that were sealed: of the tribes of Israel a certain number, 9 of all other nations an innumerable multitude, which stand before the throne, clad in white robes, and palms in their hands. 14 Their robes were washed in the blood of the Lamb.

And after these things, I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed; and there were sealed an hundred and fourtie and four thousand, of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Naphtali were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After this, I beheld, and lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands:

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God,

12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, Whatare these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them.

16 * They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

17 For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne, shall feed them; and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: * and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAP. VIII.

1 At the opening of the seventh seal, 2 seven angels had seven trumpets given them 6 Four of them sound their trumpets, and great plagues follow. 3 Another angel putteth incense to the prayers of the saints on the golden altar.

And when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 And I saw the seven angels which stood before God, and to them were given seven trumpets.

altar, having a golden censer, and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar, which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God, out of the angels hand.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thundings, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets, prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, and there followed hail, and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth, and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became blood:

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters:

11 And the name of the star is called Wormwood, and the third part of the waters became wormwood, and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars, so as the third part of them was darkened: and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Wo, wo, wo, to the inhabitants of the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels which are yet to sound.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the sounding of the fifth angel, a star falleth from heaven, to whom is given the key of the bottomless pit. 2 He openeth the pit, and there come forth locusts like scorpions. 12 The first wo past. 13 The sixth trumpet sounded. 14 Four angels are let loose, that were bound.

And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit, and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace, and the sun and the air were darkened, by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth, and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power:

4 And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months; and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6 And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it, and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battell, and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, and their faces were as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of lions.

9 And they had breast-plates, as it were breast-plates of iron, and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battell.

10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails, and their power was to hurt men five months.

11 And they had a king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name || Apollyon.

12 One wor is past, and behold, there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar, which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared || for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.

16 And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of iacinth, and hyssop, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions, and out of their mouths issued fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails; for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues, yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they || would not worship devils, and idols of gold and silver, and brass and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

21 And they repented not of their murders, nor of their fornications, nor of their thefts.

CHAP. X.

A mightie Strong Angel appeareth with a book open in his hand. 6 He sweareth by him that liveth for ever, that there shall be no more time. 9 John is commanded to take and eat the book.

And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud, and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the sunne, and his feet as pillars of fire.

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the Angel which I saw stand upon the sea, and upon the earth, lifted up his hand to heaven,

|| That is to say, a destroyer.

* Psa. 115. 4. and 135. 15.

6 And I saw by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven and the things that therein are, and the earth and the things that therein are, and the sea and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer :

7 But in the dayes of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystrie of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

8 And the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go, and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel, which standeth upon the sea, and upon the earth.

9 And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, Take it, and eat it up, and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the angels hand, and ate it up, and it was in my mouth sweet as honey : and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesie again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAP. XI.

3 The two witnesses prophesie : 6 They have power to shut heaven, that it rain not. 7 The beast shall fight against them, and kill them. 8 They lie unburied, 11 and after three dayes and an half rise again. 14 The second voice is past. 15 The seventh trumpet soundeth.

And there was given me a reed like unto a rod, and the angel stood, saying, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But the court which is without the temple I leave out, and measure it not : for it is given unto the Gentiles, and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty and two monthes.

3 And I will give power unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesie a thousand two hundred and threescore dayes clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are the two olive trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies : and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 These have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the dayes of their prophesie : and have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kindreds, and tongues, and nations, shall see their dead bodies, three dayes and a half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth, shall rejoyce over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another, because these two prophets tormented them that dwell on the earth.

11 And after three dayes and an half, the Spirit of life from God entered into them : and they stood upon their feet, and great fear fell upon them, which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven, saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up to heaven in a cloud, and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand : and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 The second voice is past, and behold, the third voice cometh quickly.

15 And the seventh angel sounded, and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ, and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And the four and twenty elders which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come : because thou hast taken to thee the great power, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead that they should be judged, and that thou shouldst give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy Name, small and great, and shouldst destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament, and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

CHAP. XII.

1 A woman clothed with the sun travaileth. 4 The great red dragon standeth before her ready to devour her child : 6 when she delivered the fleeth into the wilderness. 7 Michael and his angels fight with the dragon, and prevail. 13 The dragon being cast down into the earth, persecuteth the woman.

And there appeared a great wonder in heaven, a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars :

2 And she being with childe, cried, travailling in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heaven, and behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads, and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth : and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her childe as soon as it was born.

5 And she brought forth a man-childe, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron : and her childe was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore dayes.

7 And there was war in heaven, Michael and his angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon fought, and his angels :

8 And prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the devil and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world : he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ : for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, down, which accused them before our God, day and night.

11 And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them; wo to the inhabitants of the earth, and of the sea: for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man-child.

14 And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might flee into the wilderness, into her place: where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood, after the woman: that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A beast riseth out of the sea with seven heads and ten horns, to whom the dragon giveth his power.

11 Another beast cometh up out of the earth: 14 causeth an image to be made of the former beast, 15 and that men should worship it, 16 and receive his mark.

And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads, and ten horns, & upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.

2 And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads, as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things, and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

9 If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 He that leadeth into captivity, shall go into captivity: * He that killeth with the sword, must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth, and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth, and them which dwell therein, to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth, in the sight of men,

14 And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth, by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast, saying, to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast which had the wound by a sword, and did live.

15 And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads.

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Were is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man, and his number is six hundred threescore and six.

CHAP. XIV.

1 The Lamb standeth on mount Sion with his company: 6 an angel preacheth the gospel. 8 The fall of Babylon. 15 The harvest of the world, and putting in of the sickle. 20 The vintage and the wine presse of the wrath of God.

And I looked, and so, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps:

3 And they sung as it a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders, and no man could learn that song, but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women: for they are virgins: these are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth: these were redeemed from among men, being the first-fruits unto God, and to the Lamb.

5 And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation and kindred, and tongue, and people.

7 Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him, for the hour of his judgement is come: * and worship him that made heaven and earth, and the sea and the fountains of waters.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, * Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture, into the cup of his indignation, and he shall be tormented with fire and brimston, in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb :

11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever. And they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints : here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, that they may rest from their labours, and their works do follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold, a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat like unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the temple crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, * Thrust in thy sickle and reap, for the time is come for thee to reap, for the harvest of the earth is ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloud, thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire, and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great wine-press of the wrath of God.

20 And the wine-press was troden without the city, and blood came out of the wine-press, even unto the horse-bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

1 The seven angels with the seven last plagues. 3 The song of them that overcome the beast. 7 The seven vials full of the wrath of God.

And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues, for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a sea of glass, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

3 And they sing * the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty, * just and true are thy ways, thou king of saints.

4 * Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name : for thou only art holy : for all nations shall come and worship before thee, for thy judgements are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened :

6 And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels, seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, who liveeth for ever and ever.

8 And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

2 The angels pour out their vials full of wrath. 6 The plagues that follow thereupon. 15 Christ cometh as a thief. Blessed are they that watch.

And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go your ways and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth, and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea, and it became as the blood of a dead man : and every living soul died in the sea.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters, and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus :

6 For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink, for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgements.

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun, and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues : and they repented not, to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast, and his kingdom was full of darkness, and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

11 And blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds.

12 And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates, and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

13 And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth into the kings of the earth, and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

15 * Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked and they see his shame.

16 And he gathered them together into a place, called in the Hebrew tongue, Armageddon.

17 And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air, and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.

18 And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings : and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake and so great.

19 And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell : and great Babylon came in remembrance before

C H A P. XVII.

3, 4 A woman arrayed in purple and scarlet, with a golden cup in her hand, sitteth upon the beast, 5 which is great Babylon the mother of all abominations. 9 The interpretation of the seven heads, 12 and the ten horns. 8 The punishment of the whore. 14 The victory of the Lamb.

AND there came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither, I will shew unto thee the judgement of the great whore, that sitteth upon many waters :

2 With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness : and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads, and ten horns.

4 And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold and precious stone and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication.

5 And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS, AND OF THE UNCLEAN THINGS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus : and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the Angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel ? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8 The beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition, and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, (whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world) when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings, five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come : and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.

12 And the ten horns which thou sawest, are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet : but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14 These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them : * for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings, and they that are with him, are called and chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfill his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

C H A P. XVIII.

2 Babylon is fallen. 4 The people of God commanded to depart out of her. 9 The kings of the earth, 11 with the merchants and mariners, lament over her. 20 The saints rejoyce for the judgements of God upon her.

AFTER these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power, and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, * Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3 For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 Reward her even as she rewarded you ; and double unto her double, according to her works : in the cup which she hath filled, fill to her double.

7 How much she hath glorified her self, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her : for she saith in her heart, I sit a * queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine ; and she shall be utterly burnt with fire : for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.

9 And the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication, and lived deliciously with her, shall bewail her, and lament for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning :

10 Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mightie citie : for in one hour is thy judgement come.

11 And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their merchandise any more :

12 The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all thyne-wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of beryl, and iron, and marble,

13 And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flower, and wheat, and brass, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and souls of men.

14 And the fruits that thy soul lusted after, are departed from thee, and all things which were were dainty and goodly, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more at all.

15 The merchants of these things which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing.

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls.

17 For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And every ship-master, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off,

18 And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie is like unto this great citie?

19 And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea, by reason of her covetousness, for in one hour is she made desolate.

20 Rejoyce over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets, for God hath avenged you on her.

21 And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with violence shall that great citie Babylon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all.

22 And the voice of harpers and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters shall be heard no more at all in thee: and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee: and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee.

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee: and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for the merchants were the great men of the earth: for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.

24 And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

1 God is praised in heaven for judging the great whore, and avenging the blood of his saints: 7 The marriage of the Lamb. 10 The angel will not be worshipped. 17 The souls called to the great slaughter.

And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia, salvation and glory, and honour, and power unto the Lord our God:

2 For true and righteous are his judgements, for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And again they said, Alleluia: and her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 And the four and twenty elders, and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants; and ye that fear him both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let us be glad and rejoyce, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

8 And to her was granted, that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

9 And he saith unto me, Write, * Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 And I fell at his feet to worship him: and he said unto me, * See thou do it not: I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren, that have the testimony of Jesus, worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse, and he that sat upon him was called faithful and true, and in righteousness he doth judge, and make war.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns, and he had a name written that no man knew but he himself.

13 * And he was clothed with a vesture dyed in blood, and his name is called, The word of God.

14 And the armies which were in heaven, followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the wine-press of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And he hath on his vesture, and on his thigh a name written, * KYRIOS EI HES, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun, and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and gather your selves together unto the supper of the great God:

18 That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

CHAP. XX.

2 Satan bound for a thousand years. 6 The first resurrection: they blessed that have part therein. 7 Satan let loose again. 8 Gog and Magog. 10 The devil cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 12 The last and general resurrection.

And I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on the dragon that old serpent, which is the devil and Satan, and bound him a thousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4 And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgement was given unto them: and I saw

* Mat. 22.2.

* Cha. 22.9.

* Isa. 63.2.

* Cha. 17.14.

saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands : and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection : on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God, and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8 And shall go out to deceive the nations, which are in the four quarters of the earth, * Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battell : the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 And they went up on the breadth of the earth and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city : and fire came down from God out of heaven and devoured them.

10 And the devil that deceived them, was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night, for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away, and there was found no place for them.

12 And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God : and the books were opened : and another book was opened, which is the book of life : and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it : and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them : and they were judged every man according to their works.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire : this is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

CHAP. XXI.

1 A new heaven and a new earth. 10 The heavenly Jerusalem, with a full description thereof. 23 She needeth no sunne, the glory of God is her light. 24 The kings of the earth bring their riches unto her.

And I saw a new heaven, and a new earth : for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw the holy city new Jerusalem coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 * And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes : and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain : for the former things are passed away.

5 And he that sat upon the throne, said, * Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write : for these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said unto me, It is done : * I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end,

* I will give unto him that is thirsty, of the fountain of the waters of life freely.

7 He that overcometh shall inherit all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone : which is the second death.

9 And there came unto me one of the seven angels, which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride the Lamb's wife.

10 And he carried me away in the Spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God.

11 Having the glory of God : and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal.

12 And had a wall great and high : and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel.

13 On the east three gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates, and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the citie had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth four-square, and the length is as large as the breadth : and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs : the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper, and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glasse.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper, the second sapphire, the third a chalcidone, the fourth an emerald,

20 The fifth sardonyx, the sixth sardius, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth a topaz, the tenth a chrysolophasus, the eleventh a jacinth, the twelfth an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls, every severall gate was of one pearl, and the street of the citie was pure gold, as it were transparent glasse.

22 And I saw no temple therein : for the Lord God Almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple of it.

23 * And the citie had no need of the sun, neither of the moon to shine in it : for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 * And the nations of them which are saved, shall walk in the light of it : and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 * And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day : for there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoeuer woyleth abomination, or maketh a lie : but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The river of the water of life. 2 The tree of life.
5 The light of the city of God is himself. 9 The angel will not be worshipped. 18 Nothing may be added to the word of God, nor taken therefrom.

AND he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lamb.

2 In the midst of the street of it, and of either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every in month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.

3 And there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God, and of the Lamb shall be in it, and his servants shall serve him.

4 And they shall see his face, and his name shall be in their foreheads.

* Cha. 21. 23.

5 * And there shall be no night there, and they need no candle, neither light of the sun, for the Lord God giveth them light, and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, These sayings are faith-full and true. And the Lord God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 Behold, I come quickly: Blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophesie of this book.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them.
And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel, which shewed me these things.

* Cha. 19. 10

9 Then saith he unto me, * See thou do it not:
for I am thy fellow-servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophesie of this book: for the time is at hand.

11 He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And behold, I come quickly, and my reward is with me, * to give every man according as his work shall be.

* Rom. 2. 6.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, * the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

* Isa. 41. 4.
and 44. 6.

14 Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the citie.

15 For without are dogs, and forcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 I Jesus have sent mine angel, to testifie unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the off-spring of David, and the bright and morning star.

17 And the Spirit and the Bride say, Come.
And let him that heareth, say, Come. * And let him that is athirst, come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

* Isa. 55. 1.

18 For I testifie unto every man that heareth the words of the prophesie of this book, * If any man shall adde unto these things, God shall adde unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

* Deut. 4. 2.
Prov. 30. 6.

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophesie, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy citie, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things, saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, Come Lord Jesus.

21 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

To the Reader.

Thou shalt understand (gentle Reader) that I have (for the helpe of those that are desirous to learne to sing) caused a new print of Note to be made with letters to be joyned to every Note : whereby thou mayest know how to call every Note by his right name. so that with a little diligence (as thou art taught in the introduction printed heretofore in the Psalmes) (thou mayest the easier by the viewing of these Letters, come to the knowledge of perfect Solfaying) whereby thou mayst sing the Psalmes the more speedily and easily. the Letters be these, V. for Vt. R. for Re. M. for My. F. for Fa. S. for Sol. L. for La. Thus where you see any Letter joyned by the Note, you may easily call him by the right name, as by these two examples you may the better perceive.

Veni Creator.

And make the knots of peace and love,
throughout all Christian lands.

Grant us (O Lord) through thee to know,
the Father most of might;

That of his deare beloved Sonne,
we may attaine the sight.

And that with perfect faith also,
we may acknowledge thee:

The spirit of them both alway,
one God in persons three.

Land and praise be to the Father,

and to the Sonne equally,

And to the holy Spirit also,
one God coeternall.

And pray we that thy only Sonne, vouchsafe his Spirit to send;

To all that do profess his Name,
unto the worlds end.

The humble suite of a sinner. M.

Pet doe thy Saints behold them all,
and so I trust shall I.
Though sin doth hinder me a while,
when thou shalt see it good,
I shall enjoy the sight of him,
and see his wounds and blood.
And as thine Angels and thy Saints,
doe now behold the same:
So trust I to possess that place,
with them to praise thy Name.
But whilst I live here in this vale,
where sinners doe frequent,
Assist me ever with thy grace,
my sinnes still to lament.
Lest that I tread in sinners trace,
and give them my consent,
To dwell with them in wickednesse,
whereto nature is bent.
Only thy grace must be my stay,
lest that I fall downe flat:
And being downe, then of my selfe cannot recover that.
Wherefore this is yet once againe
my suit and my request:
To grant me pardon for my sinnes,
that I in thee may rest.
Then shall my heart, and tongue also,
be instruments of praise,
And in thy Church and house of Saints sing Psalmes to thee alwayes.

Venite exultemus, Psal. xcvi.

Sing this as the Benedictus.

O Come and let us now rejoyce,
And sing unto the Lord:
And to our onely Saviour
Also with one accord.

O let us come before his face,
With inward reverence,
Confessing all our former sinnes,
And that with diligence.

To thanke him for his benefits,
Alwayes distributing:
Wherefore to him right fully
In Psalmes now let us sing.

And that because that God alone
Is Lord magnificent:
And eke above all other Gods,
A King omnipotent.

His people doth not he forsake
At any time or tide,
And in his hands are all the coasts,
Of all the World so wide.

And with his loving countenance
He looketh every where,
And doth behold the tops of all
The mountaines farre and neere,
The Sea and all that is therein
Are his, for he them made:
And eke his hand hath fashioned
The Earth which doth not fade.

O come therefore and worship him,
And downe before him fall:
And let us kneele before the Lord,
The which hath made us all.

He is our God, our Lord and King,
And we his people are:
His flock and sheepe of his pasture,
On whom he taketh care.

This day if wee will heare his voyce,
Pet harden not your heart:
As in the bitter murmuring,
When wee were in desert.

Which thing was of their negligence,
Committed in the time
Of trouble in the wilderness,
A great and grievous crime.

Whereas your Fathers tempted me,
And told me every way;
They proved me, and saw my works,
What I could doe or say.

These forty yeares I have bene grieved,
With all this generation;
And evermore I said they erred,
In their Imagination.

Where with their hearts were sore combred,
Long time and many dayes;
Wherefore I know assuredly,
They have not known my wayes.

To whom I in mine anger swore,
That they should not be blest;
Nor see my joy celestiall,
Nor enter in my rest.

Gloria Patri.

All laud and praise be to the Lord,
O that of might art most:
To God the Father, and the Sonne,
And to the holy Ghost.

As it in the beginning was,
For ever heretofore:
And is now at this present time,
And shall be evermore.

The Song of S. Ambrose called, Te Deum.

W^e praise thee God, we know ledge thee, the onely Lord to be; And as evernall Father, all the earth doth worship thee. To thee all Angels cry, the Heavens and all the powers therein,
To thee Cherub and Seraphim, to cry they doe not sin.

Holy, holy, holy Lord,
 of Sabbath Lord the God:
 Through heaven and earth thy praise is spread and glory all abroad.
 The Apostles glorious company
 yeeld praise unto thee:
 The Prophets goodly fellowship,
 praise thee continually.
 The noble and victorious host,
 of Martyrs found thy praise;
 The holy Church throughout the world
 doth knowledge thee alwayes:
 Father of endless Majesty,
 they doe acknowledge thee:
 Thy Christ, thine honourable true and onely Sonne to be.

The holy Ghost the Comforter, of glory thou art king,
 O Christ, and of the Father art
 the Sonne everlasting.
 When sinfull mans decay in hand
 thou tookest to reioyce:
 To be inclosed in Virgins wombe,
 thou diddest not abhorre.
 When thou hadst overcome of death
 the sharpe and cruell might,
 Thou heavens kingdom didst let open,
 to each believing wight.
 In glory of the Father, thou dost sit on Gods right hand:
 We trust that thou shalt come our Judge,
 our cause to understand.

Lord helpe thy servants whom thou hast bought with thy precious blood;
 And in eternall glory sit with thy Saints so good,
 O Lord, doe thou thy people save,
 blasse thine inheritance:
 Lord governe them, and Lord doe thou for ever them advance.

We magnifie thee day by day,
 and world without an end Adore thy holy name, O Lord, vouchsafe us to defend:
 From sinne this day, have mercy, Lord,
 have mercy on us all.
 And on us as we trust in thee,
 Lord let thy mercy fall.
 O Lord I have reposed all
 my confidence in thee:
 Put to confounding shame therefore,
 Lord let me never be.

The Song of Zacharias, called Benedictus.

The only Lord of Israel, bespelled evermore: For through his visitation, and mercy kept in store, his people now he hath redeem'd, that long hath bene in thrall: And spread abroad his saving healeth, Upon his servants all.

In Davids house his servant true,
According to his minde:
And also his anointed King,
As we in Scripture finde,
As by his holy Prophets all,
Of times he did declare:
The which were since the world began,
His wayes for to prepare.

That we might be delivered,
From those that make debate,
Our enemies, and from the hands;
Of all that doe us hate.
The mercy which he promised,
Our fathers to fulfill:
And thinke upon his covenant made,
According to his will.

And also to performe the oath,
Which he before had sware;
To Abraham our father deare,
For us that were forlorne.

That he would give himselfe for us,
And us from bondage bring;
Out of the hands of all our foes,
To serve our heavenly King.

And that without all manner feare,
And eke in righteousness;
And also for to leade our life,
In stedfast holiness.

And thou, O childe, which now art borne
And of the Lord elect:
Shalt be the prophet of the highest,
His wayes for to direct.

For thou shalt goe before his face,
For to prepare his wayes;
And also for to teach his will,
And pleasure all thy daies.

To give them knowledge how that their Salvation is nere:
And that remission of their sinnes,
Is through his mercy mere.

Whereby the day spring from on high,
As come us for to visit,

And those for to illuminate,
Which doe in darkness sit.
To lighten those that shadowed be,
With death and eke opprest:
And also for to guide our feet,
The way to peace and rest.

The Song of the blessed Virgin
Mary, called Magnificat.

My soule doth magnifie the Lord,
my spirit eke evermore, Rejoiceth in the Lord my God, which is my Saviour.
And why? because he did regard, And gave respect unto, So base estate of his hand-maid, and let the mighty goe.

For now behold all nations,
And generations all;
From this time forth for evermore;
Shall me right blessed call.

Because he hath me magnified,
Which is the Lord of might:
Whose Name be ever sanctified,
And praised day and night.

For with his mercy and his grace,
All men he doth enflame;
Throughout all generations,
To such as feare his Name.
He sheweth strength with his great arme,
And made the proud to stare;
With all imaginations,
That they bare in their heart.

He hath put downe the mighty ones
From their supernall seat;
And did exalt the mecke in heart,
As he hath thought it meete.

The hungry he replenished,
With all things that were good;
And though his power he made the rich,
Of times to want their food.

And calling to remembrance,
His mercy every deale;
Hath holpen up assidantly,
His servant Israel.

According to his promise made,
To Abraham before;
And to his seede successively,
To stand for evermore.

The Song of Simeon, called Nunc Dimittis.

O Lord because my heares desire hath wished long to see, My only Lord and Saviour, Thy Sonne before I die.
 The joy and health of all mankind, Desired long before; Which now is come into

The world, of mercy bringing light.
 Thou sufferest thy servant now,
 In peace for to depart;
 According to thy holy Word,
 Which lighteneth my heart.
 Because mine eyes which thou hast made
 To give my body light:
 Have now beheld thy saving health,
 Which is the Lord of might.
 Whom thou mercifully hast set,
 Of rhyme abundant grace;
 In open sight and visible,
 Before all peoples face.
 The Gentiles to illuminate,
 And Satan overquell;
 And eke to be the glory of Thy people Israel.

The Symbole, or Creed of Arhanasius called Quicunque vult.

What man soever he be, that salvation will attaine; The Catholike beliefe he must, before all things retaine.
 Which faith unless he holy keepe, and mind fully; Without all doubt eternally he shall be sure to die.

 The Catholike believe is this,
 that God we worship one In Trinity, and Trinity in Unity alone.
 So as we neither doe confound

The persons of the three;
 Nor yet the substance whole of one,
 in sundre parted be.

One person of the Father is,
 another of the Sonne;
 Another person proper of the holy Ghost alone.
 Of Father, Son, and holy Ghost,
 but one the God-head is;
 Like glory, coeternall the
 the majesty likewise.

Such as the Father is, such is the Sonne in each degree;
 And such also we doe believe,
 the holy Ghost to be.
 Uncreate is the Father, and
 uncreate is the Son;
 The holy Ghost uncreate, so uncreate is each one.

Incomprehensible Father, and incomprehensible Son;
 And comprehensible also is the holy Ghost of none.
 The father is eternall, and
 the Son eternall so:
 And in like sort eternall is
 the holy Ghost also.

And yet though we believe that each of these eternall be:

Yet there but one eternall is,
 and not eternalls three:
 As ne incomprehensible we,
 ne yet uncreate three:
 But one incomprehensible, one uncreate hold to be.

Almighty so the Father is,
 the Son almighty so:
 And in like sort almighty is,
 the holy Ghost also.

And albeit that every one of these almighty be;
 Yet there but one almighty is,
 and not almighties three.

The Father God is, God the Son,
 God holy Ghost also:

Yet are there not three Gods in all,
 but one God and no more.

So likewise Lord the Father is,
 and Lord also the Son:
 And Lord the holy Ghost, yet are there not three Lords, but one.

For as we are compell'd to grant,
 by Christian verity;

Each of the persons by himselfe,
 both God and Lord to be:

So Catholike Religion,
 forbiddeth us alway:

That either Gods be three, or that there Lords be three to say.

Of none the Father is, ne made,
 ne create, nor begot;
 The Son is of the Father, not create, ne made, but got.

The holy Ghost is of them both,
 the Father and the Son:

Ne made, ne create, nor begot.

but doth proceed alone.
So we one Father hold, not three:
one Sonne also, not three:
One holy Ghost alone, and not three holy Ghosts to be.
None in this Trinity before,
nor after other is:
Be greater any than the rest,
ne lesser be likewise.

But every one among themselves,
of all the persons three,
Together coeternall all,
and all coequall be.
So Unity and Trinity,
as it is said before;
And Trinity in Unity,
in all things we adore.

Therefore what man so ever shall salvation will attaine;
This faith touching the Trinity,
of force he must retaine.
And needfull to eternall life,
it is that every wight
Of the incarnating of Christ,
our Lord beleve aright.

For this the right faith is, that we beleve, and eke doe know,
That Christ our Lord, the Sonne of God, is God and man also.
God of his fathers substance got,
before the world began;
And of his mothers substance borne in world, a very man.

Both perfect God and perfect man
in one, one Iesus Christ;
That both of reasonable soule,
and humane flesh subst.
Touching his Godhead equall with his father: God is he:
Touching his manhood lower than his father in degree.

Who though he be both very God,
and very man also;
Yet is he but one Christ alone,
and is not persons two.
One, not by turning of Godhead into the flesh of man:
But by taking manhood to God,
this being one began.

All one not by confounding of
the substance into one;
But only by the unity,
that is of one person.
For as the reasonable soule,
and flesh but one man is:
So in one person God and man,
is but one Christ likewise.

Who suffered for to save us all,
to hell he did descend,
The third day rose againe from death,
to heaven he did ascend.
He sits at the right hand of God,
the almighty Father there:
From thence to iudge the quicke and dead,
again he shall retise.

At whose returne all men shall rise,
with bodies new restor'd;
And of their owne workes they shall give account unto the Lord.
And they unto eternall life shall goe that have done well:
Who have done ill shall goe into eternall fire to dwell.

This is the Catholike beliefe, who doth not faithfully
beleve the same, without all doubt he saved cannot be.
To father, Sonne, and holy Ghost
all glory be therefore,
As in beginning was, is now,
and shall be evermore.

The Lamentation of a Sinner.

O Lord turne not away thy face, From him that lyeth prostrate: Lamenting for his sinfull life, Before thy mercy gate. Which gate thou openest wide to those, that doe lament their sin,
Shut not that gate against me Lord,
But let me enter in.

And call me not to mine account,
How I have lived here;
For then I know right well (O Lord)
How vile I shall appear.
I need not to confesse my life,
I am sure thou canst tell,
What I have beene, and what I am,
I know thou know'st it well.

O Lord thou know'st what things be past
And eke the things that be;
Thou know'st also what is to come,
Nothing is hid from thee.
Before the heavens and earth were made,
Thou know'st what things were then:
As all things else that have beene since,
amongst the sonnes of men.

And can the things that I have done,
Be hidden from thee then?
Nay, nay, thou know'st them all, O Lord,
Where they were done and when.
Therefore with teares I come to thee,
To beg and to intreat:

The Lords Prayer.

Even as the child that hath done ill,
and feareth to be beat.

So come I to thy mercy gate,
Where mercy doth abound:
Requiring mercy for my sinne,
To heale my deadly wound.

O Lord, I need not to repeat,
What I doe beg of thee;
Thou know'st. O Lord, before I aske, the thing that I would have.

Mercy good Lord, mercy I aske,
This is the corall summe:
For mercy Lord is all my suite,
Lord let thy mercy come.

The Lords Prayer, or Pater Noster.

Our Father which in heaven art, Lord hallowed be thy Name: Thy Kingdome come. Thy will be done in earth, even as the same in heaven is: Give us, O Lord, our daily bread this day. As we forgive our debtors: So forgive our debts we pray. Into temptation lead us not, from evil make us free. For Kingdome, power and glory thine, both now and ever be.

land. Even from the house wherein thou didst, in thraldome live a slave: None other Gods at all, before my presence shalt thou have.

No manner graven Image shalt thou make at all to thee;
Nor any figure like by thee shall counterfeited be,
Of any thing in heaven above,
nor in the Earth below,
Nor in the waters beneath the Earth,
to them thou shalt not bow.

Nor shalt them serve, the Lord thy God,
a jealous God am I;
That punish parents fault unto
the third and fourth degree,
Upon their children that me hate,
and mercy doe display,
To thousands of such as me love,
and my Precepts obey.

The name thou of the Lord thy God,
in vaine shalt never use:
For him that takes his Name in vaine,
the Lord will not excuse.
Remember that thou holy keepe,
the sacred Sabbath day:
Six dayes thou labour shalt, and doe thy needfull workes alway.

The seventh day is set by the Lord,
thy God to rest upon;
So worke then shalt thou doe in it,
ne thou, ne yet thy Sonne,
Thy daughter, servant, nor hand-maid,
thine Oxe, nor yet thine Ass;
Nor stranger that within thy gates,
hath his abiding place.

For in six dayes, God Heaven and Earth,
and all therein did make;
And after those his rest he did upon the seventh day take.
Wherefore he blest that day that he
for resting did ordaine:
And sacred to himselfe alone,
appointed to remaine.

Would honour do thy parents that,
prolong'd thy daies may be,
Upon the Land, the which the Lord thy God hath given thee.
Thou shalt not murder. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
Thou shalt not steale. Nor with false against thy neighbour be.
Thou shalt not covet house, that to thy neighbour doth belong:

Do covet hate in having of his wife to doe him wrong,
Nor his manservant, nor his maid;
Nor Ore, nor a lfe of his;
Nor any other thing that to thy neighbour proper is.

The complaint of a Sinner.

Where righteousness doth say, Lord for my sinfull part, In wrath thou should'st me pay: Vengeance for my desert I can it not deny, But needs I must confesse, how that continually, thy Lawes I doe transgresse, Thy Lawes I doe transgresse.

But if it be thy will,
Alth sinners to contend;
Then all thy flock shall spill,
And be lost without end.
For who so liveth here so right,
That rightly he can say,
He sins not in thy sight,
Full oft and every day:

The Scripture plaine telle me,
The righteous man offendeth,
Seven times a day to thee,
Whereon thy wrath dependeth:
So that the righteous man,
Doth walke in no such path;
But he falls now and then
In danger of thy wrath.

Then sith the case so stands,
That even the man right wise
Falls oft in sinfull bands,
Wherby thy wrath may rise:
Lord, I that againstust,
And righteousness none have;
Whereto then shall I trust,
Oy sinfull soule to save?

But truly to that post,
Whereto I cleave and shall;
Which is thy mercy most:
Lord see thy mercy fall.
And mitigate thy mood,
Or else we perish all:
The price of this thy blood,
Wherein mercy I call.

The Scripture doth declare,
No drop of blood in thee;
But that thou didst not spare
To shed each drop for me.

Now let those drops most sweet
So moist my heart to dry;
That I with sin rep lease
May live, and sin may die.

That being mortified,
Thy sinne of mine in me;
I may be sanctified
By grace of thine in thee.
So that I never fall,
Into such mortall sinne;
That my foes infernall,
Rejoyce my death therein.

But vouchsafe me to keepe,
From those infernall foes;
And from that lake so deepe,
Whereas no mercy growes.
And I shall sing the songs,
Confirmed with the lute,
That unto thee belongs,
Which art mine only trust.

FIN IS.

The Psalmes of DAVID in Metre.

Beatus Vir, Psalm i. T. S.

This Psalm is set first as a preface, to exhort all godly men to study and meditate the heavenly wisdom, for they be blessed that doe so: but the wicked contentners thereof, at length shall come to misery.

Ike man is blest that hath not bent, to wicked reade his eare; Nor led his lffe as sinners do, nor late in scorners chaire.

2. But in the Law of God the Lord, doth set his whole delight; And in that law doth exercise himselfe both day and night.

3 He shall be like the tree that grow'th fast by the rivers side;
Which bringeth forth most pleasant fruit,
In her dye time and tide.

4 Whose lease shall never fade nor fall,
but flourish still and stand;
Even so all things shall prosper well,
that this man takes in hand.

Psalme I.II.III.IV.

- 5 So shall not the ungodly men,
they shall be nothing to;
But as the dust which from the Earth,
the wind drives to and fro,
6 Therefore shall not the wicked men;
in iudgement stand upright:
Nor yet the sinners with the iust,
shall come in place of sight.
7 For why? the way of godly men, unto the Lord is kno^{wn}:
And eke the way of wicked men,
shall quite be overthrowne.

Quare fremuerunt. Psal. ij. T.S.

David rejoiceth, that albeit his enemies & worldly power rage, God will advance his kingdome, even to the farthest end of the world. Therefore he exhorteth Princes humbly to submit themselves unto the same. Herein is signified Christ and his Kingdome.

Sing this as the 1. Psalme.

- Why did the Gentiles tumults raise?
What rage was in their braine?
Why did the Jewish people misse,
seeing all is but vaine,
2 The Kings and Rulers of the Earth, conspire and are all bent Against the Lord, and Christ his sonne, whitch he amongst us sent.
3 Shall we be bound to them say they?
let all their bands be broke:
And of their doctrine and their Law,
let us respect the poke.
4 But he that in the heavens dwelleth, their doings will decide:
And make them all as mocking stockes,
throughout the world so wide
5 For in his wrath, the Lord will say,
to them upon a day:
And in his fury trouble them,
and then the Lord will say:
6 I have annointed him my King,
upon my holy hill;
I will therefore, Lord, preach thy Lawes,
and eke declare thy Will.
7 For in this wise the Lord himselfe,
did say to me, I wot:
Thou art my deare and only Son,
to day I thee bigot.
8 All people I will give to thee,
as helmes at thy request,
The ends and coasts of all the Earth,
by thee shall be possesst.
9 Thou shalt them buffet even with a mace,
as men under foot trod:
And as the Potters shears, shalt breake them with an iron rod.
10 Know yee, O Kings, and Rulers all,
be wise therefore and learn's:
By whom the matters of the world,
be iudged and discern'd.
11 See that yee serve the Lord above,
in trembling and in feare;
So that with reverence yee rejoyce,
to him in like manner.
12 See that yee kiss, and eke embrace,
his blessed Sonne I say:
Lest in his wrath yee suddenly perish in the right way.

- 13 If once his wrath never so small,
shall kinde in his breast;
Oh then, all they that trust in Christ,
shall happy be and blest.

Domine quid, Psal. iij. T.S.

David driven out of his Kingdome by his son Absolon, was greatly tormented in his mind for his sin. Therefore he called upon God, and is bold in his promises against the terror both of enemies, and present death. Then he rejoyceth for the victory given him, and the Church over their enemies.

O Lord how are my foes increast, which be me more and more? They kill my heart, when as they say, God can him not restore. 2. But thou, O Lord, art my defence, when I am hard beset: By worship and mine honour both, and thou hold'st up my head,

- 4 Then with my voyce upon the Lord,
I did both call and cry;
And he out of his holy hill,
did heare me by and by.
5 I laid me downe and quietly,
I slept and rose againe;
For why? I know assuredly,
the Lord will me sustaine.
6 If ten thousand had hem'd me in,
I could not be afraid;
For thou art still my Lord my God,
my Saviour and my aide.
7 Rise up therefore, save me O God,
for now to thee I call;
For thou hast broke the cheekes and teeth of these wicked men all.

- 8 Salvation on'y both belong,
to thee, O Lord, above;
Thou dost bestow upon thy folke,
thy blessings and thy love.

Cum invocarem. Psal. iv. T.S.

David persecuted by Saul, calleth upon God with assured trust; reproveth his enemies for resisting his dominion, and preferreth the favour of God before all treasure.

Sing this as the 1. Psalme.

- O God that art my righteousnesse,
Lord heare me when I call:
Thou hast set me at liberty,

when

- when I was bound and shall.
 2 Haven mercy Lord therefore on me,
 and grant me my request;
 For unto thee unceasingly
 to cry I will not rest.
 3 O mortall man, how long wilt ye my glory thus despise?
 Why wander ye in vanity,
 and follow after lies?
 4 Know ye that good and godly men,
 the Lord doth take and chuse:
 And when to him I make my plaint,
 he doth me not refuse.
 5 Sinne not but stand in awe, therefore,
 examine wel. your heart:
 And in your Chamber quietly,
 see you your selves convert.
 6 Offer to God the sacrifice, of righteousness, I say;
 And looke that in the living Lord,
 you put your trust alway.
 7 The greater sort crave worldly goods,
 and riches doe embrace;
 But Lord grant us thy countenance,
 thy favour and thy grace.
 8 For thou thereby shalt make my heart,
 more joyfull and more glad,
 Than they that of their come and wine,
 full great increase have had.
 9 In peace therefore lie downe will I,
 taking my rest and sleepe:
 For thou only wilt me (O Lord)
 alone in safety keepe.

Verba mea auribus Psal.v.T.S.

David persecuted by Doeg and Achitophel Sauls flatterers, calleth upon God to punish their malice. Then assured of successe, he conceiveth comfort.

Sing this as the 3. Psalme.

- I beseech thine eares unto my Lord;
 O Lord my plaint consider:
 2 And heare my voyce, my King, my God,
 to thee I make my prayer.
 3 Heare me betimes, Lord carry not,
 for I will have respect:
 My prayer early in the morne,
 to thee for to direct.
 4 And I will trust through patience,
 in thee my God alone:
 Thou art not pleas'd with wickednesse,
 and ill with thee dwells none.
 5 And in thy sight shall never stand these furtious foolies (O Lord)
 And the works of iniquity, thou hast alwayes abhord.
 6 The liars and the flatterers, thou shalt destroy them than;
 And God will hate the bloud thirsty,
 and the deceitfull man.
 7 Therefore will I come to thy house,
 trusting upon thy grace:
 And reverently will worship thee,
 towards thine holy place.
 8 Lord lead me in thy righteousness,
 for to confound my foes:

- And eke the way that I shall walke,
 before my face disclose.
 9 But in their mouths there is no truth,
 their hearts are foule and vaine:
 10 Their throat an open sepulcher, their tongues doe glasse and faine.
 11 Destroy their false conspiracies, that they may come to nought;
 Subvert them in their heapes of sin,
 which have rebellion wrought.
 12 But those that put their trust in thee,
 let them be glad alwayes:
 And render thanks for thy defence,
 and give thy Name the praise.
 13 For thou with favour wilt increase the iust and righteous still:
 And with thy grace, as with a shield, defend them from all ill.

Domine in furore. Psal.vi. T. S.

David for his sins felt Gods hand and conceived the horrour of everlasting death. Therefore he de-sireth forgiveness, and not to die in Gods indignation: then suddenly feeling Gods mercy he rebuketh his enemies, who rejoyced at his affliction.

Sing this as the 1. Psalme.

- Lord, in thy wrath reprove me not,
 though I deserve thine ire:
 Yet correct me in thy rage,
 O Lord, I thee desire.
 2 For I am weak, therefore, O Lord,
 of mercy me forbeare:
 And heale me Lord, for why thou know'st,
 my bones doe quake for feare.
 3 My soule is troubled very sore,
 and vexed vehemently;
 But Lord how long wilt thou delay,
 to cure my misery?
 4 Lord turne thee to thy wonted grace, my silly soule up take O save me not for my defects,
 but for thy mercies sake.
 5 For why? no man among the dead, remembereth thee one while:
 O who shall worship thee, O Lord,
 in the infernall pit?
 6 So grievous is my plaint and mone,
 that I way wondrous faine:
 All the night long I wash my bed,
 with teares of my complaint.
 7 My sight is dim, and waxeth old,
 with anguish of my heart.
 For feare of those that are my foes,
 and would my soule subvert.
 8 But now away from me all yee,
 that worke iniquity:
 For why? the Lord hath heard the voyce of my complaint and cry.
 9 He heard not only the request,
 and prayer of my heart:
 But it receiv'd at my hands,
 and tooke it in good part.
 10 And now my foes that vexed me,
 the Lord will soone defame,
 And suddenly confound them all,
 to their rebuke and shame;

Domine Deus meus, Psal. vii. T. S.

David falsely accused by Chus, Sauls kinsman calleth God to be his defender: First, for that his conscience did not accuse him of any evil towards Saul: Next, that it touched Gods glory to award sentence against the wicked: And so upon Gods mercies and promises he waxeth bold, threatening that it shall fall upon their neckes, which his enemies purpose for others.

Sing this as the 3. Psalme.

- 1 O Lord my God, I put my trust and confidence in thee; Save me from them that me pursue, and eke deliver me.
- 2 Lest like a Lyon he me teare, and rend in pieces small; While there be none to succour me, and rid me out of thral.
- 3 O Lord my God, if I have done, the thing that is not right; Or else if I be found in fault, or guilty in thy sight:
- 4 Or to my friend rewarded ill, or left him in distresse, Which me pursued most cruelly, and hated me causelie.
- 5 Then let my foes pursue my soule, and eke my life downe thrust Unto the earth, and also lay mine honour in the dust.
- 6 Stand up, O Lord, now in thy wrath, and put my foes to shame; Performe the Kingdome promised to me, which wrong sustaine.
- 7 Then shall great nations come to thee, and know thee by this thing; If thou declare for love of them, thy selfe as Lord and King.
- 8 And thou that art of all men Judge, O Lord, now iudgeth thou me, According to thy righteousness, and mine integrity.

The second part.

- 9 O Lord cease the hate of wicked men, and be the iust mans guide;
- 10 By whom the secrets of all hearts are searched and descride.
- 11 I take my helpe to come of God, in all my griefe and smart. That doth preserve all those that be of pure and upright heart.
- 12 The iust man and the wicked both, God iudgeth by his power; So that he feelles his mighty hand, even every day and houre.
- 13 Except he change his mind. I die, for even as he should liue, He wets his sword, his bow he bends, aiming where he may hit.
- 14 And doth prepare his mortall darts, his arrowes keene and sharpe, For them that do me persecute, while he doth mischief warpe.
- 15 But lo, though he in ravell be, of his diuinitie forecast: And of his mischief once conceivd, yet brings forth nought at last.

- 16 He digs a ditch, and delues it deepe, in hope to hurt his brother; But he shall fall into the pit, that he digg'd up for other.
- 17 Thus wrong returneth to the hurt of him in whom it bred; And all the mischief that he wrought, shall fall upon his head.
- 18 I will give thanks to God therefore, that iudgeth righteously: And with a song will praise the name, of him that is most hie.

Domine Deus, Psal. viii. T. S.

The Prophet considering the excellent liberalitie and fatherly providence of God towards man, whom he made, as it were, a God over all his workes, giveth thanks, and is astonished with the admiration of the same.

Sing this as the 3. Psalme.

- 1 O God our Lord, how wonderfull are thy workes every where? Whose same surmounts in dignity, above the heavens cleare.
- 2 Even by the mouth of sucking babes, thou wilt confound thy foes; For in those babes thy might is shene, thy graces they disclose.
- 3 And when I see the heavens, and the workes of thine owne hand; The Sunne, the Moone, & all the Starres, in order as they stand,
- 4 What thing is man (O Lord) thinke I then, that thou dost him remember? What is mans posterity, that thou dost him consider?
- 5 For thou hast made him little lesse, than Angels in degree; And thou hast crowned him also, with glory and dignity.
- 6 Thou hast prefer'd him to be Lord of all thy workes of wonder, And at his feet hast set all things, that he should keepe them under.
- 7 As sheepe and neat, and all beastes else, that in the fields doe feed;
- 8 Fowles of the ayre, fish in the sea, and all that therein breed.
- 9 Therefore must I say once againe, O God that art our Lord, How famous and how wonderfull are thy workes through the world.

Confitebor tibi Domine, Psal. ix. T. S.

David giveth thanks for his manifold victories received, desireth the same wonted help against his new enemies, & their malicious arrogancies to be destroyed.

Sing this as the 3. Psalme.

- 1 With heart and mouth unto the Lord, will I sing laud and praise; And speake of all his wondrous workes, and them declare alwayes.
- 2 I will be glad, and much reioyce in thee, O Lord, most high: And make my songs exceed thy name, above the starry skye.

- 3 For that my foes are diuinen back,
and turned unto flight;
They fall downe flat, and are destroy'd, by thy great force and might.
- 4 Thou hast reuenged all my wrongs,
my griefe and all my grudges;
Thou dost with iustice heare my cause,
and like a righteous Iudge,
- 5 Thou dost rebuke the heathen folke,
and wicked to confound,
That afterwarde the memory
of them cannot be found:
- 6 My foes thou hast made good dispatch,
and all their towres destroy'd:
Thou hast their fame with them defac'd,
throughout the world so wide.
- 7 Know thou that he which is above,
for euermore shall raigne:
And in the seat of equity,
true iudgement will maintaine.
- 8 With iustice he will keepe and guide,
the world and every wight;
And so will perck with equity,
to every man his right.
- 9 He is protector of the poore,
what time they be oppress'd;
He is in all aduersity,
their refuge and their rest.
- 10 All they that know thy holy Name,
therefore shall trust in thee;
For thou forsakest not their suite,
in their necessity.

The second part.

- 11 Sing Psalmes therefore unto the Lord,
that dwells on Sion hill:
Publish among all Nations,
his noble acts and will.
- 12 For he is mindfull of the blood,
of those that be oppress'd;
Forgetting not the afflicted heart,
that seeks to him for rest.
- 13 Have mercy (Lord) on me poore wretch, whose enemies still remaine;
Which from the gates of death art wont to raise me up againe.
- 14 In Sion that I may set forth,
thy praise in heart and voyce;
And that in thy saluation, Lord,
my soule might still reioyce.
- 15 The heathen sticke fast in the pit,
that they themselves prepar'd;
And in the net that they did set,
their own feete fast are snar'd.
- 16 God shewes his iudgements which were for every man to make: (good)
- When as you see the wicked man,
he trap in his owne wayke.
- 17 The wicked and deceitfull men,
gor downe to hell for euer;
And all the people of the world,
that will not God remember.
- 18 But sure the Lord will not forget the poore mans griefe and paine,
The patient people neuer looke,
for helpe of God in vaine.

- 19 O Lord arise lest men preualle, that be of worldly might;
And let the heathen folke receive their iudgement in their sight.
- 20 Laid st like such terrible feare and dread,
into the hearts of them;
That they may know assuredly,
they be but mortall men.

Ps. quid Domine. Psal. x. T. S.

He complaineth of the wrongs which worldly men use, because of their prosperity, who therefore without all feare of God, thinke they may doe all things uncontrolled, he calls for remedy against such, and is comforted with the hope thereof.
Singing this as the 3. Psalme.

- What is the cause that thou, O Lord,
art now so far from thine;
And keepest close thy countenance,
from us this trouble some time?
- 2 The poore doth perck by the proud,
and wicked mens desire;
Let them be taken in the craft,
that they themselves conspire.
- 3 For in the lust of his owne heart,
th'ungodly doth delight:
So doth the wicked praise himselfe,
and doth the Lord despight.
- 4 He is so proud, that right and wronge
he setteth all apart;
Nay, there is no God (saith he)
for thus he thinks in heart.
- 5 Because his wates doe prosper still,
he doth thy Lawes neglect;
And with a blast doth puffe against such as would him correct.
- 6 Tush, tush (saith he) I have no dread,
lest mine estate should change;
And why? for all aduersity
to him is very strange.
- 7 His mouth is full of cursednesse, of fraud, deceit and guile;
Under his tongue doth mischief sit,
and travell all the while.
- 8 He stretcheth his handes and boles,
to slay the innocent;
Against the poore that passe him by,
his cruell eyes are bent.
- 9 And like a Lyon proudly,
lurking in his den;
If he may snare them in his net,
to spoile poore simple men.
- 10 And for the nonce full craftily,
he coucheth downe, I say:
To are great heapes of poore men made,
by his strong power, his prey.
- The second part.
- 11 Tush, God forgetteth this, saith he,
therefore I may be bold,
His countenance is cast aside,
he doth it not behold.
- 12 Arise, O Lord, O God in whom the poore mans helpe doth rest:
Lift up thy hand, forget not Lord,
the poore that be oppress'd.
- 13 What blasphemy is this to thee,
Lord dost thou not abhorre it.

To heare the wicked in their hearts;
 say, thus thou canst not for it:
 15 But thou seest all their wickednesse,
 and well dost understand, 16 That friendlesse and poore fatherlesse, are left unto thy hand.

17 Of wicked and malicious men, then breake the power for ever:
 That they with their iniquity,
 may perish all together.
 18 The Lord shall raigne for evermore,
 as King and God alone:
 And he will heare the heathen folke out of the land each one.

19 Thou hear'st, O Lord, the poore mens their prayer and request: (Plaint, Their hearts thou wilt confirme, untill thine eares to heare be prest.
 20 To iudge the poore and fatherlesse, and helpe them to their right;
 That they may be no more oppressed,
 by men of worldly might.

In Domino, Psal. xi. T. S.

This Psalm sheweth first what assaults of temptation and anguish of mind he sustained in persecution. Next, hee rejoiceth that God sent him succour in necessity, declaring his justice as well in governing the good and wicked men, as the whole world.

Sing this as the 3. Psalm.

1 Trust in God, how dare yee then,
 I say thus my soule untill;
 Fly hence as fast as any fowle,
 and hide you in your bill.
 2 Behold, the wicked bend their bowes,
 and make their arrowes prest,
 To shoot in secret and to hurt,
 the sound and harmelesse best.
 3 Of worldly hope all staves were shunke, and clearly brought to nought;
 Mas, the iust and righteous man,
 what evil hath he wrought?
 4 But he that in his temple is,
 most holy and most blest,
 And in the heavens hath his seat
 of royall maiesty,
 The poore and simple mans estate,
 considereth in his minde,
 And searcheth out full narrowly,
 the manners of mankind.
 5 And with a cheerefull countenance,
 the righteous man will use:
 But in his heart he doth abhorre,
 all such as mischiefe muse.

6 And on the sinners casteth snares,
 as thick as any raine;
 Fire and brimstone, and whirlewinds thick,
 appointed for their paine.
 7 Persee then how a righteous God,
 doth righteousness embrace:
 And to the iust and upright man,
 shewes forth his pleasant face.

Salvum me fac, Psal. xxi. T. S.

The Prophet feeling the miserable decay of a good order, desireth God speedily to send reformation: then comforted with the assurance of Gods help and promises, concludeth, that when all orderers are most corrupted, God will deliver his,

Sing this as the 3. Psalm.

Help Lord, for good and godly men
 doe perish and decay;
 And falsly and truth from worldly men
 is parted cleane away.
 2 Who so doth with his neighbours talke,
 his talke is all but vaine:
 For every man beethinketh how,
 to flatter lie and faine.
 3 But flattering and deceitfull lips,
 and tongues that be so stout,
 To speak proud words & make great brags,
 the Lord soone cuts them out.
 4 For they say still, we will prevaille,
 our tongues shall us extoll;
 Our tongues are ours, we ought to speake,
 what Lord shall us controll?

5 But for the great complaint and cry,
 of poore and men oppressed,
 Arise will I now, saith the Lord,
 and them restore to rest.
 6 Gods Word is like to silver pure,
 that from the Earth is tid;
 And hath no lesse than seven times,
 in fire beene purifid.

7 Now since thy promise is to helpe,
 Lord keepe thy promise then;
 And save us now and evermore,
 from this ill kinde of men.
 8 For now the wicked world is full of mischiefs manifold;
 When vantly with worldly men,
 so highly is extold.

Uquequo Domine, Psal. xii. T. S.

David, as it were overcome with afflictions, flie to God his only refuge, encouraged through Gods promises, conceiveth confidence against the extreme horrors of death.

Sing this as the 3. Psalm.

How long wilt thou forget me Lord?
 shall I ne're be remembered?
 How long wilt thou thy visage hide,
 as though thou wert offended?
 2 In heart and mind how long shall I with care tormented be;
 How long ere shall my deadly foe,
 thus triumph over me?
 3 Behold me now, O Lord, my God,
 and heare me sore oppressed;
 Lighten mine eyes, lest that I sleepe,
 as one by death possed.
 4 Lest thus mine enemies say to me,
 behold, I doe prevaille:
 Let they also that hate my soule,
 rejoyce to see me quaille.
 5 But from thy mercy and goodnesse,
 my hope shall never faile:
 In thy refuge and saving health,
 right glad shall be my braile.
 6 I will give thanks unto the Lord,
 and praise to him sing:
 Because he hath heard my request,
 and granted my wishing.

Dixit insipiens, Psal. xliij. T. S.

He describeth the wickednesse of men so grown to such licentiousnesse, that God was brought to utter contempt, for which, albeit he was greatly grieved, yet perswaded that God would redresse it, he is comforted.

There is no God as foolish men, affirme in their mad mood: Their desires are all corrupt and vaine, not one of them doth good. The Lord beheld from heauen hie, the whole race of mankind, and saw not one that sought indeed the liuing God to find.

3 They went all wide, and were corrupt, and cruelly there was none

That in the world did any good,
 I say there was not one.

4 As all their iudgement so farre lost, that all worke mischief still:
 Eating my people euen as bread,
 not one to seeke Gods will:

5 When they thus rage, then suddenly,
 great feare on them shall fall:
 For God doth loue the righteous men,
 and will maintaine them all.

6 Pee mock the doings of the poore, to their reproach and shame,
 Because they put their trust in God,
 and call upon his Name.

7 But who shall giue thy people health,
 and when wilt thou fulfill,
 Thy promise made to Israel,
 from out of Sion hill?

8 Euen when thou shalt restore againe,
 such as were captiue tad:
 Then Iacob shall therein reioyce,
 and Israel shall be glad.

Domine quis, Psal. xv. T. S.

Here is taught why God chose the Jewes his peculiar people, and placed his Temple among them, which was, that they by liuing uprightly, might witnesse that they were his speciall and holy people.

Sing this as the 3. Psalm.

O Lord within thy Tabernacle, who shall inhabit still?

1 Whom wilt thou receiue to dwell,
 in thy most holy hill?

2 The man whose life is uncorrupt, whose woordes are iust and straight:
 whose heart doth thinke the very truth,
 whose tongue speaks no deceit.

3 Not to his neighbour doth none lift
 in body, goods or name:

4 Not willingly doth moue false tales, which might impair the same.

5 That in his heart regarded not,
 malicious wicked men:

6 But those that love and feare the Lord,
 he maketh much of them.

7 His oath and all his promises that keepeth faithfully;

8 Although he make his covenant so,
 that he doth lose thereby.

9 That putteth not to usury,
 his money nor his coyne:

10 Ne for to hurt the innocent,
 doth hate or else purloine.

11 Who so doth all things as you see,
 that here is to be done,

12 Shall neuer perish in this world,
 nor in the world to come.

Conserua me, Psal. xv.

David prayeth to God for succour, not for his works, but for his faiths sake, protesting that he hateth all Idolatry, taketh God onely for his comfort and felicity, who suffereth his to lack nothing.

Sing this as the 24. Psalm.

Lord keepe me, for I trust in thee,
 and doe confesse indeed:

2 Thou art my God, and of my goods,
 O Lord thou hast no need.

3 I giue my goods unto the Saints, that in the world doe dwell:
 And namely to the faithfull flock,
 in vertue that excell.

4 They shall heape sorowes on their head, which runne as they were mad,
 To offer to the Idol gods,
 alas, it is too bad.

5 As for the bloody sacrifice,
 and offerings of that sort:
 I will not touch, nor yet thereof
 my lips shall make report.

6 For why? the Lord the portion is of mine inheritance:
 And thou art he that doest maintaine,
 my rent, my lot, my chance.

7 The place whereth my lot did fall
 in beauty did excell:

8 My heritage assign'd to me,
 doth please me wondrous well.

9 I thanke the Lord, that caused me
 to understand the righte;

10 For by this meanes my secret thoughts
 doe teach me every night.

11 I let the Lord fill in my sight,
 and trust him euer all:

12 For he doth stand on my right hand,
 therefore I shall not fall.

- 9 Therefore my heart and tongue also,
doe both reioyce together;
My flesh and body rest in hope,
when I this thing consider.
10 Thou wilt not leave my soule in grave,
for Lord thou lovest me;
Nor yet wilt give thine holy one,
corruption for to see.
11 But wilt me teach the way to life,
for all treasures, and store
Of perfect toy are in thy face, and power for evermore.

Exaudi Domine, Psal. xvij. T.S.
Here he complaineth to God of the cruell pride and arrogancy of Saul, who ragedit without any cause:
Therefore he desireth God to revenge his innocency and deliver him.

- Sing this as the 30. Psalme.*
O Lord give care to my iust cause,
attend when I complaine;
And heare the prayer that I put forth, with lips that doe not faile.
2 And let the iudgement of my cause proceed alway from thee:
And let thine eyes behold and cleare
this my simplicitie.
3 Thou hast well t'ed me in the night,
and yet couldst nothing find,
That I have spoken with my tongue,
that was not in my mind.
4 As for the works of wicked men,
and pathes perverse and ill:
For love of thy most holy Name,
I have refrained still.
5 Then in thy pathes that be most pure,
stay me Lord, and preserve:
That from the way wherein I walke,
my steps may never swerve.
6 For I doe call to thee (O Lord)
truly thou wilt me aide:
Then heare my prayer, and weigh right well,
the words that I have said.
7 O thou the Saviour of all them,
that put their trust in thee;
Declare thy strength on them that spurne against thy Majesty.
8 O keepe me, Lord, as thou wouldst keepe
the apple of thine eye:
And under covert of thy wings,
defend me secretly.

- The second part.*
9 From wicked men that trouble me,
and daily me annoy:
And from my foes that goe about,
my soule for to destroy,
10 Which wallow in their worldly wealth,
to fill and eke to fat,
That in their pride they doe not spare to speake they care not what.
11 They lie in wait when I should passe,
with craft me to confound:
And musing mischief in their minds,
to cast me to the ground.
12 Much like a Lyon greedily, that would his prey embrace;

- Or lurking like a Lions whelp,
within some secret place.
13 O Lord, in haste prevent my foe,
and cast him at my feger:
Save thou my soule from the ill man,
and with thy sword him smite.
14 Deliver me, Lord, by thy power, out of these tyrantes hands;
Which now so long time raigned have,
and kept us in their bands.
15 I meane from worldly men, to whom all worldly goods are rise:
That have no hope nor part of toy,
but in this present life.
16 Thou of thy store, their bellies fillest, with pleasures to their mind:
Their children have enough, and leaue to theirs the rest behind.
17 But I shall with pure conscience,
behold thy gracious face;
So when I wake I shall be full of thine image and grace.

Diligam te Domine. Psal. xvij. T.S.

David giveth thanks entering into his Kingdom, extolling the marvellous graces of God in his preservation. Merin is the image of Christs Kingdom, which shall conquer through Christ, by the unspokeable love of God, though all the world relist.

O Lord my strength and fortitude, of force I must love thee; Thou art my castle and defence, in my necessity.
2 O God, my rock, in whom I trust, the worker of my wealth: O refuge, buckler, and my shield, the hope of all my health.

- 3 When I sing laud unto the Lord,
most worthy to be served:
Then from my foes I am right sure,
that I shall be preserved.
4 The pangs of death, did compasse me,
and bound me every where:
The flowing waves of wickednesse,
did put me in great feare.
5 The ste and subtille snares of hell,
were round about me set:

And for my death there was prepar'd
a deadly trapping net.

6 I thus beset with paine and griefe,
did pray to God for grace:
And he forthwith did heare my plaint,
out of his holy place.

7 Such is his power that in his wrath,
he made the earth to quake;
Pea, the foundations of the mount of Basan for to shake.

8 And from his nostrills came a smoke,
when kindled was his ire:
And from his mouth came kindled coales,
of hot consuming fire.

9 The Lord descended from above,
and bow'd the heavens hie,
And underneath his feet he cast
the darknesse of the skie.

10 On Cherubs and on Serubims
full royally he rood;
And on the wings of all the winds,
came flying all abroad.

The second part.

11 And like a den most darke he made,
his hid and secret place,
With waters blacke, and aby clouds, inbathed he was.

12 But when the presence of his face,
in brightnesse shall appeare;
Then clouds consume, and in their stead come haile and coales of fire.

13 The fiery darts and thunder-boltes, disperse them here and there;
And with his often lightnings,
he puts them in great feare.

14 Lord at thy wrath and threatenings, and at thy chiding cheare,
The Springs and the Foundations of all the world appeare.

15 And from above the Lord sent downe,
to fetch me from below;
And pluck'd me out of waters great,
that would me overflow.

16 And me delivered from my foes,
that would have made me thrall:
Pea, from such foes as were too strong,
for me to deale withall.

17 They did prevent me to oppresse,
in time of my great griefe:
But yet the Lord was my defence,
my succour and reliefe.

18 He brought me forth in open place,
whereas I might be free:
And kept me safe, because he had a favour unto me.

19 And as I was an innocent,
so did he me regard;
And to the cleannesse of my hands,
he gave me my reward.

20 For that I walked in his waies,
and in his paths habetrod;
And have not wavered wickedly, against my Lord my God.

The Third part.

21 But evermore I have respect,
to his Law and Decree;

His Statutes and Commandements,
I cast not out from me.

22 But pure and cleane, and incorrupt, appear'd before his face:
And did refraine from wickednesse,
and sinne in any case.

23 The Lord therefore will me reward,
as I have done aright;
And to the cleannesse of my hands,
appearing in his sight.

24 For Lord, with him that holy is,
thou wilt be holy too;
And with the good and vertuous man,
right verduously, wilt doe.

25 And to the loving and elect, thy love thou wilt referre:
And thou wilt use the wicked men,
as wicked men deserve.

26 For thou dost save the simple folke,
in trouble where they lie:
And dost bring downe the countenance of them that looke full high.

27 The Lord will light my candle so,
that it shall shine full bright;
The Lord my God will make also,
my darknesse to be light.

28 For by thy helpe an host of men, discomfite Lord I shall:
By thee I scale and overleap,
the strength of any wall.

29 Unspotted are the waies of God,
his word is purely true;
He is a sure defence to such,
as in his faith abide.

30 For who is God except the Lord?
for other there is none:
Or else who is omnipotent, saving our God alone?

The fourth Part.

31 The God that girdeth me with strength is he that I doe meane:

That all the waies wherein I walke,
did evermore keepe cleane,

32 That made my feet like to the Harts,
in swiftnesse of my pace:
And for my surety brought me forth,
into an open place.

33 We did in order put my hands,
to battell and to fight;
To breake in sunder bars of brasse,
he gave me armes the night.

34 Thou teachest me thy saving health, thy right hand is my tower;
Thy love and familiarity,
doth still increase my power.

35 And under me thou makest plosie,
the way where I should walke;
So that my feet shall never slip,
nor stumble at a balke.

36 And fiercely I pursue and take;
my foes that me annoy'd,
And from the field doe not retorne,
till they be all destroy'd.

37 So I suppress and wound my foes,
that they can rise no moze;

For at my feet they fall down flat,
 If strike them all to foare.
 38 For thou dost guide me with thy strength,
 to war in such a wise:
 That they be all scatter'd abroad,
 that up against me rise.
 39 Lord, thou hast put into my hands,
 my morrell enemies roake;
 And all my foes thou dost divide,
 in sunder with thy stroke.
 40 They call'd for help, and none gave eare;
 nor helpe them with reliefe:
 Psea to the Lord they call'd for helpe,
 yet heard he not their griefe.

The fifth Part.

41 And still like durt before the wind,
 I diue them under feet;
 And sweepe them out like filthy clay,
 that sticketh in the street.
 42 Thou keep'st me from seditions folke, that still in strife be led;
 And thou dost of the heathen folke,
 appoint me to be head.
 43 A people strange to me unknowne,
 and yet they shall me serue;
 And at the first obey my word,
 whereas in time owne will swerue.
 44 I shall be it helome to mine owne,
 they will not see my light:
 But wander wide out of the wales,
 and hide them out of sight.
 45 But blessed be the living Lord,
 most worthy of all praise;
 That is my rock and saving health,
 praised be he alwaies.
 46 For God it is that gave me power, revenged for to be:
 And with his holy Word subdu'd
 the people unto me.
 47 And from my foes delibere'd, and set me higher than thole
 That cruell and ungodly were,
 and up against me rose.
 48 And for this cause, my Lord my God,
 to thee give thanks I shall;
 And sing out praises to thy Name,
 among the Gentiles all.
 49 Thou givest great prosperitie, unto the King, I say,
 To David thine anointed King,
 and to his seed for aye.

Celi enarrant, Psal. xix. T. S.

He moveth the faithfull to glorifie God by the workmanship, proportion and ornaments of the heavens, and by the Law wherein God is revealed familiarly to his choien people.

Sing this as the 18. Psalm.

The heavens and the firmament,
 doe wondrously declare;
 The glory of God omnipotent,
 his workes, and what they are.
 2 The wondrous workes of God appeare
 by every daies successe;
 The night likewise which their race run,
 the selfe same thing expresse:

3 There is no language, tongue or speech,
 where their sound is not heard;
 In all the earth and coasts thereof,
 their knowledge is conferr'd.
 4 In them the Lord made for the Sunne,
 a place of great renowne;
 Who like a Bridegrome ready trim'd, steth from his chamber come.
 5 And as a vallant Champion,
 who for to get a prize,
 With toy doth haste to take in hand some noble enterprize.
 6 And all the skie from end to end, he compasseth about;
 Nothing can hide it from his heate,
 but he will find it out.
 7 How perfect is the Law of God,
 how is his covenant sure!
 Converting soules, and making wise,
 the simple and obscure!
 8 Just are the Lords Commandements, and glad both heart and mind;
 His Precepts pure, and giveth light to eyes that be full blind.
 9 The feare of God is excellent,
 and doth endure for ever;
 The iudgements of the Lord are true,
 and righteous altogether.
 10 And more to be embrac'd alway, than lined gold I say;
 The hony and the haupcombe,
 are not so sweet as they.
 11 By them thy servant is forewarn'd, to have God in regard;
 And in performance of the same,
 there shall be great reward.
 12 But Lord, what earthly man doth know
 the errors of his life?
 Then cleanse my soule from secret sinne which are in me most hid.
 13 And keepe me that presumptuous sinne
 prevaile not over me;
 And then shall I be innocent,
 and great offences flee.
 14 Accept my industry, and eke my heart,
 my words and thoughts each one;
 For my Redeemer and my strength,
 O Lord thou art alone.

Exaudiat te Dominus, Psal. xx. T. S.

The people pray unto God to heare their King, and receive his sacrifice which he offered before he went to battell against the Ammonites, declaring that the heathen put their trust in horses, but they trust only in his Name; wherefore the other shall fall, but the King and his people shall rejoyce,

Sing this as the 14. Psalm.

In trouble and adversity,
 the Lord God heare thy still;
 The Majesty of Jacobs God, defend thee from all ill.
 2 And send thee from his holy place his help at every need:
 And so in Sion stablish thee,
 and make thee strong indeed.

- 3 Remembraing well the sacrifice,
that now to him is done;
And so receive right thankfully,
thy burnt offerings each one.
- 4 According to thy hearts desire,
the Lord grant unto thee:
And all thy counsell and device,
full well perfozme may be.
- 5 We shall reioyce when thou us sav'st,
and our banners display,
Unto the Lord, which thy requests fulfilled hath alway.
- 6 The Lord will his annointed save,
I know well by his grace:
And send him heal: h by his right hand,
out of his holy place.
- 7 In Charlots some put confidence,
and some in horses trust;
But we remember God our Lord,
that keepst promise iust.
- 8 They fall down flat, but we doe rise,
and stand up stedfastly,
Now save and helpe us, Lord and King,
on thee when we doe cry.

Domine in virtute, Psal. xxj. T. S.

David in the person of the people, praiseth God for the victory given them against the Syrians and Ammonites. 1. Sam. 21. Wherein he was crowned with the crown of the King of Ammon, 2. Sam. 12.
and endued with the manifold blessings of God.

Lord how joyfull is the King in thy strength and thy power: how vehemently doth he reioyce in thee his Saviour: 2 For thou hast given unto him, his godly hearts desire: to him nothing hast thou deny'd, of that he did require.

- 2 Thou didst prevent him with thy gifts,
and blessings manifold;
And thou shalt set upon his head,
a Crown of perfect gold.

- 4 And when he asked life of thee,
thereof thou mad'st him sure:
To have long life, yea, such a life,
as ever should endure.

- 5 Great is his glory by thy helpe,
thy benefite and aide,

Great worship and great honour both thou hast upon him layd.

- 6 Thou wilt give him felicity,
that never shall decay:
And with thy cheerefull countenance,
wilt comfort him alway.

- 7 For why? the King doth strongly trust,
in God for to prevayle:

Therefore his goodnesse and his grace,
will not that he shall quaille.

- 8 But let thine enemies feele thy force,
and those that thee withstand:

Find out thy foes, and let them feele
the power of thy right hand.

- 9 And like an Oven burne them Lord,
in fiery flame and fume;

Thine anger shall destroy them all,
and fire shall them consume.

- 10 And thou shalt root out of the earth,
their fruit that should increase:

And from the number of thy folke,
their seed shall end and cease.

- 11 For why? much mischiefed did they misseagainst thy holy Name;

Yet did they faile, and had no power,
for to perfozme the same.

- 12 But as a marke thou shalt them see,
in a most pleasant place:

And charge thy Bowstrings readily, against thine enemies face.

- 13 Be thou exalted Lord therefore,
in thy strength every houre;

So shall we sing right solemnly, praising thy might and power.

Deus Deus meus, Psal. xxij. T. S.

David complaineth of his desperate extremities and declareth whereby hee recovereth himselfe from temptation: under his person is figured Christ.

Sing this as the 21. Psalme.

- O God my God, wherefore dost thou forsake me utterly;

And helpest not when I doe make my great complaint and cry:

- 2 To thee my God, even all day long,
I doe both cry and call;

I cease not all the night, and yet thou hearest not at all.

- 3 Even thou that in thy Sanctuary,
and holy place dost dwell;

Thou art the comfort and the joy,
and glory of Israel.

- 4 And he in whom our fathers old,
had all their hope for ever;

And when they put their trust in thee,
thou didst them aye deliver.

- 5 They were delivered ever when they called on thy Name;

And for the faith they had in thee,
they were not put to shame.

- 6 But I am now become a worme,
more like than any man;

An out cast whom the people scorne, with all the spite they can.

- 7 And me despite as they behold,

me walking on the way :
 They grin, they mow, they nod their heads,
 and in this wise they say:
 8 This man did glory in the Lord,
 his labour and his love:
 Let him redeeme and help him now,
 his power if he will prove,
 9 But Lord out of my mothers wombe,
 I came by thy request:
 Thou didst preserve me still in hope,
 while I did suck her breast.
 10 I was committed from my birth,
 with thee to have abode:
 Since I was in my mothers wombe, thou hast been ever my God.

The second part.

11 Then Lord depart not now from me,
 in this my present griefe;
 Since I have none to be my helpe,
 my succour and reliefe.
 12 So many Bulls doe compasse me,
 that be full strong of head;
 Pra. Bulls so fat, as though they had in Bagan field beene fed.
 13 They gaze upon me greedily
 as though they would me slay;
 Much like a Lyon roaring out,
 and ramping for his prey.
 14 But I drop down like water shed,
 my joynts in sunder breake;
 My heart doth in my body melt,
 like wax against the heat.
 15 And like a postheard dyeth my strength, my tongue it cleaveth fast unto my jawes, and I am brought to dust of death at last.
 16 And many dogs doe compasse me,
 and wicked counsell eke
 conspire against me cruelly,
 they pierce my hands and feet.
 17 I was tormented so, that I might all my bones have sold;
 Yet still upon me they did looke,
 and still they me behold.
 18 My garments they divided eke
 in parts among them all:
 And for my coat they did cast lots,
 to whom it might befall.
 19 Therefore I pray thee be not far,
 from me at my great need;
 But rather, sith thou art my strength, to helpe me. Lord, make speed.
 20 And from the sword, Lord, save my soule,
 by thy might and thy power;
 And keepe my soule and darling deare,
 from dogs that would devoure.
 21 And from the Lyons mouth, that would me all in sunder shiver;
 And from the hornes of Unicornes,
 Lord safely me deliver.
 22 And I shall to my brethren all,
 thy majesty record:
 And in thy Church shall praise the Name of thee the living Lord.
 The third part.
 23 All ye that feare him, praise the Lord,
 thou Jacob honour him;

And all ye seede of Israel,
 with reverence worship him.
 24 For he despiseth not the poore,
 he turneth not away
 his countenance when they doe call,
 but granteth to their cry.
 25 Among the folke that feare the Lord,
 I will therefore proclaime thy praise, and keepe thy promise made,
 for setting forth thy Name.
 26 The poore shall eace and be suffic'd, and those that doe their deber to know the Lord, shall praise his Name, their hearts shall live for ever.
 27 All coasts on Earth shall praise the Lord,
 and turne to him for grace;
 The heathen folke shall worship him,
 before his blessed face.
 28 The Kingdome of the heathen folke;
 the Lord shall have thereof;
 And he shall be their governour,
 and King for evermore.
 29 The rich men of his godly gifts, shall feed and taste also;
 And in his presence worship him,
 and bow their knees full low.
 30 And all that shall come down to dust,
 of life by him must take;
 My seed shall serve and praise the Lord,
 while any world shall last.
 31 My seed shall plainly shew to them,
 that shall be borne hereafter;
 His justice and his righteousness,
 and all his workes of wonder.

Dominus regit, Psal. xxij. W. W.

David having tried Gods manifold mercies divers wayes, gathered assurance that God will continue his goodnesse for ever.

Sing this as the 21. Psalme.

The Lord is only my support,
 and he that doth me feed;
 How can I then lack any thing,
 whercof I stand in need?
 2 He doth me fold in coats most safe,
 the tender grasse fast by,
 And after drives me to the streames,
 which run most pleasantly.
 3 And when I feeble my selfe weere lost, then doth he me home take;
 Conducting me in his right pathes,
 even for his own names sake.
 4 And though I were even at deaths doore, yet would I feare none ill;
 For with thy rod and shepherds crooke,
 I am comforted still.
 5 Thou hast my table richly deck'd,
 in despite of my foe;
 Thou hast my head with balsme refresh'd,
 my cup doth ever flow.
 6 And finally while breath doth last,
 thy grace shall me defend:
 And in the house of God will I my life for ever spend.

Another of the same by T. S.

Sing this as the 22. Psalm.

My Shepherd is the living Lord,
nothing therefore I need;
In Pastures faire, with waters calme,
he set me forth to feed.
2 He did comfort and glad my soule,
and brought my mind in frame:
To walke in paths of righteousness,
for his most holy Name.
3 Praise, though I walke in vale of death,
yet will I feare none ill:
Thy rod, thy staffe doth comfort me,
and thou art with me still.
4 And in the presence of my foes,
my table thou shalt spread;
Thou shalt, O Lord, fill full my cup,
and eke annoint my head.
5 Through all my life thy favour is,
so frankly shew's to me,
6 That in thy house for evermore, my dwelling place shall be.

Domini est terra, Psalm. xxliij. I. R.

The grace of God being now altered in the Temple
more glorious than before in the Tabernacle;
David with exclamation, setteth forth the honour thereof. moving the consideration of the eternall mansion prepared in Heaven, whereof this was a figure.

The Earth is all the Lords, with all her store and furniture;
Psa, his is all the world, and all that therein doth endure.
2 For he hath fastly founded it,
aboveth the Sea to stand;
And laid a low the liquid founts,
to flow beneath the Land.
3 For who is he, O Lord, that shall ascend into thy hills?
Or vasse into thy holy place,
there to continue still?
4 Whose hands are harmlesse, & whose heart
no spot there doth defile,
His soule not set on vanity,
who hath not sworne to guile.
5 Him that is such a one the Lord, shall place in blissefull plight;
And God, his God and Saviour, shall yeeld to him his right.
6 This is the blood of travellers,
in seeking of his grace:
As Jacob did the Ascalites,
in that time of his race.
7 Yet Princes ope your gates, stand ope
the everlasting gate;
For there shall enter in thereby,
the King of glorious state.
8 Who is the King of glorious state:
the strong and mighty Lord;
The mighty Lord in battell strong,
and triall of the sword.
9 Yet Princes ope your gates, stand ope
the everlasting gate:

For there shall enter in thereby
the King of glorious state,
10 Who is the King of glorious state:
the Lord of hosts he is:
The Kingdome and the royaltie of glorious state is his.

Ad te Domine, Psalm. xxv. T. S.

David grieved at his sins, and malicious eniegies, most fervently prayeth for forgiveness, especially of such sins as he committed in his youth.

Lift mine heart to thee, my God and guide most iust: Now suffer me to take no shame, for in thee doe I trust.
2 Let not my foes reioyce, nor make a score of me; and let them not be overthrowne, that put their trust in thee.

3 But shame shall them besett, which haerne them wrongfully;
Therefore thy paths and thy right waies, unto me Lord desrey.
4 Direct me in thy truth,
and teach me I thee pray;
Thou art my God and Saviour,
on thee I waite alway.
5 Thy mercies manifold,
I pray thee Lord remember;
And eke thy pity plentiful,
for they have bene for ever.
6 Remember not the fautes,
and frailties of my youth;
Remember not how ignorant
I have been of thy truth.
7 For after my desires,
let me thy mercie finde;
But of thine owne benignity,
Lord have me in thy minde.
8 His mercy is full sweet,
his truth a perfect guide;
Therefore the Lord will sinners teach,
and such as goe astray.
9 The humble he will teach,
his Precepts for to keepe:
He will direct in all his waies,
the lowly and the mecke.
10 For all the waies of God,
are truth and mercy both;
To such as keepe his testament,
the witness of his troth.

The second part.

11 How for thy holy Name,
O Lord I thee increate,
To grant me pardon for my sin,
for it is wondrous great.
12 Who so doth feare the Lord,
the Lord will him direct,
To lead his life in such a way,
as he doth best accept.
13 His soule shall evermore,
in goodnesse dwell and stand;
His seed and his posterity,
inherit shall the land.
14 All those that feare the Lord,
know his secret intent:
And unto them he will declare his will and testament.
15 Mine eyes and eke my heart,
to him I will advance,
That pluck'd my feet out of the snare
of sin and ignorance.
16 With mercy me behold,
to thee I make my moane:
For I am poore and desolate,
and comfortlesse alone.
17 The troubles of my heart,
are multipl'd indeed:
Bring me out of this misery,
necessity and need.
18 Behold my poverty,
mine anguish and my paine:
Remit my sin and mine offence,
and make me cleane againe.
19 O Lord behold my foes,
how they doe still increase,
Pursuing me with deadly hate,
thataine would live in peace.
20 Pursue and keepe my soule,
and eke deliver me:
And let me not be overthowne,
because I trust in thee.
21 Let my simple purpasse,
me from mine enemies shew:
Because I looke as one of things,
that thou shouldst me defend.
22 Deliver Lord thy folk,
and send them some rest;
I meane thy chosen Israel,
from all their paine and grieve.

Indica me Domine, Psal. xxvi. T. S.

David injuriously oppressed and helpless, yet assured of his integrity to Saul, calls God to defend him causelesse afflicted. Then he desireth to bee in the company of the faithfull in the congregation of God, when he was banished by Saul, promising godly life, open praises, thanksgiving, and sacrifice for his deliverance.

Sing this as the 18. Psalme.

I O be my ludge, and thou shalt see,
my paths be right and plaine;
I trust in God, and hope that he will strength me to remaine.
2 Prove me say God, I thee desire,
my wates to search and try:
As men doe prove their gold with fire,
my selues and heart ttry.

3 Thy goodnesse laid before my face,
I durst behold alwayes:
For of thy truth I tread the trace,
and will doe all my daies.
4 I doe not lust to haunt or use,
with men whose words are vaine;
To come in house I doe refuse,
with the deceitfull traine.
5 I much abhorre the wicked sort,
their deeds I doe despise;
I doe not once to them resort,
that hurtfull things devise.
6 My hands I wash, and doe proceed,
in workes that are upright:
Then to thine Altar I make speed,
to offer there in light.
7 That I may speake and preach the praise,
that doth belong to thee:
And so declare how wondrous waies,
thou hast been good to me.
8 O Lord thy house I love most deare,
to me it doth excell;
I have delight, and woud draw neere,
whereas thy grace doth dwell.
9 I shut not up my soule with them,
in sin that take their fill;
Nor yet my life amongst those men,
that seeke much blood to spill.
10 Whose hands are heapt with craft & guile, their lyes thereof are full:
And their right hands with wrath and wile,
for bybes doe pluck and pull.
11 But I in righteousness intend,
my time and daies to serve;
Have mercy Lord, and me defend,
so that I doe not swere.
12 My foot is staid for all aslakes,
it standeth well and right;
Wherefore to God I will give praise,
in all the peoples sight.

Domini lumen, Psal. xxvii. I. H.

David delivered from great perills, giveth thanks, wherein we see his constant faith against the assaults of his enemies, and the end why he desireth to live and to be delivered. Then he exhorteth to faith, and to attend upon the Lord.

Sing this as the 18. Psalme.

The Lord is both my health and light,
shall men make me dismayd:
With God both give me strength and might,
why should I be afraid?
2 While that my foes with all their strength begin with me to braule;
And thinke to eate me up at length, themselves have caught the fall.
3 Though they in camp against me lie,
my heart is not afraid;
In battell fight if they will try,
I trust in God for aide.
4 One thing of God I doe require, that he will not deny,
For which I pray, and will desire,
till he to me apply.
5 That I within his holy place,
my life throughout may dwell,

To see the beauty of his face,
and view his Temple well.
6 In time of dread he shall me hide, within his place most pure:
And keepe me secret by his side,
as on a rock most sure.
7 At length I know the Lords good grace, shall make me strong and stout;
My foes to foile, and cleane deface,
that compass me about.
8 Therefore within his house will I give sacrifice of praise:
With Psalmes and Songs I will apply, to laud the Lord alwayes.

The second part.

9 Lord heare the voyce of my request;
for which to thee I call;
Have mercy Lord on me oppress,
and send me helpe withall.
10 My heart doth knowledge unto thee,
I sue to have thy grace:
Then seek my face, sayst thou to me,
Lord I will seeke thy face.
11 In wrath turne not thy face away,
nor suffer me to slide;
Thou art my helpe still to this day,
be still my God and guide.
12 My parents both their sonne forsooke,
and cast me off at large:
And then the Lord himselfe yet tooke,
of me the care and charge.
13 Teach me, O Lord, the way to thee,
and leade me on forthright;
For feare of such as watch for me,
to trap me if they might.
14 Doe not betake me to the will,
of them that be my foes:
For they will cause against me still,
false witness to depose.
15 My heart would faint, but that in me
this hope is fixed fast:
The Lord Gods good grace shall I see in life that aye shall last.
16 Trust then in God, whose whole thou art, his will abide thou must:
And he shall ease and strength thy heart,
if thou on him doe trust.

Ad te Domine Psal. xxviii. T. S.

Being in feare & pensiveness to see God dishonoured by wicked men, he cries for vengeance against them, and being assured that God hath heard him, he commendeth all the faithfull to his tuition.

Sing this as the 15. Psalme.

Thou art, O Lord my strength and stay
the succour which I crave; Neglect me not, lest I be like,
to them that goe to grave.
2 The voyce of thy suppliant heare,
that unto thee doth cry:
When I lift up my hands unto thy holy Arke most hie.
3 Repute me not among the foze of wicked and perbert;
That speake right faire unto their friends,
but thinke full ill in heart.
4 According to their bandy worke,
as they deserve indeed:

And after their inventions,
let them receive their meed:
5 For they regard nothing Gods worke,
his Law, ne yet his Lore:
Therefore will he them and their seed,
destroy for evermore.
6 To render thanks unto the Lord,
how great a cause have I?
My voyce, my prayer, and my complaint,
that heard so willingly.
7 He is my shield and fortitude,
my Buckler in distresse,
My hope, my health, my hearts reliefe,
my song shall him confesse.
8 He is our strength, and our defence,
our enemies to resist:
The health and the salvation of his elect by Christ.
9 Thy people and thine heritage,
Lord bleste, guide, and preserve;
Increase them, Lord, and rule their hearts,
that they may never swerve.

Afferre Domine, Psal. xxix. T. S.

David exhorteth Princes (who for the most part think there is no God) at the least to feare him, for the thunders and tempests; for feare whereof all creatures tremble. And albeit it threatneth sinners, yet it moveth his to praise his Name.

Sing this as the 3. Psalme.

Give to the Lord, ye Potentates,
ye Rulers of the world,
Give ye all praise, honour, and strength;
unto the living Lord.
2 Give glory to his holy Name,
and honour him alone:
Worship him in his Majesty,
within his holy thron.
3 His voyce doth rule the waters all,
even as himselfe doth please;
He doth prepare the thunder-claps,
and governes all the Seas.
4 The voyce of God is of great force,
and wondrous excellent:
It is most mighty in effect,
and most magnificent.
5 The voyce of God doth rent and breake
the Cedar trees so long:
The Cedar trees of Libanus, which are most high and strong.
6 And makes them leap like as a Calf, or else the Unicorne.
7 Not onely trees, but mountaines great,
whereon the trees are borne.
8 His voyce divideth the flames of fire,
and shakes the wilderness;
It makes the desert quake for feare,
that called is Edes.
9 It makes the Hindes for feare to calve, and makes the coverts plaine:
Then in his Temple every man,
his glory doth proclaime.
10 The Lord will sit above the clouds, ruling the raging Sea;
So shall he raigne as Lord and King,
for ever and for aye.
11 The Lord will give his people power,
in brest to increase:

The Lord will blesse his chosen folke with everlasting peace.

Exaltabo te Domine, Psal. xxx. I.H.

When David should dedicate his house to the Lord, he fell extreme sick without all hope of life, and therefore after recovery, he thanketh God, exhorting others to doe the like, and to learne by him, that God is rather mercifull than severe towards his, also that adversity is sudden. Then he prayeth and promisseth to praise God for ever.

I stand and praise with heart and voyce, O Lord I give to thee: Which didst not make my foes rejoyce, but hast exalted me. 2. O Lord my God to thee I cry'd, in all my paine and griefe:

Thou gav'st an eare, and didst provide to ease me with reliefe.

3 Of thy good wilt thou hast call'd back,
my soule from hell to save;

Thou didst revive when strength did lack,
and keptst me from the grave.

4 Sing praise ye Saints that prove and see the goodnesse of the Lord;

In memory of his maiesty, rejoyce with one accord.

5 For why? his anger but a space
doth last, and slack againe;

But in his favour and his grace,
alwaies doth life remaine.

6 Though gripes of griefe & pangs full sore shall lodge with us all night:

7 The Lord to soy will us restore:
before the day be light.

8 When I enjoy'd the world at will,
thus would I boast and say;

Thus, I am sure to feele none ill,
this wealth shall not decay.

9 For thou, O Lord, of thy good grace,
hadst sent me strength and aide;

But when thou turn'dst away thy face,
my mind was sore dismayde.

10 Wherefore againe yet did I cry, to thee, O Lord of might;

My God with plaints I did apply, and prayd both day and night.

11 What gaine is in my blood, said I,
if death destroy my daies?

Doth dust declare thy maiesty,
or yet thy truth doth praise?

12 Wherefore my God some pity take,
O Lord, I thee beseege;
Doe not this simple soule forsake,
of helpe I thee requite.

13 Then didst thou turne my griefe and woe into a cheerefull voyce;
The mourning weed thou took'st me fro,
and mad'st me to rejoyce.

14 Wherefore my soule incessantly, shall sing unto thy praise;

My Lord, my God, to thee will I, give laud and thanks alwaies.

In te Domine speravi. Psal. xxxj. I.H.

David delivered from great danger, sheweth, first,
what meditation hee had by the power of faith,
when death was before his eyes, and how the favour of God alwaies is ready to those that feare him. He exhorteth the faithfull to trust in God, because he preserveth them.

Sing this as the 18. Psalme.

O Lord, I put my trust in thee,
let nothing worke me shame;

As thou art iust, deliver me,
and set me quite from blame.

2 Heare me, O Lord, and thar anon, to helpe me make good speed;

Be thou my rock and house of stone,
my fence in time of need.

3 For why? as stones thy strength is try'd;
thou art my fort and tower;

For thy Names sake be thou my guide,
and lead me in thy power.

4 Pluck out my feet out of the snare, which they for me have laid:

Thou art my strength, and all my care is for thy might and aide.

5 Into thy hands, Lord, I commit my spirit, which is thy due;

For why? thou hast redeemed it,
O Lord my God most true.

6 I hate such folke as will not part,
from things to be abhor'd;

When they on trifles set their heart,
my trust is in the Lord.

7 For I will in thy mercy soy,
I see it doth excell;

Thou seest when ought would me annoy,
and know'st my soule full well.

8 Thou hast not left me in their hand,
that would me overcharge;

But thou hast set me out of band,
to walke abroad at large.

The second Part.

9 Great griefe, O Lord, doth me assaile, some pity on me take;

Mine eyes wax dim, my sight doth faile,
my wombe for woe doth ache.

10 My life is worn with griefe and paine,
my yeares in woe are past;

My strength is gone, and through disdaine,
my bones corrupt and waste.

11 Among my foes I am a leaume,
my friends are all dismay'd;

My neighbours and my kinsmen doome to see me as a straide.

- 12 As men once dead are out of minde,
so am I now forgot;
As small effect in me they finde,
as in a broken pot,
- 13 I heard the blags of all the rout,
their throats my mind did fray;
Now they conspir'd and went about
to take my life away.
- 14 But Lord I trust in thee for aye,
not to be over-trodd;
For I confesse, and still have sayd,
thou art my Lord and God.
- 15 The length of all my life and age,
O Lord, is in thy hand;
Defend me from the wrath and rage of them that me withstand.
- 16 To me thy servant Lord expresse,
and shew thy fayfull face;
And save me Lord for thy goodnesse, thy mercie and thy grace.
- The third part.
- 17 Lord let me not be put to blame;
for that on thee I call;
But let the wicked beare their shame,
and in the grave, to fall.
- 18 O Lord make dumb their lips out-right,
which are addict to lyes;
And smite with pale and spight,
against the lust devile.
- 19 O how great good hast thou in store;
saide up full safe for them,
That feare and trust in thee therefore,
before the fountes of men.
- 20 Thy presence shall them fence and guide,
from all proud blags and wrongs;
Within thy place thou shalt them hide,
from all the strife of tongues.
- 21 Thanks to the Lord that hath declar'd,
on me his grace so far;
He to defend with watch and ward,
as in a towne of war.
- 22 Thus did I say, both day and night,
when I was sore oppress'd;
Lo, I was cleane cast out of sight,
yet heardst thou my request.
- 23 See Saimes love yee the Lord, I say,
the faithfull he doth guide;
And to the proud he doth repay,
according to their pride.
- 24 Be strong, and God shall stay your heart,
be bold and have a lust;
For sure the Lord will take your part,
sich yee in him doe trust.

Beati quorum. Psal. xxxij. I. H.

David punished with grievous sickness for his sins, counted the happy to whom God doth not impute their transgressions, and after that he had confessed his sins, & obtained pardon, he exhorteth the wicked men to live godly, & the good to rejoyce.

Sing this as the 30. Psalme.

The man is blest whose wickednesse
the Lord hath cleane remitted,
And he whose sin and wretchednesse,
is hid and also covered.

2 And blest is he to whom the Lord,
imputeth not his sin;

Which in his heart hath hid no guile,
nor fraud is found therein.

3 For whilst that I kept close my sin,
in silence and constraint;

My bones did weare and waste away,
with daily moane and plaint.

4 For night and day thy hand on me,
so grievous was and smart,
That all my blood and humors moist to dust didd convert.

5 I did therefore confesse my fault,
and all my sins discover;
Then thou O Lord, didst me forgive, and all my sins passe over.

6 The humble man shall pray therefore,
and seeke thee in due time;
So that the floods of waters great,
shall have no power on him.

7 When trouble and adversitie doe compass me about;
Thou art my refuge and my toy,
and thou dost rid me out.

8 Come hither, and I will thee teach,
how thou shouldst walke aright;
And will thee guide as I my selfe, have learn'd by prooffe and sight.

9 Be not so rude and ignorant,
as to the Wolfe and Pule;
Whose mouth without a rine or bit,
from harme thou canst not rule.

10 The wicked man shall manifold sorowes and griefes sustaine;
But unto him that trusts in God,
his goodnesse shall remaine.

11 Be merry therefore in the Lord,
yet not lift up your voyce;
And yee of pure and perfect heart,
be glad and cheerefull.

Exultate in istis. Psal. xxxij. I. H.

He exhorteth good men to praise God, for the creating and governing of all things, for his faithfull promises, for scattering the counsell of the wicked, teaching that no creature preserveth any man, but only his mercy.

Sing this as the 30. Psalme.

Yee righteous in the Lord rejoyce,
it is a seemely sight,

That upright men with thankfull voyce, should praise the Lord of might.

2 Praise yee the Lord with harpe and song,
in Psalmes and pleasant things:

With Lute and instrument among,
that soundeth with ten strings.

3 Sing to the Lord a song most new,
with courage give him praise;

4 For why? his word is ever true,
his works and all his waies.

5 To iudgement, equity, and right,
he hath a great good will;
And with his giftes he doth delight,
the Earth throughout to fill.

6 For by the word of God alone,
the heavens all were wrought:

These hosts and powers every one his breath to passe hath brought;

7 The waters great gather'd hath he,
on heaps within the shore: And

And hid them in the depth to be,
as in a house of floe.

8 All men on earth, both least and most,
feare God and keepe his Law;
See that inhabit in each coast,
Dread him and stand in awe.

9 What he commanded, wrought it was,
at once with present speed:
What he doth will is brought to passe,
with full effect indeed.

10 The counsels of the nations rude,
the Lord doth bring to nought;

He doth defeat the multitude,
of their device and thought.

11 But his decrees continue still,
they never slack nor wage:

12 The motions of his minde and will,
take place in every age.

The second part.

13 And blest are they, to whom the Lord,
as God and guide is known;

Whom he doth choose of mere accord,
to take them as his own.

14 The Lord from heaven cast his sight
on men mortall by birth:

Considering from his seat of might,
the dwellers of the Earth.

15 The Lord, I say, whose hand hath wrought mans heart, and doth it frame:

For he alone doth know the thought,
and working of the same.

16 A King that trusteth in his host,
shall nought prevaile at length:

The man that of his might doth boast,
shall faile for all his strength.

17 The troups of horsemen eke shall faile, their stirrups eke shall serue;

The strength of horse shall not prevaile his rider to preserve.

18 But loe, the eyes of God intend,
And watch to aide the iust:

With such as feare him to offend,
and on his goodnesse trust.

19 That he of death and all distresse, may set their soules from dread;

And if that death their land oppresse,
in hunger them to feed.

20 Wherefore our soule doth still depend on God our strength and stay;

He is our shield us to defend,
and drive all darts away.

21 Our soule in God doth ioy and game, reioicing in his might;

For whye in his most holy Name,
we hope and much delight.

22 Therefore let thy goodnesse, O Lord, still present with us be,

As we alwaies with one accord,
doe only trust in thee.

Benedicam Dom Psal. xxxiij. T. S.

David having escaped Achis, 1 Sam. I, praiseth God for his delverance, giving others example to trust in God, to feare him and serve him who defendeth the godly with his Angels, and utterly destroyeth the wicked in their sins.

Sing this as the 30. Psalm.

I Will give laud and honour both,
unto the Lord alwaies;

And eke my tongue for evermore,
shall speake unto his praise,

2 I doe delight to laud the Lord,
in soule and eke in voyce;

That humble men and mortallye,
may heare and so reioyce.

3 Therefore let that yet magnific,
with me the living Lord;

And let us now exalt his Name,
together with one accord.

4 For I my selfe belought the Lord,
he answered me againe,

And me delivered incontinent,
from all my feare and paine.

5 Who so they be that him behold, shall see his light most cleare;

Their countenance shall not be dash'd,
they need it not to feare.

6 This silly wretch for some trespasse, unto the Lord did call:

Who did him heare without delay,
and rid him out of thrall.

7 The Angel of the Lord doth pitch,
his tents in every place;

To save all such as feare the Lord,
that nothing them deface.

8 Taste and consider well therefore,
that God is good and iust:

Happy man that maketh him
his only stay and trust.

9 Feare thee the Lord, yee holy ones,
above all earthly thing;

For they that feare the living Lord,
are sure to lack nothing.

10 The Lyons shall be hunger-bit, and pin'd with famine much;

But as for them that feare the Lord,
no lack shall be to such.

The second part.

11 Come neere therefore my children deare,
and to my words give eare;

I shall you teach the perfect way,
how yee the Lord shall feare.

12 Who is the man that would lbe long,
and lead a blessed life?

See thou refrain thy lips and tongne,
from all deceit and strife.

13 Turne back thy face from doing ill,
and doe the goodly deed;

Inquire for peace and righteousness,
and follow it with speed.

14 For whye the eyes of God above,
upon the iust are bent;

His eares likewise doe heare the plaint,
of the poore innocent.

15 But he doth frown and bend his browes,
upon the wicked traine;

And cuts away the memory,
that should of them remaine.

16 But when the iust doe call and cry,
the Lord doth heare them so;

That out of paine and misery,
forthwith he lets them goe.

17 The Lord is kind, and straight at hand,
to such as be contrite,

He saves also the sorrowfull,
the mecke and poore in spirit;
18 Full many be the miseries, that righteous men doe suffer;
But out of all adversities,
the Lord doth them deliver.
19 The Lord doth so preserve and keepe,
his very bones alway;
That not so much as one of them
doth perish or decay.
20 The sin shall slay the wicked man,
which he himselfe hath wrought;
And such as hate the righteous man,
shall soone be brought to nought.
21 But they that feare the living Lord,
the Lord doth save them sound;
And those that put their trust in him,
nothing shall them confound.

Indica Domine, Psal. xxxv. I. H.

Dauid flatterers persecuted David, who prayeth for revenge, that his innocency may be declared, and that such as take his part may rejoyce, for which he promisseth to, magnific Gods Name all the daies of his life.

Sing this as the humble sute of a Sinner.

I Did plead my cause against my foes, confound their force and might;
Fight on my part against all those that seeke with me to fight.
2 Lay hand upon the speare and shield,
thy selfe in armour dresse:
Stand up for me and fight the field,
to helpe me from distresse.
3 Gird on thy sword and stop the way,
mine enemies to withstand;
That thou unto my soule mayst say,
lo, I thy help at hand.
4 Confound them with rebuke and blame,
that seeke my soule to spill;
Let them turne back and flee with shame,
that thinke to worke me ill.
5 Let them turne back and flee abroad,
as wind doth drive the dust;
And that the Angell of our God,
their might away may thrust.
6 Let all their waies be voyd of sight,
and slippery like to fall:
And send thine Angell with thy might,
to persecute them all.
7 For why? without my fault they have in secret set their gin:
And for no cause have digg'd a Cave,
to take my soule therein.
8 When they thinke least, and have no care,
O Lord, destroy them all:
Let them be trapt in their owne snare,
and in their mischiefes fall.
9 And let my soule, my heart and voyce,
in God have joy and wealth;
That in the Lord I may rejoyce,
and in his saving health.
10 And then my bones shall speake and say,
my parts shall all agree:
O Lord, though they doe seeme full gay,
what man is like to thee?

11 Thou dost defend the weake from them that are both stout and strong;
And rid the poore from wicked men,
that spoile and doe them wrong.
12 Thy cruell foes against me rise,
to witnessse things untrue;
And to accuse me they devise,
of that I never knew.
13 Where I to them did owe good will,
they quite me with disdaine;
That they should pay my good with ill,
my soule doth sore complaine.
14 When they were sick, I mourn'd therefore,
and clad my selfe in sack:
With fasting I did fast full sore,
to pray I was not slack.
15 As they had been my brethren deare,
I did my selfe behave:
As one that maketh mournfull cheare,
about his mothers grave.
16 But they at my disease did toy,
and gather on a rout:
Yea, abject slaves at me did toy,
with mocks and checks full stout.
17 The belly Gods and flatterers traine, that all good things deride;
At me doe grin with great disdain,
and pluck their mouth aside.
18 Lord, when wilt thou amend this geare,
why dost thou stay and pause?
Drid my soule, mine only deare,
one of these Lyons claws.
19 And then will I give thanks to thee,
before thy Church alwaies;
And where as most of people be,
there will I shew thy praise.
20 Let not my foes prevaile on me,
which hate me for no fault:
Nor yet to winke, or turne their eyes,
that causeth me assault.

The third part.

21 Of peace no word they thinke, or say,
their talke is all untrue;
They still consult and would betray,
all those that peace ensue.
22 With open mouth they run at me,
they gape, they laugh, they sneere;
Well, well, say they, our eye doth see,
the thing that we desire.
23 But Lord thou seest what waies they take;
cease not this geare to mend;
Be not far off, nor me forsake,
as men that faile their friend.
24 Awake, arise, and stirre abroad,
defend me in my right;
Revenge my cause, my Lord, my God,
and aid me with thy might.
25 According to thy righteousness,
my Lord God let me free;
And let them not their pride expresse,
nor triumph over me.
26 Let not their heart rejoyce and cry,
there, there, this geare goes trim:
Nor give them cause to say on him,

we have our will on him,
 27 Confound them with rebuke and shame,
 that Ioy when I doe mourne;
 And pay them home with spite and blame,
 that brag at me with scoorne.
 28 Let them be glad, and eke reioyce, which love my upright way:
 And they all times with heart and voyce,
 shall praise the Lord, and say:
 29 Great is the Lord, and doth excell;
 for why? he doth delighe
 To see his servants prosper well, that is his pleasant sight.
 30 Wherefore my tongue I will apply, thy righteousness to praise:
 Unto the Lord my God will I sing laud and thanks alwaies.

Dixit iniustus, Psal. xxxvi. I. H.

David vexed by the wicked, complaineth of their malice, but considering Gods great mercy to all creatures specially towards his children, by faith thereof, is comforted and assured of his deliverance.

Sing this as the 14. Psalme.

The wicked with his workes unist,
 doth thus perswade his heart;
 That of the Lord he hath no trust,
 his feare is far apart.
 2 Yet doth he Ioy in his estate,
 to walke as he began:
 So long till he deserve the hate,
 of God and eke of man.
 3 His workes are wicked, vile and naught;
 his tongue no truth can tell;
 Yet at no hand he will be taught,
 which way he may doe well.
 4 When he should sleepe, then doth he muse,
 his mischief to fulfill:
 No wicked waies doth he refuse,
 nor nothing that is ill.
 5 But Lord thy goodnesse doth ascend,
 above the heavens hie;
 So doth thy truth it like extend,
 unto the cloudy skie.
 6 Much more than hills so high and steepe,
 thy iustice is expect:
 Thy iudgements like to seas most deepe,
 thou sav'st both man and beast.
 7 Thy mercie is above all things,
 O God it doth excell:
 In trust whereof, as in thy wings,
 the sonnes of men shall dwell.
 8 Within thy house they shall be fed, with plenty at their will:
 O fall delights they shall be sped,
 and take thereof their fill.
 9 For why? the well of life so pure doth ever flow from thee;
 And in thy light we are full sure,
 the lasting light to see.
 10 From such as thee desire to know,
 let not thy grace depart:
 Thy righteousness declare and shew,
 to men of upright heart.
 11 Let not the proud on me prevaile,
 O Lord of thy good grace:

202 let the wicked me assaile,
 to throw me out of place.
 12 But they in their device shall fall;
 that wicked workes maintaine,
 They shall be overthrowne withall, and never rise againe.

Noli emulari, Psal. xxxvij. W. W.

Because the godly should not be daunted to see wicked men prosper, David sheweth that all things shall be granted even with hearts desire to them that love and feare God: but the wicked, albeit they flourish for a time, shall at length perish.

Sing this as the 35. Psalme.

Gudge not to see the wicked men,
 in wealth to flourish still:
 Nor yet envye such as to ill,
 have bent and set their will.
 2 For as green grasse and flourishing herbs,
 are cut and wither away:
 So shall their great prosperity,
 soone passe, fade, and decay.
 3 Trust thou therefore in God alone,
 to doe well give thy minde;
 So shalt thou have the land as thine,
 and there sure food shalt finde.
 4 In God set all thy hearts delight;
 and looke what thou would'st have,
 Dresse canst wish in all the world,
 thou need'st it not to crave.
 5 Cast both thy selfe and thine affaires,
 on God with perfect trust:
 And thou shalt see with patience,
 thy effect both sure and iust.
 6 Thy perfect life and godly name,
 he will cleare as the light:
 So that the Sun even at noone daies, shall not shine halfe so bright.
 7 Be still therefore, and stedfastly on God see thou wait then;
 Not thinking for the prosperous state
 of lewd and wicked men.
 8 Shake off despight, envy, and hate,
 at least in any wise:
 Their wicked steps abyde and sle,
 and follow not their guile.
 9 For every wicked man will God, destroy both more and lesse:
 But such as trust in him, are sure the land for to possesse.
 10 Watch but a while, and thou shalt see,
 no more the wicked traine:
 No, not so much as house or place,
 where once he did remaine.

The second part.

11 But mercifull and humble men,
 enjoy shall Sea and Land;
 In rest and peace they shall reioyce,
 for nought shall them withstand.
 12 The lewd men and malicious, against the iust conspire;
 They gnash their teeth at him as men which doe his bane desire.
 13 But while that lewd men thus doe think,
 the Lord laughs them to scoone:
 For why? he seeth their terme approach,
 when they shall sigh and mourne.

The

- 14 The wicked have their sword out-drawn,
their bow also have they bent,
To overthrow and kill the poore,
as they the right way went.
- 15 But the same sword shall pierce their which was to kill the iust, (hearts, Likewise the bow shall breake to shivers, wherein they put their trust.
- 16 Doubtlesse the iust mans poore estate is better a great deale more;
Than all these lewd and worldly mens rich pompe and heaps in store.
- 17 For be their power never so strong,
God will it overthrow:
When contrary he doth preserve,
the humble men and low.
- 18 We see by his great providence,
the good mans trade and way,
And will give him inheritance,
which never shall decay.
- 19 They shall not be discouraged,
when some are hard beset;
When others shall be hungerbit,
they shall be clad and fed.
- 20 For whosoever wicked is,
and enemy to the Lord,
shall quail, yea melt, even as Lambs grease,
or sinoahe that flies abroad.

The third part.

- 21 Behold the wicked borroweth much,
and never payeth againe;
Whereas the iust by liberall gifts,
makes many glad and faine.
- 22 For they whom God doth blesse, shall have
the land for heritage:
And they whom he doth curse likewise,
shall perish in his rage.
- 23 The Lord the iust mans wates doth guide, and give him good successe;
And every thing he takes in hand,
he sendeth good addresse.
- 24 Though that he fall, yet is he sure,
not utterly to quail:
Because the Lord stretcheth out his hand,
at need and doth not faile.
- 25 I have been young and now am old,
yet did I never see
The iust man left, nor yet his seed, to beg for misery.
- 26 But gives alwaies most liberally,
and lends whereas is need,
His children and posterity, recieve of God their need.
- 27 Hee blees therefore and wickednesse,
and vertue doe embrace:
So God shall grant thee long to live,
on Earth a dwelling place.
- 28 For God so loveth equity,
and shewes to his such grace,
That he preserves them evermore,
but strokes the wicked race.
- 29 Whereas the good and godly men,
inherit shall the land:
Having as Lords all things therein,
in their own power and hand.
- 30 The iust mans mouth doth ever speake,
of matters wise and hie:

His tongue doth talke and edifie,
with truth and equity.

- 31 For in his heart the Law of God
his Lord doth still abide:
So that where e're he goes or walks,
his foot can never slide.
- 32 The wicked like a rav'nning Wolfe,
the iust man doth beset,
By all meanes seeking him to kill,
if he falls in his net.
- The fourth part.
- 33 Though he should fall into his hands,
yet God would succour send;
Though men against him sentence give,
God will him yet defend.
- 34 Wait thou on God, and keepe his way,
he shall preserve thee then,
The Earth to rule, and thou shalt see destroy'd these wicked men.

- 35 The wicked have I seen most strong,
and plac'd in high degree,
flourishing in all wealth and store,
as doth a Labwill tree.
- 36 But suddenly he pass away,
and to be was quite gone;
Then I him sought, but could not find,
the place where dwelt such one.

- 37 Marke and behold the perfect man,
how God doth him increase;
For the iust man shall have at length,
great joy with rest and peace.
- 38 As for transgressors, woe to them,
destroy'd they shall all be;
God will cut off their budding race,
and rich posterity.

- 39 But the salvation of the iust,
doth come from God above;
Who in their trouble lends them aid,
of his merre grace and love.
- 40 God doth them help, save and deliver,
from lewd men and unist:
And still will save them, whilst it that they
in him doe put their trust.

Domine ne in furore, Psal. xxxviii. I. H.

David sick of some grievous disease, acknowledg-eth himselfe to be chastised of the Lord for his sins, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath, but in the end with firme confidence and commending his cause to God, hopeth for speedy helpe at his hand.

Sing this as the humble suite of a Sinner.

- PAU me not to relinke (O Lord)
in thy provoking ire;
Be in thy heavy wrath (O Lord)
correct me I desire.
- 2 Thine arrowes doe stick fast in me,
thy hand doth presse me sore;
And in my flesh no health at all,
appeareth any more.
- 3 And all this is by reason of thy wrath that I am in;
Nor any rest is in my bones,
by reason of my sin.
- 4 For lo, my wicked doings Lord,
above my head are gone;
A greater load than I can beare,
they lie me sore upon.

5 My wounds stinke and are festered so,
as loathsome is to see;
Which all through mine own foolishness,
betwixt unto me.
6 And I in carefull wise am brought in trouble and distress:
That I goe waiting all the day,
in dolefull heaviness.
7 My loynes are fill'd with sore disease,
my flesh hath no broken part;
8 I feeble am, and broken sore,
I roare for griefe of heart.
9 Thou know'st Lord my desires, my groanes, are open in thy sight;
10 My heart doth pant, my strength hath mine eyes have lost their sight.
11 My lovers and my wonted friends,
stand looking on my wo;
And like my kinsmen far away,
are me departed fro.
12 They that did seeke my life said sinners, and they that sought the way To doe me hurt spake lies, and thought on mischief all the day.
The second part.
13 But as a brasse man I became,
that cannot heare at all:
14 And as one dumbe that opens not his mouth to speake withall.
15 For all my confidence O Lord,
is wholly set on thee:
O Lord, thou Lord that art my God,
thou shalt give care to me.
16 Thus did I crave, that they my foes,
triumph not over me;
For when my foot doth slip, then they did say my fall to see.
17 And truly I poyse wretch, am set in plague and wofull plight:
And like my grievous headiness,
is ever in my sight.
18 For while that I my wickedness,
in humble wise confesse;
And whiles I for my sinfull deeds,
my sorowes doe expresse:
19 My foes doe still remaine alive,
and mighty are also:
And they that hate me wrongfully,
in number hugely grow.
20 They stand against me, that my good with evill doe repays:
Because that good and honest things,
I doe ensue alway.
21 Forsake me not, my Lord my God,
be thou not farre away:
Hast me to helpe, my Lord my God,
my safety and my stay.

Dixi Custodiam, Psal. xxxix. I. H.

David having determined silence, yet brake forth into word, that he would not, through his bitter griefe: for hee maketh certaine requests which taste of mans infirmities, yet mixed with many prayers: and all to shew a minde wonderfully troubled, that it may appeare how he did strive mightily against death and desperation.

Sing this as the humble suite of a Sinner.

I said I will looke to my waies,
for feare, I should goe wrong:

I will take heed all times, that I offend not with my tongue.
2 As with a bit I will keepe fast, my mouth with force and might:
Not once to whisper all the while:
the wicked are in sight.
3 I held my tongue, and spake no word,
but kept me close and still;
Pea from good talke I did restraîne,
but sore against my will.
4 My heart was hot within my brest, with musing thought and doubt:
Which did increase and stir the fire,
at last these words burst out.
5 Lord number out my life and daies, which yet I have not past;
So that I may be certifi'd,
how long my life shall last.
6 Lord thou hast pointed out my life,
in length much like a span;
Mine age is nothing unto thee,
so vaine is every man.
7 When walkeest like a shade and doth in vaine himselfe annoy,
In getting goods, and cannot tell who shall the same enjoy.
8 Now Lord shew things this wise doe frame:
what helpe doe I desire?
O kinde my helpe doth hang on thee,
I nothing else require.
The second part.
9 From all the sins that I have done,
Lord quit me out of hand:
And make me not a scorne to fools,
that nothing understand.
10 I was as dumbe; and to complaine,
no trouble might me move.
Because I knew it was thy worke,
my patience for to prove.

11 Lord take from mee thy scourge and I can them not withstand; (plagues)
I faine and pine away for feare of thy most heavy hand.
12 When thou for sin dost man rebuke;
he wavereth woe and wane;
As doth a cloth that moths have fret,
so vaine a thing is man.
13 Lord heare my suite and give good heed;
regard my teares that fall;
I colourne like a stranger here,
as did my fathers all.
14 Spare a little, give me space,
my strength for to restore:
Before I goe away from hence,
and shall be seene no more.

Expellans expellavi, Psal. xli. I. H.

David delivered from great danger, doth magnifie
God therefore, and commendeth his providence towards all mankind. Then he promisseth to give himselfe wholly to Gods service, and declareth how God is truly worshipped. Afterward hee giveth thanks, and having complained of his enemies, calleth for ayd and succour.

Sing this as the 35. Psalm.

I waited long, and sought the Lord,
and patiently did beare:
At length to me he did accord,

- my voyce and cry to heare.
 2 He pluck'd me from the lake so deepe,
 out of the mire and clay;
 And on a Rock he set my feet,
 and he did guide my way.
 3 To me he taught a Psalm of praise,
 which I must shew abroad;
 And sing new songs of thanks alwaies, unto the Lord our God.
 4 When all the folke these things shall see,
 as people much afraid;
 Then they unto the Lord will flee,
 and trust upon his aid.
 5 O blest is he whose hope and heart,
 doeth in the Lord remaine:
 That with the proud doth take no part,
 nor such as lie and faine.
 6 For Lord my God, thy wondrous deeds in greatness far doe passe:
 Thy favour towards us exceeds,
 all things that ever was.
 7 When I intend, and doe devise,
 thy works abroad to shew;
 To such a reck'ning they doe rise,
 thereof no end I know.
 8 Burnt offerings thou deligh't not in,
 I know thy whole desire;
 With sacrifice to purge his sin,
 thou dost no man require.
 9 Gentle offerings and sacrifice, thou wouldest not have at all;
 But thou, O Lord, hast open made mine eare to heare withall.
 10 But then said I, behold and looke,
 I come a meane to be;
 For in the volume of thy Book,
 thus it is said of me.
 11 That I, O God, should doe thy mind, which thing doth like me well:
 For in my heart thy Law I find,
 fast placed there to dwell.
 12 Thy iustice and thy righteousnesse,
 in great reioyes I tell:
 Behold my tongue no time doth cease,
 O Lord thou knowst full well.

The second part.

- 23 I have not hid within my breast,
 thy goodnesse as by stealth:
 But I declare, and have exprest,
 thy truth and saving health.
 14 I kept not close thy loving mind,
 that no man should it know:
 The trust that in thy truth I find,
 to all thy Church I shew.
 15 Thy tender mercy Lord from me, withdraw thou not away:
 But see thy love and deitie,
 preserve me still for ay.
 16 For I with mischiefes many one,
 am sore beset about:
 My sins increase, and so come on,
 I cannot spy them out.
 17 For why? in number they exceed the haire upon my head:
 My heart doth faint for very dread,
 that I am almost dead.

18 With speed send helpe and set me free,
 O Lord I thee require:
 Make haste with aide to succour me,
 O Lord at my desire.

- 19 Let them sustaine rebuke and shame,
 that seeke my soule to spill:
 Drive back my foes, and them defame,
 that wish and would me ill.
 20 For their ill feats doe them destroy,
 that would deface my name.
 Alwaies at me they raile and cry,
 He on him, he for shame.
 21 Let them in thee have joy and wealth,
 that seeke to thee alwaies,
 That those that love thy saving health,
 may say, to God be praise.
 22 But as for me, I am but poore, opprest and brought full low:
 Yet thou, O Lord, wilt me restore to health, full well I know.
 23 For why? thou art my hope and trust,
 my refuge, help, and stay.
 Wherefore my God, as thou art iust,
 with me no time delay.

Beatus qui intelligit, Psalme xli. T. S.

David grievously afflicted, blesteth them that pited his case, complaining of faithlesse friends, such as Judas Joh. 15. Then he giveth thanks for Gods mercy in chastising him gently, not suffering his enemies to triumph.

The man is blest that carefull is,
 the needy to consider: For in the season
 perillous, the Lord will him deliver, 2. The Lord will make him safe and sound, and happy in the land: And he will not deliver him into his enemies hand.

- 3 And in his bed when he lies sick,
 the Lord will him restore;
 And thou, O Lord, wilt turne to health,
 his sickness and his sore.
 4 Then in my sickness thus say I,
 have mercy Lord on me:
 And heale my soule which is full woe,
 that I offended thee.
 5 Mine enemies wish'd me ill in heart,
 and thus of me did say:
 When shall he die, that all his name
 may vanish quite away?
 6 And when they come to visite me,
 they aske if I doe well;
 But in their hearts mischiefes they hatch,
 and doe their mates it tell.

7 They bite their tps, and whisper so,
as though they would me charme:
And cast their fetches how to trap me with some mortall harme.
8 Some grieuous sin hath brought him to into sicknesse, say they plaine:
He is so low that without doubt,
rise can be no againe.
9 The man also that I did trust,
with me did use deceit;
Who at my table eat my bread,
the same for me laid wait.
10 Have mercy Lord, on me therefore,
and let me be preserved:
That I may render unto them,
the things they have deserved.
11 By this I know assuredly to be belov'd of thee;
When that mine enemies have no cause to triumph over me.
12 But in my right thou hast me kept and maintained alway;
And in thy presence place assign'd,
where I shall dwell for aye.
13 The Lord, the God of Israel,
be prais'd for evermore.
Even so be it, Lord, will I say,
even so be it therefore.

Quemadmodum, Psal. xliij. I. H.

David is grieved that through persecutors he could not be present in the congregation, protesting his presence in heart, albeit in body separated. At last he sheweth, that notwithstanding these sorrows and thoughts, yet he continually putteth confidence in the Lord.

Sing this as the humble sure of a Sinner.

I Like as the Hart doth breath and bray,
the well springs to obtaine;
So doth my soule desire alway with thee Lord to remaine.
2 My soule doth thirst & would draw neere
the living God of might:
Oh when shall I come and appeare
in presence of his sight?
3 The teares all times are my repast,
which from my eyes doe slide;
When wicked men do cry so fast,
where now is God thy guide?
4 Alas, what griefe is this, to thinke what freedom once I had?
Therefore my soule as at pits brinke,
most heapy is and sad.
When I did march in good array,
furnished with my traine;
Unto the Temple was our way,
with songs and hearts most faine.
5 My soule, why art thou sad alwaies,
and seekest thus in my brest?
Trust still in God, for him to praise,
I hold it alwaies best.
By him I have succour at need,
against all paine and griefe:
He is my God, which with all speed,
will hast to send reliefe.
6 And thus my soule within me, Lord, doth faint to thinke upon
The land of Jordan, and record

the little hill Hermon.

The second part.

7 One griefe another in doth call,
as clouds burst out their voyce:
The fouds of evill that doe fall,
run over me with noyse.
8 Yet I by day felt thy goodnesse, and help at all assaies:
Likewise by night I did not cease,
the living God to praise.
9 I am perswaded thus to say,
to him with pure pretence:
O Lord, thou art my guide and stay,
my rock and my defence.
Why doe I then in pensiveness, hanging my head thus wake?
While that mine enemies me oppresse,
and vex me with their talke.
10 For why? they vex my inward parts,
with pangs to be abhor'd;
When they cry out with stubborne hearts,
where is thy God, thy Lord?
11 So soone why dost thou faint and quail;
my soule with paine oppress?
Which thoughts why dost thy selfe assaile,
to sore within my brest?
12 Trust in the Lord thy God alwaies, and thou the time shalt see,
To give him thanks with laud and praise,
for health restor'd to thee.

lauda me Domine, Psal. xliij. T. S.

He prays to be delivered from them which conspire with Absolon, to the end that he might joyfully praise God in his holy congregation.

Sing this as the 3^d psalme.

I Adge and revenge my cause, O Lord,
from them that evill be;
From wicked and deceitfull men,
O Lord deliver me.
2 For of my strength thou art the God,
why putt thou me thereto?
And why walke I so heavily,
oppressed with my foe?
3 Send out thy light, and eke thy truth,
and lead me with thy grace;
Which may conduct me to thy hill,
and to thy dwelling place.
4 Then shall I to the Altar goe, of God my joy and cheere,
And on my Harpe give thanks to thee,
O God my God most deare.
5 Why art thou then so sad my soule,
and seekest thus in my brest?
Still trust in God, for him to praise,
I hold it alwaies best.
6 By him I have deliverance,
against all paine and griefe:
He is my God, which doth alway,
at need send me reliefe.

Deus auribus, Psal. xliij. T. S.

A most earnest prayer made in the name of the faith-full in persecution for sustaining the quarrell of Gods Word, as in S Paul, Rom 8.

O
Our eares have heard our Fathers tell,

cell, and reverently record, the wondrous works that thou hast done in older time (O Lord.) 2 How thou didst cast the Gentiles out, and strow'dst them with strong hands; Planting our fathers in their place, and gav'st to them their land.

- 3 They conquer'd not by sword nor strength,
the Land of thy bestrest;
But by thy hand, thine arme and grace,
because thou lov'dst them best.
4 Thou art my King, O God, that holpe
Jacob in sundry wile;
5 Led with thy power, we threw down such,
as did against us rise.
6 I trust'd not in bow, ne sword,
they could not save me found;
7 Thou keptst us from our enemies rage, thou didst our foes confound.
8 And still we boast of thee our God,
and praise thy holy Name:
9 Yet now thou goest not with our boast,
but leavest us to shame.
10 Thou mad'st us flee before our foes,
and so were over-trodd;
Our enemies robb'd and spoil'd our goods,
while we were swift abroad.
11 Thou hast us given to our foes,
as sheepe for to be slaine:
Among the heathen every where,
scattered we doe remaine.
12 Thy people thou hast sold like slaves,
and as a thing of nought;
For profit none thou getst thereby,
no gain at all was sought.
13 And to our neighbours thou hast made,
of us a laughing stock:
And those that round about us dwell,
at us doe grin and mock.

The second part.

- 14 Thus we seeke for no other use,
but for a common talke:
They mock, they scorne, they nod their heads,
where ere they goe or walke.
15 I am asham'd continually, to heere these wicked men;
Yea, so I blush, that all my face with red is covered then.
16 For why we heare such hardious words, such false reports and lies;
That death it is to see their wrongs,
their threatenings and their cries.

- 17 For all this we forget not thee,
nor yet thy covenant breake.
18 Lett turne not back our hearts from thee,
nor yet thy paths forsake.
19 Yet thou hast troad us down to dust,
where dens of Dragons be;
And covered us with shade of death,
and great adversity.
20 If we had our Gods Name forgot,
and helpe of Idols sought:
Would not God then have tried this out,
for he doth know our thought?
21 Aye, yea, for thy names sake, O Lord, alwayes are we thine thus;
22 As sheepe into the thimbles sent,
right so they deale with us.
23 O Lord, whysleepest thou? awake,
and leave us not for all:
24 Why hidest thou thy countenance, and dost forget our thrall.
25 For down to dust our soule is brought,
and we now at last cast;
Our belly, like as it were glide,
unto the ground cleaves fast.
26 Rise up therefore for our defence,
and helpe us Lord at need:
Oe thee beleeve of thy goodnesse to rescue us with speed.

Eructavit cor meum. Psal. xlv. l. H.

Salomon his Majesty, Honour, strength, beauty, riches and power, are praised: his marriage with the Egyptian, and heathen women, is blest, if that she renounce her people and country, and give her selfe wholly to her husband. Here is figured the wonderfull majesty and increase of Christs Kingdome, and the Church his Spouse now taken of the Gentiles.

Sing this as the 3. Psalme.

- My heart doth take in hand,
some godly song to sing;
The praise that I shall shew therein,
pertaineth to the King:
2 My tongue shall be as quick,
his honour to indite,
As is the pen of any Scribe,
that useth fast to write.
3 O fairest of all men,
thy speech is pleasant pure:
For God hath blessed thee with gifts,
for ever to endure.
4 About thee gird thy sword,
O Prince of might elect,
With honour, glory, and renown,
thy person pure is deckt.
5 Goe forth with goodly speed,
in meeknesse truth and right;
And thy right hand shall thee instruct,
in workes of dreadfull might.
6 Thy arrowes sharpe and keene,
their hearts to sore shall sling;
That folke shall fall, and kneele to thee,
yea, all thy foes (O King)
7 Thy royall seat, O Lord, for ever shall remaine.

Beante:

Because the Scepter of thy Realme,
doth righteously maintaine.
8 Because thou lov'st the righte,
and dost the ill detest:
God even thy God hath noynted thee,
with joy above the rest.
9 With myrthe and labours sweet,
thy clothes are all bespred,
When thou dost from thy Palace passe, thereto make thee glad.
10 Kings daughters doe attend,
in fine and rich array:
At thy right hand the Queene doth stand,
in gold and garments gay.

The second part.

11 O Daughter take good heed,
incline and give good eare;
Thou must forget thy kindred all,
and fathers house most deare.
12 Then shall the King desire,
thy beauty faire and trim:
For why? he is the Lord thy God,
and thou must worship him.
13 The daughter then of Tyres with gifts full rich to her;
And all the wealth of the land,
shall make their suite to her.
14 The daughter of the King,
is glorious to behold;
Within her closet she doth sit,
all deck'd in beaten gold.
15 In robes well wrought with needle,
and many a pleasant thing;
With Virgins faire on her to waite,
he cometh to the King.
16 Thus are they brought with joy,
and mirth on every side;
Into the Palace of the King, and there they doe abide.
17 Instead of parents left,
(O Queene thy chance so stande) Thou shalt have sons whom thou may'st let,
as Princes in all lande.
18 Therefore thy holy Name,
all ages shall record;
The people shall give thanks to thee,
for evermore, O Lord.

Deus noster refugium. Psal. xlii. I. H.

A song of thanksgiving for the deliverance of Jerusalem after Senacherib with his army was driven away, or some other like sudden or marvellous deliverance by the mighty hand of God, whereby the Prophet commending this great benefit, doth exhort the faithful to give themselves wholly into the hands of God, doubting nothing but that under his protection, they shall be safe against all the assaults of their enemies.

He Lord is our defence and aid, the strength wherby we stand; When we with woe are much dismayd, he is our helpe at hand, & though the earth seeme to we will not feare, though hills so high and deepe, be thrust and hurled here and there, within the Sea so deepe.

3 Nor though the waves doe rage so sore,
that all the bankes it spills;
And though it overflow the shore,
and beat down mighty hills.
4 Yet one faire fount doth send abroad,
his pleasant streames apace,
To fresh the City of our God,
and wash his holy place.
5 In midst of her the Lord doth dwell,
he can no whit decay;
All things against her that rebell,
the Lord will crush away.
6 The heathen folke, thy kingdome feare,
the people make a noise;
The earth doth us it and not appeare,
when God puts forth his voyce.
7 The Lord of hosts doth take our part,
to us hee hath an eye.
Our hope of health with all our heart,
on Jacobs God doth lie.
8 Come heare and see with mind & thought the working of our God;
What wonders he himselfe hath wrought throughout the earth abroad.
9 By him all warres are hush'd and gone,
which countries doe conspire;
Their bowes he brake, and speares each one,
their chariots burnt with fire.
10 Leave off therefore, saith he, and know,
I am a God most stout;
Among the heathen high and low,
and all the earth throughout.
11 The Lord of hosts doth us defend,
he is our strength and tower;
On Jacobs God we doe depend,
and on his mighty power.

Omnes Genes. Psal. xlii. I. H.

An exhortation to worship God for his mercy towards Jacobs posterity. Herein is prophesied the Kingdome of Christ in the time of the Gospell.
Singing this as the 46. Psalm.

Ye people all with one accord,
clap hands and eke rejoyce;
Be glad and sing unto the Lord,
with sweet and pleasant voyce.
2 For high the Lord and dreadfull is,
with wonders manifold;
A mighty King he is truly,
in all the earth extold.

C 2

3 The

- 3 The people he shall make to be unto our bondage thrall;
And underneath our feet he shall
the Nations make to fall.
- 4 For us the heritage he chose,
which we possesse alone:
The flourishing worship of Jacob,
his well beloved one.
- 5 Our God ascended up on high,
with joy and pleasant noyse;
The Lord goeth up above the sky,
with Trumpets royall voyce.
- 6 Sing praises to our God, sing praise,
sing praises to our King:
For God is King of all the earth,
all skillfull praises King.
- 7 God on the heathen raigues and sits upon his holy throne;
The Princes of the people have them ioynd every one,
To Abrahams people, for our God,
which is exalted high,
As with a Buckler doth defend the earth continually.

Magnus Dominus, Psalme xlviii. I.H.

Thanks are given to God for the notable deliverance of Jerusalem from the hands of many kings, the state whereof is praised, for that God is present at all times to defend it. This Psalm seemeth to be made in the time of Ahaz, Josaphat, Asa, or Hezekiah: for then chiefly was the City by forraigne Princes assaulted.

Sing this as the 46. Psalme.

- Great is the Lord, and with great praise, to be advanced still;
Within the City of our God,
upon his holy hill.
- 2 Mount Zion is a pleasant place,
it gladdeth all the land:
The City of the mighty King,
on her North side doth stand.
- 3 Within the palaces thereof,
God is a refuge knowne:
For loe, the Kings are garbered, and together they are gone:
- 4 But when they did behold it so;
they wondered, and they were astonied much, and suddenly were diuident back with feare.
- 5 Great terrour there on them did fall,
for very wo they cry,
As doth a woman when she shall goe travell by and by.
- 6 As thou with Eastern wind, the Ships
upon the Sea dost breake:
So were they staid, and euen as we heard our fathers speake.
- 7 So in the City of our God,
we saw as it was told;
Plea in that City which our God
for ever will uphold.
- 8 O Lord, we wait and doe attend,
on thy good helpe and grace:
For which we doe all times attend,
within thy holy place.
- 9 O Lord, according to thy Name;
for ever is thy praise:

And thy right hand, O Lord, is full of righteousness alwaies.

10 Let for thy iudgements, Zion Mount be filled be with ioyes:
And eke of Iudah grant, O Lord,
the daughter to reioyce.

11 Goe walke about all Zion hill,
yea, round about her goe:
And tell the towers that thereupon,
are builded on a row.

12 And marke you well her bulwarks all,
behold her towers there;
That ye may tell thereof to them,
that after shall be here.

13 For this God is our God, our God for evermore is he;
Plea, and unto the death also our guider shall he be.

Audite hec omnes, Psal. xlix. T. S.

Gods Spirit moveth the consideration of mans life,
shewing that the wealthiest are not the happiest,
but noteth how all things are ruled by Gods providence, who, as he judgeth these worldly misters to everlasting torments, so doth hee preserve his, and will reward them in the day of the resurrection. Thessa. 2.

Sing this as the 46. Psalme.

- 1 All people hearken and give eare,
to that that I shall tell;
2 Both high and low, both rich and poore, that in the world do dwell;
- 3 For why: my mouth shall make discourse,
of many things right wise;
In understanding shall my heart
his stady exercise.
- 4 I will incline mine eares to know,
the parables so darkes;
And open all my doubtfull speech,
in metre on my warpe.
- 5 Why should I feare afflictions,
or any carefull toile:
Doe I see my foes which at my heeles,
are pressing my life to spoile?
- 6 For as for such as riches have,
wherein their trust is most:
And they which of their treasure great,
themselues doe brag and boast.
- 7 There is not one of them that can his brothers death rede me;
Doe that can give a price to God, sufficient for him.
- 8 It is too great a price to pay,
none can thereto attain;
Doe that he might his life prolong,
and not in grave remaine.
- 9 They see wisdom men as well as fooles,
subiect unto deaths hands:
And being dead, strangers possesse their goods, their rents, their lands.
- 10 Their care is to build houses faire,
and so determine sure;
To make their names right great on earth
for ever to endure.
- 11 Yet shall no man allway enjoy high honour, wealth, and rest; 12 But shall at length taste of deaths cup,
as well as the brute beast.

The second part.

And though they cry their foolish thoughts,
to be most lewd and balne:
Their children yet approve their talke,
and in like sinne remaine.
14 As sheepe into the fold are brought,
so shall they into grave:
Death shall them eate, and in that day
the iust shall Lordship have.
15 Their Image and their royall port, shall fade and quite decay:
When as from house to pit they passe,
with wee and well away.
16 But God will surely preserve me,
from death and endlesse paine:
Because he will of his good grace,
my soule receive againe.
17 If any man waxe wondrous rich, feare not I say therefore:
Although the glory of his house,
encreaseth more and more.
18 For when he dieth, of all these things, nothing shall he receive:
His glory will not follow him,
his pompe will take her leave.
19 Yet in this life he takes himselfe
the happiest under sinne:
And others likewise flatter him,
saying all is well done.
20 And suppose he live as long,
as did his fathers old:
Yet must he needs at length give place,
and be brought to death fold.
21 Thus man to honour God hath cald, yet doth he not consider,
But like brail beasts so doth he live,
which turne to dust and powder.

Deus Deorum, Psal. L. W. W.

He prophesieth how God will call all Nations by the Gospell, and require no other sacrifice of his people, but confession of his benefits and thanksgiving: and how hee detesteth all such as seeme zealous of ceremonies, and not of the pure word of God only.

The mighty God, thy Eternal hath thus spoke. And all the world, he will call and provoke: Even from the East and so forth to the west. 2. From toward Ston which place liketh him best; God will appeare in beauty most excellent.

3. Our God will come before thee long time he spent.
Devouring fire
shall goe before his face:
A great tempest
shall round about him trace:
4 Then shall he call
the earth and heavens bright:
To iudge his folke,
with equity and right.
5 Saying goe thou,
and now my Saints assemble:
My peace they keepe,
their gifts doe not dissemble.
6 The heavens shall declare his righteousness;
For God is Judge
of all things more and lesse.
7 Heare my people,
for I will now reveale:
Lift Israel,
I will thee nought conceal:
Thy God, thy God
am I, and will not blame thee, 8 For giving not
all manner offerings to me.
9 I have no need to take of thee at all Goats of thy fold
or Calfe out of thy stall, 10 For all the beasts
are mine within the woods:
On thousand hills,
cattell are mine own goods.
11 I know for mine,
all birds that are on Mountaines:
All beasts are mine,
which haunt the fields and Fountaines.
12 Hungry if I were,
I would not thee it tell:
For all is mine,
that in the world doth dwell.
13 Eat I the flesh,
of great Bulls or Bullocks;
Or drinke the blood,
of Goats and of the flocks?
14 Offer to God
praise and hearty thanksgivings
And pay thy vowes,
unto God everliving.
15 Call upon me,
when troubled thou shalt be:
Then will I helpe,
and thou shalt honour me.
16 To the wicked,
thus saith thy eternall God,
Why dost thou preach
my lawes and bests abroad:
Seeing thou hast

them with thy mouth abused, 17 And hat'st to be
by discipline reformed.

By words I say,
thou dost reiect and hate:
18 If that thou seest
a Thiefe, as with thy mate
Thou runn'st with him,
and so your prey doe seeke,
And art all one with Bowdes and Ruffians eke.

19 Thou givest thy selfe to backbite and to slander;
And how thy tongue
deceives, it is a wonder.

20 Thou stealest nursing thy Brother how to blame:
And how to put
thy mothers sonne to shame.

21 These things thou didst,
and while I held my tongue,
Thou didst me iudge,
because I staid so long.
Like to thy selfe;
yet though I kept long silence,
Once shalt thou feele
of thy wrongs iust recompence.

22 Consider this ye that forget the Lord,
And feare not when he threatneth with his Word:
Lest without helpe
I spoile you as a prey:
23 But he that thanks
offereth, praiseth me aye, Saieth the Lord God,
and he that walketh this trace,
I will him teach
Gods saving health to embrace.

Another of the same by I.H.

Sing this as the 25. Psalme.

The God of Gods the Lord hath call'd the earth by name:
From whence the Sunne doth rise, unto the setting of the same.

2 From Sion his faire place,
his glory bright and cleare:
The perfect beauty of his grace,
from thence he did appeare.

3 Our God shall come in hast, to speake he shall not doubt;
Before him shall the fire waste, and tempests round about.

4 The heavens from on hie,
the earth below likewise
He will call forth to iudge and trie his folke he doth devise.

5 Bring forth my Saines (saith he) my faithfull flocke so deare:
Which are in band and league with me,
my Law to love and feare.

6 And when those things are tride,
the heavens shall record;

That God is iust, and all must bide
the iudgement of the Lord.

7 By people I give heede,
Israel to thee I cry:
I am thy God, thy helpe at neede,
thou canst it not deny.

8 I doe not say to thee,
thy sacrifice is slack:
Thou offer'st daily unto me much more than I doe lack.

9 Think'st thou that I doe need thy cattell young or old;
Or else so much desire to feed
on Goates out of thy fold?

10 Nay, all the beasts are mine,
in woods that eat their fill,
And thousandes more of meate and kine, that run wild on the hills.

The second part.

11 The Birds that build on high,
in hills and out of sight:
And beasts that in the fields doe lie,
are subject to my might.

12 When though I hungred sore,
what need I sought of thine:
Sith that the earth with her great store and all therein is mine?

13 To bulls flesh have I minde;
to eat it dost thou thinke?
Or such a swearer dost I finde,
the blood of Goates to drinke?

14 Give to the Lord his praise,
with thanks to him apply,
And see thou pay thy vowes a waies, unto the God most high.

15 Then seeke and call to me, when ought would work thee blame:
And I will sure deliver thee,
that thou maist praise my Name.

16 But to the wicked traine, which talke of God each day;
And yet their workes are vile and vaine,
to them the Lord will say.

17 With what a face dar'st thou my word once speake or name;
Why dost thy talke my law allow,
thy deeds deny the same?

18 Whereas for to amend thy life, thou art so slack:
By Word the which thou dost pretend,
to call behind thy back.

The third part.

19 When thou a thiefe dost see,
by theft to life in wealth;
With him thou runn'st and dost agree likewise to thrive by stealth.

20 When thou dost them behold, that wives and maids do stile;
Thou lik'st it well, and warest bold to use that life most vile.

- 21 Thy lips thou dost apply,
to slander and defame:
Thy tongue is taught to craft and lye,
and still doth use the same.
- 22 Thou studi'st to revile,
thy friends to thee so neere:
With slander thou wouldest needs defile,
thy mothers sonne most deere.
- 23 Hereat while I doe winke,
as though I did not see:
Thou goest on still and so dost thinke,
that I am like to thee.
- 24 But sure I will not see,
to strike when I begin:
Thy faults in order I will see,
and open all thy sin.
- 25 Marke ths I you require,
that have not God in minde;
Least when I plague you in mine ire,
your helpe be far to finde.
- 26 He that doth give to me,
the sacrifice of praise,
Doth please me well, and he shall see,
to walke in godly waies.

Miserere mei, Psal. Lj. V. W.

David rebuked by the Prophet Nathan for his great offences, acknowledged the same to God, protesting his naturall corruption, wherefore he prayeth God to forgive his sins, and renew in him his holy spirit, promising that hee will not be unmindfull of these great graces. Finally fearing least God would punish the whole Church for his fault, he requirerh that he would rather increase his graces towards the same.

O Lord consider my distress, and now with speed some pity take: Thy sins deface, my faults redresse, good Lord for thy great mercies sake. 2. Alas me (O Lord) and make me cleane, from this unliust and sinfull act: And purifie yet once againe, my hainous crime and bloody fact.

3 Remove and sorrow doe constrain, me to acknowledge mine offence:

- My sinnes alas doe still remaine, before my face without release.
- 4 For thee alone I have offended, committing evill in thy sight:
And if I were therefore condemned;
yet were thy iudgements iust and right.
- 5 It is too manifest alas,
that first I was conceiv'd in sin:
Pea of my mother so bozne was,
and yet vllie wretch remaine therein.
- 6 Alas behold (Lord) thou dost love,
the inward truth of a pure heart:
Therefore thy wisdom from above,
thou hast reveal'd me to convert.
- 7 If thou with hyhope purge this blot,
I shall be cleaner than the glasse;
And if thou wash away my spot
the Snow in whitenesse shall I passe.
- 8 Therefore, O Lord, such for me send,
that inwardly I may finde grace,
And that my strength may now ariend,
which thou hast swag'd to; my trespass.
- 9 Turne back thy face and frowning ire,
for I have felt enough thy hand:
And purge my sinnes I ther desire,
which doe in number passe the sand.
- 10 Make new my heart within my brest, and frame it to thy holy will;
Thy constant spirit in me let rest,
which may these raging enemies kill.

The second part.

- 11 Cast me not Lord out from thy face,
but speedily my tormenters end:
Take not from me thy spirit of grace, which may from dangers me defend.
- 12 Restore me to those hopes againe, which I was wont in thee to finde.
And let me thy free spirit retaine,
which unto thee may sit in ymnde.
- 13 Thus when I shall thy mercies know,
I shall instruct others therein:
And men that are likewise brought low,
by mine example shall see sin.
- 14 O God that of my heart hast Lord, forgive me this my bloody vice:
My heart and tongue shall then accord,
to sing thy mercy and iustice.
- 15 Touch then my lips, my tongue untie,
O Lord which art the only key:
And then my mouth shall relesse,
thy wondrous workes and praise alway.
- 16 And as for outward sacrifice,
I would have offered many a one;
But thou esteem'st them of no price and therein pleasure tak'st thou none.
- 17 The heavy heart, the minde oppress,
O Lord thou never dost recte;
And to speake truth is the best,
and of all sacrifice thy elect.
- 18 Lord unto Zion turne thy face,
poure out thy mercies on thy hill:
And on Jerusalem thy grace, build up the wals, and love it still.
- 19 Thou shalt accept then our offerings,

of peace and righteousness, I say,
 O Lord Calves and many other things,
 upon thine altar will we say.

Another of the same by T. N.

Sing this as the Lamentation.

- Have mercy on me God, after thy great abundant grace:
 After thy mercies multitude,
 doe thou my foes deface.
2. Plea wash me more from mine offence,
 and cleanse me from my sinne;
 For I doe know my faults, and still my sinnes are in mine eyne.
3. Against thee, thee alone I have offended in this case;
 And will have I done before
 the presence of thy face.
4. That in the things that thou hast done, upright thou may'st be true;
 And eke in iudging that the doome,
 may passe upon thy foe.
5. Behold in wickedness my kinde, and spare I did receive:
 And so my sinfull mother eke,
 in sinne did me conceive.
6. But lo, the truth of inward parts,
 is pleasant unto thee;
 And secrets of thy wisdom thou revealed hast to me.
7. Altho' wylowe (Lord) besprinkle me,
 I shall be cleansed so:
 Plea wash thou me, and so shall I be whiter than the snow.
8. Of joy and gladnesse make thou me;
 to heare the pleasant voyce;
 That so the bruised bones that thou hast broken may rejoyce.
9. From the beholding of my sinnes,
 Lord, turne away thy face:
 And all my deeds of wickednesse,
 doe utterly deface.
10. O God create in me a heart;
 unspotted in thy sight;
 And eke with in my bowels Lord,
 renew a stabled spite.
11. Ac cast me from thy sight, nor take thy holy spirit away:
 Thy comfort of thy saving helpe,
 give me againe I pray.
12. Altho' thy free spirit establish me, and I will teach therefore sinners thy wayes, and wicked shall be turned to thy love.

The second Part.

13. O God that art God of my health,
 from blood deliver me:
 That praises of thy righteousness,
 my tongue may sing to thee.
14. My lips that yet fast closed be,
 doe thou (O Lord) unloose:
 The praises of thy making,
 my mouth shall so disclose.
15. I would have offered sacrifices,
 if that had pleased thee:

- But pleased with burnt offerings,
 I know thou wilt not be.
16. A troubled spirit is sacrifice,
 delightfull in Gods eyes;
 A broken and an humble heart,
 (God) thou wilt not despise.
17. In thy good will deale gently, Lord,
 To Zion, and withall
 Grant that of thy Jerusalem,
 appeare'd may be the wall.
18. Burnt offerings, gifts, and sacrifice of iustice, in that day, Thou shalt accept, and Calves they shall upon thine altar lay.

Quid glorias? Psal. Lij. I.H.

David describeth the arrogant tyranny of Deeg, Sauls chiefe shepheard, who by false surmises caused Abimelech, & the priests to be slaine. He prophesieth his destruction, encourageth the faithful to trust in God, who most sharply revengeth his, & rendreth thanks for his deliverance: herein is lively set forth the Kingdom of Antichrist.

Why dost thou exult boast abroad, thy wicked workes to praise?
 Dost thou not know there is a God, whose mercies last alwayes? 2. Why doth thy minde yet still devise, such wicked wiles to warpe? Thy tongue untrue in forging lies is like a ra-mour harpe.

3. O mischief why let'st thou thy minde, and wilt not walke upright?
 Thou hast more lust false tales to finde,
 than bring the truth to light.
4. Thou dost delight in fraud and guile,
 in mischief, blood and wrong;
 Thy lips have learn'd the flattering stile,
 O false deceitfull tongue!
5. Therefore shall God for aye confound;
 and pluck thee from thy place:
 Thy seed root out from off the ground,
 and so shall thine deface.
6. The last when they beheld thy fall,
 with feare will praise the Lord:
 And in reproch of thee withall,
 cry out with one accord.

7. Behold

7 Behold the man that would not take the Lord for his defence:
But of his goods his god did make,
and trust his corrupt sense.
8 But I an Olive fresh and Greene, shall spring and spread abroad:
For why? my trust all times hath been,
upon the living God.

9 For this therefore will I give praise, to thee with heart and joyce;
I will set forth thy name alwaies, wherein thy Saints reioyce.

Deus in suspens. Psal. LIII. T. S.

David describeth the crooked nature, the cruelty, and punishment of the wicked, when they looke not for it, and desireth the deliverance of the godly, that they may reioyce together.

Sing this as the 40. Psalme.

The foolish man in that which he,
within his heart hath said:
That there is any God at all,
hath utterly deny'd.

2 They are corrupt, and they also a hateful worke have wrought:
Among them all there is not one,
of good that worketh ought.

3 The Lord lookes down on sonnes of men,
from heaven all abroad:
To see if any were that would be wise and seeke for God.

4 They are all gone out of the way,
they are corrupted all;
There is not one doth any good,
there is not one at all.

5 Doe not all wicked workers know, that they doe feed upon
My people, as they feed on bread?
the Lord they call not on.

6 Even then they were afraid and stood,
with trembling all dismay'd:
Whereas there was no cause at all,
why they should be afraid.

7 For God his bones that thee bestid, hath scatter'd all abroad;
Thou hast confounded them that they relected are of God.

8 O Lord give them thy people health,
and thou O Lord fulfill,
Thy promise made to Israel,
from out of Sion hill.

9 When God his people shall restore, that erst was captiv'd led,
Then Jacob shall therein reioyce,
and Israel shall be glad.

Deus in Nomine. Psal. LIII. I. H.

David in great danger through the Ziphims called upon God to destroy his enemies, promising sacrifice for his deliverance.

Sing this as the 46. Psalme.

GOD save me for thy holy Name,
and for thy goodnesse sake:
Unto the strength Lord of the same,
I doe my selfe betake.

2 Regard O Lord and give an eare, to me when I doe pray;
Bow down thy selfe to me, and heare
the word that I doe say.

3 For strangers up against me rise, and Tyrants bee me still:
Which have not God before their eyes,
they seeke my soule to spill.
4 But lo, my God doth give me aid,
the Lord is straight at hand:
With them by whom my soule is staid,
the Lord doth ever stand.

5 With plagues repay againe all those,
for me that lie in waite:
And in thy truth destroy my foes,
with their own snare and baite.

6 An offering of free heart and will,
then I to thee will make:
And praise thy name, for therein still great comfort I doe take.

7 O Lord, at length doe let me free,
from them that craft conspire,
And now mine eyes with joy doe see,
on them my hearts desire.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. LV. I. H.

David in great distresse complaineth on Sauls cruelty & fallhood of his familiar acquaintance effectually moving the Lord to pity him. Then assured of deliverance, he setteth forth the grace of God, as if he had already obtained his request.

Sing this as the 46. Psalme.

O God give eare, and doe apply,
to heare me when I pray;
And when to thee I call and cry,
hide not thy selfe away.

2 Take heed to me, grant my request,
and answer me againe:
With plaints I pray full sore oppress, great griefe doth me constrain.

3 Because my foes with threats and cries,
oppress me through despight;
And so the wicked sort likewise,
to vex me have delight.

4 For they in counsell doe conspire, to charge me with some ill:
So in their hasty wrath and ire,
they doe pursue me still.

5 My heart doth faint, for want of breath,
it panteth in my brest;
The terrors and the dread of death,
doe worke me much unrest.

6 Such dreadfull feare on me doth fall,
that I therewith doe quake:
Such horror whelmeth me withall,
that I no shift can make.

7 But I doe say who will give me,
the swift and pleasant wings
Of some faire Dove, that I may see,
and rest me from these things.

8 For, then I would goe far away,
to fly I would not cease:
And I would hide my selfe and say,
in some great wilderness.

9 I would be gone in all the haste,
and not abide behinde:
That I were quit and over past,
the blasts of hystrous winde.

10 Divide them Lord, and from them pull,
their divellish double tongue:
For I have seld their City full of rapine, strife and wrong.

I I which things both night and day through doe close her as a wall,
I In midst of her is mischief stout,
and sorrow eke withall.
I 2 Her pilvry parts are wicked plaine,
her deeds are wicked vile,
And in her streetes there doth remaine,
all crafty fraud and guile.

The second part.

I 3 If that my foes did seeke my shame,
I might it well abide;
From open enemies checke and blame,
somewhere I could me hide.
I 4 But thou that wast my fellow deare, which friendship didst pretend,
And didst my secret counsell heare,
as my familiar friend.
I 5 Callest whom I had delight to talke,
in secret and abroad:
And we together oft did walke,
with in the house of God.
I 6 Let death in haste upon them fall,
and send them quick to hell:
For mischief reigneth in the Hall,
and Parlour where they dwell.
I 7 But I unto my God doe cry,
to him for helpe I flee:
The Lord doth heare me by and by,
and he doth succour me.
I 8 At morning, noone, and evening tide,
unto the Lord I pray:
When I so instantly have scride,
he doth not say me nay.
I 9 To peace he doth restore me yet,
though warres be neere at hand:
Although the number be full great,
that would against me stand.
I 20 The Lord that first and last doth raigne,
both now and here more,
Will heare when I to him complaine,
and punish them full sore.
I 21 For sure there is no hope that they
to turn will once accord:
For why? they will not God obey,
nor yet doe feare the Lord.
I 22 Upon their friends they lay their hands,
which were in covenant knit;
Of friendship to neglect the bands,
they passe of care no whit.
I 23 While they have war within their hearts,
as burres are their words;
Although their words are smooth as Oile,
they cut as sharpe as swords.
I 24 Calt thou thy care upon the Lord,
and he shall nourish thee;
For in no wise will he accord,
the lust in thral to see.
I 25 But God shall cast them deepe in pit, that thirst for blood at wates.
He shall no guiltfull man permit to live out halfe his dayes.
I 26 Though such be quite destroyd and gone,
in thee O Lord I trust:
I shall depend thy grace upon,
with all my heart and lust.

Miserere mei. Psal. Lvi. I. H.

David being brought to Achis, the King of Gath.
1. Sam. 11. 12. complaineth of his enemies, demandeth succour, trusteth in God, and promiseth to performe his vow, which was to praise God in his Church.

Sing this as the Lamentation.

H Ave mercy Lord, on me I pray,
for man would me devoure:
He fighteth with me day by day,
and troubleth me each houre.
I 2 Mine enemies daily enterpise,
to swallow me outright;
To fight against me they arise,
O thou most high O might.
I 3 When they would make me much afraid,
with boasts and bags of pride:
I trust in thee alone for aide,
by thee I will abide.
I 4 Gods promise I doe minde and praise,
O Lord, I stick to thee;
I doe not care at all assays,
what flesh can doe to me.
I 5 What things I either did or spake, they wexe them at their will:
And all the counsell that they take,
is how to worke me ill.
I 6 They all consent themselves to hide,
close watch for me to lay;
They spy my paths, and snares have laid,
to take my life away.
I 7 Shall they thus scape on mischief set:
thou God on them wilt frown;
For in his wrath he doth not let,
to throw whole kingdomes down.
I 8 Thou seest how oft they made me flee,
and on my teares dost looke;
Reserve them in a glass by thee,
and write them in thy booke.
I 9 When I doe call upon thy Name,
my foes away doe start;
I well perceive it by the same,
that God doth take my part.
I 10 I glory in the Word of God,
to praise it I accord:
With joy I will declare abroad,
the promise of the Lord.
I 11 I trust in God, and yet I say,
as I before began:
The Lord he is my helpe and stay,
I doe not care for man.
I 12 I will performe with heart to free,
to God my vov'es alwaies;
And I O Lord all times to thee,
will offer thanks and praise.
I 13 My soule from death thou dost defend,
and keepe my feet upright:
That I before thee may ascend,
with such as live in light.

Miserere mei. Psal. Lvi. I. H.

David in the desert of Ziph betrayed by the inhabitants, and in the same cave with Saul, calleth unto God with full confidence, that he will performe his promise, and shew his glory in heaven and earth against his cruel enemies, therefore be renkech all laud and praise.

Sing this as the 44. Psalm.

Take pty for thy promise sake,
have mercy. Lord on me:
For why? my soule doth her betake unto the helpe of thee.
2 Within the shadow of thy wings,
I set my selfe full fast:
Till mischiefe, malice, and like things,
be gone and overpast.
3 I call upon the God most high,
to whom I stick and stand:
I meane the God that will stand by the cause I have in hand.
4 From heauen he hath sent his ayd, to save me from their spite,
That to devoure me have assayd,
his mercy, truth and might.
5 I lead my life with Lyons fell,
all set on warth and ire:
And with such wicked men I dwell,
that fret like flames of fire.
6 Their teeth are speeres, and arrowes long,
as sharpe as I have scene;
They wound and cut with their quick tongue,
like swords and weapons keene.
7 Set up and shew thy selfe, O God,
aboue the heavens bright:
Exalt thy praise on earth abroad,
thy maiesty and might.
8 They say their net, and doe prepare a pit by cave and pit:
Wherein they thinke my soule to snare,
but they are false in it.
9 My heart is set to laud the Lord,
in him to toy alwaies:
My heart, I say, doth well accord to sing his laud and praise.
10 Awake my toy, awake I say,
my Lute, my Harpe, and string:
For I my selfe before the day,
will rise, reioyce and sing.
11 Among the people I will tell,
the goodnesse of my God;
And shew his praise that doth excell
in heathen lands abroad.
12 His mercy doth extend as farre
as heavens all are hie:
His truth as high as any star that standeth in the skye.
13 Set forth and shew thy selfe, O God,
aboue the heavens bright.
Exalt thy pr:se on earth abroad,
thy maiesty and might.

Si voce utique. Psal. Lviij. I. H.

He describeth his malicious enemies. Sauls flatterers: who secretly and openly sought his destruction, from whom he appealeth to Gods judgement; shewing that the just shall reioyce at the punishment of the wicked, to Gods glory:

Sing this as the 3. Psalm.

Ye rulers which are put in trust to iudge of wrong and right,
Be all your iudgements true and iust,
not knowing meed or might:
2 Day, in your hearts see mock and mife,
in mischiefe to consent:

And where you should true iustice use,
your hands to bribes are bent.

3 This wicked sort in their birch day,
have erred on this wise:
And from their mothers wombe alway,
have used crafts and lies.
4 In them the porson and the breath of serpents doe appeare;
Pea, like the Adder that is deafe,
and fast doth stop his eare.
5 Because he will not heare the voyce,
of one that charmeth well:
No, though he were the chiefe of choyce,
and did therein excell.
6 O God breake thou their teeth at once, within their mouth throughout;
The tuskes that in their great iaw bones
like Lyons welps hang out.
7 Let them consume away in wast,
as water runs forth right;
The shafts that they doe shoot in hast let them be broke in flight.
8 As Snailles doe walk within the shell,
and unto slime doe run,
As one before his time that fell and never saw the Sunne.
9 Before the thornes that now are young,
to bushes big shall grow:
The stormes of anger waxing strong,
shall take them ere they know.
10 The iust shall toy, it doth them good:
that God doth vengeance take:
And they shall wash their feet in blood,
of them that him forsake.
11 Then shall the world shew forth and tell that good men have reward:
And that a God on earth doth dwell,
that iustice doth regard.

Eripe me. Psal. Lix. I. H.

David in great danger of Saul, who sent to slay him in his bed, declareth his innocency, and their su-ry, praying God to destroy all malicious sinners who live for a time to exercise his people, but in the end consume in his wrath to Gods glory. For this he singeth praise to God assured of his mercy.

Sing this as the 3. Psalm.

End aide and save me from my foes, O Lord, I pray to thee. Defend and keepe me from all those that rise and stande with me. 2. O Lord preserve me from those men whose doings are

- 3 For loe, they waite my soule to take,
they rage against me still;
Plea for no fault that I did make,
I never did them ill.
- 4 They run and doe themselves prepare
when I no whit offend;
Arise and save me from their snare;
and see what they intend.
- 5 O Lord of hosts of Israel,
arise and strike all lands;
And pitty none that doe rebell,
and in their mischief stand.
- 6 At night they stirre and seek abroad,
as hounds they howle and grin;
And all the City cleane throughout,
from place to place they run.
- 7 They speake of me with mouth alway,
but in their lips were swords;
They greed my death, and then would say,
what? none doth heare our words.
- 8 But Lord thou hast their waies espide and laughte thereat apace:
The heathen folke thou shalt deride,
and mock them to their face.
- 9 The strength that doth my foes withstand,
O Lord doth come of thee:
My God be is my helpe at hand,
a fort of fence to me.
- 10 The Lord to me doth shew his grace,
in great abundance still.
That I may see my foes in case,
such as my heart doth will.

The second part.

- 11 Destroy them not at once, O God,
least it from minde doe fall:
But with thy strength drive them abroad and so consume them all.
- 12 For their ill words and cruellest tongues
confound them in their pride:
Their wicked oaths with lies and wrongs
let all the world deride.
- 13 Consume them in thy wrath, O Lord,
that nought of them remaine,
That men may know throughout the world that Jacobs God doth raigne.
- 14 As coming they retorne apace,
as dogs that grin and cry,
Throughout the streets in every place
they run about and spy.
- 15 They seeke about for meat, I say,
but let them not be fed;
Nor find a house wherein they may be bold to put their head.
- 16 But I will shew thy strength abroad,
thy goodnesse I will praise:
For thou art my defence and God
at need in all affaires.

- 17 Thou art my strength, thou hast me saved,
O Lord, I sing to thee,
Thou art my fort, my fence, and aide,
a loving God to me.

Deus repulisti. Psal. LX. I.H.

David now King over Judah, after many victories, sheweth by evident signes that God elected him
King, assuring the people that God will prosper them, if they approve the same, after he prayeth unto God to finish that he hath begun.

Singing this as the 68. Psalme.

- O Lord thou didst us cleane forsake, and scatterdst us abroad:
Such great displeasure thou didst take,
returue to us, O God.
- 2 Thy might doth move the land so sore,
that it in limber shake,
The hurt thereof O Lord restore,
for it doth bow and quake.
- 3 With heavie chance thou plaguest thus,
the people that are thine:
And thou hast given unto us
a drinke of deadly wine.
- 4 But yet to such as feare thy Name,
a token shall enlure:
That they may triumph in the same,
because thy word is true.
- 5 So that thy might may keepe and save thy folke that favour thee;
That they thy helpe at hand may have,
O Lord grant, this to me.
- 6 The Lord did speake from his own place,
this was a ioyfull tale.
I will divide Sichem by pace and meete out Succoth vale.
- 7 Gilcad is given to mine hand,
Danasse mine belide;
Ephraim the strength of all my land,
my law doth Juda guide.
- 8 In Moab I will wash my feet,
or Edom throw my shoe;
And thou Palestime oughtest to seeke for favour me unto.
- 9 But who will bring me at this tide,
unto the City strong?
Who to Edom will me guide,
so that I goe not wrong?
- 10 Wilt thou not God, which didst forsake thy folke, their land, and coasts?
Our warres in hand thou wouldest not take,
nor walke among our hosts.
- 11 Give aide, O Lord, and us relieue from them that us disdain;
The helpe that host of men can give,
it is but all in vaine.
- 12 But through our God we shall have might to take great things in hand:
We will tread down and put to flight
all those that us withstand.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. Lxi.

Whether he were in danger of the Ammonites, or pursued of Abisalom, here he crieth to be delivered and confirmed in his Kingdome, promising perpetuall praises.

Regard

Sing this as the 39. Psalme.

Regard, O Lord, for I complaine, and make my suit to thee;
Let not my words returne in vaine,
but give an eare to me.
2 From off the coastes and utmost parts,
of all the earth abroad;
In griefe and anguish of my heart,
I cry to thee, O God.
3 Upon the rock of thy great power,
my wofull minde repose:
Thou art my hope, my fort and towre,
my fence against my foes.
4 Within thy tents I lust to dwell,
for ever to endure:
Under thy wings I know right well,
I shall be safe and sure.
5 The Lord doth my desire regard,
and doth fulfill the same:
With goodly gifts doth he reward
all men that feare his Name.
6 The King shall be in health maintaine, and so prolong his dayes:
That he from age to age remaine,
for evermore alwayes.
7 That he may have a dwelling place,
before the Lord for aye:
Let thy mercy, truth and grace,
defend me from decay.
8 Then shall I sing for ever still,
with praise unto thy Name:
That all my vowes I may fulfill,
and daily pay the same.

Nonne Deo, Psal. Lxij. I. H.

David declareth by his example, and the nature of God, that he and all people might trust in God alone, seeing that all without God, goeth to nought, who onely is of power to save, and that he rewardeth man according to his worke,

Sing this as the 21. Psalme.

My soule to God shall give good heed,
and him alone attend;
For why? my health and hope to speed,
doth whole on him depend.
2 For he alone is my defence,
my rock, my health and aid;
He is my stay, that no pretence shall make me much dismay.
3 O wicked folke, how long will yee,
like crabs? lur: yee must fall:
For as a rotten hedge yee be,
and like a tottering wall.
4 Whom God doth love, yee seeke alwayes, to put him to the worke:
Yee love to lie, with mouth yee praise,
and yet your heart doth curse.
5 Yet still my soule doth whole depend,
on God my chiefe desire:
From all ill feates me to defend,
none but him I requirer.
6 He is my Rock, my strength and towre,
my health is of his grace:
He doth support me, that no power can move me out of place.

7 God is my glory and my health,
my soules desire and lust:
My fort, my strength, my stay, my health,
God is my only trust.
8 I have your hope in him alwayes,
ye folke with one accord;
Powe out your hearts to him, and say,
our trust is in the Lord.
9 The sonnes of men deceitfull are,
on ballance but a sleight;
With things most vile do them compare,
for they can keepe no weight.
10 Trust not in wising, robbery, or sleachy,
let vaine delighes be gone:
Though goods well got flow in with wealth,
let not your hearts thereon.
11 The Lord long since one thing did tell, which here to minde I call:
He spake it oft, I heard it well,
that God alone doth all.
12 And that thou Lord art good and kind,
thy mercy doth exceed:
So that all sorts with thee shall find,
according to their deed.

Deus Deus meus. Psal. Lxij. T. S.

David after his danger at Ziph, giveth thanks to God for his wonderfull deliverance, in whose mercies he trusteth, even in the midst of misery, prophesying the destruction of Gods enemies, contrariwise happinesse to them that trust in the Lord, 1 Sam. 3.

Sing this as the 44. Psalme.

O God, my God, I watch betimes to come to thee in halles;
For why? my soule and body both,
doe thirst of thee to taste.
2 And in this barren wilderness,
where waters there are none:
My flesh is parch't for thought of thee,
for thee I wish alone.
3 That I might see yet once againe, thy glory, strength and might;
As I was wont it to behold,
within thy Temple bright.
4 For why? thy merces far surmount
this life and wretched dayes:
My lips therefore shall give to thee
due honour, land and praise.
5 And whilst I live, I will not faile,
to worke by thee alway;
And in thy Name I shall lift up,
my hands when I doe pray.
6 My soule is fill'd as with marrow,
which is both fat and sweet;
My mouth therefore shall sing such songs,
as are for thee most meet.
7 When as in bed I thinke on thee,
and eke all the night tides;
For under covert of thy wings,
thou art my joyfull guide.
8 My soule doth surely trust in thee,
thy right hand is my power:
9 And those that seeke my soule to stop, them death shall soon remove.

- 10 The sword shall them deuour each one,
their carcasses shall feed
The hungry Forces which doe run, their prey to seeke at need.
11 The King and all men shall reioyce, that doe profess Gods Word;
For liers mouthes shall then be stoppt, which haue the truth disturbd.

Exaudi Deus, Psal. Lxiiij. I. H.
David prayeth against the false reports of slanderers: he declareth their punishment and destruction, to the comfort of the Just, and glory of God.

Sing this as the 18. Psalme.

- O Lord unto my cause giue eare, with plaints when I doe pray:
And keepe my life and soule from dread,
of foes that threat to slay.
2 Defend me from that sort of men,
which in decrees doe lurke,
And from the frowning face of them,
that all ill feates doe worke.
3 Who whet their tongues, as we haue seen men whet and sharpe their swords;
They shoot abroad their arrowes keene,
I murmur most bitter words.
4 With priuy sleight shoot they their shafts,
the upright man to hit;
The iust unwares to hit by craft,
they care or feare no whit.
5 A wicked worke they haue decreed,
in counsell thus they cry;
To use decrees let us not dread,
what, who can it espy?
6 What wales to hurt, they talke of mife,
all times within their heart:
They all consult what feates to use,
each doth invent his part.
7 But yet all this shall not preuaile:
when they thinke least upon;
God with his dart shall surcassaille,
and wound them in every one.
8 Their cresses and their ill tongues withall shall worke themselves much blame:
That they which then behold their fall,
shall wonder at the same.
9 Then all that see shall know right well,
that God hath thing hath wrought:
And praise his witty worke, and tell,
what he to passe hath brought.
10 Per shall the iust in God reioyce, still trusting in his might,
So shall they toy with mind and voyce, whose heart is pure and right.

Te decet Hymnus, Psal. Lxv. I. H.

A thanksgiving unto God by the faithfull, who are signified by Sion and Ierusalem, for the chusing, preservation and governance of them and for the plentiful blessings powred forth upon all the Earth.

Sing this as the 20. Psalme.

Thy praise alone, O Lord, doth raisine,
in Sion thine own hill:
Their vowes to thee they doe maintaine,
and their behests fulfill.

- 2 For thou that dost their prayer heare,
and dost thereto agree:
Thy people all, both far and neere,
with trust shall come to thee.
3 Our wicked life so far exceeds,
that we should fall therein:
But Lord, forgive our great misdeeds,
and purge us from our sin.
4 The man is blest whom thou dost choose within thy Courts to dwell:
Thy house and temple he shall use,
with pleasures that excell.
5 Of thy great iustice heare us God,
our health of thee doth rise;
The hope of all the earth abroad,
and the sea coasts likewise.
6 With strength thou art beset about,
and compass with thy power;
Thou mak'st the mountaines strong and stout to stand in every shower.
7 The swelling seas thou dost asswage, and make their streames full still:
Thou dost reframe the peoples rage,
and rule them at thy will.
8 The folke that dwell full far on earth shall dread thy signes to see,
Which morne and even with great mirth
do passe with psalle to thee.
9 When that the earth is chapt and dry,
and thirsteth more and more,
Then with thy drops thou dost apply,
and much increase her store.
10 The fount of God doth overflow, and so doth caule to spring
The seed and corne which men do sow, for he doth guide the thing.
11 With wet thou dost her furrows fill,
whereby her clods do fall:
Thy drops on her thou dost distill,
and blesse her fruit withall.
12 Thou deck'st the earth of thy good grace, with faire and pleasant crop;
Thy clouds distill their dew apace,
great plenty they do drop.
13 Whereby the desert shall begin full great increase to bring:
The little hills shall toy therein,
much fruit in them shall spring.
14 In places plaine the flocks shall feed,
and cover all the earth:
The vales with corne shall so exceed,
that men shall sing for mirth.

Inbilate Deus, Psal. Lxvi. T. S.

He exhorteth to praise the Lord in his wonderful workes, he setteth forth the power of God to asfray rebels, and shew Gods mercy to Israel, to provoke all men to feare and praise his Name.

Sing this as the 98. Psalme.

- YE men on earth in God reioyce, with praise set forth his name:
Exult his might with heart and voyce,
giue glory to the same.
2 How wonderfull (O Lord) sayper, in all thy workes thou art:
Thy foes for feare to thee doe seek,
full loze against their heart.

3 All men that dwell the earth throughout,
doe praise the Name of God:
The land thereof the world about ts shew'd and set abroad.

4 All folke come forth, behold and see,
what things the Lord hath wrought:
Marke well the wondrous works that he for man to passe hath brought.

5 He laid the Sea like heaps on hie, therein a way they had,
On foot to passe both faire and dry whereof their hearts were glad.

6 His might doth rule the world alway,
his eyes all things behold:
All such as would him disobey,
by him shall be controld.

7 Pee people give unto our God,
one land and thanks alwayes;
With ioyfull voyce declare abroad,
and sing unto his praise.

8 Which doth indue our soule with life,
and it preserve withall:
He stayes our feet, so that no strife,
can make us slip or fall.

9 The Lord doth prove our deeds with fire,
if that they will abide;
As workemen doe, when they desire to have their merrell tried.

10 Although thou sufferest us so long,
in prison to be cast;
And there with charmes and fetters strong,
to lie in bondage fast.

The second part.

11 Although I say thou sufferest men,
on us to ride and raigne;
Though we through fire and water run,
of very griefe and paine:

12 Per sure thou dost of thy good grace,
dispose it to the best;
And bring us out into a place,
to live in wealth and rest.

13 Unto thy house resort will I,
to offer and to pray,
And there I will my selfe apply,
my vowes to thee to pay.

14 The vowes that with my mouth I spake,
in all my griefe and smart:
The vowes I lay, which I did make,
in dolour of my heart.

15 Burnt offerings I will give to thee,
of Oren fat and Rams:
None other sacrifice shall be of Bullocks, Goats, and Lambs,

16 Come forth and bracken here also,
all ye that feare the Lord:
What he for my poore soule hath done,
to you I will record.

17 Full oft I call upon his grace,
this mouth to him doth cry:
And thou my tongue make speed apace to praise him by and by.

18 But if I feele my heart within in wicked works reioyce:
Or if I have delight to sin,
God will not heare my voyce.

19 But surely God my voyce hath heard,
and what I do requite;

By prayer he doth well regard,
and granteth my desire.

20 All praise to him that hath not put nor cast me out of minde:
Nor yet his mercy from me shut,
which I do ever finde.

Deus miseratur. Psal. Lxvij. I. H.

A sweet prayer for all the faithfull to obtain' the favour of God, and to be lightned with his countenance, to the end that his way and judgements may be known throughout the earth, as rejoycing that God is the governour of all nations.

Sing this as the 25. Psalme.

HAVE mercy on us Lord,
and grant to us thy grace:

To shew to us do thou accord
the brightnesse of thy face.

2 That all the earth may know
the way to godly wealth:

And all the nations on a row
may see thy saving health.

3 Let all the world O God;
give praise unto thy name.

Or let the people all abroad,
extoll and laud the same.

4 Throughout the world so wide,
let all reioyce with mirth:

For thou with truth and right dost guide
the nations of the earth.

5 Let all the world, O God,
give praise unto thy name:

Or let the people all abroad
extoll and laud the same.

6 Then shall the earth increase,
great store of fruit shall fall,
And then our God, the God of peace:
shall blesse us eke withall.

7 God shall us blesse, I say;
and then both farre and near,
The folk throughout the earth alway,
of him shall stand in fear.

Exurgat Deus. Psal. Lxviij. T. S.

David expresseth the wonderfull mercies of God towards his people, who by all means, and most strange sorts, declareth himself to them. Gods Church therefore, by reason of his promises, and great victories, doth excell all worldly things:
wherefore all men are moved to praise God for ever.

L  Et God arise, and then his foes will turn themselves to flight: his enemies then will run abroad, and scatter out of sight. 2 And as the fire

 doth melt the wax, and winds blow

 monks.

But righteous men before the Lord,
shall heartily reioyce.

They shall be glad and merry all,
and cheerefull in their voyce.

4 Sing praise, sing praise unto the Lord, who rideth on the sky.

Great the Name of Iehou our God,
and him do magnific.

5 The same is he that is above,
within his holy place:

That father is of fatherlesse,
and iudge of worldes case.

6 Vpones he giues and issueth both,
unto the comfortlesse,

He bringeth bondmen out of thyll,
and rebels to distrust.

7 When thou didst march before thy folke
the Egyptians from among,
And broughtst them through the wilderness which was both wide and long:

8 The earth did quake, the rain pour'd down, heard were great claps of thunders

The Mount Sinai shooke in such force, as it would cleave in sunder.

9 Thine heritage with drops of raine
abundantly was washt:

And it so be it barren waite,
by thee it was refresh't.

10 Thy chosen folke doth there remaine, thou hast prepar'd that place:

And for the poore thou dost provide of thine especiall grace.

The second part.

11 God will giue women causes lust to magnific his name.

When as his people triumphs make,
and purchase brite and fame.

12 And puissant Kings for all their power, shall flee and take the flicke,

And women which remaine at home,
shall helpe to part the spoile.

13 And though ye were as black as pots,
your hue shall passe the dove,

Whose wings and feathers seeme to haue silver and gold above.

14 When in this land God shall triumph
o're Kings both high and low:

Then shall it be like Salmons hill,
as white as any snow.

15 Though Basan be a fruitful hill, and in bright others passe

Yet Sion Gods most holy hill doth far excell in grace.

16 Why brag ye thus ye hills most high,
and scape for pride together?

The hill of Sion God doth love,
and there will dwell for ever.

17 Gods army is two millions of warriours good and strong:

The Lord also in Sinai is present them among.

18 Thou didst (O Lord) ascend on high,
and captiue ledst them all.

Which in time past thy chosen flock
in prison kept and thyll.

Thou mad'st them tribute for to pay;
and such as did repine,

Thou didst subdue, that they might dwell
in thy Temple diuine.

19 Now praised be the Lord, for that he poures on us such grace;

From day to day he is the God of our health and solace.

The third part.

20 He is the God from whom alone
saluation cometh plaine;

He is the God by whom I scape
al' dangers, deare and paine;

21 Thus God will wound his enemies head,
and breake the harty scape

Of those that in their wickednesse continually do walke.

22 From Basan will I bring, said he,
my people and my sheep.

And all mine own as I haue done,
from danger of the deepe.

23 And make them dip their feet in blood of those that hate my name:

And dogs shall haue their tongues imbrued with licking of the same.

24 All men may see how thou, O God, thine enemies dost deface:

And how thou goest as God and King into thine holy place.

25 The fingers go before with joy,
the minstrels follow after:

And in the midst the Damels play with Timbrell and with Taber.

26 Now in the congregations,
(O Israel) praise the Lord:

And Jacobs whole posterity give thanks with one accord.

27 Their chiefe was little Benjamin,
but Judah made their host;

With Zabulon and Naphtalim, which dwelt about their coasts.

28 As God hath giuen power to thee,
so Lord make firme and sure,

The thing that thou hast wrought in us,
for ever to endure;

29 And in the temple gites will we give unto thee, O Lord,

For thine unto Jerusalem sure promise made by word.

The fourth part.

30 Pea and strange Kings to us subdu'd, shall do like in those dayes;

I meane, to thee they shall present their gites of land and praise.

He shall destroy the spearmens ranks, their Calues and Buls of might;

And caule them tribute pay, and daunt
all such as love to fight.

31 Then shall the Lord of Egypt come,
and presents with him bring:

The moor's most black shall stretch their hands
unto their Lord and King:
33 Therefore ye Kingdome of the earth,
give praise unto the Lord:
Sing Psalmes to God with one consent, thereto let all accord.
33 With though he ride, and ever hath,
above the heavens bright:
Yet by the fearful thunder-claps, men may well know his might, 34 Therefore the strength of Israel,
ascribe to God on hie:
Whose might and power doth farre extend,
above the cloudie skie.
35 O God thy holiness and power,
is head for evermore:
The God of Israel gives us strength, praised be God therefore.

Saluum me fac, Psal. Lxix. I. H.

Christ and his elect are signified in Davids zeale and anguish, the malicious cruelty of those enemies, and their punishment, as Judas, and such traytors he noteth who are accused. Then gathereth he courage in afflictions, and offereth praises to God, which are more acceptable than all sacrifice. Finally, he doth provoke all creatures to praises, prophesying of the Kingdome of Christ, and building of ierusalem, where all the faithfull and their seed shall dwell for ever.

Abe me O God and that with speed,

the waters flow full fast: So nigh my soule

doe they proceed, that I am sore agast.

2 I stick full deep in filth and clay, where.

as I feele no grounds: I fall into such floods.

I say, that I am like be drown'd.

And all the faults that I commit,
to thee are knowne full well.
7 O God of hostis defend and stay,
all those that trust in thee:
Let no man doubt or thinke away,
for ought that chanceth me.
8 It is for thee and for thy sake, that I doe beare this blame:
In spite of thee they would me make,
to hide my face for shame.
9 My mothers sonnes my brethren all,
for sake me on a row:
And as a stranger they me call,
my face they will not know.
10 Unto thy house such zeale I beare, that it doth pynne much:
Their checks and taunts at thee to beare,
my very heart doth grutch.

The second part.

11 Though I doe fast my flesh to chast,
yea if I weepe and mone:
Yet in my teeth this gear is cast,
they passe not thereupon.
12 If I for griefe or paine of heart,
in sackcloth use to walke:
Then they anon will it pervert,
thereof they leet and talke.
13 Both hie and low and all the throng,
that sit within the gate:
They haue me ever in their tongue,
of me they talke and praye.
14 The drunkards which in wine delight,
it is their chiefe pastime:
To seeke which way to worke me spight,
of me they sing and chime.
15 But thee the while, O Lord I pray, that when it please thee:
For thy greater truth: thou wilt alway,
send downe thine ayd to me.
16 Plucke thou my feet out of the mire from drowning doe me keepe:
From such as owe me wrath and ire,
and from the waters deepe.
17 Lest with the waves I should be drown'd, and depth my soule deuoure.
And that the pit should me confound,
and hide me in her power.
18 O Lord of Hosts to me give care,
as thou art good and kind,
And as thy mercy is most deare,
Lord haue me in thy mind.
19 And doe not from thy seruant hide,
nor turne thy face away:
I am oppress'd on every side,
with halke gibe care I say.
20 O Lord unto my soule draw nigh,
the same with halde repole:
Because of their great tyranny,
acquitt me from my foes.

The third part.

21 That I abide rebuke and shame.
Thou know'st, and thou canst tell:
For those that seeke and worke the same,
thou seest them all full well.

22 When they with brags do break my heart,
I seeke for helpe anon:
But find no friends to ease my smart,
to comfort me not one.

23 But in my meate they gave me gall,
too cruell for to thinke,
And gave me in my thirst withall, strong Astringe to drinke.

24 Lord turne their table to a snare,
to take themselves therein:
And when they thinke full well to fare,
then trap them in the gin.

25 And let their eyes be darke and blinde, that they may nothing see:
Doe downe their backe, and doe them blinde,
in this doome for to be.

26 Pour out thy wrath as hot as fire,
that it on them may fall:
Let thy displeasure in thine ire,
take hold upon them all.

27 As desert dyt their house disgrace, their off-spring eke expell:
That none thereof possesse the place,
nor in their tents doe dwell.

28 If thou dost strike the man to tame,
on him thy ire full sore:
And if that thou dost wound the same,
they seeke to hurt him more.

29 Then let them hye up mischiefes all,
sith they are all pervert,
That of thy fauour and good will,
they never have a part.

30 And rage them cleane out of the booke of life, of hope, of trust:
That for their name they never looke,
in number of the just.

The fourth part.

31 Though I, O Lord, with woe and griefe have bene so sore opprest:
Thy helpe shal' give me such relief,
that all shall be redrest.

32 That I may give the same the praise,
and shew it with a song:
I will extoll the same alwaies,
with hearty thanks among.

33 Which is more pleasant unto thee,
such mind thy grace hath boync:
Than either Oze or Calfe can be,
that hath both hoofe and horne.

34 When simple folke doe this behold,
it shall reioyce them sure:
All ye that seeke the Lord, be bold,
your life for aye shall dure.

35 For why? the Lord of hosts doth heare
the poyore when they complaine:
His prisoners are to him full deare,
he hath them not disdain.

36 Therefore the skie and earth be love,
the sea with fount and streame:
Dispraise they shall declare and shew,
with all that live in them.

37 For since our God will soon save,
and Judahs Tides build:
Such folke possession there shall have,
her streets shall all be fill'd.

38 Disseruantes feed shall keepe the same,
all ages out of mind:

And there all they that love his Name,
a dwelling place shall finde.

Demadjutorium. Psal. Lxx. I. H.

Hee prayeth to bright speedily delivered, his enemies to be ashamed, and all that seeke the Lord to be comforted.

Sing this as the 25. Psalme.

○ God to me take heed,
of helpe I thee requite:
O Lord of hosts, with hast make speed,
helpe, helpe, I thee desire,

2 All thy shame confound them all,
that seeke my soule to spill:
Rebuke them backe with blame to fall,
that seeke and wish me ill.

3 Confound them that apply,
and seeke to worke me shame:
And at my harme doe laugh and cry,
so, so, there goes the game.

4 But let them sayfull be,
in thee with joy and wealth:
Which onely trust and seeke to thee,
and to thy saving health.

5 That they may say alwaies,
in mirth and one accord:
All glory, honour, laud and praise,
be given to thee, O Lord,

6 But I am weak and poore,
come Lord to thine aid I lacke, Thou art my stay and help, therefore make speed and be not slacke.

Inte Domine. Psal. Lxx. I. H.

Hee prayeth in faith, established by promise, and confirmed by the workes of God from his youth, to be delivered from his wicked and cruell sonne Absolon, with his confederacy, promising to be thankfull therefore.

Sing this as the 72. Psalme.

My Lord, my God, in all distress,
my hope is whole in thee:
Then let no shame my soule oppresse,
nor once take hold on me.

2 As thou art true, defend me Lord,
and rid me out of bread:
Give care and to my suit accord,
and lend me help at need.

3 Be thou my rocke, to whom I may for aid all times resort:
Thy promise is to helpe alway,
thou art my fence and fort.

4 Save me, my God, from wicked men,
and from their strength and power:
From folke untrust, and eke from them that cruelly devour.

5 Thou art my stay wherein I trust, thou Lord of hosts art he:
For from my youth I had a trust,
still to depend on thee.

6 Thou hast me kept, even from my birth, and I through thee was borne:
Therefore I will thee praise with mirth,
both evening and at morne.

7 As to a monster seldom scene,
much folke about me throng:
But thou art now, and still hast bene,

8 my fence and aid so strong.
Wherefore my mouth no time shall lacke,
thy glorie and thy praise:
And eke my tongue shall not be slacke,
to honour thee alwaies.

9 Refuse me not, O Lord, I say, when age my limbs doth take:
And when my strength doth waste away,
doe not my soule forsake.

10 Among themselves my foes inquire,
to take me through deceit:
And they against me doe conspire, that for my soule saide wait.

The second part.

11 Lay hands and take him now, said they,
for God from him is gone:
Dispatch him quite, for to his aide,
I wis there cometh none.

12 Doe not absent thy selfe away,
O Lord, when need shall be:
But that in time of need thou maist,
in haste give helpe to me.

13 With shame confound and overthrow all those that seeke my life:
Oppresse them with rebuke also,
that saine would worke me strife.

14 But I will patiently abide,
thy helpe at all times:
Still more and more each time and tide,
I will set forth thy praise.

15 My mouth thy iustice shall record, that daily helpe doth send:
But of thy benefits, O Lord,
I know no count nor end.

16 For will I goe and seeke forth one,
with thy good helpe, O God:
The saving health of thee alone,
to shew and let abroad.

17 For of my youth thou tak'st the care,
and dost instruct me still:
Therefore thy wonders to declare,
I have great mind and will.

18 And as in youth from wanton rage, thou didst me keepe and stay:
Forsake me not unto mine age,
and till my head be gray.

The third part.

19 That I thy strength and might may shew,
to them that now be here:
And that our seed thy power may know,
hereafter many a yeere.

20 O Lord thy iustice doth exceed,
thy doings all may see:
Thy workes are wonderfull indeed,
oh! who is like to thee?

21 Thou mad'st me feele affliction sore, and yet thou did'st me save:
Pea, thou didst helpe and me restore,
and took'st me from the grave.

22 And thou mine honour dost increase,
my dignity maintaine:
Pea, thou dost make all rise to cease,
and comfort'st me againe.

23 Therefore thy faithfulness to praise,
I will with all sing:
And all his enemies that rebel,
the earth and dust shall sing.

My Harpe shall sound thy praise alwaies.

O Israels holy King.

24 My mouth shall joy with pleasant voyce,
when I shall sing to thee:

And eke my soule shall much reioyce,
for thou hast made me free.

25 My tongue thy uprightnesse shall sound, and speake it daily till:

For griefe and shame doe them confound, that sought to worke me ill.

Dem judicium. Psal. Lxxij. I.H.

Oods Kingdome by Christ is represented by Sa-men, under whom shall be righteousnesse, peace, and felicity, unto whom all Kings and Nations shall doe homage, whose name and power shall endure for ever.

Doe give thy iudgements to the King, therein instruct him well:

And with his son that princely thing,

Lord let thy iustice dwell.

2 That he may governe rightlie, and rule thy folke aright:

And eke defend through equity,
the poore that have no might.

3 And let the mountaines that are high,
unto thy folke give peace:
And eke let little hills apply,
in iustice to increase.

4 That he may helpe the weake and poore with aid, and make them strong:
And eke destroy for evermore,
all those that doe them wrong.

5 And then from age to age shall they regard and feare thy might:
So long as Sunne doth shine by day,
or else the Moone by night.

6 Lord make the King unto the last,
like raine to fields new sowne:
And like the drops that lay the dust,
and fresh the land new sowne.

7 The just shall flourish in his time,
and all shall beat peace:
Untill the Moone shall leave to shine,
waxe, change, and to increase.

8 We shall be Lord of Sea and Land, from shore to shore throughout:
And from the founts within the Land,
throughout the world about.

9 The people that in desert dwell, shall kneele to him full thicke:
And all his enemies that rebel,
the earth and dust shall lick.

10 The Lord of all the Isles thereby, great gifts to him shall bring:
The Kings of Saba and Araby, give many a costly thing.

The second part.

11 All Kings shall seeke with one accord,
in his good grace to stand;
And all the people of the world,
shall serue him at his hand.
12 For he the needy sort doth save,
that unto him doe call:
And eke the simple folke that haue
no helpe of man at all.
13 He taketh pity on the poore,
that are with need oppress;
He doth preserve them furthermore,
and bringeth their soules to rest.
14 He shall redeeme their life from dread, from fraud, from wrong, from might:
And eke the blood that they shall bleed,
is precious in his sight.
15 But he shall liue, and they shall bring,
to him of Sabas gold;
He shall be honoured as a King,
and daily he extold:
16 The mightie mountaines of his land,
of Carme shall beare such throng:
That it like Cedar trees shall stand in Libanus full long.
17 Their citie eke full well shall speed,
the fruites thereof shall passe:
In plenty it shall farre exceed,
and spring as greene as grasse.
18 For ever they shall praise his name,
while that the Sunne is light:
And thinke them happy through the same,
all folke shall blisse his might.
19 Praise ye the Lord of hosts and sing,
to Israels God each one:
For he doth every wondrous thing,
yea, he himselte alone.
20 And blessed be his holy Name,
all times eternally:
That all the earth may praise the same,
Amen, Amen say I.

Quam bonus Deus. Lxxiii. T. S.

David teacheth that neither the prosperity of the ungodly nor the afflictions of the good, ought to discourage Gods children, but rather move them to consider Gods providence and to reverence his iudgements, for that the wicked vanish away like unto smoke, and the godly enter into life everlasting, in hope whereof he resigneth himselfe into Gods hands.

Sing this as the 44. Psalme.

How ever it be, yet Gods good,
and kinde to Israel;
And to all such as safely keepe,
their conscience pure and well.
2 Per like a foole I almost slippe,
my feet began to slide:
And ere I wist even at a pinche,
my steps away gan glide.
3 For when I saw such foolish men,

I grudge'd and did disdaine:
That wicked men should haue all things,
without turmolle and paine.
4 They neuer suffer pangs nor griefe,
as if death should thinke them finite:
Their bodies are both stout and strong,
and euer in good plight.
5 And free from all aduersite,
when other men be spent:
And with the rest they take no part,
of plague or punishment.
6 Therefore presumption doth embrace, their neckes as doth a chaine:
And are even wrapt as in a robe,
with rapine and disdaine.
7 They are so fed that euen with fat,
their eyes oft-times out-fart:
And as for worldly goods they haue,
more then can wish their heart.
8 Their life is most licentious
boasting much of the wrong:
Which they haue done to simple men,
and euer pride among.

9 The heauens and the liuing Lord,
they spare not to blasphemie.
And prate they doe of worldly things
no wight they doe esteeme.
10 The people of God oft-times turne backe, to see their prosperous state:
And almost drinke the selfe same cup,
and follow the same race.

The second part.

11 How can it be that God say they,
should know or understand
These worldly things since worldly men, be lords of sea and land?
12 For we may see how wicked men,
in riches still increase.
Rewarded well with worldly goods,
and liue in rest and peace.
13 Then why doe I from wickednesse,
my fantasie refraine:
And wash my hands with innocents,
and cleanse my heart in vaine?
14 And suffer scourges every day
as subiect to all blame:
And every morning from my youth,
sustaine rebuke and shame?
15 And I had almost said as they,
mistaking mine estate:
But that I should the childe of Iudge,
as folke unfortunate.
16 Then I besought me how I might
this matter understand:
But yet the labour was too great,
for me to take in hand.
17 Untill the time I went into,
thy holy place and then I understood right perfectly,
the end of all these men.
18 And namely how thou settest them upon a slippery place:
And at thy pleasure and thy will,
thou dost them all deface.
19 Then all men must at that strange sight,

to see how suddenly:

They are destroyed, disparted, consumed,
and dead so horribly.

20 Much like a dream when one awakes,
so shall their wealth decay:
Their famous names in all mens sight,
shall ebbe and passe away.

The third part.

21 Yet thus my heart was grieved then,
my mind was much oppressed:

22 So fond was I and ignorant, and in this point a beast.

23 Yet nevertheless by thy right hand,
thou holdst me alwayes fast:

24 And with thy counsell dost me guide to glory at the last.

25 What thing is there that I can wish,
but thee in heaven above?

And in the earth there is nothing like thee that I can love.

26 My flesh and eke my heart doth false,
but God doth false me never:

For of my health God is the strength,
my portion eke for ever.

27 And so, all such as thee forsake, thou shalt destroy each one:

And those that trust in anything, saying in thee alone.

28 Therefore I will draw nere to God,
and ever with him dwell:

In God alone I put my trust,
his wonders I will tell.

Ps. lxxiiij. I. H.

A complaint of the destruction of the Church and true Religion, under the name of Sion, and the Altars destroyed: but trusting in the might and free mercies of God by his Covenant, requirith help and succour to the glory of his Name: the salvation of his poore afflicted servants, & confusion of his proud enemies.

Sing this as the 71. Psalm.

Why art thou Lord so long from us,
in all this danger deepe?

Why doth thine anger kindle thus,
at thine owne pasture therpe?

2 Lord call the people to thy thought,
which have bene thine so long:

The which thou hast redeemed and brought from bondage sore and strong.

3 Have mnde, I say, and thinke upon,
remember it full well:

The pleasant place, thy mount Sion,
where thou wast wont to dwell.

4 Lift up thy feet and come in haste,
and all thy foes deface:

Which now at pleasure rob and wast
within thy holy place.

5 Amid thy Congregations all,
thine enemies roare, O God:

They set as signes on every wall,
their banners plac'd abroad.

6 As men with axes hew downe trees,
that on the hills doe grow:

So thine the hills and tops of these,
within thy Temple now.

7 The feeling saw'd, the carved boords,
the goodly graven stones:

Which are, hammers, bills, and swords,

they beat them downe at once:

8 Thy places they consume with flame,
and eke in all this toyle:

The house appointed to thy Name,
they raze downe to the soyle.

9 And thus they said within their heart,
dispatch them out of hand:

Then burnt they up in every place,
Gods houses thorough the land.

10 Yet thou no signe of helpe dost send:
our prophets all are gone:

To tell when this our plague shall end,
among us there is none.

11 When wilt thou Lord once end this shame, and cease thine enemies strong?

Shall they alwayes blaspheme thy Name,
and raille on thee so long?

12 Why dost thou draw thy hand abacke,
and hide it in thy lap?

Plucke it out and be not slacke,
to give thy foes a rap.

The second part.

13 O God thou art our King and Lord,
and evermore hast bene:

Dea thy good grace throughout the world,
for our good helpe hath bene.

14 The seas that are so deepe and dead,
thy might did make them dry:

And thou didst breake the serpent's head,
that he therein did die.

15 Dea thou didst breake the heads so great,
of whales that are so fell:

And gan't them to the folke to eate,
that in the deserts dwell.

16 Thou mad'st a spring with stremes to rise from rock both hard and high:

And eke thy hand hath made like wells,
deeper rivers to be dry.

17 Both day and eke the night are thine,
by thee they were begun:

Thou set'st to serve us with thine thine,
the light and eke the sunne.

18 Thou dost appoint the ends and coasts, of all the earth about:

Both Summers heate and Winters frost, thy hand hath found them out.

19 Thinke on, O Lord, notime forget thy foes that thee defame:

And how the foolish folke are set to raille upon thy Name.

20 O let no cruel beast devoure
thy turtle that is true:

Forget not alwayes in thy power,
the poore that much doe rue:

21 Regard thy Covenant and behold, thy foes possesse the land:

All sad and darke forewoone and old,
one Realme as now doth stand.

22 Let not the simple goe away,
nor yet retorne with shame:

But let the poore and needy are,
give grace unto thy Name.

23 Rise (Lord) let be by thee maintain'd,
the cause that is thine owne:

Remember how that thou blasphem'd,
art by the foolish one.

24 The voice forget not of thy foes,
for the presumption high:
Is more and more increast of those,
that hate thee spitefully.

Confitebimur tibi Psal. Lxxv. I. H.

The faithfull praise the Lord, who shall come to judge at his time when the wicked shall drinke the cup of his wrath but the righteous shall be exalted to honor.

Sing this as the 44. Psalme.

Unto thee (God) will we give thanks,
we will give thanks to thee:

Sith thy name is so neere, declare thy wondrous workes will we.

3 I will uprightly iudge when get convenient time I may:

The earth is awake and all therein,
but I her pillars stay.

3 I did to the mad people say,
deale not so furiously;

And unto the ungodly ones,
set not your hopes on high.

4 I said unto them set not up your raised hopes on high:

And see that you doe with siffe necke,
not speake presumptuously.

5 For neither from the easterne parts,
nor from the westerne side:

Now from forsaken willderesse promotion doeth proceed.

6 For why? the Lord our God he is the righteous Iudge alone:

He putteth downe the one, and sets another in the throne.

7 For why? a cup of mighty wine
is in the hand of God:

And all the mighty wine therein,
himselfe doth poure abroad.

8 As for the lees and filthie drags,
that doe remaine of it:

The wicked of the world shall drinke, and sucke them every while.

9 But I will talke of God (I say):
of Jacobs God therefore:

And will not cease to celebrate his praise for evermore.

10 In sinder breake the hopes of all ungodly men will I:

But then the hopes of righteous men shall be exalted high.

Gloria Patri.

To Father, Sonne, and holy Ghost,
all glory be therefore:

As in beginning was, is now,
and shall be evermore.

In Iudea Psal. Lxxvj. I. H.

Here is described the power of God, and care for the defence of his people, by the destruction of Sesa-cherib army for which the faithfull are exhorted to be thankfull.

Sing this as the 69. Psalme

To all that now in Iury dwell,
the Lord is clearely knowne:

His name is great in Israel,
a people of his owne.

2 At Saker he hither to hath plight,
to take there a space:

In Sien eke he hath delight,
to make his dwelling place.

3 And there he brake both shaft and bow,
the sword, the spear, and shield,

And brake the ray to overthrow,
in battell on the field.

4 Thou art more worthy honour, Lord,
more might in thee doth lie:

Then in the strongest of the world,
that rob on mountaines lie.

5 But now the proud are spoild through thee,
and they are fallen asleepe:

Throug men of warre no helpe can be,
themselues they cannot keepe.

6 At thy rebuke O Jacobs God,
when thou didst them reprove:

As halfe on sleepe their chariots stood,
no horse-men once did move.

7 For thou art dreadfull Lord indeed, what man the courage hath

To bide thy sight, and not be dread, when thou art in thy wrath?

8 When thou dost make thy iudgements heard from heauen through the ground:

Then all the earth full sore afraid,
in silence shall be found.

9 And when that thou O God, dost stand in iudgement to speake:

To save the afflicted of the land,
on earth that are full weak.

10 The fury that in man doth raigne, shall turne unto thy praise.

Hereafter Lord doe thou restrain, thine wrath and threats alwayes.

11 Make vov'es and pay them to our God, ye folke that nigh him be.

Bring gifts all yet that dwell abroad,
for dreadfull sure is he.

12 For he doth take both life and might,
from Princes great of birth:

And full of terrour is his sight,
to all the Kings on earth.

Voce med. Psal. Lxxvj. I. H.

David rehearseth his great afflictions and grievous temptations, whereby he is driven to consider his former conversation and the course of Gods workes in the preservation of his servants in temptations.

With my voice to God doe cry,

With heart and harp I praise.

My voice to God I lift on high, and he

my sin doth heare: In time of grieve

I sought to God, by night more rest I took, but stretch my hands to him abroad,

abroad, my soule comfort forsooke.
 3 When I to thine on God intend,
 my trouble then is moer:
 I spake but could not make an end,
 my breath was stopp'd so sore.
 4 Thou beldest mine eyes alwayes from rest,
 that I therewith did wake:
 Alth' fere I am so sore oppress'd,
 my speech doth me forsake.

5 The dayes of old in mind I cast, and oft did thinke upon
 The times and ages that are past, full many yeeres agoe.
 6 By night my long's I call to minde,
 once made thy praise to shew:
 And with my heart I mince I finde,
 my spirit doth search to know.

7 Will God (said I) at once for all cast off his people thus:
 So that henceforth no time he shall be friendly unto us?
 8 What is his goodnesse cleane decayd,
 for ever and a day?
 9 Is his promise now belay'd?
 and doth his truth decay?

10 And will the Lord our God forget, his mercies man told?
 11 Shall his wrath increase so hot,
 his mercies to with-hold?
 12 At last I said my weaknesse
 the cause of this to tell:
 Gods mighty hand can be p. all this,
 and change it when he will.

The second part.

11 I will regard and thinke upon,
 the working of the Lord:
 12 Shall his wonders past and gone,
 I gladly will receiv.
 13 Praise all his workes I will declare,
 and what he did befall:
 To tell his facts I will not spare,
 and eke his counsell will.

14 Thy workes (O Lord) are all upright, and holy all abroad:
 What one hath strength to match the might,
 of thee, O Lord, our God?
 15 Thou art a God that dost forth-throw,
 thy wo. ders every houre:
 And so dost make the people know,
 thy virtue and thy power.

16 And thine owne folke thou dost defend,
 with strength and stretch'd arme,
 The sonnes of Jacob that descend,
 and Josephs seed from harme.
 17 The waters Lord receiv'd thee,
 the waters low't her well:
 And they for feare away did flye,
 the depths on trembling fell.

18 The clouds that were both thick and black did raine most plentifully:
 The thunders in the ayre did crack,
 thy shaltes ab. nad did file.
 19 Thy thunder in the ayre was heard,
 the lightnings from above,

Which shaltes great made men afraid,
 the earth did quake and move.

19 Thy wayes within the sea doe lye,
 thy paths in waters deepe:
 Yet none can there thy steps espye,
 nor know thy paths to keepe.
 20 Thou leddest thy folke upon the sand,
 as sheepe on every side:
 Through holes and through Arons hand,
 thou didst them safely guide.

Attendite populi. Psal. Lxxvij. I. H.

He sheweth how God of his mercy chose his Church of the posterity of Abraham, casting in their teeth the rebellion of their fathers, that their children might acknowledge Gods free mercies, and be ashamed of their perverse ancestors. The holy Ghost hath comprehended, as it were the summe of all Gods benefites, that the grosse people might see in few words the effect of the whole history.

Send my people to my law, and to my words incline. My mouth shall speake strange parables, and sences divine: Which we our selves have heard and learn'd. ven of our fathers old, And which for our instruction our fathers have us told.

4 Because we should not keepe it close from them that should come after,
 Who should Gods power to their race praise,
 and all his workes of wonder.
 5 To Jacob he commandment gave,
 how Israel should live:
 6 Telling our Fathers should the same,
 unto these children give.
 7 That they and their posteritie, that were not sprung up tho:
 Should have the knowledge of the law,
 and teach their seed also.
 8 That they might have the better hope in God that is above:
 And not forget to keepe his lawes,
 and his precepts in love.
 9 Not being as their fathers were rebell'g in Gods sight:
 And would not frame their wicked heares,
 to know their Gods aright.

9 How went the people of Ephraim:
their neighbours for to spoyle,
Shooting their darts the day of warre,
and yet they toke the spoyle.
10 For why? they did not keepe with God,
the covenant that was made:
Nor yet would walke or lead their lives
according to his trade.
11 But put into oblivion
his counsell and his will:
And all his works most magnifick, which he declared still.

The second part.

12 What wonders to our fore-fathers,
did he himselfe disclose:
In Egypt land within the field
that call'd is Ganeos?
13 He did divide and cut the Sea,
that they might passe at once:
And made the waters stand as still,
as doth an heape of stones.
14 He led them in a secret cloud,
by day when it was bright:
And in the night when darke it was,
with fire he gave them light.
15 He brake the rocks in wilderness,
and gave the people drinke,
As plentiful as when the dreyes,
doe flow up to the bynke.

16 He drew out rivers out of rocks, that were both dry and hard:
Of such abundance that no founts
to them might be compar'd.
17 Yet for all this against the Lord,
these sinne they did increase.
And stirred him that is most high,
to wrath in wilderness.
18 They tempted God within their hearts,
like people of mistrust:
Requering such a kind of meat,
as served to their lust.
19 Saying with murmurat[i]on,
in their unfaithfullnesse:
What can this God prepare for us
a feast in wilderness?
20 Where'd he strike the stony rocke,
and founts forthwith did flow:
But can he now geve to his flocke,
both bread and flesh also?
21 When God heard this he waxed wroth, with Jacob and his seed:
So did his indignation
on Israel proceed.

The third part.

22 Because they did not faithfully believe and hope that he Would alwaies helpe and succour them
in their needesse.
23 Therefore he did command the clouds,
forthwith they brake in sunder.
24 And reind downe Manna for them to eat,
a food of mickle wonder.
25 When earthly men with Angels food, were fed at their request:
26 He bad the East winde blow away,
and brought in the south-wind.

27 He rained downe flesh as thicke as dust,
and fowle as thicke as sand:
28 Which he did cast amidst the place where all their tents did stand.

29 Then did they eat exceedingly, and all men had their fill:
Yet more and more they did desire,
to receive their lusts and will.
30 But as the meat was in their mouthes,
his wrath upon them fell:
31 And slew the flower of all their youth and choice of Israel.
32 Yet fell they to their wonted sinne,
and still they did him grieve:
For all the wonders that he wrought,
they would him not believe.
33 Their dayes therefore he shortned, and made their honour vain:
Their yeeres did waste and passe away,
with terror and with paine.
34 But ever when he plagued them,
they sought him by and by:
Remembering that he was their strength,
their helpe and God most high.
35 Though in their mouthes they did but glorie
and flatter with the Lord:
And with their tongues, and in their hearts,
dissembled every word.

The fourth part.

36 For why? their hearts were nothing bent to him, nor to his trade:
Nor yet to keepe, nor to performe
the covenant that was made.
37 Yet was he still so mercifull,
when they deserved to die:
That he forgave them their misdeeds,
and would not them destroy.

38 How many a time he turned his wrath,
and did himselfe abuse:
And would not suffer all his whole displeasure to arise.
39 Considering that they were but flesh,
and even as a winde
Passing away, and cannot well
returne by his owne kinde.

40 How often times in wilderness,
did they the Lord provoke:
How did they move and stirre the Lord,
to plague them with his stroke.
41 Yet did they turne againe to sin,
and tempted God oft-soone:
Prescribing to the holy Lord,
what things they would have done.

42 Not thinking of his hand and power, nor of the day when he Delivered them out of the hands of the fierce enemy.
43 For how he wrought his miracles,
(as they themselves be held)
In Egypt, and the wonders that he did in Soan field.

44 For how he turned by his power,
their waters into blood:
That no man might receive his drinke,
at river nor at fount.
45 Nor how he sent them swarmes of flies,

which

which did them sore annoy:
And fill'd their Countrey full of flocks, which did their land destroy.
The fixt part.
46 Now how he did commit their faults,
unto the Caterpillar:
And all the labour of their hands
he gave to the Grasshopper.
47 With ballesstones he destroy'd their vines,
so that they were all lost:
And not so much as wild fig-trees,
but he consum'd with frost.
48 And yet with ballesstones once againe
the Lord their Cattell smote:
And all their flocks and herds likewise,
with thunderbolts full vote.
49 He cast upon them in his ire,
and in his fury strong,
Displeasure, wrath, and wicked spirits,
to trouble them among.
50 Then to his wrath he made a way,
and spared not the least:
But gave unto the pestilence,
the man and eke the beast.
51 He stricke also the first-borns all,
that up in Egypt came:
And all the chiefe of men and beast,
within the tents of Ham.
52 But as for all his owne deare folke,
he did preserve and keepe:
And carried them through wilderness,
even like a flocke of sheepe.
53 Without all feare both safe and sound,
he brought them out of Egypt:
Whereas their foes with rage of Sea were overwhelmed all.
54 And brought them out into the coast,
of his owne holy land:
Even to the Mount which he had got,
by his strong arme and hand.
55 And there cast out the heathen folke,
and did their land divide:
And in their tents he set the Tribes of Israel to abide.
56 Yet for all this the Lord most high,
they stir'd and tempt'd still:
And would not keepe his Testament,
nor yet obey his will.
57 But as their Fathers turned backe,
even so they went astray:
Much like a dowe that would not bend,
but slip and start away.
The fixt part.
58 And grieved him with their hill altars,
with offerings and with fire:
And with their Idols vehemently,
provoked him to ire.
59 Therewith his wrath began againe,
to kindle in his breast:
The naughtyneesse of Israel
he did so much detest.
60 When he forooke the Tabernacle of Shilo where he was Right conversant with heartily men, even as his dwelling place.
61 Then suffered he his might and power,
in bondage for to stand:

And gave the honour of his Arke,
into his enemies hand.
62 He did commit them to the sword,
wrath with his heritage:
63 The young men were devour'd with fire,
maids had no marriage.
64 And with the sword the Priests also did perish every one:
And not a widow left alive,
their death for to remone.
65 And then the Lord began to wake,
as one that slept a time:
And as a valiant man of warre,
refreshed after wine.
66 With Emroids in the hinder part,
he stricke his enemies all:
And put them then into a shame,
that was perpetuall.
67 Thus he the tent and tabernacle of Joseph did refuse:
As for the Tribe of Ephraim,
he would in no wise chuse.
68 But chose the tribe of Judah, whereas he thought to dwell:
Even the noble mount Sion, which he did love so well.
69 Whereas he did his Temple build,
both sumptuously and sure:
Like as the earth which he hath made,
for ever to endure.
70 Then chose he David him to serve,
his people for to keepe:
Whom he tooke up and brought away,
even from the folds of sheepe.
71 As he did follow the Shees with young,
the Lord did him advance
To feed his people Israel,
and his inheritance.
72 Then David with a faithfull heart,
his flock and charge did feed:
And prudently with all his power,
did governe them indeed.

Deus venerunt. Psal. Lxxix. I. H.

The Israelites complaine to God for the calamities that they suffered, when Antiochus destroyed their Temple and cities, desiring ayd against his tyranny, lest God and religion should be contemned by the Heathen, who should see them forsaken and perish.

Sing this as the 77. Psalme.

○ God the Gentiles doe invade,
thy heritage to spoyle:
Jerusalem an heape is made,
thy Temple they despoyle.
2 The bodies of thy Saints most deare, abroad to birds they cast:
The flesh of them that doe thee feare,
the beasts devour and waste.
3 Their blood throughout Jerusalem,
as water spilt they have:
So that there is not one of them,
to lay their dead in grave.
4 Thus are we made a laughing stocke;
almost the world throughout:
The enemies at us teell and mocke, which dwell our coasts about.
5 Wilt thou (O Lord) thus in thine ire, against

against us ever time?
 And how thy wrath is hot as fire,
 thy folke for to consume?
 6 Upon those people pourest the same,
 which did thee never know:
 All Realmes which call not on thy Name,
 consume and overtrow.
 7 For they have got the upper hand,
 and Jacob is desoloyd:
 His habitation and his Land,
 they have left waste and void.
 8 Beare not in mind our former faults,
 with speech some pittie shew:
 And aid us Lord in all assaults,
 for we are weak and low.

The second part.

9 O God that givest all health and grace,
 on us declare the same:
 Altho' not our workes, our names deface,
 for honour of thy Name.
 10 Why shall the wicked still asway, to us a people dumbe:
 In thy reproach rejoyce and say,
 where is thy God become?

Requre, O Lord, as thou seest good,
 before our eyes in sight:
 O fall these folke thy reb: into bloud,
 which they spild in despite.
 11 Reaue into thy sight in haste
 the clamours, griles and wrongs,
 Of such as are in prison cast,
 sustaining Iron strong.
 Thy force and strength to celebrate,
 Lord set them out of hand:
 Which unto death are destinate,
 and in their enemies hand.
 12 The Nations which had beene so bold,
 as to blaspheme thy Name:
 Into their laps with seven-fold,
 repay againe the same.
 13 So we thy flocke and pasture keepe,
 will praise thee evermore:
 And teach all ages for to keepe for thee like praise in store.

Qui regis Israel. Psal. Lxxx. I. H.

A lamentable prayer to God to helpe the miseries of the Church, desiring him to confound the first estate, when his favour shined towards them, that he might finish that worke which he begun.

Sing this as the 65. Psalme.

Thou Lord that Israel dost keepe, give eare and take good heed:
 Which ledest Joseph as a sheepe,
 and dost him watch and feed.
 2 Thou Lord (I say) whose seat is set,
 on Cherubins most bright:
 Shew forth thy life and doe not let,
 send downe thy beames of light.
 3 Before Ephraim and Benjamin,
 Manasse etc likewise:
 To shew thy power doe thou begin,
 come helpe us Lord arise.
 4 Direct our hearts unto thy grace,
 convert us Lord to thee:
 Shew us the brightnesse of thy face,
 and then full safe are we.
 5 Lord God of hosts of Israel.

how long wilt thou (I say) Against thy folke in anger dwell, and wilt not heare them pray?
 6 Thou didst them lead with sorrowes deepe, their head with teares they cate:
 And drinke the teares that they doe weepe,
 in measure full and great.
 7 Thou hast us made a very strife to those that dwell about:
 And that our foes doe love a life,
 they laugh and jest it out.
 8 O take us Lord into thy grace, convert our hearts to thee:
 Shew forth us thy joyfull face,
 and we full safe shall be.
 9 From Egypt where it grew not well,
 thou broughtst a vine full beere:
 The heathen folke thou didst expell,
 and thou didst plant it there.
 10 Thou didst prepare for it a place,
 and let her rootes full fast:
 That it should grow and spring apace,
 and fill the land at last.

The second part.

11 The hills were covered round about,
 with shade that from it came:
 And eke the Cedars strong and stout,
 with branches of the same.
 12 Altho' then didst thou her walls destroy:
 her hedge plucke up thou hast:
 That all the folke that passe thereby,
 thy vine may spoile and waste.
 13 The boare out of the wood to wild,
 doth dig and root it out:
 The furious beasts out of the field,
 devoure it all about.
 14 O Lord of hosts recurrence againe,
 from heaven looke vntime:
 Behold and with thy helpe in vaine
 this poore vineyard of thine.
 15 Thy plant (I say) thine Israel, whom thy right hand hath set:
 The same which thou didst love so well,
 O Lord doe not forget.
 16 To destroy and cut it downe apace,
 they burne it eke with fire:
 And though the frowning of thy face,
 we perish in thine ire.
 17 Let thy right hand be with them now, whom thou hast kept so long:
 And with the Sonne of man whom thou to thee hast made so strong.
 18 And so when thou hast set us free,
 and saved us from shame:
 Then will we never fall from thee,
 but call upon thy Name.
 O Lord of hosts through thy good grace,
 convert us unto thee:
 Behold us with a pleasant face,
 and then full safe are we.

Deo Exultate. Psal. Lxxxj. I. H.

An exhortation to praise God both in heart and voyce for his benefites, condemning their ingratitude.

Be light and glad, in God rejoyce.

which is our strength and say: Beforefull and lift up your voyce to Jacobs God I say.
Prepare your instruments most meet, some joyfull psalme to sing: Strike up with harp and lute so sweet, on every pleasant string.

Blow as it were in the new Boone,
with trumpets of the best:

As it is used to be done,
at any solemn feast.

For this is unto Israel,
a statute and a trade:

A law that must be kept full well,
which Jacobs God hath made.

This law to Joseph was decreed,
when he from Egypt came:

That as a witness all his seed,
should still observe the same.

When God, I say, had so prepar'd, to bring him from that land,

Whereas the speech which he had heard,
he did not understand.

I from his shoulders took, said he;
the burden cleave away:

And from the furnaces quit him free,
from burning bricke of clay.

When thou in griefe didst cry and call,
I holpe thee by and by:

And I did answer thee with hail,
in thunder secretly

Yea, at the waters of discord,
I did thee trumpet and prove:

Whereas the goodness of the Lord,
with muttering thou didst move.

Hearc O my folke. O Israel,
and I assure it thee:

Regard and marke my words full well,
if thou wilt cleave to me.

The second part.

Thou shalt no God in thee reserve,
of any land abroad:

For in no wise how to seeke,
a strange or foreign God.

I am the Lord thy God, and I;
from Egypt let thee free,

Then aske of me abundantly,
and I will give it thee.

And yet my people would not heare
my voyce when that I spake

And Israel would not obey,
but did me quite forsake.

Then did I leave them to their will,
in hardness of their heart.

To walke in their owne counsels still,
themselves they might pervert.

15 O that my people would have heard,
the words that I did say:
And eke that Israel would regard,
to walke within my way.

16 How soone would I confound their foes, and bring them downe full low:
And turne my hand upon all those,
that would them overthrow.

17 And they that at the Lord doe rage,
as slaves should seeke him till:
But of his folke the time and age, should flourish ever still.

18 I would have fed them with the crop,
and finest of the wheat:
And made the rocke with hony drop,
that they their fill should eat.

Deus sinit. Psal. Lxxxij. I.H.

David declaring God to bee present with Judges and Magistrates, reproveth their partialitie and unrighteousnesse, and exhorts them to doe iustice, but seeing no amendment, he desires God to execute iustice himselfe.

Sing this as the 77. Psalme.

A Did the presse with men of might;
the Lord himselfe doth stand:
To plead the cause of truth and right,
with Judges of the land.

2 How long (said he) will you proceed false judgement to award?
And have respect for love of meed,
the wicked to regard?

3 Whereas of due you should defend,
the fatherlesse and wake:
And when the poore man doth contend in judgement lustily speake.

4 If ye be wise, defend the cause of poore men in their right:
And rid the needy from the clawes of tyrants force and might.

5 But nothing will they know or learne,
in vaine to them I talke:
They will not see or ought discern,
but still in darkness walke.

6 For loe even now the time is come,
that all things fall to nought:
And likewise lawes both all and some,
for gainc are sold and bought.

I had decreed it in my sight,
as gods to take you all:
And children to the most of might;
for love I did you call.

7 But notwithstanding ye shall die,
as men and so decay:
O tyrants. I shall you destroy,
and plucke you quite away.

8 O Lord and let thy strength be knowne, and iudge the world with might:
For why, all nations are thine owne,
to take them as thy right.

Domine ne Psal. Lxxxij. I.H.

The Israelites pray the Lord to deliver them from their enemies, both at home and a farre: also that all such wicked people bee stricken with his stormy tempests, that they may know his power.

- Do not (O God) reſtraine thy tongue,
in ſilence doe not ſtay:
With-hold not Lord thy ſelfe ſo long,
and make no more delay.

how they doe rage and cry:
And thoſe that beare an hate to thee,

and craftily they enquire:
For thine elect to lye in wait,
theſe counſell doth conſpire.
- 4 Come on, ſay they, let us expell,
and plucke theſe ſo ke away:
So that the name of Iſrael,
may utterly decay.
- 5 They all conſpire within their heart,
how they may them withſtand:
Againſt the Lord to take a part,
they are in league and band.
- 6 The tents of all the Edomites,
the Iſmaelites alſo:
The Agarens and Moabites,

As to Iſer and to Zabim, beſide the brookes Kiſon.

and waſte them through thy might:
That they like dung on earth diſt liſe,
and chat in open ſight.

The ſecond part.

- 11 Make them now and their Lords appeare,
as Zeb and Deb than:
As Zeba and Zalmunna were
the Kings of Midian.
- 12 Which ſaid let us throughout the land,
in all the coaſts abroad:
Poſſeſſe and take into our hand,
the faire houſes of God.
- 13 Turne them, O God, with ſtormes as faſt
as wheelles that have no ſtay:
Like the chaffe which men doe caſt with winde to ſle away.
- 14 Like as the fire with rage and fume,
the mightie foreſt ſpils:
And as the flame doth quite conſume,
the mountaines and the hills.
- 15 So let the tempeſt of thy wrath,
upon their necks be laid:
And of thy ſtormy wind and howle,
Lord make them all afraid.
- 16 Lord bring them all I thee deſire,
to ſuch rebuke and ſhame:
That it may caſt them to enquire,
and learne to ſeek thy Name.

And in rebuke and obloquiſ

- 18 That they may know and feele full well,
that thou art called Lord:
And that alone thou doſt excell,
and raigne throughout the world.

Quam dilecta, Pſal. Lxxxij. T. S.

David exiled his country deſireth ardently to returne to Gods Tabernacle and aſſembly of the Saints to praiſe God. Then he prayeth the courage of the people that paſſe through the wilderneſſe to aſſemble themſelves in Sion.

Sing this as the 49. Psalme.

- How pleaſant is thy dwelling place,
O Lord of hoatts to me:
The tabernacles of thy grace,
how pleaſant Lord they be!
- 2 My ſoule doth long full ſore to goe
into thy courts abroad:
My heart doth luſt my fleſh alſo,
in thee the living God.
- 3 The ſparrowes find a roome to reſt,
and ſabe themſelves from wrong,
And eke the ſwallow hath a neſt,
wherein to keep her yong.
- 4 Theſe birds full nigh thine Altar may,
have place to ſit and ſing:
O Lord of hoatts thou art, I ſay,
my God and eke my King.
- 5 O they be bleſſed that may dwell within thy houſe alwayes:
For they all times thy facts doe tell,
and eke give thee praife.
- 6 Yea, happy ſure likewiſe are they,
whole day and ſtrength thou art:
Which to thy houſe doe mind the way,
and ſeek it in their heart.
- 7 As they goe through the vale of teares,
they digge up ſountaines ſill:
That as a ſpring it all appeares,
and thou thir pits doſt fill.
- 8 From ſtrength to ſtrength they walk full faſt no faintneſſe there ſhall be:
And ſo the God of Gods at laſt,
in Sion they doe ſee.
- 9 O Lord of hoatts to me glve heerd,
and heare when I doe pray:
And let it through thine eares proceed,
O Iacobs God, I ſay.
- 10 O Lord our ſhield of thy good grace,
regard and ſo draw neere:
Regard, I ſay, behold the face,
of thine anointed deare.
- 11 For why? whyſhyn thy courts one day,
is better to abide:
Then other where to keepe or ſtay,
a thouſand dayes beſide.
- 12 Such rather would I keepe a doore
within the houſe of God:
Then in the tents of wickedneſſe,
to ſettle mine abode.
- 13 For God the Lord light and defence, will grace and worſhip gibe:
And no good thing will he with-hold,
from them that purly live.

14 O Lord of hostes that man is blest,
and happy sure is hee:
That is perswaded in his brest,
to trust all things in thee.

Benedixisti Dom. Psal. Lxxxv. I. H.

Because God withdrew not his rods from his Church after the returne from Babylon: first they put him in mind that he should not leave the worke of his grace imperfect, and complaine of his long affliction: then they reioyce in hope of promised deliverance which was a figure of Christs kingdome under which should be perfect felicitie.

Sing this as the 81. Psalme.

Thou hast bene mercifull indeede,
O Lord unto thy land:
For thou restordest Iacobs seed,

from thraldome out of hand.
2 The wicked wayes that they were in,
thou didst them cleane remit:
And thou didst hide the peoples sinne,
full close thou coveredst it.

3 Thine anger eke thou didst assuage, that all thy wrath was gone:
And so didst turne thee from thy rage,
with them to be at one.

4 O God our health, doe thou convert,
thy people unto thee:
Put all thy wrath from us apart,
and angry cease to be.

5 Why shall thine anger neuer end,
but still proceed on us?
And shall thy wrath it selfe extend upon all ages thus?

6 Wilt thou not rather turne therefore,
and quicken us, that we
And all thy folke may evermore be glad and lope in thee?

7 O Lord on us doe thou declare,
thy goodnesse to our wealth:
Shew forth to us and doe not spare,
thine ayd and saving health.

8 I will hearken what God saith, for he speakes to his people peace.
And to his Saints that neuer they returne to foolishnesse.

9 For why? his helpe is still at hand,
to such as doe him feare:

Whereby great glory in our land, shall dwell and flourish there.

10 For truth and mercy there shall meete,
in one to take their place:

And peace shall iustice with kinde greet,
and there they shall embrace.

11 As truth from earth doth spring apace,
and flourish pleasantly:

So righteousness shall shew her face,
and looke from heauen high.

12 Pea God himselfe doth take in hand, to giue us each good thing:
And through the coasts of all the land,
he eare her fruit shall bring.

13 Before his face shall iustice goe, much like a guide or stay:

We shall direct his steps also,
and keepe them in the way.

Inclina Dom. Psal. Lxxxvj. I. H.

David sore afflicted, prayeth fervently for deliue-rance, some time rehearsing miseries and mercies received, desiring also to be intruded of the Lord, that he may feare and glorifie his name: he com-plaineeth also of his adversaries and requireth to be delivered from them.

Sing this as the 81. psalme.

Lord how thine eare to my request,
and heare me by and by:

With grievous paine and griefe oppress,
full poore and weak am I.

2 Preserve my soule, because my wayes, and doings holy be:
And saue thy servant, O my Lord,
that puts his trust in thee.

3 Thy mercy Lord, on mee presse, defend me eke withall:
For through the day I doe not cease,
on thee to cry and call.

4 Comfort (O Lord) thy servants soule, that now with paine is plind:
For unto thee, Lord, I cry out,
and lift my soule and mind.

5 For thou art good and bountifull thy gifts of grace are free:
And eke thy mercy plentifull,
to all that call on thee.

6 O Lord likewise when I doe pray, regard and giue an eare Marke well the words that I doe say, and all my prayers heare.

7 In time when trouble doth me mooue,
to thee I doe complaine:
For why? I know and well doe proue, thou answerest me againe.

8 Among the gods, O Lord, is none,
with thee to be compar'd:
And none can doe as thou alone,
the like hath not bene heard.

The second part.

9 The Gentles and the people all,
which thou didst make and frame:
Before thy face on knees shall fall,
and glorifie thy name.

10 For why? thou art so much of m'ght,
all power is thine owne:
Thou workest wonders still in sight,
for thou art God alone.

11 Teach me Lord the way, and I shall in thy truth proceed:
O loyne my heart to thee so nigh,
that I thy name may dread.

12 To thee my God I will giue praise, with all my heart, O Lord:
And glorifie thy name alwayes,
for ever through the world.

13 For why thy mercy shewed to me,
is great and doth excell:
Thou sett'st my soule at liberty,
out of the lower hell.

14 O Lord the proud against me sette, and heapes of men of might:
They seeke my soule and in no wise will haue thee in their sight.

- 15 Thou Lord art meekefull and meeke, full slacke and slow to wrath:
Thy goodnesse is full great and eke thy truth no measure hath.
- 16 Turne to me, and mercy grant,
thy strength to me apply:
O helpe and saue thine owne seruant, thine handmaids sonne am I.
- 17 On me some signe of fauour shew,
that all my foes may see:
And be ashamed because, Lord, thou dost helpe and comfort me.

Fundamenta eius Psal. Lxxxvij.

The holy Ghost prometh that the Church as yet in misery after the captivity of Babylon should be restored to great excellency, so that nothing should be more comfortable then to be numbred among the members thereof.

Sing this as the 81. Psalme.

The City shall full well endure,
her ground-workes sure doth stay:
Upon the holy hill full sure,
it can no time decay.

1 God loves the gates of Sion best,
his grace doth there abide:
He loves them more then all the rest,
of Jacobs Tents beside.

2 Full glorious things reported be in Sion and abroad:
Great things, I say, are laid of thee,
thou Giltie of our God:

4 On Rahab I will cast an eye,
and beare in mind the same:
And Babylon shall eke apply,
and learne to know my Name.

5 Loe, Palestine, and Tyre also,
with Ethiopia likewise:
A people old, full long agoe,
were borne and there did rise.

6 Of Sion they shall say abroad,
that others men of fame,
Dare there sprung up, and the high God hath founded fast the same.

7 In their records to them it shall through Gods device appeare:
Of Sion that the chief of all had his beginning there.

8 The Trumpeters with such as sing therein great plenty be:
By fountaines and my pleasant springs,
are compass all in thee.

Domine Deus, Psal. Lxxxvij. I. H.

The faithfull sore afflicted with sickness, persecution, adversity, and as it were left of God, without any consolation yet he calleth on God by faith, and strives against desperation.

Did God of health, the hope and Ray, thou art alone to me: I call and cry throughout the day, and all the night to thee.

2 Let my prayer soone ascend,
into thy light on high:
Incline thine eare, O Lord, intent, and hearken to my cry.

3 For why? my heart with woe is fill'd,
and doth in trouble dwell:
By life and breath almost doth yeeld,
and draweth nigh to hell.

4 I am esteem'd as one of them,
that in the pit doe fall:
And made as one amongst those men,
that have no strength at all.

5 As one among the dead, and free from things that here remaine:
It were more eale for me to be,
with them the which are slaine.

6 As those that lie in grave, I say, whom thou hast cleane forgot:
The which thy hand hath cut away,
and thou regard'st them not.

7 Pea, like to one shut up, full sure within the lower pit
In places darke and all obscure,
and in the depth of it.

8 Thine anger and thy wrath likewise,
full fore on me doe lye:
And all the stormes against me rise,
my soule to vex and try.

9 Thou put'st my friends far off from me,
and mak'st them hate me sore:
I am shut up in prison fast,
and can come forth no more.

10 My light doth faile through griefe and woe,
I call to thee, O God,
Throughout the day my hands also,
to thee I stretch abroad.

The second part:

11 Doest thou unto the dead declare,
thy wondrous workes of fame?
Shall dead to life againe repaire,
and praise thee for the same?

12 Do'st thou the loving kindness, Lord, be preacher in the grave?
Shall with them that are dead thy truth her honour have?

13 Shall they that lie in darke full low of all thy wonders wot?
Or there shall they thy iustice know,
where all things are forgot?

14 But I (O God) to thee alway, doe cry and call apace:
My prayer eke ere it be day,
shall come to face thy face.

15 Why dost thou Lord abhorre my soule,
in griefe that seeketh thee?
And now, O Lord, why dost thou hide, thy face a way from me?

16 I am afflicted, as dying still,

from youth this many a yeare :

The terrors which doe vex me still,
with troubled minde I beare.

17 The furies of thy wrath full rage
full sore upon me fall :

Thy terrors ke doe not assuage,
but me oppresse withall.

18 All day thy compassie me about,
as waters at the tide :

And all at once with streames full Runt,
beset me on each side.

19 Thou settest farre from me my friends,
and lovers everyone :

Pea and mine old acquaintaunce all out of my sight are gone.

Misererordias. Psal. Lxxxix. I. H.

David praiseth God for his covenant made betwene him and his elect by Iesus Christ: then he complaineth of the desolation of his kingdome, for that the promise seemed to be broken. Finally he prayeth to be delivered from afflictions, mentioning the shortnesse of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promises.

Sing this as the 67. Psalme.

20 Sing the meritis of the Lord
his tongue shall neuer spare :

And with mine mouth from age to age,
thy truth I will declare.

2 For I haue said that mercy shall,
for evermore remaine :

3 In that thou dost the heavens stay,
thy truth appeareth plaine.

4 To mine elect (saith God) I made a covenant and object :

My seruant David to perswade
I swore and did protest.

5 Thy seed for euer I will say,
and stablish it full fast.

And still uphold thy throne alway from age to age to last.

6 The heavens shew with joy and mirth thy wondrous works, O Lord :

The Sabies within thy Church on earth,
thy faith and truth record.

7 Who with the Lord is quailed in in all the clouds abroad :

Among the sonnes of all the gods,
what one is like our God ?

8 God in the assembly of his Saints is greatly to be dread :

And over all the earth abroad
in terror to be had.

9 Lord God of hosts in all the world
what one is like to thee ?

On every side most mighty Lord,
thy truth is scene to be.

10 The raging sea by thine aduise thou stillest at thy will :

And when the waves thereof arise,
thou mak'st them calme and still.

11 And Egypt, Lord, thou hast subdued:
and thou hast it destroyed :

Pea, thou thy foes with mighty arme hast scattered all abroad.

The second part.

12 The heavens are thine, and all haue bene.
likewise the earth and land :

The world with all that is therein
thou foundedst with thy hand.

13 Both North & South with East & West, thy selfe didst make and frame :

Both Liban mount, and the Hermon, reioyce and praise thy Name.

14 Thine arme is strong and full of power,
all might therein doth lie :

The strenght of thy right hand each houre,
thou liftest up on high.

15 In right counsell and equity,
thou hast thy seat and place :

Decey and trouth are still with thee,
and goe before thy face.

16 That folke is blest that knowes aright
thy present power, O God :

For in the labour of thy sight,
they wa ke full late abroad,

17 For in thy Name throughout the day,
they loy and much reioyce :

And throught thy righteousness haue they,
a pleasant fame and noyse.

18 For why? their glorie, strength and aid,
in thee alone doth lie :

Thy goodness ke that hath us made,
shall lift our home on high.

19 Our strength that doth defend us well,
the Lord to us doth bring :

The holy one of Iherusalem,
he is our guide and King.

20 Sometimes thy will unto the Saints,
in visions thou dost shew :

And thus thou dost thou say to them,
thy mind to make them know.

21 A man of might I haue erect,
your King and guide to be,

And lift him up whom I elect,
among the folke to me.

The third. part.

22 My seruant David I appointe, whom I haue searched out.

And with mine holy Oyle annoynt,
him King of all the rout.

23 For why? my hand is ready still,
with him for evermore :

And with my arme also I will him strengthen and sustaine.

24 The enemies shall not him oppresse,
they shall not him deuoure :

Ne yet the sonnes of wickednesse of him shall haue no power.

25 Who does likewise I will destroy before his face and sight :

And those that hate him I will plague,
and strike them with my might.

26 My truth and mercy ke with all,
shall still upon him lie :

And in my name his home the wall,
be lifted up on high.

27 His kingdome I will set to be upon the sea and land :

And ke the running floods shall he embrace with his right hand.

28 We shall depend with all his heart:
on me, and thus shall say,
My Father and my God thou art;

my rocke of health and stay, 28 As one first borne I will in take,
of all on earth that springs:
His might and honour I will make about all worldly kings.

29 By mercy shall he with him still,
as I my selfe haue told:

By faithfull covenants to fulfill,
my mercy I will hold.

30 And eke his seed I will sustaine,
for ever strong and sure:

So that his seat shall still remaine, whille heauen doth endure.

The fourth part.

31 If that his finnes forsake my law,
and to begin to swerue:
And of my iudgements haue none awe,
my statutes to obserue.

32 Or if they doe not use aright,
my statutes to them made:
And set all my Commandements light,
and will not keepe my trade.

33 Then with the rod I will begin,
their doings to amend:

And so with scourging for their sinne,
when that they doe offend.

34 By mercy yet and my goodnesse,
I will not take him free:

For handle him with craftinesse,
and so my truth forgoe.

35 But sure my covenant I will hold,
with all that I haue spoke:

No word the which my lips haue told,
shall alter or be spoke.

36 Once swaue I by my holinesse, and that performe will I:

With Dauid I will keepe promise, to him I will not lie.

37 His seed for evermore shall reigne and eke his throne of might:

As doth the Sunne it shall remaine for ever in my sight.

38 And as the Moone within the skie,
for ever standeth fast:

A faithfull witnessse from on high,
so shall his Kingdome last.

39 But now, O Lord, thou dost reflect,
and now thou changeest cheare:

For thou art wroth with thine elect,
thine owne annointed deare.

40 The covenant with thy servant made,
Lord thou hast quite undone:

And downe upon the ground also,
hast cast his royall crowne.

The fifth part.

41 Thou pluck'st his hedges up with might,
his walls thou dost confound:

Thou bearest eke his bulwarkes downe,
and break'st them to the ground.

42 That he is sore destroyed and soone, of commens by throughout:

And so is made a mocke and scorne,
to all that dwell about.

43 Thou their right hand hast lifted up,
that him so sore annoy:

And all his foes that him deuoure,
to thou hast made to toy.

44 His sword's edge thou dost take away, that should his foes withstand:

To him in war no victory,
thou gav'st no upper-hand.

45 His glory thou dost also waste, his throne, his say, his might:

By thee is overthowne, and cast
full low upon the earth.

46 Thou hast cut off and made full short,
his yowth and lusty daies:

And rais'd of him an ill report,
with shame and great dispraise.

47 How long away from me, O Lord, for ever wilt thou turne?

And shall thine anger still away,
as fire consume and burne?

48 O call to mind, remember then,
my time consumeth fast:

Why hast thou made the sonnes of men,
as things in dust to waste?

49 What man is he that lieth here,
and death shall never see?

Or from the hands of hell, his soule shall he deliuer free?

50 Where is, O Lord, thine old goodnesse,
so oft declar'd before:

Which by thy truth and uprightness,
to Dauid thou hast sworn?

51 The great rebukes to mind I call,
that on thy servant lie:

The railings of the people all,
boie in my brest haue I.

52 Wherewith, O Lord, thine enemies
blasphem'd haue thy name:

The steps of thine anointed one,
they cease not to defame.

53 All praise to thee, O Lord of hosts,
both now, and eke for aye:

Through skie and earth, and all the coasts,
Amen, Amen, I say.

Domine refugium, Psal. XC. I. H.

Most seeing the people neither admonish'd by the breuity of their life, nor by plagues to be thank-full, prayeth God to turne their hearts, and commune his mercy towards them and their posterity.

Sing this as the 78. Psalme.

Thou Lord hast been my sure defence,
our place of safe and rest:

In all times past, yea so long since,
as cannot be exprest.

2 Ere there was made mountaine or hill,
the earth or world abroad:

From age to age, and alwaies still,
forever thou art God.

3 Thou grindest man through griefe and paine to dust or clay, and then,

And then thou raisest againe, returne
againe yee sonnes of men.

4 The lasting of a thousand yeres,
what is it in thy sight?

As yester-day it doth appeare,
or as a watch by night.

5 So soone as thou dost scatter them,
then is their life and trade:

All as a sleepe, and like the grasse,
whose beauty soone doth fade,

6 Which in the morning shines full bright,
but fades by and by:
And is cut down ere it be night,
all withered, dead and dry.

7 For through thine anger we consume,
our might is much decayd:
And of thy fervent wrath and fume,
we are full sore afraid.

8 The wicked workes that we have wrought, thou lett before thine eye:
Our pitiable faults, yea eke our thoughts,
thy countenance both spie.

9 For through thy wrath our dayes do waste, thereof doth nought remaine:
Our yeares consume like words or blasts,
and are not cal'd againe.

10 Our times three score yeares and ten,
that we doe live on mould:
If one see foure score surely then,
we count him wounden old.

The second part.

11 Yet of this time the strength and chiefe
the which we count upon:
Is nothing else but painfull griefe,
and we as blasts are gone.

12 Altho once doth know what strength is there,
what might thine anger hath:
Yet in his heart who doth thee feare,
according to thy wrath?

13 Instruct us Lord to know and try,
how long our dayes remaine:
That then we may our hearts apply,
true wisdom to attaine.

14 Returne, O Lord, how long wilt thou, forth on in wrath proceed?
Shew favour to thy servants now,
and helpe them at their need?

15 Refresh us with thy mercy soone, and then our joy shall be:
All times as long as life doth last,
in heart rejoyce will we.

16 As thou hast plagued us before,
now also make us glad:
And for the yeares wherein full sore affliction we have had.

17 Let thy worke and power appeare,
and on thy servants light:
And shew unto thy children deare, thy glory and thy might.

18 Lord, let thy grace and glory stand,
on us thy servants thus:
Confirm the workes we take in hand,
Lord prosper them to us.

Qui habitat. Psal. Xc. I. H.

He describeth the assurance he liveth in that com-mitch himself wholly to Gods protection in all temptations: a promise of God to all those that love him, know him, and trust in him, to deliver them and give them immortall glory.

Sing this as the 81. Psalm.

He that within the secret place,
of God most high doth dwell:
In shadow of the mightiest grace,
at rest shall keepe him well.

2 Thou art my hope, and my strong hold,
I to the Lord will say:
My God is he, in him will I,
my whole assistance lay.

3 We shall defend thee from the snare,
the which the hunter laid:
And from the deadly plague and care,
whereof thou art afraid.

4 And with his wings shall cover thee,
and keep thee safely there:
Dispart: and trust thy fence shall be,
as sure as shield and spear.

5 So that thou shalt not need, I say,
to feare or be affright:
Of all the shafts that fly by day,
noxterrors of the night.

6 Nor of the plague that passeth by,
doth walke in darke so fast:
Nor yet of that which doth destroy,
and at noone day doth waste.

7 Yea, at thy side as thou dost stand,
a thousand dead shall be:
Ten thousand eke at thy right hand,
and yet thou shalt be free.

8 But thou shalt see it for thy part,
thine eyes shall well regard:
That even like to their desert,
the wicked have reward.

9 For why? O Lord I amely trust, to stay my hope on thee:
And in the highest I put my trust,
my sure defence is he.

10 Thou shalt not need the ill to feare,
with thee it shall be well:
Nor yet the plague shall once come nere,
the house that thou dost dwell.

11 For why? unto his Angels all with charge commanded he:
That still in all thy wayes they shall preserve and prosper thee.

12 And in their hands shall beare thee up,
still waiting thee upon:
So that thy foot shall never chance,
to sturne at any stone.

13 Upon the Lyon thou shalt goe,
the adder fell and long:
And tread upon the Lyons yong,
with Dragons stout and strong.

14 For he that trusteth unto me,
I will acquit him quite:
And him defend because that he,
doth know my name aright.

15 When he for hope to me doth cry
an answer I will give:
And from his griefe take him will I
in glory for to live.

16 With length of yeares, and dayes of wealth,
I will fulfill his time:
The goodnesse of my saving health,
I will declare to him.

Bonum est. Psal. XCij. I. H.

A Psalm for the Sabbath to singe vpon the peoples acknowledge and praise God in his workes. David reioyceth therein but the wicked consider not that the vngodly when hee is most flourishing, shall most speedily perishe: in the end is described the felicity of the iust planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

Sing this as the 81. Psalm.

It is a thing both good and meet,
to praise the high and Lord:

And

And to thy Name, O thou most high,
to sing with one accord.
2 To shew the kindnesse of the Lord,
betwixt ere day be light:
And eke declare his truth abroad,
when it doth draw to night.
3 Upon ten stringed instruments,
one Lute and Harpe so sweet:
With all the mirth you can invent,
of instruments most meet.
4 For thou hast made me to reioyce,
in things so wrought by thee,
And I have say in heart and voyce,
thy handy workes to see.
5 O Lord how glorious and how great:
are all thy workes so stout:
So deeply are thy counsels set,
that none can try them out.
6 The man unwise hath not the wit
this thing to passe to bring:
And all such fooles are nothing fit,
to understand this thing.
7 When to the wicked at their will:
as grasse doe spring full fast:
They when they flourish in their ill,
forever shall bewaste.
8 But thou art mightie Lord most high yea thou dost raigne therefore,
In every time eternall.
both now and evermore.
9 For why? O Lord, behold and see,
behold thy foes, I say,
How all that worke iniquity,
shall perish and decay.
10 But thou like as an Unicorn shalt lste mine home on high:
With fresh and new prepared oyle, thyne oynted King am I.
11 And of my foes before mine eyes, shall see the fall and shame:
Of all that up against me rise,
mine eares shall heare the same.
12 The iust shall flourish up on hie,
as Date trees bud and blow:
And as the Cedars multiply,
in Libanus that grow.
13 For they are planted in the place,
and dwelling of our God:
Within his courts they spring apace,
and flourish all abroad.
14 And in their age much fruit shall bring:
both fat and well be seene:
And pleasantly both bud and spring,
with boughes and branches greene.
15 To shew that God is good and iust, and upright in his will:
He is my rocke, my hope and trust,
in him there is none ill.

Dominus regnavit. Psal. Xciii. I. H.

Hee praiseth the power of God in the creation of the world, and beateh downe all the people which lift themselves up against his majestic, and provoketh to consider his promises.

Sing this as the 77. Psalme.

The Lord as King aloft doth reigne
In glorie goodly bright:

And he to shew his strength and maine, hath girt himselfe with might.
2 The Lord likewise the earth hath made,
and shaped it so sure:
No might can make it move or fade,
at stay it doth endure.
3 Ere that the world was made or wrought:
thy seat was set before:
Beyond all time that can be thought,
thou hast bene evermore.
4 The floods (O Lord) the floods doe rise,
they roare and make a noyse:
The floods (I say) did enterpise,
and lifted up their voyce.
5 Pea, though the stormes arise in sight,
though seas doe rage and swell:
The Lord is strong and more of might:
for he on high doth dwell.
6 And looke what promise he doth make,
his household to defend:
For iust and true they shall take,
all times without an end.

Deus ultionum. Psal. Xciii. I. H.

He prayeth to God against the violence of Tyrants, and comforteth the afflicted, by the good issue of their afflictions, and by the ruine of the wicked.

Sing this as the 97. Psalme.

O Lord thou dost revenge all wrong,
that office longs to thee:
Sith vengeance doth to thee belong,
Declare that all may see.
2 Set forth thy selfe, for thou of right
the earth dost indge and guide:
Reward the proud, and men of might,
according to their pride.
3 How long shall wicked men beate of war:
with lifting up their voyce?
How long shall wicked men (I say)
thus triumph and reioyce?
4 How long shall they with brags burst out,
and proudly prate their fill:
Shall they reioyce that be so stout,
whose workes are ever ill?
5 Thy flock, O Lord, thine heritage,
they spoile and bere full sore:
Against thy people they doe rage,
still daily more and more.
6 The widowes which are comfortlesse, and strangers they destroy:
They say the children fatherlesse, and none doth put them by.
7 And when they take these things in hand:
this talke they have of thee:
Can Jacobs God this understand:
yush, no he cannot see.
8 O folke unlesse and people rude,
some knowlesse ge now discern:
See fooles among the multitude,
at length begin to learne.
9 The Lord which made the care of man
he needs of sight must heare:
He made the eye, all things must then before his sight appeare.
10 The Lord doth all the world correct,
and make them understand:

Shall he not then your deeds detect?
how can ye scape his hand?

The second part.

11 The Lord doth know the thoughts of man,
his heart he sees full plaine:

The Lord, I say, mens thoughts doe scan,
and findeth them but vaine.

12 But Lord, that man is happy sure, whom thou dost keepe in awe:

And through correction dost procure,
to teach him in thy law.

13 Whereby he shall in quiet rest,
in time of trouble sit:

When wicked men shall be suppress,
and fall into the pit.

14 For sure the Lord will not refuse,
his people for to take:

His heritage whom he did chuse,
he will no time forsake.

15 Untill that iudgment be decreed,
to iustice to convert:

That all may follow her with speed,
that are of upright heart.

16 But who upon my part shall stand, against the cursed traine?

Who shall rid me from their hand,
that wicked workes maintaine?

17 Except the Lord had bene mine ayd,
mine enemies to repell:

My soule and life had now bene laid:
almost as low as hell.

18 When I did lay my foot did slide,
I now am like to fall:

The goodnesse Lord did so provide,
to stay me up withall.

19 When with my selfe I mused much,
and could no comfort find:

Then Lord thy goodnesse did me touch,
and that did ease my mind.

20 While thou inhabit thy selfe, and draw with wicked men to sit:

Which with pietece in stead of law,
much mischief doe commit?

21 For they consult against the life,
of righteous men and good:

And in their counsils they are rife,
to shed the guiltlesse blood.

22 But yet the Lord he is to me,
a strong defence or locke:

He is my God to him I flee,
he is my strength and rocke.

23 And he shall cause their mischises all cheimelves for to annoy:

And in their malice they shall fall,
our God shall them destroy.

Veni exultemus. Psal. Xcv. I.H.

An earnest exhortation to praise God for the government of the world, and election of his Church, to eschew the rebellion of the old fathers, who tempted God in the Wilderness, and therefore entered not the land of promise.

Sing this as the Benediculus.

O Come let us lift up our voice,
and sing unto the Lord:

In him our rocke of health rejoyce,
let us with one accord.

2 Praise, let us come before his face, and give him thanks and praise:
In singing psalmes unto his grace,
let us be glad alwayes.

3 For why the Lord he is no doubt,
a great and mighty God:

A King above all Gods throughout,
in all the world abroad.

4 The secrets of the earth so deepe,
and corners of the land:

The tops of hills that are so deepe
he hath them in his hand.

5 The sea and waters all are his,
for he the same hath wrought:

The earth and all that therein is,
his hand hath made of nought.

6 Come let us bow and praise the Lord,
before him let us fall:

And kneele to him with one accord,
the which hath made us all.

7 For why? he is the Lord, our God,
for us he doth provide:

We are his flocke, he doth us feed,
his sheepe, and he our guide.

8 To day if ye his voyce will heare,
then harden not your heart:

As ye with grudging many a yeare,
provokt me in desert.

9 Where as your fathers tempted me,
my power for to prove:

My wondrous workes when they did see,
yet still they would me move.

10 Twice twenty yeares they did me grieve,
and I to them did say:

They erre in heart, and not beleever,
they have not knowne my way.

11 Wherefore I sware, when that my wrath,
was kindled in my brest:

That they should never tread the path,
to enter in my rest.

Cantate Dom. Psal. Xcvj. I.H.

An exhortation both to the Iewes and Gentiles, to praise God for his mercy. And this especially ought to be referred to the Kingdome of Christ.

Sing this as the 37. Psalme.

Sing ye with praise unto the Lord,
new songs with joy and mirth,

Sing unto him with one accord,
all people on the earth.

2 Praise, sing unto the Lord (I say) praise his holy Name:

Declare and shew from day to day,
salvation by the same.

3 Among the heathen eke declare,
his honour round about:

To shew his wonders doe not spare;
in all the world throughout.

4 For why? the Lord is much of might,
and worthy praise alway:

And he is to be dread of right,
above all Gods I say.

5 For all the Gods of heathen tolke,
are Idols that will fade:

But yet our God he is the Lord,
that hath the heavens made.

6 All praise and honour eke doe dwell for aye before his face.

Both power and might likewise excell,
within his holy place.

7 Ascribe unto the Lord alway,
ye people of the world:

All might and worship like I say,
ascribe unto the Lord.

8 Ascribe unto the Lord also,
the glory of his name:

And eke into his Courts doe goe,
with gifts unto the same.

The second part.

9 Fall downe and worship ye the Lord,
within his temple bright:

Let all the people of the world,
be fearfull at his sight.

10 Tell all the world, be not afraid,
the Lord doth raigne above.

Pea, he hath set the earth so fast,
that it can never move.

11 And that it is the Lord alone, that rules with princely might:

To iudge the nations every one,
with equity and right.

12 The heavens shall great joy begin,
the earth eke shall reioyce:

The sea and all that is therein
shall shout and make a noyse.

13 The field shall joy and every thing,
that springeth on the earth:

The wood and every tree shall sing,
with gladnesse and with mirth.

14 Before the presence of the Lord,
and comming of his might:

When he shall iustly iudge the world,
and rule his folke with right.

Dominus regnat. Psal. XCviij. I.H.

David exhorteth all to reioyce for the comming of the kingdom of Christ, dreadfull to the rebels, and idolaters, and ioyfull to the iust whom hee exhorteth to innocencie, to reioycing and thank-giving.

Sing this as the 95. Psalme.

The Lord doth raigne, whereat the earth
may ioy with pleasant voyce:

And eke the Isles with ioyfull mirth,
may triumph and reioyce.

2 Both clouds and darknesse eke doe swell and round about him beat:

Pea, right and iustice ever dwell,
and hide about his seat.

3 Pea, fire and heat at once doe runne,
and goe before his face:

Which shall his foes and enemies burne, abroad in every place.

4 His lightnings eke full bright did blaze,
and to the world appeare.

Whereat the earth did looke and gaze with dread and deadly feare.

5 The hills like waxe did melt in sight,
and presence of the Lord:

They fled before that Rulers might,
which guideth all the world.

6 The heavens eke declare and show his iustice all abroad:

That all the world may see and know
the glory of our God.

7 Confusion sure shall come to such as worship Idols vaine:

And eke to those that glory much in dumb pictures to maintaine.

8 For all the Idols of the world, which they as Gods doe call:

Shall feeble the power of the Lord,
and downe to him shall fall.

9 With ioy shall Sion heare this thing,
and Iuda shall reioyce:

For at thy iudgements they shall sing,
and make a pleasant noise.

10 Char thou O Lord, art set on high,
in all the earth abroad:

And art exalted wondrously,
above each other God.

11 All ye that feare the Lord doe this,
hate all things that are ill:

For he doth save the soules of his,
from such as would them spill:

12 And light doth spring up to the iust, with pleasure for his part:

Great ioy with gladnesse, mirth and lust,
to them of upright heart.

13 Be righteous in the Lord reioyce,
his holinesse proclaim:

Be thankfull eke with heart and voyce,
and mindefull of the same.

Cantate Dom. Psal. XCviij. I.H.

An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercy, and fidelitie in his promise by Christ by whom he hath communicated his salvation to all men.

Sing this as the 95. Psalme.

O Sing ye now unto the Lord,
anew and pleasant song:

For he hath wrought throughout the world,
his wonders great and strong.

2 With his right hand full mightily,
he doth his foes deuoure:

And get himselfe the victory
with his owne arme and power,

3 The Lord doth make the people know his saving health and might:

The Lord doth eke his iustice show,
in all the heathens sight.

4 His grace and truth to Israel
in mind he doth record:

That all the earth hath seene right well,
the goodnesse of the Lord.

5 Be glad in him with ioyfull voyce,
all people of the earth:

Give thanks to God, sing and reioyce,
to him with ioy and mirth.

6 Upon the Harpe unto him sing,
give thanks to him with Psalms:

Reioyce before the Lord our King, with Trumpets and with Shalmes.

7 Pea, let the sea with all therein,
for ioy both roare and swell:

The earth likewise let it begin,
with all that therein dwell.

8 And let the founts reioyce their filds,
and clap their hands apace:

And eke the mountaines and the hills
before the Lord his face.

9 For he shall come to iudge and try,
the world and every wight:
And rule the people mightily,
with iustice and with right.

Dominus regnavit. Psal. Xcix. I. H.

He commendeth the power, equity, and excellency of the Kingdome of God by Christ over the Iewes and the Gentiles, provoking them to magnifie the same, and to serve the Lord, as the ancient Fathers, Moles, Aaron, and Samuel, who called upon God, were heard in their prayers.

Sing this as the 95. Psalme.

The Lord doth praise, although at it,
the people rage full sore:
For he on Cherubins doth sit,
though all the world doth adore.

2 The Lord that doth in Zion dwell, is high and wondrous great:
Abode all folke he doth excell,
and he alone is set.

3 Let all men praise thy mighty Name, for it is fearefull sure:
And let them magnifie the same,
that holy is and pure.

4 The princely power of our King,
doth love iudgement as to right:
Thou rightly rulest every thing,
in Jacob though thy might.

5 To praise the Lord our God devise,
all honour to him doe:
Where his foot stoole worship him,
for he is holy too.

6 Moles, Aaron, and Samuel,
as Iudges on him did call:
When they did pray he heard them well,
and gave them answer all.

7 Within a cloud to them he spake, then did they labour still:
To keepe such lawes as he did make,
and pointed them untill.

8 O Lord our God, thou didst them heare, and answeredst them againe:
Thy mercy did on them appeare,
their deedes did not maintaine.

9 O land and praise our God and Lord,
within his holy hill:
For why? our God throughout the world,
is holy ever still.

Iubilate Deo omnes Psal. C. I. H.

He exhorteth all men to serve the Lord who hath made vs, and to enter into his Courts and Assemblies to praise his name.

All people that on earth doe dwell,

all people that on earth doe dwell,

all people that on earth doe dwell,

all people that on earth doe dwell,

all people that on earth doe dwell,

all people that on earth doe dwell,

all people that on earth doe dwell,

all people that on earth doe dwell,

without our aid he did us make:

All his flock he doth us feed,
and for his sheepe he doth us take.

3 Enter then his gates with praise, approach with joy his courts unto:
Praise, laud, and bleesse his Name alwaies,
for it is seemly so to doe.

4 For why? the Lord our God is good,
his mercy is for ever true:
His strength at all times firmly stood,
and shall from age to age endure.

Another of the same, by I. H.

Sing this as the 67. Psalme.

1 O God thy Lord be great and light, praise him throughout the earth:
Serve him and come before his sight,
with singing and with mirth.

2 Know that the Lord our God he is,
he did us make and keep:
Not we our selves, for we are his owne flocke and pasture sheepe.

3 I goe into his gates alwaies, give thanks within the same:
Within his Courts set forth his praise,
and laud his holy Name.

4 For why? the goodness of the Lord for evermore doth enigne:
From to age throughout the world,
thy truth doth still remaine.

Misericordiam Psal. Ci. N.

David describeth what government he will observe in his house and kingdom: by rooting out of the wicked, and establishing the godly persons.

Sing this as the 77. Psalme.

1 Mercy will and iudgement King,
O Lord God unto thee:

2 And will I doe in perfect way,
untill thou come to me:
And in the midst of my house waile,
in pursuitt of my spirit:

3 And I no kind of wicked thing, will sit before my sight.

4 I hate their workes that fall away
it shall not cleave to me:
From me shall part the froward heart,
none shall with I see.

5 When will I say that standereth his neighbour pibly:
The loose heart I cannot heare,
nor him that looketh lie.

6 Mine eyes shall be on them within the land that faithfull be:
In perfect way who walketh shall be servant unto me.

7 I will no guilefull person have,
within my house to dwell:
And in my presence he shal not remaine that lies doth tell.

8 Yet times I will destroy even all
the wicked of the land:
That I may from Gods Cille cut,
thy wicked workers hand.

Domine exaudi. Psal. Cij. N.

It seemeth that this prayer was appointed for the first full pay in the Captivitie of Babylon:
A Consolation to the building of the Church, whereof whereof followeth the praise of God to be published vnto all posterities. The conversion of the Gentiles, and stabilitie of the Church.

Sing this as the 81. Psalm.

- O Heare my prayer Lord, and let my cry come unto thee:
2 In time of trouble doe not hide thy face away from me.
3 Incline thine eare to me. make hast, to heare me when I call:
 For as the smoke doth fade, so doe my dayes consume and fall.
4 And as an hearth my bones are burnt, my heart is smitten dead:
 And withers like the grasse that I, forget to eat my bread.
5 By reason of my groaning voyces, my bones cleave to my skin:
6 As Pelican in wilderness, such case now am I in.
7 And as an owle in desert is, for I am such an one:
 I watch, and as a Sparrow on the house top am alone.
8 Loe daily in reproachfull wilt mine enemies doe me wrong:
 And they that doe against me rage, against me they have sworn.
9 Surely with ashes as with bread, my hunger I have filld:
 And mingled have my drinke with teares, that from mine eyes have filld
10 Because of thy displeasure Lord, thy wrath and thy disdain:
 For thou hast lifted me aloft, and cast me downe againe.

- 11 The dayes wherein I passe my life, are like the fleeting shade:
 And I am withered like the grasse, which soone away doth fade.
12 But thou, O Lord, for ever dost remaine in steady place:
 And thy remembrance ever doth abide from race to race.

The second part.

- 13 Thou wilt arise, and mercy thou, to Sion wilt extend:
 The time of mercy, now the time, forget is come to end.
14 For even in the stones thereof thy servants doe delight:
 And on the dust thereof they have compassion in their spite.
15 Then shall the heathen people feare, the Lords most holy Name:
 And all the Kings on earth shall dread, thy glory and thy fame.
16 Then when the Lord, the mighty God, againe shall Sion reare:
 And then when he most nobly in his glory shall appeare.
17 To prayer of the desolate, when he himselfe shall bend:
 When he shall not disdain unto their prayers to attend.
18 This shall be written for the age that after shall succeed:

The people yet uncreated
 the Lords renewe shall spread, 19 For he from his high Sanctuary, hath looked downe below:
 And out of heaven hath the Lord beheld the earth also.

- 20 That of the mourning captive he might heare the wofull cry:
 And that he might deliver those that damnd are to die.
21 That they in Sion may declare the Lords most holy Name:
 And in Jerusalem set forth the praises of the same.
22 When when the people of the land, and kingdomes with accord:
 Shall be assembled for to doe their service to the Lord.

The third Part.

- 23 My former force of strength he hath, abated in the way:
 And shorter he hath cut my dayes, thus I therefore did say:
24 My God in midst of all my dayes, now take me not away:
 Thy yeares endure eternally, from age to age, I say.
25 Thou the foundations of the earth, before all times hast laid:
 And Lord the heavens are the worke which thine owne hands have made.
26 For they shall perish and decay, but thou shalt tarry still:
 And they shall all in time waxe old, even as a garment will.
27 Thou as a garment shalt them change, and changed they shall be:
 But thou dost still abide the same, thy yeares doe never flee.
28 The children of thy servants shall continually endure:
 And in thy sight their happy seed for ever shall stand sure.

Benedic anima. Psal. Cij. T S.

The Prophet provoketh men and Angels and all creatures to praise the Lord God for his fatherly mercy in his deliverance of his people from evils, in his providence over all things, and in the preservation of the faithfull.

M

Praise ye the Lord,
 my spirit shall doe the same: and all the secrets of my heart. praise ye his holy Name. 2. Give thanks to God for all his gifts, New not thy selfe unkind, and suffer not his benefits, to slip out of thy mind.

3 That gave thee pardon for thy faults,
and ther restor'd againe:

For all thy wreake and feeble disease,
and heald thee of thy paine,

4 That did redeeme thy life from death,
from which thou couldest not flee:
His mercy and compassion both,
he did extend to thee.

5 That did with goodnesse thy desire,
and did prolong thy youth:
Like as the Eagle casts her bill, whereby her age reneweth.

6 The Lord with iustice doth repay,
all such as he opprest:
So that their sufferings and their wrongs are turned to the best.

7 His wayes and his commandments to Moses he did shew:
His counsels and his valiant acts,
the Israelites did know.

8 The Lord is kind and mercifull, when sinners doe him grieve;
The slowest to conceive a wrath,
and readiest to forgive.

9 He chides us not continually,
though we be full of sinne:
Nor keep our faults in memory,
for all our sinfull life:

10 Nor yet according to our sinnes
the Lord doth us regard,
Nor after our iniquities,
he doth us not reward.

11 But as the space is wondrous great twixt earth and heauen above:
So is his goodnesse much more large to them that doe him love.

12 God doth remove our sinnes from us,
and our offences all:
As farre as is the Sun-rising,
full distant from his fall.

The second part.

13 And looke what pitty parents deare, unto their children beare:
Like pitty beareth God to such as worship him in feare.

14 The Lord that made us knowes our hope, our mould and fashion full:
How wreake and fraile our nature is,
and how we are but dust.

15 And how the time of mortall men is like the withering bay:
Like the flower right faire in field that fades full soone away.

16 Whose glasse and beauty stormy winds
doe utterly disgrace:
And make that after their assaults,
such blossomes have no place.

17 But yet the goodnesse of the Lord,
with his shal ever stand:
Their childrens children shall receive,
his righteousness at hand.

18 I meane which keepe his covenant with all their whole desire:
And not forget to doe the thing,
which he doth them require.

19 The heavens high are made the seat,
and footstool of the Lord:
And by his power imperiall
he governes all the world.

20 Ye Angels which are great in power, praise ye and blesse the Lord:
Which to obey and doe his will,
immediately accord.

21 Ye noble hostes and officers, cease not to laud him still:
Which ready are to execute his pleasure and his will.

22 Ye, all his workes in every place,
praise ye his holy Name:
My heart, my mind, and eke my soule,
praise ye also the same.

Benedic anima. Psal. Ciiij. W.K.

and governance of the same by his marvellous providence: Also a prayer against the wicked, who are occasion that God diminisheth his blessings.

gesty in thee shine most cleare.

2 With light as a robe,
thou hast thee beclad:

Whereby all the earth
thy greatnesse may see:

The heavens in such sort thou also hast spread:

That it to a curtaine compared may be.

3 His chamber beames lye
 In the loues full lure,
 Which as his Charitie
 are made him to beare.
 And there with much sweetnesse
 his counsell doth endure:
 Upon the wings riding
 of winds in the ayre.
 4 He maketh his spir its
 as Vexatours to goe,
 And lightnings to serue
 welec also prest
 His will to accomplishe
 they run to and fro,
 To save or consume things,
 as seemeth him best.
 5 He groundeth the earth
 to firme ly and fast,
 That it once to moue
 none shall haue such power, 6 The deepe a faine covering for it made then hast:
 Which by his owne nature
 the hills mountaine deuours.
 7 But at thy rebuke,
 the waters doe flee:
 And so a be due place
 thy word to obey.
 At thy voyce of thunder
 so fearfull they be:
 That in their great ragling
 they haue gone away.
 8 The mountaines full blis
 they then up ascend:
 If thou doe but speake
 thy word they full fill.
 So likewise the valleys
 most quickly descend:
 Where thou them appointest remaine they doe still.
 9 Their boundes thou hast set,
 how farre they shall run:
 So that in their rage
 not that passe they can:
 For God hath appointed
 they shall not returne.
 The earth to destroy more,
 which made was for man.
 The second part.
 10 Defendeth the iust
 to strong liues and lakes, Which run doe full fast
 among the huge hills.
 11 Where doth he wild asses their thirst oft times stales:
 And beast of the mountaine,
 there doth he their stales.
 12 By their pleasant springs and fountaines full faine,
 The foules of heaue
 aboue shall and dwell.
 Whomoued by nature
 to hop here and there:
 Among the greene branches,
 their songs shall excell.
 13 The mountaine to moue
 the clouds he doth use,
 The earth with his workes
 are wholly replac.

4 So as the dult cattell
 he doth not refuse:
 But graffe doth p. vice them,
 and herbe for mans meat.
 5 Pea bread, wine and oyle,
 he made for mans sake:
 His face to refresh,
 and heart to make strong.
 6 The Cedars of Liban
 this great Lord did make,
 Which trees he doth nourish that grow up so long.
 7 In these may birds
 and make there their nest:
 In fire trees the storkes remaine and abide.
 8 The high hills are succous for wild goats to rest:
 And eke the rocks stony for Conies to hide.
 9 The Moone then is set her season to run:
 The dayes from the night thereby to discern:
 And by the descending
 alle of the Sun,
 The cold from heat alway
 thereby we doe learne.
 10 When darknesse doth come by Gods will and power,
 Then creepe forth doe all
 the beasts of the wood:
 11 The Lions range roaring the prey to deuoure:
 But yet it is thou Lord
 which giuest them food.
 12 As soone as the Sunne is up, they retire:
 To couch in their dens,
 then are they full faine.
 13 What man to his worke may as right doth require:
 Till night come and call him
 to take rest againe.
 The third part.
 14 How sundry O Lord,
 are all thy workes found?
 Which all come full great
 there are in do. how wrought:
 So that the whole world
 of thy wille doth sound:
 And as for the riches
 they haue all mens thought.
 15 So is the great sea which large is and broad:
 Where things that creep, warne,
 and beast of each sort.
 16 There both in the ships saile,
 and some in the road:
 The whale huge and monstrous
 there also doth spore.
 17 All things on the wate
 thou dost them relue:
 And thou in due time
 full well dost them feed.
 18 Now when it doth please thee,
 the same for to giue,
 They gather full gladly those things which they need.

Thou openest thy hand
me they finde furth grace,
That the y^e th good things are filled wth lee 29 But I^e ever troubled,
if thou turne the face:
For if thou thine death take,
wile out th^e n^e the be.
30 I gaine: when thy Spirit from the dorch proceed:
All things: c^e ppoint,
and what shall enue:
Then are they created
as thou halt decreed:
And dost by thy goodness,
the d^e earth renew.
31 The praise of the Lord
for ever shall last:
Who may in his workes
by right well reioyce.
32 Who lookes can the earth make to tremble till last
And likewise the mountaine to shake at his voice.
33 To this Lord and God,
sing with I alwayes:
So long as I live,
my God praise will I.
34 Then am I most certain,
my wor^d shall him please:
I will reioyce in him,
to him will I cry.
35 The flowers, O Lord, continue in thine ice:
And eke the verberle,
thou root out with shame,
But as for my soule now
let it still desire.
And say with the faithfull,
praise ye the Lords Name.
Confitemini Domino. Psal. Cv. I. H.
He praiseth the singular goodnesse of God for choosing a peculiar people to himselfe never ceasing to doe them good even for his promise sake.

Sing this as the 103. Psalme.

G Ibe praides unto God the Lord,
and call upon his Name:
Among the people kee declare his workes to spread his fame,
2 Sing ye unto the Lord I say,
and sing unto his praise:
And talke of all his wondrous workes,
that he hath wrought by al wayes.
3 In honour of his holy Name
reioyce with one accord:
And let the heart also reioyce of them that seeke the Lord.
4 Seeke ye the Lord and seeke the strength of his eternall might:
And seeke his face continually,
and presence of his sight.
5 The wondrous workes that he hath done,
keepe still in mind in heart:
Me, let the iudgements of his mouth,
out of your mind depart.
6 Per that of faithfull Abraham
his servant are the seed:

Per his elect the childer that has:
of Jacob doe proceed.

7 For he, he onely is, I say,
the mightie Lord our God:
And his most rightfull iudgement was through all the world abroad.
8 His promise and his covenant, which he hath made to his,
He hath remembered evermore,
to thousands of degrees.

The second part.

9 The Covenant which he hath made;
with Abraham long agoe,
The faithfull oath which he hath sworne to Isaac also.
10 And did confirme the same for law,
that Jacob should obey:
And for eternall covenant,
to Israel for aye.

11 When he thus said, loe, I say;
all Canaan Land will give:
The lot of your inheritance,
wherein your lot shall live.

12 Although their number at that time,
did very small appeare:
Pea, very small, and in the land
they then but strangers were.

13 While yet they walke from land to land,
without a sure abode:
And while from sundry Kingdomes they did wander all abroad.

14 And wrong at no oppressors hands,
he suffered them to take:
But even the great and mighty Kings
reproved for their sake.

15 And thus he said: Touch ye not those that mine anointed be:
Me, doe the Prophets any harms
that doe pertaine to me.

16 He call'd a dearth upon the land;
of bread he stroyd the flore:
But he against the time of need had sent a man before.

The third part.

17 Even Joseph which had once been sold to live a slave in woe:
Whole feet they hurt in stocks, whose soules
the iron pierce dailie.

18 Untill the time came when his cause was knowne apparantly:
The mighty word of God the Lord,
his faultlesse truth did cry.

19 The King sent and delivered him from prison where he was:
20 The ruler of the people then did freely let him passe.

21 And over all his house he made him Lord to beare the sway:
And of his substance made him have the rule and all the day.

22 What he might to his will instruct the Dunces of the land:
And wisdomes lore his ancient men,
might cause to understand.

23 Then into the Egyptian land came Israel also:
And

And Jacob in the land of Ham
did live a stranger tho,

24 His people he exceedingly in number made to flow:
And over all their enemies
in strength he made them grow.
25 Whose heart he turned that they with hate his people did intrate:
And did his servants wrongfully,
abuse with false deceit.

The fourth part.

26 His faithfull servant Moses then,
and Aaron whom he chose:
He did command to goe to them,
his message to disclose.
27 The wondrous message of his signes,
among them he did shew:
And wonders in the land of Ham then did they worke also 28 Darknesse he sent, and made it darke, in stead of brighter day:
And unto his commission
they did not disobey.
29 He turned their waters into bloud,
he did their fishes slay:
30 Their land brought frogs even in the place where their King Pharaoh lay.
31 He spake, and at his voyce thine came great swarmes of noysome flies:
And all the quarters of the land were filled with crawling lice.
32 He gave them cold and stony halle,
in stead of milder raine:
And fiery flames with his their land,
he sent unto their paine.
33 He smote their vines and all their trees,
whereon their figs did grow:
And all the trees within their coasts
downe did he overthrow.
34 He spake, then Caterpillers did,
and Grasshoppers abound:
35 Which ate the grasse in all their land,
and fruit of all their ground.

The fifth part.

36 The first begotten in their land
he deadly he did smite:
Pea, the beginning and first fruit of all their force and might.
37 Which gold and silver he them brought from Egypt land to passe:
And in the number of their tribes
no feeble one there was.
38 Egypt was glad and joyfull then when they did thence depart:
For terror and the feare of them was false upon their heart.
39 To shroud them from the parching heat,
a cloud he did display:
And fire he sent to give them light,
when night had his the day.
40 They asked, and he caused quailles,
to raine at their request:
And fully with the bread of heaven
their hunger he repast.
41 We opened the stony rock,
and waters gushed out:

And in the dry and parched ground,
like rivers run about:

42 For of his holy covenant:
aye mindfull was he tho:
Which to his servant Abraham
he plight long agoe.
43 He brought his people forth with might,
and his elect with joy,
Out of the cruell land where they had liv'd in great annoy.
44 And of the Heathen men he gave to them the fruitful lands:
The labours of the people the
they took into their hands.
45 That they his holy statutes might observe for evermore:
And faithfully obey his lawes,
praise yet the Lord therefore.

Confitemini Dom. Psal. Cvj. W. K.

The people sore displeased under Antiochus, doe magnifie the goodnesse of God among the repentant, and pray to be gathered from among the Heathen, that they may praise his holy Name.

Sing this as the 103. Psalme.

Praise ye the Lord, for he is good,
his mercy induceth for aye:
1 Which can expresse his noble acts,
or all his praise display:
2 They blessed are that judgement keep,
and wisely doe alway:
Which labour of thy people (Lord)
remember me, I pray,
4 And with thy saving health, O Lord,
vouchsafe to visit me:
That I the great felicitie of thine elect may see.
5 And with thy peoples joy I may a joyfull mind possesse:
And may with thine inheritance
a glorying heart expresse.
6 Both we, and eke our Fathers all,
have sinned every one:
We have committed wickednesse:
and lowly we have done.
7 The wonders great which thou (O Lord)
hast done in Egypt land:
Our fathers though they saw them all,
yet did not understand,
Nor yet thy mercies multitude did keepe in thankfull minde:
But at the Sea, yea the red Sea,
rebelled most unkind.
8 Heberthelie he saved them
for honour of his Name:
That he might make his power knowne,
and spread abroad his fame.
9 The red Sea he did then rebuke,
and forthwith it was dryd:
And as in wilderness, so through the deepe he did them guide.
10 He saved them from the cruell hand of their despightfull foe:
And from the enemies hand he did deliver them also.

The second part.

- 11 The waters their oppositourswhelm'd,
not one was left alive:
 - 12 Then they beseech'd his word, and praise in song they did him give.
 - 13 But by and by unthankfully his workes they cleane forgot:
And for his counsell and his will they did neglect to wait.
 - 14 But lusted in the wilderness,
with fond and greedy lust:
And in the desert tempt'd God,
the stay of all their trust.
 - 15 And then their wanton minds desire
he suffer'd them to have:
But wanting leanuells there withall into their soules he gave.
 - 16 Then when they lodged in their tents,
at Horeb they did grutch:
Aaron the holp of the Lord,
so did they envy much.
 - 17 Therefore the earth did open wide,
and Dathan did reboure:
And all Abrams company,
did cover in that hour.
 - 18 In their assembly kindled was
the hot consuming fire:
And waking flame did then burne up
the wicked in his ire.
 - 19 Upon the hill of Moab they
an idoll Calfe did frame:
And there the molten Image they did worship of the same.
 - 20 Into the likenesse of a Calfe which feedeth on the grasse:
Thus they their glory turn'd and all,
their honour did deface.
 - 21 And God their onely Saviour
unkindly they forgot:
Which many great and mighty things in Egypt land had wrought.
- The third part.
- 22 And in the land of Ham for them
most wondrous workes had done:
And by the Red sea breadfull things performed long ago.
 - 23 Therefore for their fo shewing them
forgetfull and unkind:
To bring destruction on them all
he purpos'd in his mind.
 - 24 Had not his chosen Moses stood before him in the breake:
To turne his wrath lest he on them with slaughter should him wreake.
 - 24 Then did despise the pleasant Land, that he besight to give:
Yea, and the words that he had spoke,
they did no whit besee.
 - 25 But in their tents with grudging heart
they wickedly repinde:
Not to the voyce of God the Lord
they gave an harkning mind.
 - 26 Therefore against them lifted he his strong revenging hand:
Them to destroy in wilderness,
ere they should see the land.
 - 27 And to destroy their seed among:

- the Nations with his rod:
And thought the Countreies of the world to scatter them abroad.
- 28 To Baal Peor then they did adloyne themselves also,
To eat the offering of the dead,
so they forsooke him tho.
 - 29 Thus with their owne inventions,
his wrath they did provoke:
And in his sore inkindled wrath,
the plague upon them broke.
 - 30 But Phineas stood up with zeale,
the sinners vile to slay:
And iudgement he did execute,
and then the plague did stay.

The fourth Part.

- 31 It was imputed unto him
for righteousness that day:
And from thence forth is counted is,
from race to race. I say.
 - 32 At waters eke of Meribah
they did him angry make:
Yea, so farre forth, that Moses was then punish'd for their sake.
 - 33 Because they ver'd his spirit so sore,
that in impatient heat:
his lips spake unadvisedly:
his frowne was so great.
 - 34 For as the Lord commanded them,
they slew the people ther:
But were among the heathen mix'd, and learn'd their workes also.
 - 36 And did their Idols serve which were their ruine and decay:
To sende their sonnes and daughters they did offer up and slay.
 - 38 Yea, with unkindly murdering kniffe
the guiltlesse blood they spilt:
Yea, their owne sonnes and daughters blow,
without all cause of guilt.
 - Whom they to Canaan Idols then offered with wicked hand:
And so with blood of Innocents defiled was the land.
 - 39 Thus were they stained with the workes
of their owne filthy way:
And with their owne inventions
a whoring they did stay.
 - 40 Therefore against his people was the Lords wrath kindled sore:
And even his owne inheritance
he did abhorre therfore.
 - 41 Into the hands of Beathan men
he gave them for a prey:
And made their foes their Lords, whom they were forced to obey.
- The fifth part.
- 42 Yea and their hatefull enemies
oppress them in the Land:
And they were humbly made to stoop,
as subject to their hand.
 - 43 Full oftentimes from thall had he delivered them before:
But with their counsels they to wack,
provok'd him evermore.
 - Therefore they by their wickednesse.

- were brought full low to lie:
 44 Per when he saw them in distresse,
 he hearkened to their cry.
 45 He call'd to mind his covenant, which he to them had swore:
 And by his mercies multitude repented him therefore.
 46 And laboure he made them to find,
 before the light of those
 That let them captive through their land, when erst they were their foes.
 47 Save us, O Lord, that art our God,
 save us (O Lord) we pray:
 And from among the heathen folke
 Lord gather us away.
 48 That we may spread the noble praise,
 of thy most holy Name:
 That we may glory in thy praise,
 and sounding of thy Name.
 49 The Lord, the God of Israel
 be blest for evermore:
 Let all the people say Amen:
 praise ye the Lord therefore.

Confitemini Dom. Psal. Cviij. W.K.

David exhorteth all that are redeemed by the Lord and gathered unto him, to give thanks therefore who by sending prosperitie and adversitie bringeth men unto him. Therefore as the righteous thereat re-joyce, so shall the wicked have their mouths stopped.

Sing this as the 77 Psalme.

- Give thanks unto the Lord our God,
 for gracious is he:
 And that his mercy hath no end,
 all most tall men may see.
 2 Such as the Lord redeemed hath,
 with thanks shall praise his Name:
 And shew how they from foes were freed,
 and how he wrought the same.
 3 He gathered them forth of the lands,
 that lay so farre about:
 From East to West, from North to South,
 his hand did find them out.
 4 They wandred in the wilderness,
 and strayed from the way:
 And found no City where to dwell,
 that serve might for their stay.
 5 All those thirst and hunger was so great,
 in these Deserts so void:
 That faintnesse did them sore assault,
 and eke their soules annoyd.
 6 Then did they cry in their distresse,
 unto the Lord for ayd:
 Who did remove their troublous state,
 according as they prayd.
 7 And by that way which was most right,
 he led them as a guide:
 That they might to a Citie goe,
 and there also abide.
 8 Let men therefore before the Lord,
 confesse his kindnesse then:
 And shew the wonders that he doth
 before the sonnes of men.
 9 For he that emptye soules sustain'd, whom thirst had made to faint:
 The hungry soules with goodnesse fed,
 and did them eke acquaine.

10 Such as doe dwell in darkness deep,
 where they on death doe wait:
 Fast bound to such troublous stormes,
 as iron chaines doe threat.

The second Part.

- 11 For that against the Lords owne words
 they sought for to rebell:
 Extreming light his counsels high,
 which doe so farre excell.
 12 But when he humbled them full low,
 they thinke to dwindle with getise:
 And none was found so much to helpe,
 whereby to get reliefe.
 13 Then did they cry in their distresse,
 unto the Lord for ayd:
 Who did remove their troublous state
 according as they prayd.
 14 For he from darkness out them brought,
 and from deaths dreadfull shade:
 Bursting with force their iron bands,
 which them before did lade.
 15 Let men therefore before the Lord,
 confesse his kindnesse then:
 And shew the wonders that he doth,
 before the sonnes of men.
 16 For he them downe the gates of brass,
 and brake them with strong hand:
 The iron barres he smote in two,
 nothing could him withstand.
 17 The foolish folke great plagues doe feele,
 and cannot from them wend:
 But heape on more to those they have,
 because they doe offend.
 18 Their soules so much distoath all meat, that none they could abide:
 Whereby death had them almost caught,
 as they full tentyr'd.
 19 Then did they cry in their distresse,
 unto the Lord for ayd:
 Who did remove their troublous state,
 according as they prayd.
 20 For then besent to him his word, which heale death soone restore:
 And brought them from those dangers deepe,
 wherein they were before.

The third part.

- 21 Let men therefore before the Lord,
 confesse his kindnesse then:
 And shew the wonders that he doth,
 before the sonnes of men.
 22 And let them offer sacrifice,
 with thanks, and also praise:
 And speake of all his wonders workes,
 with glad and joyfull cheare.
 23 Such as in ships and bittish barks,
 into the Seas descend:
 Their merchandise through fearfull foulds,
 to compasse and to end.
 24 Those men are forced to behold
 the Lords workes what they be:
 And in the dangerous deepe the same
 most marvelous they see.
 25 For at his word the stormy wind
 setteth in a rage:
 And stirreth up the surges so,
 that nought he can them all wage:
 26 Then are they lifted up to high,
 the clouds they seeme to gaine:

And plunging downe the depth, untill their soules consume with paine.

27 And like a drunken toad and fro,
now here, now there they reele:

As men with feare, of wit bereft,
or had of sense no feele,

28 When did they cry in their distresse,
unto the Lord for ayd:

Who did remove their troublous state,
according as they prayd.

29 For with his word the Lord doth make the sturdy stormes to cease:

So that the great waves from their rage,
are brought to rest and peace.

30 Then are men glad when rest is come,
which they so much doe crave:

And are by him in haven brought,
which they so faine would have.

The fourth part.

31 Let men therefore before the Lord,
confesse his kindeesse then:

And shew the wonders that he doth,
before the sonnes of men.

32 Let them in presence of the folke, with praise extoll his name:

And where the Elders doe conuene,
there let them doe the same.

33 For running floods to dry Deserts,
he doth oft change and turne:

And drieth up as it were dust,
the springing well and bourne.

34 A fruitfull land with pleasures deckt, full barren doth he make:

When on their sinnes that dwell therein,
he doth lust vengeance take.

35 Again, the wilderness to rude,
he maketh fruite to beare:

With pleasant springs of water cleare,
though none before were there.

36 Wherein such hungry soules are set,
as he doth freely chuse:

That they a Cite might them build,
to dwell in for their use.

37 That they may sow their pleasant land,
and vineyards also plant,

To yeeld them fruite of such increase,
as none may seeme to want.

38 They multiply exceedingly;
the Lord doth blesse them so:

Which doth also their bulke heads make by numbers great to grow.

39 But when the faithfull are low brought,
by the oppressors stout:

And nighly doethrough many plagues,
that compasse them about:

40 Then doth he Princes bring to shame,
which did them soe oppress:

And likewise caused them to erre,
within the wilderness.

41 But yet the poore he raiseth up, out of their troubles deepe,

And oft-time doth their traine augment,
much like a flocke of sheepe.

42 The righteous shall behold this sight,
and also much reioyce:

Whereas the wicked and perverse,
with griefe shall stop their voyce.

43 But who is wise, that now full well
he may these things record:

For certainly such shall perceive the kindeesse of the Lord.

Paratum cor. Psal. Cuiij. N.

David with heart and voyce praiseth the Lord, and assureth himselfe of the promises of God, concerning his Kingdome over Israel and his power against other nations, who though he seem to forsake us for a time, yet he alone in the end will cast downe our enemies.

Sing this as the 95. Psalme.

○ God my heart prepared is,
and eke my tongue is so:

I will advance my voyce in song,
and giuing thanks also.

2 Awake my Harp and my Harpe;
sweet melody to make:

And in the morning I my selfe,
right early will awake.

3 By me among the people Lord, still praised shalt thou be:

And I among the heathen folke will sing, O Lord, to thee.

4 Because thy mercy Lord is great,
above the heavens hie:

And eke thy truth doth reach the clouds,
within the lofty skie.

5 Above the starry heavens hie,
advance thy selfe, O God:

And Lord display upon the earth,
thy glory all abroad.

6 That thy dearly beloved may be set at liberty:

Helpe, O my God, with thy right hand,
and hearken unto me.

7 God in his holinesse hath spoke,
whereof my loyes abound:

Sichem I will divide, and mete
the Tale of Succoths ground.

8 And Gilead shall be mine owne, Danasse mine shall be:

By head-strength Ephraim, and Iudah shall Iudah glve for me.

9 Soab my wash-pot and my shooe on Edom will I throw:

Upon the land of Palestine,
in triumph will I goe.

10 Who shall into the Cite strong,
be guid to conduct me?

O, how by whom to Edom land, conveyed shall I be.

11 As it not thou, O Lord, which late hast us forsaken quite?

And thou, O Lord, which with our hoare, didst not goe forth to fight.

12 Give us, O Lord, thy saving ayd,
when troubles doe affaile:

For all the helpe of man is vaine,
and can no whit abaille.

13 Through God we shall doe valiant acts;
and worthy of renoune:

We shall subdue our enemies,
yea, he shall tread them downe.

Deus laudem. Psal. C. viij. N.

David being falsly accused by Sauls flatterers, prayeth God to helpe him to destroy his enemies, who represent Iudas the Traytor unto Iesus Christ and all like enemies of the children of God.

Sing this as the 95. Psalme.

- In speechlesse silence doe not hold
O God thy tongue alwayes:
O God (even thou I say) that art
the God of all my praise.
2 The wicked and the guilefull mouth on me disclosed be:
And they with false and lying tongues have spoken unto me.
3 They did beset me round about with words of hatefull spight:
Without all cause of my desert against me they did fight.
4 For my good will they were my foes,
but then gan I to pray:
5 My good with ill, my friendlinesse with hate they did repay.
6 Set thou the wicked over him,
to have the upper hand:
At his right hand eke suffer thou his hatefull foe to stand:
7 When he is iudged, let him then condemned be therein:
And let the prayer that he makes,
be turned into sinne.
8 Few be his dayes, his charge also let thou another take:
9 His children let be fatherlesse,
his wife a widow make.
10 Let his off-spring be vagabonds,
to beg and seeke their bread:
Mending out of the wasted place,
where eitt they have bene fed.
11 Let covetous extortioners catch all his goods and store:
And let the stranger spoile the fruit of all his toyle before.
12 Let there be none to pitty him,
let there be none at all,
That on his children fatherlesse will let their mercy fall.
The second part.
13 And so let his posteritie
for ever be destroyed:
Their name out-blotted in the age
that after shall succeed.
14 Let not his fathers wickednesse from Gods remembrance fall:
And let not thou his mothers sinne be done away at all.
15 But in the presence of the Lord
let them remaine for aye:
That from the earth their memory
he may cut cleane away.
16 With mercy he forgot to shew,
but did pursue with spight
The troubled man, and sought to slay
the wooll hearted wight.
17 As he did cursing love, it shall bee the unto him so:
And as he did not blessing love,
it shall be far him fro.

18 As he with cursing clad himselfe, so it like water shall Into his bowels, and like Oyle into his bones besall.

19 As garment lett be to him,
to cover him for aye:
And as a girdle where with he shall girded be alway.

20 Loe let the same be from the Lord
the girdon of my foe:
Pea, and of those that evil speake against my soule also.

21 But thou, O Lord, which art my God, deale thou (I say) with me
After thy name deliver me,
for great thy merces be.

22 Because in depth of great distresse
I needy am and poore:
And eke within my pained brest
my heart is wounded sore.

The third part.

23 Even so doe I depart away,
as doth declining shade:
And as the grasshopper, so I am shaken off, and fade.

24 With fasting long from needfull food enfeebled are my knees:
And all her fatnesse hath my flesh enforced beene to leese.

25 And I also a vile reproach to them am made to be:
And they that did upon me looke,
did shake their heads at me.

26 But thou, O Lord, that art my God, mine ayd and succour be:
According to thy mercy, Lord
save and deliver me.

27 And they shall know thereby that thine
(Lord) is thy mighty hand:
And that thou, thou hast done it Lord,
so shall they understand.

28 Although they curse with spight, yet thou shalt bleste with loving voyce:
They shall arise, and come to shame,
thy servants shall rejoyce.

29 Let them be clothed all with shame,
that enemies are come:
And with confusion as a cloke
eke covered let them be.

30 But greatly I will with my mouth give thanks unto the Lord:
And Among the multitude his praises will record.

31 For he with helpe at his right hand, will stand the poore man by:
To save him from the man that would condemne his soule to die.

Dixit Dominus. Psal. Cxi. N.

David prophesieth of the power and everlasting Kingdome of Christ, and of the Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Levi.

Sing this as the 59 Psalme.

The Lord did say unto my Lord:
sit thou at my right hand,
Till I have made thy foes a stooke whereon thy feet shall stand.

2 The Lord shall out of Sion send the Scepter of his might:
And the most tall for be thou
the ruler in their sight.

3 And in the day on which thy reigne,
and power they shall see,
That herby freewill offerings shall
the people offer thee.

Pea, with an holy worshipping,
then shall they offer all:
Thy birth draw is the draw that both from wombe of morning fall.

4 The Lord hath sworne and never will repent what he doth say:
By th' order of Melchisedech
thou art a Priest for aye.

5 The Lord thy God on thy right hand that standeth for the stay.
Shall wound for thee the stately Kings upon his wrathfull day.

6 The heart he shall ludge and fill the place with bodies dead:
And over divers Countries shall in thunder smite the dead.

7 And he shall drinke out of the brooke that runneth in the way:
Wherefore he shall sit up on high his royall head that day.

Confitebor tibi. Psal. Cxj. N.

He giveth thanks to the Lord for his manifold workes toward his Church, and declareth wherein true wisdom and right knowledge consisteth.

With heart I doe accord to praise and laud the Lord, in presence of the just.

For great his workes are found, to search them such are bound as him doe love and trust. His workes are glorious, also his righteousnesse doth endure for ever: his wonderous workes he would we still remember should, his mercy faileth never.

Such as to him love beare,
A portion shall have
He hath up for them said:
For this they shall well find,
He will them have in mind,
And keepe them as he said.

6 For he did not disdaine,
His workes to shew them plaine,
By lightnings and by thunder:
When he the Heathens land
Did give into their hand,
Where they beheld his wonders.

7 Of all his workes enshure
Both judgement, right and truth,
Whereto his statutes tend:

8 They are decreed sure
For ever to endure,
Which equity doth end.

Redemption he gave,
His people for to save:
And hath also required;
His promise not to faile,
But alwayes to prevaille,
His holy Name be feared:

10 Who so with heart full faith
True wisdom would attaine,
The Lord feare and obey:
Such as his Lawes doe keepe
Shall knowledge have full deepe,
His praise shall last for aye.

Beatus vir. Psal. Cxij. W. C.

He praiseth the felicitie of them that feare God, and condemneth the cursed estate of the contempters of God.

Sing this as the Pater noster.

The man is blest that God doth feare,
And that his Law doth love indeed:
2 His seed on earth God will up-reare,
And blisse such as from him proceed:
3 His house with good he will fulfill,
His righteousness endure shall still.

4 Unto the righteous doth arise
In trouble lay, in darknesse lye;
Compassion is in his eyes,
And mercy alwayes in his sight.

5 Pea, pittie moveth such to lend,
He doth by judgement things expend:

6 And surely such shall never faile,
For in remembrance had is be.

7 No things ill can make him quail,
Who in the Lord sure hope doth see.

8 His heart is firme, his fear is fast,
For he shall see his foes downecast.

9 He did well for the poore people,
His righteousness shall still remaine,
And his estate with praise abide.
Though that the wicked man disdaine:
Pea, quash his teeth therat shall be
And to consume his state to see.

Laudate pueri. Psal. Cxij. W. K.

An exhortation to praise the Lord for his providence, in that contrary to the course of Nature, he worketh in his Church.

Ye children which doe serve the Lord, praise ye his Name with one ac-

Lord, ye blessed be alwayes his Name:
 who from the rising of the Sunne till it returne where it began: Is to be praised with great fame: The Lord all people doth surmount: As for his glory
 we may count, Above the Heavens high to be: Altho God the Lord who may compare: whose dwellings in the heavens are; of such great power and force is he.

- 6 We doth abase himselfe we know, things to behold both here below,
 and also in Heaven above:
 7 The needy out of dust to draw,
 And eke the poore which helpe none saw,
 his onely mercy did him move.
 8 And so him set in high degree,
 with Princes of great dignitie,
 that rule his people with great fame.
 9 The barren he doth make to beare, and with great joy their fruit to reare:
 therefore praise ye his holy Name.

In exitu Israel. Psal. Cxliij. W. W.

Israels deliverie out of Egypt, putteth us in remembrance of Gods great mercies towards his children,
 and of our unthankfulness for the same,

Sing this as the 78. Psalme.

- When Israel by Gods addresse from Pharaohs land was sent:
 And Jacobs house the strangers left,
 and in the same traine went.
 2 In Iuda God his glory shewed,
 his holynesse most bright:
 So did the Israelites declare,
 his kingdome power and might.
 3 The Sea it saw, and suddenly as allamard did flie:
 The roaring streames of Jordans floud, recoiled backwardly.
 4 As Rams afraid the mountaines skip,
 their strenght did them forsake:

And as the silly trembling Lambs their tops did beat and shake.

- 5 What all the sea as allamard,
 so suddenly to flie?
 The rolling waves of Jordans floud,
 why ran ye backwardly?
 6 Why shooke ye like as Rams afraid
 why did your strength so shake:
 Why did your tops as trembling Lambs,
 for feare quiver and quake?
 7 Dearth confesse thy soveraigne Lord,
 and shew his mighty hand:
 Before the face of Jacobs God,
 feare ye both sea and land.
 8 I mean the God which from hard rocks doth cause maine flouds appeare:
 And from the stony flint doth make gush out the fountaines cleare.

Non nobis Domine. Psal. Cxv. N.

The faithfull oppressed by idolatrous Tyrants, promise that they will not be unminisfull of so great a benefit, if it would please God to heare their prayers, and deliver them by his omnipotent power,

Sing this as the 67. Psalme,

- Not unto us, Lord, not to us,
 but to thy Name give praise:
 Both for thy mercy and thy truth
 that are in thee alwayes.
 2 Altho shall the Heathen corners say, where is their God become?
 3 Our God in Heavens is, and what he will, that hath he done.
 4 Their Idols silver are and gold, worke of mens hands they be:
 5 They have a mouth and doe not speake,
 and eyes and doe not see,
 6 And they have eares to hear to their head,
 and doe not heare at all:
 And noses eke they formed have,
 and doe not smell with all.
 7 And hands they have and handle not,
 and feet and doe not goe:
 Althoat they have yet through the same they make no sound to blow.
 8 Those that make them, are like to them,
 and those whose trust they be:
 9 O Israel trust in the Lord,
 their helpe and shield is he:
 10 O Aarons house trust in the Lord,
 their helpe and shield is he:
 11 Trust ye the Lord, that feare the Lord,
 their helpe and shield is he,
 12 The Lord hath mindfull bene of us,
 and will us blesse alie:
 O Israel and on Aarons house,
 his blessing he will shew.
 13 Them that be fearers of the Lord,
 the Lord will blesse them all:
 Even he will blesse them every one,
 the great and eke the small.
 14 To you (I say) the living Lord, will multiply his grace:
 To you and to the children that shall follow of your race.
 15 Peace be blessed of the Lord,
 even of the Lord, I say:

Which both the heavens and the earth hath made and let in day.
16 The heavens, yea the heavens ble, belong unto the Lord:
The earth unto the sonnes of men
he gave of free accord:
17 They that be dead doe not wileh praise set forth the Lords renowne.
Nor any that inco the place
of silence doe goe downe.
18 But we will praise the Lord our God,
from henceforth and for aye:
Sound ye the praises of the Lord,
praise ye the Lord I say.

Dilexi quoniam. Psal. Cxvi. N.

David being in great danger of Saul, in the desert of Maon, perceiving the great and inestimable love of God towards him, magnificeth such gr. at mercies, and protesteth that he will be thankfull for the same.
Sing this as the 103. Psalme.

I Love the Lord, because my voyce, and prayer heard hath be:
2 When in my dapes I cal'd on him,
he bow'd his eare to me.
3 Ev'n when the snares of cruell death about beset me round:
When paines of hell me caught and when
I woe and sorrow found.
4 Upon the Name of God my Lord,
then did I call and say,
Deliver thou my soule, O Lord,
I doe thee humbly pray.
5 The Lord is very mercifull, and lust he is also:
And in our God compassion
doth plentifully flow.

6 The Lord in safety doth preserve all those that simple be:
I was in wooll misery,
and he delivered me.
7 And now my soule lieth thou art safe,
returne unto thy rest:
For largely, loe, the Lord to thee
his bountie hath express.
8 Because thou hast delivered my soule from deadly thral:
My moistned eyes from mournfull teares,
my sliding feet from fall.
9 Before the Lord I in the land of life will walke therefore:
10 I did beleve, therefore I spake, for I was troubled sore.

The second part.

11 I said in my distress and feare, that all men lyers be:
12 What shall I pay the Lord for all his benefits to me?
13 He who sometim cup of saving health
I thankfull will take:
And on the Lords Name I will call,
when I my prayers make.
14 I to the Lord will pay the vowes
that I to him beight:
Pea even at this present time,
in all his peoples sight.
15 Right deare and precious in his sight,
the Lord doth eye the same

The death of all his holynes, in hat ever men doe deeme.

16 Thy servant Lord, thy servant loe,
I doe my selfe confesse:
Sonne of thy hand-maid thou hast broke the bonds of my distress.
17 And I will offer up to thee
a sacrifice of praise:
And I will call upon the Name of God the Lord alwayes.
18 I to the Lord will pay the vowes
that I have him beight:
Pea even at this present time,
in all his peoples sight.
19 Pea in the corners of Gods owne house,
and in the midst of thee,
O thou Jerusalem, I say:
wherefore the Lord praise ye.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. Cxviij. N.

He exhorteth the Gentiles to praise God, because he hath accomplished as well to them as to the Jewes
the promise of life everlasting by Iesus Christ.

Sing this as the 29. Psalme.

O All ye Nations of the world,
praise ye the Lord alwayes:
And all ye people every where set forth his noble praise.
2 For great his kinde is to us,
his truth endures for aye:
Wherefore praise ye the Lord our God,
praise ye the Lord I say.

Confitemini Dom. Psal. Cxviij. N.

David rescued of Saul, and of the people at the time appointed obtains the Kingdom, for the which he biddeth all them that feare the Lord, to be thank-full, under whose person Christ is lively set forth who should be of his people rescued.

Sing this as the 95. Psalme.

O Give ye thanks unto the Lord,
for gracious is he:
Because his mercy doth endure
for ever towards thee.
2 Let Israel confesse and say,
his mercy dureth for aye.
3 Now let the house of Aaron say his merle dureth for aye.
4 Let all that feare the Lord our God,
even now confesse and say:
The merle of the Lord our God,
endureth still for aye:
5 In trouble and in heaviness unto the Lord I cry'd:
Which lovingly heard me at large,
my suit was not deny'd.
6 The Lord himselfe is on my side,
I will not stand in doubt:
Nor feare what man can doe to me:
when God stands me about.
7 The Lord doth take my part with them that helpe to succour me:
Therefore I shall see my desire upon mine enemy.
8 Better it is to trust in God,
than in mans mortall flesh:
9 O to put confidence in Kings, or Princes in our need.

10 All Nations have inclosed me,
and compassed me round:
But in the Name of God will I mine enemies confound.

11 They kept me in on every side,
they kept me in, I say:
But in the Lords most mighty Name
I shall worke their decay.

12 They came about me all like Bees,
but yet in the Lords Name
I quench'd their thornes that were on fire, and will destroy the same.

The Second Part.

13 Thou hast with force thrust sore at me,
that I indeed might fall:
But through the Lord I found such helpe, that they were vanquish'd all.

14 The Lord is my defence and strength,
my toy, my mirth, my song:
He is become for me indeed
a Saviour most strong.

15 The right hand of the Lord our God
doth bring to passe great things:
He causeth voice of joy and health in righteous mens dwellings.

16 The right hand of the Lord doth bring most mighty things to passe:
His hand hath the preeminence,
his force is as it was.

17 I shall not die, but ever live to utter and declare
The Lord his might and wondrous power:
his workes and what they are.

18 The Lord himselfe hath chastened, and hath corrected me:
But hath not given me over yet to death as yet may see.

19 Set open unto me the gates of truth and righteousness:
That I may enter into them,
the Lords praise to expresse.

20 This is the gate even of the Lord,
which shall not be shut:
But good and righteous men alway shall enter into it.

The third Part.

21 I will give thanks to thee, O Lord, because thou hast heard me,
And art become most lovingly
a Saviour unto me.

22 The stone which ere this time among
the bulwers was refused:
Is now become the Corner-stone,
and chiefly to be used.

23 This was the mighty worke of God,
this was the Lords owne act:
And it is marvellous to behold with eyes that noble act.

24 This is the joyfull day indeed, which God himselfe hath wrought:
Let us be glad and joy therein,
in heart, in mind and thought.

25 Now helpe us Lord, and prosper us,
we wish with one accord:
26 Blessed is he that comes to us in the Name of the Lord.

27 God is the Lord that shewes us light, bind ye therefore with cord
Your sacrifice to the Altar, and give thanks to the Lord.

28 Thou art my God, I will confesse and render thanks to thee:
Thou art my God, and I will praise thy mercy towards me

29 O give ye thanks unto the Lord,
for gracious is he:
Because his mercy doth endure
for ever towards thee.

Beati immaculati. Psalme Cxix. W. W.

The Prophet wonderfully commendeth Gods law, wherein he cannot satisfie himselfe nor expresse sufficiently his affection: thereunto adding notable complaints and consolations meet for the fainfull to have both in mind and voice: and in the Hebrew every eight verses begin with one letter of the Alphabet.

Blessed are they that perfect are, and pure in mind and heart, whose lives and conversations from Gods Lawes never start. 2. Blessed are they that give themselves, his statutes to observe, seeking the Lord with all their heart, and never from him swerve.

3 Doublet of such men goe not astray,
nor doe no wicked thing:
Which stedfastly walke in his way without any wandring.

4 It is thy will, and commandment, that with attention be heard Thy noble and divine precepts
we learne and keepe in deed.

5 O would to God it might thee please my wayes so to addresse:
That I might both in heart and voyce,
thy Lawes keepe and confesse.

6 So should no shame my life at last,
whilst I thus see mine eyes:
And bend my mind alwayes to muse
on thy sacred decrees.

7 Then will I praise with upright heart,
and magnifie thy Name:
When I shall see thy iudgements just,

and likewise prouet be same.
8 And wholly will I giue my selfe to keepe thy Lawes most righte:
For sake me not for ever Lord, but shew thy grace and might.

BETH. The second Part.
9 What means may a young man best,
his life learne to amend:
If that he marke and keepe thy word,
and therein his time spend.
10 Unfainedly I haue thee sought, and thus seeking abide:
O neuer suffer me, O Lord,
from thy precepts to slide.

11 Mitche in my heart and secret thoughts, thy word I haue hid still:
That I might not at any time,
offend thy godly will.
12 Wee magnifie thy Name, O Lord, and praise thee euermore.
Thy statutes of most worth I fame,
O Lord teach me therefore.

13 Thy lips haue neuer ceast to preach and publish day and night
The iudgements all that did proceed from thy mouth full of might.
14 Thy testimonies and thy wayes please me no lesse indeed,
Than all the treasures of the earth,
which worldeings make their need.

15 Of thy precepts I wil still mule, and thereto sinne I will not take:
As at a marke so will I ayme,
thy wayes how I may walke.
16 Thy wayes loyfull shall be so strict,
and on thy lawes so let,
That nothing can me so farre blinde,
that I thy words forget.

GIMEL. The third Part.
17 Grant to thy seruant now such grace,
as may my life prolong:
Thy holy word then will I keepe
both in my heart and tongue.
18 Mine eyes which were dim and shut up,
to open and make bright:
That of thy law and marvellous workes,
I may haue the cleare sight.

19 I am a stranger in this earth,
wandering now herenow there:
Thy word therefore to me disclose,
my foot-steps for to cleare.
20 My soule is troubled with desire,
and neuer is at rest:
But seekes to know thy iudgements bright,
and what may please thee best.

21 The proud men and malicious, thou hast distressed each one:
And curst dare such as doe not thy bed attend upon.
22 Lord turne from me rebuke and shame,
which wicked men conspire:
For I haue kept thy Covenantes, with zeale as hot as fire.

23 The Princes great in counsell late,
and do against me speake:
But then thy seruant thought how he thy statutes might not breake.

24 For why? thy Covenantes are my loy,
and my hearts great solace:
They serue in stead of Counsellours,
my matters for to passe.

DALETH. The fourth Part.
25 I am alas as brought to grave,
and a most earnest to dust:
Reliefe therefore my life againe,
as thy promise is full.
26 Thy wayes when I acknowledge,
with mercy thou dost heare:
Heare me oft-lookes and me instruct thy lawes to loue and feare.
27 Teach me once thoroughly for to know
thy precepts and thy loy;
Thy workes then will I meditate,
and lay them up in loy.
28 Thy loue I feele to sore oppress, that it melteth for griefe:
According to thy word, therefore durst (Lord) to lend reliefe.

29 From lying and deceitfull lips,
let thy grace me defend:
And that I may learne thee to loue, thyne holy Law me lend.
30 Thy way of truth by thy straight and sure
I haue chosen and found:
I let thy iudgements me befoze,
which kept me late and sound.
31 Since then (O Lord) I for'd my selfe, thy covenantes to embrace:
Let me therefore haue no rebuke,
nor chieke in any case.
32 Then will I run with joyfull cheare, where thy word doth me call:
When thou hast set my heart at large,
and rid me out of thrall.

HE. The fift Part.
33 Instruct me (Lord) in the right trade of thy statutes obline:
And it to keepe then to the end,
my heart will I incline.
34 Grant me the knowledge of thy law,
and I shall it obey,
With heart and mind. and all my might,
I will it keepe I say.

35 In the right path of thy precepts, guide me Lord. I require:
None other pleasure doe I wish,
nor greater thing desire.
36 Incline my heart thy Lawes to keepe, and covenantes to embrace:
And from all filthy abstece.
Lord shield me with thy grace.

37 From paine desires and worldly lusts, turne backe mine eyes and sight:
Giue me the spirit of life and power,
to walke thy wayes aright.
38 Confirm thy gracious promise Lord, which thou hast made to me,
Which am thy seruant and doe loue and feare nothing but thee.

39 Reproach and shame which I so feare,
from me (O Lord) expell:
For thou dost iudge with equitie, and therein dost excell.

 40 Behold my hearts desire is bent thy lawes to keepe for aye:
 Lord strengthen me in with thy grace,
 that it performe I may.

VAV. The sixth Part.

41 Thy mercies great and manifold,
 let me obtaine, O Lord:
 Thy saving health let me enjoy,
 according to thy Word.
 42 So shall I stop the slanderous mouths of lewd men and unskill:
 For in thy faithfull promises stands my comfort and trust.
 43 The word of truth within my mouth
 let ever still be prest:
 For in thy iudgements wonderfull
 my hope both stand and rest.
 44 And whilst that breath within my breast doth naturall life preserve:
 Prea till this world shall be dissolv'd,
 thy law will I observe.
 45 So walke will I as set at large,
 and made free from all dread:
 Because I sought how for to keepe thy precepts and thy read.
 46 Thy noble acts I will describe,
 as things of most great fame:
 Even before Kings I will them blaze,
 and shunke no while for shame.
 47 I will rejoyce then to obey thy worthy beastes and will:
 Which evermore I have lov'd best,
 and so will love them still.
 48 My hands I will lift to thy Lawes, which I have dearly sought:
 And practise thy Commandements,
 in will, in deed, and thought.

Z A I N. The seventh Part.

49 Thy promise which thou mad'st to me
 thy servant Lord remember:
 For therein doe I put my trust,
 and confidence for ever.
 50 It is my comfort and my joy,
 when troubles me afflict:
 For were my life not by thy word,
 my life would soone me quit.
 51 The proud and such as God contemne still made of me a scorn:
 Yet would I not thy law forsake,
 as he that were forlorne.
 52 But cald to mind Lord thy great workes shew'd to our Fathers old:
 Whereby I felt the fox surmount,
 my griefe an hundred fold.
 53 But yet alas for feare I quake, seeing how wicked men Thy law forsooke, and did procure thy iudgements upon them.
 54 And as for me I stand my songs
 thy statutes to extoll:
 When I among the strangers dwell,
 and thoughts gan me assault.
 55 I thought upon thy Name, O Lord,
 by night when others sleepe:
 As for thy law, also I kept,

and ther will I keepe.

56 This grace I did obtaine, because thy covenants sweet and deare
 I did embrace and also keepe, with reverence and with feare.

H E T H. The eighth Part.

57 O God which art my part and lot,
 my comfort and my stay:
 I have decreed and promised,
 thy law to keepe alway.
 58 Mine earnest heart did humbly lie
 in presence of thy face:
 As thou therefore hast promised,
 Lord grant me of thy grace.
 59 My selfe I have examined, and tryde my secret heart:
 Which to thy statutes caused me
 my feet straight to convert.
 60 I did not stay nor linger long,
 as they that stothfull are:
 But hastid thy lawes to keepe,
 I did my selfe prepare.
 61 The cruel hands of wicked men have made of me their prey:
 Yet would I not thy law forget,
 nor from thee go astray.
 62 Thy righteous iudgements toward me
 so great are and so hie:
 That even at midnight will I rise
 thy Name to magnifie.
 63 Companion am I to all them which feare thee in their hearts:
 And never will for love nor dread from thy Commandements start.
 64 Thy mercies Lord most plentifully doe all the world fulfill:
 O teach me how I may obey
 thy statutes and thy will.

T E T H. The ninth part.

65 According to thy promise Lord, so hast thou with me dealt:
 For of thy grace in sundry sorts have I thy servant feild.
 66 Teach me to iudge at wayes aright,
 and give me knowledge sure:
 For certainly beleev'd I doe,
 that thy precepts are pure.
 67 Ere thou didst touch me with thy rod
 I er'd and went astray:
 But now I keepe thy hol' Word,
 and make it all my stay.
 68 Thou art both good and gracious;
 and giv'st most liberally:
 Thine ordinances how to keepe,
 therefore O Lord teach me.
 69 The proud and wicked men have forg'd against me many a lie:
 Yet thy commandements still observe with all my heart will I. (wealt) 70 Their hearts are swollen with worldly as greafe so are they fat:
 But in thy law doe I delight,
 and nothing seeke but that.
 71 O happy time may I well say,
 when thou didst me correct:

For as a guide to learne thy Lawes,
thy rod did me direct.
71 So that to me thy Cōspōnd Law to deare manifold
Than thousand's great of silver and gold, ought that can be sold.

IOD. The tenth part.

Seeing thy hands have made me Lord,
to be thy creature,
Grant knowledge like wise how to learne,
to put thy Lawes in ure.
74 So they that feare thee shall rejoyce when ever they see:
Because I have learned by thy word
to put my trust in thee.
75 When wilt thy rod the world's plagu'd,
I know the cause is just:
So when thou dost correct me, Lord,
the cause just needs be mist.
76 How of thy goodness I thee pray, some comfort to me send:
As thou to me hast promised,
so from all ill mee send.
77 Thy tender mercies pow're on me,
and I shall live by thee:
For joy and consolation both thy Law to me doth give.
78 Confound the proud; whose false pretence is me for to betray:
But as for me thy helpe to know,
I will my false employ.
79 Who so with reverence doe thee feare,
to me let them retires:
And such as do thy covenants know,
and then alone desire.
80 Thy heart without all wavering
let on thy Lawes be bent:
That no confusion come to me,
whereby I should be spent.

CAPH. The xi. part.

81 My soule both faime and easeth not thy saving health to crave:
And for thy Word do take still I trust,
my hearts desire to have.
82 Wine does doe faile with looking for thy Word, and thus I say.
When wilt thou me comfort, Lord,
why dost thou thus delay?
83 As a skil bottle in the smoke
to am I parch'd and dryde:
Yet will I not out of my heart
let thy commandments slide.
84 Alas how long shall I yet live,
before I see the hour?
That on my foes which me torment,
thy vengeance thou wilt pour?
85 Presumptuous men have digged pits,
thinking to make me sure:
Thus contrary against thy Law
my hie they doe procure.
86 But thy commandments are all true, and can still they me relieve:
To thee therefore I doe complaine that thou might'st me relieve.

87 Almost they had me cleane destroy'd, and brought me quite to ground:
Yet by thy statutes I abode,
and therein succour found.
88 Restore me Lord againe to life,
for thy mercies excell:
And so shall I thy covenants keepe, till death my life expell.

LAMED. The xii. part.

89 In heav'n Lord, where thou dost dwell, thy words shall blisse be;
And shall for all eternitie
fast graven there endure.
90 From age to age thy truth abides,
as doth the earth with usse:
Whose ground-work thou hast laid so sure,
as no tongue can expresse.
91 Even to this day we may well see,
how all things persevere:
According to thine ordinance,
for all things thee doe feare.
92 Had it not bene that in thy Law,
my soule had comfort sought:
Long time ere now in my distress,
I had bene brought to nought.
93 Therefore will I thy precepts aye,
in memory keepe fast:
By them thou hast my life recover'd
when I was at last cast.
94 No wight to me can title make,
for I am onely thine:
Save me therefore, for to thy Lawes mine eares and heart incline.
95 The wicked men doe seeke my bane,
and thereto lye in wait:
But I the while considered thy noble workes and great.
96 I see nothing in this wide world
at length which hath not end:
But thy commandments and thy Word beyond all end extend.

MEM. The xiii. part.

97 What great desire and fervent love doe I beare to thy Law?
All the day long I meditate on it with reverent awe.
98 Thy Word hath taught me farre to passe
my foes in policie:
For still I hold it to be thing of most excellencie.
99 My teachers that did me instruct,
in knowledge I excel:
Because I doe thy covenants keepe
and them to others tell.
100 In wisdom I doe passe also the ancient men in deede:
And all because to keepe thy Lawes
I held it aye well deede.
101 My feet I have restrained eke from every evill way:
Because that I continually thy word might keepe, I say.
102 I have not devor'd from thy judgements,
nor yet drunk any bell.
For why? thou hast me taught thereby to lise godly and well.

- IO3 O Lord to w sweet into my taste
 hide I thy words alway:
 Doubtlesse no hony in my mouth feels anght so sweet I may.
 IO4 Thy lawes have me such wisdome learn'd that intirely I hate
 All wicked and ungodly wayes,
 in every kinde ex rate.

N V N.

The xliii. part.

- IO5 Eten as a lantern to my feet,
 so doth thy word shine bright
 And to my pathes where ever I goe,
 it is a flaming light.
 IO6 I have both Lwoin and will perfoyme
 my promises doubtlesse,
 That I will keepe thy iudgements lust,
 and them in lisse expresse.
 IO7 Affliction hath me sore oppress, and brought me to deaths doore:
O Lord as thou hast promised,
 come to lisse restore.
 IO8 The offerings which with heart and voyce
 most frankly I thee give,
 Accept, and teach me how I may after thy iudgements lbe.
 IO9 My soule is aye so in my hands,
 that danger me allfalle:
 Per doe I not thy Law forget,
 nor it to keepe will fallest.
 IIO Although the wicked laid their nets,
 to catch me at a bay:
 Per did I not from thy precepts
 once swerve or goe astray.
 I11 Thy law I have so claym'd alway,
 as mine own heritage:
 And why? for therein I delighe,
 and set my whole courage:
 I12 For evermore I have been bent thy statutes to fulfill:
 Even so likewise unto the end
 I will continue still.

S A M E C H.

The xv. part

- I13 The crafty thoughts and double hearts,
 I doe alwayes detest:
 But as for thy law and precepts,
 I love them ever best.
 I14 Thou art my hid and secret place,
 my shield of strong defence:
 Therefore have I thy promises
 look'd for with patience.
 I15 Goe to therefore ye wicked men,
 depart from me anon:
 For the commandments will I keepe
 of God my Lord alone.
 I16 As thou hast promis'd, so perfoyme, that death me not allfalle:
 For let my hope abuse me so,
 that through distrust I qualle.
 I17 Uphold me and I shall be safe,
 for oughte they doe or say:
 And in thy statutes pleasure take will I both night and day.
 I18 Thou hast read such under thy feet,
 as doe thy statutes breake.

For nought avails their subtiltie, their counsell is but weak.

- I19 Like the doffe thou casts the wicked out where ever they goe or dwell:
 Therefore can I as thy statutes
 love nothing halfe so well.
 I20 My flesh alas is taken with feare,
 as though it were benum'd:
 For when I see thy iudgements, straight
 I am as one a shon'd.

A I N.

The xvi. part.

- I21 Doe the thing that lawfull is,
 and give to all men right:
 Religne me not to them that woul'd oppresse me with their might.
 I22 But for thy servant suretie be,
 in that thing that is good:
 That proud men give me not the fesse,
 which rage as they were wood.
 I23 Mine eyes with waiting are now blind,
 thy health so much I crave:
 And eke thy righteous promise Lord,
 where by thou wilt me save.
 I24 Intreat thy servant lovingly,
 and favour to him show:
 Thy statutes of most excellency,
 teach me also to know.
 I25 Thy humble servant (Lord) I am,
 grant me to understand.
 How by thy statutes I may know best what to take in hand.
 I26 It is now time (Lord) to begin,
 for tenneth is now decayd:
 Thy Law likewise they have transgress,
 and none against them laid.
 I27 This is the cause wherefore I love thy lawes better than gold:
O jewels fine which are esteem'd
 most costly to be sold.
 I28 I thought thy precepts all most lust,
 and to them laid in store:
 All craftie and malicious wayes
 I doe abhorre therefore.

P E

The xvii. part

- I29 Thy covenants are most wonderfull, and full of things profound:
 My soule therefore doth keepe them sure,
 when they are tri'd and found.
 I30 When men first enter into thy word,
 they finde a light most cleare:
 And very soe do understand,
 when they it read or heare.
 I31 For loy I have both gap'd and breath'd,
 to know thy commandment:
 That I might gild my lisse hereby,
 I sought what thing it ment.
 I32 With mercy and compassion, Lord,
 behold me from above:
 As thou art wont to behold such as thy Name feare and love.
 I33 Direct my foot steps by thy word,
 that I thy will may know:
 And never let iniquitie
 thy servant overthrow.
 I34 From slanderous tongues and deadly preserve and keepe me sure, Thy precepts then wil I observe,

and put them in mine ure.
135 Thy countenance which doth surmount,
the sunne in his bright hew,
Let shine on me, and by thy Law teach me what to esteeme.
136 Out of mine eyes great floods gush out,
of deary teares that fall:
When I behold how wicked men thy lawes keepe not at all.

THE XVIII part.
137 In every point Lord thou art iust,
the wicked though they grudge:
And when thou dost sentence pronounce,
thou art a righteous iudge.
138 To render right and flee from guile, are two chiefe points most high,
And such as thou hast in thy Law commanded us straitly.
139 With zeale and wrath I am consumed,
and even plin'd away:
To see my foes thy Lawes forget,
for ought that I doe may.
140 So pure and perfect is thy Word
as any heart can deeme:
And I thy servant nothing more deserve: yet esteeme.
141 And though I be nothing set by,
as one of base degree,
Yet doe I not thy lawes forget,
nor shinke away from thee.
142 Thy righteousness, Lord, is most iust,
forever to endure:
Also thy Law is true it selfe,
most constant and most pure.
143 Trouble and griefe hath set on me,
and brought me wondrous low:
Yet doe I still of thy precepts delight to heare and know.
144 The righteousness of thy iudgements
dost last for evermore:
Then teach them me, for even in them
my life lyeth up in store.

XOPH. THE XIX part.
145 With fervent heart I call and cry'd,
now answer me O Lord,
That thy commandments to observe,
I may fully accord.
146 To thee, my God, I make my suite, which most humble request:
Save me therefore, and I will keepe thy precepts and thy beist.
147 To thee I cry, even in the morne before the day was light.
Because that I have in thy Word,
my confidence whole night.
148 Mine eyes prevent the watch by night,
and ere they cal, I wake:
That by debbling on thy Word,
I might some comfort take.
149 Incline thine eares to heare my voyce,
and please on me take,
As thou wilt wote, to iudge me, Lord,
lest life should me forsake.
150 My foes by law were and doe procure my death maliciously.

Which from thy Law are farre gone backe,
and straped from it lawfully.
151 Therefore, O Lord, approach: thou were for need doth sore require:
For all thy precepts true they are,
then helpe I thee desire.
152 But thy commandments have I learn'd not now, but long agoe,
That they remaine for ever more,
thou hast them ground'd so.
RESH. THE XX part.
153 My trouble and affliction
consider and behold,
Deliver me, for of thy Law
I ever take fast hold.
154 Defend my good and righteous cause, with speed some succour send.
From death as thou hast promised,
Lord keepe me and defend.
155 As for the wicked, farre they are from having health and grace, Wherby they might the statutes know,
they enter not the trace.
156 Great are thy mercies, Lord, I grant, what tongue can them attaine:
And as thou hast me iudg'd ere now,
so let me life obtaine.
157 Though many men did trouble me,
and persecute me sore:
Yet from thy Lawes I never shinke, nor went away therefore.
158 And truth it is, for griefe I die
when I these statutes see,
Because they keepe no whit thy Word,
nor yet seeke to know thee.
159 Behold, for I doe love thy Lawes with heart most glad and true:
As thou art good and gracious, Lord, restore my life againe.
160 That thy word doth decree must be,
and so it hath bene ever:
Thy righteous iudgements are also most true, and decay never.
SCHIN. THE XXI part.
161 Princes have sought with crueltie, causelesse to make me trouble:
But all in vaine for thy word
the feare did my heart touch.
162 And certainly, even of thy word
I was more merry and glad,
Than be which of rich peoples and prey great store and plenty had.
163 As for all lies and falsities
I hate most and detest:
For why? thy holy Law doe I above all things love best.
164 Seven times a day I praise the Lord, singing with heart and voyce:
Thy righteous acts and wonderfull,
so cause me to reioyce.
165 Great peace and rest shall all such have
as doe thy statutes love:
No danger shall their quiet state impair or once remove.
166 My only health and comfort, Lord,
F 4

I look'd for: at thy hand:
And therefore have I done those things which thou didst me command.

167 Thy lawes have bene mine exercise, which my soule most desire'd:
So much to them my love was bent,
that nought else I require.

168 Thy statutes and commandments,
I kept (thou know'st) aright:
For all the things that I have done,
are present in thy sight.

TAV.

The xxij. part.

169 O Lord let my complaint and cry before thy face appeare:
And as thou hast me promise made,
to teach me: thee to feare.

170 Mine humble supplication, toward thee let find access:
And grant me Lord deliverance,
for so is thy promise.

171 Then shall my lips thy praises speake,
after most ample sort:

When thou thy statutes hast me taught,
wherein stands my comfort,

172 Thy tongue shall sing and preach thy word and in this wise say shall:
Gods famous acts and noble lawes are just and perfect all.

173 Stretch out thy hand, I thee beseech, and speedily me save:

For thy commandments to observe chosen O Lord, I have.

174 Of thee alone Lord I crave health, for other I know none
And in thy law and nothing else
I doe delight alone.

175 Grant me therefore long dayes to live,
thy Name to magnifie:

And of thy indignments mercifull
let me the favour trye:

176 For I was lost and went astray, much like a wandering sheepe:
O seek me for I have not kept thy commandments to keepe

Ad Dominum. Psal. Cxx. T. S.

David being banished among the barbarous Ara-bians through false reports of envious flatterers lamenteth his long abode among such Infidels, given to all kind of wickedness and contention.

O trouble and in thy fall, into the Lord I call And be doth me comfort.

2. Deliver me I say, from lyers lips and way, and tongues of false report.

3. What vantage or what thing
Giveth thou thus to the King,
That thou false and flattering lyars

4 Thy tongue doth hurt I wene,
No lesse then arrows keen
O hat continuing fire.

5 Alas too long I slake
Within their tents so blacke
Which scowles are by name:
By whom the flocke Elect,
and all of slaacks sect,
Are put to open shame.

6 Woe them that peace did hate,
I came a peace to make,
and set a quiet life:

7 But when my tale was told,
Causelesse I was controld
By them that would have strife.

Levavi oculos. Psalme Cxxj. W. W.

The Prophet sheweth by his owne example, the richfull ought to looke for all their succour to God alone, who will governe and give good success: to all their godly enterprises

Lift mine eyes to Sion hill,

From whence I doe attend, That I will succour will, which heav'n and earth sheweth: and all things therein named.

3 Thy foot from slip he will preserve, and will the safe yee keepe,
for he will never sleepe

4 For he that doth Israel conserve, no sleeper at all can him catch,
but his eyes shall ever watch.

5 The Lord is thy warrant alway,
the Lord eke doth thee cover,
as at thy right hand ever.

6 The Sunne shall not thee parch by day, nor the Moone nor halfe so bright, shall with cold thee hurt by night

7 The Lord will keepe thee from distress, and will thy life sure save:
and thou shalt also have

8 In all thy businesse good success:
where ever thou goe in or out
God will thy things bring about.

Letatus sum. Psal. Cxxij. W. K.

David rejoyceth that God accomplisheth his promise, and placed his Arke in Sion, giving thanks, and praying for the prosperity of the Church.

Did in heart rejoyce to hear the people voice, in offering so willingly:

For let us up say they and in the Lords house pray: thus spake the folke full of vngly. 3 Our feet that wandred wilde, shall in thy gates abide, O thou Jerusalem full faire, which art so kindly set, much like a Citie near, the like whereof is not elsewhere.

4 The tribes with one accord,
The tribes of God the Lord,
are thither bent their way to take:
So God before did tell
That if our his Israel their prayers should together make,

5 For there are Thy house erect,
and thy floor this respect,
To see forth Justice orderly:
Thy right house right to maintaine,
To Davids house perenne,
his folke to iudge accordingly.

6 To pray let us not cease
for Jerusalems peace,
thy friends God prosper mightily:
Peace be thy walls about,
And prosper thee throughout thy palaces continually.

8 I wish thy prosperous estate for my poore brethren sake, that comfort have by means of thee:
Gods house doth me allure
thy wealth for to procure,
so much as I will in me.

Ad te levavi. Psal. Cxxij. T. S.
A prayer of the faithfull which are afflicted by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

Sing this as the 73. Psalm.

O Lord that heaven doth possesse,
I lift mine eyes thee
Even as the servant lifteth his,
his makers hands to see,
As hand-maids watch their misters hands,
some grace for to achieve:
So we behold the Lord our God,
till he doe us forgive.

3 Lord grant us thy compassion,
and mercy in thy sight:
For we are fil'd and overcome with hatred and despite.

4 Our minds be full with great rebuke;
the rich and worldly wife,

Do make of us their mocking stocke
the proud doe us despise.

Nisi quia Dom. Psal. Cxxij. W. W.
The faithfull delivered out of great danger, acknow-ledg: not to have escaped by their owne power, but through the favour of God.

N O Israel may say, and that truly, If that the Lord had not our cause maintain'd: If that the Lord had not our right sustayn'd, when all the world against us furiously made their uprores, and said we should all die.

3 How long agoe
they had devour'd us all,
And swallowed quick,
for ought that we could deeme:
Such was their rage,
as we might well esteeme.

4 And as the fowles
with nightie force doe fall,
So had they now
our lives down brought to thall.

5 The raging streames,
most proud in roaring noise,
had long agoe
overwhelm'd us in the deepe,

6 But leved be God which doth as safely keepe
from bloudie teeth,
and their most cruell voyce.

Which as a prey,
to catch us would rejoyce.
7 Even as a bird
out of the fowlers gins Escapes away.
right so it saves with us:
Tooke are their nets
and we have escap'd thus.

8 God that made heaven and earth is our helpe then,
His Name hath saved us from these wicked men.

Qui confidunt. Psal. Cxxv. W. K.
He describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions, and desireth their wealth, and the destruction of the wicked.

S O as in God the Lord doe trust.

2 As mighty mountaine huge and great Jerusalem about doe close:
So will the Lord doe unto those,
Who on his godly will doe waite:
Such are to him so deare,
They neuer need to feare.

3 For though the righteous try both he,
By making wicked men his rod:
Yet they through griefe forsake their God,
He shall not as theye for ill be.
But Lord do na thy light,
Whose hearts are true and right.

5 But as for such as turne aside,
By crooked wayes which they out-sought:
The Lord will surely bring to nought:
Altho workers vile they shall abide:
But peace with Israel
As evermore shall dwell.

Another of the same. R. W.

Sing this as the ten Commandements.

Those that doe put their confidence,
Upon the Lord our God onely,
And ste to him for his defence,
In all their need and misery:
Their faith is sure still to endure,
Grounded on Christ the corner-stone.
Don't with none ill, but standing still,
Stedfast like to the mount Sion.

And as about Jerusalem,
The mighty his dolefull compasse,
So that no enemies come to them,
To hurt that Towne in any case:
So God indeed in very need
Is a faithfull people nort defend,
Standing them by assuredly.
From this time forth world without end.

Righte wise and good is our Lord God,
And will not suffer certaintly.
The sinners and ungodlies rod,
To carry upon his family.
Let they also from God shoulde goe,
Falling to sin and wickednesse:
O Lord defend worlds without end
Thy Christian flocke through thy goodnesse.

O Lord doe good to Christians all,
That stedfast in thy word abide:
Such as willingly from God fall,
And to false doctrine dally slide.

Such will the Lord scatter abroad,
Altho hypocrites the same doe to hell,
God will again send paines without end:
But Lord grant peace to Israel.

Glorie to God the Father of might,
And to the Sonne our Saviour:
And to the Holy Ghost whole light
Shine in our hearts, and us succour:
That the right way from day to day.
We may walke and him glorifie:
Altho hearts desire all that are here
To glorify the Lord, and Amen cry.

In convertendo Psal. Cxxvj. W. W.

This Psalme was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meanes of their deliverance was wonderfull after the three-score and tenne yeares of captivitie, fore-spoken by Jeremy. Chap. 23. 12. and 29. 10.

2 The heathen folke
were forced then this to confesse:
How that the Lord
for them also great things had done.
3 But much more we
and therefore can confesse no lesse:
Althoefore to joy,
we have good causes we begun.
4 O Lord goe forth,
thou canst our bondage end:
As to deserts
the flowing rivers send.

5 Full trust is,
that they which sow in teares indeed,
A time will come.
when ever shall reap in mirth and joy.
6 They weat and wept
in bearing of their precious seed:
For that their foes
full of scorn did them annoy:
But their returne
with joy they shall sure see:
Their sheaves home bring,
and not empated be.

Nisi Dom. Psal. Cxxvij. W. W.

It is no mans wit, power, or labour, but the free goodnesse of God that giveth riches, preserveth townes and Countries, and granteth nourishment and children.

Sing this as the Lords Prayer.

Except the Lord the house doe make,
And thereunto doe set his hand:
What men doe build it cannot stand,
Neither in balne men undertake,
Cities and holds to watch and ward,
Except the Lord be their safeguard.

2 Though perill early in the morn,
And so at night go late to bed
Feeding full hardly with borrowe bread.
Yet were your labour lost and worne:
But they whom God doth love and keepe,
Receive all things with quiet sleepe.

2 Therefore marke well when ever ye see,
That men have heires to enjoy their land.
It is the gift of Gods owne hand.
For God himselfe doth multiply,
Of his great libtallitee,
The blessing of posteritie.

4 And when the children come to age,
They grow in strength and actiuenesse,
In person and in comeliness:
So that a shaft shot with courage
Of one that hath a most strong arme,
Flies not so fast, nor doth like harme.

5 O well is he that hath his quiver,
Furnished with such artillerie:
For when in perill he shall be,
Such one shall never shake nor shiver.
When that he pleads before the Judge,
Against his foes that hate him grudge.

Beati omnes. Psal. Cxxviii. T. S.

Here is described the prosperous estate of persons married in the feare of God, & the promises of Gods blessings to all them that live in this honourable estate according to his Commandement.

Sing this as the 137. Psalme.

Blessed art thou that fearest God,
and walkest in his way:
2 For of thy labour thou shalt care,
happy art thou I say.
3 Like sentfull vines on thy house-side,
so doth thy wife spring out:
Thy children it and like I live plants,
thy table roundabout.

4 Thus art thou blest that fearest God,
and he shall see thee see.
5 The promised Jerusalem,
and her felicity.
6 Thou shalt thy childrens children see,
to thy great loves increase:
And likewise grace on Israel, prosperity and peace.

Sapē expugnauerunt. Psal. Cxxix. N.
He admonisheth the Church to reioyce, though afflicted in all ages, for God will deliver it, and suddenly destroy the enemies thereof.

Sing this as the 137. Psalme.

Oft they (now Israel may say) me from my youth assailed:

1 Oft they assailed me from my youth,
yet never they prevailed.

3 Upon my back the plowers plowd,
and furrows long did cast:

4 The righteous God hath cut the cords of wicked foes at last.

5 They that hate me shall be ashamed, and turned backe allo:

6 And made as grasse upon the house, which withereth ere it grow.

7 Wherof the mower cannot find enough to fill his hand:

8 Nor can he fill his lap that goeth to gleane upon the land.

8 Nor passers by pray God on them
to let his blessing fall:

Nor say we blese you in the name of God the Lord at all

De profundis. Psal. Cxxx. W. W.

An effectuall prayer to obtaine mercy and for-giuenesse of his sinnes, and at length deliverance from all evill.

L

God to thee I make my moane,

when dangers me oppresse, I call I sigh.

plaine and grone, trusting to find release.

Hear now, O Lord my request soile to full due time: And let thine eares eye be prett, unto this prayer mine.

3 O Lord our God (if thou wilt),
our sinnes and thine perill:

Who shall then scape and say,
I can my selfe excuse?

- 4 But Lord thou art mercifull,
and turne it to us thy grace,
That we with hearts most carefull shoulde feare before thy face.
- 5 In God I put my whole trust:
my soule waits on his will:
For his promise is most iust,
and I hope therein still.
- 6 My soule to God hath regard,
waiting for him alway,
More than they that watch and ward to see the dawning day.
- 7 Let Israel then boldly
in the Lord put his trust,
He is that God of mercy that his deliverer must.
- 8 For he is that must save
Israel from his sinne,
And all such as surely have thy confidence in him.

Domine non est. Psal. Cxxxj. N.

David charged with ambition, protesteth his humilitie before God.

Sing this as the Lamentation.

- O Lord, I am not put in minde,
I have no comely eye,
I doe not exercise my leife
in things that be too hie.
- 2 But as the child that waivered is,
even from his mothers breast:
So have I Lord behav'd my leife,
in silence and in rest.
- 3 O Israel trust in the Lord,
let him be all thy stay.
From this time forth for evermore,
from age to age, I say.

Memento Domine. Psal. Cxxxij. N.

The faithfull grounded on Gods promise made unto David, desireth that he would establish the same, both as touching his posteritie, and the building of the Temple, to pray there as was fore-spoken.

R

Remember Davids troubles, Lord,

how to the Lord he swore, and bowed a vow to Jacobs God, to keep for evermore.

I will not come within my house, nor climbe up to my bed, nor let my temples take their rest, nor the eyes in my head,

- 5 Till I have found out for the Lord
a place to sit thereon,
An howe for Jacobs God, to be an habitation.
- 6 We heard of it at Ephrata,
there did we heare this sound,
And in the fields and foreests there these voyces first were found.
- 7 We will assay and goe in now
his tabernacle there:
Before his footstools to fall downe and worship him in feare.
- 8 Arise, O Lord arise, I say,
into thy resting place,
Both thou and the Arke of thy Archaes,
the presence of thy grace.
- 9 Let all thy Piests be clothed Lord with truth and iust confidence:
Let all thy Saints and holy men sing all with ioyfulnesse.
- 10 And for thy servant Davids sake,
refuse not Lord, I say,
The face of thine annointed Lord,
nor turne thy face away.

The second part.

- 11 The Lord to David swore in truth,
and will not shrinke from it, Saying, The fruit of thy body upon thy seat shall sit.
- 12 And if thy sonnes my covenant keepe that I shall learne each one.
Then shall thy sonnes for ever sit upon thy princely throne.
- 13 The Lord himselfe hath chose Sion,
and loves therein to dwell,
Saying this is my resting place,
I love and like it well.
- 14 And I will blesse with great increase her victuals every where,
And I will satisfie with bread,
the needy that be there.
- 15 Pea I will decke and cloath her Piests
with my salvation,
And all her Saints shall sing for ioy,
of my protection.
- 16 There will I surely make the home
of David for to bud:
For there I have ordain'd for mine
a lanterne bright and good.
- 17 As for his enemies I will clothe with shame for evermore:
But I will cause his Crowne to shine more bright than heretofore.

Ecce quim. Psal. Cxxxij. W. W.

The commendation of godly and brotherly amitie compared to the most precious oyle, mentioned in Exodus 30.

Sing this as the 137. Psalm.

- O how happy a thing it is and ioyfull for to see Brethren together fast to hold the hand of amitie.
- 2 It calls to mind that sweet perfume,
and that roll of oymment,
Which on the Sacrificers head,
by Gods precept was spent.

It wet not Iarons head alone,
but wreche his head throughout:
And finally it did run downe
his rich attire aboute.

3 And as the lower ground doth drinks
the dew of herman hill:
And shea with his silver drops
the field with fruit doth fill.

4 Turne for the Lord doth poure on them
his blessings manifold:
Whose heart and mind without all gulle
this knot doe keepe and hold.

Ecce nunc. Psal. Cxxxij. W.K.

He exhorteeth the Levites that watch in the Temple to praise the Lord;

Behold and have regard, ye servants of the Lord: Establish in his house by night doe watch, praise him with one accord.

2 Lift up your hands on high,
unto his holy place:
And give the Lord his praises due,
his benefits embrace.

3 For why? the Lord who dwells
both earth and heaven frame.
Doth & son bless and will continue for evermore the same.

Laudate Nomen, Psal. Cxxxv. N.

He exhorteeth all the faithful to praise God, for his marvellous workes and graces, wherein he hath declared his Majesty, to the confusion of all Idolaters.

O Praise the Lord, praise him, praise him, praise him with one accord: O praise him still all ye that be the servants of the Lord. O praise him ye that stand and be in the house of the Lord: Of his Court and of his house, praise him with one accord.

2 Praise ye the Lord, for he is good,
sing praises to his Name:

It is a comely and good thing, alwayes to doe the same.

4 For why the Lord hath Jacob chose,
to be his owne people:
And he hath chosen Israel,
his treasure for to be.

5 For this I know, and am right sure,
the Lord is very great:
He is indeed above all Gods,
most easie to intreat.

6 For what soeuer pleased him,
all that full well he wrought
In heaben, in earth, and in the sea, which he hath made of nought.

7 He lifts up clouds & dwells from the earth,
he makes lightnings and rain:
He bringeth forth the winds also,
he made nothing in vaine.

8 He smote the first-borne of each thing,
in Egypt great and least:
He spared none, no living thing,
the man nor yet the beast.

9 He hath in thee shew'd wonders great,
O Egypt voyd of vauntes:
On Pharaoh thy cursed King,
and his severe servants.

10 He smote then many Nations,
and did most wondrous things:
He slew the great, the mightiest,
and chiefest of their Kings.

11 Schon King of the Amozites, and Og King of Basan:
He slew also the Kingdomes all that were of Canaan.

12 And gave their land to Israel, an heritage to be:
To Israel his owne people
an heritage gave he.

The second part:

13 Thy Name (O Lord) shall still endure, and thy memorie shall
throughout all generations,
that are or ere be shall.

14 The Lord will surely now avenge,
the people all indeed:
And to his servants he will shew
savour in time of need.

15 The Idols of the heathen are made in all their counsels and lands:
Of silver and of gold they be,
the worke then of mens hands.

16 They have their mouths and cannot speak,
and eyes that have no sight:
They have their eares and heare nothing, their mouths be breathlesse quite.

18 Therefore all they are like to them,
that so dar set them forth:
And likewise those that trust in them,
or thinke they brought worth.

19 O all ye house of Israel,
see that ye praise the Lord:
And see that beo of Aarons house,
praise him with one accord.

- 20 And ye that be of Levies house,
praise ye likewise the Lord:
And ye that stand in awe of him,
praise him with one accord.
21 And out of Zion sound his praise,
the great praise of the Lord,
which dwelleth in Jerusalem:
praise him with one accord.

Another of the same. By T. S.
Sing this as the 148. Psalme.

- O Land the Lord is kinde,
Whose mercies last for aye:
Give thanks and praises sing
To God of Gods I say,
For certainly,
His mercies dure
Both firme and sure,
Eternally.
3 The Lord of Lords praises,
Whose mercies aye doe dure:
Great wonders onely he,
Doth worke by his great power.
For certainly,
His mercies dure.
Both firme and sure,
Eternally.
5 Which God omnipotent,
By his great wisdom high:
The heavenly firmament,
Did frame, as we may see,
For certainly,
His mercies dure,
Both firme and sure,
Eternally.
6 Praise the heave charge,
Which the earth did stretch:
And out the waters large,
Which he did out reach,
For certainly,
His mercies dure.
Both firme and sure,
Eternally.
7 Great lights he made to be,
For why? his love is free:
Such as the Sunne we see,
To rule the lightsome day.
For certainly, &c.
9 And eke the Moone so cleare,
Which shineth in our sight:
And Starres that doe appeare,
To guide the darksome night.
For certainly, &c.

10 Which grievous plagues and sore
All Egypt smote he than;
The first-borne kille and more,
He slew of beast and man.

11 And from amidst their land
His Israel forth brought:
12 Which he with mighty hand,
And stretched arme hath wrought.
For certainly, &c.

13 The Sea he cut in two,
Which stood up like a wall:
14 And made throught it to goe
His chosen children all.
For certainly, &c.

The proud King Pharaoh,
Which his huge host of men,
And chariots che also.
For certainly, &c.

16 Who led through Wilderness
His people safe and sound;
And for his love endlesse,

Super Flumina. Psal. CXXXvij. W. W.

The Israelites (in their captivité) hearing the Chaldeans reproach and blasphemie God and his Religion, desire God to punish the Edomites, who provoked the Babylonians against them, and prophesied the destruction of Babylon.

W
When as we sat in Babylon, the cities round about: And in remembrance of Slon, the teares for griefe burst out. 2. Me hang'd our harpes and instruments, the willow trees upon: For in that place men for their use, had plantid many one.

3 Then they to whom we prisoners were,
said: constantly:
Now let us heare your hebrew songs,
and pleasant melodie.
4 Alas said we who can once frame his sorrowfull heart to sing
The praises of our loving God,
thus under a strange King?

5 But yet if I Ierusalem out of my heart let slide:
Then let my fingers quite forget the warbling harpe to guide.
6 And let my tongue with in my mouth be tye for ever fast:
If that I say before I see thy full deliverance past.

7 Therefore O Lord remember now
the cursed noise and cry
That Edoms sonnes against us made,
when they raz'd our Citie.
Remember Lord their cruell words,
when as with one accord
They cry'd on sacke and rage these walls,
in despite of the Lord.

8 Even so shalt thou, O Babilon, at length to dust be brought:
And happy shall that man be call'd,
that our revenge hath wrought.
9 Psea blessed shall that man be call'd, that takes thy children young,
To dash their bones against hard stones,
that lie the streets among.

Confitebor tibi, Psal. CXXXvij. N.

David praileth the goodnesse of God towards him, for which even Princes shall praise the Lord together with him. And he is assured to have like comfort of God hereafter as heretofore.

Sing this as the 111. Psalme.

Thou wilt I praise with my whole heart,
my Lord my God alwayes:
When in the presence of the Gods
I will advance thy praise.
2 Toward thy holy Temple I will looke and worship thee:
And praise in my thankfull mouth,
thy holy Name shall be.
Then for thy loving kindnesse sake,
and for thy truth withall
For thou thy Name hast by thy word advanced our all.

- 3 When I did call thou heardest me,
and thou hast made also
The power of increased strength, within my heart to grow.
- 4 Psea, all the Kings on earth they shall glue praise to thee O Lord:
For they of thy most holy mouth have heard the mighty Word.
- 5 They of the wayes of God the Lord,
in singing shall intreate:
Because the glory of the Lord,
it is exceeding great.
- 6 The Lord is high, and yet he doth behold the lowly spirit:
But he contemning knowes a farre,
the proud and lofty wight.
- 7 Although in midst of trouble I doe walke, yet shall I stand:
Renewed by thee, O my Lord thou wilt stretch out thy hand
- Upon the worke of all my foes,
and saved shall I be,
By thy right hand: the Lord God will performe his worke to me.
- 8 Thy mercies Lord endure for aye,
Lord doe me not forsake:
Forsake me not that am the worke which thine owne hand did make.

Domine probasti. Psal. Cxxxix. N.

David to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisie, sheweth that nothing is so secret which God seeth not: after declaring his zeale and feare of God, he protesteth to be enemy to all them that contemne God.

Sing this as the 72. Psalme.

- O Lord thou hast me tried and knowne,
my sitting thou dost know:
2 And rising also; my thoughts as farre, thou understandst also.
- 3 My paths, yea and my lying downe,
thou compassst alwayes:
And by familiar custome art acquainted with my wayes.
- 4 As word is in my tongue, O Lord,
but knowne it is to thee:
5 Thou me behind holdst and before,
thou layest thine hand on me.
- 6 Too wonderfull above my reach,
Lord, is thy cunning skill:
It is so high that I the same cannot attaine untill.
- 7 From sight of thine all-seeing spirit,
Lord whither shall I goe?
Or whither shall I flee away,
thy presence to scape fro?
- 8 To heaven if I mount aloft,
loe thou art present there:
In hell if I lie downe below,
even there thou dost appeare.
- 9 Psea, let me take the morning wings,
and let me goe and hide:
Then there where are the farthest parts,
where flowing Seas doe slide.
- 10 Psea, even thither also shall thy reaching hand me guide:
And thy right hand shall hold me fast,
and make me to abide.

- 11 Psea, if I say the darknesse shall yet shroud me from thy sight:
Loe even also the darkest night about me shall be light.
- 12 Psea, darknesse hideth not from thee,
but night doth shine as day:
To thee the darknesse and the light,
are both alike alway.

The second part.

- 13 For thou possidest hast my raiues,
and thou hast covered me:
When I with in my mothers wombe enclosed was by thee.
- 14 Thee will I praise: made fearfully and wonderfully I am:
Thy workes are marvellous, right well my soule doth know the same.
- 15 My bones they are not hid from thee,
although in secret place
I have bene made, and in the earth beneath I shapd was.
- 16 When I was formlesse, then thine eye saw me, for in thy booke were written all nought was before,
that after fashion tooke.
- 17 Thy thoughts therefore of thee (O God)
how deare are they to me:
And of them all how passing great,
the endless number be?
- 18 If I should count them, to their summe more then the sand I see:
And whensoever I awake,
yet am I still with thee.
- 19 The wicked and the bloudie men,
O that thou wouldst slay:
Even those (O God) to whom depart, depart from me I say.
- 20 Even those of thee (O Lord my God)
that speake full wickedly:
Those that are lifted up in valke,
being enemies to thee.
- 21 Hate I not them that hate thee Lord,
and that in earnest will?
Content I not against them all,
against thee that aslie?
- 22 I hate them with unfained hate,
even as my utter foes:
- 23 Try me (O God) and know my heart,
my thoughts prove and disclose.
- 24 Consider Lord, if wickednesse
in me there any be:
And in thy way O God my guide,
for ever lead thou me.

Eripe me Domine. Psalme Cxl. N.

David prayeth unto the Lord against the cruell, falsehood, and injurie, of his enemies, assuring himselfe of his succour. Wherefore hee provoketh the just to praise the Lord, and to assure themselves of his guidon.

Sing this as the Lamentation.

- Lord save me from the evill man,
and from the cruell wight:
And from all those which evill doe
imagine in their spirit.
- 2 Which make on me continuall warre, their tongues to they have whet:
3 Like Serpents underneath their lips, is Iserss poppa let.

Thomas Sternhold was groom of the robes of Henry VIII & Edward VI - a zealous Reformer & strict liver - was so scandalized by the Amorous glee & catches sung at Court that he set about turning the Psalms of David into English metre in order that the Courtiers should sing them instead of lewd & ribald sonnets. In this he was disappointed - yet his work made great heart of masses of English people. In 1562 the whole Psalter in metre Sternhold-Hopkins & others with notes to sing them appeared bound up at the end of the Book of Common Prayer. But complaints were made of it - the House of Commons in 1643 recommended a version of Francis Rous of Hallow in Cornwall to Westminster Divines. Rous in the year was Puritan - the old illiterate Jew of ~~Edinburgh~~ ^{Edinburgh} ~~Edinburgh~~ ^{Edinburgh} Presbyterian Minister of Edin as the Royalists styled him was also in the first & later Parliaments of Charles I & under the Commonwealth sat for Devonshire 1653 for Cornwall 1656 - in House of Lords 1657 & was one of Westminster Divines. In 1646 the House of Commons ordered "Rous' Psalm & no other be sung in any Church or Chapel in Eng Wales & Berwick-on-Tweed. This edition became the basis of the Authorized Version of the Scottish Kirk which superseded the "Old Paraphrase" of Leipsieck in Scotland. England clung to Sternhold & Hopkins till beginning of 18th cent & was replaced by "New Version" of Book of Psalm executed by Brady & Tate. The archaic translation of Sternhold & Hopkins was disused though Rous' Version is still used in some Anglican congregations & it is preferable to dull & jingling doggerel of Tate & Brady. Rous' Version & that of Sternhold & Hopkins are much alike in manly simplicity & vigorous harmony & in the closeness with which they follow the noble prose translation of the Book of Common Prayer. It is their chief merit - they lack refinement & all almost unattainable in their rough & literal rendering of the Hebrew text but never feeble & dull or bombastic but many of the stanzas as fine & reflect the style & sublimity & inspiration of the Royal Psalmist of Israel. Rous' Version was composed a century later than Hopkins & Sternhold. Tate & Brady were
